The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are within minutes of the University. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course near the campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and is celebrating its Centennial this year, as it was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September 1895, with 50 students enrolled the first day. Located on 207 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of about 10,000 with approximately 450 full-time faculty positions.

Throughout its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service.

UM offers a general associate of arts degree and bachelor's degrees in 50 fields. It offers master's degrees in 45 programs and doctoral degrees in nine.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The college also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields such as ethnic studies and liberal studies.

The University also has schools of business administration, fine arts, journalism, education, forestry, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences.

The University aims to provide its students a humane and productive learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

George Dennison became the 16th president of The University of Montana on August 15, 1990.

Before coming to UM Dennison was provost and vice president for academic affairs at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, a post he had held since 1987.

He is a former resident of Kalispell, and a UM alumnus. A history professor, he earned two degrees in that field at UM: a master's in 1963 and a bachelor's with highest honors in 1962. In 1967, he completed a doctorate in history at the University of Washington.

Before joining Western Michigan’s administration, he held a number of positions at Colorado State University between 1969 and 1987. They include history professor, admissions and records director, associate academic vice president, graduate school associate dean and associate dean of the college of the arts, humanities and social sciences.

Dennison and his wife, Jane, also from Kalispell, have two children.
The University of Montana has 27 Rhodes Scholars. UM ranks 15th of all American colleges and universities in the number of Rhodes Scholars it has produced, fourth among public universities. Students are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, energy, community and political involvement, and character.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located about 80 miles north of Missoula, is the oldest biological station west of the Mississippi. The UM research station is one of the finest facilities in the country for ecological studies and freshwater research.

KUFM, a non-commercial, public radio station operated by the Telecommunications Center reaches an estimated 400,000 Montanans in central and western Montana.

School of Education graduates compete very successfully for jobs. A high percentage of those with bachelor's degrees and graduate degrees find teaching, administrative and other education-related positions in Montana and many other states.

The Department of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education, making UM the only Montana public school that prepares its graduates to apply for advanced standing in graduate schools of social work.

The Department of Drama/Dance has a professional theater group -- the Montana Repertory Theatre -- based on campus. The Montana Repertory Theatre, which tours throughout the Northwest, is the only touring professional actors equity company between Minneapolis and Seattle.

Eight University of Montana students have received Truman Scholarships. The national scholarship is given annually to students committed to a government career who have superior academic ability and leadership potential.

The Department of Anthropology has the largest collection of artifacts and records of prehistory in the region.

The School of Business is the only business school in Montana to be accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business at the graduate level.

Year in, year out, a high percentage of the school's accounting graduates pass the Certified Public Accountant Exam on their first try.

The Department of Geology has a strong, nationally known program in traditional geology and environmental geoscience. Because the solution to most geologic problems involves a combination of field and laboratory study, the department offers a wide range of field and laboratory courses and encourages a broad, multi-disciplinary program of study.

The Department of Geography has one of the Northwest's best cartography laboratories, where students learn to make maps and interpret aerial photography.

The Department of Health and Human Performance is one of a handful in the country that prepares students to be athletic trainers.

UM's graduate creative writing program, started in 1919 by H.G. Merriam, is the second oldest program of its kind in the country. Well-known for graduates like Montana writer and poet James Welch, the program has flourished to the point that last year it received 400 applications for 20 openings.

Montana has had four Division I, All-District 7 (which includes Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Alberta and Saskatchewan) academic selections four of the last five years. The all-district team requires a 3.20 GPA or above.

In 1991, former Montana linebacker Mike McGowan was given a prestigious NCAA post-graduate scholarship, and in the spring of 1992, Grizzly basketball star Daren Engellant received similar recognition.

In 1988 the Grizzlies had four football players named to the GTE All-American first or second team -- the most by any Division I program in the nation.

Last season 20 University of Montana football players were named to the Big Sky Conference's all-academic team (which requires a 3.0 GPA or above). The Grizzlies have ranked in the top two in the league for the past seven years, and have had the most all-academic selections of any conference school five times during that period.
Bill Moos is in his fourth year as athletic director at The University of Montana. During his first three years at UM, Moos has overseen a program that has produced seven Big Sky Championships and six teams that have qualified for NCAA postseason play.

Moos has been instrumental in generating revenue for Grizzly athletics by incorporating the Grizzly Athletic Association into the department and by creating a new position that concentrates on corporate sponsorships.

Bill is starting his third year as the Director of Marketing and Media Relations. His duties include the identification and solicitation of potential corporate sponsors; evaluation and development of radio and television rights contracts; and committee chairman of UM's annual men's basketball tournament.

Bill is a native of Ronan, Montana and earned a B.A. degree in History. As a Cougar athlete he was an all-Pac 10 and all-Pacific Coast selection in football. He played in the East-West Shrine Game in 1972.

Bill, and his wife, Kendra, have three children: Christa, 13, Brittany, 9, and Bo, 4.

Al is beginning his 16th year as Executive Director of the Grizzly Athletic Association, formerly known as the Century Club.

In 1977 Century Club raised approximately $70,000 for intercollegiate athletics. Last year the G.A.A. generated over $600,000 in private support with emphasis primarily on athletic scholarships, but the G.A.A. assists in all phases of athletic department operations.

Kempfert came to UM from California Lutheran University, where he had served as the Director of Alumni/Parent Relations from 1971 to 1977. He served in the U.S. Army from 1968-71 and in Vietnam from 1969-70, receiving many commendations. He is an alumnus of C.L.U., where he was a three-sport letterman and voted the Outstanding Senior Athlete in 1967.

Al has three children, Kim, 24, Matthew, 21, and David, 19.

Bill Moos
Athletic Director

Kathy Noble
Associate Athletic Director

Kathy has been the Associate Athletic Director at Montana the past six years. In 1989 she served as interim Athletic Director, overseeing two I-AA football playoff games, as well as the Big Sky Conference women's basketball tournament, and an NCAA first-round game in women's basketball.

She was instrumental in UM's successful hosting of the 1993 Division I Women's Basketball West Regional Championship held in Dahlberg Arena in March.

Prior to her arrival at UM Noble was the Assistant Director of the Department of Parks, Recreation and Public Facilities in Miami, Florida.

She has 18 years of experience in college administration. She was the Associate Athletic Director at the University of Miami from 1983-86. Prior to that she was the Academic Counselor in athletics at Boise State (1982-83) and a Residence Hall Director at Washington State (1976-82).

Noble earned her B.A. degree in Social Sciences at Central Washington University in 1971. She received a Master's Degree in Counseling at Washington State in 1979 and is currently a Ph.D. candidate in Counseling at WSU.

Gary Hughes
Manager of Athletic Services

Gary is the veteran of Montana's athletic department, and is starting his 28th year at UM. He became athletic ticket manager in 1966, and was appointed Manager of Athletics Facilities and Revenue in 1978.

He manages all scheduling in Adams Field House, Washington-Grizzly Stadium and Dombrauske Track and Field in addition to overseeing the TIC-IT-E-Z Ticketing System, all athletic revenue, concessions operations, event staffing, and various other duties.

He is a native of Ronan, Montana and graduated in accounting from Missoula Business College in 1962. He gained experience in accounting and auditing before assuming his responsibilities at Montana.

Gary and his wife, Judy, have six children: Christian, Dustin, Lance, Christopher, Sara and Cary.

Al Kempfert
Executive Director
Athletic Development

Robert Lindsay
Faculty Representative

Dr. Lindsay has been a faculty member at UM since 1967. He is a professor of History and served as the department chairman from 1975-78. His specialty is Early Modern European History. Lindsay won the Distinguished Teacher Award at UM in 1985. He has taught overseas for UM in France in 1970-71 and 1981.

He previously taught at Ohio University. He earned a Ph.D. and M.A. at the University of Oregon and an M.A. at the University of Minnesota. He received his B.A. at Nevada-Reno in 1953.

As the NCAA Representative, he determines eligibility for UM athletes, makes NCAA rulings at the institutional level and is UM's representative to the NCAA. He has served on UM's University Athletic Committee for numerous years and has been chairman of the committee as well.

Bob and his wife, Joyce, have four children.

Don Read
(8th Year at UM: 51-29 Overall)

Since taking over the University of Montana football program in 1986, Don Read's teams have not had a losing season, going 6-4, 6-5, 8-4, 11-3, 7-4, 7-4 and 6-5. During those seasons the Grizzlies have been 36-19 (655) in Big Sky Conference games. His 36 league victories are the second most in Big Sky history, and the most by any active coach (Nevada's Chris Ault had a league-best 68 wins in 13 seasons) in the conference.

With Montana's first victory this season, as Montana celebrates its 100-year birthday, Read will put his name in the record book as its all-time winningest coach.

