MONEY TURNED LOOSE FOR FORESTRY HOME

SUFFICIENT FUNDS RELEASED TO ERECT NEW LOG BUILDING
ON CAMPUS

Governor Stewart has released the appropriation made by the last session of the legislature for the erection of a forestry building at the University, placing the matter in the hands of the local university board, the only condition being that the $10,000 shall be taken from the maintenance fund of the University.

The official notice of this action was received Saturday in a letter from the governor to Charles H. Hall, the Missoula member of the state board of education. Mr. Hall was instructed to notify the local board and he did this promptly. Governor Stewart withheld this appropriation on account of the campaign for consolidation. He and his associates on the state board of examiners did not think it wise to erect any more buildings while the permanence of the University location was in doubt. Now that consolidation has been defeated, the governor has released the fund.

The local board had already obtained plans for the new building and had called for bids when the state board announced that the money would not be released. The plans and the bids are in the hands of the secretary of the local board and if it is found that the bids or any one of them are within the limit of the appropriation, all that remains for the local board to do is to consider ways and means. If it is found that the maintenance fund will be sufficient to provide the money for the building, the contract will be awarded at once.

The proposed building will be an architectural addition to the University campus. It will be built principally of logs, this material having been donated to the University by Montana lumbermen, through Dean Dorr Skeels of the school of forestry. It will provide class rooms, lecture room and laboratory for the foresters and will greatly add to the efficiency of the work in this school. The members of the local board, J. H. T. Ryman and J. M. Keith, will meet before Thursday to consider the situation. It is possible that final action will be delayed until the return of President Craighead, who is now in New Mexico, after having addressed the national convention of university presidents and attended a meeting of the Carnegie board, of which he is a member.

The forestry school needs the new building. Its work has been greatly hampered this year by lack of room and laboratory facilities. Dean Skeels is now arranging for the mid-winter rangers' school. It is expected that this school will have an enrollment of nearly 100.

STERETT RETURNS.

Lester Sterett, who left two weeks ago for his home at Nevada, Mo., because of the death of his father, has returned to the University.

RUSHA APPOINTS MEN TO SERVE AS HI JINX STAGERS

Preparations were begun for the annual Hi Jinx at a meeting of the men of the University held in assembly hall after convocation Wednesday morning. The jollification will be held on Friday, December 18, and the men of the school will have charge of the event. Tom Busha, manager of the A. S. U. M., appointed a committee to arrange for the event and to have charge of the program. The committee consists of Fred Whisler, chairman, Harry Sewell, Leonard Daems, Jay Ector, Percy Stone, Bob Borland, Ted Stutzman and Lyle Darrow.

ATHLETIC CAPTAINS RECEIVE BLACK "M'S"

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE PASSES
NEW RULING REGARDING
LETTERS FOR TEAMS

As a result of student agitation the executive committee of the A. S. U. M. Sunday passed a ruling by which the captains of the different athletic teams at the University will receive black letters instead of the maroon. This idea was introduced into the committee meeting by Tom Busha at the request of several students. The motion was passed with little comment, although the change is rather an important one as it breaks away from all university traditions.

The committee recently passed a motion to award blankets instead of sweaters to men who have played football for three years at the University. This will give blankets woven in the school colors, copper, silver and gold, to Merritt Owsley, Leonard Daems, Norman Streit and James Gault. Owsley's blanket will have the captain's black "M" on it.

PROFESSORS AT BUTTE MEETING OF PEDAGOGUES

Several members of the University faculty are absent this week, attending the meeting of the Montana State Teachers' association in Butte. The delegation is headed by Dr. W. W. Kemp of the department of education. Professor Rowe represents the Missoula school board as well as the University. Professor Elrod has the interests of the Inter-mountain Educator in charge in addition to his other responsibilities. Miss Buckhouse is the head of the state association of librarians and will preside at their meetings. There are other members of the University faculty with assigned parts in the association program.

GAME IN SPOKANE SHOULD BE FULL OF THRILLS

If Field Is Dry Montana's
Backs Should Watch

GRIZZLIES TO CHARGE

Line Plunging Will Likely Be Characteristic of Bruins Attack.

On Wednesday 18 men, composing the Grizzlie squad, will leave for Spokane under the chaperonage of two coaches and a manager. Here Montana's football season ends with a game against Gonzaga university. Just who the men are that will go the coaches could not say, but whoever they are it is certain that the Bruins will present an imposing battle array against the Turks. Last year Montana lost and the men have resolved to wipe away the stain of defeat.

