UM STUDENTS WIN BUTTREY SCHOLARSHIPS

MISSOULA —

The University of Montana Davidson Honors College has awarded Jane Buttrey Memorial Scholarships to six UM students for the 1996-97 academic year.

The $1,500 scholarships, funded by the Jane Buttrey Memorial Foundation, go to humanities or social science students with grade-point averages of 3.4 or higher who will be juniors next academic year.

Each applicant is judged on academic transcripts, a letter of recommendation from a faculty member and a personal essay describing the applicant's background and goals. Students who demonstrate excellence in a broad and demanding curriculum receive preference.

Recipients from Missoula are Keeley Sue Konen, an English and secondary education major; and Naomi Simecek, a fine arts major who's minoring in liberal studies. Scholarship winner Serendia J. Compton, a psychology major, is from East Missoula.

The other winners are psychology major Linda Mears of Great Falls; Erika Ann Owens of Butte, a business administration major with a minor in Spanish; and Wendy Star Brown of Astoria, Ore., who's majoring in psychology and pre-professional physical therapy.
