LAWYERS INVITE PUBLIC TO MOCK TRIAL TONIGHT

CASE OF RACHAEL WILLIAMS VS.
CENTRAL LIFE IS ON THE CALENDAR.

STUDENTS CONDUCT CASE

INVOLVES COLLECTION OF LIFE
INSURANCE POLICY OF MAN ALLEGED TO BE ALIVE.

Is the husband of Rachael Williams dead or is he living in disguise in Helena so that his wife may collect his life insurance policy? That is the question which will be argued before the judge and jury of the practice court of the University law school in a mock trial tonight in the law rooms in the basement of the library. Because of the interest attached to the case the lawyers have invited the public to attend.

The case, which is known legally as "Rachael Williams versus The Central Insurance Company of the United States," was tried in the courts of Montana several years ago. Williams was a dentist who formerly practiced in Missoula. He disappeared and his wife entered a claim with the Central Life Company for his life insurance policy. The company alleged that Williams was not dead, but was living a dissolute life in Helena under an assumed name and refused to pay the death benefit. These will be the conflicting claims which the student lawyers will endeavor to decide tonight.

Ben Riordan will represent Mrs. Williams. Edgar Reed will conduct the defense for the life insurance company. Henry C. Stiff, local attorney for the Milwaukee, will be the trial judge. Members of the law school will take the part of the witnesses in the original case and will be examined and cross-examined by the attorneys on both sides. They have been carefully drilled along the lines of the main features of their testimony in order that the trial may move off without a hitch. The trial will have no relation to the original one except as to the facts brought out in the evidence. Other than that it will be fought out as if it had never been tried before.

Students who have attended the mock trials of the law school in the past expect an entertaining evening tonight. There will be no admission charge. The trial will begin at 7:30 p. m.

DEBATE TEAM GIVEN "M" FOBS FOR SERVICES

The debate teams of last year have received their "M's". They are in the form of gold medal watch fobs bearing lock "M's". Stuart McHaffie, Willing, Alva Baird, Leo Horst, William Ameson, Payne Templeton, Howard Johnson and Bruce Hopper received the fobs. Hopper made his "M" in oratory, or a debater to be entitled to an "M" must participate in a college debate.

W. C. A. HOLD BAZAAR OF CHRISTMAS ARTICLES

Members of the Y. W. C. A. are taking advantage of the approach of Christmas to hold a bazaar Saturday in the W. C. A. building on East Cedar street, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

Barbara Fraser of the University association is in charge of the bazaar, any attractive booths are being arranged for the display of the articles which the young women of the association have contributed. Towels, handkerchiefs, Japanese novelties, cake and candy, are some of the things which will be placed on sale. The bazaar will be open until 6 p. m.

Strong-Arm Employed To Keep Order in Gym

"Towe-l-l-l!" bawls a shivering athlete as he does a double shuffle on the cold tiles of the bath room floor in the gym.

"Shut up!" The answer booms forth through the door of "Musty's" office, and the old building sends back the echo from every cobwebbed corner. The freshmen pause in their exercise and look at each other with blanched faces, and the culprit in the bath room mumbles "Yes, sir," and dries himself with his room-mate's Sunday shirt.

"S-say, Jass, who d'ye 'spose is in that office!" whispers the little frosh in the back row to the spindle-legged youth in front of him.

Jass looks back, and controls his chattering teeth long enough to gasp: "Kick on the muffer, Yegg, d'ye want him to hear yu'?" Ooze over here and I'll give yu' th' dope. Yu' see it's like this. The gym classes this year are so big that 'Musty' can't handle 'em, so he hired an assistant, an' d'ye know who I heard it is?" Jass lowers his voice to an almost inaudible whisper. "It's Jess Willard, an' he's in th' office now!"

Yegg gasps for breath and sends the news down the line. Two minutes later all eyes are focused on the office door, and "Musty" scratches his head in perplexity.

A shuffling of feet is heard in the office, the door-knob rattles, the door creaks and swings open. Out walks Mortimer J. Donoghue.

MONTANA REPORTER EDITED BY LAW MEN

First Publication of Work Will Contain Writings of Best Montana Barristers.

