THAT MAY DAY CARNIVAL

MAY POLE DANCE ON THE CAMPUS AT SEVEN O'CLOCK SHARP.

MARJORIE ROSS IS QUEEN

All the Associations Will Have Some Sort of Amusement—Dancing To Commence at 10 o'clock.

Tomorrow evening is the time and the place is the gymnasium. This is the oft repeated phrase of instruction current during the past week. It refers to the big annual May Day Carnival to be held tomorrow evening in the gym. Although the students have had less than a week to assemble new ideas, to formulate these and get their stunts in good shape, yet everybody has "dug in" with a will, and the third carnival is going to be better than any before given. This is the phrase of assurance that issues from the Central Committee, and they that know anything about the Carnival, all the big stunts, the various class doings, certainly know the right report.

Although the Kaimin has knowledge of certain stunts which will be seen tomorrow, it has been sworn to secrecy only to the extent that it will not divulge the stunts outright. The big event and feature of the Carnival will be the May Pole dance, to be held on the campus at 7 o'clock. The May Queen, Miss Marjorie Ross, of the Junior class, has selected her court, and they will be ready tomorrow evening with the festive exercises that will crown her Queen of the Carnival. She will be attended by two pages, Grace Rankin and Nina Gough, while her four faithful spear bearers will keep her from harm and act as her body guard. These have been selected as follows: Mary Henderson, Edna Hollenstainer, Lucile Marshall and Gladys Freeze. The Garland Girls, which will come next in the procession, have been selected as follows: Louise Bell, Abbie Lucy, Margaret Lucy, Ethel Hughes, Annabelle Robertson, Roberta Satterthwaite and Fay Wright. Following the Garland Girls will come the May Pole Girls, Isma Eidell, Carrie Wharton, Nan Vivian, Louise Smith, Helen Metcalf, Mabel Cowell, Renee Henderson, Florence Sleeman, Alice Mathewson, Frances Foster, Rose Leopold, Edith Steele, Hazel Lyman, Gladine Lewis and Flora Averill. After the crowning of the May Queen on the campus, she will be escorted to the Gymnasium, where she will formally open the Carnival and the fun will be on.

Upstairs in the balcony will be the big feature of the Carnival, the "Aerial Roof Garden." This is the Pan Hellenic stunt, and only those who are actively at work on it can tell of the attractiveness which it will offer to the merry-makers. The upper floor of the Gym will hold small tables, each decorated appropriately with flowers and ribbons. Innumerable nooks and cosy corners will be where the merry-makers may find time to while away. Ice cream, cake, wafers and coffee will be served, and probably other dainties will be offered. This will prove a favorable place to the older folks, who will be able to obtain a full view of the fun below while resting. The Engineers have leased the largest available room

DR. REYNOLDS BANQUETED

By the Cast of "Le Malade Imaginaire"—A. E. Leech Acted as Toastmaster.

To show their appreciation for the work which he has done, the cast of the annual play, "Le Malade Imaginaire," gave a banquet Tuesday evening in honor of Dr. G. F. Reynolds and others who assisted in staging the play and in making it a success. The banquet was held in the Missoula Hotel and at about nine o'clock a delightful menu was served, at the conclusion of which, toasts were responded to. A. E. Leech acted as toastmaster and responses were as follows:

"My Experience as a Dramatic Coach," Dr. G. F. Reynolds.

"Dr. Reynolds, Our Peerless Leader," D. D. Richards.

"The Drama as a Permanent Feature in University Life," Miss Mabel Smith.

"Paint and Powder in My Stage Career," Miss Fay Wright.

"Villainous Success," Miss Laura Johnson.

"Le Malade Imaginaire on the Road," Robert C. Line.

The cast of the play was present, and Professors Reynolds, Alvin Cox, F. C. Scheuch, Mabel Smith and Mary Stewart were the guests of honor.

FINAL NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE.

