Montana now has 19 winning seasons in a row, dating back to 1986.

• The Griz have appeared in the playoffs a l-AA record 12 consecutive times.

• Was ranked among the top 25 schools in the nation in 2004 by Sports Illustrated's Sl.com as one of the "Best College Football Weekends" locations (Tennessee was ranked first), and was the only non-Division I-A team that made the list.

• Participated in 15 of l-AA's 27 (55.6%) playoff tournaments, which is the second most in division history (Eastern Kentucky has the most with 17).

• UM's co-Big Sky Conference title in 2004 was its seventh in a row, and it marked the ninth time in the last 10 years it has shared or outright won the league championship. In the last 12 years, the Griz have won or shared 10 league titles and were second the two seasons they did not win or tie for the championship.

• Won the national title (2001); was the runner-up in 2000 and 2004; advanced to the quarterfinals in 2002; and participated in the playoffs in 2003. In the first five years of the millennium the Griz are 60-13 (.822) overall and 31-5 (.861) in league.

• Won 10 or more games eight times over the past 12 seasons: 10-2 in 1993; 11-4 in 1994; 13-2 in 1995; 14-1 in 1996; 13-2 in 2000; 14-1 in 2001; 11-3 in 2002; and 12-3 in 2004.

• Have been ranked in The Sports Network’s top 25 for 172 of the past 176 weeks (since 1993).

• Holds the record for most consecutive conference wins with 25, as well as the most league road victories in a row with 13.

• Have had 11 of the Big Sky's offensive or defensive MVPs over the last 12 years (six on offense, five on defense).

• At this year's 13th Annual Robert Lindsay Scholar-Athlete Banquet, 44 football players were recognized for maintaining a 3.00 GPA or above.

• Since the 1970 season, 18 different football players from Montana have been named to the first or second Academic All-America teams.

• Montana has been ranked among l-AA's national leaders in attendance the past several seasons and was second in the country last year, averaging 22,218 fans in 10 home games.

• Since playing in Washington-Grizzly Stadium mid-way through the 1986 season, the Griz have a record of 120-16 (a winning percentage of .882).

Griz in NCAA Team Rankings in 2004 (in top 30):

COACHING STAFF

Head Coach Bobby Hauck
Head Football Coach Bobby Hauck
(21-7/Two years at UM)

Bobby Hauck (pronounced HOWK) had an outstanding two-year tenure at his alma mater, going 21-7 overall and 11-3 in the Big Sky Conference, en route to two league championships. Hauck also coaches the Griz special teams.

In his second season at UM the Grizzlies advanced to the Division I-AA championship game, losing 31-21 to James Madison in Chattanooga, Tenn. Montana added to its record number of playoff appearances in 2004, making its 12th trip in a row.

In his inaugural season at Montana in 2003, Bobby led the Griz to a 9-4 overall record, and they shared the Big Sky regular-season title with a 5-2 league mark.

Hauck, 40, became the 33rd head football coach at his alma mater on December 20, 2002. He replaced Joe Glenn, the current head football coach at the University of Wyoming.

Before coming to Montana as its mentor, he spent four years at the University of Washington. During his tenure at UW, he worked with defensive backs, special teams, and safeties. Energetic and hard-working, Hauck is considered one of the top recruiters in college football.

Prior to working at UW, Hauck was at the University of Colorado, where he was the special teams coordinator, recruiting coordinator, and coach of the safeties his four seasons there.

At Colorado, he coordinated all six special teams groups: punt coverage and return, kickoff coverage and return, field goal/PAT and field goal/PAT defense. In 1998 his Buffalo kickoff and punt return teams were both ranked in the top five in the nation.

His first three years at Colorado he also worked as the recruiting coordinator. In 1998 he gave up those duties to coach in the secondary. At CU he coached seven All-Big 12 Conference performers.

Tim Hauck, his younger brother, was a standout defensive back at Montana and was selected Big Sky Conference defensive MVP in 1988 and 1989. Tim was also UM's team MVP in 1988 and 1989. Tim went on to earn Division I-AA All-American honors and is played 13 seasons in the National Football League from 1990 to 2002. Tim is a current assistant coach (safeties) at UM.

A Montana native, Bobby Hauck's first coaching position came in 1987 as an assistant at Sweet Grass High School in Big Timber, his alma mater, working for his father, Bob Sr.

Bobby Hauck was a three-sport standout at Big Timber, lettering in football, basketball, and track.

Hauck, a Montana graduate, began his collegiate coaching career as a volunteer assistant for the Grizzlies. In 1988 he worked as a secondary coach, and he coached the inside linebackers in 1989.

He worked as a graduate assistant at UCLA from 1990 to 1991 under former Bruin head coach Terry Donahue. It was during his coaching experience at UCLA that Hauck first met and coached with former Husky head coach Rick Neuheisel.

Hauck was born June 14, 1964, in Missoula. He is married to the former Stacey Harbin from St. Ignatius, and the couple have twin daughters, Sydney and Alexandra (eight) and a son, Robby (six).

Kraig Paulson
Asst. Head Coach/Defensive Ends
(Montana, 1987)
15th Year at Montana (Overall)

"I am excited to have Kraig back as our (defensive) coordinator. He's done great in that role in the past. We led the league in defense and were ranked among the national leaders in total defense and rush defense (in 1999) at The University of Montana with him as the coordinator. Kraig did a great job tinkering with our defensive scheme this past spring. I'm looking for big things out of our defense this fall." — Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Kraig returned to his alma mater in 2004 after a three-year stint at Utah State, where he worked with the defense. He is in his 18th season as a collegiate coach.

In 2001 he was the defensive coordinator and secondary coach for the Aggies. In 2002, he served as the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach.

Kraig is no stranger at Montana, as he coached the Grizzlies from 1987-99 and was a fullback for the Grizzlies from 1983-86.

Paulson, who worked with the linebackers, defensive line, and secondary at Montana, was one of the keys to a Griz defense which ranked among the national leaders in defense in Division I-AA in 1998.

While coaching at Montana, the Griz defense was ranked among the national leaders against the rush 11 of his 12 seasons. While coaching Montana's defensive line, Paulson had six linemen earn first-team all-Big Sky honors and four players receive All-America recognition.

He began his coaching career at UM in 1987 as a graduate assistant. He worked with the linebackers (1988-90), defensive line (1991-99), and was defensive coordinator in 1998 and 1999.

He was a four-year letterman in football for the Griz from 1983-86. In 1984 he was chosen UM's Outstanding Sophomore, while in 1986 he received the Terry Dillon Award, given annually to Montana's outstanding back/receiver.

He is a 1987 graduate of Montana, earning a B.A. degree in education.

Three of his brothers: Kevin, Kerry, and Keith competed in track for the Grizzlies, while another brother, Kent, ran track at The University of Montana-Western in Dillon.

During his prep career at Plentywood High School, Kraig was a two-time all-state pick in football. He earned four letters in football and track.

Kraig and his wife Jody have three sons: Keogh, Elias, and Rokken.

Mike Hudson
Associate Head Coach/Corners
(Texas at San Antonio, 1994)
First Year at Montana

"Mike is very versatile. He could coach any position on the defense, and we have him working with the corners right now. He was the defensive coordinator at Sam Houston (State) the last two years, and he basically interviewed with us three times in the games that we played against them over the past couple of seasons. His (Sam Houston) teams played extremely well. We're fortunate to have him." — Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Mike Hudson joined The University of Montana football coaching staff in April of 2005. He will serve as associate head coach and work with the cornerbacks.

Hudson, 41, has 18 years of collegiate coaching experience, including 15 seasons at the Division I-AA level. He has had coaching stints at Sam Houston State, Texas State University-San Marcos, Trinity University, and the University of New Mexico.

Hudson comes to Montana after a two-year stint at Sam Houston State. Last season he was the defensive coordinator for the Bearkats, and the previous year he served as their defensive line coach. Montana played SHSU in a Division I-AA semifinal game in Missoula last year, the Griz winning 34-13, while the Bearkats had defeated UM 41-29 in Huntsville earlier in 2004. Last year Sam Houston State registered the biggest turnaround in I-AA history, going 11-3, compared to a 2-9 record in 2003.

He had numerous coaching and administrative responsibilities at Texas State University-San Marcus, from 1995-2002. Prior to that he had coaching stints at the University of New Mexico (1994) and Trinity University (1992 and 1993). He began his college coaching career at Texas State-San Marcos and was there from 1987-1991, rejoining that program in 1995.

Hudson earned a B.S. degree in kinesiology from the University of Texas at San Antonio in 1994. He was born in Bryan, Texas, and raised in San Antonio. He played collegiate football at Angelo State University.

Mike and his wife Dyan have two children: Gordon (8) and Loryn (6).
Luther Carr III
Wide Receivers
(Eastern Washington, 1995)
Third Year at Montana

"Luther has done a great job for us in recruiting. He’s tireless, and he loves the recruiting game. He’s brought in some outstanding players for us. I think the production that our wide receivers had a year ago speaks for itself, and Luther’s done a great job with those guys." — Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Luther begins his third season at Montana. Last season Jefferson Heidelberger was named to the all-conference team, while fellow Griz wide receivers Levander Segars and Jon Talmage earned honorable mention all-league honors.

Carr came to UM from the University of Washington where he was a graduate assistant coach and worked with the wide receivers. This will be his 11th season coaching at the collegiate or high school level.

Prior to coaching at Washington he was a teacher and the head football coach at Garfield High School in Seattle. While at Garfield, Luther coached several players who played at the collegiate level. He also taught and coached football and track at Pasco High School in Pasco, Washington.

He began his coaching career at Lewis and Clark High School in Spokane, where he coached football and track in 1994 and 1995.

A native of Seattle and a Garfield H.S. graduate, Carr was a standout wide receiver at Eastern Washington University and a four-year letterman there from 1989-93. His 1992 Eagle team tied Idaho for the Big Sky Conference championship with a 6-1 league record.

The Carr name is synonymous with Husky football. His dad, Luther II, was a three-year letterman at UW from 1956-58, and led the team in rushing as a sophomore, and his senior year he led the Huskies in receiving, punt returns, and kickoff returns. His uncles, Gary and Dave, also lettered in athletics at Washington.

Carr is a 1995 graduate of EWU, earning his B.A. degree in education. He graduated from Garfield in 1989.

His parents are Luther, Jr. and Frances Carr of Seattle. Luther, 33, is single.

Dominic Daste
Offensive Line
(Washington, 2001)
Third Year at Montana

"Dom gets better as a football coach almost every day. Over the past two years he’s evolved from being a young coach into a guy who’s ready to run the offensive line. It’s a position on the team, along with the secondary, that needs to work together the most, and Dom has those guys playing well." — Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Dominic is in his third season at Montana, working with the offensive line. Last season UM tackle Cory Procter was named first team All-Big Sky Conference while center Jay Green and guard/center Jeff Marshall were both second team all-league picks.

Daste came to UM from the University of Washington, where he served as graduate assistant coach for two seasons. He worked with the offensive line during his two-year stint at his alma mater.

He was as a four-year letterman for the Huskies at offensive tackle. During his six years at Washington as a player and coach, the Huskies participated in six bowl games.

While a player at Washington, he received the "Tough Husky Award" in 1999.

He participated in the Holiday Bowl in 1996 (his redshirt season) and 1999, the Aloha Bowl in 1997, and the Oahu Bowl in 1998. He was a player in 2000 when the Huskies won the Pac-10 Conference championship.

In 2001 he coached in the Rose Bowl for the Huskies. When he was coaching at UW in 2002, the team played in the Holiday Bowl.

Daste (sounds like Nasty) prepped at Damien High School in LaVerne, California.

He earned his Bachelor of Arts and Science Degree in geography from Washington in 2001.

His parents are Maceo and Diane Daste of San Dimas, Calif. Dominic is a native of San Dimas.
Ty Gregorak
Linebackers
(Colorado, 2001)
Third Year at Montana

"Ty enters his second season as our linebacker's coach, and he's done a great job in bringing a young linebacker core along in the off-season. I am excited to watch the progress that group will make this fall."—Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Ty is in his third season with the Grizzlies. Last season he coached the Griz linebackers, and junior Shane MacIntyre was a first team All-Big Sky Conference selection and a finalist for the league's defensive MVP. UM's three leading tacklers last year were its starting linebackers.

His first season at UM in 2003, he coached the secondary. That season he coached Big Sky honorable mention pick Kevin Edwards, who tied for second in the conference in interceptions with four.

Before coming to UM, he served as an assistant coach at the University of Washington in 2001 and 2002. He was a graduate assistant coach for the Huskies in 2002 and student assistant in 2001, working primarily with the secondary and special teams.

Gregorak (pronounced: greg-or-ACK) was a three-year letterman at linebacker for the University of Colorado from 1997-2000. He was the recipient of the Lee Willard Award (outstanding freshman) at CU in 1997.

In 1998, CU played in the Aloha Bowl, while the 1999 squad played in the Insight.Com Bowl in Tucson, Arizona. Ty was a 2000 Academic All-Big XII selection. That year he was nominated for the National Academic-Athletic Achievement Award.

He was a standout prep athlete at West Valley High School in Spokane, Washington. He was a first-team all-state selection in high school in 1995 and 1996. He served as team captain from 1994-96.

In 1996, he was chosen the state of Washington's Defensive Player of the Year and voted Super Prep magazine's West Coast Defensive Player of the Year.

In 1997, Gregorak was named West Valley High School's Student-Athlete of the Year. He was named to several All-American teams that year and was a USA Today honorable mention All-American. He was named team captain of the West for the National All-American High School Team's East-West Game.

Gregorak earned a B.A. degree at Colorado in communication in 2001. While at Washington, he was pursuing course work in educational leadership and policy studies.

He is a native of Spokane, Wash. He married the former Annie Geyer in 2004, in Naples, Florida.

Tim Hauck
Safeties
(Montana, 1990)
Second Year at Montana

"When Fred von Appen decided to retire at the first of August a year ago, we were lucky to have Tim around here and available. He brings a level of experience and exposure to several different schemes. He played (in the NFL) for so long that we couldn't have gotten someone with his kind of experience elsewhere. We are fortunate to have him."—Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Former University of Montana football All-American Tim Hauck (pronounced: Howk) begins his second season of working with the safeties at Montana. He was named an assistant coach at his alma mater in August of 2004.

A safety for the Grizzlies, Hauck was voted the Big Sky Conference MVP on defense in 1988 and 1989. He was selected Montana's Golden Helmet Award ("Hardest Hitter") winner in 1987, 1988, and 1989. He received Montana's Steve Carlson Award (MVP) in 1988 and 1989.

Tim is ranked third in Griz history with 305 career tackles in just three seasons at Montana.

Hauck started his college career at Pacific University in Oregon and was an all-conference pick there as a freshman.

He prepued at Big Timber High School (Montana) and was an all-state quarterback and defensive back, playing for his dad, Bob Hauck Sr.

