Grizzly Tracks

Grizzly Tracks is the official souvenir program for home football games at the University of Montana. They are produced by the Sports Information Director and the UM Printing Services.
The Grizzlies will take a "break" from their Big Sky Conference schedule today — but that's where the break ends.

This afternoon's opponent — the Portland State Vikings — are known more for their admirers such as June Jones and Neil Lomax than their football success, but with 21 players who have seen starting time this year, you can see that PSU won't exactly be in awe of the University of Montana football team.

After all, you say, PSU was 2-9 last season and coach Don Read's team didn't win one (0-4)

Defensive tackle Cliff Lewis. Western Football Conference game. Well, one of those two wins in '82 was a 35-28 decision over the Grizzlies, who were 5-3 at the time.

"Portland State has been a tough game for us the last few times we've played them," said Grizzly coach Larry Donovan. "We know we're in a football game whenever we play them. They have almost everyone back and have beat us three of the last four times we've played.

"We need to prepare against a veteran group of players," he continued. "With their win over Sacramento State (25-16) last week I'm sure they'll have a little more confidence going into our game."

The Vikings opened their season with Pacific-10 foe Oregon State, losing 51-14 to the much bigger Beavers. Of course the Grizzlies opened their 1983 campaign and defense of their Big Sky Conference title last week with a come-from-behind, 21-20 win over Boise State.

There were many standouts in the victory over BSU, including quarterback Kelly Richardson, tailback Joey Charles, tight end Brian Salonen and several defensive players; however cornerback Alex Rodriguez "careered" the game.

The 5-11, 175-pounder was all over the field, making 10 tackles (second to only junior linebacker Jake Trammell), grabbing two interceptions and also recovering a fumble. Both interceptions stopped Boise TD drives, and the final theft ended BSU's last-ditch effort to win the game. For his efforts he was named the Big Sky's Defensive Player of the Week.

"That was truly a gutty comeback for the kids," Donovan said about last week's win. "Boise State is a tough, very physical football team, that will give anyone they play a battle. We were fortunate and happy to have the win, and I am extremely proud of the athletes and the way they fought back."

You can bet there will be some very physical play again today at Dornblaser Field. But, more than anything you should see a Viking offensive attack that throws the football.

PSU has had trouble running the football, as indicated by their per game average of 71 yards rushing. However, an opponent such as OSU has something to do with that statistic, and the Vikings are averaging almost 230 yards a game passing.

QB Brian Mitchell, a 6-3, 210-pound senior, leads the team in running with 47 yards and he has completed 32 of 59 passes for 320 yards and three TDs. In last year's win over UM Mitchell had two TD passes.

His favorite target is 5-8 Roger Daniels, who has 14 receptions, three for scores, and who is said to be surprisingly very durable despite his size. The defense is led by safety Brian Fish, who has a team-leading 17 tackles, and noseguard Chris Nyte, who has 13 tackles and four for losses.

The Grizzlies are led by Richardson and Charles, along with Salonen, and of course the offensive line.

Richardson answered a lot of questions last week, throwing two TD passes and leading UM in rushing with 74 yards. Charles scored all three Grizzly touchdowns, rushing for 73 yards and grabbing seven passes. Salonen had eight receptions for 80 yards and had two more nullified by penalties.

Salonen is now the all-time Grizzly receiver in receptions with 91 (he entered the BSU game tied with safety Scott Timberman and noseguard Tim Wynne all had seven tackles or more against BSU).

Another key last week was kicker/punter Dean Rominger. The senior from Fort Benton averaged 37.5 yards on nine punts and had excellent hang time. His kickoffs were so deep that BSU had no returns, and he was 3 of 3 in the PAT department.

As Donovan mentioned earlier, PSU has won three of the last four, although the Grizzlies won 33-3 at home in 1981. However, most of PSU's team was made up of fresh and sophomores that year. Fourteen of PSU's 22 starters are seniors this season.

