A Knowledge of the True State of Affairs Is All That Is Needed.

In every part of the state, in every community and at every postoffice, representatives of one or the other of the four state educational institutions are campaigning for the tax amendment to the state constitution and the fight will continue at white heat until November 8, when the voters of the state will finally decide the fate of the measure. Publicity has been given the amendment and so far as has been possible a statement of the case has been put before the voters. The newspapers of the state have devoted a great deal of space to a discussion of the amendment, the two big parties have circulated placards and expositions, and have referred to it in their campaign speeches, and the University and the Agricultural College have scattered publicity matter over the state.

It is in the effectiveness of this publicity campaign that the success or failure of the amendment rests. The amendment is not a partisan measure. The danger is not so much in votes against as in too great a number of blank ballots. All that a voter should need in order to form an opinion in favor of the amendment is a knowledge of what it is and what it means. State officials, tax experts, deep thinkers and public leaders have all declared themselves in favor of the amendment. Both the democratic and republican parties have declared themselves in favor of it and the need of the passage of the amendment is obvious as soon as a true knowledge of the case is gained.

Amendment Necessary.

Briefly, the future of the state educational institutions rests upon this amendment. A reduction in running expenses at this time, when the schools are growing, when the state is waking to the need of higher education and the enrollment at all of the schools is so rapidly increasing, would be fatal. The next ten years are going to be years of phenomenal growth on the part of Montana's schools and colleges and a hearty support by the state is necessary.

At this time also the state is engaged in a great work of development. Roads and highways must be built, the state institutions must be changed and fostered and funds are necessary if this growth is to take place.

The Facts.

If the amendment fails it will cut down the revenue of the state by half. The constitution provides that the state tax rate—the assessed value of taxable property in Montana having reached $300,000,000—shall drop from two and a half mills to one and a half mills on the dollar. The state is not in a condition to do this.

The amendment proposes to maintain the present rate until the value

THE AMENDMENT.

Its failure means—

That the state tax rate shall drop from two and one-half to one and one-half mills on the dollar;

That a few cents which would otherwise be contributed to the state will be saved (?);

That the University of Montana and the other state educational institutions will be held at a standstill for years;

That state roads and highways will not be built;

That the state penitentiary, the insane asylum and other such public institutions will suffer;

That appropriations for the state fair and similar affairs so helpful to the growth of the state will be cut down;

That development in Montana will be checked and that the future which now appears so prosperous will be indefinitely postponed.

BULLETIN PUBLISHED

ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF STATE
HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING LEAGUE ISSUED.

The University bulletin announcing the program and plans for the Montana High School Debating League this fall has been issued and is being sent to the different high schools of the state. The question this fall is to be, "Resolved, that American cities should adopt the commission plan of city government." This is the question on which the University team debated last year and it proved at that time to be as well-balanced and as interesting a subject as had ever been used by the school.

The booklet gives a complete list of references on the subject, dividing the articles into negative and affirmative classes, and furnishes the debater with a handbook of the best sort.

Plans have been made by the University this year to encourage debating among the high schools to a greater extent. In order to do this special prizes have been offered. Debate pennants, to which a gold star will be attached, will be awarded to each team winning a debate before April 1. For all other debates won before this time another gold star will be awarded. Each school may have as many teams as it desires and may debate with other schools on any question upon which they may agree. The championship debates will, of course, be on the official question only.

To every member of a team in the league which wins an official debate before April 1, the University will give a special debate medal. The rules regarding the awarding of prizes also say: "To every member of a championship team in a high school, holding, before April 1, a series of debates between at least four different teams within its membership, the University offers a special debate medal."

The other prizes will be the same as in previous years. The state has been distracted as before and the debates will be started as soon as possible.

R. W. CLARK EXPLAINS THE NEED OF UNSTINTED REVENUE
BY THE STATE.

WILL URGE GROWTH

A Maintenance of the Present Tax
Will Allow Montana to Develop.