He is the younger brother of Griz head coach Bobby Hauck. Tim is single.
Tom Hauck
Defensive Tackles
(Montana, 1964)
Sixth Year at Montana

Tom graduated from Montana in 1964, earning a bachelor's degree in mathematics. His first coaching job was at his alma mater as a graduate assistant in '64. Tom is single.

Tom is a great guy. Our defensive linemen are very fortunate to be coached by him. When we had our staff changeover when I came here three seasons ago, I was really pleased that he decided to stay on and work with us." --Head Coach Bobby Hauck

A much-experienced football coach, Tom Hauck is in his sixth season at his alma mater. He has been a college or high school coach for the past five decades.

The past five seasons he has worked with Montana's defensive tackles. In 2004, senior defensive tackle Blake Horgan was chosen first team All-Big Sky Conference.

In his first season at Montana in 2000, Tom worked with the defensive ends as well as the defensive tackles.

Over the last four seasons the Grizzlies have had at least one defensive tackle named to the All-Big Sky team, including Horgan, Jonny Varona, and Alan Saenz. Horgan and Saenz were honorable mention all-league picks in 2003.

A former Grizzly standout on the gridiron, Hauck was a 6-2, 220-pound center at Montana, lettering from 1961-63. Originally from Butte, he was the team co-captain his senior year in 1963 with tackle Fred Calder. Tom also played freshman football at UM in 1960.

Hauck was an honorable mention All-Big Sky selection at center as a senior in '63, the league's inaugural season.

Bobby Hauck, UM's head coach, is the son of Tom's brother, Robert Hauck, Sr. Tom's nephew Tim Hauck was an All-American safety for the Griz in 1988-89 and also an assistant football coach for the Griz.

Prior to coming to UM, Tom coached at Rocky Mountain College in Billings, where he worked with the defense and special teams. Before his stint at Rocky he coached for 19 seasons (1968-87) at Billings Senior High School.

Pete Kaligis
Offensive Tackles/Tight Ends
(Washington, 1994)
First Year at Montana

"Pete's a hard-charging individual. He brings a lot of fire and spark to our team and practices. He was the head strength coach at the University of Washington, and we are excited about the work he's done with our team so far. I think he'll bring some intensity to our offense and offensive line." --Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Pete Kaligis (pronounced Cal-ih-giss) was named an assistant football coach at Montana in February of 2005.

Kaligis, 33, will coach the offensive tackles and tight ends. He will also serve as UM's recruiting coordinator.

He had been the head strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater, the University of Washington since 2002. From 1999-2001 he was the assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Huskies.

Following his graduation from UW (1994), Pete was an assistant football coach at Western Washington University in his hometown of Bellingham, Wash. He was an assistant defensive line/strength coach at WWU in 1996-97 and assistant tight end/strength coach there from 1994-96. During his tenure at Western Washington, he coached two All-American defensive ends, and the Vikings advanced to the Division II title game in 1996.

He was a teacher and coach at Meridian Middle School in Bellingham in 1998-99.

Kaligis played football and was a standout track athlete at Washington. He played strong guard for the Huskies and former head football coach Don James when they won the national championship in 1991. He was an All-American in track and field in the shot put. His PR in the shot put in college was 62-8.

He won the gold medal in the 1995 Olympic Festival and placed third in the University Games that year. Pete participated in the 1996 Olympic Trials in track and field in the shot put, where he had a throw of 65-8.

He earned his B.A. degree in sociology and law enforcement at Washington in 1994.

Pete and his wife Kristine have a daughter Harlie Grace, 2, and a son Cooper, five months.
Ron Kowalski
Running Backs
(Eastern Montana, 1966)
Fifth Year at Montana

"Ron's a veteran coach in Montana and is one of the all-time great high school coaches. He's just done a spectacular job with our running backs. Justin Green had a huge career here. Lex Hilliard and JR Waller are having big careers, and he's helped Brady Green evolve. I am looking forward to having him work with our young guys and bringing them along, as he has our veteran players."--Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Ron is a veteran of the football coaching ranks and brings numerous years of coaching expertise to Montana. He is now in his fifth year at Montana and his 38th season coaching at the high school and college levels.

For the third year in a row Kowalski will work exclusively with UM's running backs. In 2001 and 2002 he worked with the tight ends at Montana. Kowalski came to UM after a successful 32-year stint at Cut Bank High School. He was the head coach at Cut Bank for 29 seasons and compiled an overall record of 206-80-1. His prep teams won state championships in 1985, 1989 and 1990, and were runners-up on four occasions.

Originally from Roundup, Kowalski is a 1966 graduate of Eastern Montana College.

Ron and his wife Dianne of 39 years have two sons, Pete, of Missoula, and Mike, who lives in Denver.

Mike was an outside linebacker at Montana, lettering from 1992-95. The Kowalski’s also have a grand-daughter, Bradyn.

Rob Phenicie
Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks
(University of Memphis, 1989)
Third Year at Montana

"In the two seasons Rob has been the coordinator here, he has done a great job. We’ve been drastically different at times, and that shows Rob’s versatility and his ability to lead our offense. We’ve been at the top of the conference in scoring, at an average around 37 points a game over the past two years, and that’s fairly incredible. We’re looking for good things out of our offense this fall. We’ll be extremely young on defense, and we don’t have many veteran players coming back, so we may have to ham-and-egg it a bit early in the season to get things rolling, but we’ll find a way to do that, and Rob’s the guy to lead the charge."--Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Rob is in his third season as Montana’s offensive coordinator and quarterback coach. The past two seasons the Griz have been ranked among Division I-AA’s top offenses.

Last season the Grizzlies were 11th in the I-AA ranks in passing offense (277.5 yards a game), 12th in scoring offense (35.7 ppg), and 13th in total offense (427.7 yards a game). In 2003, Montana was 17th in the nation in scoring (33.1 points a game) and 26th in rushing (189.2 yards per contest).

Rob came to UM from the University of Wyoming where he served as co-offensive coordinator and was responsible for the Cowboy’s passing game in 2002. He was an assistant coach at Wyoming from 2000-2002.

In 2001, he served as recruiters and wide receivers coach at Wyoming, while his first season there he oversaw the wide receivers. In 2001 the Cowboys were 15th in the nation in passing offense, averaging 282.4 yards a game.

Prior to coaching in Laramie, Phenicie (pronounced: fin-ih-see) was an offensive assistant at UNLV for a season.

Before that he was the offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at Cal State Northridge in 1997 and 1998. In 1997 Northridge led Division I-AA in passing yards and was fifth in total offense.

Phenicie began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, the University of Memphis, from 1989-91. In 1992, he was hired as the quarterbacks and wide receivers coach at Los Angeles Valley College, coaching there until 1996. L.A. Valley was ranked first in the nation in 1995, and led the country in scoring (45.7 ppg).

He began his college playing career as a tight end at the University of Nebraska in 1984. He transferred to Memphis where he completed his playing career. Phenicie received his B.A. degree from Memphis in 1989 and his master’s degree from there in 1991.

A native of Huntington Beach, Calif., Rob and his wife Jennifer have a daughter Meghen.
The good news entering the 2005 season for The University of Montana Grizzlies is that they return 15 starters and 43 lettermen from a 12-3 team that finished 6-1 en route to a co-Big Sky Conference championship, played for the Division I-AA national championship, and ranked second in The Sports Network's final poll.

Last season Montana not only added to its record by advancing to the Division I-AA playoffs for the 12th season in a row, but it also played for the national title for the fifth time in the past 10 years.

The Grizzlies have now won or shared seven straight Big Sky championships and 10 in the past 12 seasons, dating back to 1993. UM reached another milestone a year ago by racking up its 19th straight winning season - a victory skein that started in 1986.

The Griz needed two blocked field goals to pull out key conference wins against Idaho State (24-22) and at Eastern Washington (31-28) last season, but they made an impressive run in the playoffs, defeating (in order) Northwestern State (56-7), New Hampshire (47-17), and Sam Houston State (34-13) on their way to the division's championship game, which was a 31-21 setback versus James Madison in Chattanooga, in a contest that was unfortunately played on horrific field conditions.

A good portion of Montana's quest for its third national title was watched by a national television audience. The Grizzlies home Division I-AA quarterfinal and semifinal contests were aired live on ESPN2, as was the "chipper" against James Madison. Portable lights were brought in by the NCAA for the Montana-New Hampshire quarterfinal game, making it the first night game in the 19-year history of Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

The bad news for the Grizzlies is that they need to replace prolific quarterback Craig Ochs, who passed for 3,807 yards and 33 touchdowns; their top three receivers; halfback Justin Green, who was a fifth-round draft pick by the Baltimore Ravens, as well as many key players at defensive tackle and linebacker.

Once again the Griz had one of the top offenses in the country. Last season UM was 11th in passing (277.5 ypg), 12th in scoring (35.7 ppg), and 13th in total offense (427.5 ypg).

Other key losses offensively were All-American tackle Cory Procter, Jefferson Heidelberger, Levander Segars, and Tate Hancock - all three-year starters at wide receiver - and Green, a fifth-round draft pick of the Baltimore Ravens.

Perhaps what makes the Grizzlies' success a year ago even more impressive is that they played 10 "true" freshmen, as well as eight redshirt freshmen.

GRIZ OFFENSE

Quarterback

The loss of Ochs as well as quality senior backup Jeff Disney cannot be underestimated. Ochs, who signed a free agent contract with the San Diego Chargers last spring, accounted for 33 of Montana's 36 touchdown passes. He was not only an outstanding leader and passer, but was an adept scrambler as well.

Redshirt freshman Cole Bergquist and junior transfer Jason Washington ended spring drills in a head-to-head battle for the starting berth, and that competition carried over into fall camp.

"Losing Craig Ochs is a big blow to our football team," said third-year head coach Bobby Hauck. "As I've said before, he's the best quarterback I've been around. But, that's the nature of college football. You graduate your seniors, and you find guys who can pick up the slack and that's what needs to happen on offense.

"That doesn't necessarily mean that we need our quarterbacks to replace Craig's production, but we do need our entire offense can tackle Cory Procter, Jefferson Heidelberger, Levander Segars, and Tate Hancock - all three-year starters at wide receiver - and Green, a fifth-round draft pick of the Baltimore Ravens.

Defensively, the Griz must replace veteran starters John Cahill, Blake Horgan, and Jonny Varona at tackle, as well as starting linebackers Adam Hoge and Nick Vella.

Perhaps what makes the Grizzlies' success a year ago even more impressive is that they played 10 "true" freshmen, as well as eight redshirt freshmen.

to replace Craig Ochs’ production,” Hauck said. “Bergquist and Washington are good solid players,” Hauck said. “The real question is how far can they come along from the first of August to the first of September during fall camp. I really like both of them as athletes. I think we tend to underestimate Cole’s ability to hurt you with his feet, and I think we tend to underestimate Jason’s ability to hurt you with his arm. Both are very versatile. I expect both of them to have productive years.”

Waiting in the wings are sophomores Casey Cordial and Drew Hedrick. New to the program is 6-3, 215-pound freshman recruit Clint Stapp.

• Running Back

The Grizzlies lost Green to graduation, but the cupboard is not bare with the return of Lex Hilliard, JR Waller and Brady Green. Justin Green ended his prolific two-year career at Montana ranked sixth in school history with 1,784 yards. However, both Hilliard and Waller begin the season among UM’s career rush leaders.

Hilliard, a junior All-American candidate, rushed for 972 yards and tied UM’s single-season record with 17 touchdown runs. He was a first team All-Big Sky pick last year despite starting only four games. Hilliard’s 1,562 career rushing yards are the 11th most in school history.

Waller’s 262 yards and three touchdowns ranked him third on the team a year ago. His 1,280 career yards rank him 19th on the career list.

“Lex is a special player,” Hauck said. “He’s got a tremendous work ethic and is a tough, physical runner, and JR falls a lot into the same categories as Lex. Brady Green has worked his way up the depth chart, and he will have the ball in his hands. The running back position is a volatile one, and our young guys like Andrew Schmidt and our three incoming freshmen need to be ready to answer the call if needed.”

Brady Green rushed for 150 yards last year. Also vying for playing time is hard-running redshirt freshman Andrew Schmidt. Promising frosh recruits Thomas Brooks-Fletcher, Jolly Righetti, and Brandon Utterback could also be in the mix.

• Offensive Line

Procter, who signed a free agent contract with the Detroit Lions last spring, will be difficult to replace, but because of numerous injuries last season, several young players were thrown into the mix and gained valuable playing time.

However, Montana also returns several upperclassmen with starting experience to go along with some of those talented freshmen and sophomores.

Senior honors candidate Brad Rhoades, an honorable mention all-conference pick last year, has started the past two seasons at both tackle and guard and will start at right tackle. Cody Balogh started UM’s final three games last season as a true freshman and will start at left tackle. Two promising redshirt freshmen, Kevin Bell and Dan Carter, will back up Rhoades and Balogh, respectively.

Junior honors candidate Jeff Marshall was a second team All-Big Sky pick at guard last season, and he will start at center, a position he started in eight games last season. Another talented youngster, redshirt freshman Trapper Hight, is the back-up at center.

“We finally feel like we’ve developed some depth on our offensive line,” Hauck said. “Two years ago we didn’t feel like we had too many players we could throw in there. It’s different from a year ago, in that we’ve got some returning starters.”

“Early in the season last year we had a bunch of very inexperienced players on the offensive line, and it showed up when we tried to get our running game going,” Hauck said, “but, they really came on as the season did, and our offensive line came along too. By the end of the season last year we were equally as efficient running and throwing the ball, and I expect our offensive line to have a good year.”

Moving to center is former long snapper Alex Procter, who signed a free agent contract with the Detroit Lions last spring, will be difficult to replace, but because of numerous injuries last season, several young players were thrown into the mix and gained valuable playing time.

• Tight End/H-Back

The “big guy,” Willie Walden, a 6-7, 270-pounder, graduated and signed a free agent deal with the Kansas City Chiefs last spring. However, senior Ja’Ton Simpson had an outstanding spring and starts the 2005 season as an honors candidate at this position. Simpson had five catches for 92 yards and a touchdown last season.

Jaison Carriger also had a very good spring and will contribute at the tight end position and on special teams. Senior Kyler Noel is a solid player at this position as well.

Senior Offensive Guard Chris Orwig

“Ja’Ton and Jaison both had terrific off-

seasons,” Hauck said. “Depending on how fall camp goes, we will determine how big a part of our offense the tight end will play, and I expect that to be substantial. They are both playing the best football of their careers, and they’ll both be on the field making plays for us this fall.”

• Wide Receiver

As mentioned earlier, the Griz lost their three top receivers to graduation.

“Experience at this position is a concern going into the season,” Hauck said. “We could talk at length about the positions on our football team that don’t have a lot of experience, but, I think we’ll continue to grow as the season evolves. The wide receiver position could be a strength for us. We just need to continue to progress in the right direction. That group, led by senior Jon Talmage, is going to be very competent before all is said and done.”

