EDITOR-ELECT RESIGNS JOB ON 1918 SENTINEL

VIRGINIA NUCKOLLS SAYS SHE LACKS BOTH TIME AND ABILITY

FAVORS MAN FOR POSITION

Sophomores Will Name New Editor for Annual at Meeting Next Tuesday.

Virginia Nuckolls tendered her resignation as editor of the 1918 Sentinel to President Maurice Dietrich of the sophomore class late yesterday afternoon, giving as her reasons lack of time and doubt as to her ability. A meeting to elect another editor for the year book will be held one week from today, February 22.

The letter of resignation, offered to President Dietrich, is as follows:

Mr. Maurice Dietrich, President of the Sophomore Class:

I herewith tender my resignation of the editorship of the 1918 Sentinel. On thinking the matter over, I do not believe I shall be able to assume this responsibility.

I think the work can be done more capably by some man in the class or at least by someone who will have more time at his disposal. Sincerely yours,

VIRGINIA NUCKOLLS.

BRUINS START ON INVASION WITH LOSS OF RED CUMMINS

INJURY TO SPEEDY FORWARD
WILL HANDICAP BASKET
TOSSERS

With "Red" Cummins on the hospital list and unable to go on the Northwest invasion of the Bruins; the University's basketball team leaves Wednesday morning weaker than when it faced Washington State college here last week. Despite the injury to Cummins the team hopes to win all the games scheduled.

The absence of Cummins will be felt because of his stellar playing and his accuracy in throwing fouls. "Red" was injured last night in a hard scrimmage with the second team. The same shoulder which he hurt in the Helena game was again put out of commission. Because of this injury to Montana's forward the team will have a hard fight in all their games.

Gonzaga, whom Washington State college was able to defeat only by four points, will be played in the first game. From here the team will travel to the University of Idaho. Washington State college will next be played on Friday. The team will meet Gonzaga again on Saturday.

Coach Nissen said he would not announce his line-up until tonight. Eight men and the coach will take the trip which will be the hardest the University has ever taken, and perhaps the only one taken this season.

CURRENT EVENTS CLASS HELD AT EARLIER HOUR

Because of the Welch singers' concert at the Missoula theater Thursday night the class in current events will be held that evening at 7 o'clock instead of at 7:30 and will be dismissed at 7:45.

The class has grown so large that the Journalism building is now too small. The class will hear after be held in Room 13, second floor of the Library building.

CHARTER DAY TO BE CELEBRATED FRIDAY

Twenty-third Birthday of University Will be Marked by Historic Addresses, Reminiscent
Stories, Presentation of Portrait of Senator
Matts, Music and Foresters' Dance.

Historical addresses and reminiscent stories will be the feature of Charter day exercises to be held at the University Friday, February 18, the twenty third anniversary of the signing of the University's charter by Governor Richards. Professor Leslie J. Ayer of the school of law is in charge of the program for the day. He has arranged for special music along with the faculty speeches.

The main address of the day will be given by A. L. Stone of the school of journalism, who will relate the history of Charter day and make the presentation speech of the Elmer Dickinson Matts portrait. Mr. Matts was state senator for Missoula county when the University charter was granted. His portrait has been given to the University by Mrs. Charles M. Crutchfield of Hamilton, whose husband was an associate of Senator Matts.

Exercises in Morning.

The formal exercises to be held in University hall will begin at 11 o'clock Friday morning. The public is invited. Mr. Ayer has expressed the hope that since Charter day will be given over to a sort of historical reminiscence the people interested in the University will visit it on its coming birthday.

In the afternoon the whole campus will be thrown open to visitors. Students will be at work in every department and outsiders can see them as they work every day. Only the first floor of Craig hall will be open. The women of the University will be at home and will serve light refreshments.

Program.

The program for the day is as follows:

Presentation of the Matts' portrait and history of Charter day.....
.....A. L. Stone
Dr. CraigF. C. Scheuch
The First Faculty.....William M. Aber
The Past and the Present.....
.....M. J. Elrod
The Future.....J. P. Rowe

The musical part of the program will be furnished by the University orchestra and by numbers given by Professor Cecil Burleigh of the department of music, Miss Edna Leopold and Clarence Ward.

In the evening the forest school will entertain with a lumberjack dance in the gymnasium.

