To Be A Griz means AFCA Region 5 FCS and Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year in 2006

Head Coach Bobby Hauck

COACHING STAFF
Bobby Hauck (pronounced HOWK) has had an exemplary four-year tenure at his alma mater, going 41-13 overall and 24-5 in Big Sky Conference games.

He has guided the Grizzlies to four straight league championships – the most by any coach in Griz history.

He has also led the Griz to four NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (the FCS was formerly called Division I-AA) playoff appearances in a row, including the title game in 2004.

2006 COACH OF THE YEAR

In 2006, his Griz squad went 12-2 overall, had a perfect 8-0 league slate, and won 12 games wins in a row, losing 19-17 to UMass in a FCS semi-final game.

He was recognized for his team’s stellar 2006 season by being named the FCS’s Region 5 “Coach of the Year” by the AFCA and by the Big Sky Conference. He finished sixth in the balloting for the “Eddie Robinson Award,” given annually to the FCS’s “Coach of the Year.”

He coaches UM’s special teams, an area in which the Griz have excelled during his tenure. In 2006 UM was third in the country in net punting (37.76-yard average) and 13th in punt returns (12.86-yard average).

MONTANA COACHING HISTORY

In 2005, Hauck guided Montana to an 8-4 overall mark and 5-2 record in the Big Sky.

In just his second season at the helm in 2004, Coach Hauck’s Griz advanced to the FCS championship game, losing 31-21 to James Madison.

In 2004, Montana was 12-3 overall and 6-1 in league. It was just the fifth time in school history that the Griz won 12 or more games.

In his inaugural season at Montana in 2003, Bobby led the Griz to a 9-4 overall record, and UM shared the Big Sky regular-season title with a 5-2 league mark.

When Hauck, 42, became the 33rd head football coach at Montana on December 20, 2002, he was the youngest head coach in school history. The top 30 attended games in Washington-Grizzly Stadium history have come during Hauck’s tenure.

Before coming to Montana, he spent four years at the University of Washington. During his tenure at UW, he worked with defensive backs, special teams, and safeties. Energetic and hard-working, Hauck is considered one of the top recruiters in college football.

Prior to working at UW, Hauck was at the University of Colorado, where he was the special teams coordinator, recruiting coordinator, and coach of the safeties his four seasons there.

At Colorado, he coordinated all six special teams groups. In 1998 his Buffalo kickoff and punt return teams were both ranked in the top five in the nation.

His first three years at Colorado he also worked as the recruiting coordinator. In 1998 he gave up those duties to coach in the secondary. At CU he coached seven All-Big 12 Conference performers.

HAUCK FAMILY TRADITION

Tim Hauck, Bobby’s younger brother, was a standout defensive back at Montana and was selected Big Sky defensive MVP in 1988 and 1989, earning All-American honors both of those seasons. He played 13 seasons in the National Football League from 1990 to 2002. Tim is a current assistant coach (secondary) at UM, as is Bobby’s uncle, Tom Hauck (defensive tackles). A Montana native, Bobby Hauck’s first coaching position came in 1987 as an assistant at Sweet Grass montana football - HEAD COACH

High School, his alma mater, working for his father, Bob, Sr.

Bobby Hauck was a three-sport standout in Big Timber, lettering in football, basketball, and track.

Hauck, a 1988 UM graduate, began his collegiate coaching career as an assistant for the Grizzlies, working with the secondary in 1988 and the inside linebackers in 1989.

He worked as a graduate assistant at UCLA from 1990 to 1992.

While at Montana, he lettered twice in track and field. He graduated in 1988 with degrees in business and physical education.

He earned a master's degree in education administration from UCLA in 1991.

Hauck was born in Missoula. He is married to the former Stacey Harbin from St. Ignatius, and the couple have twin daughters, Sydney and Alexandra, 11, and a son, Robby, nine.

Kraig Paulson
Defensive Coordinator/DEs
Assistant Head Coach
(Montana, 1987)
Fourth Year at Montana
(17th Overall)
Kraig is in his fourth season and second stint overall as a coach at his alma mater. He serves as Montana's defensive coordinator and assistant head coach and oversees the defensive ends.

Paulson is in his 20th season of coaching at the collegiate level and his 17th at Montana.

For the past two years the Paulson-led Griz defense has been one of the best in the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (formerly called Division I-AA) ranks. Montana was ranked ninth in the nation in total defense in 2006, allowing 226.4 yards a game, as well as ninth in rushing defense (108.8 yards a game) and 14th in scoring defense (16.1 points a game).

Prior to returning to Montana in 2004, Paulson was the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Utah State for former Griz mentor Mick Dennehy. In 2002, he served as the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach.

He was an assistant coach for the Grizzlies from 1987-99. Paulson coached linebackers, the defensive line, and the secondary at Montana in his first stint.

While coaching at Montana, the Griz defense was ranked among the national leaders against the rush in 11 of the 12 seasons of his tenure here. The Griz had six defensive linemen earn first-team All-Big Sky honors, and four players receive All-America recognition, during his tenure.

He began his coaching career at UM in 1987 as a graduate assistant. He then worked with the linebackers (1988-90), defensive line (1991-99), and was elevated to defensive coordinator, serving in that capacity in 1998-99.

He was a four-year letterman in football for the Griz from 1983-86. In 1984 he was chosen UM's Outstanding Sophomore, while in 1986 he received the Terry Dillon Award, given annually to Montana's outstanding back/receiver.

He is a 1987 graduate of Montana, earning a B.A. degree in education.

His brothers Kevin, Kerry, and Keith all competed in track for the Grizzlies. His brother, Kent, ran track at the University of Montana-Western.

He was a two-time all-state football player at Plentywood High School. He earned four letters in both football and track.

Kraig and his wife, Jody, have three sons: Keogh, 14, Eilas, 12, and Rokken, six.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON KRAIG PAULSON:
“Kraig has vast experience as a defensive coordinator. With his help last year we produced probably the best defense ever in the Big Sky Conference. If it wasn't the best defensive unit, it was surely one of the best in Big Sky history. We led the league in all the important defensive categories.

I am excited about what is going on with our defensive side of the football, and a lot of that has to do with the efforts of Kraig. He is a long-time friend. He's a hard-working and intense guy. He's exactly what you want in your defensive coordinator.”

Mike Hudson
Running Backs/
Associate Head Coach
(University of Texas at San Antonio, 1994)
Third Year at Montana
Mike Hudson is in his third season at The University of Montana as an assistant football coach. This season he is working with the running backs. Last year he coached cornerbacks. He also serves as UM's associate head coach.

Hudson is now in his 19th year of coaching in the collegiate ranks. The past 16 seasons he has coached team at the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (formerly called Division I-AA) level.

He has had coaching stints at Sam Houston State, Texas State University-San Marcos, Trinity University, and the University of New Mexico.

Hudson came to Montana after a two-year stint at Sam Houston State where he was the defensive coordinator for the Bearkats for a season and the defensive line coach the year prior to that. The Grizzlies played Sam Houston State in a FCS semifinal game in Missoula in 2004, Montana winning 34-13. That year Sam Houston State registered the biggest turnaround in FCS history, improving from a 2-9 record in 2002 to a 11-3 ledger in 2003.

He had numerous coaching and administrative responsibilities at Texas State University-San Marcus, from 1995-2002. Prior to that he had coaching stints at the University of New Mexico (1994) and Trinity University (1992 and 1993). He began his college coaching career at Texas State-San Marcos and was there from 1987-1991, rejoining that program in 1995.

Hudson earned a B.S. degree in Kinesiology from the University of Texas at San Antonio in 1994. He was born in Bryan, Texas, and raised in San Antonio. He played collegiate football at Angelo State University.

Mike and his wife Dyan have two children: Lee, 11, and Loryn, nine.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON MIKE HUDSON:
“Hud is an invaluable member of our staff because he can coach any position. He's just a good football coach. He's our assistant head coach as well. He's coaching our running backs now, and this spring they all made improvements over last fall. It's amazing that he can make that much of an impact in 15 days of practice. Mike Hudson will be a tremendous addition to our offensive staff in his work with the running backs.”
Rob Phenicie
Offensive Coordinator/
Quarterbacks
(University of Memphis, 1989)
Fifth Year at Montana

Rob is in his fifth season as the Grizzlies’ offensive coordinator and this season he will also work with the quarterbacks. Last year he coached the wide receivers.

