Mick Delaney was named the interim head football coach at The University of Montana in March of 2012 and became the permanent head coach in July of 2012. He replaces Robin Plrugrad whose contract was not renewed after serving as UM’s mentor the previous two seasons.

Delaney recently completed his fourth season as an assistant coach at Montana, working with the running backs, and was also an associate head coach. He had retired from coaching two months prior to assuming the position as UM’s interim head coach.

He was instrumental in the development of running back Chase Reynolds, who rushed for 4,067 yards and a school-record 52 touchdowns the previous three seasons.

A veteran mentor, Delaney began coaching in 1964, and this will be his 28th season at the collegiate level.

Originally from Butte, he came to Montana from Colorado State where he was an assistant coach for former head coach Sonny Lubick for 15 seasons from 1993-2007.

Former Griz head coach Bobby Hauk hired Delaney in 2008. Plrugrad retained Delaney as the lone official holdover from Hauk's staff.

While at CSU, Delaney coached some of the finest running backs in school history, including five first-team all-conference selections such as Cecil Sapp (2000). Sapp was a finalist for the Doak Walker Award as the nation's most outstanding running back and set a school rushing record with 1,601 yards in 2002. Sapp went on to play with the Denver Broncos.

Prior to coaching the Rams, Delaney was the head football coach and athletic director at Western Montana, Dillon, in 1991 and 92. He served as the athletic director at Montana Tech in Butte from 1983-85.

Delaney began his coaching career in his hometown at Butte Central High School (1964-67) as head wrestling coach and assistant football coach. He also taught English at Central.

Delaney was an assistant football coach under former UM head coach Jack Swarthout from 1968-69. He was the head wrestling coach at um at that time as well. He then moved on to Great Falls High School (1969-76) where he taught English and was the assistant wrestling and track and field coach. He coached on Lubick’s staff at Montana State from 1978-81.

He earned his B.A. in education at UM-Western (Western Montana College) in 1964. He is an inaugural inductee into the Western Montana College Sports Hall of Fame and was honored by the Montana Coaches Association in 1972 as the Wrestling Coach of the Year. In 1974 he was named the Football Coach of the Year by that organization. He also belonged to many associations during his athletic career including the Montana Coaches Association.

Mick and his wife Cheri have three children, son Mike, daughters Shauna Basile and Melissa Ossello, and nine grandchildren.

The Big Sky Conference unveiled its new logo and branding campaign Monday as part of the leagues' Summer Kickoff in Park City, Utah.

- A new era in the Big Sky Conference begins in 2012-13 as the league enters its 50th year of athletic competition, and its 25th sponsoring women's collegiate athletics. The Division I Big Sky Conference welcomes the University of North Dakota and Southern Utah University into the fold as full members. Cal Poly and UC Davis join the league as affiliate members in football, where the league competes at the Championship Subdivision level (formerly I-AA).
- The additions of North Dakota and Southern Utah give the stable Big Sky 11 full institutions and 13 football members. The current lineup includes four of the six charter members: Idaho State University, The University of Montana, Montana State University and Weber State. Northern Arizona enters its 43rd season in the conference.

- Eastern Washington University joined the Big Sky Conference in 1987, followed by Portland State University and Sacramento State in 1996. The Big Sky became a nine-team league in 2006 with the addition of the University of Northern Colorado.
- The league has become one of the strongest Division I conferences in the West and is a national leader in the Football Championship Subdivision.
- The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members – Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.
- The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001.
- The Big Sky now includes nine states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Red River Valley of North Dakota. The league is represented along the entire west coast with institutions in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado.
- On Feb 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled “The Big Sky.” Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. While on a track and field trip from Pocatello, Idaho, to Missoula, Montana, legendary Dubby Holt of Idaho State saw a “Welcome to Big Sky Country” sign as his team entered Montana. Holt, and his athletes thought “Big Sky” would be a perfect name for the new conference. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.
- The Big Sky sponsors championships in 15 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf and soccer. This upcoming spring, the Big Sky will sponsor a softball championship for the first time.
- In 1988-89, the Big Sky Conference first began sponsoring women's sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women's sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had men's programs. The Big Sky merged with the Mountain West in 1988, forming one league for both men and women.
- Doug Fullerton, the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, is in his 18th year at the helm. Fullerton took over the Big Sky on July 1, 1995, replacing longtime commissioner Ron Stephenson, who passed away in 2011. Stephenson served the league for 14 years. Steve Belko was the commissioner from 1977-81, while John Roning held the post from 1971-77. The first league commissioner was Jack Friel, who served from 1963-71.