A tax amendment to the state constitution will be submitted to all voters on election day. Many people do not realize what this means to the future development of Montana. The state is settling up rapidly and land values are increasing at a tremendous rate. This rapid development is due mainly to the efforts of the educational institutions of the state, as the State Fair Association, Agricultural College and Experiment Station, State University, Normal School, School of Mines, Farmers' Institute, Bureau of Agriculture, Labor and Industry, State Veterinary Department, State Board of Livestock Commissioners, State Board of Railroad Commissioners and to hundreds of various kinds of inspectors scattered throughout the state. These are developing the state and they are the most potent factors in making Montana prosperous. Abolish them, and the development of the state will be immediately arrested. This will most likely occur if the amendment to the constitution does not carry. If it is carried, the rate of taxation will not be increased, the present rate of 2½ mills will only be returned. The reduction of one mill in taxes provided for by the state constitution, when the taxable property reaches a value of $300,000,000, amounts to very little, $1.00 on a $1,000 worth of property.

At present property is increasing in value at least 10 per cent per year, making a total increase value of $100 on $1,000 worth of property. If the amendment is lost and the development of the state ceases, there will thus be on every $1,000 worth of property $1.00 saved in taxes and $99 lost in the property failing to maintain the present rate of development. The voter must consider that while the price of property in some states is at a standstill, in Montana it is on a rapid increase. To arrest the development of the state at this time will vitally affect every line of business for people will not locate in a state where there are no such institutions as previously mentioned, or where their development is held back for want of proper support. They will locate in other states where there are good schools of higher education, where contagious diseases common to man and livestock are controlled and where the state protects its people and their interest by efficient supervision of banks, mines, manufacturing, etc. People are contented and the state grows only under progressive conditions.

Labor and capital are both vitally interested in this amendment, for whatever affects one, affects the other. If the development of Montana is checked for the next eight or ten years, there will be a lessened demand for labor, greater competition and undoubtedly an increase in the cost of living. The amendment is important and it should be considered favorably by every voter.

THE AMENDMENT.

Its passage means—

That the present state tax rate of two and one-half mills on the dollar shall be maintained until the state is strong enough to withstand a reduction;

That the taxpayers of the state will pay a few cents more to the government;

That educational facilities will be improved and that the University of Montana and her sister schools will continue to grow with the state;

That a system of state highways may be built and transportation made more easy;

That the state penitentiary and similar institutions will be given money enough to satisfy their needs;

That appropriations to such advertising institutions as the state fair may be continued;

That Montana may continue to develop until she has taken her proper place among the other states of the union.

STUDENT TESTS LAW

MILLARD BULLERDICK PERMIT-TED TO VOTE ON ORDER OF DISTRICT COURT.

Last week considerable excitement was caused by the protesting by the registry officials of some of the University students, who, it was claimed, by the officials, were not legally entitled to vote in Missoula, when their homes were supposedly in other parts of the state. As a result of the challenging, mandamus proceedings were filed in Judge Webster's court by M. S. Bullerdick, on Monday morning. Mr. Bullerdick stated that he had made Missoula his home for the past four years and that he intended to call it his home in the future, and on these grounds the court ordered E. L. P. Ector, the registry agent, against whom the suit was directed, to register certain of the challenged men. Many of the students who expected to be allowed to register as a result of the suit were disappointed and in this way many of the student votes were annulled. Those who live in other parts of the state and are eligible to register there can not use their vote towards the interests of the University, for it is out of the question to expect them to go to their home towns to vote and they are not allowed to vote here on account of the recent and unprecedented challenging of the registry agents; in this way the University loses much of the needed support.

The chancellor of Oxford University has announced that hereafter ancient institutions will insist less on the classics and give more attention to the studies that are practical in every day life.

FAST TEAM FROM LOGAN DE-FEATS VARSITY BY 5 TO 3 SCORE.

GAME IS SENSATIONAL

Contest Is Marked by Long Runs and Pretty Kicking—Officials
Poor.

Utah, 5; Montana, 3. That is the score which stood at the end of one of the most exciting and at the same time one of the poorest games ever played on Montana field. The contest Wednesday, in which the crippled varsity team went down to defeat before the heavy visitors, was complicated and full of exciting moments, and was marked, principally, by poor management on the part of the Montana men and inefficient work on the part of some of the officials.

