Dear editors, news directors and reporters:

The chief executives of all four University of Montana campuses will join UM faculty members, administrators and musicians in Helena Wednesday, Oct. 12, as part of the Music in the Heartland bus tour that will feature free musical performances and discussion of higher education issues that face the recently restructured Montana University System.

UM President George Dennison, Helena College of Technology Dean Alex Capdeville, Western Montana College Chancellor Sheila Stearns and Montana Tech Chancellor Lindsay Norman will discuss "Higher Education: Back in Harmony" at a Rotary Club luncheon at noon in the Montana Club. The media are welcome to attend, and the four campus leaders will be available for interviews after the luncheon.

You are also welcome to drop in during the faculty-taught courses at Helena and Capital high schools from 10:10 a.m. to 3:10 p.m. The Islanders Steel Drum Band will perform between 10 a.m. and noon in the band room of Helena High. UM Student Body President Jennifer Panasuk will discuss her leadership role and what students can expect in college at 1:25 p.m. For more information, call the high schools or UM's Community Relations and Outreach office, 243-4750.

I hope you or someone from your office will be able to attend these bus tour events. I look forward to meeting you.

Sincerely,

David Purviance
Director
