UM SUMMER ENROLLMENT SETS RECORD

MISSOULA --

University of Montana enrollment set yet another record this summer session, drawing 2,970 students for an increase of about 10 percent over last summer's figure, Registrar Phil Bain said.

The growth is consistent with a steady upward trend in UM enrollment, Bain said, but the size of the summer increase may be attributed to the University's upcoming semester conversion. Many students took summer courses in order to graduate before fall, when the University will switch from quarters to semesters, he said, noting that seniors represent more than half of the total 271-student increase in summer enrollment.

UM enrollment has set a new quarterly enrollment record every quarter since fall, 1989.