His record at Montana is 51-29, and his 51 victories ties him for the most in school history with Jack Swarthout (51-41-1, 1967-75). His winning percentage of .638 is the best of any Montana coach with more than three years of tenure. His 51 wins ties him (with Swarthout) for the fourth most in Big Sky Conference history.

The records in the 1989 season. Montana won a school-record 11 games and advanced to the NCAA Division I-AA semifinal game, and was ranked sixth in the nation.

Read was recognized for that success in 1989, as he was named the Big Sky Conference's Coach of the Year. He was the second Montana coach so honored, and the first since Jack Swarthout received the award in 1969 and 1970.

In Montana's 93-year-old football history, the Grizzlies have won six or more games 19 times, and Read's teams have accomplished that all seven of his seasons at UM.

The veteran coach came to Montana from Portland State, where he headed up that program from 1981 to 1985, and 1968 to 1971. Between his PSU stays were head jobs at the University of Oregon (1974-76), and Oregon Tech (1977-80). His Oregon Tech teams were ranked 9th in the nation in 1979, and 7th in 1980.

In 1984 he led PSU to an 8-3 record and was named the Division II Coach of the Year after his Viking team won the Western Conference championship.

Read's overall coaching record, at all levels, is 153-127-1. He has been in the coaching profession 34 years, beginning in 1959 as an assistant at Placer High School in Auburn, California. His first head coaching job was at Petaluma High School in California in 1962.

He lives and coaches by many personal philosophies. Some of these include: "Success is a by-product of hard work; expect players to make a commitment to football and other aspects of school life; football shapes character; and a team must always play with emotion and intensity."

Read wrote a book, The Complete Passing Game, has worked football camps in several states, and has also written more than 100 articles for athletic and coaching magazines.

While coaching at Oregon, he worked with former All-Pro and current TV color analyst, Dan Fouts. At PSU he worked with former pro quarterback (and current NFL coach) June Jones. During his tenure at Montana he coached quarterbacks Grady Bennett, Brad Lebo, and Brent Pease -- the top three career passers in school history.

He earned his undergraduate degree in Social Science in 1960 at Sacramento State, and his master's degree in Health and Physical Education there in 1962.

Don and his wife, Lois, have a daughter, Beth, and a son, Bruce. Bruce has served as Montana's special teams coach the past six seasons.

23 YEARS .......... 120-120-1
Mick begins his third year at his alma mater. He has 20 years of coaching experience, including six at the college level. He came to UM from Western Montana College, where he was the head coach.

Dennehy serves as Montana's offensive coordinator and coaches the offensive linemen. A native of Butte, the 43-year-old Dennehy had been the head coach at WMC for three seasons. In 1990 he coached the Bulldogs to a 5-3 record, and was named the Frontier Conference Coach of the Year. He also coached in the Big Sky Conference, as an assistant for Sonny Lubick at Montana State from 1980-81. A 1973 graduate of Montana with a B.A. degree in Education, he earned a M. Ed. in Educational Administration at Washington State in 1977.

He was a standout safety for the Grizzlies in 1971-72. He is tied for second in single-season league history with 10 interceptions in 1972, when he led the Big Sky. That year he was named first team all-conference. He is ranked among the conference leaders with 16 career interceptions. In 1984 Kraig was named the Grizzlies' Outstanding Sophomore. As a senior in 1983 and earned his master's in P.E. at PSU in 1985.

Mick and his wife, Sheila, have two sons: Jake, 18, who plays football for the Grizzlies, and Mark, 15. "We have always been wide open offensively. This year will be no exception. We will utilize more motion and formations, but what you've seen, is again what you'll get. Our emphasis this past spring was to move the ball more efficiently on the ground, and at times we had great success. This will help our offense overall a great deal."

Kraig begins his sixth season as a full-time Grizzly assistant at his alma mater. He is starting his third year as the defensive line coach. Last year defensive tackle Sam Davidson was named to the Big Sky Conference's first team, while the year before, ends Kirk Murphy (first team) and Gregg Smerker (second team) were All-Big Sky selections.

Paulson was a graduate assistant in 1987 at Montana, working with the secondary and special teams. He began as a full-time coach at UM in 1988, overseeing the linebackers. Kraig's three brothers, Kevin, Kerry and Keith, all ran track for the Grizzlies, and another brother, Kent, competed in track for Western Montana College.

He is a 1987 graduate of UM, earning a B.A. in Education. Kraig, 29, and his wife, Jody, have an infant son, Keogh. "We are excited about the upcoming season. We will try to rise to the challenge that each week will bring this fall. This will be very important in order to have success in the Big Sky Conference."

Jerome is in his fourth season as Montana's defensive coordinator, and is starting his eighth year as the Grizzlies' secondary coach. Last season the Grizzlies were once again nationally ranked in several defensive categories. Last year Montana was third in the nation against the rush, allowing 98.7 yards a game. UM's passing efficiency defense rating was a league-leading 101.8 points per game, which placed them 17th in the country. UM was 29th in the nation in scoring defense, allowing 20.3 points a game.

Over the past seven years Montana has led the Big Sky in rushing defense four times, and was nationally ranked in that category the last seven seasons in-a-row. During Souers' tenure UM has led the league in a defensive category nine times.

In 1988, the Grizzlies led the conference in defense, allowing just 279.9 yards per game. It was the third time in the Big Sky's 30-year-old history that a UM team has accomplished that feat. Also in 1988, Montana tied a school record with 28 interceptions.

In 1989, UM led the nation in rush defense, allowing just 70.2 yards a game. Before coming to UM, Souers, 35, was the secondary coach at Portland State for two seasons and served in that capacity at Western Washington for a season prior to that.

He coached at "AAA" prep level for eight years at North Eugene and Willamette High schools. His father, Dwight, was a successful, well-known coach in Eugene. Jerome earned a B.A. in Physical Education at Oregon in 1983 and earned his master's in P.E. at PSU in 1985.

He and his wife, Paula, have two daughters, Anna, five, and Alaina, three. "We believe in playing aggressive, hard-nosed defense. We keep it simple, work hard at technique, emphasize execution of our responsibilities, and play with great, emotional, intensity."

PRONOUNCED: SOW-Errs.
Assistant Coaches

David Reeves
Linebackers

David is beginning his third season at Montana as a full-time assistant coach, and his sixth overall in the UM program. He served as a part-time assistant coach at UM in 1986 and 1987 and was a graduate assistant at Portland State in 1985.

Read graduated from PSU with a B.S. degree in Social Science in 1986. He played prep football at Henley High School in Klamath Falls, Oregon, where he was honorable mention all-state at wide receiver and punter. He led the state in punting his senior year, and was team captain and MVP.

The Grizzlies have excelled in special teams during Read’s tenure, setting numerous school records. In 1988 Montana led the nation in net punting, averaging 39.8 yards an attempt. UM was second in net punting in 1989, with a 39.6-yard average. In 1987 the Grizzlies set a school and Big Sky Conference record blocking four kicks in a game against intra-state rival Montana State.

During his tenure Bruce has coached Montana’s all-time kicker (Kirk Duce) and punter (Jody Farmer), and set school records in kick-off and punt returns.

Bruce and his wife, Christina, have two sons, Justin, seven, and Joshua, one.

“Controlling field position is critical in a football game, and is mainly achieved through the kicking game. At Montana we believe that special teams are our winning edge."

Bruce Read
Special Teams

Robin Pflugrad
Assistant Head Coach/QBs/WRs

Besides coaching the quarterbacks and receivers, Robin Pflugrad also has several administrative duties relating to Grizzly football. He oversees the budget, scholarships, compliance rules for the NCAA and the Big Sky Conference and team travel, among other administrative responsibilities.

He is starting his third year as assistant head coach and his seventh year overall. Pflugrad’s prime responsibility has been UM’s highly-touted passing attack, which was ranked second and fourth in the nation in 1991 and 1992, averaging 325.6 and 329.5 yards, respectively.

Pflugrad has coached several of Montana’s current and former leading career receivers and quarterbacks, including Mike Trevathan, the Grizzlies’ all-time leader, and former quarterback Brad Lebo, UM’s second-ranked passer.

He also coached Matt Clark and Mike Rice, the Grizzlies’ third and fifth-ranked career receivers; as well as Marvin Turk, UM’s single-season leader (1,047 yards in 1991).

Also known for his recruiting ability, Pflugrad’s recruiting areas are Oregon and California, at the high school and junior college levels.

He was a standout wide receiver at Portland State, team captain, and an Academic All-American in 1979. Before coming to Montana he was wide receiver coach and director of football promotions at PSU from 1982-85.

He began his coaching career in 1981 at South Eugene High School, where he was receiver and secondary coach, as well as a counselor in football camps.

His Mt. Hood Junior College football teams went 20-2 in 1976-77, and was ranked first in the nation in 1977, when he was named all-conference.

