Statement of Senator Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) in Regard to Secretary Dulles's Attack on McCarthy Radio Speech ---

(Given to AP and UP - December 1, 1953)

I think that Dulles showed he understood the responsibilities of his office and America's responsibilities as the leader of the free nations of the world. It is one thing to talk about and berate our foreign policy and another to actually make it and carry it out. The times call for unity of action on the part of all Americans -- regardless of party -- and the cooperation of free men everywhere to withstand the menace of Communism confronting us today. I agree with Dulles that we do not want satellite partners but nations who, on their own initiative, will continue to build up the defenses of freedom, a better understanding among peoples, and a mutual recognition of the self-respect inherent in our concepts of liberty.
