Grizzly Tracks

Grizzly Tracks is the official souvenir program for home football games at the University of Montana. They are produced by the Sports Information Director and the UM Printing Services.
Bengal quarterback Paul Peterson assured of the automatic playoff spot. A Boise win over Idaho would also give BSU a 5-2 record, but Reno beat Boise 38-20.

The second place finisher in the Big Sky should receive strong consideration for a berth, especially considering Boise State and Idaho State have won 1-AA national championships.

Perhaps Montana’s toughest loss was its 27-26 setback at Eastern Washington last Saturday. The Grizzlies, led by interception touchdowns by Tony Harvey (69 yards), Ted Ray (45 yards) and John Rooney (20 yards) had a 26-7 lead early in the third period and missed a last-second, 36-yard field goal which would have given them a win.

ISU, meanwhile, held off a Weber State rally for a 38-32 victory, improving its record to 7-2 overall. The Bengals are 4-2 in league (see right for standings and this week’s games).

Coach Larry Donovan’s Grizzlies continue to be plagued by injuries. Quarterback Kelly Richardson was sidelined for the third time this season with an injury against EWU and is doubtful against ISU. He is 78 of 144 for 906 yards and nine is one of four players who made the all-district academic team with Salonen. The other two are linebacker John Rooney and noseguard Tim Wynne. Montana tied with BYU with the most players on the squad.

Grizzly linebacker Malcum Sorrell

Ted Ray continues to excel in kickoff returns. The sophomore has 17 for 389 yards for a 22.9-yard average. He was first in the Big Sky and 17th in the nation last week.

The Grizzly defense, led by Jake Trammell, Brent Oakland, Cliff Lewis, Shawn Poole, Bill Tarrow and Alex Rodriguez will try to shut down the ISU attack team, as the rest of the Big Sky squads.

ISU ran the ball with success last week. Fullback Ron Gilner cracked the 100-yard mark and it was the first time since the 1979 season — 49 games ago — that an ISU back has gained 100 yards or more rushing. He leads the team with 282 yards and four TDs.

Peterson has plenty of targets to choose from. Nine of his receivers have 10 or more catches and six have 20 or more. The leaders are Ken O’Neal (30 for 398), Wade Wilhite (25 for 213) and Blake Stamper (25 for 400).

The Grizzly defense, led by Jake Trammell, Brent Oakland, Cliff Lewis, Shawn Poole, Bill Tarrow and Alex Rodriguez will try to shut down the ISU attack.

Trammell has a team-high 94 tackles and also has two interceptions. Oakland has 80 stops and two interceptions and has missed the last two games with an ankle injury.

That impressive passing attack is led by QB Paul Peterson who holds three ISU school passing records and needs only 99 yards to become the all-time career passer. This season he is 196 of 405 for 2,428 yards and 13 TDs — all career records.

The next leading receivers are Brad Danic (13 for 168 yards and three scores) and Charlie (18 for 75 yards). Dantic remains seventh on UM’s all-time receiving yardage list with 798 yards, and has missed the last two games with an ankle injury.

Larry R. Donovan is beginning his fourth year as the head coach at the University of Montana. He has guided the Grizzlies to back-to-back 5-2 Big Sky Conference records — and last year’s team garnered the league championship.

Donovan has had two consecutive winning records during regular season play. Last year UM was 6-5 and its Big Sky championship gave the team a playoff berth in the 1-AA NCAA championships. In 1981 the Grizzlies went 7-3 — their fifth winningest season in school history.

After the 1981 season Donovan was honored by the Great Falls Optimist Club, which sponsors the annual Montana Sports Banquet, by naming his as the state’s Coach of the Year. He was selected from a field of 100 Montana coaches. That season UM was not only 7-3, but also the only team to defeat 1-AA national champion Idaho State (24-21).

From 1972-75 he was a mentor at Washington State, where he was defensive line coach for two seasons and then elevated to defensive coordinator the final two. He coached at the University of South Dakota from 1967 to 1971, where he coached the backfield, then became defensive coordinator.

Donovan played football at the University of Nebraska, where he graduated in 1964. His senior year the Cornhuskers were 9-2, and defeated Miami (Fla.) in the Gotham Bowl, 36-34.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater as a graduate assistant when Nebraska won the Orange Bowl. He then served in Korea as a lieutenant, and was awarded the Army Commendation Medal, but stayed close to football, playing service ball in Korea and directing the division team to an 8-0-1 record.