Pflugrad earned his B.S. degree in Business at PSU in 1980.

Rob, and his wife, Marlene, have two children, Amanda, six, and, Aaron, five.

“We believe in a positive approach to coaching football. I believe the players should still have fun while playing college football. I hope this is an experience that each player will cherish the rest of his life. I want them to look back at the University of Montana as a very rewarding experience, both academically and athletically."

Sophomore Matt Wells (5-7, 165) and junior Scott Gurnsey (5-11, 185) combined for 53 catches, 780 yards, and four touchdowns last year, while lettermen Jeff McElroy (6-0, 180), Gary Burton (5-11, 165) and Brent Swenson (6-3, 212) also return. Chase Greene (6-0, 180, So.) and JC transfer Mitch Oiler (6-3, 185) both played well in the spring.

“We like this position, but we’re just not sure which four will be the starting receivers for us,” Read said. “We recruited size, and some of our young players with size who red-shirted last year should see a lot of playing time.”

RUNNING BACK: Montana lost its top three running backs, including Tony Rice, who rushed for 10 touchdowns. However, with the addition of a quality junior college back, and a transfer, this position should be improved.

Damon Boddie (5-9, 180) rushed for 1,100 yards and 17 TDs in just seven games as a sophomore at American River Junior College in Sacramento, CA. Chris Morton (5-11, 210) is a transfer from Oregon State, where he started seven games as a freshman, and was the team’s second leading rusher. Sophomore lettermen Kelly Stensrud (5-11, 175) and Scott Spraggins both return, and UM recruited four quality prep running backs.

“That should be a very, very strong position for us, and I’ll tell you why,” Read said. “We have been very steady at the running back position for a lot of years around here, but we’ve never had the speed that we have this year. This year’s running back core will be the fastest we’ve had since we’ve been at Montana, and they are also very good receivers.”

DEFENSE: POSITION-BY-POSITION

All-American candidate Todd Ericson, a 6-3, 205-pound senior free safety, will be looked at for leadership. Ericson has been a first team all-leaguer since his sophomore year. Last season Ericson led the team with 97 tackles and six interceptions (ninth in the nation).

Other starters back on defense are junior inside linebacker Dan Downs (6-4, 225), senior defensive tackle Lance Allen (6-2, 254), senior defensive end Shawn Merz (6-5, 228), and junior outside linebacker Kurt Schilling (5-11, 202). Downs was a first team All-Big Sky pick last season, and had 82 tackles and four forced fumbles.

LINEBACKER: Downs, Schilling, and a solid nucleus of lettermen return. Juniors Garrett Ventera (6-3, 232) and Dennis Sates (6-3, 249) are vying for the other starting job at inside linebacker. Redshirt freshmen Mike Bouchee (6-1, 224) and David Simon (6-1, 205), and junior redshirt Al Carter (6-1, 222) are all in the picture for playing time.

D-LINE: Starting tackles Chuck Mason (6-5, 285, Sr.) and Lance Allen (6-2, 252, Sr.) return, along with Merz. Promising sophomore Yohnah Manzanarez (6-3, 245) has been moved to end (from linebacker), and will press Merz for his starting job. Redshirt freshman Randy Riley (6-1, 220) has also been moved from linebacker to end, and adds excellent speed to the position. Junior lettermen Keith Jones (6-4, 248) has the inside track at left end, while junior lettermen Jay Turner (6-4, 244), adds quality depth at tackle or end.

“Our talent level is good on the defensive line, but we don’t have the depth there we’ve had in the past, and that’s a concern,” Read said. “Our best pass rusher at this point in time is Jones, although Merz had seven sacks last year.”

SECONDARY: Ericson is expected to be the leader from his free safety position, and he is backed up by redshirt freshman Blaine McElmurry (5-11, 180), his heir-apparent. The Goicoechea brothers, Mike (6-0, 185, Jr.) and Sean (6-1, 195, RS/Fr.), are at strong safety, and Mike will start.

Seniors Carl Franks (5-10, 175) and Bruce Dotson (5-10, 175) saw considerable action last year, and should start at right and left corner, respectively. Last season, Franks had 23 tackles and two interceptions; while Dotson had 24 tackles, two picks, and a team-high (tie) 12 pass deflections. Junior Keith Burke (5-11) proved his ability in the spring, while fellow JC transfer Acen Chiles (5-10, 178) should be a quality addition.

“The secondary, if we can stay healthy, should be one of the strong points of our football team,” Read said. “Dotson is as fast of a kid as we’ve had around here, Franks is an excellent hitter, and Ericson is as outstanding an athlete as any who have ever put on a Grizzly uniform. If you put that package together, you have something very special.”

SPECIAL TEAMS

Gurnsey averaged 36.7 yards per punt last season, including 22 kicks inside the opponents’ 20-yard line. Wells was 25 of 29 in PAT attempts, and made two of five field goals. However, freshman recruit Andy Larson (Helena Capital HS, MT) is expected to assume UM’s field goal and PAT kicking duties.

Baker was one of the top punt returners in the Division I-AA ranks, averaging 11.0 yards per return. UM needs to replace graduated kick-off returner Mike Guevara, who was 19th in the nation last year, averaging 24.6 yards a return.
All-American Candidates

37 TODD ERICSON, 3V
6-3, 205, FREE SAFETY
Senior from Butte, Montana

One of the premier players in the Big Sky Conference and Division I-AA the past two seasons, Todd was selected to the Big Sky’s Conference’s first team in 1991 and 1992. He was Montana’s leading tackler last year with 97, and had a team-high 46 unassisted stops. He was second (tie) in the Big Sky and ninth (tie) in the nation in interceptions last year with six. It is evident he has a nose for the football, as the last two years Todd has had six fumble recoveries and nine interceptions. He also excels on Montana’s special teams.

He has had 10 or more tackles in eight career games, and had a career-high 17 (11 of which were unassisted) against Weber State in 1991. He was selected UM’s season co-captain in 1991 and 1992.

Ericson has been one of the recipients of the Golden Helmet Award (Hardest Hitter), the last two seasons, sharing the award last year with cornerback Carl Franks and linebacker Chad Lembke.

“He’s so damn durable and tough -- he can really hit you,” said Griz head coach Don Read. “He’s like a linebacker playing free safety, but his range is so good, because he can run so well from sideline-to-sideline. Plus, his jumping ability, and his ability to make a play on the ball are just remarkable. Another thing about him, is that you put him in man-to-man coverage, and he can do that as well as anyone around.

“Todd Ericson is a former quarterback and a former team captain from Butte High School, and he’s used to winning, he’s used to making big plays, and he is used to competing under pressure,” Read said.

“He has all of the abilities you need, whether you’re talking about size, speed or intelligence. He’s a great football player, with great work habits, an excellent leader, and really has the respect of his teammates.

“There are very few safeties in the country who have the assets that Todd Ericson has,” Read said. “The tendency of the pros is not to draft safeties, or at least they do that in limited numbers, but Todd is one of those guys they will look at. I believe he’s a draftable guy, and that he will play in the NFL. And, I believe he’s one of the best free safeties, ability-wise, that I’ve been around, and two of the best I’ve coached, Tracey Eaton (Atlanta Falcons) and Tim Hauck (Green Bay Packers) are playing in the NFL right now.”

As a redshirt freshman at UM he played in all 11 games, starting once, and had 21 tackles and an interception. He has started in 22 straight games.

Todd was a first team all-state selection at Butte High School for coach Jon McElroy. He is one of two veteran starters from Butte on UM’s defense (along with senior tackle Lance Allen). He participated in Montana’s annual Shrine Game and was all-conference in football and basketball.

A Business Administration major, he was named to the Big Sky’s all-academic team in 1990-91-92, maintaining a 3.0 GPA.

74 SCOTT GRAGG, 2V
6-9, 305, OFFENSIVE TACKLE
Junior from Silverton, Oregon

The tallest player in Grizzly history, Scott had a very solid sophomore season, earning honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference status. He will once again start at right tackle.

He was selected as Montana’s Paul Westkamp Award winner, given annually to the teams’ outstanding offensive lineman. He was also chosen as the Grizzlies’ Outstanding co-Sophomore of the Year, sharing the honor with linebacker Dan Downs.

“Lurch” started all 11 games last season. He was a redshirt at UM in 1990.

“I don’t think there has been a season, whether it’s fall when we’re playing, or in the off-season months that Scott has not improved himself in some way,” said Mick Dennehy, UM’s offensive coordinator and offensive line coach.

“He has great work ethic, and he just works and works at his game,” Dennehy said. “He’s as hard of a worker as I’ve ever seen, and because of that, he’s got a chance to be a great football player. I tend not to use the term great very often, but he’s got the whole package. He’s well-rounded, intense and a student of the game, plus he’s blessed with a great body for football. His future is unlimited.”