The game will be marked by spectacular plays if the field is in good condition as the lighter Gonzaga eleven relies almost entirely upon open formations and lateral and forward passes. Much depends upon the quickness of Montana's secondary defence to solve the plays of the home team. It is more than probable that Montana will depend upon her charging backfield and tackles to carry her across the line of victory and should the Turks be able to stop this onslaught, the game will be theirs.

Many students will make the trip on the excursion rates given by the railroads.

MULTNOMAH CLUB WIRES FOR GAME

PORTLAND TEAM WOULD LIKE TO PLAY GRIZZLIES POST-SEASON CONTEST

The Multnomah Athletic club of Portland wishes to play a post-season game with the University in Portland December 5. Because Montana has nothing to gain in playing the Web-footers and because post-season games are under the ban everywhere, is why the Grizzlies will not consent to play. The club first attempted to get a game with the University of Washington and received the proverbial refusal. Then a telegram was sent to Montana.

The Bruins' willingness to meet either the University of Washington or the Oregon Agricultural college in Tacoma after Thanksgiving, has played an important part in placing Montana on the athletic map of the west.

GIRLS COOK FOR LARGE CROWD AT EACH NOON HOUR

The hot lunch furnished every noon at the science hall has proved more than popular. Dr. Bolton's efficient advertising of the girls' appetizing food has caused a great influx of hungry students at the noon hour. One steaming dish, besides coffee and tea, is served, together with sandwiches or biscuits. Two large cups of coffee are furnished for a nickel and the changing hot dish and its cold companion cost but a dime.

UNIVERSITY SHOW TWO WEEKS AWAY

FORTNIGHT REMAINS BEFORE
STUDENT DRAMA WILL BE STAGED BY GOOD CAST

Thanksgiving will be anything but a holiday season for the cast of "The Silver Box" as Mrs. Macleod has ordered each of the actors to utilize these days of no study for the interests of the show. With but a little over two weeks left until the play is to be staged things are beginning to run smoothly. Polish is all that is lacking now and the fortnight remaining will be spent in putting this on.

The cast is enthusiastic about the play, which will be staged December 11, although it is different from the average shows put on by college students, inasmuch as it contains no love scenes, yet it is most interesting. Much study has been required of the amateur cast and they have responded well.

Evelyn Stephenson, as Mrs. Jones, is attempting a character entirely different from any in which the students have seen her. It is the part of an abused char-woman wrongfully accused of stealing a silver box. Her husband, Bernard Robinson, carries a difficult part well. The rest of the cast includes Virginia Dixon, Kathryn Sutherland, Dick Howell, Leroy Lebkicher, Verno Robinson, Percy Stone, Christian Bentz and several who take minor parts.

DEAN STEWART DUE HOME SOON

Miss Mary Stewart, dean of women at the University, will be home this week after an extended eastern trip. Miss Stewart went as a Montana delegate to the national convention of suffragists in Nashville, Tenn., where the celebration of Montana's suffrage victory was an important part of the proceedings. Later, Miss Stewart attended the vocational congress in Chicago, bearing credentials from Governor Stewart as representative of this state. While in Chicago she was invited to address the students at Bryn Mawr and she went there to speak Sunday.

PAPERS FEATURE IT

Tacoma Journals Make Little of War
News While Negotiations Proceeded.

The University of Montana has gained much helpful advertising through the proposition to play the Montana eleven against any university or college football team of the coast, under the auspices of the Tacoma Commercial club's Belgian relief committee. The offer of Montana was made without qualification and was received with enthusiasm by the newspapers of the coast. For more than a week Montana had first-page position in these newspapers with "streamer" heads. The Tacoma newspapers found nothing but seven-column and four-column headlines adequate for the situation. The Montana offer took precedence for days over the European war.

One result of this offer from Montana, even though the proposed game could not be arranged, is that the Montana university is better known in the coast country than it ever was known before and the Montana spirit is understood. The position which Montana holds in the coast region is set forth clearly in this comment which appeared in the Tacoma News:

"The willingness of the Montana champions to play any team is indeed refreshing. If they were all as willing as Montana, the rest would be easy," said Mr. Martin at the Commercial club today.

"Carl Getz, representing the Montana eleven, wired the Commercial club that if the University of Washington did not care to play Montana, his eleven would be willing to meet Colorado, the University of Oregon, or the Whitman team, as well as the Oregon Aggies.

