

WELCOME

It is particularly gratifying to extend greetings to all of you participants in the fortieth Interscholastic. The resumption at the Montana State University of this important state-wide meet is striking evidence that we have turned from a world at war to a world at peace.

The competition, sportsmanship and fellowship received by the fortieth Interscholastic have a place only in a nation at peace and in full possession of its capacities for rich and satisfying living.

We are pleased to resume our role as hosts to hundreds of Montana high school boys and girls. May all of you have the time of your lives and may the fruits of victory be sufficiently distributed for most of you to enjoy a feeling of accomplishment.

Many of you are planning to attend a college or university following your high school graduation. This visit to the University is an excellent opportunity to gain first hand information about the organization and operation of an institution of higher learning. Special tours of the campus have been arranged for you, and faculty members are "standing by" to talk with those seriously interested in university training. By taking advantage of these facilities you can equip yourselves for planning your career after high school more intelligently.

So with an enthusiastic welcome to all of you our honored guests, it's "on with games!"

JAMES A. McCAIN.
