Spring 2-1-2006

MUS 431.01: Piano Methods and Materials II

Christopher C. Hahn
University of Montana - Missoula, christopher.hahn@umontana.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/syllabi
Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.umt.edu/syllabi/10881

This Syllabus is brought to you for free and open access by the Course Syllabi at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in Syllabi by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
Required Materials
The Well-Tempered Keyboard Teacher
Marienne Uszler, Stewart Gordon, Scott McBride Smith

*The Pianist’s Guide to Standard Teaching and Performance Literature
Jane Magrath

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is a continuation of the various aspects of the piano teaching professions, including a study of techniques and methods for teaching the beginning and intermediate student. A survey of various materials for teaching piano are examined with an emphasis on evaluation and critical analyses of integral elements necessary to achieve music literacy, keyboard musicianship, and comprehensive training.

TOPICS WILL BE TAKEN FROM THE FOLLOWING:

Teaching the Transfer Student
Kindermusik
Teaching technique
Group Teaching
Teaching Adult Students
Suzuki Method
Beginning Methods
The Independent Studio
Professional Involvement

CLASS ASSIGNMENTS AND ACTIVITIES

This course will include assignments and activities relating to three primary sources of information, including the course text, review of established methods courses for piano instruction, and supplemental lectures and information provided by the instructor. Reading and research assignments will regularly be given, as well as exercises relating to specific areas of piano pedagogy.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Since the class meets only once weekly, it is extremely important that the student attend each session. Therefore, for each class missed without instructor approval at least 24 hours in advance of the scheduled class time, the final course grade will be lowered a complete letter grade (e.g. A- to B-, B+ to C+, etc.) The only exception to this policy will be in an extreme circumstance out of the student’s control (e.g. medical emergency or family death) where written documentation will be required.

GRADING
The final course grade will be divided as follows:

- Class participation: 5%
- Notebook: 5%
- In-class presentations: 20%
- Three lesson observations: 10%
- Article & Book Reviews: 10%
- Beginning Methods Project: 20%
- Final take-home exam: 30%

In–class Presentations
Students will have projects assigned throughout the semester with research presented either as an individual or as a group.

Lesson Observations
Students will be assigned to observe and analyze the teaching of faculty, off-campus independent music teachers, and/or high school music teachers.

Article & Book Reviews
Students will be required to research and find articles pertaining to various topics about music instruction and write a summary of the article. The student will also review one book per month and write a brief summary.

Beginning Methods Project
Students will analyze and compare beginning piano methods and review their strengths and weaknesses.

IMPORTANT DATES

- MMTA Spring Festival: March 17-18, 2006
- MTNA National Convention, Austin, TX: March 25-29, 2006
- Musikgarten information session, Billings, MT: March 25, 2006

Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at www.umt.edu/SA/VPSA/Index.cfm/page/1321