So much for a break from league games, huh? . . . .
Enjoy our great home-style meals before or after the Grizzly games.

Larry Donovan
(Nebraska, 1964)

Larry R. Donovan is beginning his fourth year as the head coach at the University of Montana. He has guided the Grizzlies to back-to-back 5-2 Big Sky Conference records — and last year’s team garnered the league championship.

Donovan has had two consecutive winning records during regular season play. Last year UM was 6-5 and its Big Sky championship gave the team a playoff berth in the 1-AA NCAA championships. In 1981 the Grizzlies went 7-3 — their fifth winningest season in school history.

After the 1981 season Donovan was honored by the Great Falls Optimist Club, which sponsors the annual Montana Sports Banquet, by naming his as the state’s Coach of the Year. He was selected from a field of 100 Montana coaches. That season UM was not only 7-3, but also the only team to defeat 1-AA national champion Idaho State (24-21).

Born March 31, 1941, Donovan came to UM from the University of Kansas, where he was outside linebacker coach. Prior to that he was at the University of Iowa, for three seasons. At Iowa he served as offensive line coach one season, and QB and passing coach for two.

From 1972-75 he was a mentor at Washington State, where he was defensive line coach for two seasons and then elevated to defensive coordinator the final two. He coached at the University of South Dakota from 1967 to 1971, where he coached the backfield, then became defensive coordinator.

Donovan played football at the University of Nebraska, where he graduated in 1964. His senior year the Cornhuskers were 9-2, and defeated Miami (Fla.) in the Gotham Bowl, 36-34.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater as a graduate assistant when Nebraska won the Orange Bowl. He then served in Korea as a lieutenant, and was awarded the Army Commendation Medal, but stayed close to football, playing service ball in Korea and directing the division team to an 8-0-1 record.

He received his B.A. in ’64, then earned his master’s degree in secondary Education in 1968 at the University of South Dakota. He was commissioned through the ROTC program at Nebraska.

Larry and his wife Georgia have three daughters, Andrea, Molly and Lindsay.

Brian Salonen
Senior Tight End
6-2½, 232

Soon to become the most prolific receiver in more than three quarters of a century of University of Montana football, Brian has worked extremely hard to earn that distinction.

He came to UM weighing around 195 pounds, and is now a strong 232, and has improved his 40 time to 4.75.

Brian has part of the school record in number of receptions with 83. He is tied with Vern Kelly. He has 1,050 receiving yards which ranks him third behind Kelly (1,103) and Ray Bauer (1,250).

Last season he had 37 receptions and a team-leading 452 yards and a touchdown. He had three or more catches in nine of the 11 regular-season games. He missed one game with a groin injury and had two catches in the other contest. He had five or more catches in four contests.

As the Grizzlies’ other All-American candidate (Tony Fudge, who is also, ironically from Great Falls), Salonen excels in the big games.

In the I-AA national playoff game with the University of Idaho in Moscow he had four receptions for 50 yards and UM’s only TD. Because it was in the playoffs, his statistics did not apply to his overall stats or he would have broken the school record for number of catches.

Against intrastate rival Montana State during his collegiate career he has a total of 19 catches for 246 yards. In his freshman season he had six catches for 77 yards; in 1981 he had six for 83 and last year he had seven (a career high) for 86 (also a career high) yards.

“Brian is one of the greatest players to play at the University of Montana, and his work in the weight room has helped put him in that category,” said head coach Larry Donovan. “He has great hands and his blocking is very valuable in our sweep and sprint draw attack.”

Salonen, who is also a candidate for Academic All-American honors, has been second team All-Big Sky Conference in 1981 and 1982. He has been an all-conference academic choice those seasons as well. He maintains a 3.73 GPA in Business.

“Brian is not only truly an excellent athlete in the program, but he is also an outstanding student as well,” Donovan said. “His competitive spirit is an inspiration to the entire team. He is the best tight end the University of Montana has ever had.”

He was an all-state player at Great Falls High School in both football and basketball. He also participated in the annual Shrine Game.