The Montana Law Reporter, a publication which will be similar in character to the reports of the other law schools of the country, will be published in April or May by the school of law of the University.

The publication will consist of approximately 80 pages. Some of the best known men in the legal profession in Montana will contribute to it. A. N. Whitlock, dean of the school of law, will have an article in one of the issues. Other articles will be published by such other prominent men in the profession as Theodore Brantley, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Montana, and Thomas J. Walsh, United States senator from this state. In addition several of the recent decisions of the Montana courts will be published.

A copy of the Montana Law Reporter will be sent, free of charge, to every law school in the American Association of Law Schools, and to every attorney practicing in the state of Montana.

PHILLIPS TO DELIVER HISTORICAL LECTURES

Paul C. Phillips, professor of history at the University, will give a series of from 10 to 15 lectures on the subject of Montana history in Butte after the holidays. The lectures will be given under the direction of the University of Montana extension department. Professor Phillips intends to make about five trips to Butte, giving three lectures each evening that he talks. The lectures will be open to the public, in order to give the people of Butte an idea of the research work that is being done by University people in gathering facts in the history of the state.

TREXLER GOES TO OMAHA.

H. A. Trexler, assistant professor of economics at the University, is leaving shortly for his home in Omaha, Nebraska, where he will spend the Christmas holidays.

MYSTERY SHROUDS PLANS FOR HI JINKS

MANAGERS ASSURE LIVELY PERFORMANCE OF THE ANNUAL FETE.

DANCE FOLLOWS PROGRAM

GIFT BOX HAS BEEN PLACED IN MAIN HALL FOR CHRISTMAS TREE.

Hi Jinks, the annual holiday frolic of the students, shrouded in the deepest mystery, will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Leroy Lebkicher, the manager, will give no details of the program, but he assures the public that the ceremony this year will be far ahead of anything of the kind ever attempted before on the campus.

Only one hint of the program is out—there will be jokes offered to the audience. If you have any such, if you know anything on anyone and would like to hear it "sprung" in public, you may possibly be gratified if you will communicate at once with Lebkicher, Mort Donoghue or R. D. Jenkins.

A gift box has been placed in the lobby of University hall. The gifts will be unrestricted and if there is anything you would like to see anyone receive in public, wrap it and write the name of the person on it and put it in the box.

Immediately after the Jinks, a dance will be held in the gymnasium, but it must end at exactly 11 o'clock, because of the dictum of the faculty.

Last year the women put on Hi Jinks and this year the men are to put it on, following the tradition that the men and women shall have charge of the program on alternate years. The program usually follows the form of a minstrel, featuring music, dancing and jokes, most of the latter being directed toward University people. The committee in charge of Hi Jinks have been at work for several weeks and claim to have an excellent program.

WEEK-END TRIPS ARE PLANS FOR GLEE CLUB

Plans for the annual glee-club tour have been placed in the hands of N. J. Lennes, professor of mathematics. He has secured week-end trips to Hamilton, Stevensville and Victor; Butte, Anaconda and Deer Lodge and Polson, Ronan and St. Ignatius. These trips are so arranged that the club will not lose more than two days a week making the tour. They will leave on Thursday night of each week and return in time for the regular classes Monday.

KEEP MONTANA HEALTHY IS ADVICE OF ELLIOTT

University students have been given an opportunity to make Montana "healthy, wealthy and wise." President F. C. Scheuch has received a telegram from Chancellor Elliott asking the students to take part in the Red Cross seal campaign against tuberculosis. The telegram says:

"Educated men and women everywhere, are helping to stamp out the white curse of tuberculosis. All students in the institutions of the University of Montana, as a test of their education and as evidence of their belief in human opportunity will this year do their full share in the Red Cross seal campaign. A Montana healthy is a Montana permanently wealthy."

The fate of the student petition asking for an extension of the Christmas holidays will be decided this afternoon at the meeting of the faculty.

MAY MEET MINNESOTA

The University of Minnesota vs. the Grizzlies, Oct. 13, 1917 in Minneapolis.

That is the possibility opened by a telegram received today by Coach Nissen from Minnesota officials who wish to place Montana on their football schedule next season. The matter will be considered by the faculty committee on athletics this afternoon. Many gridiron critics declare that Minnesota had the strongest football team in the Middle West last season.