He received his B.A. in ’64, then earned his master’s degree in secondary Education in 1968 at the University of South Dakota. He was commissioned through the ROTC program at Nebraska.

Larry and his wife Georgia have three daughters, Andrea, Molly and Lindsay.

Grizzly Cup

Initiated in 1921, the Grizzly Cup is the University of Montana's oldest athletic award. Dr. W. E. Schreiber, a long time head of the UM physical education department, began the award which is given to the athlete who best represents the University on and off the playing field.

Grizzly Awards

Each year five outstanding University of Montana football players are recipients of awards.

The Terry Dillon Award, honoring the outstanding back, was established in 1964 following the accidental death of former Grizzly Terry Dillon. Dillon played defensive and offensive halfback for UM from 1960 to 1962. He started at defensive halfback for the National Football League Minnesota Vikings.

The Paul Weskamp Award was established in memory of Paul Weskamp, a tackle on Ed Chinisek's 1954 Grizzlies. The award honors UM's outstanding lineman and was established by the citizens of Ronan, Mont.

The Golden Helmet Award honors the hardest hitter on the team. It was set up on a nationwide basis by the Coca-Cola Company in 1967.

The Larry Miller Award is given in memory of the great Grizzly lineman and wrestler who competed for UM in 1966 and 1970. Miller died in an automobile accident in 1974. The award honors the team's outstanding defensive lineman.

The Steve Carlson award is given to the teams' most valuable player in memory of the former Grizzly football player who died in 1977.

The University of Montana in Missoula is located in a mountain forest setting in beautiful Western Montana. It is halfway between Glacier and Yellowstone national parks.

Four wilderness areas are located near Missoula. The natural surroundings offer excellent opportunities for hunting, fishing, backpacking, river floating, camping and other outdoor recreational pursuits. Two excellent winter ski areas are located within minutes of the University. Several other ski areas are only a couple of hours away by car. UM owns and operates its own golf course adjacent to campus.

The University of Montana is one of the West's pioneers in education and was chartered February 17, 1893. The school opened in September, 1895, with 50 students enrolling the first day. Located on 201 acres at the base of Mount Sentinel, UM has grown from 50 students and seven faculty members to a present enrollment of 9,000 and approximately 450 fulltime faculty positions.

Through its history, the University of Montana has sustained a high standard of academic excellence in teaching, research and service. UM offers associate of arts degrees in two areas and bachelor's degrees in 58 fields. It offers master's degrees in 54 programs and doctoral degrees in 13.

The College of Arts and Sciences, which is the core of the University, includes a full range of programs and courses in the life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The College also offers curricula in interdisciplinary fields ranging from ethnic studies to interdepartmental studies.

Seven professional schools complete the academic program — Business Administration, Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Forestry, Law, Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences.

The aim of the University is to provide its students with a relaxing and meaningful learning experience with the best facilities possible. The administration, faculty and staff strive for this goal.

The Big Sky Athletic Conference enters its 21st season of operation coming off another outstanding season in 1982-83.

The Big Sky, last season for the second straight year, had two teams invited to play in the 12-team NCAA Division I-AA Collegiate Football Championship playoffs as league champion Montana and Idaho represented the conference in post-season play. In basketball three teams, Weber State, Montana and Idaho had 20-win seasons marking the first time in Big Sky history that three teams have reached the 20-victory plateau during the same season. Weber State was the winner of the Big Sky’s Post-Season Basketball Tournament and represented the league in the NCAA Basketball Tournament. The University of Idaho became the first Big Sky member to ever receive a National Invitational Tournament (NIT) bid.

The Big Sky’s success on the field and court was evident at the turnstiles during the 1982-83 season. As a league, in football, the Big Sky averaged almost 11,000 spectators per game ranking fourth among all I-AA conferences nationally. The Big Sky was third nationally (among I-AA conferences) with over 69% of stadium capacity. In basketball the conference was ranked 12th among the 29 major basketball playing leagues with a 5,028 average per game.

