FAMOUS ACTOR SPEAKS ASSEMBLY INTERESTING STUDENTS PAY RESPECTS A WET DAY TOMORROW TRACK WORK BEGINS

GIVES TALK TO STUDENTS ON THE SUBJECT OF MODERN ACTING.

INTERESTING SPEECH

Different Points of the Actor's Art Illustrated by Catchy Recitations.

Sidney Drew, who appeared last night at the Harnois theater in "Billy," delivered an interesting lecture at the University yesterday afternoon on the founding of a national school of acting. His lecture was well attended, despite the fact that the first call for track candidates drew most of the men and was much appreciated. He spoke in part as follows:

"There is no profession in the world which demands such a wide sphere of knowledge as that of the stage, and no other profession which comprises so many people who lack even an ordinary education.

"It is a common belief that to be an actor one does not require an extensive education and certainly no special course. It is deemed that genius and personal attraction are the only requisites for the art of acting, but the greatest success has only been attained by a widespread knowledge of its ethics. Acting, like every other profession, requires intelligence, learning and skill. A man cannot become a doctor without having a fundamental education and a thorough knowledge of his work. So it is with law, theology and every other profession, even to that of fighting. But, on the other hand, aspirants to the stage see into think they have merely to walk before the footlights to become actors. No possible degree of efficiency can be reached under such existing conditions. Some 25 years ago the actor was better educated than he had to be. In the old stock days this work was more varied, one night he would play comedy, the next tragedy. He was required to simulate both old age and infirmity. He had to portray all manner of foreign people, and above all, most of his work was in the classical plays of the stage. He was obliged to know his Shakespeare and his Sheridan, for he heard them every night and imbibed the value of their thoughts, wether e would or no. He had to think of his costumes, would look them up in a costume book, and thereafter unconsciously he became informed of the customs and the habits of the period of the play to be presented. He had to sing and dance, as for instance the great E. L. Davenport would play "Hamlet" one night and William in "Black-eyed Susan," in which he danced a hornpipe, the next. All this gave character to their lives and variation to their thoughts. The actor of today has no such compulsory schooling, hence, in my small way, I make my plea for a national school of acting where he would be taught the branches of learning requisite to him in his profession.

MINNESOTA MAN GIVES THE STUDENT BODY A BRILLIANT ADDRESS.

Yesterday morning in Assembly Hall Mr. Harris, a Minnesota graduate, delivered a very instructive and entertaining talk on the "Brotherhood of Man."

His talk was snappy and right to the point and was thoroughly appreciated by the student body. Mr. Harris asked permission to be allowed to help coach the football team next year, and at the conclusion he gave one of Minnesota's famous yells. The student body responded with several rousing yells, which were very much appreciated by Mr. Harris.

The orchestra rendered several selections which were received well, after which the assembly adjourned.

FACULTY PLANS.

At a recent meeting of the University faculty a plan was adopted in regard to the new law department to be presented to the state board for their approval. The plan requires that all law students be required to have at least two years of collegiate work to their credit before being admitted to that department. This standard is approved of and used by all the larger schools in the country and should be adopted here.

The special work of the law course will require three years and will be conducted after the same manner of the other branches of the college. At the end of this course the law graduate will receive not only the degree of B. A., but also that of L. L. B. As some people may wish to take a law course at the University but not care practically for a degree, the University will allow students of mature age to enroll without taking two years' preliminary work. To these persons, however, no degree will be granted and the only requirements will be that the applicants be of mature age and that they have had the regular four years of high school work.

With the requirements enforced the law school of the University of Montana will be as good as any in the Northwest. The appropriations which have been made will provide amply for the maintenance for the first two years and the gifts of Mrs. Dixon of the extensive law library and of $5,000 for additional books will make possible a very auspicious opening of the new department next September.

SOPHOMORE ASSEMBLY.

The committee in charge of the program for the Sophomore Assembly has been busily at work considering an entertainment for the assembly allotted to them. Their decision is a one-act play or farce. Miss Smith helped the committee in the selection of the play, and also selected the actors. "The Misdemeanors of Nancy" is the title of the farce, and those who are to take part are Mildred Ingalls, Florence Mathews, Louise Smith, George Stone and Roscoe Wells.

TO UNIVERSITY'S PIONEER PRESIDENT DR. O. J. CRAIG, BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTES PAID.

ALUMNI AND FRIENDS

Bid Last Farewell to Their Faithful Friend at the Gate of His Campus.

From Main Hall, the very cornerstone of that institution to whose development he gave his best years, the monument of his first material accomplishment of the University of Montana, Dr. Oscar John Craig, its founder and first president, was paid last Friday afternoon the respects and tribute that only few lives reap.

In the very atmosphere in the Auditorium, where the large assemblage of students, friends and relatives were gathered about Dr. Craig's remains, could be felt the love and respect tendered the dead man lying there.

On the platform behind the body, officiating over the funeral services, were men whose friendships with the doctor dated back to his college days; to his pioneer days in Montana. With these was also the man who immediately succeeded to the former president's chair. In their eulogies there sounded a tone of enthusiasm in the men's desire to let be known the true worth of their departed fellow. The college bell in the tower above seemed as if it were imbued with the same eagerness to proclaim, on this last occasion, over the man, dead, below, and pealed out—one, two, three, and at the end of the services tolled out in even more mournful tones—one, two, three, four.