Gragg proved himself early at UM, as he was named MVP of the Grizzlies’ offensive scout team the year he redshirted, sharing the honor with two other players.

“Scott continues to get better, which relates to his attitude and his outlook,” said Griz head coach Don Read. “He has standards, and I don’t mean standards on our team or with the opponents; it’s more like he just wants to reach higher and do more things -- as many things as he can. He pushes himself whether it is in the weight room, or on the practice field, to accomplish that.

“He runs as good as any offensive lineman we’ve had here in a long time and has tremendous feet; an example of his overall ability is that he was an excellent basketball player in high school,” Read said. “He’s a tenacious kind of person and is very competitive when it’s him against someone else, whether it is when he is drive-blocking or pass-blocking. He always wants to win that battle, and he just will not give up.

“Also he has a leadership ability that the other kids respect,” Read said. “He plays with great enthusiasm and is just getting better and better.”

An all-conference player on offense and defense at Silverton Union High School, Gragg lettered three times in football. He lettered twice in basketball and once in track, and was team captain in football and basketball as a senior. He was named a Cascade All-American in basketball and was all-conference. His high school football coach was Jim Bruenecker.

Scott is a Chemistry/Education major, and was selected for the Big Sky’s all-academic team, with a 3.29 GPA.

SHALON BAKER, 2V
5-5, 155, RECEIVER/PUNT RETURNER
Junior from Vancouver, Washington

A consistent player since his freshman season, Shalon is already the number 12 career receiver at Montana with 1,084 yards. He has 88 career catches, 63 off the school record (151, set by Brian Salonen, 1980-83).

He was Montana's leading receiver last year, with 40 receptions, averaging 3.6 catches a game, which ranked him ninth in the Big Sky. Last season his best single-game effort was 10 catches for 95 yards against Idaho.

Baker was one of the top punt returners in the Big Sky last year, averaging 11.0 per return, tying him for fourth in the league and 21st in the nation.

As a "true" freshman in 1991, he was the runner-up for Big Sky's Top Newcomer of the Year award, receiving eight points in the balloting, and was edged out by Nevada receiver Bryan Reeves, who had 10 points.

Shalon was the Grizzlies' leading returning receiver last season, and named UM's "Freshman of the Year" in 1991. That year he had 48 receptions for 702 yards, five touchdowns, and was ranked 10th (tie) in the Big Sky, averaging 4.4 catches a game. His 702 yards in 1991 rank him eighth in school history in single-season receiving yards.

"Shalon is a reckless player, in the sense that he'll catch the ball in traffic, and his concentration is excellent," said head coach Don Read. "He likes to go up for the football and make the big play. He can play under pressure, and he's extremely capable of breaking something anytime he touches the ball.

"As a returner he catches the ball a lot of times when a lot of players would be fair-catch the ball," Read said. "He has that initial quickness to get him going to get a good return started, and he has the acceleration (4.49 in the 40) to make something happen. So, he really gives us a threat back there. The other thing about him is, like so many of the great ones, he wants to get better and he wants to win, and he is a winner."

Baker came from Montana to Evergreen High School, where he was all-state, all-conference, team MVP, and a Shrine Game participant.

As a prep he had 81 catches for 1,442, averaging 17.8 yards per reception for coach Joe Eagle.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: A starter in 18 games, Shalon has had at least one reception in 19 of 21 games he has played in. He had a career-high 10 catches against Idaho last year, and at McNeese State in 1991. He also had a career-high 117 yards at McNeese in '91, and had 100-yard receiving games against Northern Arizona (six for 103) and Boise State (six for 114) that year. Shalon has had four or more catches in 12 career games. His longest touchdown reception was a 68-yarder at Eastern Washington in '91, and that is also his career-long catch. His career-long punt return is 78 yards vs. Hofstra last year.

8
BILL COCKHILL, 3V
5-9, 160, RECEIVER/PUNT RETURNER
Senior from Helena, Montana

Bill is Montana's sixth leading career receiver with 1,387 yards. He has 107 career catches.

Last season he had 38 catches for 542 yards and three touchdowns, ranking him second in receiving yards and number of catches on the team. He runs a 4.39 in the 40.

Bill was one of three players voted "Outstanding Sophomore" in 1991, along with fellow honors candidates, Frank Garrett and Chuck Mason.

Montana's Freshman of the Year in 1990, Cockhill led the team in average yards per catch that year at 16.9, and was second on the team with six touchdown receptions.

"Billy Cockhill is so damn valuable to us as a receiver, and he is highly qualified as a returner," said Griz head coach Don Read. "He's one of the only receivers on our team who can play all of the receiver positions. He has great versatility for us.

"He's a lot like Shalon Baker, once he gets the football the threat of something big happening is always there," Read said. "He's a converted running back out of high school and I think that helps him because he can take the hits and do something with the ball once he catches it.

"He has very deceiving speed," Read said. "Not only does he have quickness laterally and can make people miss who are trying to tackle him, but he also has the flat out quickness to break out and run away from people. So Billy's one of those guys we can go deep with, or we can throw the football in the seams to. He's an excellent all-around football player, with great hands and great concentration."

Cockhill was one of the premier punt returners in Division 1-AA football in 1990 and 1991, ranking in the top 25 in the nation both years.

He lost his punt returning duties when he was injured prior to the 1992 season and Shalon Baker took over and won the job.

As a junior at Helena Capital High he led the "AA" ranks in scoring with 74 points, and was second as a senior with 78 points. He was all-state as a senior and played in the Montana East-West Shrine Game. He set a Montana prep record with 426 all-purpose yards against C.M. Russell High in 1988 for coach Bill Tuss.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: As a returner he catches the ball a lot of times when a lot of players would be fair-catch the ball, " Read said. "He has that initial quickness to get him going to get a good return started, and he has the acceleration (4.49 in the 40) to make something happen. So, he really gives us a threat back there. The other thing about him is, like so many of the great ones, he wants to get better and he wants to win, and he is a winner."

10  BRUCE DOTSON, IV
5-10, 175, CORNERBACK
Senior from Los Angeles, California

Bruce saw considerable action last season and proved to be excellent in man-to-man coverage, and a fine open-field tackler. He had a team-high 12 (tie) pass deflections, along with 24 tackles and two interceptions.

He tied fellow honors candidate Bill Cockhill for the fastest time in the 40 last spring, as he was clocked in 4.39. He will start at left cornerback.

He was a two-year starter at Los Angeles’ Pierce Junior College where he was all-conference for coach Bill Norton.

Bruce attended James Monroe High School in Sepulveda, California, graduating from there in 1987. He did not play high school football.

“Bruce played a lot last season and he had a great spring,” said UM head coach Don Read. “He really came to the front this spring. His ability to play one-on-one is just excellent. He has kind of a sneaky speed about him. He’ll run along with someone and then when the ball is in the air, all of a sudden he’s able to get to the football, no matter where the other players are. He seems to have that knack to get to the football.

“He’s getting better, because he has played a limited amount of time in our system, but he learns well and is very coachable,” Read said. “He has a special ability for timing and seems to be able to react to an opposing player, in terms of whether the guy is breaking in a route, or going for the football.

“A lot of the times he will be lined up against the fastest and best receivers the opposition provides,” Read said. “He can play a press cover or a softer cover. He has excellent foot speed, excellent acceleration, and he has that ability to change directions. He can hit you – he’s tough, and we expect Bruce to have a great senior year.”

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Dotson had a career-best six tackles against Eastern Washington last year, along with two pass deflections. He also had an interception against EWU, which he returned for 25 yards. His other interception was vs. Hofstra. He had three pass deflections at Weber State in 1992.

55  DAN DOWNS, 2V
6-4, 225, LINEBACKER
Junior from Helena, Montana

A first team all-Big Sky Conference selection last year, Dan is Montana’s second leading returning tackler. In 1992, he had 82 tackles, a team-high four forced fumbles, three tackles for losses, two sacks, and a fumble recovery. He started all 11 games last year.

He was chosen Montana’s co-Sophomore of the Year, along with offensive tackle Scott Gragg. He will start at the “Mack” linebacker position.

Dan started twice as a freshman, had 23 tackles in 10 games, and forced a team-high three fumbles. He has excellent speed and strength, running the 40 in 4.59 and benching 225 pounds 17 times. He also has an outstanding vertical jump at 34 inches.

“Dan is unique in a lot of ways at his position,” said head coach Don Read, “we’ve had a lot of physical linebackers, and we’ve had linebackers who can run with people, but the thing Dan can do is come up and get to the football, no matter where the other players are. He seems to have that knack to get to the football.