In the past three seasons Montana has been ranked among the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision’s (FCS) leaders in several offensive categories.

Last season the 12-2 Grizzlies were ranked 20th in the country in passing offense with 227.2 yards per game through the air, 22nd in total offense, averaging 366.6 yards a game, and 23rd in scoring offense at 27.5 points a game.

UM had five players on offense named first or second team All-Big Sky Conference, while senior center Jeff Marshall was a second team pick. In 2004, Griz tackle Cory Procter was a first team All-Big Sky and named to several All-American teams.

Phenicie (pronounced fin-ih-see) began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, the University of Memphis, from 1989-91.

In 1992, he was hired as the quarterbacks and wide receivers coach at Los Angeles Valley College, coaching there until 1996.
L.A. Valley was the top-ranked team in the nation in 1995 and led the country in scoring (45.7 ppg).

He began his college playing career as a tight end at the University of Nebraska in 1984. He transferred to Memphis where he completed his playing career. He received his B.A. degree from Memphis in 1989 and his master’s degree from there in 1991.

A native of Huntington Beach, Calif., Rob and his wife, Jennifer, have a daughter Meghen, nine.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON ROB PHENICIE:

“Rob’s produced four offenses that have helped to lead us to conference championships. We were ranked in the top 25 nationally last year in nearly every offensive category. He does a great job. He’s a long time associate. We just keep being productive with a variety of different offensive sets, formations, and personnel groups, and I expect nothing else but a huge year from our offense. Rob has done, and will continue to do, a great job with our offense.”

Dominic Daste
Tight Ends/
Recruiting Coordinator
(Washington, 2001)
Fifth Year at Montana

Dom is in his fifth season as an assistant coach at Montana.
This will be his second consecutive season working with the tight ends and his first as UM’s recruiting coordinator.
During his first three seasons with the Griz he coached the offensive line.

Last season he oversaw the growth and improvement of freshmen tight ends Dan Beaudin and Steve Pfahler, who are both honors candidates in 2007.

Two seasons ago senior tackle Brad Rhoades was named first team All-Big Sky Conference, while senior center Jeff Marshall was a second team pick. In 2004, Griz tackle Cory Procter was first team All-Big Sky and named to several All-American teams.

Daste came to UM from the University of Washington where he served as graduate assistant coach for two seasons. He worked with the offensive line during his two-year stint at his alma mater.

He was a four-year letterman for the Huskies at offensive guard. Every season during his six years at Washington as a player and coach, the Huskies participated in a bowl game.

He received the “Tough Husky Award” in 1999 at UW.

While a player at Washington, the Huskies participated in the the Aloha Bowl in 1997, the Oahu Bowl in 1998, the Holiday Bowl in 1999, and the Rose Bowl in 2001. The Huskies won the Pac-10 Conference championship in 2000.

The Huskies played in the Holiday Bowl his first season as an assistant coach at UW (2002).

He prepped at Damien High School in LaVerne, California.
He earned his Bachelor of Arts and Science degree in geography from Washington in 2001.

Dominic is a native of San Dimas. He is single. His parents are Maceo and Diane Daste of San Dimas, Calif.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON DOM DASTE:

“It’s been a great move for Dom and our young tight ends to have him coach them. Last season he had the unenviable task of coaching all freshmen. He brought them along, and they had real nice seasons. They’ve had a great spring practice, and we expect them to have a big fall. The other thing Dom is doing now is he’s heading up our recruiting as our recruiting coordinator. It’s a big year for us in that area because we’re going to have to sign a bunch of players this season.”
Ty Gregorak
Linebackers
(Colorado, 2001)
Fifth Year at Montana

Ty is in his fifth season with at Montana and in his fourth season coaching the linebackers. In his first season at Montana in 2003, Gregorak coached the secondary.

Last season junior linebackers Tyler Joyce, Kyle Ryan, and Loren Utterback were All-Big Sky Conference honorable mentions selections. Two seasons ago former UM linebacker Shane McIntyre was all-league and a finalist for the for the Big Sky's "Defensive Player of the Year" award. A linebacker has led the Griz in total tackles each season over the past five years.

Before coming to Montana, Ty served as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Washington in 2001 and 2002, working primarily with the secondary and special teams.

Gregorak (pronounced greg-or-ack) was a three-year letterman at linebacker for the University of Colorado, from 1997-2000. He was the recipient of the Lee Willard Award (outstanding freshman) at CU in 1997.

In 1998, CU played in the Aloha Bowl, while the 1999 squad played in the Insight.com Bowl in Tucson, Arizona. Ty was a 2000 Academic All-Big XII selection. That year he was nominated for the National Academic-Athletic Achievement Award.

He was a standout prep athlete at West Valley High School in Spokane, Washington. He was a first-team all-state selection in high school in 1995 and 1996. He served as team captain from 1994-96.

In 1996, he was chosen the state of Washington's Defensive Player of the Year and voted Super Prep Magazine's West Coast Defensive Player of the Year.

In 1997, Gregorak was named West Valley High School's Student-Athlete of the Year. He was named to several All-American teams that year and was a USA Today honorable mention All-American and Super Prep's "West Coast Defensive Player of the Year." He was named team captain of the East squad in the Washington State All-Star game in 1997.

Gregorak earned a B.A. degree at Colorado in communication in 2001. While at Washington, he was pursuing course work in educational leadership and policy studies.

He is a native of Spokane, Wash. He married the former Annie Geyer in 2004. Ty and his wife have an Italian Mastiff named Jager.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON TY GREGORAK:

"Ty is an intense fella. He's gone from being a good, young coaching prospect to a great young coach. We are fortunate to having him coach our linebackers, which is the position he played for us at Colorado. He brings a temperament and intensity to that group that is showing up on the field."

TIM HAUCK
Secondary
(Montana, 1990)
Fourth year at Montana

Tim is now in his fourth season at his alma mater, and this season he will coach the entire secondary. A former University of Montana football All-American, Tim had worked exclusively with the safeties the previous three seasons.

Last season both junior free safety Torrey Thomas and sophomore strong safety Colt Anderson were named to the Big Sky Conference's first team. The previous season, brothers and safeties Torrey and Tyler Thomas were honorable mention selections.

During his NFL career he played with Green Bay, Seattle, Denver, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, and San Francisco.

A safety for the Grizzlies, Hauck was voted the Big Sky Conference's defensive MVP in 1988 and 1989, and he also was voted the recipient of Montana's Steve Carlson Award (MVP) those two seasons as well. He is the only player in school history to receive the Golden Helmet Award ("Hardest Hitter") three times, winning it in 1987, 1988, and 1989.

Hauck, nicknamed "Hit­ter" during his playing days at Montana, is ranked third in school history with 305 career tackles and 15 career interceptions.

Hauck started his college career at Pacific University in Oregon and was an all-conference pick there as a freshman.

He prepped at Sweet Grass High School in Big Timber in Montana and was an all-state quarterback and defensive back, playing for his dad, Bob Hauck Sr. He is the younger brother of Griz head coach Bobby Hauck.

Tim is single.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON TIM HAUCK:

"Tim has increased the caliber of play in our secondary to maybe unprecedented levels. His guys are playing great. Both safeties were all-conference last year. He's now coaching the corners as well, and we expect our secondary to play in concert and play very well this fall."
Tom Hauck
Defensive Tackles
(Montana, 1964)
Eighth Year at Montana

A veteran mentor, Tom begins his eighth season as an assistant coach at his alma mater. Once again he will be coaching UM’s defensive tackles, something he has done in his entire tenure here.

Tom has been coaching at the high school and college level for more than four decades, beginning in 1964.

Last season Griz senior defensive tackle Kerry Mullan and sophomore Craig Mettler were both named honorable mention All-Big Sky Conference selections. Two years ago tackle Alan Saenz was a first team all-league pick and named to numerous All-American teams. The Grizzlies have had at least one defensive tackle named to the All-Big Sky team over the last five seasons.

Saenz was a first team all-league pick and named to numerous All-American teams in 1964.

In his first season at Montana in 2000, Tom not only coached the defensive tackles, but he also worked with the defensive ends.

Tom Hauck was a former Grizzly football standout. The 6-2, 220-pounder played center at Montana, playing from 1961-63. Tom played freshman football at Montana in 1960.