"The Montana squad stands ready to come at a moment's notice and, with the coach and manager, the party would number an even 20. These players are ready and willing to come here to play for their expenses. They do not want one cent for their own athletic fund. It is believed that the cost of getting the Montana players here would amount to approximately $1,000.

FRESHMAN VERNAL CAPS WILL RETIRE

December 1 will mark the end of the freshman cap. The order of the student council says that this day is to be the finish and after that time the green head-piece will go.

A DAY OF THANKS

Here in the finest school in the west everyone has something to be thankful for. There are so many good things here that to enumerate the causes for thanks would be almost an endless task. But the most striking reasons might well be mentioned.

The greatest cause that this school has for offering thanks on this annual celebration is the man who stands at its head. Dr. E. B. Craighead is a college president among a thousand. Seldom is a man of his sterling ability found in a school as small as this. He is beyond mere words; what he has done shows how wonderful he really is better than we can do it here.

"THE OLD PUNK" OWSLEY

Four years ago Merritt Owsley registered at the University of Montana. That fall he distinguished himself on the football team. Fast and aggressive, he made his place in the backfield a certainty by his usual work. Ever since that time he has been an important vertebra in the backbone of the Grizzlies. His work has never been sensational but it has always been characterized by consistency. Through the four years of his college life he has helped to make the Montana teams what they have been.

Who better could there have been to captain this year's already famous eleven? Who is there here that is more deserving of the honor of leading the Bruins through the heaviest season of the history of the school without a defeat? Surely "The Old Punk" was elected on his merits.

But he received no more than he deserved when the captaincy was given him. His work on the football field has been of that quality which deserves the reward he received.

And Thursday he plays his last game. After Thanksgiving his maroon jersey has done its last service and Captain Owsley passes football history at Montana.

DURING THE HOLIDAYS

Many of us are going home during the few days of rest that the religious fervor of the Puritan Fathers have brought us. While we are at home our connection with the University of Montana does not cease and in talking to prospective students this should not be forgotten. A splendid opportunity is given each one of us to get in some good words for our school during the next few days and each of us should boost all the time.

AND NOW IT'S BASKETBALL

From one season into another, and basketball is here. Once more the season opens with things looking bright here for a state championship team. Things seem to look the same way over the hills to the farm-yard but Crawford says there will be nothing to it but a Grizzlie victory and Sam never lied to us in his life.

THE SENTINEL AGAIN

The year book is under way.

Arthur Wright and his corps of assistants have moved into part of the original journalism building and with the atmosphere which the newspaper men created here there remains little doubt as to the quality of book which the juniors will turn out.

But Wright says that you have not bought your book.

THE GAS JET

This is our idea of nothing at all.
"This will be a better contest than the Aggie-Montana game."

"That's what we saw on the printed placards announcing the Missoula-Great Falls high school game."

"When are you going to pay me that dollar?"

"How's that?"

"I say it's time you paid me that dollar."

"Can't hear a word you say."
"Wait a minute an' I'll write it down."

"Taint no use. Can't see without my specs."

One department of the University of Illinois has a clock in each room for students to punch their time, both when coming to and leaving class.
Whaddaya thing o' that?

Now that the football season is over and the consolidation campaign is a matter of record, we ought to have a little time for school work.

OLD MONTANA GRAD GOES TO RUSSIA

A. Wilbur Catlin, formerly a student at the University and well known in western Montana, is now located in Petrograd, Russia, as the head of the Russian office of a large English machinery company. Announcement of this promotion for Mr. Catlin came in a letter to his father, Major John B. Catlin of Missoula. The letter also brought the news that Mrs. Wilbur Catlin will leave London at once for a visit of several months in America, while her husband is getting located in the Russian capital.

After leaving Montana, Mr. Catlin became a member of the Allis-Chalmers force in Chicago. Here he rose rapidly to a position of responsibility in the American service of the company and, a few years ago, he was sent to London to join the office force there. In a short time he was promoted to the chief position in the company's British service. More recently he has been superintendent of the work of a British company, whose work is the same as that of the Allis-Chalmers company, and he has equipped many of the great mines of South Africa and other British colonies.

His new position will take him to a new field and his Montana friends are confident that he will give a good account of himself in Petrograd.

Gridiron Siftings

By PHIL SHERIDAN

The game between the Butte Miners and the University reserves was a close, hard-fought game and was interesting from start to finish. The field was so heavy that it was impossible for either team to gain consistently, and the only scores were from forward passes. The safety scored was the result of a fluke.