Valentine's Day Finds Dorm Swamped With Mail

Boxes large, small, medium, round, square, oblong, three-cornered, flat and lean,—candy boxes, flower boxes, mysterious looking boxes,—in fact, all known sorts and sizes of boxes were left at Craig hall all day yesterday as St. Valentine's greeting to the girls.

They began coming early in the morning, and the climax was reached when the mail carrier fairly staggered up the walk, laden with letters, packages and boxes, the largest mail that has been left at the hall this year. According to the girls at the dorm, Thanksgiving is very nice and Christmas is lovely, but nothing can compare with the thrill a pretty little sentimental valentine gives.

LUNCHEON TICKETS NOW ON SALE AND PLANS FOR FEED COMPLETED

All Indications Point to Filled Chairs and an Enthusiastic Gathering Thursday Noon When Students and Faculty Sit Down to First Get-Together Banquet; Red and White Tags, in Hands of Committee, Selling Fast; Program

Bring on the soup. All is in readiness for the first get-together luncheon of the men of the University, which will be held at the Florence hotel Thursday noon immediately after convocation. Small red and white tags—tickets of admission to the luncheon—appeared on the campus this afternoon. These may be purchased from Alva Baird, Payne Templeton, Charles Bauer, Clarence Hanley, Clarence Streit, William Kane, Gregory Powell, Joe Townsend, Jimmy Brown and Emmet Riordan for 35 cents, the cost of the luncheon. They are also on sale at the University office and the library desk.

CHANCELLOR HERE THURSDAY

Chancellor E. C. Elliott will address the regular convocation Thursday morning.

BE ACCURATE; BE BRIEF COONEY TELLS CLASSES

EDITOR OF THE GREAT FALLS
LEADER VISITS SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM.

"I broke into the newspaper game because I was" is but one of the many humorous sallies made by E. H. Cooney, editor of the Great Falls Leader, in a short talk before the reporting classes of the University journalism school yesterday morning. Mr. Cooney has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor, and, although one of the guests of the Missoula Lincoln club at a banquet last night, he declared that the campaign has not yet begun.

Mr. Cooney expressed confidence in the work being done by the school of journalism and told of having four of the University of Montana journalism "children" on his staff at one time. He believes also that the present shack quarters of the journalism school are inadequate for the space merited by the daily work of the school. He and Dean A. L. Stone were former associates on the Anaconda Standard, and spent the morning talking over old times.

"Brevity, accuracy and capacity to make friends—these three factors are essential to the good newspaper man," said Mr. Cooney. "Judgment is also essential, but that can come only by experience, and can not be acquired in school."

Much of Mr. Cooney's informal talk was given over to the telling of personal experiences illustrative of the every day pleasures and work of the newspaper office. Speaking from the standpoint of a veteran with more than 20 years experience in handling news, Mr. Cooney reiterated the advice given the students by the journalism faculty.

Mr. Cooney met with the local chapter of the Sigma Delta Chi, the journalism fraternity, at a luncheon in the Florence hotel yesterday noon, and continued his reminiscences in Montana journalism for the benefit of the members.

The Delta Rho fraternity announces the pledging of Stillman Ross and Alva Rees.

After convocation the men will go to the Florence hotel where lunch will be served at 12:30. During the luncheon there will be a short program, which will be in charge of Gregory Powell, cheer leader, and Payne Templeton, president of the student body. Music by the glee club quartet and a few very brief talks by students and faculty members will make up a short but spirited program.

Tickets are limited and when 200 are sold none can be obtained as the hotel cannot care for more than this number at one time. The luncheon will not last more than an hour and students and faculty members who have afternoon classes will be able to get to the campus at 1:30. The tag-tickets must be presented to gain entrance to the luncheon. The tag system is used so as to advertise the luncheon and also furnish souvenirs of it.

WHERE WILL WE SEND Y. M. C. A. DELEGATE IS CONFERENCE QUESTION

Whether the Y. M. C. A. of the University of Montana will send its delegate to the Pacific Coast conference at Seaback, Washington, as in past years, or to the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate at Estes Park, Col., will be decided by the cabinet at a special meeting in the association quarters tonight at 7 o'clock.

Arrangements will also be made for entertaining Student Secretary H. Heinzman, of the Rocky Mountain district, who will visit the University some time next month. The cabinet will probably call for a "mixer" of the entire membership.