Utah clearly outplayed Montana, yet its touchdown was undeserved. The home team only made first down three times, while the Logan aggregation pushed the ball ahead ten yards nine times. This difference, was offset, however, by Little's punting, the blonde end averaging 10 yards farther on each punt than Brossard of Utah.

Montana persisted in the first half in trying to gain ground through the heavy Utah line on short quarterback bucks, expecting the substitute backs to carry the ball. In the second half punting was resorted to on the first down and in two cases out of three the Montana ends were so slow that the Utah deepfield man more than made up for Little's superior punting. Only once did the varsity resort to open playing and then ground was easily made. Apparently Montana could have won had open play been used consistently.

Ryan was Montana's big star. He tore through the heavy Utah line to throw the backs for losses time and again and was at all times the strongest man in the game. Little, Winstanley, Deschamps and Maclay also starred. For Utah, Brossard, Lindsay and Egbert did the stellar work, all of them gaining ground easily and playing well on defense.

The visitors leave today for Butte where they will play the Mines team Saturday. The detailed report of the game follows:

Crookston kicks 35 yards to Deschamps, who brings the ball back 15 yards. Thieme hits the line for two yards and Deschamps fumbles, the Aggies recovering the ball on Montana's 12-yard line. (First down.) Paddock is stopped by Captain Maclay without gain or tackle around play. (Second down.) Egbert goes off right tackle for six yards. (Third down.) E. Brossard attempts to advance the ball, but cannot gain. (Fourth down.)

Here the ball should have gone over but upon Head Linesman Vorhis' assertion that it is the third down the Aggies are given another chance and Lindsay carries the ball six yards and over the line. Crookston missed goal.

Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at Missoula, Montana, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

NOVEMBER 3, 1910.

CALENDAR.

Friday, November 4—Maud Ballington Booth, the "Little Mother of the Prison." University Lecture Course.

Saturday, November 5—Gonzaga College-University, at Spokane.

Saturday, November 12—M. S. S. M.-U. of M., at Butte.

Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 24—M. A. C.-U. of M. on Montana Field.

Friday, December 1—The Central Grand Concert Company, University Lecture Course.

On Tuesday next the voters of the state pass finally upon the tax amendment to the state constitution. At the polls on that day the University's immediate future will be determined. If the amendment passes the present growth and development may be maintained; but if it fails, the next two or three or more years will be marked with stagnation.

The alumni associations of the University and the State Agricultural College have been working hard for the passage of the amendment, but the work is by no means over. The fight is just at its height. Go now and offer your services to the committee in charge. They may have something for you to do and they may not. At any rate show that you are willing to help. Show that you have the interests of your university at heart and that you are ready to do your share in this fight for her future.

If you know or hear of anyone who is opposed to the amendment or if you see any one who is ignorant of its meaning, take him an explanation of it or tell him what it is and what it means. Mail copies of the pamphlets issued by the University alumni to your home. Boost hard.

Lack of interest and ignorance is going to defeat the amendment, if anything does, and you should help to stimulate the interest and banish the ignorance to the extent of your ability. The University needs the help of all its friends and if you can help to bring any into line do so and do it now.

Yesterday the University lost a football game to the Utah Agricultural College. Montana had the better team but it lost by poor judgment and head-work. The people of the sidelines always seem to know more about the game than the players and the use of such judgment is foolishly out of the question. But one thing has been evident to all who have watched football practice during the last month that should be mentioned. The varsity seems to be filled with a feeling that it knows more about the game than the coaches, and Mr. Cary has been given poor support since the first of the season.

A little criticism and a grouch develops. If a player is criticised he "gets sore." The men seem to know that there are none to put in their places and they act toward the coaches accordingly. The result is that progress is slow, team work suffers and individual playing is the result. That is what lost the game yesterday and that is the thing which will lose all future games, unless there is a change.