“He’s been extremely intelligent player for us and makes very few mistakes, and is a big-play guy,” Read said. “He’s a great senior for us. He’s got a sneaky sense of humor, he’s a bit of fun to be around, and a fun guy to coach, and he should have a great senior year.”

As a senior at Helena High School he was an All-American, all-state and all-conference for coaches Gary Johnson and Tom Huddleston. He was MVP of his conference and runner-up for state MVP honors in 1989. He participated in Montana’s East-West Shrine Game.

He earned six letters in high school: two in football, two in basketball, and two in baseball. He was team captain in football as a senior.

“Dan’s got the size, the speed and the strength you always want in a linebacker,” said David Reeves, UM’s linebacker coach. “You put all of that together, plus his ability to make the big play, and you’ve got the whole package. He follows in a great tradition of linebackers at Montana.”

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Dan had a career-high 14 tackles and two forced fumbles against Eastern Washington last season. He had his first career sack at Kansas State last year. His other double-figure tackle game was 10 at Weber State in 1992.

67 FRANK GARRETT, 3V
6-3, 274, GUARD
Senior from Missoula, Montana

A three-year starter, Frank has started in 22 consecutive games at right guard for the Grizzlies. He is one of three returning starters on the offensive line. He has been one of the keys to the Grizzlies' offense and highly-touted passing attack the past two seasons. Last year UM led the Big Sky Conference and was second in the nation, averaging 325.6 yards a game passing. Montana was ranked fourth in the nation in passing in 1991, averaging 329.5 yards a game.

He was named Montana's "Outstanding Sophomore" two years ago, along with fellow honors candidates Bill Cockhill and Chuck Mason.

Garrett was moved from defensive tackle to offensive guard his redshirt season in 1989.

"Frank is a very physical player, and he's a very steady player," said Montana head coach Don Read. "He'll pull and trap, he'll lead on a sweep, he'll lead on a screen, he'll drive block, and he'll pass block. If you take most offensive linemen; they'll do one or two of those things better than the others, but in Frank's case he does all of those things equally well."

"He came to us as a fine, fine wrestler out of high school," Read said. "He was very agile and quick as a lightweight wrestler and was a defensive prospect, not an offensive prospect. We convinced him early in his career to play offense, and he's really taken to his position. Frank is very powerful and has a very quick first step. He's a tenacious player, and is one of the toughest linemen we've had at Montana."

"Frank is also a very intelligent player and does a lot of communicating along the offensive front for us, and helps us in terms of the calls and the changes being made," Read said. "But, he is also like a coach on the field. He's been around a long time and the other players look up to him. Whether it be in the huddle, on the sidelines, in practice, in the weight room during the off-season, or wherever, he has a great influence on the other players." "I think Frank is a great example of what hard work and dedication can do for you," said Mick Dennehy, UM's offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. "He's a great technician, and has the finest technique of anyone we have. He has great work habits on the practice field and in the weight room. He really studies the opponents and goes in with a good game plan every Saturday. He is very, very consistent."

Frank earned nine letters at Big Sky High School, including three each in football, wrestling and track. He was his high school's Male Athlete of the Year as a senior.

Garrett was first team all-state on defense and second team all-state on offense, as well as first team all-conference both ways. He was also team captain in football his senior year, and was coached by former Grizzly player Bob Eustance.

89 CHUCK MASON, 3V
6-5, 285, DEFENSIVE TACKLE
Senior from Bigfork, Montana

Big things are expected from Chuck his senior season, and the key for him will be if he can stay healthy. Last year he was slowed with a hamstring injury, and was never really at full strength until mid-way through the season.

Because of his injury, Mason played in only eight games last year, registering 19 tackles, a sack, a tackle for a loss, and a team-high three blocks.

"When Chuck has been well he's played so dam effectively," said head coach Don Read. "He just hasn't had enough snaps for one reason or the other, and has had some real tough breaks (health-wise)."

"But, the thing about Chuck is that he plays the run and the pass equally well," Read said. "Again, so many kids play one or the other with more ability, but he plays both very well. He has the range and quickness to get to the quarterback's face, and the size and strength to step up against the run."

"He has the kind of quickness in his first step or two that enables him to beat a lot of offensive linemen in terms of getting to the quarterback," Read said. "But, he also is very, very good at shedding a block when the ball goes one way or the other."

"So we see him as a guy who can play inside and control the "A" gaps for us, for plays like trap, and power, and draw, and yet still be effective as a pass rusher," Read said. "He's a powerful kid who can run, and he should have a great senior year. I think he is a pro prospect because he has so many tools. A lot of his future depends on whether Chuck can overcome his injuries and play to his potential, because he sure has lots and lots of potential."

As a sophomore at UM in 1991, he played in all 11 games, starting in one. He had 17 tackles that year, three of which were for losses, and he blocked two kicks. He had a game-winning block against Idaho in '91, as he batted down a PAT attempt, giving the Grizzlies a 35-34 overtime victory in Moscow.

His freshman season he was moved from tight end to defense. He was a redshirt at UM in 1989.

He was the Montana Gatorade Player of the Year as a senior at Bigfork High School for coach Don Faris. He was also Scholastic Coach Magazine Montana Player of the Year. Chuck was all-conference in football, basketball and track.

He was selected first team all-state at tight end and as a defensive end.

"Chuck is extremely versatile at the tackle spot and plays the run and pass equally well," said Kraig Paulson, Montana's defensive line coach. "He's in the best physical shape of his life right now. He is very agile for his size and will come back to fall camp in great shape. I know he is looking forward to a very good senior year."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Chuck had a career-high five tackles, including one for a loss against Idaho in 1991, and had five stops last year versus Eastern Washington.

He blocked a key field goal attempt last year against Northern Arizona, in a game the Grizzlies won 28-27.

1. The 1970 Camellia Bowl trophy, awarded to the Grizzlies for their second consecutive trip to the post-season bowl game.
2. Terry Dillon's number, 22, is the only one retired in Montana football history, in June of 1964, a few days after he had drowned.
3. Grizzly jersey #37, currently worn by All-American candidate Todd Ericson, was previously worn by free safety Tim Hauck, the Big Sky Conference defensive MVP in 1988 and 1989.
4. "Wild Bill" Kelly's National Football Hall of Fame certificate, awarded to him in 1969. An All-American quarterback at Montana in 1926, Kelly was named the East-West Shrine Game's all-time QB in 1971.
5. The date was December 30, 1966, and former Grizzly player (1939 to 1941) Swarthout returned to his alma mater to become its head coach. In 1969 and 1970 he would guide UM to back-to-back (10-0) regular seasons.
6. In 1946, the Grizzly-Bobcat game played in Butte became known as the Copper Bowl. This trophy, donated by the Anaconda Company was awarded to the first team to win three consecutive games. The Griz achieved the feat from 1948-50, earning the rights to the "Bowl." The Copper Bowl took place from 1926-50, aside from 1942-45.
7. The 1982 Big Sky Conference championship trophy. Montana was ranked 19th in Division I-AA that season, advancing to the NCAA playoffs.
8. The W.A. Clark III trophy presented, "to the winner of two out of three annual contests between the Bobcat and Grizzly football teams beginning Oct. 23, 1926." UM won in 1926 and 1927 (1928 was 0-0), hence the trophy is housed in the UM field house.
11. The Montana-Portland game program of 1939 depicts the Sept. 30 season opener which was played under the lights in old Dombleser Stadium, where the Mike and Maureen Mansfield Library is now located.

12. Montana's beloved Naseby Rhinehart, Sr., was honored in 1982. Nase became the Grizzlies' first athletic trainer in 1935, and served in that capacity for an unprecedented 47 years, until his retirement in '82.
13. The program from the Nov. 17, 1984 Mirage Bowl, in which Montana played Army in Tokyo's Olympic Memorial Stadium. Army won the game 45-31, and QB Marty Mornhinweg was named the Grizzlies' co-MVP.
14. This is head coach Don Read's team participation trophy from the 1988 NCAA Division I-AA football playoffs. The Griz were ranked 16th in the nation at the conclusion of the '88 season.
15. Montana's 1989 Division I-AA semifinalist trophy, presented to coach Read's team, which went a school-record 11-3 that season.
18. The 1990 Grizzly football Yearbook featuring (clockwise, from left), head coach Don Read, linebacker Bryan Tripp, wide receiver Mike Trevathan, linebacker Mike McGowan, and quarterback Grady Bennett.
20. The helmet worn by Waldo Ekegren (1928-30), a halfback from Harlem, who was named All-American in 1930. The helmet was donated to UM by former Grizzly player (1960-63) and coach (1977-79) Gary Ekegren.
22. Inside linebacker Mike Rankin was the second player in Grizzly history to be named to the Big Sky's first team three times (Greg Anderson is the other player) in 1987-88-89. Twenty-three players have been so-honored.
24. Montana's 1987 schedule card cover shot features defensive end Pat Foster, an All-American that year.
25. The program vs. Cal in 1942.
26. The game program from the Oct. 11, 1969 contest with Idaho was the Centennial Football Celebration, recognizing college football's 100th birthday. It was also the 50th meeting of the Grizzlies and the Vandals on the gridiron, UM winning 34-9.
27. A Pacific Coast Conference game program of Montana vs. Idaho, November 14, 1936. The Griz had their best record since 1916 (4-1-1), going 6-3 that season. Montana won the game 16-0.
28. Trading cards featuring Tim Hauck (see No. 3) and other UM players, were sponsored by the United States Forest Service in 1989.
30. This trading card is of Brent Pease, who led Montana to a 6-4 record in coach Read's first year in 1986, UM's first winning season since 1981. Pease set school records passing for 3,056 yards (since broken) and 30 touchdowns.
32. Portrayed on this card is another great player from the 1989 Griz team, offensive lineman Kirk Scrafford. He has played for the Cincinnati Bengals since 1990.
33. The first Montana grid team in 1897. (Please turn to page 36 for complete photo and player names).