Honors Candidates

Offense

Bob McCauley
Junior Wide Receiver
6'2\(\frac{1}{2}\), 188

Destined to be one of the better receivers in recent University of Montana football history, Bob had 11 receptions for 167 yards and a touchdown last season. His 15.2-yard per catch average was one of the best at UM in 1982. His TD was a 30-yarder in a 40-16 win over Idaho. He also scored a two-point conversion on a pass reception last year — a catch which gave UM a come-from-behind, 36-35 victory over Northern Arizona. He was voted the Most Outstanding Sophomore last season by his teammates.

Says Coach Larry Donovan: "With his 6'2\(\frac{1}{2}\), 190-pound size and 4.6 (in the 40) speed, Bob will be one of the top honors candidates in the Big Sky Conference in 1983. He will be a solid deep threat for us, plus he can really catch the ball in a crowd as he proved last season."

Joey Charles
Senior Tailback
5'10, 202

An explosive runner with excellent quickness and strength, Joey's Montana's leading returning rusher (237 yards) from last season. He averaged 5.6 yard a carry, scoring two times. He also had eight receptions for 106 yards and a 37-yard touchdown against Montana State. He is the fastest running back at UM in several seasons. A high school (Hart High, Valencia, CA) quarterback, he also has the ability to throw the football.

Says Donovan: "Joey shared time with Greg Iseman at tailback last season and still emerged as one of the big play runners in the Big Sky Conference. At 202 pounds and with great quickness, he is a threat to score any time he touches the ball. He follows a line of great tailbacks (Iseman, Rocky Klever) and will enlarge on that."

Dean Rominger
Senior Kicker/Punter
6'2, 210

A rare kicker in the collegiate ranks these days, Dean handles all kicking duties for the Grizzlies. The conventional style kicker consistently booms his kickoffs out of the end zone, was 17th in the nation (1-AA) in punting and connected on 11 of 18 field goals as a sophomore. He averaged 40-plus yards a punt in 1982 and had several over 50 yards. He averaged 50.2 yards on four kicks against Puget Sound last year for a single game school record.

Says Donovan: "Dean has helped us win many games in the last three years. He has lived up to his billing as one of the best prep kickers in the nation. His timely punting and clutch field goal kicking make him a valuable football player and a true Big Sky "Honors Candidate."

Brad Dantic
Senior Wide Receiver
5'9, 175

Year-after-year Brad has been a big play man for Montana, whether it is catching or running the ball. Hamstring problems kept him out of several games last season, and he ended with four catches for 81 yards. He rushed for 49 yards. As a sophomore he had nine catches for 249 yards and three TDs and also had nine rushes for 55 yards and two TDs, ranking him third in scoring. He is the No. 9 yardage receiver at UM with 625. He was an All-Big Sky All-Academic player and maintains a 3.33 GPA in Business.

Says Donovan: "Brad ranks as one of the top career receivers in Montana history, and is an example of determination in overcoming size. He adds a lot of excitement in our offense, running the reverse, which is the type of play Grizzly fans have come to love. He is truly a big play athlete."

Bob Cordier
Senior Offensive Tackle
6'4, 242

A fifth-year senior, Bob had an excellent spring and will be a leader on the offensive line. The 1983 season will be his third as a starter. "Bob is by far the most improved athlete on the line," said offensive line coach Joe Yeager. "He's really worked hard and we are looking for leadership from him. He is quick off the ball, a good drive blocker and has really improved his feet."

Says Donovan: "Bob has continued to improve and his attitude and desire have made him a premier Big Sky lineman."

Mark Madsen
Senior Offensive Guard
6'5\(\frac{1}{2}\), 262

Another fifth-year senior, Mark has overcome two serious leg injuries and played outstandingly in the spring. As Bob Cordier, he will be starting for his third year. "We always knew Mark had great potential, but two surgeries have slowed his progress down," OL coach Joe Yeager said. "He has overcome those two setbacks, and he will be another good leader for us. Mark is just a talented athlete who has improved in all areas."