The program was as follows: Selection, "Largo (Grieg) Orchestra. Opening prayer, Rev. H. C. Gatley. Scripture Lesson, Rev. E. E. Burtner. Hymn, "Crossing the Bar," Tennyson. Memorial address, Hon. John M. Evans.

Hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," Philharmonic Chorus.

Address, for the Faculty, Professor F. C. Scheuch.

Address, for the Alumni, Hon. Harold Blake.

Hymn, "Now the Laborer's Task Is O'er," Philharmonic Chorus.

Address, for the University, President C. A. Duniway.

Benediction, Rev. J. N. Maclean. Selection, Funeral March (Fischer), Orchestra.

After the funeral march, composed by the musical director of the University, and dedicated to Dr. Craig, the student body escorted the remains to the gates at the edge of the campus, on which was spent so much of the doctor's best life.

The memorial address was delivered by Hon. John M. Evans. "Let us, in the brief time allotted, ask for what Dr. Craig stood, what he sought to accomplish, what were the component parts of that moral and spiritual entity

TUG OF WAR BETWEEN THE FRESH. AND SOPHS. PROMISES EXCITEMENT.

The annual tug of war between the Freshmen and Sophomore classes of the University is announced for St. Patrick's day, March 17. This interesting event will take place across the river, just above the Van Buren street bridge. The contest will start at 3 p. m. sharp.

For several days the men of the two classes have been practising and trying out all of the men in the various bunches to see who will put up the best pull for the weight. Both teams must be of the same weight and the maximum will, in all probability, be 1,500 pounds.

This annual occasion this year will be a very spirited contest. The Freshmen class is the biggest ever and has some big men in it. The feeling runs high, though friendly, between the two classes and every one that sees the "pull" will see something in which the best effort of every man is made. Everyone is anxiously awaiting this affair, and it is a certainty that the banks will be lined with spectators from the University and town. That Labs. will be suspended at 3 p. m. has been practically assured by most of the Faculty.

The following joint committee will act as masters of ceremonies: Seniors Dinsmore, Forbis and Bennett. Juniors, Winstanley, Baker and O'Rourke. The men on each team who fail to weigh in by Thursday at 4 p. m. at the Gym will be disqualified.

A dance will be held in the Gym Friday evening as a sort of celebration.

CHEMISTRY CLUB.

The last meeting of the Chemical club of the University occurred in the physical laboratory of the chemistry department. Professor Hill delivered the principal address and took as his subject "Branches of Organic Chemistry." His remarks were wholly introductory and intended to stimulate an interest among elementary students in this branch of the subject. Mr. Hill also dealt at some length upon the formation of various compounds, and told in a very instructive manner of the principles at the foundation of organic chemistry. Mr. Conrad, a student specializing in the study of chemistry, gave a review of the life and work of Professor Ehrlich, who is one of the most prominent of the world's scientists. Mr. Ehrlich's recent discoveries have startled the world. Conrad's discussion of this great man was highly appreciated.

At the conclusion of the program a delightful repast was partaken of.

Governor Folk will speak in the Assembly Hall at 11:30 today. All students and friends of the University are requested to be present.

MASS MEETING HELD IN GYM—ENTHUSIASTIC SPORTS REPORT FOR WORK.

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

Work Was Outlined for Coming Spring by Captain, Coach and Manager.

The track opened officially on Monday evening when the largest aggregation of track material that has ever been out on the first call reported at the Gym. All those present showed the real get-together spirit and made it felt that they were there for business.

Work Outlined.

The first talk was made by Coach Cary. He said that the prospects had appeared good to him for a long time but the 65 men present made a good team a certainty. He also outlined the work for the first few weeks and said that he wanted active out-door work to begin right away by the sprinters and distance men. The hurdlers and field men will work out in the Gym for a while yet. He spoke of the meet with M. A. C. and also told of some other dates that were under consideration, but could give nothing definite on them as yet. The point he emphasized throughout his talk and the point he wants to get to every male student is that he will be glad to see all out, eligible or ineligible, because it is the competition that makes a track team, and these eligible men will give the men that can make the team a good run and thus help the team wonderfully.

Captain Ryan Talks.

Captain Ryan was the next speaker, and in a few words told the men that they would have to be regular in practice and that nothing but hard work would be tolerated. The prospect he said looked very good to him.

"Bish" and Toole

Next came the old track star and general all-round athlete, "Bish," who followed up the captain's talk and said he stood ready to do everything in his power to develop a winning team.

Allen Toole, formerly captain of a U. of M. track team, and high jump record holder of Cornell, was next called upon. He told of athletic feats that had been accomplished by fellows who thought they could do nothing, and said how pleased he was at seeing the large turnout.

Good Prospects.

Taken as a whole, the prospects for a winning track team were never better. We can all help to make this the best organization that has ever been turned out of the U. of M., and so the only thing to do is everybody put their shoulder to the wheel and help the team along.

Josephine D. Buckhouse, '06, who is spending the winter at the Buckhouse home near here, attended the funeral services of Dr. O. J. Craig.

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1911.

CRAIG HALL.

There has been a movement afoot for several years for the purpose of changing the name of Woman's Hall to that of Craig Hall, and at this time it seems that nothing more appropriate could be done.