Talmage had 55 catches for 819 yards and nine touchdowns last season. The only other wide receiver returning who had a catch is sophomore Ryan Bagley, who had two receptions last season and played as a true freshman. Bagley also ended spring drills as a starter.

Eric Allen, a sophomore transfer from Oklahoma State, showed great promise in the spring and will start.

Redshirt freshmen Mike Ferriter, Rob Schulte, and Matt Troxel should all play integral roles at receiver, despite their youth. Sophomore Brandon Dwyer is also vying for playing time.

"There is a lot of potential there," Hauck said, "and we need to bring it out of them. Jon's the lone veteran in the group. He's a senior and everyone else on the depth chart is either a freshman or a sophomore. That's a big question mark going into the season, but we like the players who are in that group, and we think they've got a chance to produce a lot of yards and points for us."

GRIZ DEFENSE

• Defensive End

The Griz have a dynamic trio returning at defensive end in senior Lance Spencer, a four-year starter, junior All-American Mike Murphy, and junior honors candidate Dustin Dlouhy.

Spencer has been bitten by the injury bug the past couple of years but returned to action in the spring. Murphy was recovering from off-season surgery and did not participate in spring football, but he's expected to be at full strength in time for fall camp.

Spencer begins his senior year ranked among Montana's all-time leaders in sacks (sixth with 17.5) and tackles for losses (tied for eighth with 23.5).

In just two seasons Murphy is tied with Spencer in stops for losses with 23.5, and he also has 14-plus sacks. Murphy was first team all-league last year, while Spencer was named to the second team. Murphy was named a second team All-American by Associated Press, and he had team-highs of 17 tackles for loss and 12 sacks.

Dlouhy was hampered with an injury midway through the year, but when he took over as the starter when Spencer was lost due to an injury, he came on strong.

Two of the youngsters Hauck was referring to earlier are Kroy Biermann (who was moved from linebacker to end) and Mike Stadnyk. Both played and contributed last season as true freshmen.

"This could be a very solid position for us," Hauck said. "We're deep there, we're talented, and we have the ability to come off the ball and get after the passer. We also have the ability to play the run. The one big concern at defensive end is the injury problem we've had with the players in that group. Barring injury, this could be a big-time group of players for us."

Sophomore Kelly Kain, and redshirt freshmen Jesse Carlson and Craig Mettler are expected to provide quality depth.

"Saenz is the only player with a lot of experience," Hauck said. "We really need to have those guys ready to go to battle this fall. That group needs to be ready to fight through a long season, and frankly they need to control the line of scrimmage. I think that we are capable in there, but we're just not very experienced. We're anxious to watch those guys get after it this season."

• Defensive Tackle

The now-graduated Hoge and Vella each started all 15 games a season ago, as did senior Shane MacIntyre. "Mac" was a first team All-Big Sky pick and finalist for the conference's defensive player of the year award and had a team-high 94 tackles last season. MacIntyre missed spring drills after undergoing off-season surgery but is expected to be fully recovered in time for the start of fall camp.

There was a major youth movement at this position last year, with redshirt freshmen Kyle Ryan and Loren Utterback both seeing lots of playing time, as did "true" frosh Tyler Joyce. Those three young players were ranked among Montana's leading tacklers a season ago and emerged as the starters after spring drills. However, MacIntyre has been moved from outside ("sam") to inside linebacker ("mike") and is the projected starter there, with Ryan backing him up.

Sophomore Alex Hawthorne had a promising start last season but missed several games with a leg injury. Redshirt freshmen Tyler Corwin and David Haile could contribute as well.

"This group will be fast and athletic," Hauck said. "They also have really good size."

Junior Defensive Tackle Kerry Mullan

Chris Clark started several games in the 2003 season and adds excellent depth at corner. Redshirt freshman Tim Parks will be hard to keep off the field if he’s recovered from an injury. Senior Chris Polhemus and sophomore Quinton Jackson also provide depth.

"The corner position looks like it could be very deep and also very young, with Kevin Edwards being the only senior starter," Hauck said. "That’s a group that, as the season wore on last year, became productive. They increased their level of play this past spring. Assuming that we can stay healthy there and have everybody back for fall camp, we’ll have a good group of corners; maybe as good a group as we’ve ever had around here."

SAFETY: The Griz also return both starters at safety in juniors (free) Matt Lebsock and (strong) Van Cooper Jr. Each of them started all 15 games a year ago. Lebsock and Cooper are the team’s fifth and third-ranked leading returning tacklers.

Young free safety Torrey Thomas had an outstanding season a year ago as a true freshman. Torrey had the ninth most tackles on the team with 49 and was tied for second with seven pass deflections. Sophomore Muckie Foreman is a solid player at the free safety spot.

Senior Tyler Thomas has played in 36 career games, has started at strong safety, and was fifth on the team with 58 tackles last year.

"This is a good group, and similar to the running back position, it’s a fairly volatile position, and you need to have depth there because it’s a high-speed, high-impact, collision position," Hauck said. "I like the depth that we’ve got there.

“All of the players in that group bring a little something different to the table, which may lend itself to us playing against different offensive styles," Hauck said. "You’ll see those guys on the field in nickel and dime situations. We may play five safeties in the game at the same time."

2005 SCHEDULE

Montana’s 2005 schedule is of the “Catch 22” variety, in that the Grizzlies play six of their first eight games at home in Washington-Grizzly Stadium, but their final three Big Sky games are all on the road.

• Non-Conference Schedule

The season begins at home over the Labor Day weekend against Fort Lewis College of Colorado. The opener is followed by a contest against the Oregon Ducks of the Pac-10 Conference in Eugene. The Griz return home on Sept. 17 to face a South Dakota State team that returns 16 starters. Montana has an open date on September 24.

"We have a very demanding non-conference schedule," Hauck said. "It will test us early on. The fact that we have to play Oregon, a team that I think will be picked among the top two or three teams in the Pac-10 and probably a preseason top 25 pick, will be very difficult."

"Fort Lewis will bring a fired up team in here for our home opener, and they are looking to upset us," Hauck said. "The same with South Dakota State, which has a very good program. And then we’ve got Cal Poly, which has something to prove because they won nine games last year and were left out of the (I-AA) playoffs."

• Conference Schedule

After a week off, UM begins its conference slate, hosting its annual Homecoming game against the Weber State Wildcats with new head coach Ron McBride, a former mentor at Utah.

Then, after playing its only road game in the month of October (Oct. 8) against Idaho State, Montana returns home for three straight contests.

That three-game homestand starts with Big Sky nemesis Eastern Washington on October 15. That is followed by a non-league game versus Cal Poly of the Great West Football Conference, a 9-2 team a year ago. UM's last home game is October 29 against Portland State, the only conference team that defeated (35-32) the Griz last season.

Montana ends the season with Big Sky road games at Northern Arizona, Sacramento State, and Montana State (for the 105th meeting).

"Obviously we don't like the way our season ends up, playing three Big Sky games on the road; I am not too sure how that gets set up," Hauck said. "For us to go back-to-back-to-back on the road, especially with a long road trip to NAU followed by a long road trip to Sac State will take its toll on our team. We'll have to be up for the task at that point in time.

"Our league is very talented and well-coached, and we play good football in the Big Sky Conference," Hauck said. "That shows up in our success in the national playoff picture. You can't rule any team out from potentially winning the league championship. There are some teams maybe that would be considered front-runners at the start of the season, but I think every week is going to be a battle in the Big Sky Conference."

MEET THE GRIZZLIES

Senior Tight End Ja'Ton Simpson
He set a school record as a sophomore by rushing for 1,384 yards and 14 touchdowns and was named to the Great Falls Tribune’s “Super State Team” that season. His junior football team was the State “AA” runner-up.

Career-wise he also set a Flathead High School record, rushing for 3,419 yards and 44 touchdowns. He had 4,410 all-purpose yards.

Hilliard was a two-time all-league selection in track, running the 100, 200 and 4x100 meter relay, and he also threw the shot put. His sophomore, junior, and senior track teams all won state “AA” championships. In 2002 he placed in the 100 and 200 meters in the state track meet. He was all-league in wrestling in 2001.

• PERSONAL - A general studies major. Birth date: July 30, 1984. Lex’s parents are Elvis Hilliard and Leslie Moeller of Kalispell.

• QUOTING COACH BOBBY HAUCK: “Our goal for Lex, and Lex’s goal for himself, is to be the most productive running back in the history of our university. That’s a fairly lofty goal, but Lex has the ability to be one of the greatest players ever here at The University of Montana.

“He’s got the rare combination of a player who is big and fast. He’s not much fun to tackle, high, or low. He can run away from defenders. He has the strength to overpower tacklers, and he catches the ball well too. He’s the complete package. Obviously we are looking for a big year out of him.

“I think where Lex has made the biggest jump in by becoming a great practice player. His attention to detail, his effort level in practice, and his blocking ability have all gone through the roof. His work ethic has really improved in the last year-and-a-half, and that’s just going to make him better and better as we go along.”

MONTANA GRIZZLIES • All-American Candidate

Lex Hilliard

• Junior Running Back
• 6-0, 225, 2V
• Kalispell, Mont.
• Flathead HS

Mike Murphy
• Junior Defensive End
• 6-3, 240, 2V
• Great Falls, Mont.
• C.M. Russell HS

CAREER HIGHS: 8 tackles (5 unassisted) and a forced fumble in UM's Division I-AA first-round playoff game vs. Western Illinois, 2003; 3 sacks in 2004 in two games: Montana State and Sam Houston State; 3 pass deflections 2004 versus Idaho State.

• PERSONAL - He is a psychology major. Birth date: July 30, 1983. Mike's parents are Tom and Leslie Murphy of Great Falls.

• COACH BOBBY HAUCK QUOTES: "Mike's maybe not the biggest or fastest player on the team, or on the field, but he has a real knack for the game. He has a great feel for the pass rush. He has a good nose for the ball and that shows up on the stat sheet. He just finds ways to make plays.

  "He continues to hone his skills and learn the game. He's coming off an off-season surgery, but we fully expect him to be 100 percent by this fall, and we're excited about his prospects this fall.

  "He's an instinctive player. He has great pad level, and he's got very good hand placement, which means that he plays well with his hands in relationship to his body position. When you combine all of those components, it makes him a dynamic pass rusher."

Dan Carpenter

- Sophomore Kicker
- 6-2, 190, 1V
- Helena, Mont.
- Helena HS

CAREER HIGHS: 49-yard field goal vs. Northern Colorado, 2004; kicked two field goals in six different games; was 6-of-8 in PATs vs. Northwestern State, 2004.

- MONTANA - With just one season under his belt, Dan is already ranked among the top 20 career scoring leaders at Montana with 123 points.

- 2004 - Carpenter was faced with a lot of pressure when he came to Montana a year ago as a "true" freshman, replacing the graduated Chris Snyder, who is the all-time scoring leader (394 points) in Division I-AA. Carpenter did not disappoint, as he connected on 18-of-29 (62.1%) of his field goal attempts, was a perfect 63-of-63 in PAT attempts, and scored 123 points last season. His 123 points was the second most in school history, trailing only Snyder, who scored 124 points in 2003.

- HIGH SCHOOL - As a senior and junior at Helena High School he was chosen first team all-state and first team all-conference as a kicker and a punter. Following his senior year he participated in Montana's Annual East-West Shrine Game and in the Montana-North Dakota All-Star Game (Badlands Bowl).

- PERSONAL - His parents are Val and Diane Carpenter of Helena. He was a member of the National Honor Society with a 3.7 GPA. Dan's major is pre-pharmacy. Birth date: Nov. 25, 1985.

- MISC. - In 2004 he had a 14-yard rushing touchdown against Northern Arizona and scored 16 points (rush TD, two field goals, and four PATs). He also had one rush for three yards against James Madison in the NCAA Division I-AA championship game in Chattanooga.

- COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: "We think that Dan will improve every year that he is here, and he had a big year as a freshman. He had one of the tougher jobs on the team when he had to come in to replace the all-time scorer in I-AA football in Chris Snyder, and he owned up to that task. For a true freshman to come in and fill those shoes - I thought that he did a spectacular job. The big thing Dan's going to improve on will be his mid-range consistency, and when this season plays out, I expect him to do that and to make a higher percentage of his field goal attempts."

MONTANA GRIZZLIES • Honors Candidates

Kevin Edwards

• Senior Cornerback
• 6-2, 195, 3V
• Spokane, Wash.
• Lewis and Clark HS

CAREER HIGHS: 10 tackles at Portland State, 2002. His only multi-interception game was the two that he had against Maine in UM’s 2004 season opener.

• MONTANA - Kevin is one of Montana’s all-time leaders in interceptions with 11. He begins his senior campaign with 120 career tackles. He has not missed a game over the last three seasons, playing 42 in a row.

• 2004 - Last season Edwards had the most interceptions by any player in the Big Sky Conference with six. His average of .40 picks a game ranked him second (tie) in the league and 37th in Division I-AA. His five pass deflections were the fourth most on the team.

He played in all 15 games last season and had nine starts, including UM’s last six games. He was the Grizzlies’ 12th (tie) leading tackler a year ago.

• 2003 - He had 37 tackles as a sophomore. Kevin was moved from strong safety to corner as a sophomore and started the last six games of the season at corner back.

He had a team-high four interceptions, averaging 0.33 a game which ranked him fourth (tie) in the Big Sky. He was an honorable mention all-league selection. He had a team-best eight pass deflections. He was ninth on the team with 37 tackles.

• 2002 - Edwards saw considerable action in the secondary and on special teams and was the team’s 11th leading tackler with 39 stops.

• 2001 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

• HIGH SCHOOL - Kevin was an all-city offensive and defensive pick in football for the Lewis and Clark High School Tigers. He also lettered in soccer. As a senior, he was selected Most Valuable Athlete of his high school and was the Greater Spokane League offensive MVP as a senior.

His high school team won the Greater Spokane League championship in 2000 and had a 9-1 record. That season he was a first team all-state defensive back, and he was named to the All-City defensive team. His prep football coach was Tom Yerout.

He was team captain in football and in soccer his senior year. He was also a snow ski racer as a prep. He was a National Football Foundation Scholarship winner in high school, maintaining a 3.77 GPA.

• PERSONAL - A business administration major. Birth date: January 25, 1983. His parents are Dick and Leslie Edwards of Spokane.

• QUOTING COACH BOBBY HAUCK: “In the last two years Kevin has steadily increased his level of play. He’s playing our boundary corner and doing a great job for us. He does a good job of disguising coverage, and quarterbacks have a tendency to throw the ball in his coverage area. He’s a big corner, he leaps well, and he’s got good hands. We love the production he’s given us in the turnover battle.”

2005 FOOTBALL • Honors Candidates

Shane MacIntyre

• Senior Inside Linebacker
• 6-3, 235, 3V
• Helena, Mont.
• Helena Capital HS

• MONTANA - Shane begins his senior season with 21 career tackles for losses which ranks him among the top 10 in Griz history, and he has 129 career tackles. He will move from outside ("sam") to inside linebacker ("mike") in fall camp. He will be starting for the second season in a row. He missed 2005 spring drills because he was recovering from off-season surgery.