The final number of the University course was given last evening when Laurant the magician gave his entertainment at the Harnois theater. This concluded the lectures for the season and work has already been started on the course for next year.

Mr. Laurant is a man of world-wide reputation and presented a most interesting and varied performance. Many of his tricks have been taken and adapted from the Orient, and, in fact, the whole program was tinged with oriental magic. This feature of the evening made the number most interesting as these Turkish and Persian tricks have never been presented in Missoula before.

The stage was of more than usual interest last night as the magician carries all his own stage setting, which makes it look like a magical palace. This added greatly to the mystery of the feasts of the Hindoo

JUNIORS WIN WITH FORTY-SEVEN POINTS—FRESHMEN A CLOSE SECOND.

THE COACHES ARE PLEASED

There Will Be a Handicap Meet Next Wednesday Afternoon When Varsity Team Will Be Chosen.

In a meet that was filled with interest from the time that the first hurdle race was run till the last few seconds of the quarter mile, the Juniors were able to win the honors over the Freshmen and prove themselves victorious in the annual Interclass meet, held last Saturday, on Montana field. With a perfect day and no wind, the events were warmly contested and the cheering crowd evinced much interest as each race was finished. No records were broken, but good time was made in most of the races. The athletes were in such an excellent condition that there is no doubt that their performance at the triangular next month will be a credit to the institution.

The Juniors Win.

The final score for the Juniors was 47; the Freshmen were scored with 44; the Sophomores third with 33 and the Seniors fourth with 2. The high-

INCREASED LEGISLATION

Executive Committee of A. S. U. M. Hold Busy Sessions—Much Business Transacted.

At the special meeting of the Executive Committee of the A. S. U. M. last Thursday afternoon, much routine business was transacted. After much discussion, the day of the Merrie May-Day Carnival was placed at the date that has been reserved for it. An action of much concern to the track men was that the A. S. U. M. manager was instructed to order a full track equipment for the track squad. These suits will consist of the regulation running pants, regulation maroon jersey with a white sash over the shoulder and some letter to distinguish the squad men. This is not mistaken for the regulation track "M," which is granted later to men who have competed up to the close of the track season, during which time he must have won five or more points in the regular collegiate meets during any one season.

Delegate at Large McCowan was instructed to order "M's" for the orators and debaters. The little gold "M's" are now in the process of making and will be granted to those who earned them in the near future.

At the regular meeting of the committee, Monday evening, much business concerning the Carnival and Triangular Track Meet was transacted. A "stunt" in which every man and woman in the University will present a uniform appearance was presented and indorsed by the committee. Full details and regulation of the "stunt" will be presented to the student body at a meeting of the A. S. U. M., calling for Wednesday at Assembly period. A slogan of the meet was adopted and will appear in all the Meet advertising. Watch out for it and pass it along.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

During the past few weeks President Duniway has been fully occupied with his trips of inspection throughout the state. Last week he visited the high school at Hamilton, and later on in the week made a trip of inspection to Phillipsburg. At that city he inspected the school and in the evening delivered a lecture, taking as his subject the large modern legislatures and speaking of his visits to the English Parliament, the French Assembly and the German Reichstag.

STUDENTS' PLAY SUCCESS

ONE OF THE BEST "STUNTS" OF THE ACADEMIC YEAR.

RICHARDS WAS THE STAR

Misses Fay Wright and Cornelia MacFarlane Were Pleasing—Prof. Reynolds Showered with Success.

The University play is over, but the remembrance of one of the best "stunts" of the academic year will linger in the memory of every one present. It was a hit from start to finish. The "Le Malade Imaginaire" is an old French farce and the production of its last week transferred the audience in thought if not person, back to the times of Moliere. The production was a revelation and if any of the audience expected an ordinary "local talent," they were agreeably disappointed. The moment the play started, the interest was aroused, and it did not flag a second until the final curtain rang down.

In the part of Argan, the hypochondriac, D. Dudley Richards was undoubtedly the star of the performance. His conception of the flighty, irascible old man was very creditable and the success of the play was largely due to his efforts.