Originally from Butte, Hauck was the team co-captain his senior year in 1963 with tackle Fred Calder. Tom was an honorable mention All-Big Sky selection at center following his senior year at UM, which was the league’s inaugural season.

Bobby Hauck, UM’s head coach, is the son of Tom’s brother, Robert Hauck, Sr. Tom’s nephew Tim Hauck was an All-American safety for the Griz and a current assistant football coach for the Grizzlies.

Prior to coming to Montana, Tom coached at Rocky Mountain College in Billings for 13 seasons (1987-1999), and while there he worked with the defense and special teams.

Before his stint at Rocky he coached for 19 seasons (1968-86) at Billings Senior High School. He was the head coach for four seasons from 1983-86 and an assistant coach there the previous 15 seasons.

Tom graduated from Montana in 1964, earning a bachelor’s degree in mathematics, and his first coaching job was at his alma mater as a graduate assistant in ’64. Tom is single.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON TOM HAUCK:

"Tom is the veteran of the group. He played here and has coached here in three different stints. He brings a real level-headed attitude to our coaching staff. His guys are great technicians. Tom is a great coach who has forgotten more football than most coaches know."

(Washington, 1994)
Third Year at Montana

Pete (pronounced: Cal-ih-giss) is in his third year as an assistant coach at the University of Montana. This will be his second season in a row of coaching the offensive line.

Last season junior tackle Cody Balogh and sophomore guard Colin Dow were first team All-Big Sky Conference picks, while center Jeff Marshall was a second team choice, and sophomore tackle Brent Russum was an honorable mention selection.

Prior to coaching at Montana he had been the head strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater, the University of Washington, since 2002. From 1999-2001 he was the assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Huskies.

Following his graduation from UW in 1994, Pete was an assistant football coach at Western Washington University in his hometown of Bellingham, Wash. He was an assistant defensive line/strength coach at WWU from 1996-97 and the assistant tight end/strength coach there from 1994-96. He played strong guard for the Huskies and former head football coach Don James when they won the national championship in 1991. He was an All-American in track and field in the shot put. He has a personal best in the college shot put of 62-8. He won the gold medal in the 1995 Olympic Festival and placed third in the University Games that year.

Kaligis participated in the 1996 Olympic Trials in track and field in the shot put, where he had a throw of 65-8.

He earned his B.A. degree in sociology and law enforcement at Washington in 1994.

Pete and his wife, Kristine, have a daughter, Harlie Grace, four, and a son, Cooper, two-and-a-half.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON PETE KALIGIS:

"Pete Kaligis is a bring your lunch pail do your work kind of guy. He’s got tremendous intensity, and it shows up in his players. Our offensive line is poised to have a big year. We led the conference in rushing despite losing our top two running backs to injury early last year. I expect our offensive line to play with a great temperament and a great intensity, as well as great technique all fall because that’s the way they are being taught every day by Pete Kaligis."

Cedric Cormier
Wide Receivers
(Colorado, 2001)
First Year
at Montana

Cedric is in his first season at The University of Montana and coaches the wide receivers.

Prior to coming to Montana he was an assistant coach at Baytown High School in Baytown, Texas, working with the wide receivers and serving as the special teams coordinator for the past two seasons. He was the wide receiver coach at Channelview High School in Channelview, Texas, during the 2004 season.

Cormier, 27, played collegiate football at the University of Colorado where he was a four-year letterman and two-year starter at wide receiver and as a kickoff returner.

He was a starter for the Buffaloes in 2001 where he caught passes from Craig Ochs, UM’s graduate assistant coach and former quarterback. That year the Buffaloes won the Big 12 championship and ranked among the conference leaders in several categories.

He was a first team all-state quarterback at North Shore High School in 1996 in his hometown of Houston, Texas. That season he was first team all-state, All-Greater Houston, named a Texas Top 100 Recruit, and selected as the Houston Touchdown Club Offensive Player of the Year. As a prep he was a three-year starter at quarterback.

Cedric and his wife, Roselle, have two children, a son Dean, seven, and a daughter, Danielle, two. (Pronounced: Core-me-air)

COACH HAUCK QUOTES
ON CEDRIC CORMIER:

“Cedric Cormier is a hard worker who is a great person. That’s the way he was as a high school player when I first met him. That’s the way he was as a college athlete, and that has carried over to his coaching. He’s a great guy and a great family man. In adding him to our staff, I am sure that we will get great effort and concentration out of our wide receivers.”

Craig Ochs
Offensive Graduate Assistant Coach
(Montana, 2003)
First Year
at Montana

A former University of Montana stand-out quarterback, Craig was named an assistant offensive coach at UM in March of 2007.

A native of Boulder, Colo., he most recently played in NFL Europe for the Frankfurt Galaxy before suffering an injury last May. He was allocated to NFL Europe by the Buffalo Bills.

He was a two-year starter at quarterback for the Grizzlies in 2003 and 2004. He came to UM from the University of Colorado.

Ochs had an outstanding senior season in 2004, leading Montana to the Football Championship Subdivision (formerly called Division I-AA) championship game, a 31-21 loss to James Madison. In the title game he was 29-of-38 for 371 yards and three touchdowns, and his completions and passing yards in that contest were career-highs.

He was a team captain as a senior when he completed 309-of-450 passes for 3,807 yards and 33 touchdowns. His passing percentage of 68.7% was a Big Sky Conference and UM single-season record.

His 3,807 passing yards in ’04 are the second most in school history. He is eighth on Montana’s all-time passing list with 5,419 career yards.

Ochs was a first team All-Big Sky pick in 2004 and started all 15 games for the 12-3 Grizzlies. That season he was UM’s Steve Carlson Award (MVP) winner and a finalist for the Walter Payton Award (FCS’s offensive player of the year). He was slowed down by injuries his junior season, starting eight games and going 5-3, and was an honorable mention all-conference selection his junior year as well.

He was also an outstanding student and named UM’s “Scholar-Athlete of the Year” in 2004 when he was a graduate student studying political science, maintaining a 3.71 GPA. He earned a degree in history from UM in the spring of 2003.

Craig and his wife Jessica have a baby daughter, Lucy, born March 2, 2007.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES ON CRAIG OCHS:

“Craig is a great young coaching prospect. I’ve had my eye on him as a potential coach since he was a junior here at Montana. It’s been great for us to get him back here to help with our offensive staff.”

Mike Gerber
Football Strength Coach
Second Year
at Montana

Mike begins his second season as the Grizzlies’ strength coach position at The University of Montana, and he exclusively oversees the strength and conditioning of Grizzly football players.

Gerber comes to UM with a wealth of experience. For the past five-plus years he was involved in a pair of businesses in Syracuse, New York, as the owner of “Mike Gerber Sport-Strength,” and he was the co-owner and president of “Strength in Motion.”

At the collegiate level, he served as the head strength and conditioning coach at Syracuse and Yale. He held assistant strength and conditioning positions at Syracuse, the University of Maryland, and Middlebury College in Vermont from 1987-1994.

Gerber has also been in the coaching ranks. His first stint was as an assistant football coach at Colby College in Maine in 1981. He was an assistant football coach for a couple of high schools in the East from 1982-84 and then was a grad assistant in football at Syracuse for three years (1985-87).

He became the head strength coach and defensive coordinator at Middlebury College (1987-90), then Yale (1990-94) where he was also the linebackers coach, and was the assistant strength and conditioning coach at Maryland for a year (1994). He then went to Syracuse, where he worked until going into private business in June of 2000.

He earned a B.S. degree in Physical Education and Health from the University of Maine in 1981 and his M.S. in Physical Education from Syracuse University in 1991.

Mike’s wife’s name is Erica.

COACH HAUCK QUOTES
ON MIKE GERBER:

“Mike Gerber is one of the top strength and conditioning coaches in the entire country. We are fortunate to have him working with our football program. In his one-and-a-half years here he has made a major difference in the strength and speed of our players, as well as in the area of injury prevention. He’s the best bargain in America in regard to strength coaches.”
Senior Offensive Tackle Cody Balogh

... means 29 starts in a row
THE FAVORITE AGAIN IN 2007?

The University of Montana Grizzlies will more than likely again find themselves as the favorite in the race for 2007 Big Sky Conference football crown - and why not? The Griz have now won nine Big Sky Conference championships in a row, and garnered league titles in 12 of the last 14 seasons.