Not all of the men on the team exhibit this feeling, but many of them do and Coach Cary has received none of the support which is his due. Team work and whole-hearted support. Let the varsity get this and the state championship will be easily won.

ROOTERS' CAPS?

How about a rooter's cap? Some pertinent suggestions have been made lately regarding this and some definite plan may be expected soon. It seems to be the common idea that novel and distinctive headgear which shall be worn by University students only, will be an excellent thing. It will give life and color to the football games, it will mark varsity rooters and will permit marshalling and concerted cheering.

The style of headgear which has met with the greatest popularity to date, is a Turkish fez of maroon felt with a gold "M" on the front. Some of the local stores have these in stock now and arrangements are being made so that wholesale prices may be secured. All but Freshmen will be entitled to these hats, according to the present plan, and all will be required to wear them at football games and other contests.

Maude Ballington Booth appears at the Harnois theater Friday evening under the auspices of the University Lecture Course. She is a woman whom we all should know and the opportunity of hearing her should not be missed.

This is the last week before election. Make it count. Advise. Let the voters know what the amendment is and what it means and the fight will be won. Lack of interest, not opposition, will be the greatest foe of the measure.

The tax amendment means a greater University, better roads and highways, better state institutions, a larger population and a better Montana. Is the slight saving in taxes to be held up against such gains?

A special train, reduced fares and the opportunity of seeing the University win the state football championship, should be attractions big enough to draw a record crowd to Butte on November 12.

If the University is to continue growing the amendment must pass. The help of every friend of the school is needed.

Get the "knocking spirit" out of the football squad. One game was lost on account of it, and unless Cary is given better support the rest will go, too.

November 8. See that the University wins its fight that day.

Also remember the 12th and be in Butte to help the varsity defeat the miners.

MONTANA TEAM BEATEN

Time of play, a minute and a half. Score, U. A. C., 5; Montana, 0.

Winstanley kicks 50 yards to Egbert, who comes back 10. He tries to gain again but Ryan throws him for a two-yard loss and when Lindsay is thrown for a loss of three yards on the next play Brossard punts. The ball goes 15 yards to Little, who is downed in his tracks. Little then attempts to drop kick over goal, but the ball goes wide and is brought to the 20-yard line by Brossard. Paddock is stopped without gain on a tackle around play, but on the next play Crookston goes straight through for six yards. Brossard punts 30 yards out of bounds.

Montana is penalized five yards for passing the ball forward from the line of scrimmage and in the next play, another pass, the Aggies take the ball. Crookston plunges through right guard for six yards. Lindsay takes 10 around end and then Utah is penalized five yards for off-side on a quarterback run, which was stopped without gain.

An attempted forward pass by the Aggies goes to the ground. Brossard punts 25 yards to Little and the Utah ends get the blonde end before he starts back. Little punts 45 yards to Brossard and the ball goes out of bounds. Egbert makes 10 yards around right end and Lindsay tears through left guard for five more. Egbert is stopped on the next play without gain and Brossard punts 20 yards to Little, who is downed in his tracks. Little punts 25 yards and Lindsay brings it back 10. Paddock goes around for five yards and Brossard makes a bare yard on a quarterback run. A place kick is attempted, but it is blocked and the ball recovered by Dobson. Time is called for the first

FIRST FRESHMAN DANCE

THE UNIVERSITY "INFANTS" ENTERTAIN AT A SUCCESSFUL HOP AT GYMNASIUM.

Yes, the Freshmen are a pretty good bunch, even if it doesn't do to inculcate this dangerous belief in their tender and unsophisticated young minds. It might take root in the wrong place; oh, my, and then we'd have to go through a weeding process, and we really haven't that much time to spend on them, even if in their infantile ignorance they haven't yet discovered that there are three other unimportant, of course, classes in the school. Therefore, whisper it.