Says Donovan: "Mark is coming off a redshirt year and has now regained his old form. At 6-5, 260 pounds and with his ability he has to be considered a top lineman in the Big Sky Conference."
Honors Candidates

Defense

Brent Oakland
Senior Inside Linebacker
6'2, 226

Brent follows a long line of hard-nosed, physical-type linebackers who have worn the copper, silver and gold Grizzly uniforms. He is UM's second leading returning tackler. Last season he had 73 tackles, 40 of which were unassisted, and five were for losses. He was the team's second leading interceptor with three. The fifth-year senior had 48 stops as a sophomore, including eight for losses.

Says Donovan: "Brent has been a defensive leader for us the past two seasons. He has a no-back-off attitude and is a rallying point for the defense. His 4.7 speed and bull-like tackles make him a top Big Sky linebacker."

Shawn Poole
Sophomore Defensive Tackle
6'4, 250

Shawn came on like blockbusters in his initial collegiate season, not only seeing a lot of action, but actually starting a couple of games. He was the third leading tackler on the defensive line with 34 stops and had three for losses of minus 18 yards. "Shawn has the best temperament for a defensive lineman I've seen since I've been coaching," said DL coach Mike Van Diest. "He is an excellent pass rusher and has an outstanding future."

Says Donovan: "A starter as a frosh, Shawn was voted Outstanding Freshman by his teammates and heads into the 1983 season as a heralded sophomore. His performance improved weekly and we consider Shawn a top prospect at his position."

Cliff Lewis
Senior Defensive Tackle
6'2, 245

A second team All-Big Sky selection, Cliff is not only one of the best linemen in the Northwest, but also a very durable player. He started in all 12 Grizzly games last season. He was the leading tackler on the line with 77 stops in 11 regular-season games. He had 45 unassisted stops, seven for losses of minus 33 yards. He ranked eighth in the league (on the line) in tackles.

"Cliff has great quickness and intensity," said coach Mike Van Diest. "He has great athletic ability, and is a strong, intimidating player."

Says Donovan: "Cliff proved he was a premier defensive lineman in 1982. His abilities make him a target of concern for offensive linemen. He has the speed of a linebacker and the strength of a defensive lineman."

Malcum Sorrell
Senior Outside Linebacker
6'1, 205

A three-year letterman and starter, Malcum is one of the quickest players on the team. He excels in blitzing situations. Last season he had 33 tackles in only three-plus games, including two for losses. He also had an interception and a blocked kick. He had 42 tackles as a sophomore.

"Malcum is deceivingly strong for his size and his outstanding speed gives him an added edge," said OLB coach Mike Johnson. "He gives us an added dimension at outside linebacker."

Says Donovan: "Malcum is an outstanding athlete and is considered by our coaches to be one of the quickest, toughest outside linebackers the Grizzlies have had in recent history. His speed and nose for the football make him a top calibre Big Sky performer."

The Big Sky Athletic Conference enters its 21st season of operation coming off another outstanding season in 1982-83.

The Big Sky, last season for the second straight year, had two teams invited to play in the 12-team NCAA Division I-AA Collegiate Football Championship playoffs as league champion Montana and Idaho represented the conference in post-season play. In basketball three teams, Weber State, Montana and Idaho had 20-win seasons marking the first time in Big Sky history that three teams have reached the 20-victory plateau during the same season. Weber State was the winner of the Big Sky’s Post-Season Basketball Tournament and represented the league in the NCAA Basketball Tournament. The University of Idaho became the first Big Sky member to ever receive a National Invitational Tournament (NIT) bid.

The Big Sky’s success on the field and court was evident at the turnstiles during the 1982-83 season. As a league, in football, the Big Sky averaged almost 11,000 spectators per game ranking fourth among all I-AA conferences nationally. The Big Sky was third nationally (among I-AA conferences) with over 69% of stadium capacity. In basketball the conference was ranked 12th among the 29 major basketball playing conferences with a 5,028 average per game.