The memory of Dr. O. J. Craig will live in the University of Montana forever; it is certainly not out of place to name one of our buildings for the man who gave up everything in order that the University of Montana should be a credit to the community and to the great state it represents.

The occupants of this building are, and have been in the past unanimous in the opinion that Craig Hall would be the most appropriate name that could be given to this building, and their belief is shared in that respect by the entire student body.

The time is ripe for immediate action; let's get together on the matter at once and act.

SPRING ATHLETICS.

The spring call for men to participate in athletics has been sounded. It is up to the men of the University to get out. The mere fact that one has not had experience along this line should not stand in the way for a single instant.

Just because a man is not a star in track, or a seasoned baseball player he should not think for a moment that he is not needed. He is. Every able-bodied man in the institution is needed and there should be enough college spirit in us to see that all men report to the Gym each evening at 4 o'clock.

Coach Cary firmly believes that we have material in college this year that will take everything before us, and if he is given the proper support there is no reason that his prediction should not prove true.

We have won one championship this year. Now is the time to get in and dig and before the year is completed we will be able to add another to our credit.

ONE VIEW.

Now that the Soph-Fresh spelling has been declared off, it has been noticed that the members of each of the respective classes have been breathing much easier. We feel inclined to believe that the much-heralded event would never have taken place and that the match was one grand "case of bluff" and neither wished to give in. However the case may be, it is a pretty safe bet that the event will never take place.

LARGER PAPER.

With this week's issue of The Weekly Kaimin the paper takes another step forward, increasing its number of pages from four to six. The enlargement was necessitated by the fact that some of the most important news of the week was continually being "shelved" on account of lack of space.

Due to the merchants of the city the change is made possible, for without their liberal help in regard to advertisements it would not have been possible. So we say to you, the student body of the University of Montana, PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS, and if you do happen to purchase goods at an establishment who are not advertisers, ask them why not.

TO JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, ESQ.

Having received a number of gasoline engines, in the form of donations, it would only be right for some one to donate gasoline, oil and batteries to make the donation complete.

MUDDY MUD.

While it is not the policy of The Kaimin to criticize the city government, it certainly does use the ire of those unfortunate students who happen to be standing on a crossing on Higgins avenue, waiting for a car, to have a vehicle come along and splatter them from head to foot with nice, goozy, oozy, sticky mud. In other words, it is pretty certain that the paving question is heartily approved by the students of the University of Montana and the sooner the better.

NO EXPRESSION TOO STRONG.

The Standard of recent issue says: "Not until the harem skirt is equipped with hip pockets, however, may its wearer be called a pantaloonatic." We disagree. The wearers of this contraption (can't be called a dress), should be called almost anything the moment they don the outfit.

DELIGHTED.

Be sure and mark April 11 in your date book in red letters, as it will be a holiday and Colonel Roosevelt will address the student body on a subject of his own choosing. The fact that Mr. Roosevelt has only two stops in Montana, Helena and Missoula, should serve to heighten the interest in his visit, and there will no doubt be a record-crowd present.

SLUFFING FOR FUSSING.

At a recent meeting of the Glee Club there were several of the active members absent, due to the fact that they were busy, yes busy, at the Dorm. It seems that when the case gets so serious that it is impossible for the young man to break away for the short period of one hour something ought to be said. If a young man feels so strongly on the matter the best thing that we can suggest is that he retire from school and make this occupation his vocation. Fussing in moderation is a good thing; in fact, it is a decidedly good thing, but as in everything else there is a limit, and when that limit is reached it is time to quit.

CAMPUS CUTTING

Too Common a Habit for Students to Take "Air-Line" From Building to Building—Must Stop.

For some time past the Kaimin has been advocating that the students of the University and others keep on the sidewalks when walking around or on the campus. The Kaimin has done this of its own volition and has done it because it thinks that this is a matter that is to the interest of all, and especially important if we are to keep our beautiful campus in the good-looking condition that it has been heretofore.

Now it has become imperative that this matter receive more attention. Spring is here and with it will come the new grass. That is the point, the new grass. If we insist on not walking on the walks we will kill this new grass before it gets a chance to take root. The result will be a series of "cow" paths all over the oval.

The Kaimin sees this and is going to start an active campaign against this offense. It feels that this must STOP, and it is going to make every effort to see that "path-making" does stop. From now on the names of all persons seen "cutting" will be printed in these columns without fear or favor, so that the student body may know just who it is that does not think enough of his or her Alma Mater to try to keep the campus looking the best of any institution in the West.

There will be more notices later.

RESOLUTIONS.

"We, The class of 1911, alone remain as undergraduates in the University to speak from experience of the departed ex-president and founder of our University, Oscar John Craig. Three years have gone since we received our first university instruction and guidance under his care. Now, as we are about to leave our University, the sad news has come to us that our friend and adviser is gone. The time of our association with him was brief, indeed, yet pleasant and fruitful. The one year we spent with him in the institution he founded and labored to advance, can never be forgotten. Future years may dim the memory of events in our college life, yet none can drive from our minds or take from our hearts the fond memory of Dr. Craig and his deeds of service and kindness to us. Therefore, be it

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETS.