For 13 consecutive semesters, The University of Montana student-athletes have maintained an average cumulative grade-point average above 3.0. In autumn semester, UM's 272 athletes maintained an average cumulative GPA of 3.06, compared to the 2.91 GPA earned by the general student populations. The UM women's cross country team led with a 3.69 GPA.

The University of Montana's Katrina Drennen and Bryan Waldhauser were recognized as the school's 2012 Grizzly Cup recipients.

Originally the award was presented annually to one Montana senior (male) student-athlete who excelled athletically on the field/court/track, as well as in academics, and who also represented the University well in the community. Starting in 2009, the Grizzly Cup was awarded to two athletes: one given to UM's male student-athlete of the year, while another goes to the school's outstanding female student-athlete.

Drennen was a four-time All-Big Sky Conference performer in cross country and a five-time Big Sky track champion.

Waldhauser, a former walk-on, began UM's Master of Business program in the fall of 2011 and maintained a 3.56 GPA in that curriculum. He earned his undergraduate degree in business management at Montana, accumulating a 3.62 GPA. He was voted to the 2011 Capital One Academic All-American Division I football first team (along with teammate Bobby Alt) by CoSIDA (College Sports Information Director's of America).

Montana won the 2011-12 Big Sky Conference Men's All-Sports Trophy in May, 2012. It is the first Men's All-Sports Trophy for the Grizzlies since 1970-71 and just their second since the inauguration of the Big Sky Conference in 1963.

Montana is currently in possession of the Sterlings Bank Presidents Cup. The Grizzlies won their second Cup in July of 2011 with second-place finishes in both athletics and academics.

For more than 100 years, people have been working for the railroad in Montana. Today, 1,700 Montana residents work for BNSF Railway, earning a combined payroll of more than $113 million each year. And BNSF has spent more than $110 million, creating over 100 new jobs, in our state in recent years. With operations in Billings, Glendive, Great Falls and Havre, our shared tradition runs deeper than ever.

DOMINIC SHELDEN
MONTANA HOSTS BIG SKY CONFERENCE NEWCOMER SOUTH UTAH IN CRUCIAL LEAGUE CONTEST

MISSOULA, MONTANA - With still plenty of football remaining it might seem like a bit of an overstatement to label today's Big Sky Conference game against the Southern Utah Thunderbirds as a crucial contest. It is the sixth time the two teams have played, but it will be the first league encounter today, as SUU is one of four teams that joined the conference in 2012.

The fact is, that indeed it is a BIG one for the home-standing Grizzlies, and the rest of Montana's four conference games after today will all be BIGGIES as well. Montana is in the proverbial old back-to-the-wall situation right now, and it cannot afford another set-back if it hopes to advance to post-season play in 2012. Even an 8-3 regular-season record does not guarantee the Griz (3-3) a playoff berth in this new-and-improved, 13-team league.

The Thunderbirds, at 2-4 overall and sporting the identical (1-2) Big Sky record that the Griz have, are in an even more precarious position. Their playoff hopes are dim at best, but this is a squad that scored 31 points at Cal (a 50-31 loss), beat Portland State (49-42), and narrowly lost to Montana State (24-17) and Sacramento State (27-22). They are a dangerous team, and they can relate to where UM is right now in regards to having its back-to-the-wall.