He was named to the 2005 Lott Trophy Watch List, which includes the top 42 defensive players in the nation. He was the only Division I-AA player selected to that list. The trophy, named after Hall of Famer Ronnie Lott, goes to the college defensive player who has the biggest impact on and off the field. Georgia’s David Pollack won the inaugural award last year.

MacIntyre has been selected to the Big Sky Conference’s all-academic team the past three seasons and maintains a 3.32 GPA.

• 2004 - “Mac” was Montana’s leader on defense, starting all 15 games and garnering a team-high 94 tackles, and he also had a team-best 46 unassisted stops. He had the second most tackles for losses on the team with 14.

He was ranked 10th in the conference with 0.93 tackles per game and 19th (tie) in average tackles per game (6.2 a contest).

He was named to the Big Sky’s first team in 2004 and was a finalist for the league’s defensive player of the year award. He was selected the league’s “Player of the Week” on defense on October 18, 2004, when he had 10 tackles (including four for losses) at Eastern Washington and blocked a game-tying field goal attempt by the Eagles with 18 seconds left to play.

• 2003 - Shane saw a lot of action as a sophomore and was one of the Grizzlies’ leading tacklers with 23 stops. He was third in tackles for losses with five.

• 2002 - He played in 10 games and had 12 tackles.

• 2001 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

HIGH SCHOOL - MacIntyre earned eight letters at Helena Capital High School: three each in football and track and two in basketball. He was tabbed first team all-state and all-conference as a senior. He was a member of Capital’s “AA” state championship football teams his junior and senior seasons, as Capital had perfect 12-0 back-to-back seasons.

He was chosen honorable mention all-state and second team all-conference in football as a junior. He served as a team captain in football and basketball. His high school football coach was Mark Samson.

He participated in Montana’s Annual East-West Shrine and Montana-Dakota All-Star game.

• COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: “Shane brings a lot to the football team, not only with his playing ability, but also with his leadership skills and his desire to win. His move to the "mike" linebacker spot will increase our speed on the field at linebacker, and his production will also increase.”

Jeff Marshall

Junior Center
6-5, 285, 1V
Newport Beach, Calif.
Newport Harbor HS

2002 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

HIGH SCHOOL - Marshall prepped at Newport Harbor High School where he was named to the All-CIF team on the offensive line. He was an all-league pick in football as well. Jeff received his high school’s John Gust Award, which is given to the team’s outstanding lineman. His prep football coach was Jeff Brinkley. He was also a track letterman.

PERSONAL - He is a business administration major. Jeff’s parents are John and Michele Marshall of Newport Beach. Birth date: December 18, 1983.

MISC. - He was a prep teammate of Griz senior defensive tackle Alan Saenz, who is also a 2005 honors candidate.

QUOTING COACH BOBBY HAUCK: “Jeff had a great year, especially considering he had a foot injury that slowed him through the first part of the football season. He’s a very good football player. He’s a very intelligent individual, which equates to good offensive line play at the center spot.

“He’s going to make all the calls for us on the offensive line, and he always gets us in the right blocking scheme. He’s also valuable because he can play multiple positions. He played guard and center for us last year, and in a pinch he could play tackle too.”

2003 - Marshall would have seen plenty of action as a redshirt freshman two seasons ago, but he was lost for the year when he suffered an injury early in the season against North Dakota State.

2004 - He proved to be invaluable last season, starting at two positions. He started the first couple of games at right guard, moved to center when senior Jay Green was injured, and started the next four games at center. When Green returned, Marshall started again at guard, but finished out the season as the starter at center when Green was lost for the year due to injury.

Jeff, who played center in high school, started in all 15 games last season. He was chosen to the Big Sky Conference’s second team (at guard).

He was one of the primary components to a Griz offense that was ranked 11th in passing offense (277.5 yards per game), 12th in Division I-AA in scoring offense (35.7 points a game), and 13th in total offense (427.3 yards a game) last season.

He was named to the All-Big Sky academic team, maintaining a 3.33 GPA.

MONTANA - Jeff ended spring drills as the starter at center.

was ranked 11th in passing offense (277.5 yards per game) in Division I-AA, 12th in scoring offense (35.7 points a game), and 13th in total offense (427.3 yards a game).

- 2003 - He started in all 13 games two seasons ago at left guard for the 9-4 Grizzlies. That season the Griz had one of the top-scoring teams in the I-AA ranks, averaging 33.1 points a game (17th in the country).

A versatile lineman, Brad was moved from guard to tackle the spring of his junior year.

- 2002 - Rhoades played in several games as a redshirt freshman, and he had his first career start against Northern Colorado that season. In 2002, the Griz were ranked 18th in the country in scoring at 31.5 points a game and 22nd in passing.

- 2001 - Brad was a redshirt at Montana.

He has been named to the All-Big Sky academic team the past three seasons and has a 3.23 GPA.

- HIGH SCHOOL - He earned three letters in both football and basketball as a prep.

He was named first team all-league at both tight end and defensive end as a senior at Sehome High School. He received the "Coach's Award" in football following his senior year. He was chosen as an alternate for Washington's East-West All-Star Game. His high school football coaches were Ted Flint and Jamie Plenkovich.

He was also a two-year starter in basketball and had a 3.64 GPA in high school.

- PERSONAL - His major is business administration. Birth date: October 14, 1982. Parents: Rod and Janet Rhoades of Bellingham.

- QUOTING COACH BOBBY HAUCK: "Brad is a long-limbed, athletic offensive tackle. He's great in pass protection, and when he comes off the ball he run-blocks. He has very good pad level, and he's got the ability to drive. He's worked extremely hard in the weight room in the off-season. When you combine his increased strength level with his athletic ability, it adds up to his having a very good year for us at offensive tackle."
• MONTANA - Alan has seen plenty of action the past three seasons and could have started for a lot of teams, but he's backed up the likes of John Cahill, Blake Horgan, and Jonny Varona during that time span. He will start at defensive tackle in this, his senior season, and is the only upperclassman at his position.

He begins his senior season with 14.5 career tackles for losses, which ranks him 20th at UM in that category. He had played in 39 games and has 94 career tackles.

He's one of Montana's strongest players and can squat 560 pounds.

• 2004 - He played in all 15 games last season and despite not starting, he was chosen honorable Big Sky Conference by the league coaches. He was one of the team's leading tacklers with 34 stops.

Saenz had a team-high three blocked kicks (PATs against Maine, Hofstra, and Montana State) a year ago, was fourth (tied) in tackles for losses with six.

• 2003 - He played in 12 games (he missed the Weber State game with an injury) and had one start (at Northern Arizona). He had a career-best single-season total with 36 tackles, which ranked him 10th on the team, and he was fourth with 6.5 tackles for losses.

• 2002 - He played in 12 games and garnered 24 tackles.

• 2001 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

• HIGH SCHOOL - He participated in the Los Angeles-Orange County All-Star Game. His Newport Harbor High School football team was 11-3 his senior year, while his junior squad was 13-0-1. As a senior he was team captain.

His senior year he had 92 tackles, 67 of which were unassisted, along with three forced fumbles, three fumble recoveries, and three interceptions.

He was selected first team All-CIF as a junior and senior, as well as All-Orange County first team. Saenz was an all-league first team pick in 1999 and 2000.

• QUOTING COACH BOBBY HAUCK: "Alan was one of the four guys who took the majority of our reps at defensive tackle last year. Now he needs to be the leader of that group. Alan is a powerful young man. He's got a chance to control the line of scrimmage. This could be a big year for him. He's got the ability to dominate the line of scrimmage, and for us to be successful, he's got to do that."
2005 FOOTBALL • Honors Candidates

Lance Spencer

- Senior Defensive End
- 6-2, 255, 3V
- Malta, Mont.
- Malta HS

CAREER HIGHS:

- MONTANA - Lance is a rare player at Montana in that he will be starting for the fourth season in a row. He begins his final season at Montana ranked sixth in school history with 17.5 sacks, and he's ranked eighth in tackles for losses with 23.5.

- 2004 - Spencer started 10 games last season and was a second team All-Big Sky Conference selection. He was lost for the year when he broke his leg in the Montana State game. He missed the Idaho State game with a minor injury. He was one of UM's top tacklers a year ago with 29 stops. Despite missing UM's four playoff games, he was still tied for fourth on the team with six quarterback sacks. He was one of three players voted "Lifter of the Year" at UM.

- 2003 - He was again having an excellent season until he was injured in the Weber State game on October 11, and subsequently lost for the season. He started the first six games of the season, and he had a team high 5.5 at the time of his injury.

- 2002 - As a redshirt freshman, he played in all 14 contests, starting in 11. He became the 2002 starter when All-American Ciche Pitcher was sidelined with an injury. Spencer made the best of that starting opportunity, as he was UM's eighth-leading tackler with 54 stops.

  He was an honorable mention All-Big Sky pick in 2002 when he was third on the team with 11 tackles for losses and 10 sacks.

- 2001 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

- HIGH SCHOOL - Spencer was an all-state selection in football following his junior and senior seasons at Malta High School. As a prep he was a 10-time letterman earning four letters in track, and three each in football and wrestling.

  He was a two-time first team all-league lineman (both ways). He was Malta High's leading tackler both as a junior and senior and chosen team MVP in football in 1999 and 2000. He was the team captain for his Class "B" 2000 state championship squad.

  He was a three time all-state pick in wrestling. He placed third in the state wrestling championships twice. He received the "Hardest Worker" award in wrestling as a sophomore, junior, and senior.

  Lance was captain in football and wrestling his senior year. His prep football coach was Scott King. His football teams garnered league championships in 1998,1999, and 2000.

- PERSONAL - His major is biology. Birth date: June 4, 1982.

Parents: Vance and Joan Spencer of Malta. Lance is one of seven children.

- MISC. - His season-high last year was 6 tackles against Northern Colorado, while he had 2 tackles for losses against Eastern Washington and Portland State, and he had 2 sacks in the EWU game.

- QUOTING COACH BOBBY HAUCK: "Depending on Lance’s health, he can be the best football player on our team. He was injured midway through his sophomore season after a great start, and then last year, just when it looked like he was over that injury, he was hurt in the Montana State game. He's a tough, Eastern Montana guy, and he's a hard-charger. Hopefully, he's through with all of the bad luck that he's encountered, and if so, he's headed for a great senior season."

Jon Talmage

• Senior Wide Receiver
• 6-4, 205, 3V
• Anaheim Hills, Calif.
• Orange Lutheran HS

CAREER HIGHS: 153 yards at Idaho State, 2003; 10 catches at Portland State, 2002; his long reception was a 68-yard touchdown grab at ISU, 2003.

• MONTANA - Jon is the team’s leading returning receiver. He begins his final season with 2,015 career receiving yards. Last season he became the 10th player ever at UM to have more than 2,000 career receiving yards. This will be his third straight year as a starter. His 19 career touchdown catches are seven behind Montana’s career record of 26, which is shared by three players (Etu Molden, Shalon Baker, and Mike Erhardt).

• 2004 - Last year he had 55 receptions and was second on the team in both receiving yards (819) and touchdown catches (9). He was an honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference pick and was ranked eighth in the league with 54.6 receiving yards a game.

• 2003 - He played in 12 games (he missed the Montana State game with an injury) and started in 10 contests. He was fourth on the team with 24 catches. He led the team in receiving yards (507), per catch yardage average (21.1), touchdown catches (five), and had the longest scoring grab of the year (a 68-yarder at Idaho State).

• 2002 - As a redshirt freshman Talmage had 50 receptions for a team-high 689 yards and scored five touchdowns. He was injured in the Northern Arizona game that year and returned to action for UM’s first playoff game against Northwestern State. He had the second most catches on the team with 50. He was selected UM’s “Newcomer of the Year.”

• 2001 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

• HIGH SCHOOL - He earned 10 letters at Orange Lutheran High School: four in soccer and three each in football and baseball. He was voted MVP of his soccer team following his junior and senior seasons. He was football MVP as a senior.

Jon was an all-state selection (small schools) by the All-Orange County Register. He was also All-CIF Southern Section selection, named all-league first team, and was team offensive MVP as a senior in football. His senior year he had 85 receptions for 1,398 yards, averaged 16.4 yards per catch, and scored 15 touchdowns. He also kicked field goals and PATs as a prep and scored 375 career points.

Career-wise he had 118 catches for 2,101 yards and 29 TDs. He participated in the North-South All-Star and the Los Angeles vs. Orange County All-Star games. He was a standout in soccer and named to the Lutheran All-America teams as a sophomore, junior, and senior.

• PERSONAL - A psychology major. Birth date: August 10, 1983. Jon’s parents are Jeff and Cindy Talmage of Anaheim Hills.

• QUOTING HEAD COACH BOBBY HAUCK: “Jon’s made a lot of big plays in his career. Jon has really worked his tail off to become a much more physical football player, and he’s evolved into an outstanding receiver. He’s one of the guys I am most proud of on the team for his work ethic and how he’s changed his effort level and his practice habits, as well as his weight room time. He’s really worked hard to get to where he is today, and I think he’s going to have an outstanding senior year.”

Montana Grizzlies
2005 FOOTBALL • Honors Candidates

Dustin Dlouhy

• Junior Defensive End
• 6-2, 238, 2V
• Idaho Falls, Idaho
• Skyline HS

CAREER HIGHS: 10 tackles, 3 tackles for losses, and 2 sacks, a forced fumble, and a pass deflection, all on Dec. 11 vs. Sam Houston State, 2004.

• MONTANA - Dustin was instrumental in Montana’s three playoff victories. Teamed up with fellow junior Mike Murphy and senior Lance Spencer, he gives the Griz three outstanding pass rushers at defensive end.

• 2004 - Dlouhy was slowed down with a leg injury midway through the season, but he got an opportunity late in the year and the best of it. He started Montana’s last four games, and in those four contests he had 28 tackles, five tackles for losses, four sacks, a forced fumble, and a pass deflection. He was thrust into a starting role when Spencer was lost for the season due to an injury.

He was Montana’s 12th leading (tied) tackler last season with 44 tackles. He was second on the team with six sacks, and he tied for third on the team (with Kroy Bierman) with seven tackles for losses.

• 2003 - He was moved from linebacker back to defensive end in the spring.

• 2002 - He was chosen Montana’s scout team MVP on defense and was a redshirt.

He has been an all-Big Sky Conference academic team pick the past two seasons with a 3.71 GPA.

• HIGH SCHOOL - Dlouhy prepped at Skyline High School in Idaho Falls where he earned eight letters: three each in football and track, and two in basketball.

His senior season he had 114 total tackles, along with five forced fumbles, three interceptions, 10 sacks, 14 hurries, eight pass deflections, and two fumble recoveries. That year at tight end he had 28 catches for 450 yards and nine TDs.