AUSTRALIAN SENDS CURIOS HERE

Forest School Faculty Receive Christmas Gifts from E. H. F. Swain, District Forester of New South Wales.

The first Christmas presents announced on the campus are a collection of curios formerly used by the bushmen of Australia sent to members of the forest school faculty by E. H. F. Swain, district forester of New South Wales. The collection contains a boomerang, a walla walla and an Emu egg.

The boomerang and the walla walla are made of a dark red wood, as heavy as iron and too hard to be carved by steel. The instruments have been burned into their shapes. The boomerang is used as a hunting or war weapon. It is so constructed that it will return to the place from where it was hurled if it fails to strike some object. The walla walla is a war club more than two feet long, tapering at one end to a point and swelling at the other end to a knob the size of a man's fist. The emu's eggs are about five inches long. The background of the shell is white, with a net-work of brown. Figures of a kangaroo, a peacock and birds are carved upon it by scraping away the brown. The emu is a species of ostrich, fast growing extinct and said to date back in history probably as far as any living specimen.

Mr. Swain was a student in the forest school last year. He came from Australia especially to study forestry in Montana.

DEBATE TEAM MAY MEET UTAH AGGIES IN SPRING

That Utah Agricultural college may be added to the debate schedule of the University is probable, according to Stuart McHaffie, manager of debate. The Utah men have asked that Montana send a two-man team to Logan in the spring to meet their debaters on any question which Montana may select. If the contract is made it will be the first time that the two colleges will meet in debate.

The final try-outs for places on the varsity debate teams will be held in the auditorium of University hall next Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. They will be open to the public.

STUDENTS OF GERMAN WILL HAVE FESTIVAL

A "Weihnachtsfeier," to be given by the students of German, will be held in the auditorium of the University hall Monday evening at 8 p. m.

There will be a Christmas tree with gifts for everyone—precedent of such affairs decrees the gifts shall come from the "ten cent store." German songs will be sung during the evening. Everyone who is interested in German is invited.

Professor Louis Levine of the Economics department of the University will spend the holidays in New York city and other points in the east.

SOCIAL SERVICE IDEAL PRESENTED BY SILCOX

DISTRICT FORESTER DECRIES SPIRIT OF SELF FIRST, PUBLIC AFTERWARDS.

APPLIES IDEA TO SPORTS

CONVOCATION SPEAKER SAYS SPIRIT OF INTERCOLLEGIATE CONTESTS IS WRONG

That the fundamental purpose of a liberal education is to promote the point of view of social service among the young people was the substance of the address given by F. A. Silcox, supervisor of district No. 1 of the forestry service, at student assembly this morning in the auditorium of University hall.

Mr. Silcox brought home his point of view to the students by applying it to intercollegiate athletics. "I would go so far as to say that intercollegiate athletics should be done away with if they continue on the present basis," he said. "The college is giving its students the wrong point of view when it makes playing to the grandstand and sacrificing everything to win the main idea of college sports. That is the true spirit of professionalism."

Absolute sincerity, the possession of an open and free mind, and the point of view of social service instead of self were the chief ideals of a liberal education set forth by Mr. Silcox. He declared that the ideal of making money was the surest way of buying misery in the long run.

The girl's glee club made their initial appearance for the year and opened convocation with several selections. They were received with much applause.

ILLINOIS CHEMICALS MAY BE USED HERE

Offer from Eastern University May Help to Eliminate Shortage in "U" Laboratories, If Accepted.

The shortage in chemicals for use in the chemistry department at the University will be eliminated in the future of a plan proposed by Roger Adams, assistant professor of organic chemistry at the University of Illinois, in a letter to Professor R. H. Jesse of the chemistry department, is accepted.

The chemistry department at the University of Illinois is manufacturing enough chemicals for its own use in addition to those for sale among a limited number of other colleges for reasonable prices, according to the letter. The eastern University finds it just as easy to manufacture larger quantities.

This University is shown preference because of the fact that Dr. Jesse was formerly a professor in chemistry at the University of Illinois.