Miss Fay Wright made an altogether adorable and winsome Toinette. She was exceptionally clever and was greeted by storms of applause at every appearance.

Miss Laura Johnson handled the role of Beline admirably, and, although her part was not so important as those of Argan and Toinette, she made a big hit.

Miss Cornelia MacFarlane, as Angeliqne, and Roscoe Wells, as Cleante, did well in their roles, and their duet in the second act was particularly well received.

The other characters were all well taken care of, and the work of every member of the cast showed hard work and careful training.

The settings were all typical of Moliere's period. There was no scenery, only the necessary furniture, and the stage was small. Part of the light was furnished by candles, as was the custom at that time. Before the curtain was raised for the first act, Thayer Stoddard delivered a prologue in French, and throughout the performance two pages in court costume did the work of the modern stage hands, setting the stage to rights while the play was going on. Not a detail was overlooked and every setting and every costume was perfect.

The Gypsy dance, which was introduced at the close of the second act, was well done and heartily applauded. That the audience appreciated the performance was shown by the fact that after the play was finished the applause lasted for nearly five minutes, until Dr. Reynolds had responded to a certain call, in which he thanked the audience for its attention and support of the play.

The cast of characters was as follows:

The Orator .....Thayer Stoddard
Argan, the Hypochondriac .....
.....Dudley Richards
Toinette, the maid in Argan's family .....Fay Wright

Student initiative, student responsibility and true college spirit has triumphed. The new gymnasium floor is assured. The story is short yet the results are boundless.

The scheme was presented to the student public three weeks ago by means of a Kaimin editorial. At the time of the writing the Associated Students had agreed to subscribe $50, providing that the remainder of $150 should be raised voluntarily among the other various organizations of the University. This was the beginning of a campaign to save one of our oldest commencement traditions on the campus.

Without any urging, without a word, without any lobbying by those interested, each class met and voluntarily subscribed an appropriate sum. From start to finish the whole movement has been within the ranks of the students. Not even until the whole sum was raised, did the President of the University take any part, then, simply to accept the donation of the University's loyal students.

"I am grateful to the men and women of the University for this expression of self-help," said Dr. Dunaway. "The University had not contemplated repairing the old gymnasium floor, but now, with this turn of things, a new floor is assured. I certainly appreciate the efforts of the students."

The plans for the new floor are being contemplated and every one can rely on a first class floor. The contract will be awarded as soon after Interscholastic as possible. The honor and privilege of christening the new floor will be to the Juniors at their Prom.

DIGGING UP OF THE HATCHET.

If you happened to see anxious faces, worried looks and many secret whisperings, just tell yourself that it is the War Dance Arrangement Committee. For the War Dance is to be a reality. So much is it a real thing that heap big Chief Leech has let out some of the Council's medicine. As has been said before it is hoped to make the War Dance representative of the passing of the Freshmen. So naturally the whole plot centers around the youngsters. If the Red Men speak straight signs the outline will be something as follows:

A procession will be formed by all the eligible braves in the tribe, bedecked in full feathers and war paint, with the Freshy Prex tied and guarded by six of the braves in charge of the Chief of the Braves. Noise is a necessary adjunct to the whole "stunt," so that tom-tom beaters will be there in plenty. The other various and motley array of chiefs will lead the procession, circling the football field. There the exercises for the evening will be held. A long and interesting code of ceremonies has been prepared and will be acted out on the scalping grounds.

The various tribal officials, closely adhering to the class officials, are as follows:

Chiefs.
A. E. Leech, (Senior Prex) Big Chief of Ceremonies; J. C. Johnson (Junior Prex) Chief of the Braves; D. D. Richards (Soph Prex) Chief Scalper. E. E. Hubert, Chief Medicine Man.

The Braves in charge of the captive are H. D. MacLay, H. T. Forbis, W. E. Ryan, C. S. McCowan and Ray Dinsmore.