The School of Mines fought all the time and showed brilliant flashes of real football. Their line played well and the work of Neelon in the backfield was sensational.

There has been much discussion as to whether or not the University reserves could win from the better high school teams of the state, and as the Butte Miners defeated the Butte high school state champions it is shown that the scrubs are better than any of the high school teams.

"Wink" Brown was the star of the game and in addition to stabbing two difficult forward passes that resulted in Montana's only touchdowns, he played a strong game throughout, his blocking and tackling being beyond reproach.

Claypool was the best groundgainer in the game and his dodging gains on such a heavy field were exceptionally good. His 20-yard run in the third quarter was the longest of the game.

Wingett played a cool, consistent game at fullback, and his accurate passing of a heavy, slippery ball was largely responsible for Montana's scores.

J. Gault distinguished himself as a defensive fullback and he was meeting the plays right on the line of scrimmage. When the old "Jeem" hit them you could usually hear them grunt.

Captain Simpkins and McCarthy at tackles played a good game and off-tackle plays were absolutely out of the question for the Miners.

Suchy at guard followed the ball like a hawk and anytime there was a fumble and the smoke cleared away Suchy was generally hugging the ball.

Young Street played his first real game at end, and he was on the job all the time. On several occasions he spilled the interference and downed the runner for a loss. He was down the field on every punt.

Sanderson, who was sent into replace Gault who had been injured, was a flash until his clothes became so badly soiled, and then "MacPherson" felt that he was no better than the rest of them so he conducted himself accordingly.

Scherck played a steady game in the backfield, and did all that could be expected of a back on such a heavy field.

COLIN CLEMENTS HAS NIGHT-MARE

Colin Clements, former Montana student and present Montana enthusiast, compiled the following nightmare when it looked as though Montana would play in Tacoma:

YE TOWNE GOSSIP.

WILL MONTANA play
 COLORADO at Tacoma
 IN A post-season game?
 THAT'S THE question we WANT ANSWERED.
 IF THEY do all the
 STUDES WHO are here from
 THE TREASURE state have Promised me that they WOULD YELL.
 AND THAT'S pretty good.
 BECAUSE SOME OF THEM
 ARE FROM Bozeman.
 AND JIM HAINES who USED TO go to MONTANA
 SAID THAT he would bet
 HIS LAST dollar on
 THE BRUINS. So did
 OSTRANDER WHO'S from DILLON (wherever that is)
 BUT HE WENT TO AMHERST
 SO OUGHT to know
 A GOOD team
 WHEN HE sees one.
 A WHOLE bunch of
 WASHINGTON STUDES want
 TO SEE Guerin play.
 AND A lot of Everett
 PEOPLE want to see
 CHICK CLARK play.
 AND THEY are all going
 TO YELL for Montana.
 IF YELL-LEADER Powell
 COMES WITH the team the GIRLS ARE going to give
 A TANGO tea so they can LEARN THE latest steps
 AND GIVE the faculty
 SOMETHING else to WORRY ABOUT.
 WE ARE going to pray and WATCH THE papers until
 CARL GETZ gets here to GIVE US all the dope on
 CAPTAIN OWSLEY'S
 BIG LEAGUE team.
 I THANK YOU.

Spreads Everywhere.

Several boxes from home were received during the last week and the result was an epidemic of spreads. On Tuesday night a number of girls were fed and on Wednesday night Bernice Perkins' room was the scene of feasting and hilarity. Lucille Thompson concluded the series with another spread on Thursday night.

Thanksgiving Dinner.

An appetizing turkey dinner will be served at the dormitory Thanksgiving day and the people who stay over have assurances of being treated well. The dining room will be decorated with what flowers can be obtained and everyone expects to make it a joyful occasion.

The girls are planning some sort of an entertainment for the evening so that no one will have an opportunity to be homesick.

Miss Perkins' Fete.

Good things to eat were spread over a prettily decorated table in Miss Bernice Perkins' room last Wednesday night and around the table were gathered many happy guests. A color scheme of green had been worked out with fir boughs, streamers and lights and the soft shade fell on handsomely painted placecards. Speeches were made in true suffragette style by the girls who responded to toasts proposed by Miss Antoinette Simon. The guests were Dorothy Hennessy, Lucile Paul, Myrtle Wanderer, Evelyn Stephenson, Alice Jordan, Irene O'Donnell, Lucille Thompson, Margaret Garvin, Margaret McGreevy, Flora Wear, Lillian Gassert, Beth Barrows, Fay Fairchild, Coxsette Lamb and Antoinette Simon.