Rather, though, to speak in the vernacular of the "Freshy," the dance was a "howling" success from start to finish. No, sir, they didn't forget to order the punch, and in that youthful fallacy, "if a little bit is good, a good deal is better," they had a good deal of punch, of course, and there wasn't a thing done to the floor either, much to the secret chagrin and disappointment of Freshy, who was going to guard that door in a fashion that would have put Horatious to shame, and he was cheated out of any opportunity to win everlasting glory in the eyes of his lady love by "d-d-tending her with his life," as one ardent and chivalrous young infant was heard to declare, for the young maidens were allowed to proceed to the gym in perfect peace, and, cruel shame, the young cavaliers deprived of the much-cherished hope of making "the grade entrance." Of course, it was only a bluff, but it certainly would be expecting precocity (?) to think a Freshman could fathom that.

Yes, the Freshmen were all there, beaming and smiling in that self-satisfied way that Freshmen only can, and, indeed, they had a good time. Of course their high school is still a big thing on their horizon, and they indulged in more circle two-steps and other dances than college dignity would sanction; but on the whole they behaved admirably and were most delightful entertainers.

For a first-time venture the Freshman dance was indeed a howling success, and "here's to little Freshy, for he's a jolly good fellow."

quarter with the ball on Montana's 22-yard line.

Second Quarter.

Thieme and Dobson made two yards apiece on bucks off tackle. Little punts 20 yards and ball rolls out of bounds. Utah fumbles for an eight-yard loss and an attempted forward pass is intercepted by Dobson. Crookston catches a Montana forward pass and carries it 25 yards toward Montana's goal. Maclay stopping him after he has passed all others. Utah fumbles for a three-yard loss and F. Brossard falls to make ground on an end around end play. An attempted place kick is fumbled for a 10-yard loss and the ball is recovered by Montana. Deschamps goes through the line for four yards on a straight buck. Little is thrown for the loss of a yard on an end around end. Little punts 45 yards to Brossard, who fumbles, Dobson recovering the ball. Thieme makes four yards off tackle and follows it up with a gain of three yards through the same hole. Utah is penalized five yards for off-side. A forward pass is intercepted and the ball changes hands.

Lindsay goes around end for two yards. Little catches a Utah forward pass and runs 40 yards to the Aggies' two-yard line. Winstanley makes a yard through the line. Montana is penalized five yards for helping the man with the ball. Dobson is thrown for a four-yard loss. Utah intercepts a forward pass, but the ball is called back and the visitors penalized five yards for interfering with Little on the pass. Thieme is thrown for a two-yard loss on a straight buck and Ryan is unable to gain. Winstanley kicks the ball between the uprights from the placement on the 18-yard line. Score—Utah, 5; Montana, 3.

Crookston kicks 40 yards to Deschamps, who brings it back 17. A forward pass from Winstanley to Little is good for 20 yards. Ryan is thrown for the loss of a yard and Little punts 50 yards to Brossard, who returns the ball 20. Crookston goes straight through for three yards. Hancock is thrown for a three-yard loss by Ryan, and Brossard punts 20 yards to Little, who gets back three before he is downed. Dobson sneaks past tackle for two yards. Maclay is stopped without gain. Little punts 35 yards out of bounds. Lindsay goes around right end for eight yards and Crookston makes it first down through the line. Time is called for the first half with the ball on Utah's 53-yard line.

Crookston kicks 35 yards to Dobson, who comes back 12. Little punts 50 yards out of bounds. Egbert makes two yards through right tackle and goes through the same hole immediately after for a yard's gain. Brossard punts 35 yards and Little brings the ball back five. Little kicks 40 yards and Crookston makes six through right guard. Lindsay gains three yards on a fake kick. Crookston goes through the line for four and a quarterback buck by Brossard is good for a scant yard. Brossard punts 25 yards to Little and he comes back three. Little kicks 35 yards to Brossard, who runs back 10. Lindsay hits the line for two yards.

Bennett here replaces Gleason at left guard. Lindsay goes around end for five yards and Egbert circles the other for two. The ball goes over. Little punts 35 yards and Winstanley recovers the ball and carries it four yards before he is downed. Little punts 15 yards out of bounds. Hancock is stopped after a gain of a yard. Brossard punts, but the ball is brought back and Montana penalized 15 yards for interfering with the end within the 20-yard zone. Lindsay is thrown for a yard loss. Egbert circles the end for four and Brossard punts 30 yards to Little, who is downed in his tracks. Little punts 30 yards to Brossard, who is tackled without gain. Utah is penalized 10 yards for holding.

