Course Description and Course Objectives

This course provides an introduction to visual language, concepts, and studio practicum. There is a focus on basic skills development in rendering volume, pictorial depth, and figure/ground relationships. The course will also address historical and contemporary approaches to drawing.

Students will develop an understanding and ability to demonstrate several important historical and contemporary drawing techniques and concepts. These include but are not limited to mark-making, proportional development, form, gesture drawing, contour line, cross-contour line, light, value, composition, positive and negative space, repetition, rhythm, perspective (one, two, and three-point), subject matter, emotional content and expression. Drawings will primarily be executed in charcoal while occasionally using graphite in the preparatory stages and conté crayon for accents.

Format

Techniques and concepts will be introduced through video lectures/demonstrations, image galleries, and occasionally through assigned readings. Critiques of student work will occur in class.

Course Workload

You will find a syllabus below, which lists the concepts we will undertake by the week. Any assigned art projects, more than likely, cannot be completed in the allotted class time. In addition to regularly scheduled meeting times, expect five hours of work outside of scheduled class per week for completion of projects and assignments. Studio technicians and work-study students may be available to provide assistance. Individual and/or group critiques may coincide with the completion of the art assignments. Students are required to thoroughly evaluate their own artwork, others' artwork, as well as understand/accept criticism given by others.

To be successful in this class, each student must:

- Participate with all materials/resources on Moodle
- Actively participate with individual discussions concerning work on Zoom, when necessary
- Complete all assignments on time
- Keep notes on technical information
- Help maintain a safe, clean, and organized studio
- FYI: I will not accept work turned in for another course

Materials

The ARTZ105 supply kits, which are paid with your course fees, will be available in the UC Bookstore for pick-up in approximately 2 weeks (by 9/13). The UC Bookstore does not like to release these kits any sooner because they lose money if a student obtains the kit and then decides to drop the course. I appreciate your patience with this matter.

In the meantime, you will have to purchase some of your own supplies, which can likely be obtained and shipped quickly through Amazon or through any online vendor. Below is the complete list of supplies with the UPC/EAN numbers from an online vendor called MacPherson's Art. You don't have to order the exact same items but something similar would suffice. If anything, I recommend obtaining the first three items on the list (or something like them) as soon as possible, knowing your supplies will be replenished within a few weeks.

69-68 = D+

67-63 = D

62-60 = D-

59-BELOW = F

Attendance/Absence Policy

Attendance at all classes is mandatory. Students are expected to arrive on time and be in class for its entire duration. All absences regardless of cause (sleeping in/travel/medical emergency/family emergency), follow the guidelines below:

- + Two absences/late arrivals/leaving early = No grade change
- + Three to four absences/late arrivals/leaving early = One full grade drop

- + Five to six absences/late arrivals/leaving early = Two full grades dropped
- + More than six absences/late arrivals/leaving early = Retake course

Lectures, discussions, demonstrations, and instructions missed will not be repeated; the absent student must obtain notes and information from another student.

Cell Phone Policy

Please refrain from using your cell phone in class, unless the instructor has given permission for the sake of visual and/or other related research. If you need to answer or make a call, please do so by excusing yourself from the classroom in an unobtrusive manner.

Extra Credit Policy

There will be no extra credit offered for this course.

General Health and Safety Policies

The UM School of Art uses environmentally-sound methods. Spray fixatives may not be used inside the studio/classroom facilities. They may be used outside or in an approved spray booth. Acrylic media are water-based and acceptable. All are available at our bookstore.

You will be individually responsible for clean up at the end of each of your classroom working periods, both during and between classes.

During the last week of the semester students will removing all studio work from the art facilities.

No work should remain in the building beyond the end of the semester.

No creatures or children under the age of 18 will be allowed in studio during class time or open studio times.

No food or open beverage containers are allowed in the School of Art facilities when art-making is in progress. Students may take a snack break by stepping out of the studio/classroom in necessary and approved.

The use of studio space requires enrollment in a specific studio course or a course that incorporates studio practices. Hours are from 7 AM – 11 PM daily.

Covid-19 Policy

The University of Montana requires masks for every course being held in a classroom, lab, or studio until otherwise informed.

- If you feel sick and/or are exhibiting COVID-19 symptoms, please don't come to class and contact the Curry Health Center at (406) 243-4330.
- If you are required to isolate or quarantine, you will receive support in the class to ensure continued academic progress. If such support is necessary the instructor will work out a plan directly with the student to serve his, her, or their needs
- UM recommends students get the COVID-19 vaccine. Please direct your questions or concerns about vaccines to Curry Health Center.
- Where social distancing (maintaining consistent 6 feet between individuals) is not possible, specific seating arrangements will be used to support contact tracing efforts.
- Class attendance and seating will be recorded to support contact tracing efforts.
- Drinking liquids and eating food is discouraged within the classroom.
- Mask use is required in vehicles when traveling to field sites as part of class/fieldwork.

Land Acknowledgement

The University of Montana acknowledges that we are in the aboriginal territories of the Salish and Kalispel people. Today, we honor the path they have always shown us in caring for this place for the generations to come.

Inclusion Policies

The University of Montana values leadership, engagement, diversity, and sustainability, because our institution is committed to respect, welcome, encourage, and celebrate the differences among us. As members of the University of Montana community, we aspire to:

- Respect the dignity and rights of all persons.
- Practice honesty, trustworthiness, and academic integrity.
- Promote justice, learning, individual success, and service.
- Act as good stewards of institutional resources.
- Respect the natural environment.

The College of the Arts and Media at the University of Montana, has chosen to actively pursue equity and access for all persons. In this charge we will be researching, planning, and implementing ways in which our culture can be more accessible, inclusive, equitable, sustainable. It is not enough to be anti-bias in principle without being equitable in action. We will implement these actions organized by a group of students, faculty, and staff across the entire College in an ongoing way.

Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code

This Code of Conduct embodies and promotes honesty, integrity, accountability, and duties associated with citizenship as a student in our community at the University of Montana. This Code exists to protect the interests of the community and dignity of its members, and to challenge those behaviors which are not in accordance with our policies. The Code is available for review online at <https://staging.umt.edu/student-affairs/community-standards/student-code-of-conduct-2021-pdf>

Accommodations

Students with disabilities may request reasonable modifications by contacting the DSS office. The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students (DSS). Content Notification

Art scholarship and art practice along with teaching and learning involve a critical exploration of ideas, theories, art-making practices, and art movements that encompass such things as the human body, sexuality, race, gender, religions, and cultures. This course can touch upon any of the above categories with an expectation that students will actively participate in all course assignments, discussions, and tests. Given this information, it is the student's obligation to determine that the requirements conflict with his or her core beliefs. If the student determines that there is a conflict with his or her beliefs, one of the following actions needs to be taken: 1) drop the class before the last day to drop a course without penalty; 2) meet with the instructor within the first week of classes to determine if an accommodation can be made. (Note, faculty are not required to grant content accommodations.)