UM has now made a record 14 straight NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (formerly called Division I-AA) playoff appearances in a row. Putting it plain and simple, Montana has been the most dominant and consistent team in the FCS the past decade-and-a-half, dating back to the 1993 season.

The Grizzlies have also had 21 straight winning seasons, which began in 1986. This season the Griz return 18-plus starters and 57 lettermen from a 12-2 team that was a perfect 8-0 en route to yet another conference title. Montana was ranked third in the final Sports Network poll and has been ranked in TSN's top 25 in 198 of the past 202 weeks.

Some other reasons for continued high expectations and more success in 2007 are the return of 16 players who received All-Big Sky recognition, and the return of senior running back Lex Hilliard, a Walter Payton Award candidate, and senior defensive end Kroy Biermann, a finalist for the 2006 Buck Buchanan Award.

OFFENSIVE OVERVIEW

Last season Montana was ranked 20th in the nation in passing (227.2 yards a game), 22nd in total offense (366.57 yards a game), and 23rd in scoring (27.5 points a game).

The Grizzlies lost just two starters on offense, and one of those players was all-league quarterback Josh Swogger. Hilliard, who did not play last season due to injury, is one of nine-plus returning starters, nine all-league players, and 25 lettermen who are back on offense.

"We have a veteran group back on offense, it's certainly a much more experienced group than we had a year ago," said fifth-year Griz head coach Bobby Hauck, who has a career record of 41-13 at his alma mater (1988).

“Our offensive line has tremendous depth and experience, which is unique in our tenure here,” Hauck said. “Having Lex Hilliard and Greg Coleman back after losing them to injury will help us immensely also.”

A year ago Swogger passed for 17 touchdowns, while UM's returning "ABC" wideouts Eric Allen, Ryan Bagley, and Craig Chambers combined for 147 catches and 17 touchdowns. Running backs Reggie Bradshaw, and Thomas Brooks-Fletcher, who rushed for a total of 12 touchdowns, are also back.

"The receiving core is also veteran and experienced," Hauck said. "The only position that doesn't have a ton of experience is quarterback, but we feel very strongly that those players can get the job done for us. Our tight ends are young, but our two sophomores have played a lot for us and both have started."

Hilliard begins his senior campaign ranked second in school history with 2,884 rushing yards for 34 touchdowns. He needs 1,187 yards to pass the all-time leader, Yohance Humphrey, who gained 4,070 yards from 1998-2001.

All-league center Jeff Marshall graduated, but the Griz have the crux of their starters back on the O-line with the likes of tackles Cody Balogh (14 starts) and Brent Russum (10 starts), and guards Collin Dow (14 starts) and Terran Hillessland (10 starts). Talented sophomores Dan Beaudin and Steve Pfahler combined for 14 starts at tight end.

• QUARTERBACK: Junior Cole Bergquist is the only signal-caller who has had any starting experience (he is 6-3 as a starter over the past two seasons) and might have the inside track, although he and promising redshirt freshman Andrew Selle carried their battle to start into fall drills. Sophomore lettermen Clint Stapp and "greyshirt" Jeff Larson are also in the mix. Bergquist led UM to a 36-7 win over South Dakota State last season in his only start, while as a redshirt freshman he passed for 1,275 yards and eight touchdowns.

• RUNNING BACK: Hilliard, who missed last season due to injury and is a two-time first team All-Big Sky selection, rushed for 1,322 yards and 12 touchdowns in 2005. Junior Greg Coleman started UM's season opener at Iowa, but he was lost last early last season because of an injury. Bradshaw was UM's leading rusher last season with 572 yards and 10 touchdowns and was an honorable mention all-conference pick. Veteran Brady Green, who was second on the team with 520 yards rushing, graduated, while Brooks-Fletcher rushed for 479 yards.

"Our preference is to play with a big back," Hauck said. "If you go back a couple of years to when we had Lex and Justin Green in the backfield that was highly successful for us," Hauck said. "That's not to discount Reggie Bradshaw and Thomas Brooks-Fletcher, who are both guys who can contribute, along with (junior) Andrew Schmidt."

• OFFENSIVE LINE: This should be a major strength for the Griz this season. Not only does UM return a bevy of starters like Balogh (26 career starts) at left tackle, along with Russum, Dow, and Hillessland, but also in the mix is a group of both experienced veterans and young players.

Balogh was first team All-Big Sky and tabbed third team All-American by the Sports Network a year ago, while Russum was honorable mention all-league. Sophomore Levi Horn also started at right tackle last season when Russum was sidelined with an injury.

Also at tackle are promising sophomore Chris Dyk, while senior letterman Ryan Gustafson can play guard or tackle. Both Dyk and Gustafson missed last season with injuries but will be ready to play in 2007.

The center position received a big boost when Dow was moved there this past spring. He has excelled at his new position. Dow was a first team All-Big Sky pick at right guard last season. Along with Dow, sophomore Dan Girard and redshirt freshman Nick Lebsock provide depth.

At guard, Hillesland, Dan Carter (one start), senior Eric Michel (four starts), and Oklahoma transfer J.D. Quinn are all expected to play this season.

“We have a big, good-looking offensive line, that as I mentioned before, has excellent depth,” Hauck said. “We can go two deep across the board on our offensive line. They are all very capable players.”

• WIDE RECEIVER: The top four receivers from last season are back in Allen, Bagley, Chambers, and junior Mike Ferriter. Allen was a first team all-league pick last season and had a team-high 801 yards receiving. Bagley had a team-best 55 receptions. Chambers had a team-best eight touchdown catches. Bagley and Chambers were both honorable mention all-league choices. Ferriter had 28 grabs for 384 yards.

Quality depth is provided by juniors Rob Schulte and Matt Troxel. Promising sophomores Marc Mariani and Tyler Palmer performed very well this past spring.

“We have a diverse group of wide receivers,” Hauck said. “It’s good to see the younger players push the veteran players a bit. That has a tendency to improve the level of play on the field. We return a deep and talented group there.”

• TIGHT END: Beaudin and Pfahler make this a strong position, and redshirt freshman Robert Overton will also contribute. Sophomore Kevin Klaboe was an all-league pick at h-back/fullback a year ago.

“It’s a good-looking group of players,” Hauck said. “They all run well, and they can catch and are aggressive blockers. They’re physical and they certainly look the part. They are all hard workers and we expect them to be extremely productive for us this year. Kevin does a lot of good things for us out of the h-back position.”

• KICKER: Senior Dan Carpenter was named first team All-American by the Associated Press last year when he made 24-of-30 field goals and led the nation by making 1.71 three-pointers a game.

DEFENSIVE OVERVIEW

Montana was ranked ninth in the country in total defense, allowing 266.4 yards a game. They were also ranked among the national leaders in rushing defense (ninth, giving up 106.8 yards a game), scoring defense (14th, allowing 16.1 points a game), and 29th in turnover margin (+.50 a game).

All seven starters back on “D” were all-league selections in 2006. There are also 30 lettermen back.

First-team all-conference players returning include Biermann, strong safety Colt Anderson, and free safety Torrey Thomas.

Starting senior linebackers Tyler Joyce, Kyle Ryan, and Loren Utterback, are all back, as is junior tackle Craig Mettler. Joyce, Ryan, Utterback and Mettler were honorable mention All-Big Sky picks in ‘06.

Joyce and Ryan tied for the team lead with 115 tackles each. They were followed by Utterback (103 total tackles), Anderson (92 TT), and Biermann (78 TT). Biermann had a team-high 13.5 stops for losses and 11 sacks. Thomas led UM with four interceptions.

Another key returner is senior punter Tyson Johnson, a three-year starter who missed last season due to injury.

“I am enthused about our defense in the way that they played last year and the number of players we have back,” Hauck said. “We have to replace some defensive linemen, but our front has a big spring, and I expect them to produce.

“Last year our defense led the league in every relevant category and was dominating week-in and week-out,” Hauck continued. “I don’t know when, or if, we’ve played better defense around here. Certainly it’s hard to gage and compare one defense to another, but it had to be one of the better defenses in league history.”

• DEFENSIVE END: Biermann, a first team All-Big Sky pick who finished 11th in the balloting for the Buck Buchanan Award last season, had team-highs of 13.5 stops for loss and 11 sacks, and was fifth on the team with 78 tackles.