He was selected first team all-state as a junior and senior in football. His senior year he was chosen his conference’s “Defensive Player of the Year” and his team’s “Most Inspirational Player.” He was a three-time all-conference pick at defensive end and named all-league twice at tight end. His prep football coach was Dale Guilford.

He was selected basketball team MVP twice and was a two-time all-league pick. He served as team captain in both football and basketball.

• PERSONAL - He is a business administration major. Birth date: October 27, 1983. His parents are Duane and Debbie Dlouhy of Idaho Falls.

• MISC. - Dustin’s dad, Duane, was a first team All-Big Sky pick at tight end at Boise State in 1981 and played for the Broncos in 1980 when they won the I-AA national title. Dustin was his school’s Valedictorian with a 4.0 GPA. His cousin, Matt Dlouhy, is a starting forward and a junior on Montana’s basketball team.

• COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: “As we rolled through the playoffs last year, Dustin got better and better. He played great at the end of the season. He’s a tough guy. He comes off the ball with great speed, and he plays hard every play. When he was given the opportunity last year, he had a great late-season charge. We are expecting him to provide a spark for us this fall.”
Following his senior season in football, he was chosen a first team All-North Idaho selection and a first team All-Border League pick. Jason was chosen as his high school team’s defensive MVP following his senior year.

He participated in Idaho’s Annual Shrine all-star game. He was elected team captain in football as a senior. Frink was a two-year starter on both offense and defense. He was named his team’s “Lineman of the Year” his senior year. His high school football coach was Jeff Choate.

• PERSONAL - He is a psychology major. Birth date: July 29, 1983. Parents: Bruce and Jody Frink of Post Falls.

• COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: “Jason gives us flexibility in that he can play guard or tackle. He’s got the athletic ability to play tackle and the intelligence to pick it all up, but he’ll play guard for us. He’s a real hard-charger.

“He’s one of the most powerful players on our team, if not the most powerful. He’s got the ability to move the line of scrimmage, come off the ball and knock defensive tackles off, which is something we need to have. That ability is especially true when we’re playing some of the teams that have big inside guys and we need to run the ball. He’s a real battler, as he showed last season.”

• HIGH SCHOOL - Tuff was a standout overall athlete at Colstrip High School, where he earned 11 letters: four each in football and track, and three in basketball.

His 2001 high school football team won the conference championship, while his 2001-02 track squads won divisional and state titles. He was an all-state selection in football, basketball, and track. He served as hoop captain his sophomore and senior seasons.

Harris scored 19 touchdowns as a senior and had 43 TDs in his career. He was a versatile track athlete as a prep and had personal bests of 10.6 in the 100 meters; 21.5 in the 200 meters; 49.4 in the 400 meters; 22-11, long jump; and 6-4 in the high jump. He also set the state 100 meter record in 2001 (later broken in 2003).

His prep football coaches were Mark Ator and Leroy Wallace.

• COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: “Tuff’s turned the corner from a football standpoint. He’s really evolved into being a more physical player. He’s very similar to Dustin Dlouhy in that he played great down the stretch. As we rolled through the playoffs, he played better and better. He had a huge game against Sam Houston last year with two big interceptions in the national semifinal game. Tuff’s really just begun to understand the game of football and how his position fits into the scheme of things, and consequently, his level of play keeps improving.”

Tuff Harris
• Junior Cornerback
• 6-0, 195, 2V
• Colstrip, Mont.
• Colstrip HS

CAREER HIGHS: 7 tackles in four games (at Sam Houston State, Northern Colorado, at Eastern Washington, and vs. Sam Houston State), 2004; also had picks at Weber State and vs. Sacramento State.

• Montana - Tuff is Montana’s third leading returning tackler.

• 2004 - Harris had a break-out season as a sophomore and started in all 15 games at the “B” cornerback position. He was the Grizzlies’ fifth leading tackler with 62 stops and had the second most unassisted tackles on the team with 40. He was also second on the team with four interceptions.

He had a banner performance in Montana’s 34-13 Division I-AA semi-final home win against Sam Houston State, as he picked off two passes and returned them 109 yards. His 74-yard interception return to the Bearkats’ 25-yard line led to UM’s first touchdown. He returned his second pick 35 yards to the SHSU four-yard line, leading to another Griz TD.

• 2003 - He was UM’s 10th leading returning tackler with 25 stops. Harris was moved from wide receiver to cornerback as a redshirt freshman. He was a track letterman at Montana in 2003 competing in sprints and the long jump. He blocked a punt at Maine in the season opener and also had an interception against Sam Houston State at home.

• 2002 - He was a redshirt at UM.
2005 FOOTBALL • Honors Candidates

Tyson Johnson

- Junior Punter
- 6-2, 188, 2V
- Stevensville, Mont.
- Stevensville HS

- MONTANA - Tyson will start for the Griz for the third consecutive season. He has been ranked 15th in Division I-AA in punting average the past two seasons.

- 2004 - He had a very solid year and was ranked 15th in the nation and fifth in the Big Sky Conference, averaging 41.39 yards per attempt. The Big Sky boasted five punters in the top 15 in the Division I-AA ranks last season, including the national leader, Northern Arizona senior Paul Ernster, who averaged 47.84 yards a punt. Johnson threw a pass interception against Northern Arizona.

- 2003 - Big things were expected from him as a "true" freshman, and he delivered, earning honorable mention All-Big Sky honors. He was the second-leading returning punter in the league last season and ranked fourth in the conference and 15th in Division I-AA, averaging 42.36 yards on 56 punts.

- HIGH SCHOOL - Johnson earned nine letters at Stevensville High School: three in football, three in basketball, and three in golf.

- PERSONAL - A business major. Birth date: November 29, 1984. Tyson's parents are Cory and Tammy Johnson of Stevensville. He had a 3.8 GPA in high school.

- COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: "Tyson's got a chance to be one of the premier punters in I-AA football, if he continues to improve. He has a very strong leg. He's a very good athlete. He catches everything and has the ability to get the ball off. As his consistency increases, he has a chance to punt for a higher per punt average, which in turn equates to better field position for our football team. He can be a real weapon for us this year."

Ja'Ton Simpson

- Senior Tight End
- 6-5, 255, 2V
- Long Beach, Calif.
- Bellflower HS

CAREER HIGHS: 2 catches for 56 yards against Sacramento State; also had two receptions against Northwestern State (LA) in 2004 1st round NCAA playoff game; had a career-best 3 tackles at Eastern Washington in special teams play last year.

- MONTANA - Ja'Ton will start at tight end this season. He is also a major contributor on several special teams.

- He had an excellent spring in 2005. He is dangerous after he catches the football because of his size and speed. He was hampered with injuries his first two seasons at UM.

- He was the back-up tight end behind now graduated Willie Walden the previous couple of seasons. (Walden signed a free agent contract with the Kansas City Chiefs this past April).

- 2004 - He had 5 catches for 92 yards and a touchdown. He began the 2004 season with no career catches. His first and only touchdown reception was a one-yarder against Northern Arizona last season. He also had 6 tackles on special teams.

- 2003 - He suffered an injury prior to his sophomore season and was slowed down by that injury throughout the season.

- 2002 - Was hampered with injuries that season as well and saw limited action at tight end and on special teams.

- 2001 - He was a redshirt at Montana.

- HIGH SCHOOL - Simpson earned seven letters at Bellflower High School: three in football, two in both basketball and track.

- PERSONAL - His major is business administration. Birth date: January 21, 1983. Parents: Joy and Steven Simpson of Bellflower, California.

- COACH BOBBY HAUCK SAYS: "Ja'Ton is a good tight end. He's a solid blocker, and he has the desire to be a great blocker. We saw him make some catches late in the season and make a lot of yards after making the catch. Similar to some of the other guys (other UM honors candidates) I've talked about, he had a great run down the stretch the last six or seven games, and we're looking for big things out of him this fall."
MONTANA GRIZZLIES • Honors Candidate / 2005 Grizzlies

20 | JR Waller
- Senior Running Back
- 5-9, 210, 3V
- Portland, Ore.
- Benson HS

• MONTANA - JR has been a solid, unselfish contributor at Montana the past three seasons, and he begins the season ranked 19th in school history with 1,280 yards rushing. He needs 553 more yards to move into fifth place on the career list.

• 2004 - Waller was the team's third-leading rusher with 262 yards, averaged a lofty 5.6 yards a carry, and scored three touchdowns. He had a 51-yard touchdown run in UM's first-round NCAA Division I-AA home playoff win (56-7) over Northwestern State. He played in 14 games (he did not play in the Hofstra game Sept. 11).

He rushed for a season-high 61 yards against Montana State and had a 33-yard TD run in that game. He threw his only career interception in the MSU game.

• 2003 - JR was UM's third leading rusher as a sophomore and started in three games. He rushed for 126 yards and a touchdown against Sam Houston State, his only 100-yard game that season.

• 2002 - He was Montana's top rusher (seventh in the conference) as a redshirt freshman in 2002, gaining 674 yards, and was UM's fifth leading receiver with 20 catches. He scored the game-winner in his hometown at Portland State on an 11-yard pass reception with 51 seconds to go, giving the Griz a 24-21 win.

• 2001 - Waller was voted UM's "Offensive Scout Team Player of the Year" in 2001, his redshirt season.

• HIGH SCHOOL - He prepped at Benson High School, where he rushed for 2,340 career yards and scored 38 touchdowns, and had 692 career receiving yards. He had 15 rushes/receptions of 50 yards or more.

The University of Montana Grizzlies were 12-3 overall last season and 6-1 in the Big Sky Conference en route to another league championship and finished as Division I-AA’s national runner-up, losing 31-21 to James Madison in the title game. Montana was ranked second in The Sports Network’s final poll.

It was Montana’s 12th season in a row in the I-AA playoffs and the fifth time in the past 10 years that the Grizzlies have played for the national title. The Griz have won or shared seven straight Big Sky championships over the past 12 seasons and have now accumulated 19 straight winning seasons.

The Griz had their share of squeakers last season, including three non-league games against two Atlantic-10 Conference teams and a I-AA independent, as well as a pair of Big Sky contests in which Montana blocked field goals to preserve victories.

Third-ranked Montana began the season against 11th-ranked Maine in front of 23,228 fans – the largest attendance ever for a home opener in Washington-Grizzly Stadium. The game was tied 13-all early in the fourth quarter, but two unanswered touchdown passes by quarterback Craig Ochs boosted UM to the win.

The next week Atlantic-10 foe Hofstra battled the Griz down to the wire, Montana scoring two late fourth quarter TDs for a 41-23 victory, with the key play a 96-yard kickoff return for a score by Jefferson Heidelberger.

The roof caved in a week later, as host Sam Houston State downed Montana 41-29, in a final score that was not indicative of the Bearkats’ dominance, as they gained 512 total yards.

In its final non-league win, UM used a late touchdown catch by Heidelberger from back-up QB Jeff Disney to squeak out a 27-16 victory over new (2006) Big Sky member Northern Colorado. Bear receiver Vincent Jackson, a 6-6 senior, had 15 catches for 227 yards.

A week after the UNC win, the Griz opened conference play with a 42-21 victory at Weber State, taking advantage of four Wildcat turnovers and three touchdown passes by Ochs.

A week later, UM won its 12th Homecoming game in a row, but it took a blocked field goal by senior tackle Jonny Varona with 30 seconds left to preserve the 24-22 win over Idaho State.

It was deja vu the following week in Cheney, Wash., as Eastern Washington and Montana squared off for the Big Sky lead. This time it was linebacker Shane Maclntyre, playing the role of hero, blocking a game-tying 38-yard field with 18 seconds remaining, as the Griz beat the 23rd-ranked Eagles 31-28.

After a bye week, the Grizzlies looked a bit rusty and suffered three turnovers, losing their first (and only) Big Sky game, 35-32 at Portland State. The Vikings rushed for 207 yards.

Montana ended the season with league wins over Northern Arizona (34-22), Sacramento State (52-21), and beat Montana State 38-22 in the 103rd meeting of the teams to claim the Big Sky’s regular-season championship. The Griz held respectable leads in those three games at 34-0 versus NAU, 45-7 against Sac Sac, and 38-16 vs. MSU.

Once again Montana had an impressive run in the playoffs, beating Northwestern State (56-7), New Hampshire (47-17), and Sam Houston State (34-13) at home on their way to the I-AA championship game.

The title game, a 31-21 setback versus James Madison in Chattanooga, Tenn., was played on awful field conditions. Each time a player tried to make a cut on the grass playing surface, huge chunks of turf were pulled up, and the player would lose his footing. The Dukes employed a relentless ground attack, rushing 61 times for 314 yards.

Montana received unprecedented national exposure during its 2004 playoff run, as the New Hampshire, Sam Houston State, and James Madison games were all aired live on ESPN2.

MISSOULA, MT – Two Division I-AA heavyweights squared off, and the third-ranked Grizzlies held off the 11th-ranked Maine Black Bears for a hard-fought 27-20 victory in the 2004 opener for the teams.

A home-opener record crowd of 23,228 Washington-Grizzly Stadium fans saw the Grizzlies overcome a 6-3 halftime deficit.

The Black Bears (0-1) scored first when quarterback Ron Whitcomb connected with Christian Pereira for a 4-yard touchdown.

The only other scoring in the first half was a 32-yard field goal by Griz "true" freshman kicker Dan Carpenter, making the score 6-3 Black Bears at intermission.

Montana (1-0) regained the lead when quarterback Craig Ochs hit senior receiver Jefferson Heidelberger on a 25-yard TD pass. Carpenter added to the Grizzly lead with a field goal from 47 yards out, which made the score 13-6, Montana.

Maine got a break on Montana's next possession, as Ochs collided with Justin Green on a hand-off from the Grizzly one-yard line, and the Black Bears recovered the fumble. The Bears scored on the next play and tied the game at 13-all.

Montana got the lead for good when Ochs hit Jon Talmage on a 12-yard TD pass. The Griz took their biggest lead when Ochs threw a 2-yard TD pass to tight end Willie Walden, as the Griz went up 27-13.

HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS - Sam Houston State senior transfer quarterback Dustin Long and senior receiver Jarrod Fuller had career days, as the home-standing Bearkats defeated a No. 1-ranked team for the first time in seven tries on a hot Texas evening. It was SHSU's 14th win over a ranked opponent in 57 games and their first ever UM in three meetings. Long, a transfer from Texas A&M, completed 26-of-33 passes for 329 yards and two TDs. Fuller had 10 catches for 133 yards and a 19-yard scoring run. The Bearkats used big plays and long drives throughout the first 50 minutes of the game, and took a 41-10 lead with 9:28 remaining on a three-yard run by Stevie Smith. UM kicker Vin Cartwright, 17 pass from Justin Long (Garner kick), 20-0 SHSU

Griz QB Craig Ochs took several big hits and was forced to leave the game with a leg injury in the closing minutes. Ochs finished with 168 yards passing and a TD. Senior signal-caller Jeff Disney passed for 76 yards and a score — his first touchdown pass of 2004.