The Y. M. C. A. has obtained the concession from the faculty interscholastic committee to run the refreshment stands during track week. The proceeds will go toward the publishing the Y. M. C. A. handbook next year.

"NATURAL LIFE" TOPIC AT HAWTHORNE TONIGHT

"Natural Life of Montana" will be the general topic of the Hawthorne Literary society program to be given in the Romance languages room of Main hall tonight at 8 o'clock. Flowers, trees, birds, animals, and fish of the Treasure state will be discussed under as many sub-topics. Special music will be a feature of the evening.

EVERYBODY DOIN' IT

Come on fellows. Let's make Thursday's get-together luncheon the first of a series of live booster meetings. Faculty, alumni, and students, we are all working for a bigger and better University. Something to eat, a song, a smoke, just a word or two—and then a closer bond and better fellowship.

Everybody has to eat somewhere, why not at the Florence Thursday noon? You may not be able to play football, you may not be able to represent your University in any inter-collegiate contest, but here is an opportunity to do your part in boosting Montana.

Everybody else is going, are you?

DEPARTMENT ISSUES

Beginning this week every Thursday issue of the Kaimin will devote at least one page to describing the work of the various departments and schools of the University. Copy for this publicity work will be furnished by the different departments and must be in the hands of the staff before six o'clock the night before publication.

There will be three special editions, those for the school of law, forestry and commerce and accounting. The other departments and schools will be given a part of a page. Besides the three school editions there will be an activity issue and an athletic issue. These will contain pictures and write-ups of University activities of all kinds. The purpose of this publicity work is to bring the different parts of the school to the attention of prospective students and to make the students of the University familiar with the different departments of the school.

Arrangement of copy and writing of heads will be done by the staff but the copy must be prepared under the direction of the various departments. A definite date has been given to each school or department and if copy is not ready by the date allotted to a department the opportunity will be lost.

The schedule for publication is as follows:

LIBRARIAN RECEIVES BULLETINS WRITTEN BY PROF. AND ALUMNUS

Bulletins containing investigations made by Professor William G. Bateman of the chemistry department at the University, who is now studying at Yale while on leave of absence, and by Ernest E. Hubert, '12, who is assisting Dr. James R. Weir, pathological investigator of the forestry service in Missoula, have been received at the University library.

"The Naming of Colors by Children and the Binet 'test,' is the title of the treatise by Professor Bateman. "A Serious Disease in Forest Nurseries caused by Peridermium Filamentum" is the subject which Dr. Weir and Hubert deal with in an article reprinted from the Journal of Agricultural Research.

The bulletin by Professor Bateman gives the results of an examination of 591 Missoula children in the first three grades of school. The Binet test to which they were subjected consists in naming correctly the colors red, blue, green and yellow when shown them. More than 95 per cent of the children examined passed this test. Four other colors, black, white, orange and purple were then added to the list and 88 per cent of the same children named the eight colors correctly. The figures further show that girls are better at naming colors than boys, as 94 per cent of the former passed and only 80 per cent of the latter.

The article by Dr. Weir and Hubert tells of their investigation of a serious disease which has recently worked havoc among the yellow pine seedlings in the Savenac nursery at Haugan, Montana. The disease also attacks lodgepole pine and its prolific development on them makes it especially dangerous to a forest nursery.

FRATERNITY MEMBERS LEAD ON ROLL

Not only the largest number but also the largest percentage of students which has ever won honors in scholarship at the University of Montana has been accorded places on the honor roll in recognition of excellent work done during the first semester. In order to "make the honor roll" it is necessary for a student to receive a grade of "A" (85-95) or above it in at least one-half of his hours and no grade of less than "B plus" (75-85). Eighty-eight of the 568 students enrolled during the first semester succeeded in making the roll.

A study of the honor roll reveals the interesting facts that Helena High school leads with the number of graduates of the high schools other than the Missoula County High school, winning distinction, and that members of fraternities and sororities are better students than are the non-fraternity undergraduates.

As would be expected, Missoula County High school leads with 29 graduates on the roll. Helena High school follows with nine graduates and then Butte with six, Great Falls with five, Hamilton and Billings with three each and Kalispell and Livingston with two each.