Middle row—George Kennett, captain and fullback; Prof. Fred D. Smith, coach; H. N. Blake, end; George Westby, end; and Fred Ebert, end.

The Big Sky Athletic Conference is currently in its 31st season of operation with championships being conducted in 13 sports including men's and women's cross country, basketball, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, women's volleyball, women's golf, and football. The Big Sky has eight member institutions and is affiliated with NCAA Division I in all sports except football, which is classified as Division I-AA.

The 1993-94 athletic season in the Big Sky Conference is the sixth in which the league will sponsor championship competition in women's sports. On July 1, 1988, the Mountain West Athletic Conference, located in Cheney, Washington, merged with the Big Sky, moving and combining office staffs in Boise, Idaho. The Mountain West conference had been in existence since 1982.

The Big Sky Conference consists of Boise State University, Boise, Idaho; Eastern Washington University, Cheney, Washington; University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho; Idaho State University, Pocatello, Idaho; University of Montana, Missoula, Montana; Montana State University, Bozeman, Montana; Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Arizona; and Weber State University, Ogden, Utah. Formed in 1963, the Big Sky Conference consisted of charter members Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga University, Montana, Montana State and Weber State.

Boise State and Northern Arizona joined the league July 1, 1970, in the Big Sky's first expansion. Nevada was admitted to the league July 1, 1979, replacing former charter member Gonzaga (Nevada left the Big Sky on July 1, 1992). On July 1, 1987, Eastern Washington became the Big Sky's ninth member. When all nine members of the Mountain West Conference and Big Sky Conference were parallel the way was paved to merge the two leagues.

The Big Sky Conference has member institutions in five states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th the total square miles in the continental United States). The five states included in the Big Sky Conference (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Washington) span from the Canadian to Mexican borders. The Big Sky is one of two major conferences located in the Rocky Mountain region.

Ron Stephenson is the current Conference Commissioner, taking over the post July 1, 1981, from Steve Belko, who had served since 1977. John Roning was the league's second Commissioner, serving from 1971 until 1977. Jack Freil was the Big Sky's first Commissioner, serving from 1963 to 1971.

Dr. Sharon Holmberg currently serves as Assistant Commissioner for Compliance Services of the Big Sky Conference, and is entering her sixth year with the league.

Arnie Sgalio is the Big Sky's Assistant Commissioner for Information Services beginning his 15th year with the conference, while Stephanie Grimes is in her second year as Assistant Information Director and was a graduate assistant at Iowa State before joining the Big Sky Conference. She interned at the Big Sky office in 1989-90.

Art Mendini is in his sixth year with the Big Sky as the league's Assistant Commissioner for Officiating Services while Kay Johnson is the Big Sky's Administrative Assistant, in her seventh year at that post.

Grizzly Awards

Each year eight outstanding University of Montana football players are recipients of awards. The Terry Dillon Award, honoring the outstanding back or receiver, was established in 1964 following the accidental death of former Grizzly Terry Dillon. Dillon played defensive and offensive halfback for UM from 1960 to 1962. He started at defensive halfback for the National Football League Minnesota Vikings.

The Paul Weskamp Award was established in memory of Paul Weskamp, a tackle on Ed Chinske’s 1954 Grizzlies. The award honors UM’s outstanding lineman and was established by the citizens of Ronan, Montana.

The Golden Helmet Award honors the hardest hitter on the team. It was set up on a nationwide basis by the Coca-Cola Company in 1967. The Larry Miller Award is given in memory of the great Grizzly lineman and wrestler who competed for UM in 1969 and 1970. Miller died in an automobile accident in 1974. The award honors the teams’ outstanding defensive lineman.

The Steve Carlson award is given to the teams’ most valuable player in memory of the former Grizzly football player who died in 1977. Pat Norwood was a four year starter at offensive tackle for the Grizzlies (1978-82) from Billings, who died of cancer in 1983. This award is given to the Most Inspirational Player, who often times had to overcome an injury.

The Tony Barbour award is given in memory of a Loyal Grizzly Fan. It is presented annually to a UM player, “who best exemplifies outstanding practice habits and makes an unselfish contribution to the betterment of the Grizzly Football Team. Enthusiasm, dedication and commitment are the key factors sought in the person receiving this award.”

The Outstanding Linebacker award was inaugurated in 1990, and is given by an anonymous donor.

GAME NOTES: This game included 128 passes, 769 yards and 186 plays, yet only 38 points. WSU racked up 521 yards and 36 first downs, while UM had just 249 yards and 19 first downs. But, Montana forced seven WSU turnovers to keep itself in the game. Quarterback Drew Bleedsoe of WSU set school records, going 37 of 66 for 413 yards -- his first career 400-yard passing day. UM got WSU's attention when it scored with 10:11 left, and Shawn Merz recovered the ensuing on-side kick. The Grizzlies failed to score on their next possession, and the Cougars scored an insurance touchdown with 3:48 left on a nine-play, 62-yard drive. Griz QB Brad Lebo was picked off (by John Rushing) on his 36th pass attempt of the game. Lebo broke a Big Sky Conference record by throwing 187 straight passes without an interception, dating back to the 1991 season. He broke John Fries' (Idaho) mark of 173 passes in-a-row without an interception, set in 1989. Griz inside linebacker Chad Lembke had a game-high 15 tackles and an interception, while free safety Todd Ericson added 10 stops and his first career interception. Bleedsoe, a junior, was the No. 1 pick in the 1993 National Football League draft, selected by the New England Patriots. Lembke was named the Big Sky Cenex/Land O'Lakes Defensive Player of the Week.

Montana has had seven players in the East-West Shrine game, beginning with "Wild Bill" Kelly and Russ Sweet in 1926, while the last participant was Brian Salonen in 1984. However, in 1958, Stan Renning was invited to play in the Shrine Game and the All-American Bowl (Tucson, Arizona), but could not because of a knee injury.
TEAM-QUARTER-TIME-PLAY

BSU-Wilber: 7-0/2/0; Forehand: 5-78/1 TD; Deitz: 5-39/0.

GAME NOTES: Montana had leads of 7-0 and 14-10 in the first half, and closed the Boise lead to 24-21 in the third period. However, the Griz ran out of time, ending a yard away from a tie, or possible victory. UM marched 65 yards in 97 seconds, reaching the BSU one-yard line. But, UM's final two plays were an incomplete pass by Wilberger, and then a reception for a three-yard loss by halfback Marc Monestime, as time expired. It was Montana's third straight loss -- the first time in coach Don Read's tenure one of his teams has lost three games in-a-row. Wilberger had his first career start, and completed eight of 19 passes for 124, but was picked off three times. That gave him nine interceptions in his last three games. The Wildcats took advantage of two Wilberger interceptions, scoring touchdowns on their first play after each second-quarter turnover. A 51-yard TD pass from WSU quarterback Jamie Martin to receiver Nate Burchette gave Martin 10,713 passing yards, making him the Big Sky Conference's all-time leader. It was also a big day for unheralded senior running back Dwight Richards, who gained a career-best 161 yards rushing on 28 carries -- 135 of his yards coming in the final half. Montana's only score came on a 74-yard fumble return by Ericson. Defensive tackle Lance Allen had two of UM's three sacks. It looked like the Grizzlies might suffer their losing season in seven years, and the first time in head coach Don Read's tenure at Montana.

Griz Trivia
The Grizzlies played the Bobcats twice in 1898, winning 6-0 in Bozeman and 16-0 in Missoula. In the contest in Missoula, Charles Allard from Ravalli kicked a field goal—the first ever kicked in the state of Montana.