“We lost two all-conference players (at defensive end) from last year in Dustin Dlouhy and Mike Murphy, and ‘Murph’ made several All-American teams, so that position has been a focal point for us in the off-season,” Hauck said. “Kroy Biermann was a finalist for the Buchanan Award last year. We hope that he continues his strong play and even upgrades it this year. We fully expect him to be in double-digits in sacks and tackles for loss this season. He’s poised to have a great year.”

Junior Mike Stadnyk (6-3, 260) returns after a redshirt year due to injury and will be the other starter at D-end. Stadnyk’s return should help to offset the loss of Murphy and Dlouhy, two of UM’s all-time career sacks leaders, who both graduated.

Depth will be provided by junior Karl Pitcher, sophomores Jace Palmer, George Mercer, and Austin Mullins, and up-and-coming redshirt freshman Tyler Hobbs.

“Mike Stadnyk is coming off a redshirt year and really looks the part,” Hauck said. “He had a good spring practice. We have a bunch of players there who have not had a lot of playing time and we need to get some production out of that group, but if spring ball was any indication of that, those guys should have a nice season.”

• DEFENSIVE TACKLE: Mettler started 11
Senior corner back Quinton Jackson ended spring drills competing for starting jobs at cornerback. Jackson tied for second most interceptions on the team with three.

Seniors Brandon Dwyer and Tim Parks and redshirt freshman Jeremy Pate are all vying for playing time, and one or both of the Grizzlies’ two prep recruits at corner-back may see immediate action.

- SAFETY: Thomas, a senior, and Anderson, a junior, both started all 14 contests last year, and were fourth and eighth (tie) on the team in tackles with 92 and 51, respectively.

Senior strong safety Van Cooper Jr. is a proven player, and sophomore safeties Shann Schillinger and Brandon Fisher could both see playing time.

"Certainly since we return two first-team all-conference players we feel like the safety position is going to be a strength for us," Hauck said. "The best thing about that spot is that both players are being pushed by Van Cooper and Shann Schillinger for playing time, and Brandon Fisher is trying to get to the mix as well. We feel very good about that position and our depth there."

SPECIAL TEAMS OVERVIEW

- KICKER/PUNTER: Johnson was ranked among the FCS punting leaders from 2003-05. He was a second team all-league pick two seasons ago and was ranked 17th in the country, averaging 41.03 yards a punt.

Carpenter was a first team All-American kicker last year. He also handled the punting duties last year because of Johnson’s injury and was an honorable mention all-conference choice, averaging 41.9 yards an attempt.

"I expect our kicking game to be strong again," Hauck said. "Our punter and kicker are veterans. We expect our kicking game to make a difference for us again this year.

- RETURNS: Harris’ shoes will be hard to fill, as he averaged 14.5-yards per punt return, which ranked him eighth in the country, and he returned two punts for scores.

Schulte was ranked second in the league, averaging 22.3 yards per kickoff return. Schulte, Brooks-Fletcher, Clark, Mariani, Bradshaw, Chase Reynolds, and Troxel are all competing for roles as returners.

"Going into fall camp both the punt and kickoff return positions are wide open and up in the air," Hauck said. "That may be something that continues until we get into our conference season," Hauck said. "Early in the season you’re going to see a lot of players get an opportunity to show what they’ve got."

BIG SKY CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Montana has four home Big Sky games and four on the road, starting with its annual Homecoming game on Sept. 29 against Weber State. The Griz play three of their final four games on the road, the finale being the 107th Griz-Bobcat clash in Bozeman on Nov. 17.

"We are going for 10 straight conference championships, and we’re excited about the opportunity to again defend our title," Hauck said. "As is the case in any conference, you need to go play at an optimum level every Saturday if you expect to win. It doesn’t matter if you are at home or on the road, you need to go out and play your tail off in order to get wins in your conference season; that goes for every league in the country, not just ours."

2007 NON-LEAGUE SCHEDULE

The Grizzlies open the season at home against Southern Utah on Sept. 1, then host Fort Lewis Sept. 8, followed by an open date and then a Sept. 22 contest against Albany.

"We don’t take any games lightly, and I think our pre-league schedule is a good one," Hauck said. "Southern Utah returns a lot of starters. Fort Lewis is on the rise and had one of its best seasons ever last year. Albany beat three ranked teams last year in Delaware, Central Connecticut, and Lehigh. Southern Utah went down and beat Texas State, which was a national semi-finalist two years ago, and they had Cal Poly on the ropes losing to them in the final minutes, so they are a force to be reckoned with."

SPECIAL TEAMS OVERVIEW

- LINEBACKER: Joyce, Ryan, and Utterback had 41 of 42 possible starts at linebacker last season, and they are now in their third season in starting roles.

Excellent depth will be provided by seniors Alex Hawthorne and Muckie Foreman, along with junior Tyler Corwin. Also looking to contribute are junior Tom Martin, sophomore Tyler Pelluer, and redshirt freshman Severin Campbell. Junior Shawn Lebsock underwent off-season surgery and may have to redshirt this season.

"Our line backers are a good-looking group of players," Hauck said. "They can all run, they’re good hitters, and there are a lot of all veterans in that group. They are all smart players as well. We’ve got great potential for a big season by our linebackers."

- CORNERBACK: Seniors Chris Clark and Quinton Jackson
To Be A Griz...

...means being named a Walter Payton Award candidate in 2007.

Senior Running Back Lex Hilliard
Lex has worked extremely hard since his injury, both in re-hab and in performance enhancement areas. He’s a leader on our football team. He was the preseason offensive MVP of our conference last year before he went down with an injury, which was a tragic deal for our football team. Now that we’re in the ‘07 season and he’s back with us, it’s just a godsend to have him back. I see Lex having a monster season.

We expect him, with the work that he has put in this off-season, to take his game to another level and be a player who will be winning some major awards at the end of the 2007 season."

—Head Coach Bobby Hauck

"Eric had a nice year and was named first team all-conference (in 2006). He was very productive. The thing I’ve seen from him in spring ball this year and going into the season is that he’s improved his blocking ability. We expect him to be a complete player for us this fall."

CODY BALOGH

- 6-7, 320, 3V
- Senior Offensive Tackle
- Steilacoom, Wash.
- Steilacoom High School

Montana
Cody is a talented veteran on the Griz O-line and will be starting for the third-plus season in a row in 2007. He has now started in 29 straight games.

2006
He started in all 14 games at left tackle and was a first team All-Big Sky Conference selection. He was tabbed a third team All-American by the Sports Network.

2005
He started all 12 games at left tackle.

2004
Balogh (pronounced bay-log) was pressed into duty as a “true” freshman due to injuries on the offensive line and started at right tackle in Montana’s last three FCS playoff games.

High School
As a senior at Steilacoom High School he was first team all-league on offense and defense. He was named first team all-state by the Tacoma News Tribune. He participated in the Washington All-Star Game. He was named a 2003 “Red Chip Recruit” following his senior year.

His Steilacoom High School squad, a 2-A school located south of Tacoma, was 10-2 in 2003 and advanced to the state quarterfinals. He was a first team all-league selection both ways as a junior. His high school football coach was Eric Miller.

He was a two-year starter in basketball on a team that was ranked second in the state in his senior year.

Personal
His parents are Steven and Patricia Balogh of Steilacoom. His major is health and human performance. Birth date: February 14, 1986. Cody had a 3.75 GPA in high school.

“Cody started a few games as a true freshman, so he’s almost a four-year starter for us, which is rare at any position, in particular on the offensive line. He was first team all-conference a year ago and was mentioned on a couple of All-American teams. We expect a big year out of him. He looks the part. He’s bigger and stronger than he’s ever been. We hope that he really has a break-out year at left tackle for us.”

—Head Coach Bobby Hauck
Dan was second team all-conference the last two years and a first team All-American (by the AP) last season. We expect him to have his best year as a Grizzly. He came in as a true freshman and started for us at the kicker position. With the year he had last season and the way he played this spring, we really expect him to have the most consistent, accurate year of his career this coming fall. It’s a difficult thing to do, to punt and kick at the same time. Dan came in when Tyson (Johnson) was hurt, and it’s remarkable that our punt coverage team was in the top five in the nation with our kicker also doing the punting."