The Grizzlies (2-1) scored 19 points in the final minutes of the game to make the final score look more respectable. Jefferson Heidelberger had another banner day with nine grabs for a career-high 167 yards. UM kicker Dan Carpenter stayed perfect (five-of-five) in three-pointers, connecting on a 38-yard field goal.

Smith rushed for 113 yards and a pair of TDs. The Bearkats (2-1) defense held the Griz to 78 net yards rushing.

MISSOULA, MT -- The Grizzlies played tenacious defense in the red zone and senior back-up quarterback Jeff Disney sparked the offense, as Montana held off the talented Bears to finish its preseason schedule at 3-1. The Griz held the Bears to 13 points on six trips inside their 20-yard line and UNC was 1-of-12 on third down conversions (although UM was 0-7 of-11). Disney played the entire fourth quarter, replacing injured starter Craig Ochs, and was 6-of-8 for 110 yards. Disney connected with senior receiver Jefferson Heidelberger on a 29-yard scoring pass with 8:09 remaining for the game's final score. He and Heidelberger also hooked up on a 52-yard scoring pass earlier in the quarter, but it was negated by a pair of UM penalties.

UNC's 6-6 talentd senior wide receiver Vincent Jackson had 15 catches for 227 yards and a TD, while sophomore halfback Andre Wilson rushed 27 times for 135 yards.

The Bears racked up 506 yards (UM had 343). The score was tied 10-all at halftime.

Heidelberger had his first double touchdown receiving day against UNC, with scoring grabs of 15 and 29 yards.

He also rushed three times for 18 yards. He has a team-high four TD receptions so far this season and began 2004 with just two career receiving touchdowns.

"True" freshman cornerback Jimmy Wilson had a team-high eight tackles and a forced fumble in his first career start.

OGDEN, UTAH -- Senior quarterback Craig Ochs threw three touchdown passes to three different receivers to lead the team. Ochs completed 14-of-20 passes for 210 yards to lead the Griz offense, while junior linebacker Shane MacIntyre had eight tackles, a sack, and an interception and a fumble recovery to lead the defense.

Senior running back Justin Green scored the first touchdown of the game on a six-yard run. Ochs hit tight end Willie Walden on a 16-yard touchdown pass and UM took a 14-7 lead into the half. Green, who rushed for a team-high 58 yards on 12 carries, scored his second touchdown of the game on an 11-yard run to give the Griz a 21-7 lead with 10:38 in the third quarter. After a Tuff Harris interception the Griz took a commanding 28-7 lead when Ochs hit senior receiver Tate Hancock on a three-yard touchdown pass.

After a WSU score, Montana retaliated with a TD from Ochs to receiver Levander Segars on a 35-yard strike, giving the Grizzlies a 35-14 lead with 10:40 left. A MacIntyre fumble recovery set up the final Grizzly score, a six-yard touchdown run by junior JR Waller.

The Grizzle defense matched its season total with seven quarterback sacks, two by sophomore end Mike Murphy.

WSU's talented senior halfback Nick Choumous rushed 34 times for 129 yards and two touchdowns. was nullified because the junior receiver was called for offensive pass interference.

Griz kicker Dan Carpenter nailed a 36-yard field goal with 1:57 left in the third quarter to increase the Grizzly lead to 24-16.

The fourth quarter began by Hetherington completing three passes to three different receivers for 60 yards and Barnett’s five-yard touchdown run. Idaho State’s two-point conversion to tie the game failed. ISU’s defense limited the Griz to two (missed) field goal attempts in the fourth quarter, as Carpenter missed from 24 and 23 yards out.

Senior QB Craig Ochs passed for 298 yards and two touchdowns, while senior halfback Justin Green rushed for 91 yards and a TD. Talmage had 7 catches for 138 yards, while Jefferson Heidelberger had 6 for 68.

MISSOULA, MT – ISU kicker Jaret Johnson’s 49-yard field goal with 30 seconds left was blocked by senior tackle Jonny Varona, as seventh-ranked Montana held off Idaho State for its 12th straight Homecoming win. The attendance of 23,582 was the third largest in stadium history.

The game was filled with “what if” drives where both teams had chances to put the game away but were hindered by penalties and turnovers near the red zone. Idaho State accumulated 113 yards of penalties, while Montana had 143.

Although Montana’s defense gave up 487 net yards, their “red zone” defense continued to step up and take away scoring opportunities from the Bengals.

Montana had a chance to put the game away when Jon Talmage caught a pass in the end zone, but the play

PORTLAND, OR -- The fourth-ranked Griz had three turnovers and struggled in their kicking game, as the host Vikings snapped UM’s four-game winning streak with a 35-32 victory.

PSU took a 7-0 first-quarter lead, but the Griz tied the game up on an 8-yard pass from Craig Ochs to Jefferson Heidelberger.

The Vikings scored two unanswered TDs to take a 21-7 lead, but Lex Hilliard's 11-yard run made the score 21-14 Vikings at halftime.

Montana made it close a couple of times. Freshman kicker Dan Carpenter cut the PSU lead to 21-17 in the third stanza on a 41-yard field goal. After a Viking score, the Griz rallied again, Ochs hitting Jon Talmage on a 10-yard touchdown pass late in the third quarter.

PSU answered with a scoring run, but Ochs' 6-yard run and first rush TD of the season cut the Vikings' lead to 35-32 with 2:38 left to play.

Ochs was 19-of-30-1 for 280 yards and two TDs, and he rushed for his first touchdown of the season.

Heidelberger had 6 catches for 96 yards and a TD, Talmage added 5 grabs for 99 yards and a score, while Tate Hancock had 5 receptions for 60 yards.

Hilliard, a sophomore, rushed 16 times for 72 yards and a TD, while senior Justin Green had 11 totes for 44 yards.

The defense was led by junior linebacker Shane Maclnlyre and senior linebacker Adam Hoge, each with seven stops. Maclnlyre had two tackles for losses, as did junior end Lance Spencer.

Griz (4-1/7-2) senior quarterback Craig Ochs was 18-of-25-0 (72%) for 227 yards and 2 touchdowns against the Lumberjacks. Jefferson Heidelberger had four receptions, while Tate Hancock and tight end Willie Walden each had three catches. Hilliard finished with career-highs of 24 carries for 131 yards and scored once.

Junior tight end Ja'Ton Simpson had his first career catch against NAU, good for a one-yard touchdown reception.

The defense was led by junior linebacker Shane MacAllistre and senior linebacker Adam Hoge. MacAllistre had 10 tackles, two tackles for losses, and a forced fumble. Hoge had a team-high 11 tackles.

UM freshman kicker Dan Carpenter made field goals from 47 and 27 yards out and scored on a 14-yard run on a fake FG attempt.

Robinson rushed 20 times for 104 yards. Murrietta was 25-of-42-2 for 338 yards and two TDs.

It was Montana’s seventh win in a row over NAU.

Missoula, MT - The ninth-ranked Montana Grizzlies shot out of the gates quickly, scoring four touchdowns in the first quarter, and never looked back in a 52-21 lopsided defeat over Sacramento State Saturday afternoon at Washington-Grizzly Stadium in Missoula. The Grizzlies scored more points in the first quarter than they have in any one half this season. Montana quarterback Craig Ochs was near perfect on the day completing 26 of 31 passes for 300 yards, three passing touchdowns - all to Jon Talmage - and, Ochs also had a 30-yard receiving touchdown from Jefferson Heidelberger. Griz running back Justin Green had a solid performance with 16 carries for 66 yards and three touchdowns.

In Sac’s first offensive series, UM had an interception by Matt Lebsock, which led to a 2-yard TD run by Green and a 14-0 Montana lead. Och’s reception touchdown quickly put Montana up 21-0 with 7:38 still to go in the first quarter. Dan Carpenter’s 36-yard field goal late in the second quarter gave the Griz a substantial 38-7 halftime lead.

Montana scored two more unanswered touchdowns in the third quarter, both to Talmage, covering 13 and 38 yards, and the Griz took an insurmountable 52-7 lead with 6:38 remaining in the third quarter.

MISSOULA, MT • Sophomore running back Lex Hilliard rushed for four touchdowns, and senior quarterback Craig Ochs threw for three more to lead the Montana Grizzlies to a 56-7 victory over Northwestern State in an NCAA Division I-AA first-round playoff game.

Montana, playing its record 12th straight postseason, jumped out to a 29-0 halftime lead and scored the first 42 points of the game. The Grizzlies improved to 10-2 on the season.

The Demons, who advanced to the I-AA playoffs by winning the Southland Conference title, ended their season at 8-4.

NSU entered the game with the nation’s top-ranked defense, allowing just 78.2 yards per game on the ground and 250.3 total yards per game, but Montana had little trouble moving the ball. The Grizzlies rushed for 268 yards and threw for 275, out-gaining the Demons, 543-177.

The NSU offense entered the game averaging more than 429 yards per game. Hilliard ran 14 times for 171 of UM’s 268 rushing yards, averaging 12.2 yards per carry. Junior JR Waller rushed 10 times for 54 yards. Ochs went 19-for-30-0 for 224 yards, didn’t throw an interception, and eight different receivers had at least two catches. Senior Levander Segars caught two of Ochs’ three touchdown passes, both coming in the first half. Senior Tate Hancock caught the other touchdown pass, a 51-yarder from Ochs midway through the third quarter. Hilliard scored twice early in the third quarter, making it 42-0 before the second half was even four minutes old. His fourth rushing touchdown of the afternoon tied a UM single-game record.

Junior Kevin Edwards had his sixth pick of the season. The Grizzlies ate up the clock in the fourth quarter, and all 22 of their plays in the quarter coming in NSU’s end of the field.

MISSOULA, MT — Sophomore running back Lex Hilliard rushed for two touchdowns, and senior quarterback Craig Ochs threw for three more to lead the Montana Grizzlies to a 47-17 victory over the New Hampshire Wildcats in an NCAA Division I-AA quarterfinal playoff game.

The 20,919 fans was a record for a playoff crowd in Washington-Grizzly Stadium. The previous high was 18,848 in a semifinal win (38-0) over Northern Iowa on Dec. 15, 2001.

After battling to a 3-3 tie after a quarter, the Grizzlies scored 44 unanswered points, and took a commanding 47-3 lead early in the fourth quarter. Montana is now 11-2 on the season.

The Wildcats, who upset host Georgia Southern the previous week in a first round game in Statesboro, finished at 10-3.

Hilliard had 18 carries for 107 yards and had touchdown runs of seven and four yards. Senior Justin Green added nine totes and 55 yards and a TD, while Ochs rushed for 32 yards.

Hilliard has rushed for more than 100 yards in five of UM’s last seven games. He has rushed for 278 yards and six touchdowns in UM’s two playoff wins this year.

Ochs was 24-31-1 (77.4%) for 257 yards and completed passes to eight different players.

Senior receivers Jefferson Heidelberger and Tate Hancock each had seven receptions for 108 and 84 yards, respectively. Heidelberger has had more than 100 receiving yards in five games this season.

Montana rushed 44 times for 217 net yards. It was the third game in a row the Grizzlies have rushed for more than 200 yards.

to the Bearkats in September. Harris' two picks doubled Montana's 29-13 deficit, and when Smithie picked off a 1-yd TD, it made the score 29-13 late in the third quarter, but the Griz defense shut the Kats' out the rest of the game.

Griz fans tore both goal posts down, breaking the old mark of 21,085 set in 1991, when Eastern Kentucky lost 14-7 to Marshall.

The attendance of 23,607 made it tough on the Dukes, completing 29-of-38 passes for three touchdowns and a career-high 371 yards. He was not intercepted until the last play of his college career.

The Grizzlies rallied from a 17-7 deficit. After Griz linebacker Nick Vella recovered a fumble, Montana cut the JMU lead to 17-14 at the 8:51 mark of the third stanza when Ochs hit Levander Segars for a 17-yard touchdown pass. UM finally retook the lead (21-17) with 7:29 to go in the third quarter, this time Ochs throwing to tight end and Willie Walden for an 8-yard touchdown.

But James Madison, which had only two yards of total offense after the first quarter, dominated Montana with its running game from there.

The Dukes started from their own 28 on the next series and marched 72 yards on nine straight runs to go ahead 21-17 and regain the lead for good, as sophomore halfback Maurice Fenner scored from a yard out. JMU scored its final touchdown and put the game out of reach when sophomore QB Justin Rascaloff rushed for his second TD of the game, a 6-yarder, with 8:00 minutes remaining.

Fenner rushed for a game-high 164 yards, while sophomore Alvin Banks gained 88, and Rascaloff picked up 57. The Dukes averaged 5.1 yards per tote (UM averaged 1.9) on their 61 carries.

Sophomore Jon Talmage, and UM's three starting senior receivers Segars, Jefferson Heidelberger, and Tate Hancock all had five or more catches, accounting for 22 of UM's 39 receptions.

JMU of the Atlantic 10 Conference, won all three of its playoff games on the road over Leigh (14-13), Furman (14-13), and William & Mary (48-34), and finished 13-2. The Grizz wound up 12-3.

(2005 games in bold)
The Big Sky Conference enters its 43rd year of athletic competition in 2005-06 preparing to expand its footprint across the West.

The University of Northern Colorado accepted an invitation to join the Sky in July of 2005 and will officially become a member in July of 2006.

The Big Sky is an NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified as I-AA in football. The Big Sky will be in its fifth and final year with the current eight-team membership of Eastern Washington, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State, Northern Arizona, Portland State, Sacramento State and Weber State. The league has become one of the strongest Division I conferences in the West and is a national leader in I-AA football.

- The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members - Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.

- The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001, giving the Big Sky its current makeup.

- With the addition of Northern Colorado, the Big Sky will spread across seven states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountain Front. The Big Sky is represented along the entire west coast with schools in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and in 2006, Colorado.

- The eight western-most states in the contiguous United States only one, Nevada, is not represented in the Big Sky.

- With the addition of Northern Colorado, the Big Sky will spread across seven states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountain Front. The Big Sky is represented along the entire west coast with schools in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and in 2006, Colorado.

Of the eight western-most states in the contiguous United States only one, Nevada, is not represented in the Big Sky.

On Feb 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled "The Big Sky." Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State, and Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.

- The Big Sky sponsors championships in 14 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf and soccer.

- The 2005-06 season will mark the 18th year that the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women's sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had men's programs. The Big Sky merged with the Mountain West in 1988, forming one league for both men and women.

- Doug Fullerton, the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, will enter his 11th year at the helm. Fullerton took over the Big Sky on July 1, 1995, replacing longtime commissioner Ron Stephenson. Stephenson served the league for 14 years. Steve Belko was the commissioner from 1977-81 while John Roning held the post from 1971-77. The first league commissioner was Jack Friel, who served from 1963-71.