The chemicals manufactured at Urbana have proved a success and it is quite probable that the University will take advantage of the offer by sending a list of the desired chemicals, which will be supplied next fall.

Harvard, Chicago Universities and Worcester Polytechnical institute and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology were made similar offers.

LONG IN SEATTLE.

"Bill" Long has left for Seattle, where he will undergo an operation for appendicitis. He is a senior in the law school and one of the star debaters of the University. Last week he passed the state bar examination before the Supreme Court in Helena.

THE GOOD OLD WINTER TIME.

Montana's winter is not usually found among that list of qualities summed up in "Why Go to this University." The weather we are having these days would indicate that friends of the institution are overlooking a good talking point in thus passing up winter.

A more ideal winter day than yesterday would be hard to find. Big, lazy flakes of snow drifting down in unending numbers, lightly caressing the faces of any one out of doors. The temperature, just at the point where it quickens the step, brings ruddiness to the cheek and makes everybody more alert and wide-awake. All the little ugly spots glossed over with white. New beauties everywhere.

And the nights! The moon and the snow combining to make it light as day, but in a softer, warmer way. Or the stars alone, brilliant and sparkling against the contrasted whiteness of the earth. A person with any love for beauty can not help but grow enthusiastic over a winter night in Montana.

Even the blizzards compel admiration for their short-lived fury. To those who are used to them they are harmless and to the newcomer they are undoubtedly interesting.

We in Montana do not take enough advantage of our winter. With the coming of cold weather we are accustomed to turn our attention entirely to indoor sports, dancing and the like. All out of doors still calls to us as it did in the spring, summer and autumn, but we do not hear its voice. The mountains, woods and streams have new beauties to offer at this season. The camp fire and the meal cooked over the coals have added attractions now. Snowshoe hikes, skating, skiing and ski jumping, tobogganing, sleigh rides, picture taking—Montana offers us a most attractive season in her winter if we will but get out of doors.

SLEIGH-RIDE IS GIVEN BY ART STUDENTS

The Art League of the University has the distinction of having had the first sleigh-ride party of the season, in Missoula. Twenty "cub" artists piled into the big four-horse sleigh and covered up with robes when the bob stopped at the dorm Tuesday evening.

The sleigh-riding continued for two hours, after which the the crowd went to the studio in University hall, where hot cocoa and lunch were served. Story telling and "canned" music concluded the entertainment for the evening.

Those present were the Misses Booth, Turtle, Baptist, Driscoll, Fisk, Risley, Cowell, Napton, King, Verne Linderman, Wilda Linderman, Kearney, Anderson and Mrs. Custer and the Messrs. Baptist, King, Reynolds, Markle, Napisa and Frederick D. Schwalm, head of the department of fine arts at the University.

Those men who are interested in wrestling are urged to turn out before the Xmas vacations.

LENTZ SPEAKS OF ETHICS BEFORE LAW SCHOOL MEN

BELIEVES LAWYERS SHOULD AID COURT IN ADMINISTERING JUSTICE.

"No man can succeed in the law profession without drudgery and careful preparation," said Theodore Lentz, judge of the Fourth judicial district of the state of Montana, in an address before the students of the school of law, Wednesday afternoon in the library building.

Judge Lentz's address was mostly in the form of advice and information concerning the law profession to the students of the law school. The speaker emphasized the fact that a court of law, above all, was a court of justice. "Lawyers are the aids of the court," he said, "and an attorney's principal duty is to aid in the administration of justice."

Judge Lentz urged young men to go into the legal profession with the idea of aiding the courts of justice. He stated that a man who was known to be perfectly honest in all of his arguments was given credit by the court for that virtue, but if dishonesty prevailed in the arguments of one, that the dishonesty would not be overlooked by the court in its action.

HALF MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Mrs. K. W. Jameson: "It is not true that the girls who cut classes to attend convocation last Friday were not excused. Tell them not to worry."

Arthur Butzerin: "Students who have not had their pictures taken for the 1918 Sentinel should attend to this before the Christmas holidays. It is essential that these photographs be in the hands of the engraver by January 15. If your picture appears more than once in the book, please obtain a print for each insertion. If you don't like the first sitting, let the photographer try again. Don't accept the pictures unless they are entirely satisfactory. Ward, the photographer, whose studio is in the Allen block, is taking the Sentinel pictures."