As usual the Big Sky had its share of All-America selections. In wrestling Weber State’s Gary Scriven was selected as was Boise State’s Jake Jacoby (high jump) in indoor track and field along with Weber State’s Farley Gerber (3,000-meter steeplechase) and Nevada-Reno’s Derrick May (10,000-meters) in outdoor track and field.

The Big Sky Conference conducts championships in eight sports, including cross country, football, wrestling, basketball, golf, tennis and indoor and outdoor track and field. Eight institutions are currently members of the league that has an NCAA Division I-AA affiliation in football and an NCAA Division I affiliation in all other sports including an automatic berth to the NCAA Basketball Championships to the conference champion.

Charter members of the Big Sky are the University of Idaho, Moscow; Idaho State University, Pocatello; University of Montana, Missoula; Montana State University, Bozeman; and Weber State College, Ogden, UT. Boise State University, Boise, ID; and Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, joined the league in July 1970. The University of Nevada-Reno was admitted to the league July 1, 1979.

The Big Sky has member schools in five states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th of the total square miles in the continental United States). The five states included in the Big Sky Conference (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah) span from the Canadian to Mexican borders.

The name “Big Sky” originated in a novel authored by A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Montana in 1947 entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman Review called for the conference to be named “the Big Sky Conference” in his column of Feb. 20, 1963. On Feb. 25, 1963, the conference name was adopted by the presidents of the newly formed league during a meeting in Spokane, WA.

Ron Stephenson, 39, is only the fourth commissioner in the 20-year history of the Big Sky Conference with all of his 18 years of experience as an administrator coming at member institutions.

The personable Stephenson has had the unique experience of witnessing the evolution of the league since its inception in 1963 as a student, coach and athletic administrator. He replaced Steve Belko who retired as commissioner on July 1, 1981. Belko succeeded John Roning as the Big Sky’s third commissioner in 1977. Roning served with the league from 1971-77 assuming the duties from Jack Friel who served as the Big Sky Commissioner from its inception in 1963 to 1971. The conference offices were located initially in Pullman, WA until Roning moved the headquarters to Boise on July 1, 1971, where they have been ever since.

A native of Idaho, Stephenson came to the Big Sky from Boise State University where he served as assistant athletic director since February of 1971. He attended Twin Falls, Idaho High School and is a 1965 graduate of Idaho State University with a B.S. in business administration. He received his masters of business administration degree from the University of Idaho in 1971. While at the University of Idaho he served as the institution’s ticket manager and head tennis and wrestling coach before becoming an assistant athletic director. During his four seasons as Idaho’s tennis mentor (1967-1970) he guided the Vandals to a 74-23 overall record including four Big Sky titles and four Big Sky “Coach-of-the-Year” awards.

He is married to the former Patti Judy of Twin Falls, ID and they are the parents of two sons, Mike, 17, and Mark, 15.

Arnie Sgalio is currently serving as the league’s information director, entering his fifth year with the Big Sky since his arrival in 1979. Prior to that he was the sports information director at Montana State University for three years. Barbara Schenk begins her second year as the administrative assistant for the Big Sky.

Call your own time-out.

Some of the best moments in any sport take place right where you're sitting. Because where you're sitting can be a great place to cool the action.

Just grab a hold of a sizzling hot dog, spread the mustard thick, and drown your thirst with an ice-cold Pepsi. Nothing makes food taste better and good times last longer than Pepsi-Cola. And Pepsi is just as close to where you're sitting as the refreshment stand.

Go ahead. Right now is a great time to call your own time-out... and call for plenty of great-tasting Pepsi-Cola.
On October 1, this card will dramatically change the way you do banking.

Wherever you are in Montana First Bank country, you will be able to withdraw cash from checking and savings, make deposits into checking and savings, transfer funds between two accounts, and check your account balance with your First Bank Card. Now, more than ever, a First Bank card gives you a choice of when and where you do your banking.

WE INSURE THE TOUGH GUYS.

Mark Welander began with a dream: to own his own business. One that would produce a quality product. Something he could be proud of.

That was eight years ago. Today, Blue Star Canvas Products skillfully sews everything from tipis and tote bags to boat covers and truck tarps.

We’re Western States Insurance Agency and we’ve been with Blue Star from the beginning, providing Mark with the right insurance protection at the best possible price.

That’s our job, and we work hard at it.

After all, it’s one thing to insure a business, it’s another to protect a dream.
