Learning Contract

This syllabus represents a contract between the professor and student. Your enrollment in the course symbolizes your acceptance of the terms set forth. As your professor I reserve the right to amend the syllabus throughout the semester. I will notify students of any significant changes to readings and/or lectures. Assignments and due dates will not be changed without notifying the class.

Course Description

Welcome to the Human Rights and Mass Incarceration online course offered by the African American Studies Program at the University of Montana. In this course we will examine the historical development of prisons and policing in the United States and how these two mechanisms have been used as a form of social control, specifically against people of African descent. The course will explore themes such as convict leasing, the war on drugs, the prison-industrial complex, political prisoners in the United States and the school-to-prison pipeline among other vital issues. The course will also examine some of the human rights violations related to mass incarceration raised by organizers, scholars, lawyers and the currently and formerly incarcerated. By the end of the semester, students will become familiar with important concepts and terms and will have a fundamental understanding of the history of prisons and police in the United States.

Required Book List

Davis, Angela. Are Prisons Obsolete? New York, NY: Seven Stories Press, 2003. (Available on Moodle on Introduction Page)

Kilgore, James. Understanding Mass Incarceration: A People's Guide to the Key Civil Rights Struggle of Our Time. New York, NY: The New Press, 2015.

Taylor, Keeanga-Yamahtta. From #BlackLivesMatter to Black Liberation. Chicago, Ill: Haymarket Books, 2016.

All other required readings will be available on Moodle.

Student Expectations

Response Papers (5)- Beginning in week four students will be required to submit five 1-2 page response papers over the course of the semester. The response papers will summarize and analyze the readings, lectures and topics from the previous two weeks. Each response paper will be worth two points. All response papers will be due on Monday during weeks 4, 6, 8, 12 and 14.

Discussion Board Responses (5)- To help facilitate discussion among students, there will be five discussion boards posted throughout the semester. The prompt for the discussion board will either be a question or a brief video or article related to a current event. Students are expected to respond in a thoughtful manner, and responses should be between 3-5 sentences in length. Students are also required to respond to two other students for full credit. Each discussion board response will be worth two points. Discussion boards will be posted and active from Monday to Saturday during weeks 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11.

Quizzes (2)- There will be two quizzes given throughout the semester in class. The quizzes will be worth ten points each and no make-up quizzes will be given. Each quiz will consist of multiple choice, short answer, fill in the blank and true/false questions from the readings, lectures, films and discussions. All quizzes will be posted on Thursdays at 8 am and will be available until Saturday at 11:59 pm. Once you begin the quiz, you will have 20 minutes to complete it.

Exams (2)- The two exams will consist of multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank, true/false, short answer and short essay questions which will be pulled from the readings, lectures, films and discussions. Each exam will be worth twenty points. All exams will be posted on Thursdays at 8 am and will be available until Saturday at 11:59 pm. Once you begin the exam, you will have 60 minutes to complete it.

Final Project- For the final project, you will choose a topic related to the topic of mass incarceration. You can work by yourself or in a group of 2-3. Be sure to choose a topic that you find interesting. The final project will be worth 20% of your final grade. The final project will be due on the day of the final. A 1-2 page proposal for your final project is due Monday, September 27 by 11:59 PM.

Final Project

There are multiple forms that your final project can take:

- Podcast/Audio Documentary (20-30 Minutes)
- Short film (15-20 Minutes)
- 5-7 Page Analytical Paper
- An Informational Website/Online Magazine
- Significant Art Project (Must Be Approved)
- Other Project (Must Be Approved)

ALL projects must be approved and you must incorporate at least five academic sources into your work.

A 1-2 page proposal for your final project is due Monday, September 27 by 11:59 PM. This proposal should include:

- A short summary of the proposed project.
- An outline of the content you plan to include.
- A list of at least five academic sources you plan to use (Books, Journal Articles, Reports, etc.)
- A timeline for completing the project
- A description of what attributes you believe the completed project should have in order to earn an A grade.

The Final Project will be due on the day of the final(TBA)