Mrs. Lucy Wilson: "The snow on the ground and the suspicion of winter weather intensifies the appetite. We are prepared."

Dorris Green: "We live for the mails at the dorm, not for the males."

Professor J. H. Underwood: "I have not lived in many places where I did not have a student, usually a girl, who said she was descended from Pocahontas."

SCHERCK CONVALESCENT AFTER SERIOUS ILLNESS

"There was another man in the hospital in the room next to mine who had pneumonia too. We both experienced the crisis the same night. He's in the cemetery now, while I can break the speed limit in this wheel chair." Thus Gussie Scherck, Grizzly veteran, in characteristic manner announced to a friend who had called on him his recovery from a severe case of pneumonia. Scherck has been moved from the hospital to his home in Missoula. He promises to be able to visit the campus by next week.

CIVILIZATION FORMS

SUBJECT OF LECTURE
BY PROFESSOR ABER

The meaning of "Civilization" was defined by W. M. Aber, professor of Latin and Greek at the University in a lecture given in the auditorium of University hall Tuesday night. This was the eighth number in the series of lectures on ancient civilization which is being given by the University.

"Man," stated Professor Aber, "is a group of capacities. These are divided into two divisions: the natural, which he shares with the rest of the animal world, and the supernatural, intellectual, and spiritual capacities, which connect him with the Divine. The development and achievements of these higher capacities of mind and soul constitute civilization."

Professor Aber also discussed the ancient civilizations, their ideals and their relations to the present age.

In conclusion he said: "Great scientific knowledge, great command of nature's forces, great luxury, great inventions, great wealth and productions, great means to gratify our pleasures, these do not in themselves make a durable great and successful civilization. If our boasted twentieth century civilization, in the pride and arrogance of material power and wealth, becomes poor and mean in spirit, then across it will be written the judgment blazoned on Belshazzar's walls, 'Weighed in the balance and found wanting'."

The lecture was illustrated with lantern slides.

Town Girls Will Renew Youth at "Kids' Party"

The town girls will renew their youth at a "kid's" party at the home of Helen Shull, 420 East Front street, Saturday night at 8 o'clock. This is the second party which the Town Girls' league has planned. Rumors have been circulated that there will be "little boys" as well as little girls to indulge in the time-honored game, "drop the handkerchief."

The purpose of the Town Girls' league, as stated in the constitution, is to promote good fellowship among the town girls "who do not have the bond of unity which those girls have who reside in the dormitory or sorority houses," according to Pearl Clark, president of the association.

"The league is principally for social purposes, but we hope to form a literary society," she continued. "A party has been planned for every month during the remainder of the college year."

The club was formed this year under the direction of Mrs. K. W. Jameson, dean of women, when she found that 149 women, over half of the number of women enrolled at the University, lived in the city and were not organized in any way.

Hamline University has been granted $100,000 toward its $500,000 endowment fund by the Rockefeller foundation.

Sophs	3	0	1.000
Juniors	1	2	.333
Seniors	1	2	.333
Frosh	1	2	.333

The sophs retained their lead in the inter-class basketball league last night by defeating the juniors 10 to 9. The seniors took revenge on the first year men for Tuesday's defeat by trimming them 18 to 8.

The first game was between the frosh and seniors and was featured by the seniors come-back in the second half after being outplayed by the first year men in the first period. Only three men scored the first half. Ricketts, for the seniors counted first when a frosh fouled. Larkin, for the frosh, caged one, and the other score was counted by Johnson, the frosh forward. The remainder of the period was fast, with most of the playing under the frosh basket. The score at the end of the first half: Frosh, 4; seniors, 1.

The second half started with a burst of speed that was dazzling, and when the smoke cleared away the final score was 18 to 8 in favor of the seniors.

The game between the juniors and sophs was fast and well played. Both teams showed up well in guarding. Ingebrightsen scored first for the sophs, and Dietrich for the juniors tied the score. McQuarrie shot a long one from the middle of the floor, putting the sophs two points to the good. The half ended with the score 8 to 6 in favor of the sophs.