A forward pass from Winstanley to Little nets 12 yards. Deschamps circles right end for seven and Thieme makes four on a forward pass. Deschamps goes around right end for five yards. Crookston intercepts a forward pass. Hancock is thrown for a three-yard loss by Ryan. Lindsay goes through the line for seven. Time is called with the ball on Montana's 54-yard line.

Fourth Quarter.

Brossard's punt is blocked and Thieme recovers the ball. Utah intercepts a forward pass and the ball again changes hands. Paddock makes four yards over left tackle. Egbert circles right end for nine yards. Lindsay goes around left for 20 and Egbert goes straight through for two. Utah loses five yards on a fumble. A place kick goes wild and is brought back 10 yards by Little from under the goal posts. Little punts 40 yards to Brossard, who comes back 10. Egbert makes 10 yards on two successive bucks. Paddock goes around for six yards and Lindsay's line buck results in no gain. Egbert circles end for four yards. A safe kick is good for 25, Egbert carrying the ball straight through the line. Egbert is stopped by Bennett with a gain of a yard and on the next play Winstanley prevents him from gaining at all. Montana is penalized five yards for off-side. Lindsay makes a yard through the line and Crookston plunges without gain. The ball goes over.

Little punts 30 yards to Brossard who returns it 10. Lindsay is stopped by Little without gain. Egbert goes through right tackle for three yards. An attempted place kick goes wild and

VARSITY BADLY CRIPPLED

CAPTAIN MACLAY, WINSTANLEY, DORNBLASER AND DAY WILL NOT PLAY IN SPOKANE.

The second team of the University of Montana will leave on No. 3 at 12:45 A. M. Friday, to try conclusions with the Gonzaga team at Spokane, Saturday afternoon. The team will be greatly handicapped by the absence of Captain Maclay, who is laid up by a "charlie horse" received in the Utah Aggie game and Winstanley who also received injuries during that contest. Dornblaser and Day are still out of the game and will not accompany the squad to Spokane, but it is expected that they will be out to practice in the near future.

Among those from whom the team will be picked are the following: Beard, Bennett, Conner, Deschamps, Dobson, Fredell, Kirkwood, Little, Reardon, Ryan, Simpson, W. Thieme, F. Thieme and Gleason.

Owing to pressing business Manager Forbis will not go with the team and Coach Cary will take care of the financial responsibilities of the trip. Either Dr. Warren or Arthur Bishop will accompany the squad and will in all probability act as an official.

TO BUTTE WITH THE TEAM.

On Saturday, November 12, "The Team" plays against the Miners in Butte. This will be the championship game of the season. Should the Butte team defeat Montana on that day they will lead and will be necessary for Montana to beat the Aggies by more than 14 to 0. Should the varsity win, the championship will be ours, no matter what the result of the game with the Aggies may be.

In view of this fact the boys should have all the support possible when they play in Butte. Not in five years has the varsity won in the Smoky City, so strong is the atmosphere there charged with home team spirit. To offset this Montana should send up a delegation which will infuse a little varsity spirit into things and give the team some support.

If 60 people will agree to make the trip a special car can be secured and a round-trip rate of $4.85 will be given. The car can go to Butte on the Saturday morning local and the rooters may return as soon or as late after the game as they desire. The expense will be small and the cause great.

Miss Mamie Burke, class '10, who is teaching at Thompson Falls, spent Saturday in Missoula.

PLEDGES ARE ANNOUNCED BY UNIVERSITY SORORITIES

The sororities of the university announce the following pledges as a result of the "bidding" on Friday last.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Hazel Murphy, Farrar Kennett, Edna Brandenburg, Josephine Hunt and Evelyn Polleys.

Kappa Alpha Theta—Grace Saner and Alice Hardenburgh.

Sigma Tau Gamma—Adelaide Stanley, Madge Beatty and Bessie Wilde.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS.

