■ A SIGN OF NEW TIMES -- The restructuring of the Montana University System takes effect Friday, July 1, merging The University of Montana with the Missoula Vo-Tech Center and four other Montana campuses. The center, now dubbed the College of Technology of The University of Montana, will mark the occasion by taking down the old sign on its east campus, 909 South Ave. West, and putting up a new sign with its new name. The sign-swap is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday; interested media are welcome to attend. For more information, call Jim Taylor, assistant to the vice president for administration and finance, at 542-6854.