As usual the Big Sky had its share of All-America selections. In wrestling Weber State’s Gary Scriven was selected as was Boise State’s Jake Jacoby (high jump) in indoor track and field along with Weber State’s Farley Gerber (3,000-meter steeplechase) and Nevada-Reno’s Derrick May (10,000-meters) in outdoor track and field.

The Big Sky Conference conducts championships in eight sports, including cross country, football, wrestling, basketball, golf, tennis and indoor and outdoor track and field. Eight institutions are currently members of the league that has an NCAA Division I-AA affiliation in football and an NCAA Division I affiliation in all other sports including an automatic berth to the NCAA Basketball Championships to the conference champion.

Charter members of the Big Sky are the University of Idaho, Moscow; Idaho State University, Pocatello; University of Montana, Missoula; Montana State University, Bozeman; and Weber State College, Ogden, UT. Boise State University, Boise, ID; and Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, joined the league in July 1970. The University of Nevada-Reno was admitted to the league July 1, 1979.

The Big Sky has member schools in five states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th of the total square miles in the continental United States). The five states included in the Big Sky Conference (Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah) span from the Canadian to Mexican borders.

The name “Big Sky” originated in a novel authored by A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Montana in 1947 entitled The Big Sky. Jack Hollowell, former Montana Advertising Director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman Review called for the conference to be named “the Big Sky Conference” in his column of Feb. 20, 1963. On Feb. 25, 1963, the conference name was adopted by the presidents of the newly formed league during a meeting in Spokane, WA.

Ron Stephenson, 39, is only the fourth commissioner in the 20-year history of the Big Sky Conference with all of his 18 years of experience as an administrator coming at member institutions.

The personable Stephenson has had the unique experience of witnessing the evolution of the league since its inception in 1963 as a student, coach and athletic administrator. He replaced Steve Belko who retired as commissioner on July 1, 1981. Belko succeeded John Roning as the Big Sky’s third commissioner in 1977. Roning served with the league from 1971-77 assuming the duties from Jack Friel who served as the Big Sky Commissioner from its inception in 1963 to 1971. The conference offices were located initially in Pullman, WA until Roning moved the headquarters to Boise on July 1, 1971, where they have been ever since.

A native of Idaho, Stephenson came to the Big Sky from Boise State University where he served as assistant athletic director since February of 1971. He attended Twin Falls, Idaho High School and is a 1965 graduate of Idaho State University with a B.S. in business administration. He received his masters of business administration degree from the University of Idaho in 1971. While at the University of Idaho he served as the institution’s ticket manager and head tennis and wrestling coach before becoming an assistant athletic director. During his four seasons as Idaho’s tennis mentor (1967-1970) he guided the Vandals to a 74-23 overall record including four Big Sky titles and four Big Sky ”Coach-of-the-Year” awards.

He is married to the former Patti Judy of Twin Falls, ID and they are the parents of two sons, Mike, 17, and Mark, 15.

Arnie Sgalio is currently serving as the league’s information director, entering his fifth year with the Big Sky since his arrival in 1979. Prior to that he was the sports information director at Montana State University for three years. Barbara Schenk begins her second year as the administrative assistant for the Big Sky.

Call your own time-out.

Some of the best moments in any sport take place right where you're sitting. Because where you're sitting can be a great place to cool the action.

Just grab a hold of a sizzling hot dog, spread the mustard thick, and drown your thirst with an ice-cold Pepsi. Nothing makes food taste better and good times last longer than Pepsi-Cola. And Pepsi is just as close to where you're sitting as the refreshment stand.

Go ahead. Right now is a great time to call your own time-out...and call for plenty of great-tasting Pepsi-Cola.
On October 1, this card will dramatically change the way you do banking.

Wherever you are in Montana First Bank country, you will be able to withdraw cash from checking and savings, make deposits into checking and savings, transfer funds between two accounts, and check your account balance with your First Bank Card.