The second period was played mostly in the junior's territory, the only score for the sophs in this period was caged by Lorringer, who replaced Ingebrightsen at forward. Sanderson counted the three points made by the Juniors. The half ended with the final score 10 to 9 in favor of the sophs.

The line-up: Sophomores: Adams, Lorringer, Ingebrightsen, forwards; Eahart, Jones, guards; McQuarrie, center. Juniors: Dietrich, Sanderson, forwards; Wingett, Patterson, guards; Bentz, center.

Tuesday's Game.

KEEN COMPETITION PROMISES TO PRODUCE THE BEST BASKET-BALL TEAM OF YEARS.

COACH NISSEN IS ELATED

Evidence that Montana will have a basketball quintet that will make a strong bid for the Northwest championship this year is shown in the material that has appeared in the turnouts for the past few nights. More than 40 men have signed up to try out for the squad this year and last night there were more than 30 on the floor.

Plenty of good material has appeared in the freshman class, and with the added strength of the last year's "M" men, there is no doubt but that Coach Nissen will have a good contingent from which to select a team to represent the University in the Northwest conference games.

Old Men in Good Form.

Some of the old men who are showing up strong on the floor in the class games are Dietrich, McQuarrie, Bentz, Ricketts, Sanderson and Prescott. In the practice games these men are showing good form and promise to hold down positions on the varsity five.

Coach Nissen said last night that he was more pleased with the material this year than in any previous year. He pointed out that the Montana team had a chance this season to make the Conference teams sit up and take notice and since this was the first year that the University has played as a Conference member he was anxious to show the western teams that Montana can produce basketball players.

Men Who Are Out.

Those who have signed for the game this year are as follows:

Dietrich, Ricketts, Prescott, McQuarrie, Bentz, Wingett, Sanderson, Patterson, Larkin, Vitt, Donald, Ruppert, Bryan, Gosman, Sailor, Clark, Griffin, Dowd, Newman, Goodenough, Brown, Ealbert, Alden Jones, Adams, Harris, Herring and Briggs.

Stiff workouts will be held every evening until Christmas vacation. Immediately after the holidays the work will be taken up again. The class games are giving Coach Nissen an excellent opportunity to see what the men can do.

AT THE GYM.

The coaching staff at the gymnasium was completed this week with the addition of a student assistant. For several weeks Prof. Mustaine has been searching the campus for a student who could come up to the standards of physique. Mort Donohue is holding down the job.

Just to break the monotony of the series, won't some class team please play basketball and win a game from the sophs?

In passing we would like to ask if that was the Sigma Chi team playing last night or was it the Frosh quintet.

Coach Nissen is quoted as saying that there are many big men in the school who are evidently afraid to turn out for athletics. Probably they saw Bentz.

freshmen won from the seniors by a score of 21 to 14. The first half was all in favor of the first year men. In the second period the seniors made a big effort to regain their lost ground, but failed to succeed before the whistle blew.

Cinema Spectacle

CIVILIZATION

BY C. GARDNER SULLIVAN

During the week just passed, large numbers of Naval Officers from Uncle Sam's Pacific fleet were guests of Mr. Ince. They declare that the

"are without parallel except on the weltering battle-fields of Europe. Not a single feature of modern, scientific slaughter was found missing!"

Civilization

Preaches the gospel of universal peace by showing the horror and ruthlessness of war. It foreshadows "the supreme conflict" and shows the Triumph of the Mothers of Men.

If you are not numbered among the thousands who have already shuddered and thrilled at this great cinema spectacle see it before it is too late. It will be your fault if you miss it.

STRENGTH TESTS SHOW SEVERAL HIGH AVERAGES

With approximately half the men of the first year class tested for their strength, W. W. H. Mustaine, physical director of the University announced yesterday that he expected several high averages from the first year men.

Of those who have been tested, John Brocker has topped the record for height with 6 feet 2 inches. E. A. Christensen has shown a lung capacity of 351 cubic inches, and I. A. Briggs has shown a back strength of 440 pounds.

Frank Phillips heads the list of freshmen in dipping and chinning with the score of 16 and 15 respectively.

Director Mustaine asks that all freshmen make arrangements with him for being tested.