<td>The Tony Barbour Award is given in memory of a loyal Grizzly fan. It is presented annually to a UM player, who best exemplifies outstanding practice habits and makes an unselfish contribution to the betterment of the Grizzly football team. Enthusiasm, dedication and commitment are the key factors sought in the person receiving this award.</td>
<td>The Steve Carlson Award is given to the team's most valuable player in memory of the former Grizzly football player who died in 1977.</td>
<td>The Terry Dillon Award, honoring the outstanding back or receiver, was established in 1964 following the accidental death of former Grizzly Terry Dillon. Dillon played defensive and offensive halfback for UM from 1960 to 1962. He started at defensive halfback for the National Football League Minnesota Vikings.</td>
<td>The Larry Miller Award is given to the team's most valuable player in memory of the great Grizzly lineman and wrestler who competed for UM in 1969 and 1970. Miller died in an automobile accident in 1974. The award honors the team's outstanding defensive lineman.</td>
<td>The Pat Norwood Award is a four-year starter at offensive tackle for the Grizzlies (1979-82) from Billings who died of cancer in 1983. This award is given to the Most Inspirational Player, who oftentimes had to overcome an injury.</td>

MONTANA GRIZZLIES • Griz in the NCAA

• 2004: ANOTHER TRIP TO THE TITLE GAME
It was another banner year for Montana, which so far is proving to be the “Team of the Millenium.” Since the turn of the century, the Grizzlies have played for three national championships, won the title in 2001, and were runners-up in 2000 and 2004. The Griz have the most wins of any team in Division I-AA from 2000-04 with 60.

Montana was 12-3 in 2004 and 6-1 in the Big Sky Conference, and its league record tied the Grizzlies with Eastern Washington for the league title. The Grizzlies' 31-28 victory at EWU served as the tie-breaker, earning them the automatic berth into the Division I-AA playoffs.

The Grizzlies not only extended their record number of appearances in the playoffs to 13, but they also advanced to the NCAA's Division I-AA championship game for the fifth time in the last 10 years.

Montana now has the second most playoff berths in division history with 15, trailing all-time leader EKU by two (17) for the most.

Two of the big reasons for UM's success in 2004 were the phenomenal efforts of senior quarterback Craig Ochs and the performance of a bend-but-not-break, opportunistic defense.

Ochs passed for 3,807 yards and 33 touchdowns and completed 68.7 percent of his attempts. In Montana's four playoff games, he was 94-of-129-2 (72.9%) for 1,066 yards and 12 TDs.

The Griz defense was ranked third in the country in turnover margin at +1.47 and had 38 take-aways (23 interceptions and 15 fumble recoveries).

Sophomore halfback Lex Hilliard and senior receiver Jefferson Heidelberger were also instrumental in UM's success. Hilliard tied the school record for touchdown runs with 17, and Heidelberger had 1,240 receiving yards (the second most in single-season history at UM).

Montana was once again formidable at home in the playoffs, defeating (in order) Northwestern State (56-7), New Hampshire (47-17), and Sam Houston State (34-13). James Madison beat the Grizzlies 31-21 in the l-AA championship game in Chattanooga. UM's win streak started with a 30-0 home win on September 22, 2001 over Western Washington and ended with a 30-21 setback at Eastern Washington (in Spokane) on November 16, 2002. Montana tied Pennsylvania (24 in a row, 1992-95) for the record. UM also set the record for most consecutive Big Sky wins with 25 and the record for most league road wins in a row with 13. Both of those win streaks started in 1999.

Senior quarterback John Edwards was named the Big Sky's co-MVP on offense, while senior safety Trey Young was the league's defensive player of the year.

Montana defeated Northwestern State 45-14 at home in a first-round playoff game, and then lost a 24-20 decision at McNeese State in a quarterfinal contest. Griz head coach Joe Glenn left Montana after a three-year stint, taking the head job at the University of Wyoming. Glenn was 39-6 from 2000-02 at UM.

• 2001: NATIONAL CHAMPIONS
Montana won its second I-AA national championship in 2001 thanks to a gritty performance by Edwards, the running of Yohance Humphery, and a Herculean defensive effort, as the Griz defeated Furman University 13-6 in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Edward engineered a 16-play, 99-yard scoring drive for UM's only touchdown in the title game, while Humphery gained 142 yards on 30 carries and scored on a two-yard run. The Griz defense limited the Paladins to 121 yards rushing (124 under their season average), in a quarterfinal contest. Grizz head coach Joe Glenn left Montana after a three-year stint, taking the head job at the University of Wyoming. Glenn was 39-6 from 2000-02 at UM.

• 2002: GRIZ TIE CONSECUTIVE WIN SPEIN

Senior quarterback John Edwards was named the Big Sky's co-MVP on offense, while senior safety Trey Young was the league's defensive player of the year.

Montana defeated Northwestern State 45-14 at home in a first-round playoff game, and then lost a 24-20 decision at McNeese State in a quarterfinal contest. Griz head coach Joe Glenn left Montana after a three-year stint, taking the head job at the University of Wyoming. Glenn was 39-6 from 2000-02 at UM.

• 2003: GRIZ BREAK PLAYOFF RECORD STREAK
In 2003 Montana set a I-AA record with its 11th consecutive playoff appearance, passing Eastern Kentucky, which had 10 playoff berths from 1966-1995.

The Griz were 9-4 in 2003 and 5-2 in league, finishing in a three-way tie for the Big Sky title. Montana received an at-large bid into the playoffs and suffered a heartbreaking 43-40 double overtime loss in its first-round game against visiting Western Illinois.

Ochs battled injuries during the first half of the season, but junior halfback Justin Green had a break-out season, rushing for 1,146 yards and 14 touchdowns. Green rushed for the sixth most yards in UM's single-season history.

Kicker Chris Snyder ended his Griz career this season, and he set NCAA standards for career points (394), single-season points (122) scored by kicking, most extra points in a career (182), and most consecutive PATs made (126).

Defensive end Tim Bush finished his career as Montana's all-time sacks leader with 34.5, surpassing Andy Petek (29, 1997-2000).

and star halfback Louis Ivory gained just 33 yards on 12 carries. UM’s defense forced three turnovers, and Furman’s sole score came on a Hail Mary pass as time expired.

Humphrey became Montana’s all-time rusher with 4,070 career yards, ranking sixth in Big Sky history.

In 2001, the Griz amassed a school-record 15 wins, going 15-1 overall. Montana had begun the season ranked second in the nation by The Sports Network and then moved up to first nine weeks later and stayed there.

2000: THIRD TRIP TO THE TITLE GAME

The Griz (13-2) advanced to the championship game for the third time in school history in 2000, playing Georgia Southern in Chattanooga, losing 27-25.

In that title contest, starting Griz quarterback Drew Miller was injured late in the first quarter, and Edwards, a sophomore at the time, was forced into action.

After trailing 20-3 at halftime in a rain-soaked Finley Stadium, the Griz took a 23-20 lead early in the fourth quarter on a short run by the record-setting Humphrey. However, that lead was short-lived as Eagle halfback and Walter Payton Award winner Adrian Peterson broke loose for a 57-yard touchdown on GU’s first play from scrimmage after Humphrey’s TD run, and held on for the win.

1999: GRIZ BREAK BIG SKY PLAYOFF STREAK

In 1999 Montana set a Big Sky record by making its seventh consecutive playoff appearance. The old mark of six straight was set by former conference member Idaho from 1985-90.

Youngstown State, the winningest FIA program in the 1990s with 103 victories and Montana (second with 93 wins) met in a nip-and-tuck first round playoff game. The Penguins, who had defeated the Griz in a 1994 semifinal game in Ohio, kicked a late field goal for a 30-27 win. It was Montana’s third straight loss in the first round of the playoffs. The Griz had a chance to tie the game, but kicker Kris Heppner slipped as he planted his foot on what appeared to be the muddiest spot on the field and missed wide left. YSU would go on to the title game, losing 59-24 to Georgia Southern.

About a week after the loss to the Penguins in ‘99, head coach Mick Dennehy left to become the mentor at Utah State (where he coached until 2004). A couple of weeks after Dennehy’s departure, Glenn left Northern Colorado and became Montana’s 32nd head coach.

SHORT WIN DROUGHT IN PLAYOFFS

The Griz endured a three-game losing streak in the playoffs from 1997-99. In 1997 McNeese State revenged a 1994 quarterfinal playoff loss (30-28) at Montana, the host Cowboys winning by a 19-14 margin this time around, on a last-second touchdown in a first-round game.

In 1998 Montana suffered its worst playoff loss ever, a 52-9 shellacking at Western Illinois. A year later the Griz lost in the final two minutes to the Penguins, yet by 2000 they were playing for their third championship.

RUNNERS-UP IN 1996

All-American quarterback Dave Dickenson had graduated; popular 10-year head coach Don Read had retired; and the Griz faithful were worried about the future.

However, Montana reeled 14 straight wins to advance to the title game, and as in the prior season, the opponent was Marshall. Unfortunately the Herd had bolstered their line-up with quarterback Eric Kresser and wide receiver Randy Moss, two Division I-A transfers, and they were too much for the Griz, host Marshall easily winning 49-29.

That 1996 showdown was between I-AA’s two top-ranked teams, and it was the first time in playoff history that two undefeated (14-0) teams squared off for the crown. In the losing effort at Marshall, Griz quarterback Brian Ah Yat set playoff records for pass completions (36) and total plays (67), and Joe Douglass set a record for receptions with 13.

Douglass had an extraordinary senior season, setting single-season records with 82 catches for 1,469 yards and 18 touchdowns.

1995 THE FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP

The Grizzlies won their first national championship in 1995 with a last-second, 22-20 come-from-behind victory over host Marshall and quarterback Chad Pennington in front of a playoff-record crowd of 32,106.

Dickenson and the Griz defense were unerring, as “Dicky” passed for 1,219 yards and 11 touchdowns en route to winning their first three playoff games by a combined score of 163-14.

In the title game, Dickenson orchestrated a 12-play, 72-yard scoring drive, culminating with a 25-yard field goal by Andy Larson with 39 seconds remaining. The key play in the winning drive came on a fourth-and-three from the 50-yard line, when Dickenson hit wide receiver Mike Erhardt on a short slant pass for a 20-yard gain and a crucial first down. Senior receiver Matt Wells scored both of Montana’s touchdowns in the game.

UM set playoff records for first downs (125), pass completions (137), pass attempts (197) and passing yards (1,703).

1993 AND 1994: GAINING MOMENTUM

The Griz squeaked by Northern Iowa 23-20 in 1994 in a first-round contest, and then edged by visiting McNeese State 30-28 in a snow storm on a game-ending field goal by Larson. Unfortunately, Dickenson was injured early in the win over McNeese and unable to play in the semifinal game, a 28-9 loss to host Youngstown State.

In 1993, Montana rolled to a 10-1 season, with its only regular-season blemish a 35-30 setback at Oregon. After the loss to the Ducks, the Griz reeled off nine straight wins and were a perfect 7-0 in the Big Sky, winning their first league title in 11 seasons (since 1982) and just their fourth crown in 31 years.
However, Montana suffered a last-second 49-48 first-round home loss to Delaware in 1993 on the frozen grass surface of Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

ELITE TEAM OF THE 1990s

The Grizzlies’ 93 wins in the 1990s were the second most in I-AA, trailing only the Jim Tressell-coached Youngstown State Penguins (103). Montana’s 74.4 (93-32) winning percentage was the third best of the decade, behind Dayton (84.4%, 92-17) and YSU (77.0%, 103-30).

• 1989: GRIZ HOST THEIR FIRST PLAYOFF GAME

This was a breakthrough year, as the Griz hosted a playoff game for the first time in school history and defeated Jackson State 48-7, advancing past the first round for the first time. Montana then hosted Eastern Illinois 25-19 in a quarterfinal game, winning 25-19. The Griz were out-manned in their semifinal game, a 45-15 setback to eventual national champion Georgia Southern in Statesboro.

• FIRST TWO I-AA PLAYOFF APPEARANCES

Montana’s initial trip to the playoffs came five years after the playoff system began, in 1982. The Griz, who earned the Big Sky’s automatic playoff berth with their first league title in 12 years, lost 21-7 at Idaho, as quarterback Marty Mornhinweg and tailback Greg Iseman were held in check. Six years later (1988) the Griz received an at-large bid into the playoffs, once again playing at Idaho with the same results, a 38-19 loss.

The I-AA playoffs now include 16 teams. In the playoff’s inaugural season in 1978, four teams competed in the playoffs. In 1981 the NCAA expanded the field to eight teams, and six years later (in 1986) they adopted the current 16-team format.

Montana has now participated in 15 of I-AA’s 27 tournaments. Those 15 playoff appearances rank the Grizzlies second in division history. The all-time leader is Eastern Kentucky with 17 playoff berths.

• 1969 AND 1970: MONTANA PLAYS FOR COLLEGE DIVISION TITLES

Montana played for its first national championship in 1969. In what was just his third season as head coach, Jack Swarthout and his wishbone offense went undefeated and untied for the first time in school history. The Griz went a perfect 10-0 in the regular-season and won their first ever Big Sky championship.

That unblemished record and league title earned the Griz a trip to Sacramento, Calif., and the Camellia Bowl and a shot at the NCAA’s “College Division” national title.

Montana was matched up against a North Dakota State team that had gone 36-3 in the last four seasons.

Swarthout, whose first head coaching job was at Montana, came to UM from Texas where he was an assistant coach and the color “Texas orange” was prominent. Soon after his arrival, he changed the Grizzlies’ primary color from maroon to copper, or “Texas Orange.” (The Grizzlies switched back to the maroon color prior to the 1996 season).

That ‘69 team featured quarterback Ray Brum, three of UM’s top career rushers in Steve Caputo, Les Kent, and Jeff Hoffman, as well as safety Karl Stein, cornerback Roy Robinson, and linemen Larry Miller and Tuufi Uperesa on defense and kicker Dan Worrell.

The second-ranked Griz entered the Camellia Bowl as seven-point underdogs. Unfortunately, due to NCAA junior college transfer rules, Kent, Blanca, Stein, Tom McMahon, and three other JC transfers were not permitted to play in the bowl game. Top-ranked NDSU won the game 30-3.

The Grizzlies had their ups-and-downs in 1970, but they pulled out some close encounters and once again went unscathed during the regular season with a 10-0 record. This time around quarterback Gary Berding, future NFL standout Steve Okoniwski, two other JC transfers, and three freshmen were declared ineligible for the championship game again against North Dakota State.

That 1970 Montana team set two school records that are still in the books, 728 carries for an average of 338.4 rushing yards a game. However, those gaudy rushing statistics were not enough, as NDSU won 31-16 en route to a second straight NCAA College Division crown.

Head coach Jack Swarthout was honored during halftime at 2004 NAU game for the 35th reunion of the 1969 Camellia Bowl team.

Mick Holien: The Voice of the Grizzlies

Mick Holien is now in his 13th year as the "Voice of the Grizzlies" and his 21st season overall as the play-by-play announcer at The University of Montana.