During Holidays.

Miss Cosette Lamb will entertain Miss Lillian Gassert during the Thanksgiving holidays at her home in Butte.

Breakfast Box.

Miss Lucile Paul entertained several of her dormitory friends with a box from Chicago on Sunday morning. After the guests had eaten all of the good things they indulged in the usual Craig Hall amusements. The girls were Lillian Gassert, the guest of honor, Alice Jordan, Lucille Thompson, Myrtle Wanderer, Fay Fairchild, Margaret McGreevy, Beth Barrows, Bernice Perkins and Margaret Garvin.

JOURNALISM SCHOOL GETS TALKED ABOUT

A former Montana student who is now hibernating at the University of Washington has sent us the following clipping which appeared under a picture of the press stand at the Aggie game. The story was labeled "Journalism With the Bark On."

"The central figure on the observation platform, the serious minded youth in the quiet gray coat, is Carl Getz, erstwhile editor of the University of Washington Daily, later instructor in the department of journalism, sub rosa editor of the Alumnus, secret holding corporation for all the valuable correspondence of the University, now assistant professor of journalism at the University of Montana, defacto manager of the football team of that University, editor of The Quill of the Sigma Delta Chi Quill, ready letter writer, publicity manager of the University's consolidation campaign, party of the third East Washington of Pomey, the modest possessor of the Midas touch, etc., etc., etc. The larger gentleman standing in back of Mr. Getz is Professor Stone. Notice the physical configuration of professors of journalism. They eat in the newspaper game, anyway. The angelican in the left-half corner of the stand, gazing through his monocle at the Hon. Bill Guerin's efforts to bring an ethical touchdown to Montana, is Carl Holiday, professor of English and former professor of journalism. The house in the extreme left background is the University. Straight over the white M in the central background is the well-known North Pole."

FOR TURKEY.

Miss Kathryn Sutherland left for Great Falls on an early train Saturday morning.

TAILOR GETS UP FROM SICK BED FOR D. G. FORMAL

Because he did not wish to disappoint the University men who had given him their dress suits to press for the Delta Gamma ball, Charles Johnson got up from the sick bed, although his family urged him to stay at home, and worked all day Friday getting the suits ready. Mr. Johnson was suffering from a bad cold which threatened to develop into a serious case of pleurisy.

Charles Johnson is the tailor located in the B. & A. building. Through his business he has become intimately acquainted with many University students. He is interested in them, and they tell him their tales of triumph or of defeat. Realizing the importance to the boys of having neatly pressed dress suits, he felt that he couldn't fail them on this occasion.

MISSOULIAN SERVICE

WE wish to call the attention of the merchants and all business people of Missoula to the fact that we have the only modern book bindery and the largest printing plant in Western Montana. Our facilities enable us to turn out your work in the shortest possible time and we are giving our patrons a service that is not obtainable elsewhere. We are producing the finest lot of printing to be seen in the state. Come in and see our plant. We will be pleased to show you what a real printing office looks like. We solicit your next order.

We have the plant, the men and the ideas. We give the service and quality.

PROFESSOR BURLEIGH WILL RENDER RECITAL

PROFESSOR CECIL BURLEIGH, DIRECTOR OF THE SCHOOL OF VIOLIN INSTRUCTION AT THE UNIVERSITY

Professor Cecil Burleigh will appear on the first number of the University lecture course to be given Tuesday evening, December 2. Mr. Burleigh has a nation-wide reputation as a composer of music for the violin; music, too, of the greatest excellence. As a concert violinist he is no less favorably known, and his performance will be an unusual treat to the music lovers of Missoula.

Second Number.

Following Professor Burleigh, Professor Kirkwood will give an illustrated lecture on the arid lands of the southwest. He has made a careful study of this subject and probably knows more about it than any other man.

Professor Elrod has recently received a handsome set of colored slides illustrating the scenery of the Yellowstone park, which will be shown at an early date. Dean Skeels of the school of forestry will also give a lecture illustrated by lantern slides.

On Europe.

Professor Underwood, who has spent the past year in Europe, will give us the benefit of his best thought on the social conditions of that unhappy continent. Professor Bolton will give a most interesting lecture on hypnotism with demonstrations, and Miss Stewart and President Craighead will give lectures on subjects to be announced.

Other Music.

In addition to the program given by Mr. Burleigh there are other musical numbers promised of great interest. De Loss Smith will give a program of song and Miss Swenson is planning an entertainment for another evening. The Student's Glee club will also give an entertainment.