Thursday afternoon the Freshmen held a class meeting. The Saint Patrick's day tug of war was discussed. Wayne Johnson, Vic Johnson, Pat McCarthy, Ed Simpkins and C. A. Day were appointed a committee to choose the team that is to represent the Freshman class in the tug of war on the 17th of March. The captain of the team will be chosen soon. The prospective members of the team have good appetites and are taking cold shower baths.

According to the "Red and Black," measles and mumps have appeared at the University of Georgia.

LOS CHIGINTATOS.

Los Chigintatos, otherwise known as "The Shortie Club," met on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Constance Darrow's room in Woman's Hall. They would have us understand that their meetings are absolutely secret, but, anyway, we discovered that after the mysterious business was performed, refreshments were served.

WE HOPE SO.

A prominent judge told a Butte boy the other day that if he tended strictly to business he might grow up to be an editor. Perhaps strict attention to business may avoid that fate.

SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

The Science Association of the University will meet in the Biology laboratory next Tuesday evening and items of special interest to that body will be brought forward.

Miss Alice Mathewson will deliver a paper on "Bolivia," written by her father, E. P. Mathewson of Anaconda, which has not been presented to the public before this time. This paper will undoubtedly be of unusual interest to the members of the club, and a large attendance is assured.

Say, Bill, have you seen those nifty invitations printed at the Bureau of Printing, 137 East Main street.

SCIENCE ELECTION.

On Tuesday evening Science Association met and elected officers for second semester. Alice Mathewson was elected president; Lansing Wells, vice president; John Taylor, secretary, and O. D. Speer, treasurer. After the business meeting, an interesting address was given by Professor Plew on "Cuba." Also there was quite a lengthy discussion of the road up Mt. Sentinel, and various plans of building were suggested.

BUCKLEY ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The Buckley Oratorical Contest, scheduled for March 29, promises to be the best contest ever held at the University of Montana. The students have taken hold with a will and each one has gone into the work with the intention to win. This insures a good contest, and when we turn to the number of contestants we are more than ever convinced that this contest will be close and exciting.

Beside the honor of winning the Buckley prize, the winner has the privilege of representing the University in the Interstate Contests.

ELROD LECTURES.

Prof. M. J. Elrod lectured before the hygiene class last Tuesday on the "Relation of Biology to Hygiene." The lecture was fully enjoyed by all, besides being one of the most instructive delivered this year.

DR. CRAIG MOURNED BY ALUMNI

THAT ORGANIZATION OF UNIVER-SITY ISSUES MEMORIAL EX-PRESSING DEEP SORROW.

As expressing deep regard for the man and tender sympathies for the relatives and personal grief for his sudden death, the following memorial has been drafted by the alumni association of the University of Montana concerning the death of Oscar J. Craig, former president of the school:

"The Alumni association of the University of Montana has learned with that deep regret and sorrow which is occasioned only by the loss of a dear and valued friend of the sudden taking away of Oscar John Craig, late president of our beloved university.

"Long years of close association with him in the role of our leader enabled us to appreciate, as perhaps none other could, those qualities of mind and heart which enabled him to attain to the exalted position which he occupied and to hold as he did the affection and loyalty of those who were within the sphere of his influence. Each and all of us have felt the benefits and enjoyed the fruits of the splendid devotion and unceasing loyalty to the welfare of the university which so characterized his every thought and act.

"He gave with magnificent largeness of his mighty store of energy that the institution which was his life's pride might prosper and that the people of Montana might benefit thereby.

"His activities among us have ceased—he is at rest. But the forces to which he gave impetus shall pulsate with ever-increasing vigor and keep alive that which is best and noblest in our people throughout generations yet unborn.

"The Alumni association joins the bereaved family in mourning him whom we shall ever hold in memory as friend and benefactor.

NOVEL ASSEMBLY

Separate Meetings for Men and Women—To Take Place Wednesday, the Twenty-second.

For Wednesday, March 22, 1910, the committee in charge of the assemblies for the year has decided on a change in the regular order. The assembly is to be divided. Miss Stewart, Dean of Women, will speak to all the women of the University in John Evans hall. The subject of her talk is not yet known, but doubtless it will be of great interest to all the women. Mr. Robert Cary, physical director of the University, will address the men in Assembly hall, with a stereopticon lecture.

THE GERMAN CLUB.

The German Club held its second meeting last Thursday afternoon. Miss Alice Mathewson and Miss Josephine Hunt furnished the musical part of the program, Miss Mathewson favoring the club with a vocal solo, and Miss Hunt rendering an instrumental solo.

As a means of inducing conversation stereopticon pictures were given the members to discuss.

The next meeting of the club will be on Thursday, the 15th of March.

It is with much regret that we learn from Professor Rhodes that he will not be able to be present to referee the tug-of-war this year. Mr. Rhodes states that he is at present very, very busy skating at the Rose Carnival and that until the tournament closes he will not be able to get away.

The students regret very much that Mr. Rhodes will not be here, as he was deprived from refereeing last year, but hopes he may be with us at some future day.

MONTANA'S SCHOOLS.

Commenting upon the appropriations made by the legislature for the maintenance of the state's institutions of higher education, the Butte Miner illustrates the sentiment which prevails throughout the state, very friendly to these schools.

The donations to the different state schools were large, and of such character as will permit of carrying on their work in better manner than ever.

Money thus expended certainly is beneficial to the commonwealth.

In no better way can funds be invested than in aiding in the proper upbuilding of the schools.