For the eighth straight year, KGVO (AM 1290) of Missoula, Montana, is the flagship station of the Grizzly football and men’s basketball teams. Stations KGVO-AM, KYSS-FM, KBAZ-FM, KLTC-FM and KLCY-AM in Missoula are owned by Clear Channel Radio, based in San Antonio, Texas.

Holien called his 700th Grizzly game in 2004. Prior to calling men’s football and basketball games, he was the play-by-play person for Lady Griz basketball for eight seasons (from 1985-1992). During that time he also served as the public address announcer for Grizzly football.

Holien hosts the weekly "Bobby Hauck Radio Show," which airs live statewide every Monday evening from 6:00-7:00 p.m., live from Paradise Falls.

In 2001, Holien was presented the “Ed Chinske Award,” given annually to the outstanding sports professional from the Missoula area.

He is past president of the Missoula Food Bank and the Missoula Mavericks American Legion baseball board, and served as president of the Associated Press Broadcasters. In 1999, Mick received the Good Neighbor Award from the American Red Cross.

In 1998, the National Exchange Club gave him a community service award for "Unselfish Devotion to the Principle of Good Citizenship."

In 2003 he was selected the National Sportswriters and Sports Broadcasters Association’s "Montana Sports Broadcaster of the Year" — the sixth time he has been so-honored.

He received the inaugural Montana Broadcasters Association “News Enterprise Award” in 1988. His coverage of Montana’s 1995 I-AA national championship football game, was voted as the state’s "Program of the Year."

He was a news reporter for the local newspaper, The Missoulian, from 1992-2004. Holien’s work has been recognized by the Society of Professional Journalists and the Montana Newspaper Association.

Mick and his wife Carleen were married in December of 2003. Mick has two children, a son Chris and a daughter, Stephanie Landers, and three grandchildren.

His e-mail address: mygrizvox@bresnan.net. He can be reached at 406-544-2478.

Scott Gurnsey

Scott is now in his ninth season as color commentator for Grizzly football. "Gurns" is a former (1991-94) Griz receiver and punter. He is second on Montana's all-time receiving yards list with 2,574.

He works locally for the Coca-Cola Bottling Company as a sales representative.

Gurnsey received his B.S. degree in business administration from UM in 1995.

Scott and his wife Keisha have an infant son, Cameron, born February 18, 2005.

KPAX-TV

For the 10th year in a row KPAX-TV/Channel 8 of Missoula will broadcast the UM’s football coach’s show “The Bobby Hauck Show,” which airs initially on Sunday, August 28.

UM’s weekly football show features game highlights, player interviews, and comments from head football coach Bobby Hauck. The show also features a scouting report on Montana’s upcoming opponent.

KPAX-TV’s Sports Director will serve as the host of the show which airs every Sunday at 10:30 p.m. on KPAX and other Montana Television Network (MTN) stations.

This season KPAX will broadcast all seven of Montana’s Big Sky Conference games.

MONTANA GRIZZLIES • Washington-Grizzly Stadium

The Home of the Grizzlies

The long-time dream of an on-campus football facility was initiated in August of 1985, as Missoula businessman Dennis R. Washington and the employees of Washington Corporations provided a gift of $1 million. In recognition of the gift, UM’s facility was named Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

There are 48 private boxes located on the east and west sides of the stadium. They are individually decorated and furnished by their respective leasees.

This is the 20th season that The University of Montana Grizzlies have been playing in Washington-Grizzly Stadium/John Hoyt Field since the mid-way point of the 1986 season. Since that time the Griz have racked up an impressive 120-16 record.

The first game played in the stadium was on October 18, 1986, and the Grizzlies registered a 38-31 come-from-behind win over Idaho State.

In 2004, Montana was ranked second in the nation in attendance among Division I-AA schools, averaging a school-record 22,118 in 10 home games.

With 23,867 in attendance at last year’s Grizzly-Bobcat game, the Grizzlies broke their old record of 23,687, set in 2003 in a homecoming contest against Cal Poly.

Of Montana’s 10 home contests last season, nine of them rank in the top 20 for all-time attendance in Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

In 2003 Montana set Big Sky Conference records with 163,532 fans in seven home games for an average attendance of 23,362.

Undefeated at Home

The Grizzlies started another winning streak in 2004 going 10-0 at home.

Stadium Expansions

The facility underwent its second expansion in the spring and summer of 2003, as approximately 4,000 seats were added on to the north end zone section of Washington-Grizzly Stadium, which increased the capacity to its current 23,183.

The stadium was first expanded in the spring of 1995 with end zone seating on both the north and south sides.

A few more additional seats were added in 2002, bringing the capacity to 19,005. Prior to the 1995 expansion there were 12,500 permanent seats. When grass end zone seating was available, the capacity was approximately 15,000.

GrizVision was added for the 2002 season, featuring a state-of-the-art message center which features game statistics, player profiles, digital replays, and shots of the crowd. The Griz Vision screen is the largest in Division I-AA, measuring 26 feet by 36 feet and was brought in from Times Square in New York City.

The natural-grass stadium gave way to SpinTurf for the 2001 season. A million dollars was given by an anonymous donor for the new playing surface. The field was also named “John Hoyt Field” that year at the request of the anonymous donor, in honor of a long-time Grizzly booster.

New men’s locker rooms measure more than 4,000 square feet.

When Adams Center, which is adjacent to the stadium, was renovated in 1999, a new 7,000 square foot weight room, a 4,500 square foot athletic treatment center, the Jacobson Academic Center, and a meeting room with big screen videos were added. In addition, a new women’s locker room covering 4,000 square feet, a 3,200 square foot equipment center, and three new meeting rooms totaling 2,000 square feet were added.

The University of Montana

THIS IS UM
The University of Montana provides a high-quality, well-rounded education to students and a wide range of services to Montanans. UM is a major source of research, continuing education, economic development, civic engagement, fine arts and entertainment, and serves as a driving force in strengthening Montana's ties with countries throughout the world.

UM's Missoula campus comprises the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, the Davidson Honors College and seven professional schools: business administration, education, fine arts, forestry and conservation, journalism, law, and pharmacy and allied health sciences. The University also has an excellent physical therapy department. The University of Montana also includes The University of Montana-Western in Dillon; Montana Tech in Butte; The University of Montana-Helena College of Technology; and The University of Montana College of Technology in Missoula.

UM owns and operates Lubrecht Experimental Forest, a 28,000-acre teaching and research forest 30 miles northeast of Missoula which provides the opportunity for students to learn tree thinning and harvesting techniques in addition to working on forest and ecological projects.

The Flathead Lake Biological Station, located at Yellow Bay on the east side of the lake, is a year-round research facility and academic center for the ecological sciences. The freshwater research laboratory encompasses 80 acres.

Located at the base of Mount Sentinel and on the banks of the Clark Fork River, the 200-acre campus of The University of Montana is one of the most beautiful in the nation and was named among the top “schools with the most beautiful campus in an urban setting” by Kaplan’s “Unofficial, Unbiased Guide to the 328 Most Interesting Colleges” in 2004.

Campus life offers a variety of living choices for the UM student. Dormitory living provides nine halls with various options on campus: a men’s dormitory, a women’s dormitory, along with six co-ed dorms. Also, Panzer Hall provides four-person suites and was completed in 1995. Family housing can be found just three blocks south of the main campus in University Villages. Multi-student apartments were completed for the 2004-05 school year and are located minutes from campus. Students interested in the Greek life have nine chapters from which to choose.

The University of Montana has a nine-hole golf course, located just south of campus. The Grizzly Pool is a seven-lane, 25-yard indoor swimming pool that features numerous classes and programs and has been recently upgraded. The Fitness and Recreation Center, adjacent to the Adams Center, has undergone a major renovation also. It provides the campus community with three levels of state-of-the-art exercise equipment, racquetball, handball and basketball courts, and a two-story glass-enclosed climbing wall.

KBGA-FM is UM’s student-run radio station and features seven-day-a-week, 24-hour programming of contemporary and alternative music programs.

The Outdoor Program provides opportunities for the campus community to participate in recreational activities such as rafting, kayaking, climbing, hiking, backpacking and skiing.
Birthplace and hometown of author Norman McLean, who wrote A River Runs Through It, Missoula is also known as the "Garden City" for its dense trees and lush green landscape. Missoula is nestled in the heart of the Northern Rockies in western Montana and is 3,210 feet above sea level. A community of approximately 66,000 residents, Missoula is located where five valleys converge. It is 140 miles from Glacier National Park and 270 miles from Yellowstone National Park.

The search for gold in the West and the completion of the Mullan Road, which opened up travel from the Missouri River to the state of Washington, brought people to the valley in 1860. Missoula began as a settlement called Hell Gate when C.P. Higgins and Francis Worden began a trading post to accommodate the travelers. The settlement was later renamed Missoula, taken from a Salish Flathead Indian word, lmisuletku, "At the stream or water of surprise." (Missoula, the Way It Was, Lenora Koelbe, 1972).

The Lewis and Clark Expedition, the Corps of Discovery, passed through the Missoula area 200 years ago. There are many interpretive sites in the area, and bicentennial celebrations continue throughout the area. Early settlers constructed Fort Missoula in 1877. Today the Fort Missoula Museum remains a testament to the West.

For many years Missoula's main industry was logging, sawmills and related activities. Because of its location on the Mullan Road, it also became a trading and commercial center, which it remains to this day. The U.S.D.A. forest service's northern regional headquarters is located in Missoula, and the Aerial Fire Depot Smokejumper Center is strategically located as the nation's largest training base for smokejumpers.

Missoula also serves as a center for education, health-care, retail, and the arts. The University of Montana provides educational opportunities for more than 13,000 college students. Two major hospitals, along with many clinics, make Missoula one of the state's premier health care communities.

The Missoula community supports the arts in all its forms: theater productions, dance, art, and music. The Missoula Children's Theater, founded in 1970, is located close to campus and produces plays and musicals by national and local playwrights for both adults and children. The theater also takes theatre productions to audiences outside the Missoula area. The Garden City Ballet and Missoula Symphony, which is in its 52nd season, bring performances and concerts to the community year round. The Art Museum of Missoula, located in downtown Missoula, sponsors changing exhibits and also has a permanent collection that focuses on Western contemporary art and is being renovated.

One of the most desirable places to live in the United States, western Montana has become an attractive residence for those looking for pristine beauty and serenity. Some of America's famous people, such as Liz Claiborne, Tom Cruise, Emilio Estevez, Phil Jackson, Huey Lewis and Charlie Sheen, have made western Montana their home.

In 2004 Missoula was selected as the No. 1 small town in the nation by Men's Journal magazine.

The renovated Adams Center, hub of The University of Montana Intercollegiate Athletic Department, features two auxiliary gyms, remodeled Dahlberg Arena, new weight center, athletic treatment center, locker rooms, academic center and the John Hoyt Athletic Complex, which houses the athletic staff.

RHINEHART ATHLETIC TRAINING CENTER

The Rhinehart Athletic Training Center (RATC) boasts 7,200 square feet of space and includes an enlarged rehabilitation area. The primary goal of the athletic training staff is to provide quality care for student-athletes while helping them safely return to competition. The RATC provides numerous ways to treat injuries: electrical stimulation units, whirlpools, free weights and balance boards.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE CENTER

As part of the renovation to the Adams Center, a 7,000-square foot Athletic Performance Center was created. The new center, which is home to the Griz student-athletes, is geared to enhance the overall athletic performance of the teams.

- UM’s state-of-the-art Campus Fitness and Recreation Center opened in 2002 and is located next door to the Adams Center. The 79,000 square foot facility features free weights, cardiovascular machines, fitness classes, indoor running track, climbing wall with a 50’ climbing column, basketball, volleyball and racquetball courts, equipment rentals, sauna and a juice and snack bar.

- The Athletic Performance Center is as sport specific as possible, and the program is scientifically based and intended to increase one’s athleticism, as well as decrease an athlete’s susceptibility to injury.

DAHLBERG ARENA

- Dahlberg Arena underwent a remodel with over 6,000 theater-style seats, with a capacity of 7,321, replacing bleachers. A center electronic scoreboard was added for the 2003-04 season.

SOUTH CAMPUS SOCCER STADIUM

- South Campus Soccer Stadium was completed in 1996 and features a fully-fenced venue, scoreboard, locker rooms and seating for 1,000 fans.

UM GOLF COURSE

- 9-hole golf course in a beautiful setting close to campus.

DORNBLASER FIELD

WAG (WEST AUXILIARY GYM)

- The WAG was added as part of the Adams Center renovation. It houses the volleyball team and can hold 1,218 fans. The EAG, East Auxiliary Gym (not pictured) was also added as a practice gym for indoor track & field, soccer and tennis.

ROBERT O. LINDSAY TENNIS CENTER

- Located south of the Adams Center and near the University Center, the Lindsay Tennis Center includes nine courts.

- The track & field venue also saw a recent upgrade with refurbished lanes and new seating for fans.
Jim O'Day, Athletic Director

Jim O'Day became The University of Montana's athletic director in June 2005. He was most recently the athletic department's director of development for five years and prior to that the assistant director of the Grizzly Athletic Association for two years. As director of development, he was responsible for major gift development as it pertained to UM athletics and The University of Montana Foundation.

The concept of the National Advisory Board for Grizzly Athletics (NABGA) was developed during O'Day's tenure as director of development. Since its inception, NABGA has been instrumental in establishing the Grizzly Sports Hall of Champions, the north end zone expansion project in Washington-Grizzly Stadium, and spearheading numerous other fund-raising efforts for UM athletics.

Prior to returning to his alma mater in 1998, O'Day was the owner and publisher of the family-owned Western Breeze newspaper in Cut Bank, Montana, for 10 years. During the period from 1982-87, he was a reporter and editor of the twice-weekly publication. From 1980-82 he was the sports editor of the Daily Interlake newspaper in Kalispell, Montana.

O'Day was a charter member of the Cut Bank Education Foundation and Alumni Association. He was Cut Bank’s Citizen of the Year in 1992. He organized the Golden Triangle Chapter of the GAA in 1992 and served as president until his appointment at UM. He was the 1991 recipient of The University of Montana Service Award.

A 1980 Montana graduate, O'Day received a bachelor of arts degree in journalism. Jim and his wife Kathy have three sons: Chris, Kevin and Brian.

UM Mascot - Montee

From a real bear in the 1940s to national mascot of the year in 2002 and 2004, the Montana Grizzlies have had this namesake since 1912 when a Salt Lake City sportswriter called the Montana football team the "Grizzlies" when they played a Utah team.

UM teams were called "Grizzlies," "Bruins" or "Bears" until the 1920s when the name "Grizzly" stuck. They were sometimes referred to as the "Silvertips" all the way through the 1970s.

Although the Grizzly mascot's features might have changed over the years, the Grizzlies still remain a sporting powerhouse throughout the state.

Fighting Song - Up With Montana

"Up with Montana" was written by Richard Howell of the UM law school in 1914. In 2002 the New York Times singled out UM's fight song in an article about humorous college fight songs, saying, "At (UM), fans expect their team to devour its enemies while still alive."