By this time every man who will take part in the dance should be preparing for the dance. Every upper-classman in the University is asked to join in the ranks of the Braves. The more men that are out the better the showing for the High School men that will be our guests

CLARKIA.

Clarkia has decided to repeat her stunt of former years and have a candy booth at the carnival. As heretofore, this has proved most successful, both in adding to the evening's enjoyment and especially in a financial way. Committees to take charge of this affair have been appointed as follows:

Decoration. Helen Weaver, Rose Leopold, Florence Leech, Renee Henderson, Gertrude Whipple.

Candy—Willie Clanton, Glays McLean, Hazel Bugterine, Marjorie Ross. Sale—Edna Roseau, Carrie Wharton, Florence Matthews, Edna Hollenstein.

THE AFTERMATH.

From the Washington State College Weekly Evergreen we find the following story of the recent Washington State College-University of Montana debate. We are complimented by that paper in its headline, which says: "Strongest team ever sent by Montana defeated in most stubbornly fought contest."

Part of the story is given as follows: "An enthusiastic audience saw one of the strongest debating teams Montana has ever sent to Washington State College defeated before the men representing the crimson and gray. From the very beginning it was a contest of remarkable interest, first one side building up, then the other tearing down, never the least bit of leniency spared on either side for weakness. Not like the greater number of collegiate debates, leaving the hardest points to the ablest and strongest speakers, but each debater attacking the arguments presented and speaking directly to the point.

"The question was: Resolved, That a commission form of government should be adopted by cities of the United States.

"In a clear, forceful manner Mr. D. C. Warren opened the argument of the affirmative for Montana. He defined the council system laying emphasis upon the fact that the functions of city government should be conducted into one body; that the city is an administrative unit and that a commission form of government is essential to establish control upon a business basis.

Mr. B. J. Schneider opened the debate for the negative. He answered the argument advanced by Mr. Warren concerning the functions of the city government by showing that the problems of city government are not purely administrative but both legislative and administrative, and that these bodies should be separated. He then pointed out that the advantages to be obtained under the commission plan could be more readily adopted by changing the outer constructions of the alderman plan, and not by hampering with the fundamentals of our present system which has so far proved successful.

Mr. Line then took up the debate for the affirmative. He summarized his colleague's adjustment and pointed out there are six evils in our present form of city government and cited specific instances where these had been remedied by the commission plan. Mr. Line is a clear thinker and presented his points in a pleasing manner. He left a good impression upon the audience.

"Mr. Seltzer, leader of the team for W. S. C., then closed the consecutive argument for the negative. He briefly summarized Mr. Schneider's speech, emphasizing that the legislative and administrative bodies should not be fused and that a judicial branch is necessary for a reviewing body. He further pointed out the great evils that would arise from the commission plan.

"Mr. Schneider gave the first rebuttal speech for the negative. His speech was exceedingly strong, logical and forceful. He showed that there is no individual responsibility under the commission plan and that instead of being simple the plan is complex.

"Mr. Warren then gave the first rebuttal for the affirmative. He attacked the points made in the former rebuttal speech and showed that experts are not necessary in city government, but should be hired by the men who are responsible for the work done. He closed his speech by a brief discussion of the trading powers.

"Had it not been for Mr. Seltzer's masterly rebuttal, Warren's argument would have seemed most convincing. Mr. Seltzer reviewed the entire debate and weighed the arguments or both sides. His knowledge of the question was probably unsurpassed during the evening.

"Mr. Line closed the debate by reviewing the arguments presented and showed the weaknesses in the negatives outlined. Mr. Line is a fluent speaker and most particularly excelled in clearness of expression.

"The entire audience would have been glad to have the discussion continue. All that remains to be said is, that in such a victory there is glory and in such a defeat no disgrace."

TRACK MEET A SURPRISE.

est individual was made by Captain Ryan, who scored 18 points for the Juniors. His work and that of Harry Maclay, who made 11 points, won the meet for the Juniors, whose work on the track was much poorer than the other classes.