GAME NOTES: The Streak continued, as the Grizzlies defeated the Bobcats for the seventh straight year. (UM holds the longest winning streak, 16 in a row, from 1990-1992. Lebo completed 13 of his first 14 passes, leading the Grizzlies to a 22-0 first-quarter lead. A record crowd of 15,438 (the old mark was 15,345 vs. MSU in 1990) saw the Grizzlies score on their first three possessions, on scoring drives covering 70, 61 and 43 yards. In the first half the Grizzacked up 318 passing yards, in the Cats' 43 yards (15 passing), and had 13 more first downs (17 to 4). Lebo had 40 yards passing -- his best total of the season, and it was the fourth time in his career he has passed for 400 yards or more. Rice rushed for 60 hard-earned yards, while fellow senior Shawn Canbunoc had nine catches for 129 yards. Receiverpass returner Shaken Baker set a school record with eight punt returns (for 77 yards). UM out-gained MSU 480 to 193 in total yards, converted six of 16 third downs (MSU converted two of 23). Lemhke had 10 tackles and forced a fumble, while Downs had nine stops, two for losses, and a forced fumble. Lebo was named the Big Sky's Offensive Player of the Week.

GAME NOTES: The Bobcats looked unbeatable winning their third straight game, after having a bye week following the victory over the Bobcats. Montana scored on six of its first seven drives, and eight of 13 possessions in the game -- a 61.5 percent rate. UM scored all of its 47 points in the first three quarters. UI was ranked second in the nation. It was UM's fifth win over a top 10 team at home since the 1987 season. (UM's only loss was to No. 1 Nevada, 35-28 in double overtime in 1991). Lebo completed 13 of his first 17 passes and was 21 of 28 for 242 yards and two TDs in the first half, and Rice rushed for two scores. Baker had 10 catches for 95 yards and a TD, and five punt returns for 59 yards. Montana held Idaho to 32 net yards rushing, and limited the league's leading rusher, Sheridan May, to 30 yards on 11 carries. The Grizzlies kicked their first field goal (UM kicked three field goals in all years of the season), as Wells hit a 26-yarder, and Brandy Alexander converted on a 33-yarder. UI's Yo Murphy had 11 catches for 200 yards and a score. Lemhke had 12 tackles, an interception, and two sacks.
1992 Season Review

GAME NOTES: The win at Idaho State gave Montana and head coach Don Read their seventh consecutive winning season, but it was not an easy one. UM had to overcome two ISU leads, and scored twice in the final quarter. The Grizzlies' winning touchdown culminated a nine-play, 80-yard drive, with Rice scoring from seven yards out with 1:59 remaining. It was Rice's sixth touchdown run in his last six games, giving him 10 for the season, which was the second most (Idaho's May had 21) in the conference. The key play in the final Griz scoring drive was a 33-yard pass from Lebo to redshirt freshman receiver Jeff McElroy, advancing the ball to the ISU six-yard line. Lebo passed for 363 yards, 223 in the second half, although UM was held to 37 net yards rushing. The Bengals' final drive was thwarted on an interception by Holien, with Sean Dorris. Erickson picked off his sixth pass of the year, tying him for ninth in the nation. Lembke had a game-high 12 tackles and a sack. Junior receiver Bill Cockhill had six catches for 103 yards and a TD for Montana, while ISU's Rommie Wheeler had seven receptions for 102 yards. It was the Grizzlies fifth straight win – giving them a 6-5 record. And, just as significantly, it gave Read 51 victories at Montana, tying him with Jack Swarthout (51 wins, 1967-75) for the most wins in school history.

Griz Trivia

In 1904 UM's "B" team played a game in Missoula and the varsity played Utah in Salt Lake City. Two-minute bulletins giving the progress of the Utah game were read by the announcer in Missoula. That was probably the first time reports of a road game had ever been back to Missoula.

In 1914, the first "M" blanket was awarded to Merritt "Punk" Owlsley, captain of the 1914 team, and a three-year letterman in football. This was also the year that Richard Howell of the UM Law School wrote the song: "Up With Montana."

MICK HOLIEN;
"VOICE OF THE GRIZZLIES"

Michael A. "Mick" Holien was named the new "voice" of the University of Montana Grizzly football and men's basketball teams June 2, 1993.

Holien replaced "Grizzly Bill" Schwank, who had served as Montana's play-by-play announcer since 1971. Schwank called it quits last March to dedicate more of his time to his current position of Director of Marketing and Media Relations at UM, a position he has held for the past three years.

The Grizzlies' flagship station, KYLT-AM Radio of Missoula, recently secured the rights for two more years to serve as UM's official station. KYLT is beginning its 23rd year as Montana's flagship station.

Holien had been the voice of Montana's Lady Griz basketball team for the past eight years. He has been the play-by-play announcer for high school football and basketball games for seven years, and announced American Legion baseball games for four years.

He has been a general assignment reporter for The Missoulian since October, 1992. Prior to that, he was the sports and news director, as well as the managing editor, at KGVO Radio from 1984 to 1992.

Mick has been selected as Montana's Broadcaster of the Year three times: in 1988, 1989 and 1991, and he was a finalist in 1990 and 1992. He was named Montana's Sports Broadcaster of the Year in 1988, 1989 and 1990 by the Associated Press.

Grizzly Sports Network

The 1993-94 Grizzly Sports Network: KYLT-AM, Missoula; KOFI-AM, Kalispell; KXML-AM of Great Falls; KBGM-FM of Hamilton; KPOQ-FM of Havre; KMTA-AM of Miles City; KXGN-AM, Glendive; KZFM-FM, Shelby; KPRK-AM of Livingston; KDRQ-AM of Deer Lodge; KCAP-AM, Helena; KXTL, Butte; and KBLG-AM of Billings.

KYLT was negotiating with other Montana stations at press time.
Montana's weight room was completed in the winter of 1991 at a cost of an estimated $220,000, with all of the funding provided by private donors. It covers approximately 4,000 square feet.

The Grizzly power weight room is divided into three separate areas of apparatus:

AREA 1: This phase of the weight room emphasizes free weight training. It has nine benches for bench press, and incline and decline bench pressing. It also has five squat and power racks, three lifting platforms, three squat and leap machines, a calf machine, four-way neck machines, and assorted benches.

AREA 2: Combines all the dumbbells and racks with pairs starting at 15 pounds to 100 pounds, and another set which ranges from 15 pounds to 120 pounds. It also has assorted benches, prone and decline for dumbbell exercising. It includes three overhead cable lat pulls, and a custom crossover cable apparatus. Two dip bars, a T-bar, bent over incline and row machines are also located here.

AREA 3: Eight Nautilus and eight universal machines are located here. There are also hip sleds, leg press machines, sit-up boards and ladder combinations.
As the University of Montana celebrates its Centennial this year, it is only fitting to look at a brief sketch of the history of Grizzly football. Men began to wear the copper, silver and gold on the gridiron in 1897, five years after the university received its charter (February 17, 1893).

1897-99: UM's enrollment was 75 in 1897, and 24 men turned out for the team. Chemistry professor Fred D. Smith, a former grinder at Cornell, volunteered to coach the team. UM had an unauspicious debut, going 1-2-3, with the sole highlight an 18-6 Thanksgiving Day home win over the Montana State Bobcats. Football was the only sport played at UM from 1897 to 1902.

1900-09: The Griz played only one game in 1900, the Cats prevailing for the first time, 12-11, in Missoula. In 1902, the Northwestern Intercollegiate Association was formed and UM was one of 11 schools in the association. This placed all members under eligibility rules for the first time.

In 1903, Montana played its first out-of-state opponents, Idaho and Washington State. The following season the Grizzlies ran up their biggest score in history against the Cats, 79-0. The first out-of-state team to play in Missoula was Washington State, Nov. 16, 1904, the Griz winning, 6-5.

Montana had its first undefeated season in 1909, going 6-0-1, and out-scoring its opponents 169 to 5.

1910-19: In 1912, the freshman class established a landmark that has lasted nine decades, as they made the block "M" on Mount Sentinel, and Montana first became known as the Grizzlies.

According to Jiggs Dahlberg's "Red Book," in the UM vs. Idaho game in 1914: "John KcCran weighed 223 pounds before the game. He weighed 307 pounds after the game -- 84 pounds of mud."

On Thanksgiving Day in 1915, Montana had one of its biggest games ever, tying Syracuse 6-6. Syracuse, the best team in the East, entered the game outscoring its opponents 256 to 3.

Christian "Blitz" Bentz was named UM's first All-American in 1918. He was chosen on Walter Camp's All-Service first team. Camp picked the service all-stars in place of his regular All-American selections.

Hall of Fame coach Bernie Bierman coached the Grizzlies in 1919 -- his first college job.