Fraternities Better.

Although but 25 per cent of the men and women enrolled in the University are members of Greek-letter organizations, 33 per cent of the people given places on the roll are fraternity members. Kappa Kappa Gamma leads both the sororities and fraternities with eight members on the roll.

Alpha Delta Alpha leads the fraternities with seven members. Sigma Nu follows.

BEST DANCE OF YEAR IS COMMENT ON BALL

ANNUAL DANCE IN HONOR OF MONTANA'S ATHLETES PLEASES MANY

"The best dance of the year."

This was the comment heard on nearly everybody's lips at the gymnasium Friday morning at 1 o'clock when the single "Boom" from the clock in University tower ended the 1916 Athletic ball.

The feature of the evening—why it was the dance itself. The big item of the dance was the presentation by Acting President Scheuch of silver colored ribbons bearing a gold "M" to the letter men in athletics. The same design was also carried out in the dance programs which were little lavender colored books with a gold "M" on the front cover. The gym was decorated in red and white and fitted up with cozy corners. Music was furnished by a five-piece orchestra composed entirely of University students. The lights were of different colors and so arranged that a moonlight dance was possible.

Sixty couples attended the ball, half of them disregarding the rule that the dance was to be informal. Punch was served by David Berg of the freshman class. Financially the ball had a deficit of $11. Those in charge of the affair were Arthur Drew, manager; Charles Tynan, assistant manager; Helen Buckley, programs and invitations; Horace Judson, lighting, and Tom Davis, refreshments, and Dick Howell, music.

TWO NEW SIGMA CHIS

William D. Richardson, a junior in the forest school, and George Gossman, a senior in the pharmacy school, were initiated into Beta Delta chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity Sunday night.

Law Risken, of Anaconda, who has been reporting on the Anaconda Standard, registered as a student in the school of journalism at the University today, for the work of the second semester.

NOTICE JUNIORS

There will be a meeting of the Junior class in the mathematics room at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Lows with four, Sigma Chi with three, Iota Nu, a local, with one, and Delta Rho, a newly-organized local with one. Delta Gamma was represented with four and Kappa Alpha Theta with three.

Three out of seven of the members of The Scribblers' club, the women's press club at the university, made the roll. Four out of seven of the members of Sigma Delta Chi, the national journalist fraternity, made the roll.

Of the 88 students who were given honors, 59 are girls and 29 are boys.

COFFMAN'S MIRACLE PLAY THEORIES ARE SOUND, SAYS CRITIC

"The theory concerning the origin of the miracle play advanced by Professor Coffman is the most convincing one that has yet appeared." Such is the comment made by Professor T. S. Graves of the English department of Trinity college who specializes in the drama, in reviewing in the January South Atlantic Quarterly "A New Theory Concerning the Origin of the Miracle Play," written by Dr. George R. Coffman of the English department of the University.

The theory advanced by Professor Coffman is that the miracle play is essentially a French creation which arose in the eleventh and twelfth century movements to free the drama from the church. Instead of being the result of gradual evolution, Professor Coffman holds that the miracle play sprang into existence in consequence of the application by some creative person of the well-known dramatic method to a popular legend of St. Nicholas and that it has far greater significance and much wider appeal than is generally supposed.

LIBRARIAN MUST ANSWER QUESTIONS OF ALL KINDS

What would you do if you got a letter asking for references on "Equity Co-operation" or "The Hit-or-Miss Vacation?" Probably present it to Friend Wastebasket, wouldn't you? That's where you have the advantage over the University library, which is a public service institution.

The library is constantly in receipt of letters from all parts of the state asking for information on such topics as the above together with many leading questions of the day. Six inquiries of this kind have been brought by Postman Dunham to the librarian in the last two days. When possible, clippings, pamphlets, magazine articles and even books are sent to the writer if the request is accompanied by a deposit to insure their return and pay the postage. Often the topics are so vague that the librarian has to take a random guess at the kind of material wanted. The high school debating league and the various clubs in the state are among the chief customers of the library's mail order business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thieme, and Miss Hopkins were guests at the Iota Nu house for dinner on Sunday.

HOP A LA LUMBERJACK WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

FORESTERS' INGENUITY AND HOSPITALITY WILL FEATURE DANCE.