Coaches Pleased.

The coaches are very much pleased with the general outcome. So many men turned out and the meet was so good from every standpoint, that the coaches may reasonably expect their men to stand up well in the coming Triangular. "If the men continue to train, we will stand a good chance to take our share of points in the Triangular," said Coach Cary when the meet was over.

High Hurdles.

One of the exciting races was that of the high hurdles. It was expected that Dinsmore would easily take the race with the rest of the field fighting for places. Instead of having the race to himself, he was pushed every inch of the way by Kennett, who led him until the last hurdle, where he stumbled a little and lost his lead. The stretch was run neck and neck, Dinsmore winning by a slight margin.

The 100-yard dash was a pretty race, Dobson winning with Winstanley as a close second. The position of the men was just reversed in the 220-yard run a short time later. As the race was run on the circular track without lanes, it was hard to judge the outcome. Beard, who had the pole, was boxed and forced behind, giving him only third place.

The Quarter the Best Race.

Possibly the best race of the whole meet was the quarter mile run at the close of the events. Upon it depended the outcome of the day. In it were entered two Freshmen, a Junior, a Sophomore and a Senior. Should the Freshmen win first and second and anybody but the Junior third, the meet would go to the Freshmen. However, if anyone else should get the first or second place the meet would go to the Juniors. Cameron and Spencer broke on the start and were set back. Cameron was the last man out and was fouled by Spencer on the turn. However, he pulled up fast and was able to get the third position by the time he had reached the 220 mark. When the men entered the stretch Beard was in the lead, Buck second with Cameron third. Beard went to pieces on the finish and left the other two men fighting for first. The judges declared the race a tie between Buck and Cameron and gave third place to Beard.

Handicap Race.

Some interesting surprises turned up which will give the coaches a better line on the men. It is quite probable that some sort of a handicap meet will be run next Saturday to finally decide who will enter the Triangular. The trophy offered by President Duniway will be presented to the Juniors at a late date.

Results.

The results of the events and the order in which they were run off was as follows:

120-yard high hurdles — Dinsmore ('11) first, Kennett ('13) second and Johnson ('13) third.

100-yard dash—Dobson ('13) first, Winstanley ('12) second and Beard ('13) third.

Broad jump—Buck ('12) first, Beard ('13) second and Dinsmore ('11) third; distance, 18 feet, 8½ inches.

Pole vault—Hughes ('13) first, Mason ('12) second and Dobson ('13) third; height, 9 feet, 10 inches.

Half mile—Cameron ('13) first, Taylor ('12) second and Bullerdick ('11) third.

High jump—Ryan ('11) first, Kennett ('13) second and L. Maclay ('10) third; height, 5 feet, 4 inches.

Shot put—Ryan ('11) first, H. Maclay ('11) second and Russell ('13) third; distance, 34 feet.

220-yard low hurdles — Dinsmore ('11) first, Johnson ('13) second and Hubert ('11) third.

220-yard dash — Winstanley ('12) first, Dobson ('13) second and Beard ('13) third.

1 mile run—Bullerdick ('11) first, Wells ('13) second and Deuel ('10) third.

Discus throw—H. Maclay ('11) first, Ryan ('11) second and Conner ('12) third; distance, 106 feet, 11 inches.

Hammer throw—Ryan ('11) first,

Maclay ('11) second and Sloan ('13) third; distance, 105 feet, 5 inches.

Quarter mile—Cameron and Buck ('12) tied for first, Beard third.

Officials.

The following men officiated at the meet: Referee, J. W. Rhodes; starter, Robert H. Cary; judges, Dana, Rowe and Kinney; inspectors, Tucker and Woodward; field judges, George Little, M. N. Stickney, Hugh Forbis and George Stone; measurer, D. D. Richards.

fakirs which Mr. Laurant is presenting now for the first time.

