Resolution Committing the Building Fee to the Native American Center

September 23, 2008

Senate Bill 12-08/09

Authored by: Trevor Hunter, ASUM President
Siri Smillie, ASUM Vice President

Whereas, The University of Montana originally submitted and gained approval from the state legislature for the Native American Center in 1999;

Whereas, the Native American Center, as the first facility in the nation built expressly to accommodate a Department of Native American Studies and other related campus programming, positions the University to continue its trajectory of excellence and responsiveness in Native American education;

Whereas, the Native American Center will serve as the home for academic and support services and provide an intellectual and social hub for all those interested in learning about Native American history, issues, culture, and perspectives;

Whereas, the recent economic downturn, the limited availability of steel worldwide, the addition of Leadership in Energy Efficient Design (LEED) Silver accreditation, and global inflation have caused construction costs to rise;

Whereas, the Native American Center is to be funded through a combination of private donation ($8,710,660) and University unrestricted funds ($1,250,000) if approved by the Board of Regents;

Whereas, the University unrestricted funding sources include: $700,000 on bond interest, $100,000 from the building fee, $150,000 from income on investments, and $300,000 from the academic facilities fee;

Whereas, according to Board of Regents policy, any commitment of $200,000 or more of the academic facilities fee must be approved by the students;

Therefore, Let It Be Resolved that ASUM approves the commitment of $300,000 from the UM academic facilities fee to be used in the building of the Native American Center.

Therefore, Let It Be Further Resolved that ASUM supports the increase in the spending authority for the Native American Center by the Board of Regents.

Therefore, Let It Be Further Resolved that ASUM will be consulted in the future when the University seeks approval of a commitment of funds from the building fee or the academic facilities fee at or above $200,000.

Therefore, Let It Be Further Resolved that ASUM must approve any allocation exceeding $200,000 from any University of Montana fee account, in accordance with Montana Board of Regents policy 940.9.3. ASUM must be notified at least one week prior to the Board of Regents considering it.