No, those green placards aren't frosh proclamations, they're announcements of the Foresters' lumberjack dance next Friday night. Forestry ingenuity will be displayed, and forestry hospitality extended. In the words of the manager himself:

"The dance is free and the foresters cordially invite the students and faculty of the University, also any of the townpeople who would care to come."

There will be a five piece orchestra, there will be vaudeville acts by the foresters during the intermission, there will be lumberjacks' dinner served in the forestry building, served on long tables and out of tin dishes.

But the foresters have laid down one rule. All the dancers must come appropriately garbed. The wearing of a white collar will cost the wearer 10 cents and the presence of dancing pumps will be an unpardonable breach of etiquette. However, the maximum fine for any or all offences is 50 cents. Flannel shirts, high boots, corduroys and hunting outfits are the order of the day.

The purpose of the dance is to introduce the rangers or "shorthorns" to the other students.

"I Know and I Wont Tell" In a Nutshell, the Girls

Sh! Come here till I whisper. The girls—are—planning—oh something. Well, they are, because there will be no student "con" a week from Thursday and the girls are going to meet that hour. Don't ask me what it's all about. That's all I know. Ann Rector has leased the hall and there is to be a women's rights meeting of some sort there. It may be the leap year party, it may be that the co-eds are trying to start something. I am sure I do not know and Ann Rector won't tell so how are you going to find out?

HELEN FINCH BETTER

Helen Finch, who has been a patient at St. Patrick's hospital with a sprained knee has returned to Craig hall, very much improved, but not yet able to attend classes. Mrs. Grant E. Finch, mother of Helen, who has been with her daughter for the past week, returned to her home in Dillon Sunday.

THEODOSIA SHERBURNE GONE

Miss Theodosia Sherburne, '18, left Saturday for her home in Browning. Miss Sherburne will spend the spring and summer with her sister, who did not return to the University after Christmas vacation. She will register in September.

Erma Lessel, a senior at the Montana State college, was the guest of Margaret Garvin at the Kappa Alpha Theta house for the week end. Miss Lessel came to Missoula to attend the athletic ball on Friday evening.

DORM FIRE PREVENTION BEFORE BOARD TONIGHT

The local board of the University will meet tonight and discuss fire prevention measures at the girls' dormitory, as a result of the expose in The Kaimin last week of conditions in Craig hall, which made it extremely dangerous in case of a fire. The recommendations made by The Kaimin were the installation of fire escapes, fire gongs and fire drill at the dormitory. Since then the building has been measured for fire escapes. The only protection against fire at Craig hall at present are 50 feet of two-inch hose, standpipes, and two chemical fire extinguishers on each floor. The local board consists of Acting President Scheuch, J. H. T. Ryman, J. M. Keith and J. D. Dunlop, secretary. Chancellor Elliott will also attend.

SENTINEL STAFF STILL TOO BUSY TO ENTERTAIN

"Kick-a-pus out of the dorm," says Dick Howell, "Pig-Latin" editor of the year-book, to all intruders into the Sentinel office at the end of the hall in the main building these busy days.

The reasons, claim the editor, are valid—just work to do. The literary staff is working on the many innovations in year-book make-up, while the picture department is pushed to the limit. There are 800 photographs to mount, and more than 100 snapshots to be arranged through the book.

Thus the "busy" sign over the door.

CHOP SUEY FEED GIVEN FOR Y. W. C. A. TONIGHT

The University Y. W. C. A. affiliated with the Missoula Y. W. C. A., will enjoy a Golden Jubilee in the form of a banquet at the Methodist church tonight. After the banquet, or the "Chop Suey dinner" as it reads in the invitations, speeches will be made by some of the leaders of the Y. W. C. A.

HELEN BUCKLEY GOES HOME

Helen Buckley, who has been in St. Patrick's hospital for the last week, left yesterday for her home in Butte where she will take further treatment. Miss Buckley, or "Buck" as she is known to her friends, has been prominent in school activities and will be missed on the campus. She intends to return as soon as she can.

DAEMS IN BUTTE

Leonard (Belgian) Daems, captain of last year's varsity football team, will not return to the University this semester. He is at present working in Butte. He expects to register next September.

J. J. Southwick of the freshman class has gone to his home in Hamilton for the rest of the semester.

REGULAR MEDICINE MAN IS ELROD, WEATHER MAN

Friends Ask and Expect Him to Regulate and Record Heat and Storm.