Montana is proud of its schools. The Treasure state has made remarkable progress in that direction.

There are states in the Union much older than Montana which are not able to boast of educational institutions such as can be found in this state.

That the high standing and ever-increasing importance of the home schools are being recognized is evidenced by the increased attendance.

No Montanan need hesitate to advocate the advantages of sending Montana boys and girls to Montana schools.

Being educated in a Montana school means being educated more thoroughly than would be possible elsewhere in the actual greatness of the state, its resources, what it stands for, what its present is and what its future is sure to be.

The money turned over by the state to the various institutions of learning in Montana will be put to excellent use.

The appropriations will permit of the school work being carried on in more thorough and more satisfactory manner than ever before.

With such incentive, no wonder the educators look forward to more successful careers for Montana's schools than ever before.

DR. G. F. REYNOLDS IS VERY MODEST

HELD IN HIGH OPINION IN REALM OF SCHOLARSHIP—
HIS WORKS STANDARD.

Missoula people who are attending the course of extension lectures now being given by Dr. G. F. Reynolds need no telling that he is master of his subject and that he has the power to place the subject matter before his hearers in an attractive manner. Still it is always a satisfaction to know that others, and those others of high authority in the realm of scholarship, hold a like opinion with ourselves.

A few days ago a certain Missoula lady undertook some research work along the line of the development of the drama, pursuant to the lectures of Dr. Reynolds. She read some of the best-known authorities on the subject. One of them, "Schelling's Elizabethan Drama," which stands high with scholars the world over, gives a complete bibliography of reference on the subject. The Missoula reader was proud to find one reference stated as "The same paper by G. F. Reynolds, entitled 'Some Principles of Elizabethan Staging,' in Modern Philology II and III, 1904-'05"; and another reference of equal interest to an article by Dr. Reynolds. The modesty of the author since coming to Missoula has avoided all mention of his own high standing in the world of letters, but sometimes the truth comes unexpectedly to light. It is a privilege to be able to hear the course of lectures offered this season by Dr. Reynolds.

HAWTHORNE ACTIVE.

The first of a series of special meetings inaugurated by the Hawthorne Literary Society for the purpose of giving preliminary training to those men who have expressed an intention to actively engage in preparations for the annual debate with Pullman occurred Tuesday evening, March 7. Pursuant to the action of the Society in regard to the question for debate this year, several articles by men prominent in the political affairs of the nation were briefly reviewed by Mr. Stone and Mr. Haines; they pointed out the salient features of each of these articles and advised the Society as to the stand the authors had taken on the subject of conservation in the light of their published views. As a distraction to the regular order of business, Mr. Bullerdick gave a very forceful and effective rendition of "The Light on Dead Man's Bar."

At this session most of the members of the organization were present, and an enthusiasm was manifested which tends to indicate that, although a comparatively short time remains before the final contest, Montana's representatives will enter the debate adequately prepared and well qualified to bear away the laurels of victory. The Society also adopted plans at this time which provide, in the most economic way, for a thorough and systematic research of all subject matter pertaining to the question of conservation and states' rights. This material is to be so arranged that it may be at once available to all those who desire to use it.

Action was also taken on the matter of securing judges. This is of considerable importance, since much time is often-times required to secure a satisfactory selection of judges, and the Society wishes to dispense with this part of the preliminary arrangement at the earliest date possible.

BIG SURPRISE.

The business manager of The Sentinel reports that arrangements have been made to turn out something absolutely different from any other annual published here.

The books are to be bound in half leather, although this was not the first arrangement. Russet ooze leather with beautiful gold lettering has been decided upon as the cover and it should prove a good one.

If their plans are executed as the committee wishes they will have a book which will be a credit to any university, and one which we will all be proud to own.

HIGH SCHOOL VS. FRESHIES.

The debating team of the Missoula High School has asked for a debate with some of the members of the Freshman class of the University. The classes in first-year English have been doing some distinct work along this line, and under the leadership and patronage of the Hawthorne Literary Society the team will be selected, and work will be begun at once on the subject for debate.

SENTINEL BOOMING

Large Consignment of Pictures Are Sent to Bureau of Engraving.

The Sentinel is well along on the home stretch now. All the loose ends are being gathered up, the corners rounded off and the final preparations made to turn out as perfect a book as it is possible.

A big consignment of pictures has already been sent to the Bureau of Engraving so that work can be begun at once. This is the first big lot of pictures to go, but the others will soon follow. The last of the group pictures have been taken, and by the time the Kaimin is out this feature of the work will have been closed.

Committees are working busily finishing write-ups and other information necessary in a book of this kind.

One of the hits of the book is a special alumni feature. Circulars were issued in the alumni, and the response was prompt; everyone entered enthusiastically into the plan, and it promises to be a big success.

It will be out by the Interscholastic meet if the staff escapes the dread measles and mumps.

ONCE MORE.

The School of Engineering has received five thermometers as a donation from the Fred W. Wolfe Company of Chicago.

There are three mercury thermometers, ranging between the limits of 40 degrees and 120 degrees Fahrenheit. The donation also includes two spirit thermometers reading as low as 42 degrees below zero. The thermometers will be used in connection with work on the refrigeration plant; they were manufactured by the Hohmann & Maurer Manfg. Co. of Rochester, N. Y.