—Head Coach Bobby Hauck

Montana

Dan begins his senior season ranked second in school history with 312 career points. He trails former kicker Chris Snyder (394 points, 2000-03) by 82 points. He has played in 41 games in a row. 2005

He was a second team All-Big Sky selection, and ranked 19th in the nation with 1.17 field goals a game. Tyler is another one of those young men who was pressed into service and played for us as a true freshman. It’s hard to believe that he’s a senior now. He’s had a great career to this point, but his best football is in front of him. He’s an aggressive, physical player, and he gets downhill on the run. In pass drops he’s hard to throw the ball over because of his height and his wing-span. He’s also a good tackler in space. We expect him to have a great year. He’s really a complete linebacker.

• 2004

"Torrey, again, is a player who was pressed into duty as a true freshman, and it’s hard to believe that he’s already a senior. We expect him to build on a first team all-league performance from last year at the safety position. At safety, the more you play the better you learn the game, and the more plays you make. Torrey’s a kid whose father is a coach, and he really understands football. He is very instinctive and has a nose for the ball as far as making interceptions. He’s a good tackler in space. He’s a physical player. He’s really the complete package at safety."

—Head Coach Bobby Hauck
Montana: Colt will start at strong safety for the second season in a row, and he's also a standout on special teams.

2006: He had a break-out season, starting all 14 games and was Montana's fourth leading tackler with 92 stops. He was not only a first team All-Big Sky Conference selection at strong safety, but he was also a first team all-league pick on special teams.

He was co-recipient (with linebacker Kyle Ryan) of UM's Tony Barbour Award, which is given to the player(s) "who best exemplifies outstanding practice habits and makes an unselfish contribution to the betterment of the Grizzly football team."

2005: He had seven tackles and played in five games. He missed most of the last half of the season with an injury.

2004: He was a redshirt at Montana.

High School: He earned eight letters at Butte High School: three each in football and basketball and two in track. He was team captain in football and basketball.

He was the recipient of the "head hunter award" in football. Anderson was tabbed team MVP on offense and defense in football as a senior, when he was first team all-state pick at safety and an honorable mention choice at running back. He was a first team all-conference selection at safety and second team at running back.

He was an honorable mention all-stater as a junior. His high school football coach was former (1972-74) Griz player Greg Salo. Colt had 310 career tackles and nine career interceptions. He rushed for 850 career yards and 12 touchdowns.

Personal: His major is business administration. His parents are Mike and Michele Anderson of Butte. Birth date: October 25, 1985. His uncles, Dave Manovich (1971-73) and Pat Sullivan (1976-79), both played football for the Grizzlies.

Career highs: He had 14 tackles in last year's 19-17 FCS semifinal loss to UMass. His interception was against Montana State (11-1985). His uncles, Dave Manovich (1971-73) and Pat Sullivan (1976-79), both played football for the Grizzlies.

Butte High School

Junior Strong Safety

He was a three-year starter at C.M. Russell High School. He was a first team all-state pick as a junior when he caught 76 passes for 1,289 yards and 11 touchdowns. His senior season he had 32 receptions for 842 yards, averaged 26.3 yards per grab, and was first team all-state.

His sophomore year the Rustlers went 13-0 en route to the state football title, while his junior squad finished second. He was named to the "Super State Team" following his junior year. His high school football coach was Montana High School Hall of Fame selection Jack Johnson.

He was team captain in football, basketball and track as a senior. He was chosen team MVP and was the top rebounder on the inside, and he'll catch the ball in traffic. Certainly he can do it all. He's a big player who enjoys the blocking part of what we require our receivers to do. He can go up and catch the ball on the outside, and he'll catch the ball in traffic. Certainly he was well-deserving of being all-conference last year.

Steve gives us size, athleticism, and tenacity at the tight end spot. He's a guy who really wants to play well. He studies the game, and he understands it. He is a good-looking athlete. He's a smooth runner, has soft hands, and he catches anything in his vicinity. I found it entertaining last year when he had two catches against the University of Iowa in front of 70-some-thousand people.

The last time he played a game prior to Iowa he was at Frenchtown High School, and that (playing at Iowa) really didn't seem to bother him. He's confident, yet extremely hard-working.

Senior Punter Tyson Johnson

...means being ranked among the top twenty in the FCS in punting average from 2003-05
With the addition of Northern Colorado, the Big Sky has spread across seven states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountain Front. The Big Sky is represented along the entire west coast with schools in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado. Of the eight western-most states in the contiguous United States only one, Nevada, is not represented in the Big Sky.

On Feb 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled “The Big Sky.” Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State, and Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.

The Big Sky sponsors championships in 14 sports, including men’s and women’s cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women’s volleyball, golf and soccer.

The 2007-08 season will mark the 20th year that the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women’s sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women’s sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had men’s programs. The Big Sky merged with the Mountain West in 1988, forming one league for both men and women.

Doug Fullerton, the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, will enter his 13th year at the helm. Fullerton took over the Big Sky on July 1, 1995, replacing longtime commissioner Ron Stephenson. Stephenson served the league for 14 years. Steve Belko was the commissioner from 1977-81 while John Roning held the post from 1971-77. The first league commissioner was Jack Friel, who served from 1963-71.

The road to the 1995 National Championship began in 1986 under head coach Don Read's tutelage. "We could see that it wasn't going to happen overnight," said head coach Don Read after he had watched his Grizzly team for the first time in spring practice in April of 1986.

POST-SEASON PLAY

Senior Linebacker Loren Utterback

To Be A Griz

... means having the second most solo tackles in 2006
Montana is one of the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision’s (formerly called Division I-AA) most successful programs in the new millennium, playing for three national championships. The Griz won the title in 2001 and was the runner-up in 2000 and 2004. Montana has posted 80 wins from 2000-06 — an average of 11.4 victories a season.

In 2006, the Grizzlies added to their FCS record by making their 14th straight trip to the playoffs and narrowly missed playing for their sixth national title in 12 years.

Montana dropped the season opener at 16th-ranked Iowa then reeled off 11 wins in a row, finishing 12-2 overall and a perfect 8-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Grizzlies have now won or shared nine consecutive league championships and won league titles 12 of the past 14 seasons, dating back to 1993.

UM’s 12-win season was especially impressive because it lost Lex Hilliard, a 2006 Walter Payton Award candidate at running back, for the season to an injury in fall camp. Early in the year, halfback Greg Coleman, Hilliard’s backup, and senior punter Tyson Johnson were lost for the season. But, the Griz overcame those key losses and were led by senior quarterback Josh Swogger, the play of three outstanding junior wide receivers, a solid running attack, and another stellar, opportunistic defense.

On offense, Swogger threw 17 touchdown passes, while UM’s “ABC” wideouts, Eric Allen, Ryan Bagley, and Craig Chambers, combined for 147 catches and 17 touchdowns. Running backs Reggie Bradshaw, Brady Green, and Thomas Brooks-Fletcher rushed for a total of 19 touchdowns.

A young defense led the Big Sky in several key categories. Overall, the Griz “D” was ninth in the FCS in total defense, allowing 226.4 yards a game.

In the FCS playoffs, Montana defeated 22-ranked McNeese State 31-6 in a first-round game, then beat No.10 Southern Illinois 22-6 in a first-round game, then beat No.10 Southern Illinois 226.4 yards a game.

co-MVP on offense, while senior safety Trey Young was tabbed the league’s defensive player of the year.
Montana defeated Northwestern State 45-14 at home in a first-round playoff game. UM lost 24-20 at McNeese State in a quarter-final contest.

2001: NATIONAL CHAMPIONS FOR THE SECOND TIME
The Griz defense limited the Paladins to 121 yards rushing (124 under their season average), and the defense forced three turnovers. Furman’s sole score came on a Hail Mary pass as time expired.
Humphery ended his illustrious Griz career as Montana’s all-time rusher with 4,070 career yards, which ranks him sixth in Big Sky history.
The Griz finished with a 15-1 ledger, and their 15 victories are a school record for most wins in a season.

2000: THIRD TRIP TO THE TITLE GAME
The Griz went 13-2 and advanced to the championship game for the third time in six seasons in 2000, losing 27-25 to Georgia Southern.
Starting Griz quarterback Drew Miller was injured late in the first quarter, and Edwards, a sophomore, was called into action. The Griz trailed 20-3 at halftime in a rain-soaked Finley Stadium but took a 23-20 lead early in the fourth quarter on a scoring run by Humphery. However, that lead was short-lived as Eagle halfback and Walter Payton Award winning halfback Adrian Peterson broke loose for a 57-yard touchdown run for the game-winner.