The Grizzlies are coming off a must win, 40-17, at Northern Colorado. UM got off to a slow start in Greeley but continued its stellar running game, rushing for 294 yards and three touchdowns. They were led by senior halfback Peter Nguyen with a career-high 159 yards, while redshirt freshman quarterback Trent McKinney gained 55 yards and rushed for two scores.

More importantly was Montana's turnover advantage, 5-0. That was not only huge in terms of the win, but also significant in the fact that the Griz had a total of eight turnovers (to two for the opponents) in two narrow league losses to Northern Arizona (41-31) and Eastern Washington (32-26).

"We played great defense the whole day (at NC), right from the get-go, up until the middle of the fourth quarter," said Griz head coach Mick Delaney. "I think our guys were as well prepared as they've ever have been since I've been here, at least from a mental standpoint.

"Peter had a great game at running back again," Delaney said. "Our offensive coaches made some adjustments at halftime that worked very well for us. The frustrating thing for us last weekend was the penalties (9 for 92). We've really got to get that cleaned up this week. We were hungry for a win, which you always are. We played two outstanding teams in NAU and Eastern Washington and came up short, so this was really important for our guys to go out and play a good, overall football game."

The one constant for the Griz has been their rush defense, which is ranked 15th in the country, allowing 110.5 yards a game. On the other hand, UM has struggled a bit in pass defense and ranks 101 (out of 122 teams) in that category, giving up 250.5 yards per contest.

Nguyen has rushed for a team-high 440 yards, while recently injured senior running back/fullback Dan Moore has gained 406 in five games. McKinney has gained 350 yards and scored a team-high 6 TDS, while sophomore Jordan Counts, tight end Hayden Craig, defensive end Tyrone Holmes, defensive tackle Caleb Kidder, wide receiver/returner Chase Naccarato, and wide receiver Taylor Walcott. Montana has 20 redshirt freshman on its active roster.

33-2-Are the Grizzlies' record in the 195 games they've played so far in WGS.
6th-In the nation in sacks with 1.08 a game is Wagenmann ranked.
6th-In the country also is Montana's team ranked in sacks, averaging 8 times for 138 yards.
173-22-Is the Grizzlies record in the 195 games they've played so far in WGS.

GRIZ CAPTAINS: Offense-28-Nguyen; Defense-37; Tripp; Special Teams-35-Dan Moore and 41-Caleb Walden.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

MISSOULA COUPLE HONORED WITH THE HAL AND SHAREE FRASER AWARD

Renowned artist Monte Dolack and his wife, Mary Beth Percival, are a western Montana staple. The two have contributed greatly to the artistic community of Missoula and to the state as a whole.

The Hal and Sharee Fraser Missoula Community Service Award, presented to Monte and Mary Beth at today's game, recognizes support of and service to The University of Montana and its athletic programs, as well as service to hometown communities, in this case, Missoula. It is presented by UM and coordinated by the Office of Alumni Relations, Grizzly Athletics and the Grizzly Scholarship Association.

Dolack graduated from UM in 1974 with a bachelor’s degree in fine art. Percival also graduated from UM with a bachelor’s degree in fine art. She grew up in Montana's Big Hole and Boulder valleys, where her father worked as a ranger for the U.S. Forest Service.

A Great Falls native, Dolack has created numerous pieces of artwork that have been donated to various charities and organizations, including Defenders of Conservation, Great Falls High School and the Lewis and Clark Interpretive Center near Great Falls.

In addition to creating more than 200 artwork and posters for organizations, Dolack and Percival also operate a studio located in the heart of downtown Missoula.

At the turn of the century, the Missoulian named Dolack one of the most influential Montanans of the 21st century. Dolack and Percival both recently received the distinguished Fine Arts Alumni award from UM.

In addition to creating beautiful art here at home, the husband and wife have traveled extensively through the United States, Europe, Mexico, New Zealand and Japan, visiting important cultural sites and museums to inspire paintings of their travels.