Now, more than ever, a First Bank card gives you a choice of when and where you do your banking.

Today's Top Five

Bruce Baumgartner, a wrestler from Indiana State University, was undefeated during his senior year, leading to his NCAA championship. Baumgartner earned an NCAA postgraduate scholarship with a 3.77 grade-point average in industrial arts education.

John Elway, an all-America quarterback from Stanford University, holds several NCAA passing records and was the first sophomore ever named as the Pac-10 player of the year. Elway does volunteer work with the Palo Alto Community Association of the Retarded and participated in the NCAA-ABC Football Promotion Tour and the Fiesta Bowl-NCAA Drug Education Program.

Lacrosse's McLoughlin Trophy winner, Richard Giusto of Virginia was the number one midfield goal scorer in the country last year with 30 goals and five assists. The economics major was named to the University of Virginia's Raven Society, the school's outstanding award presented to 30 individuals from the graduating class.

Charles "Karch" Kiraly, volleyball player from UCLA, helped the Bruins to three national championships in volleyball and twice won most-outstanding-player honors. Kiraly, another NCAA postgraduate scholarship winner, is enrolled in a premedical curriculum majoring in biochemistry.

Nebraska's Dave Rimington is the only two-time winner of the Outland Trophy, symbolic of the nation's best lineman and also was named as the recipient of the Lombardi Trophy during the 1982 football season. Rimington is a National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete and a two-time academic all-America.

Five former intercollegiate athletes were selected by the NCAA as recipients of the Silver Anniversary awards, which are to honor former student-athletes who have led distinguished lives after outstanding athletic careers in college 25 years ago.

Silver Anniversary Awards

Currently U.S. Ambassador to the Philippines, Mike Armacost was a six-sport letterman at Carleton College and still remains among the school's all-time scorers in basketball. Armacost began his association with the federal government in 1969 when he joined the State Department.

Richard Censits, an all-Ivy League performer in basketball at the University of Pennsylvania, is vice-chair of the Penn Athletic Advisory Board and is a member of the Alumni Committee on Athletics. Censits joined the Campbell Soup company in 1975 as vice-president and chief financial officer.

The first NCAA athlete to record a "double" in the 880-yard run and the mile run, Ronald Delany is the assistant chief executive for the British and Irish Steam Packing Company. Delany won four NCAA titles while a member of the Villanova track team and won an Olympic gold medal in the 1,500-meter run in 1956.

Aubrey Lewis was a three-year letterman at halfback for Notre Dame and was an NCAA champion in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles as a member of the Notre Dame track squad. Lewis currently is vice-president for security and administrative services for the F.W. Woolworth Company and is past commissioner of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority.

Since lettering at quarterback and halfback at the University of Michigan, Jack Loumsa has logged more than 24 million miles in space as one of the original 19 astronauts selected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Loumsa piloted Skylab 3 in 1973 and also served as commander for the third orbital flight of the space shuttle Columbia.
Since young men began competing in athletic endeavors, our society has developed selection processes that seek out those who have excelled. Individual awards and recognition for an athlete's performance on the field of competition long have been a valued part of collegiate athletics. All-America, all-region and all-league honors are things to which each athlete on the field today aspires.

Over the years, there has been a growing interest on the part of the nation's athletic administrators to recognize and reward those college students who truly represent the term "student-athlete" in every proper sense. There has been a growing awareness to recognize those individuals who have demonstrated excellence both on the field of competition and in the classroom. To be labeled an academic all-America rightfully has come to represent the epitome of achievement for today's collegiate athlete.

The term academic all-America was used first in 1954 when the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) decided at its annual meeting in Chicago to establish a national program that would select worthy football players who had distinguished themselves in the classroom as well as on the field. As time went on, CoSIDA added similar programs in basketball and baseball.

In the mid-1970s, women's basketball was added to the program. In 1982, the first women's academic all-America team in volleyball was selected. The first women's softball team was selected this past spring.