EARLY TRAGEDIES DISCUSSED

DR. REYNOLDS' FOURTH LECTURE ON HISTORY OF THE DRAMA WELL RECEIVED.

Prof. G. F. Reynolds delivered the fourth of his interesting series of extension lectures on the history of the drama at the high school Monday evening, taking for his subject "Early Tragedies." The lecturer traced the growth of the tragedy from the mediaeval age to the time of Shakespeare. He devoted particular attention to the tragedies of the so-called "classical age," when the drama was under the influence of Seneca and Aristotle, and to the pre-Shakespearian period, when the works which particularly influenced the works of Shakespeare were written.

He first considered the characteristics of the mediaeval drama, disposing of them briefly. A narrative style, mingled comedy and tragedy, disregard for anachronisms in the search for reality and an insistence of the spectacular were the typical points which he considered.

Dr. Reynolds then took up the drama of England, as influenced by the classical tragedies. He went into detail in discussing this period. He read typical stage directions and quotations from "Gorboduc," the first English tragedy and a specimen of the drama as influenced by the classical tragedy.

The last stage which the lecturer took up was the period immediately before that of Shakespeare, the period of Lyly, Kyd and Marlowe. Lyly, he said, contributed to Shakespeare a distinction of style; Kyd the quality of devising effective situations, and Marlowe poetry and passion. Kyd's "Spanish Tragedy," Dr. Reynolds said, was the play which inspired Shakespeare's "Hamlet," while the "Merchant of Venice" and "Richard III." were influenced greatly by Marlowe's "Jew of Malta" and "Tambourlaine," respectively.

Next Monday evening Dr. Reynolds will lecture on "Early Comedy."

DR. TUTTLE LECTURE.

One of the most interesting lectures yet given in the course was that delivered before the Hygiene class last Tuesday by Dr. Tuttle, secretary of the State Board of Health. His subject was "Foods and Their Functions," and some very interesting and surprising points were brought out. The lecture was well illustrated with drawings. Many practical suggestions were offered as to the most nutritious foods, and all went away feeling that they had received some very valuable and practical information about a subject in which we are all vitally interested.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Grant McGregor, '02, came from Anaconda to attend the funeral of the late Dr. O. J. Craig. Mr. McGregor has for the past nine years held a responsible position with the Amalgamated Copper Company as chief electrical and mechanical engineer. He visited his mother and sister and greeted many friends in this city, returning to Anaconda Sunday evening.

Maude E. Johnson, '06, is in Chicago visiting her sister, Mrs. J. J. Moore, nee Florence Johnson, '06.

We hear that Mr. Arbie Leech, '10, is successfully trading in automobiles and churns, having recently sold several automobiles, and last week one of the churns was purchased by Mr. George Coffee, ex-'10.

The Misses Mary J. and Renee J. Henderson of the class of 1910 came to Missoula from their home at Hall, Montana to pay their last respects to the late Dr. O. J. Craig.

Edwin R. Corbin, '06, now residing at Nampa, Idaho, has taken up a ranch and expects to be a full-fledged farmer soon.

Mamie Burke, '10, who is teaching at Thompson, Montana, is expected in Missoula on Friday to spend the spring vacation at her home.

Claude Willis, ex-'09, has been managing a sheep ranch near Glasgow, Montana, all winter and reports a very successful year. He intends to visit Missoula and the University in the near future.

Mrs. R. J. Maxey (Lu Knowles, '00), accompanied by her husband and two children, is visiting at her home here. The Maxeys will sail in June for the Philippines.

PLAY REHEARSAL

Staff Practising Daily Under Supervision of Miss Smith—Progress Made.

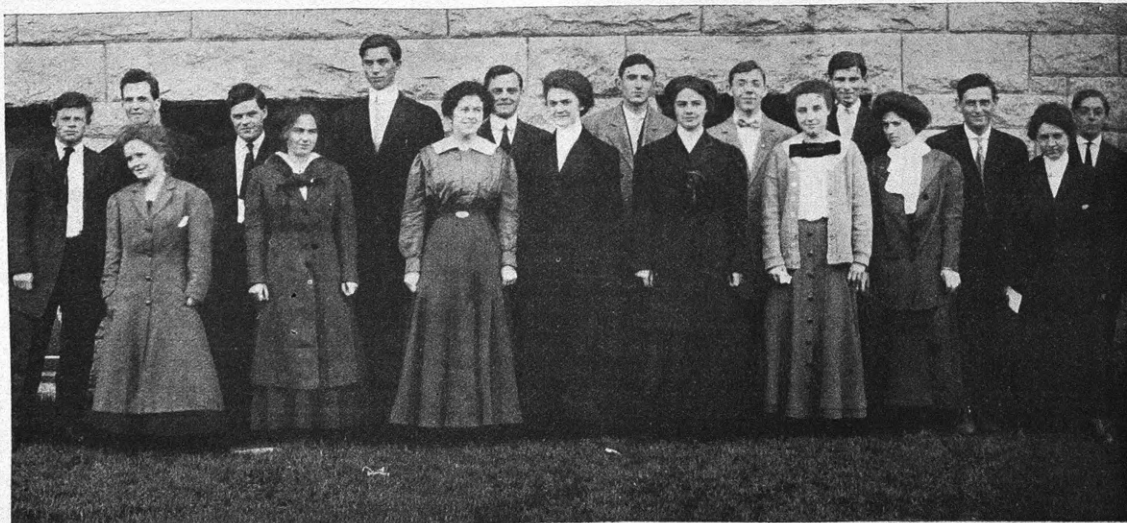

The annual play which Miss Smith has had under consideration for some time has finally been chosen and the cast selected. The rehearsals are now in full swing. The play is to be given April 28, and a great deal of hard work must be done before that time. The play to be given this year is one translated from the Italian and entitled "A Curious Mishap." Miss Smith will have entire charge of the play. The cast is as follows:

Filiberte, a rich Dutch merchant.....
.....D. D. Richards
Guianina, his daughter.....Ethel Hughes
Riccarda, a broker.....Charles Eggleston
Constanza, his daughter.....
.....Cornelia McFarlane
De la Cotlerie, a French lieutenant,

MOVING PICTURES USED TO INSTRUCT STUDENTS

Thursday afternoon the forestry class of the university was given a most entertaining and instructive hour by Supervisor Skeels of the service, who is delivering a series of lectures on lumbering. Mr. Skeels had secured a splendid moving-picture film of the redwood belt of California and of some of the southern yellow pine forests. These films were shown at the Isis theater, through the kindness of the management, and the whole forestry class was in attendance.

Cecil Dwyer, '09, came in from Clinton Friday to spend the week end with her parents.

WEARERS OF THE GREEN PROFESSOR RETURNS FROM TRIP

HAVE ORGANIZED IN HONOR OF THE SHAMROCK. FIRST MEETING TO BE HELD MARCH 17.

Whereas it is now March, and, whereas it is nearly the 17th of that glorious month, be it now made known to the unsuspecting student body that there exists in their midst an organization for the study of the pure and true Irish language and ancient Irish costumes. It is the purpose of this club to admit no one who is not of true Irish descent; it is also the purpose to admit none but males. The meetings will, in all probability, be held in the Dormitory parlors and old Irish songs will be sung and all of the conversation will be held in the good, pure, old Irish tongue. The time and days of meetings have not been definitely decided upon, but it is thought not feasible to hold gatherings on the same days as the German club.

We would like to have announced the existence of this club some time ago, as it has been organized for three months, but it seems to the members—that the proper time and occasion for the launching of such a club is on the day of the birth of our grand and most honorable patron saint, St. Patrick.

The role of members to date is as follows: A. W. O'Rourke, P. T. McCarthy, M. S. McCullough, W. E. Ryan, D. D. Richards, G. D. Little.

Several others may be added to this list later, as some are being considered, among them being G. F. Bishop, whose hair is the proper color.

ROWE COMPLETES LECTURES.

Prof. J. P. Rowe gave the last of a series of lectures for the extension course in the Baptist church of Stevensville last Friday evening. "Annals Before Man" was the subject of the talk which was profusely illustrated with lantern slides. There was a large crowd in attendance, who thoroughly enjoyed Dr. Rowe's talk.

Rev. T. B. Parnall paired a very pretty compliment to the speaker and the University when he rose and moved that resolutions be adopted thanking Dr. Rowe and voicing the appreciation of the work of the extension course.

This was the last of a series of six extension-course lectures given by Professor Rowe. Three have been held in Victor and three in Stevensville. They have been productive of much good to the schools of these cities. Although the Stevensville High School is not yet on the accredited list, it is the plan of Principal Fitzgerald to send a team to the track meet in May. He is conducting enthusiastic practices daily. He gave the extension course lectures a great deal of credit for the enthusiasm the students are showing.

W. M. ABER HAS DELIGHTFUL EXPERIENCE AT CLASS REUNION.

Professor William M. Aber of the university returned Thursday from Washington, where he attended a reunion of Yale '78. He had a delightful trip and the reunion of the famous class was a great success. "I was in Washington for four days," he said, "and while there I saw everything of interest in the city. Senator Dixon directed my sightseeing and as a result I didn't miss anything. I was in Washington when congress adjourned and attended the last four days, including the one in which the dramatic vote on Lorimer was taken."

The reunion, Professor Aber says, was one of the best ever held. It has been the custom in the past to hold the gatherings in New Haven during commencement week, when the great crowds and the many functions interfered greatly. This year it was decided to hold the meeting in Washington, and as a result, practically all of the class were present and a real reunion was possible. President Taft is a member of the class, as are some other officials in Washington and their presence was made possible by the location of the reunion in Washington.

Professor Aber was much interested in the work of congress, particularly in the filibustering of the democratic minority in an effort to postpone certain legislation until the next session. He was present when Senator Owens held the floor all night on the eve of adjournment in a filibuster against the passage of the New Mexico statehood bill.

Professor Aber was much interested in the news of the passage of the appropriation bill. "I am sorry that I missed that celebration," he said, "it must have been a fine one."

SPIDERS DEFEATED.

The Spiders were taken into camp on last Tuesday night by the crack M. M. team, to the tune of 6 to 7. The Bloomington battery, Ferguson and Bowling, did not cover themselves with as much glory as heretofore. Ferguson allowed the "counter jumpers" a total of nine hits, while Lundstrom for the M. M. allowed only 1. The feature of the game was the ability of Lundstrom to pull himself out of bad holes. Time after time the bases would be filled and just as often "Lund" would tighten up and save himself. At one time this twirler fanned eight men in succession, making in all a total of 19 strike-outs credited to him during the game. At the end of the ninth inning the score was 6 to 6, and an extra session had to be played. In this the M. M. got the deciding run.