Mrs. Macleod is already well known for her interpretations and she has a new program of readings to offer this season.

The lecture course this year should prove the most popular that has yet been offered. Every cent of money received is put back into the course, and, as soon as the public patronage warrants it, additional programs by outside talent will be offered at no additional cost to the patrons of the course. Season tickets at the price of $1.50 for the course of 12 numbers are now on sale and it is hoped that the people of Missoula will offer sufficient encouragement to warrant a still further enlargement of the program.

work at odd jobs to enable them to meet all or part of their expenses. A telephone has been installed and a desk and necessary equipment will be placed in position at once. A record of calls will be kept where the students may have access to it and in that way the student and the employer will have a meeting ground. It is planned to keep a member of the association in the office during the day. The odd jobs secured will often lead to permanent positions and it is expected that the bureau will be able to secure many regular jobs for students as soon as it begins work.

The Sentinel office is open every afternoon from 2:30 to 4:00 and any business connected with the publication of the annual will be transacted here. At present the office is the place of payment for student notes which are due December 2. The work of collecting publication material and advertising will be directed from this office.

OLD JOURNALISM KENNEL NOW OPEN

Y. M. C. A. AND SENTINEL DIVIDE
BUILDING WHERE MUCH WORK IS PLANNED

The busiest spot on the campus is the "Kennel" formerly occupied by the future journalists but now the home of the Young Men's Christian association employment office and the Sentinel office. The Y. M. C. A. has established an employment bureau for student help which will act as a clearing house for the odd jobs and it will also do all in its power to assist the student in securing permanent work. The Sentinel editor and business manager have fitted up quarters in the rear end of the building.

Although the Y. M. C. A. will be handicapped by a late start it hopes to provide many students with sufficient

DEAN STONE SPEAKS TO HELENA CLUBMEN

"COMMUNITY BUILDING" FURNISHES TOPIC FOR INTERESTING MEETING

Professor A. L. Stone, dean of the school of journalism, spoke to the Helena Commercial club Wednesday noon on "Community Building." The occasion was the first of a series of luncheons to be given by the Capital city business men.

The Helena Independent, in its account of the meeting says in part:

"Mr. Stone gave a twenty-minute talk which was one of the most forceful addresses ever given at a similar meeting." The Independent quotes the dean as follows: "The spirit of community building which is so well emulated in your local club should branch out to all parts of the state. This dissension between cities which is often for friendly rivalry should cease, and as citizens of one city strive for the best for that city, so should the citizens of other cities co-operate with all municipalities in an effort to make a better and a larger state. Clubs such as you have in Helena bring the best boosters together where you can work together for the betterment of your community. These clubs should work together; they should quit trying to slip a couple of aces on the bottom of the deck and lay their cards face up on the table and play the game on the square."

In speaking of the commission form of government in Missoula The Independent says: "Mr. Stone stated that two years under the new government had brought about changes for the betterment of the city. He said that the cost of maintaining the city had been greatly reduced and that many improvements had been made. He declared that Missoula had been drifting along under the old aldermanic form of government and had not been accomplishing much in a civic way. He further declared that the people were now so well satisfied with the change that they would never consent to go back to the old form of government."

SCHOOL OF MINES DEFEATED BY CUBS

The Grizzlie Cubs, coached by Jerry Nisson, had little trouble in defeating the fighting team from the School of Mines by a score of 14 to 0. Although the field was nothing short of a sea of mud, the second string men gained consistently against the visitors. Kicks were all short because of the difficult footing and the weight of the ball, and charging was out of the question. Wingett threw the mud-coated spheroid with great accuracy, although his passes were necessarily short, due to the fact that the ends could not get down the field. Wingfield Brown emerged from the battle carrying two coats on top of his uniform. The first coat was one of mud received in the first few minutes of play and the second was one of glory placed upon him by his excellent work. Both touchdowns were made by the light end and his defensive work was good.

Seldom, if ever, have there been a team of better sports seen on the Montana field. Referee McGough spoke of them as being some of the best sportsmen he ever saw. Time and again there was opportunity to dispute the decisions on fumble recoveries, but the Miners never said a word.

Neelon starred for the visitors and it is too bad that he has not an opportunity of playing on a better eleven. He carried the ball most of the time for the better crowd and his gains were noticeable. His defensive work was excellent.

DEER STORY.

Claude Simpkins spent the week-end with Arthur and Clarence Cook at their home in Bonita hunting deer. They saw one deer which they wounded but were unable to kill.