The engine-room crew may smile while blizzards go howling over the campus; not so Dr. Morton J. Elrod of the biology department. Wherever he goes on such days the people he meets heap maledictions upon his head, and if he seeks to dodge them by staying at home, the outraged populace use the telephone to tell the worthy doctor what they think of him. And all this merely because he is the "weather man" of Missoula.

"People have queer ideas about the weather and me, Dr. Elrod remarked. "I have to be continually telling them that unlike the Kaiser my relation to the weather is not that of 'me und Gott.' 'Gott und me' would be a little closer to the truth. All the weather apparatus I have in Missoula now is a government thermometer from which I take daily readings of the temperature."

The doctor receives inquiries from people every day about the weather. Just recently a man phoned in from the Bitter Root valley and asked what the weather would be at the end of the month. Dr. Elrod informed him that he made no predictions for the future, that he could get such prophecies for 36 hours ahead from the Helena weather station through the local chamber of commerce, but that if he wanted to know the weather any further ahead he would have to go to one of the patent medicine calendars.

Frequently attorneys with cases in the local district court call upon Dr. Elrod to testify upon the state of the weather at certain times. One lawyer wanted the doctor to go on the witness stand and tell the court at what time the sun rose. Dr. Elrod indignantly refused, saying that he had other things to do besides getting up every morning to see the sun rise; that in fact he was usually in bed at such times. He referred the attorney to the almanac in which such data is compiled.

In another case the plaintiff had left his automobile in the care of another man, who neglected to drain the radiator. It froze up and burst. The owner sued the caretaker, and Dr. Elrod's testimony from his official records that the temperature at that time was below zero won the case for him.

TEETOTALERS SELECT NEW NAME FOR LEAGUE

The local branch of the Intercollegiate Prohibition association was officially christened "The Social Welfare league of the University of Montana" when a constitution was adopted at a meeting held in Room 4 of University hall last Friday afternoon.

William Jameson was selected vice-president in place of Bruce Hopper, resigned, and James Fry will serve as publicity manager in the place of Virginia Nuckolls, resigned. A few plans for the spring work were discussed. Plans are under way to make the oratorical contest a success. It was announced that A. B. Hoblitt, a prominent lawyer and social worker of Missoula and a graduate of the University, had consented to lead a study class on prohibition which will begin in the near future.

The Delta Rho fraternity entertained their pledges at the Florence hotel last Saturday evening at dinner.

PLAN TO RECONSTRUCT STANDS FOR BIG MEET

INTERSCHOLASTIC COMMITTEE CONTEMPLATES NEW HOME FOR JUDGES.

At a meeting of the Interscholastic Track Meet committee held recently, plans were laid to remodel the grandstand on Montana field, and to build a movable judges' stand which will insure the judges of witnessing the finish of every race. The contemplated reconstruction of the grandstand provides for the joining of the bleachers with the stands along the gymnasium leaving an entrance in the center of the completed bleachers.

The date set for the thirteenth interscholastic track meet to be held at the University is May 9-13. In spite of the fact that the teams of each school have been limited to five men instead of eight as before, 225 contestants representing 45 schools will be entered in the various events. This track meet ranks fourth among those held in the United States, the Illinois, Iowa and Chicago meets only excelling it in size.

The track will be in far better shape this spring than last when the 220 yard straightaway was completed. The cinders have packed down hard and with a little work on it when the frost goes out of the ground the track should be one of the fastest in the Northwest.

The members of the interscholastic committee are J. P. Rowe, chairman, Carl H. Getz, secretary, R. H. Jesse, James Bonner, W. W. H. Mustaine, C. W. Leapheart and M. J. Elrod.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED BY RIFLE CLUB

The members of the University Rifle club met in the geology room in University hall yesterday afternoon. After a business discussion an election of officers was held, in which all the officers of last semester were unanimously re-elected to their positions. They are, Claud Simpkins, '16, president; John Schroeder, '16, vice-president; Stuart McHaffie, '17, secretary; John Patterson, '18, treasurer; and Professor T. C. Spaulding of the forest school, captain.

