1957

Montana Photographer Wins Award

Mike Mansfield 1903-2001

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.
Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/mansfield_speeches

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.umt.edu/mansfield_speeches/206

This Speech is brought to you for free and open access by the Mike Mansfield Papers at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in Mike Mansfield Speeches by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
Statement of Senator Mike Mansfield (D. Montana)

Montana Photographer Prize Award

Mr. President, the Associate Press Managing Editors Association recently announced the winners of their annual national contest for excellence in news photography.

I am extremely pleased to learn that this year's winner is William Zadick, city editor of the Great Falls Tribune, Great Falls, Montana. Zadick's photograph, "Cowpoke's Dilemma," shows a rodeo rider tumbling head down from a bucking horse at the North Montana State Fair in August, 1956 at Great Falls.

Zadick's picture was selected from 100 photographs submitted by staff photographers of the Associated Press member paper. He describes his prize-winning shot as a "luck shot". The Tribune's city editor is being somewhat modest as to his skill. Readers of the Great Falls Tribune are well aware of William Zadick's fine work in newspaper photography.

I want to join with Bill's many friends in congratulating him on this well deserved recognition of his contributions to the field of journalism.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that two newspaper articles be printed at the conclusion of my remarks in the Congressional Record, one from the Great Falls Tribune of May 4 and the other from the Montana Standard of the same date.