This ties the M. M. and the Spiders for first place in the league, giving each of them 665 per cent.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF WEEK

Kappa Spread.

On Wednesday afternoon the Kappa Kappa Gammas entertained in their suite in Woman's Hall at a spread. The guests were Miss Grace Corbin, Miss Constance Darrow, Miss Kate Buery and Miss Price.

Miss Butzerin Honored.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent last Wednesday by the members of Sigma Tau Gamma at a spread in their rooms. The affair was in honor of one of their members, Miss Eula Butzerin, who is intending to leave about the 20th to attend a school for nurses in Chicago.

A Faculty Walk.

Several members of the Faculty took advantage of the bright, warm weather on Saturday to walk up to Bonner, where they had supper. Those who enjoyed the walk were the Misses Knowles, Stewart and Smith, and Messrs. Thompson, Underwood and Reynolds.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION IN ENGLISH REQUIRED

According to a new ruling of the faculty entrance examinations in English are to be required, beginning September, 1911. Letters have been sent to every High School in the state informing them of the change in entrance requirements, and a notice will be emphasized in the new catalogue to the same effect.

ST. PATRICK'S DANCE.

There will be a dance in the Gym on Friday night as a fitting conclusion to the tug of war, and a large crowd is expected. This will be the first A. S. U. M. dance to be given in several weeks and the opportunity to trip the light fantastic should not be overlooked by the devotees of this delightful pastime.

Good music is assured and the floor has been put in excellent shape, and as a large number of invitations have been issued there will, no doubt, be one of the largest crowds of the season.

clothed in mortal form which we knew by the name so familiar to us all," he said. So he asked and answered, depicting him as first, a plain American citizen and patriot—not what the world calls a great man, but what his friends call a good man. From his life can be drawn the inspiring lesson that honesty, industry, patriotism, earnestness and ability in the chosen calling carry in their hands the sure prestige of success and victory.

"The fruits of his untiring energy on behalf of the University are best illustrated by the magnificent institution he left behind. He came to the institution when it was without shape or form, hope or ideals, and he left it the most potent factor for good in the State of Montana. He built not only with brick and mortar. He built and lived in the hearts of his fellows, thoughtless of self or of temporal greatness—a splendid citizen.

"He was neither a trimmer nor a tool. He was intensely himself and shouldered all his responsibilities. Loyal to a fault, he never deserted a friend. He was gentle and tender as a woman and never turned a deaf ear to the needy. He was best loved by those who knew him best."

On behalf of the faculty Professor F. C. Scheuch spoke, who has been closely associated with Dr. Craig since 20 years ago, when he matriculated under him at Purdue.

For the Alumni, Hon. Harold Blake voiced the grief of that loyal and loving body of students.

So can there never be a first president of the University again. There may be successors who will have great responsibilities and great tasks to perform, but never a first president. His peculiar place can never be filled."

And lastly, President C. A. Dunlway offered his tribute, closing his speech with: "The spirit of the man is this institution and the best tribute we can pay to the first president of the University is the purpose to see that the

Mrs. W. I. Power of Phillipsburg, spent several days in the city last week visiting her son, H. F. Sewell, who is confined to his room with an attack of measles.

A Slippery Subject.

Willie—Say, Pa, if a cow ate soap, would she give shaving cream.

Mr. Dan O'Conner is confined to his home with the measles, but knowing that Dan is a "Husky" lad we feel no anxiety over the outcome, so we hope to see him on the campus again soon.

Freshman Philosophy.

Mr. R. H. Cary and Mr. Jack Greenough returned from an extended trip to Butte last Saturday. They both report that they had an enjoyable time.

We hear with regret that Miss Nan Vivian, who is now visiting at San Diego, Cal., is confined to her room with a very bad case of grippe.

Miss Virginia Kennet and Miss Hanna Eckles, both of Helena, are to be among the distinguished visitors who are coming to witness the tug of war on Friday.

Walter Beck has returned from California, where he has been spending the winter.

We hear from the Bitter Root that Miss Helen Metcalf has been taken to Rochester, Minn., to be operated upon. The Kaimin extends its sympathy and wishes Miss Metcalf a speedy recovery.

Charles Hoffman, a Senior engineer, has been laid up for several days with a severe attack of mumps. A speedy recovery is looked for and we hope to see Charles in our midst before long.

IMPORTANT!

There will be an Alumni dinner at the Grand Pacific Hotel on Saturday evening, March 18, at 6 o'clock. This is the first meeting to be held in 1911, and, as there are many important matters to be discussed, a large attendance is requested.

PULLMAN DEBATE.

In preparation for the coming debate with Pullman, Hawthorne has arranged for two "try outs" among its members. The first, a preliminary, is to be held on Tuesday, March 14, and the final, on Tuesday, March 21. The subject, "Resolved: That the Conservation of Natural Resources Should Rest With the Federal Government Rather Than the States," (natural resources, including minerals, water and forests) is a good one, and a great deal of time has already been spent on this subject. The debate is to be held in Missoula this year, and arrangements have been made for it to take place while Mr. Roosevelt is here, probably on April 12.