PERKINS PROFESSOR OF THE WEEK – RHEA ASHMORE

This week's Perkins Professor of the week is Dr. Rhea Ashmore, a professor in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction at the Phyllis J. Washington College of Education and Human Sciences.

Dr. Ashmore received her B.A. in English from the University Rhode Island in 1971. She received her M.A. in Education in 1974 also from URI. She received a Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study from Boston University in 1977 before heading west where she received her Ph.D. in Education from the University of Montana in 1981.

Literacy is Dr. Ashmore's specialty, particularly working with education and literacy in China. Dr. Ashmore is a member of the Montana State Reading Council and the National Council of Teachers of English.

She has published several papers on her literacy research and currently writes a monthly column called Big Mouth English for the School Kids Times, a Chinese magazine for English language learners.

"Student Athletes are tremendous to have in my classroom," Ashmore said. "I feel that I learn just as much from them and their life experiences than I can teach them."

Dr. Ashmore enjoys golfing, hiking, reading, traveling and the Griz.

Jordan Sullivan knows what it takes to succeed on and off the court. A valedictorian and prep star in her hometown of Sidney, Montana, she’s now a junior and an integral part of the Lady Griz. Her talents led to a University Honors scholarship, as well as the Mike and Sandy Persha Athletic Scholarship. With that kind of support, she can spend more time on studies and athletics, and less time worrying about funding her education. You can assist Jordan and other deserving students by contributing to scholarships.

National Advisory Board for Grizzly Athletics

Mission Statement
To advise, consult, and serve The University of Montana Athletic Department in an effort to nurture the long-term success of its programs, businesses, and activities.

About NABGA
Established in 2001, the National Advisory Board for Grizzly Athletics (NABGA) is a group of successful individuals with passion and commitment for UM Athletics. All members volunteer countless hours and work in partnership with the Director of Athletics to promote greater understanding of the department’s programs and accomplishments. NABGA members strengthen ties with individuals, groups, and businesses and serve as ambassadors for UM programs. Members serve an initial three-year term with an option for an additional three-years. After the terms have been fulfilled, members move to the Don Read Society and continue to play a vital advisory role to the athletic director and department.

Board members are encouraged to support the Athletic Department through their own and/or corporate contributions and assist in strategic fundraising activities. NABGA is a vital part of the volunteer leadership network serving the University, together with the Board of Regents, The University of Montana Foundation, the Alumni Association, and the Grizzly Scholarship Association.

Recent projects
At the first meeting of NABGA the members agreed to take on the Hall of Champions project in the Adams Center to enhance recognition of the rich history and tradition of UM Athletics and The University of Montana. Jim Kastelitz of Missoula was passionate about the project and was elected by his peers as Vice Chairman. Two months later, Jim died unexpectedly and the board subsequently determined to pursue the Hall of Champions project in honor of his memory.

Other projects include: Washington-Grizzly Stadium north endzone expansion, establishing Invest in Discovery capital campaign priorities for athletics, Washington-Grizzly Stadium suite renewals, fifth-year scholarship endowment, athletic department strategic planning, and the funding of practice baskets in the Adams Center and air-conditioning of the men’s locker room area.

Donors to The University of Montana deserve proper recognition for their financial support, all of which benefits the student-athletes and programs. UM Athletics makes every effort to ensure the accuracy of donor listings.

Mistakes can happen, however, despite our care and good intentions. If you notice an error, please contact Kent Haslam, Associate Athletic Director-Development for Grizzly Athletics, at 406-243-6294 so corrections can be made. Others may also have made commitments to UM Athletics through a will or other planned gift instrument that might not be acknowledged in this listing. If this is the case, please let us know so we can give it proper attention.

Memberships in the Grizzly Scholarship Association and the various specialty clubs offered by UM Athletics are not included in donor totals listed above, although we thank individuals for participating in these programs.