In addition, CoSIDA established academic at-large programs for men and women at its 1982 national convention in Dallas. Those programs enable student-athletes not included in one of the other specific sports to earn academic all-America kudos.

"We are ecstatic about the continued growth and awareness of the academic all-America program," said Howard Davis, sports information director at Massachusetts and immediate past president of CoSIDA. "We in CoSIDA have recognized the selection of these teams as a top organizational project."

John Toner, president of the NCAA, which joined CoSIDA in 1980 in its effort to select and recognize outstanding student-athletes, echoed Davis' feelings.

"The student-athlete concept long has been in the forefront of this Association's reason for existence," said Toner. "The Association is pleased to provide the financial assistance necessary to spotlight outstanding individuals who not only have demonstrated excellence in a sport but in the classroom as well."

As befits such an award, the selection process is demanding. CoSIDA has divided the nation into eight geographic districts. Each district has an academic all-America coordinator who stays in touch with the sports information directors in the area. To be nominated for academic all-America honors, a student-athlete must have at least a 3.20 grade-point average (on a 4.00 scale) during the previous academic year. Student-athletes must have been in residence at their current institution for at least one year and must be a starter or key reserve.

Sports information directors mail their nominations to the district coordinator for inclusion on the university or college division ballots. Updated biographic data (academic and athletic) also are included. The coordinator takes these nominations, prepares a district voting ballot, mails the ballot to sports information directors in that district and then calculates the votes when they are returned. Members of the district academic team then become eligible for the national ballot.

The district coordinator sends those results and further updated biographic data of the individuals to a national chair. The results of the eight district teams are used to compile a national voting ballot and sent to the CoSIDA membership, which numbers more than 1,000. They are instructed to vote for a certain number of individuals, depending on the team, and to return the voting ballot to their respective district coordinator. Votes from each of the eight areas are tabulated and sent to the national chair, who announces the academic all-America team after final computations.

It is a long and demanding process; but the results, in terms of the caliber of the teams and individuals involved, have been quite impressive.

Many college football coaches would be very happy to compete on the field with the 1982 CoSIDA Academic All-America Football Team. Quarterback Todd Blackledge (3.90 in Speech Communications) of national champion Penn State, center Dave Rimington (3.21 in Business Administration) a two-time Outland Trophy winner from Nebraska, wide receiver Cormac Carney (3.67 in Psychology) of Rose Bowl champion UCLA and Washington's Chuck Nelson (3.47 in Business), who established a new NCAA record for consecutive field goals last year by connecting on 25 of 26 attempts, headlined an offensive unit that had a combined grade-point average of 3.60.

The defense, which featured such players as Georgia's Terry Hoage (3.85 in Genetics), had a combined grade-point average of 3.65. The quality of these outstanding students on the field further is demonstrated by the fact that 18 of the 25 players selected on the first team participated with their teams in postseason bowl games last December and January.

Montana School Songs

"Montana, My Montana," by George H. Greenwood, '04
Our chosen state, all hail to thee,
Montana, my Montana;
Thou hast they portion with the free,
Montana, my Montana.
From shore to shore, from sea to sea,
Oh, may thy name full honored be,
Symbol of strength and loyalty,
Montana, my Montana.

"Up With Montana," by Dick Howell
Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe,
Old Montana's out for a victory;
She'll shoot her backs around the foemen's line;
A hot time is coming how, oh, brother mine.
Up with Montana, boys, down with the foe,
Good old Grizzly'll triumph today;
And the squeal of the pig will float on the air,
From the tummy of the Grizzly Bear.

"Fight, Montana," by "Bill" Kane, 1920
Hail, copper, silver, gold,
Borne by our warriors bold,
'Tis the flag of the grizzly bear;
See those Bruins tearing their way down the field!
We know they never will yield, Montana.
On we'll go and trample down the foe.
Let's go, Montana, we love the fray.
The grizzly fight, fight, fight will bring victory.
Let's go, Montana, we'll win today.

Everything you need, when you need it.