1999-97: A DIFFICULT STRETCH, AS THE GRIZ LOSE THREE STRAIGHT FIRST-ROUND FCS GAMES
From 1997-99 the Griz lost three first-round playoff games in a row. However, in 1999 Montana set a Big Sky record by making its seventh consecutive FCS playoff appearance.
The old standard of six straight was set by former Big Sky member Idaho from 1985-90.
In the 1999 playoffs, Youngstown State, coached by current Ohio State mentor Jim Tressell, kicked a late field goal for a 30-27 win. About a week after that loss, Griz mentor Mick Dennehy took the head job at Utah State, where he coached until 2004.
In 1998 Montana suffered its worst playoff loss ever, a 52-9 shellacking at Western Illinois.
UM’s playoff loss skein started in 1997 when host McNeese State scored on a last-second touchdown for a 19-14 first-round victory.

1996: MOSS IS TOO MUCH & GRIZ ARE RUNNERS-UP
Montana reeled 14 straight wins to advance to the title game, and for the second year in a row they played at Marshall, and wide receiver Randy Moss had four touchdown catches, Marshall winning 49-29. It was the first FCS title game pitting two undefeated (14-0) teams against one another.
Griz quarterback Brian Ah Yat set playoff records for pass completions with 36 and in total plays (67), while wide receiver Joe Douglass set a playoff record with 13 receptions. Douglass also set current Montana single-season standards with 82 catches for 1,469 yards and 18 touchdowns.

1995: GRIZ WIN FIRST NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP
The Grizzlies won their first national championship with a last-second, 22-20 come-from-behind victory over host Marshall in front of a FCS playoff-record crowd of 32,106 in Huntington, West Virginia.
Walter Payton Award winning Griz quarterback Dave Dickerson passed for 1,219 yards and 11 touchdowns, as Montana won its first three playoff games by an almost unbelievable combined score of 163-14.
In the title game, Dickerson orchestrated a 12-play, 72-yard scoring drive, culminating with a 25-yard field goal by Andy Larson with 39 seconds left. The key play in that winning drive came on a fourth-and-three from the 50-yard line, when Dickerson hit wide receiver Mike Erhardt on a short slant pass for a 20-yard gain and a crucial first down. Senior receiver Matt Wells had both of Montana’s touchdowns, scoring on Dickerson passes of 24 yards and one yard. Montana set FCS playoff records with 125 first downs, 137 pass completions, 197 pass attempts, and 1,703 yards passing.

1993-1994: A PROGRAM ON THE RISE
The Griz squeaked by Northern Iowa 23-20 in a 1994 first-round contest, and then nipped visiting McNeese State 30-28 in a snow storm on a game-ending field goal by Larson. Dickerson was re-injured early in the win over McNeese, and he was not able to play in the semifinal — a 28-9 loss to Youngstown State.
In 1993, Montana rolled to a 10-1 regular-season record, with the only blemish a 35-30 loss at Oregon. After that loss to the Ducks, the Griz reeled off nine straight wins and had a perfect 7-0 Big Sky slate, winning their first league title since 1982, but the season ended abruptly in a 49-48 heart-breaking, last-second first-round loss to visiting Delaware.
1990's: ONE OF THE FCS'S ELITE TEAMS

The Grizzlies had 93 victories in the 90's, second in the FCS to only Youngstown State (103). Montana's 74.4 (93-32) winning percentage was the third best of the decade.

1989: GRIZ HOST THEIR FIRST PLAYOFF GAME

1982 & 1988: IN THE PLAYOFFS

Montana's initial trip to the playoffs in 1982 came five years after the playoff system began. The Griz' lost 21-7 to fellow Big Sky member and host Idaho. It would be six years later, in 1988, that the Griz would receive their first at-large bid into the playoffs, which resulted in a 38-19 loss at fellow league member Idaho.

FCS PLAYOFF FORMAT HISTORY

The FCS playoff field now includes 16 teams, while in its inaugural season of 1978 there were four. It expanded to eight teams in 1981 and then six years later, in 1986, it adopted its current 16-team format.

Montana has now participated in 17 of the FCS's 29 tournaments, or 59 percent of them.

1969-1970: MONTANA PLAYS FOR NCAA COLLEGE DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP

Montana played for the College Division national championship in 1969. Griz head coach Jack Swarthout and his wishbone offense went undefeated and untied for the first time in school history at 10-0 and won its first-ever Big Sky championship. The Griz advanced to the Camellia Bowl in Sacramento, Calif., but missing many starters because of the NCAA's rules at the time on junior college transfers, the under-manned Griz lost 30-3 to top-ranked North Dakota State. It was the same scenario in 1970, as the Griz went 10-0 in the regular season again and won the league crown, but were short-handed, and lost 31-16 to North Dakota State.

To Be A Griz...

Senior Free Safety Torrey Thomas

... means having a team-high four interceptions in 2006
This will be the 22nd season that the University of Montana football team has called Washington-Grizzly Stadium at John Hoyt Field home. Since that time the Griz have played 152 games and have an overall record of 133-19 for a winning percentage of 87.9%.

The first game played in the stadium was on October 18, 1986, a 38-31 come-from-behind win over Idaho State.

During the past two seasons Montana has had the highest average attendance of any NCAA Football Championship Subdivision team, averaging 22,600 fans in nine home games (six regular-season games and three FCS contests). Montana had 140,989 fans attend its six regular-season games last year for an average of 23,223 per contest. Three of those games rank in the top seven for all-time attendance highs in Washington-Grizzly Stadium. The 24,018 fans at the 106th annual Griz-Cat game in Missoula in 2006 was a stadium record.

In 2003 Montana set Big Sky Conference records with 163,532 total fans in seven home games for an average attendance of 23,362.

Not only has Montana won 133 games in its 21 seasons in Washington-Grizzly Stadium, but beginning in 1994 the Griz reeled off 30 straight home victories. The win streak began with a 41-7 win over Sonoma State on Sept. 3 and ended with a 40-35 loss to Eastern Washington on Oct. 18 of 1997. UM’s 30 consecutive home wins are the fifth most in FCS history.

Montana Corporations provided a gift of $1 million, hence the name of Washington-Grizzly Stadium.

There are 49 private boxes located on the east and west sides of the stadium. They are individually decorated and furnished.

Washington-Grizzly Stadium will undergo its third expansion at the conclusion of the 2007 football season. The eastside expansion will house a 500-seat “Stadium Club” with two membership levels, called the “Canyon Room,” with 125 seats inside and 125 seats outside, and the “Hellgate Terrace,” with 250 seats. There will also be 375 Grizzly Scholarship Association priority seats, located between the 25-and-40-yard lines on both sides of the 50, as well as 1,150 non-priority seats located on the 10-to-25-yard lines. The third expansion will increase the capacity of Washington-Grizzly Stadium to approximately 25,308.

The second expansion occurred in the spring and summer of 2003, as approximately 4,000 seats were added to the north end zone section, increasing the stadium capacity to its current 23,183.

In the spring of 1995 the stadium underwent its first expansion in the north and south end zones. At that time there were 12,500 permanent seats, and when seating was available (weather-permitting) in the grass end zones, it made the capacity around 15,000.

GrizVision, a state-of-the-art video and message center, was added in 2002 and features game statistics, player profiles, digital replays, and shots of the crowd. The GrizVision screen is one of the largest in the FCS, measuring 26 feet by 36 feet, and it used to be housed in New York City’s Times Square.

A natural-grass stadium gave way to Sprinturf prior to the 2001 season at a cost of one million dollars, and was paid for by an anonymous donor. The field was also named “John Hoyt Field” in 2001 at the request of the anonymous donor, in honor of Hoyt, a long-time Grizzly booster, who passed away in March of that year.

The plans for an on-campus football facility at UM came to fruition in August of 1985 when Missoula businessman Dennis R. Washington and the employees of Washington-

Montana Grizzlies

2007 football
For the 12th year in a row KPAX-TV/Channel 8 of Missoula will broadcast the UM’s football coach’s show “The Bobby Hauck Show,” which airs initially on Sunday, August 26.