Some of the members have purchased guns and these have already been received. The guns for the general use of the club members have not yet arrived. However, the appearance of the new Springfield and Krag-Jorgenson rifles enthused a number to place an order for 1,000 rounds of ammunition in anticipation of the arrival of the general club guns.

Plans were discussed for the installing of an up-to-date target south of the University campus.

CATHOLIC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR SEMESTER

Mary Conlon entertained the members of the Catholic Students' association at her home, 517 E. Main street last Saturday evening. One of the purposes of the organization is to observe all national holidays, and this meeting was held in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. A short musical program was given, after which the regular business meeting was held. Seventy members were present.

Clarence Hanley was elected president of the association for this semester, Margaret Garvin, vice-president, Edwin Cummins, secretary and Henry Giovanitti, treasurer.

Later in the evening a sumptuous lunch was served. The next meeting of the organization will be held on Washington's birthday, Tuesday, February 22.

DOPE

A shot in the arm and we're off.

Bring home the bacon, boys.

Too bad Red can't go. The team will miss him.

We sure would like to see Dries in action on that big floor at W. S. C.

Remember the get-together luncheon.

Coach Dobie of Washington says he would like to play Dietz's team. Manager Younger of the University of Washington has reopened negotiations with Washington State college in hopes of arranging a game for next fall.

O. A. C. defeated Idaho 35 to 14 last Saturday. Idaho has not won a Conference basketball game this season.

Washington State had a hard time defeating Gonzaga 18 to 14 last Friday night.

Another Athletic dance and the basketball team would be in the hospital. The no-stag rule went pretty hard on the boys who are used to taking a rest every few dances.

That dance was pretty soft for the M men.

The boys on the wrestling mat say that Wink Brown has a wonderful scissors hold. He should make a good sports writer.

The stands at the University of Washington were destroyed by the weight of snow during the storm which hit the coast last week.

We have heard that the spring weather has made Shorty Rickets start greasing his baseball shoes. Nothing like preparedness, Shorty.

The Montana Aggies will invade Utah in the near future for a series of basketball games. Why not try out local talent?

More stands for the Interscholastic meet, which goes to show that the University's Interscholastic meet is growing more popular each year.

The rifle team representing Washington State college made a perfect score of 1,000 at the intercollegiate rifle championship match, held under the auspices of the National Rifle association.

The University Rifle club yesterday began practice, using Mount Sentinel as a target. When one of the members was asked if a good score had been made he said he didn't know. A pretty small object to hit we will admit.

W. W. Mustaine is giving his classes in physical culture a series of lectures on how to keep the body in good condition. Attention track men and also the fellows who limped away from the Athletic ball.

The University of Washington is having a series of pep rallies at which the attendance of all the fraternity men is checked up as well as the number of freshmen and sophomores. Some organizations had a percentage of 1000. How about a series of rallies of this kind at the University?

"Click" Clark says this column is no good. Maybe he is right. Well, at that it takes up space so it's of some use. We think Clark only wanted his name in the paper, anyhow.

And again, don't forget the get-together luncheon.

"PEEPER" STABS STAR OF GONZAGA

Jack Abrams, center on Turk's Quintet, Hurt by Man He Captures.

Jack Abrams, Gonzaga's star basketball center, was severely stabbed last week when he captured an alleged "Peeping Tom." Although he was injured three times below the heart and lost much blood, Abrams hung on to his assailant until help arrived.

Abrams, who was spending the evening at the home of one of his friends, rushed out of the house when an alarm which had been set for anyone who attempted to peep in the window, rang. When he grabbed the man he received his wounds.

Abrams will be remembered by those who saw his stellar work on the Gonzaga team when they played here. His injuries are not serious but they will keep him out of Gonzaga's line-up the rest of the season.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM PLAYS DILLON MONDAY

The girls' basketball team of the University will travel to Dillon next Monday where they will play the first game of their schedule. Dillon has a fast team but the girls are confident that they will come home with the victory.

A team from the Sacred Heart academy furnished the girls with a short, snappy practice game Thursday afternoon. A return game will be played with the Dillon team here on February 28.

BOHEN AT UTAH

Emmet Bohen, a former student at the University of Montana, has registered at the University of Utah, according to the Utah Chronicle. The Chronicle says that Bohen entered the University of Utah with advanced credits and will undoubtedly prove a valuable acquisition to the gridiron squad next fall.