1920-29: The Grizzlies beat Washington the first (and only) time in school history, 18-14, in Seattle in 1920, as halfback Harry Adams scored twice. UM posted its biggest score ever -- a 133-0 pasting of Mt. Saint Charles (Carroll College). Also, in 1920, the football field was named after former Griz player Paul Dornblaser, who was killed in World War I. Butte's Harry "Swede" Dahlberg, Adams, and Steve Sullivan were three of the top-notch players.

"Jiggs" Dahlberg followed his brother, Harry, to UM playing in the early 20's. Jiggs became the school's all-time win leader in men's basketball history, coaching UM to 222 wins. Other Dahlberg's to star at UM were Oscar and Al.

Montana joined the Pacific Coast Conference Dec. 8, 1923. The Grizzlies remained in the PCC until 1950. In 26 years in the PCC, Montana failed to win a game from any league foe except Idaho and Washington State.

Grizzly greats "Wild Bill" Kelly (see page 26) and Russell Sweet were two of the top scorers in the nation in 1924 as sophomores. In 1925, UM played USC for the first time, losing 27-7, with Kelly passing for a touchdown.

An agreement was made to play future Griz-Cat games in Butte, and that lasted from 1926-50. The Grizzlies had a commanding 17-3-1 record over the Cats in the Mining City.

Ed Chinske, who would serve as UM's grid mentor (1952-54), and golf coach, was team captain in 1928. Halfback Tom Davis was named honorable mention All-American in '29.

1930-39: Quarterback Jim Morrow was an All-American in 1930. The Griz had two picks in 1933: halfback Bob Stansberry and quarterback Hank Blastic.

In the spring of 1935, Doug Fessenden, a former great at Illinois, took over as head coach, and started building some of UM's best teams in history. Also in 1935, former three-sport star Naseby Rhinehart, Sr., who had just graduated, was asked by Fessenden to become the first athletic trainer in school history, a post he held until 1982.

In '36, Paul Szakash, Carl Swanson and Milt Popovich led the Griz to a 6-3 mark.

The 1937 grid team was the best in history to date, going 7-1. The Grizzlies had offers to play in the Sun Bowl against Texas Tech and in a bowl game in Phoenix against Hardin-Simmons, but declined. Popovich became the fourth UM player to play in the East-West Shrine Game, joining, Kelly, Sweet, and Davis.

Tackle Aldo Forte and halfback Bill Lazetich starred in 1938, while fullback Eso Naranche, a sophomore, would go on to start in the 1942 East-West Shrine Game.

1940-49: Because of World War II, the Grizzlies did not field a team in 1943-44. On October 22, 1943, Butte's football stadium was named after Naranche who was killed in action in North Africa.

Fessenden returned from the war in 1946. In 1947, UM went 7-4 with stars like QB John Helding, halfbacks Arnold Scott and Jack O'Laughlin, guard Ray Gorton, and sophomore end Ray Bauer.

After a 3-7 campaign in 1948, Fessenden was forced to resign, and UM would not have another winning season (except for a 5-4 mark in 1949) until coach Jack Swarthout arrived 19 years later -- in 1967.

Fessenden’s 45 wins was the most in school history; until Swarthout and Don Read won 51 games during their tenures.

1950-59: Bauer and QB Tom Kingsford set career receiving and passing yards records with 1,250 and 2,296 yards, respectively, wrapping up their careers in 1950.

UM dropped out of the PCC in ’50 and joined the Mountain States Conference, also known as the Skyline Conference. The Griz won their first Skyline encounter, 25-7 over New Mexico. Dick “Little Penguin” Imer set a Skyline rushing record with 889 yards in 1954, averaging a lofty 8.2 yards a carry, and the last of three top-notch Campbell brothers — Murdo, played his last season. Don and Ken Campbell were stars in the late 40’s.

The Griz went 0-10 in 1958, but two of the school’s best ever players, linebacker/guard Stan “The Ram” Renning and end John Lands were bright spots.

1960-69: UM was forced to leave the Skyline after the 1961-62 season when BYU, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming all dropped out. Halfback/defensive back Terry Dillon was a 1962 All-American and played in the East-West Shrine Game.

Ray T. Rocene, who started writing sports for The Missoulian in 1916, retired in July of 1960, after more than 44 years of covering the Grizzlies and all other levels of sports.

In 1963, Montana became a charter member of the Big Sky Conference, joining five other schools.

Jack Swarthout (1939-41) returned to his alma mater in 1967 and went 7-3 in his first season — UM’s best record since 1937. Linebacker Bob Beers was a first team All-American in 1967 and 1968.

Montana celebrated college football’s 100th birthday with a perfect 10-0 regular season in 1969. Stars like safety Karl Stein, tackle Tuufuli Uperesa, defensive end Jim Nordstrom, quarterback Ray Brum, and others, were keys as the Grizzlies averaged 331 yards a game rushing.

1970-79: The 1970 team went 10-0 in the regular season and repeated as Big Sky champions. The standouts were once again “Nordo” and Stein, along with linemen Steve Okoniewski and Barry Darrow, halfbacks Arnie Blancas and Steve Caputo, and defensive lineman Larry Miller. The Griz have had undefeated regular seasons four times in history — 1909, 1914, 1969-70. (UM lost the Camellia Bowl game to North Dakota State for the second straight year in ’70).

Linebacker Ron Rosenberg was named the Big Sky’s defensive MVP in 1974. Safety Greg Anderson was named first team All-Big Sky in 1976, the only UM player (to date) named to the first team three times.

Swarthout resigned his duties as athletic director in ’75, and track and cross country coach Harley Lewis was named acting athletic director, a position he held for 14 years. Swarthout retired after the 1975 season and Gene Carlson took over.

Lineman Guy Bingham and tailback Rocky Klever (UM’s all-time rusher) were two of the stars in the late 70’s.

1980-Present: In 1981, coach Larry Donovan guided UM to a 7-3 mark, the fifth best record to date in school history. UM defeated eventual national champion Idaho State, 24-21, and lost each of its last two games by just one point.

UM won its third Big Sky title in history in 1982, advancing to the Division I-AA national playoffs for the first time. Standouts were QB Marty Mornhinweg, tailback Greg Iseman, tight end Brian Salonen and linebacker Ben Kiefer. Salonen was named to several All-American teams and became the seventh (and last) Grizzly player to play in the East-West Shrine Game.

The “Don Read Era” began in 1986, as did the opening of Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

Missoula entrepreneur Dennis R. Washington gave the largest gift in Montana history — $1 million, helping to make the stadium a reality. (Harley Lewis and former UM President Neil S. Bucklew and others were also instrumental in the completion of the stadium).

Montana played its first game in Washington-Grizzly Stadium on October 18, 1986, and overcome a 31-21 fourth-quarter deficit to defeat Idaho State, 38-31. Griz QB Brent Pease set a school record with 36 completions and tied his own record with five touchdown passes.

Montana’s 1989 team won a school-record 11 games (UM went 11-3), advancing to the I-AA semi-final game. Also in ’89, UM hosted playoff games for the first time in school history, beating Jackson State (48-7) and Eastern Illinois (25-19). (It was UM’s second straight trip to the playoffs, as they went 8-4 in 1988, earning an at-large bid).

Safety Tim Hauck was named the Big Sky’s Defensive Player of the Year in 1988 and 1989, and in ‘89 was one of 10 finalists for the Payton Award, given to the Division I-AA Player of the Year.

During Read’s seven years as head mentor, UM has set numerous individual and team records, and had stars like all-time passer, Grady Bennett; all-time receiver, Mike Trevathan; and all-time scorer, Kirk Duve; as well as guard Kirk Scrafford, halfback/punter Jody Farmer, receiver Matt Clark, and receiver/punter Mike Rice.

Read’s teams have had seven straight winning seasons, and have won seven games in-a-row over the Bobcats, both of which are the longest streaks in school history.

EDITOR’S NOTE: George H. Dahlberg’s “Red Book” was the primary source for the “Grizzly Gridiron” section of the Centennial edition of the Grizzly Yearbook. A special thanks to “Jiggs” for his hard work and years of dedication and research, which provides myself and others a comprehensive look at the history of University of Montana athletics.

Rafting is one of many exciting and fun outdoor activities available to everyone in Missoula. The Clark Fork River runs right through town, and next to the UM campus, while the Blackfoot River is just minutes away. There are numerous areas to fish and hunt located just a few miles away.

Two excellent ski areas, Marshall and Snow Bowl, are both minutes away from town. Missoula Snow Bowl provides terrain to challenge the most intrepid skier, while Marshall Ski Area offers night skiing in addition to its regular day activities.

Missoula, a friendly community of 68,000, is located near four wilderness areas. It is three hours away to spectacular Glacier National Park. Above is a peak located in Glacier. Despite its location in the Rocky Mountains, Missoula has mild winters and moderate summer temperatures.