UM’s weekly football show features game highlights, player interviews, and comments from head football coach Bobby Hauck. The show also features player interviews and a scouting report on the upcoming opponent.

KPAX-TV’s Sports Director Phil Buck serves as the host of the show which airs every Sunday at 10:30 p.m. on KPAX and other Montana Television Network (MTN) stations.

Buck begins his first season as the sports director at KPAX-TV. A graduate of Montana, he has been at KPAX in various capacities since 2001 and has a background in news as well as sports. A native of Seattle, Phil married his wife, Maura, in the summer of 2006.

This season KPAX will once again broadcast all eight of Montana’s Big Sky Conference games. The Big Sky Conference and KPAX entered into an agreement to broadcast 32 football and 16 basketball league games for four years, beginning in 2006.

KGVO – THE VOICE OF THE GRIZZLIES

Mick Holien is in his 15th year as the “Voice of the Grizzlies” and his 23rd season overall as the play-by-play announcer at The University of Montana.

For the 10th straight year, KGVO (AM 1290) of Missoula, Montana, is the flagship station of the Grizzly football and men's basketball teams.

Holien called his 700th Grizzly game in 2004. Prior to calling men's football and basketball games, he was the play-by-play person for Lady Griz basketball for eight seasons (1985-1992). He also served as the public address announcer for Grizzly football.

Holien hosts the weekly “Bobby Hauck Radio Show,” which airs live statewide every Monday evening during the season from 6:00-7:00 p.m., live from Paradise Falls.

He is a finalist for the 2007 Ed Craney Award for “Sports Personality of the Year.” He serves on the Lake County Court Appointed Special Advocate for Children board and is also a case volunteer. He is a board member of the Cheerful Hearts, a cancer support group. He’s also a board member of Poison Freedom Days, which honors veterans, and is a member of the Poison Chamber of Commerce.

In 2005 he was selected as the National Sportswriters and Sports Broadcasters Association's “Montana Sports Broadcaster of the Year” — the seventh time he has been so-honored.

In 2001, Holien received the “Ed Chinske Award,” given annually to the outstanding sports professional from the Missoula area. In 1998, the National Exchange Club gave him a community service award for “Unselfish Devotion to the Principle of Good Citizenship.” In 1999, Mick received the Good Neighbor Award from the American Red Cross.

His coverage of Montana’s 1995 I-AA national championship football game, was voted as the state’s “Program of the Year.”

He is past president of the Missoula Food Bank and the Missoula Mavericks American Legion baseball board, and served as president of the Associated Press Broadcasters.

Holien and his wife Carleen, reside in Poison. Mick has two children, a son Chris and a daughter, Stephanie Landers, and two stepchildren, Eric Olson and Breanne Loewen, and four grandchildren.

Mick’s e-mail address: mtgrizvox@centurytel.net.

Scott Gurnsey is now in his 10th season as color commentator for Grizzly football.

“Gurns” is a former (1991-94) Griz receiver and punter and is second on Montana’s all-time receiving yards list with 2,574.

He works locally for the Coca-Cola Bottling Company as a sales representative.

Gurnsey received his B.S. degree in business administration from UM in 1995. Scott has two-and-a-half-year-old son, Cameron.

The 2007 Statewide Grizzly Sports Network: 17 Stations/24 Markets

UM offers 14 intercollegiate programs in men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, football, women's golf, women's soccer, men's and women's tennis and women's volleyball.

The Grizzlies/Lady Griz compete at the NCAA Division I level and are eligible for postseason competition, except for football, which competes in the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (formerly called Division I-AA), which employs a 16-team playoff system.

The Rhinehart Athletic Training Center (RATC) boasts 7,200 square feet of space and includes an enlarged rehabilitation area. The primary goal of the athletic training staff is to provide quality care for student-athletes while helping them safely return to competition. The RATC provides numerous ways to treat injuries: electrical stimulation units, whirlpools, free weights and balance boards.

As part of the renovation to the Adams Center, a 7,000-square foot Athletic Performance Center was created. The new center, which is home to the Griz student-athletes, is geared to enhance the overall athletic performance of the teams. The Athletic Performance Center is as sport specific as possible, and the program is scientifically based and intended to increase one's athleticism, as well as decrease an athlete's susceptibility to injury.

The WAG was added as part of the Adams Center renovation. It houses the volleyball team and can hold 1,218 fans. The East Auxiliary Gym, EAG (not pictured), was also added as a practice gym for indoor track & field, soccer and tennis.

The South Campus Soccer Stadium features a fully-fenced venue, scoreboard, locker rooms and seating for 1,000 fans.

Washington-Grizzly football stadium accommodates 23,183 fans.

Dahlerberg Arena has a capacity of 7,321.

The renovated Adams Center, hub of The University of Montana Intercollegiate Athletic Department, features two auxiliary gyms, remodeled Dahlberg Arena, new weight center, athletic treatment center, locker rooms, academic center and the John Hoyt Athletic Complex, which houses the athletic staff.
President George M. Dennison

George Dennison, the 16th president of The University of Montana, begins his 17th year at the University.

Dennison came to UM from Western Michigan University where he served as the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs from 1987 to 1990. He spent time at the Universities of Arkansas and Washington before working 18 years at Colorado State, where he served as Acting Academic Vice President, Associate Academic Vice President and Director of Admissions and Records, among other positions.

Dennison received his Bachelor's degree from UM in 1962 and his Master's degree, also from UM, in 1963 and earned a Ph.D. in history from Washington in 1967.

Dennison serves on a number of boards. He chairs the Montana Commission on Community Service and serves on the National Security Education Board, the International Student Exchange Program Board of Trustees, the Institute of Medicine and Humanities, the St. Patrick Hospital Executive Board, the Community Medical Center Advisory Committee, the Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation Executive Committee, the Montana Campus Compact Executive Committee, the International Heart Institute of Montana Foundation, the Montana Neuroscience Institute Foundation, and the Montana Cancer Institute. He has been the longest acting president in the history of UM.

George and his wife Jane have two sons, Rick and Robert. The Dennisons have four grandchildren.

Jim O'Day, Director of Athletics

Jim O'Day was named Director of Athletics at The University of Montana by UM President George Dennison on June 30, 2005. Prior to that, he spent almost four years as UM's Director of Development for Intercollegiate Athletics, and three years as Assistant Director of the Grizzly Athletic Association (now the Grizzly Scholarship Association).

As Director of Development, O'Day was responsible for major gift development as it pertains to athletics and served as the liaison between UM Athletics and The University of Montana Foundation. At the GAA, he was involved in annual gift fund-raising.

O'Day returned to his alma mater in 1998 following a lengthy career in the print media business. After graduating from the UM School of Journalism in 1980, O'Day was the sports editor of the Daily Interlake newspaper in Kalispell, Mont., for two years. Following the death of his father in 1982, he returned to his hometown of Cut Bank, Mont., to assist his mother as a reporter/editor of the twice-weekly, and family-owned, Western Breeze newspaper. In 1987, he purchased the newspaper from his mother and served as owner/publisher until selling the business to his employees in 1998. He then relocated to Missoula to begin work with the GAA.

O'Day was a charter member of the Cut Bank Education Foundation and Alumni Association. He was Cut Bank's Citizen of the Year in 1992 and served on various boards and committees in the community. In 1986, he was selected as a member of the UM Alumni Association's Board of Delegates, and his volunteer work with that organization eventually led to his involvement in other UM activities. He organized the Golden Triangle Chapter of the GAA in 1992 and eventually became the state board president until his appointment at UM in 1998. O'Day was the 1991 recipient of The University of Montana Service Award.

Jim and his wife Kathy have three sons: Chris, Kevin and Brian. Chris and Kevin are students at The University of Montana, while Brian will be a junior at Missoula High School in the fall of 2007.

As Director of Athletics at UM, O'Day oversees an athletic department with a $11.5 million annual budget and a staff of more than 70 people. The challenge each year is to produce almost $8 million in private funding to support and operate the program. In addition to nationally-recognized teams in football, men's basketball and women's basketball, UM also competes in the Big Sky Conference in the NCAA-sanctioned sports of men's and women's tennis, men's golf, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field, women's soccer and women's volleyball.

Along with success on the playing fields, UM student-athletes are excelling in the classroom with an all-time high cumulative GPA of 3.02 in 2006-07.