Last evening's program proved a very fitting close to the course of lectures. It will be remembered that one more has been given this year, that of Cook, than had been promised. The lecture course committee has already selected the numbers for next year's course and undoubtedly it will be made one of the best ever given.

THAT MAY DAY CARNIVAL.

and will present a screaming travesty. This is all they will say about it now, but The Kaimin assures the readers that they have a treat in store for those who see the vaudeville. Further down the gym will come the Senior play. This has been a center of attraction in former years, and this year they will offer a show as good if not better than before presented. The Freshmen are "on the quiet" about their "stunt," but they have leased a room and are busy about getting their preparations ready. Clarkia have their booth as usual, and they, with the Juniors, will endeavor to appease the thirsty throng. But the Juniors have something better in store. They have promised that there will be a barrel of confetti on hand, and this is welcome news, for those who enjoyed its use last year know how valuable it is to the success of the Carnival and to the increase of the true Carnival spirit.

The Y. M. C. A. have a big space in the south end chartered. They have something good coming up this year, but they wouldn't divulge a word to a Kaimin reporter. So it is. Besides these there are going to be a dozen other equally interesting and attractive features which all should see. The Carnival is looming up well now, and with the assistance of the students will become a record breaker.

of recovery and in spite of the best of medical care she gradually grew worse. Miss Webster was at one time a student here. Her brother Fred, who was called home from the Virginia Military Institute, will be remembered as one of last year's students.

The students of the University wish to express their deepest grief and heartfelt sympathy for her relatives and friends. Miss Webster will be greatly missed by her friends.

A. S. U. M. MEETING.

Another very successful meeting of the Associated Students was held yesterday morning in Assembly Hall. It was called to order by President Line, and he introduced Professor Reynolds, who spoke on the play. His remarks were, for the most part, in appreciation of the efforts of those people who helped to make the play a success, and whose efforts would not be known to the students had not such mention been made. The arrangement of the stage, the costuming, the rehearsing, the lighting, and other many arrangements which were handled by students and others, all helped to make the play the success it was, and had it not been for the willing service given to the play by those who helped, it would not have provided such a success.

Coach Dana then made a few remarks in regard to the track squad. For the purpose of enabling the men to put themselves in better condition for the big handicap meet to be held next Wednesday, Miss Brewer has kindly consented to start a training table at Woman's Hall. Here every noon the men on the squad will assemble, and while it will enable them to become better conditioned, it will also afford an opportunity for discussion of track affairs very favorable toward maintaining the true spirit which has been shown this spring. The training table will be maintained only at noon on each day.

The Carnival was the next subject for discussion at the meeting. The arrangements for selling tickets, for the big parade tomorrow afternoon, and for the various stunts, were all discussed and made known to the students. It is planned that the parade will be out of the ordinary this year, fully ten or twelve machines being used. The students will endeavor to form a unique parade, and to give the proper starting for the carnival in the evening. The manager of the parade has requested that nobody fail to miss the parade and be ready to be called upon to help make it a success.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Helen McCrackin, '99, came down from Hamilton last Friday, to attend "Le Malade L'Imaginaire."

Sue Garlington, '07, spent the week end visiting at her home in the city.

King Garlington, '07, went to Whitehall last week to spend Sunday with friends and to visit the Morrison Cave.

Josiah J. Moore, '07, returned Monday from Rush Medical College, Chicago, and is going to take up his work in the Bitter Root on spotted fever. "Si" has been spending several days at the University and is very much interested in the changes that have been made during his absence. In a few days he expects to commence his summer work with Dr. Ricketts.

SENIOR ENGINEERS INSPECT SUB STATION.

In accordance with the plan of the Engineering Faculty of having the students of engineering visit industrial plants in the neighborhood of Missoula for the purpose of studying the installations, the Seniors last Wednesday visited the sub-station of the Missoula Light and Water Company. The students were accompanied by Mr. Carey, instructor in alternating currents. Particular attention was given to a study of the new switch-board installation and the new rotary converters.