The Princeton University library has been increased to the extent of eighteen thousand volumes.

The girls of the University of Minnesota have a fireside hour every Thursday afternoon, where they gather to rest or sew and listen to readings.

Announcement is made in New York of the formation of a new national organization to be called the Cash Prize League. The object of the league will be to revive professional athletics in this country. While reviving that game, it is hoped that the movement will, at the same time, tend to purify the amateur ranks.

SIGMA CHI ENTERTAINS.

The local chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Bowes (Margaret Illington) at the fraternity house following Mrs. Bowes' performance in "The Whirlwind" Tuesday evening. A light luncheon was served, and Mrs. Bowes kept the party in an uproar with stories of stage life. Mrs. Bowes' two brothers are members of the fraternity.

POLISH PLAYER PLEASURES

HAROLDI CHARMS SMALL AUDIENCE AT UNIVERSITY WITH VIOLIN PLAYING.

Haroldi, billed as the greatest, and certainly a wonderful, violinist, delighted and charmed an audience Monday night, which was far too small for the attraction. The concert was given in the main hall of the university and either the remoteness of the hall proved too great or the attraction of William Faversham too strong, for the audience was unusually small.

The concert, however, was worth a crowded house. Haroldi is a master with his instrument, and his rendition of the program was brilliant and pleasing. The usual trickery and play of the concert violinist was missing. Haroldi did not need it. He has a power of giving life to his music which appeals to critic and layman alike, and the audience showed its delight by frequent calls for encores.

Every number was worth the price of admission, and the range of the program prevented monotony and gave added charm to the concert.

The program rendered follows:

SuiteGoldmark
Concerto, G minor.....Bruch
Vorspiel, Adagio, Finale.
(a) Romance, G major.....Beethoven
(b) MinuetteMozart
(c) ConzonettaD'Ambrosia
(d) ZephyrHubay
Ballade and Polonaise.....Vieuxtemps

A COMMUNICATION

To The Weekly Kaimin:

If there is any one thing that is necessary to a winning team of any description it is the spirit of determination. Many an inferior eleven has played better individual men off their feet by a display of bulldog pertinacity and fight that could not be gained. Individual playing is a valuable asset—no one will deny that—but unless it is backed up by team work and a spirit to beat the opponent at any cost it does not amount to much.

To a casual observer of the Montana eleven in practice and in games it immediately becomes evident that the men are not imbued with the spirit that makes winning teams. There is hardly a player that can be picked out of the local squad, who will fight his opponent with the desperation that is needed to score touchdowns. After watching a few practices a spectator finds himself possessed of the idea that there is an indefinable something wrong. For a long time he cannot place his finger on the spot, but finally he realizes that the feeling among the players themselves is not what it should be. Minor dissensions are frequent.

The coach, who should be all-powerful on the gridiron, is not treated with the obedience which is his due. Orders are executed half-heartedly and with a grudgingness that bodes no good for a championship team. Training is not observed with due care by the members of the eleven. During the recent game with the Utah Agricultural College a touchdown would have been scored had the man carrying the ball been in the condition that would have allowed him to run the last 10 yards with the speed of the first.

Whatever the reasons, the fact remains that with championship men, championship form is not being displayed and the men are not playing as they should.

AMENDMENT CAMPAIGN

of taxable property shall have reached $600,000,000. This will give the state time to adjust itself for the change and will not be so disastrous. When the change comes, moreover, the rate shall drop only to two mills.

No increase in the state tax is made by the amendment. The present tax is merely maintained and the difference amounts individually to almost nothing. It has been pointed out that taxes in Montana are higher than in any of the neighboring states, but this difference is due to the excessive county and city taxes. The state taxes are no higher.

The passage of the amendment means that a "saving" of a few dollars will be passed by. On the other hand it means that Montana shall have money enough to continue her present growth, enough money for development to place the state in its proper place in the nation. It means that progress shall continue in Montana, and that instead of stagnation for the next three or four years there shall be steady growth. There can be but one side to the question.
