TRANS-SAHARA FLIGHT WELL UNDER WAY

COMPLETE FIRST LEG OF LONG DRY JOURNEY

Greeks Are Strong After Big Prize Money Offered to Winners.

Inter-mural interest is now turning from peace conferences and such to the great trans-Sahara flight which is now under way. The first leg of the trip has been passed successfully by most of the plains.

All of the plains are of the NB type and equipped with Liberty or Death motors. Many changes have been made in them so it is believed that they will run even better on Near Bock than on what was formerly used. So far the plains entered by the various Greek letter societies have passed the first stage of the trip successfully. The Bare Axe ship, however, was forced to make a landing shortly after the start. It returned to the starting point, but later made the through trip and is now at Kelley's, P. H. awaiting with the others favorable conditions to continue.

Practically every member of each crew was scouting about near Kelley's during the past week for a jumping off place. The next leg of the journey will be the hardest one of all and is the real test. The crews prepared for the trip marvelously well last week, and all are hopeful of a successful trip.

There is keen competition to see who will make the greatest time in making the flight. It is rumored that Chief Angevine has offered a prize of $500,000 to every crew that does not reach its goal by July 1st.

Bill Kain, commander of the S. N. ship NB1, gave word to our especial co-respondent that he was confident they would cop the prize.

The S. P. E. commander Spiller, who took over the NB2 when former Commander Wes Adams was retired upon advices from his physician, feels certain that they have the best chances for winning all sweep stakes.

Commander Judge Bourquin of the S. C. when interviewed regarding the condition of his ship, the NB-3, told our same co-respondent that everything was in tip-top shape and he would bring up at the money end of the contest.

The speed demon, NB-4, commanded by C. More Gorsline, shows that the A. D. A. will be no slouch of a contestant for first honors.

Gus Scherck is the able commander of the NB-5. He stated that his boat has side-slipped a couple of times, but recovered in time to prevent any damage. "The trouble has been remedied," he stated, "and there is no doubt that the NB-5 will make a non-stop trip, winning everything for the I. N."

CO-ED SONGSTERS WILL WARBLE TUESDAY

Musical Production Surpassing Anything Heretofore Arranged.

Local music lovers will have their eyes opened next Tuesday if they attend the debut of the co-ed song birds in the main auditorium. A stupendous program has been arranged and local authorities are of the opinion that at least part of it will be permitted. Society will no doubt welcome this opportunity to greet many old favorites and criticize new ones. Which all means that the Girls' Glee club, directed by DeLoss Smith, will appear in a remarkable exhibition of vocal aeronautics in the near future.

DeLoss Smith has been heard to say that he has never heard anything just like it before, so the audience is assured a rare treat.

The D. R. ship, NB-6, has fully provided itself for the hardships ahead, according to Joe Townsend, commander. He expects to make the best showing and lead all others in the race.

This is one of the driest trips ever attempted by man and almost as dry as this article. If successful it will transform the entire system of man. It will inaugurate new traditions among the male inhabitants of the campus, and do away with many of the old societies such as the Missoula Bar Association, Sour Grapes Formal, etc.

SOPH-FROSH DANCE ON SATURDAY NIGHT

First-year Class Are Hard Pressed for the Long Green This Year.

A near panic reigned on the campus late this afternoon when an extra assessment of $1.00 was levied by the freshman class on each member for the expenses of the annual sophomore-freshman dance to be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening.

On this occasion all sophomores will be admitted free. A jazz orchestra has been engaged for the evening and punch will be served. Juniors and seniors will be admitted upon payment of a fifty cent fee.

This shows a great backsliding on the part of the freshman class. Never before was it necessary to charge upper classmen an admission fee. We know it's a hard year, frosh, but you no doubt have more money than the juniors and seniors.

What makes hiking so popular? This question is answered in Van Horn's notorious novel, "Hikes I Have Taken." To appear in the Montana Kaimin Sunday.

LARGE CROWD PACKS HALL TO HEAR BUNK FROM POLITICIANS

Crowds have flocked the buildings and grounds since early Thursday morning, when the local politicians began their drive for office. Wildest excitement has prevailed and an ominous feeling has pervaded the atmosphere. All petitions have been accepted by the student council, but it is believed that several will be disqualified later for anarchistic tendencies. No loss of life has yet been recorded.

Candidates announced their platforms at convocation here Thursday morning. Hundreds of students thronged the staid old halls of the Ad building and cheered their candidates to the echo. All the speakers expressed themselves fully upon the future policy of student affairs and stated their candid opinion that the student body could not do without their services. (Thunderous applause greeted these remarks.)

Ex-Service Men Great Excitement Permitted to Cast Vote Prevails at Varsity

Helena, Mont., May 23.—The attorney general has announced that former soldiers and sailors will be allowed to vote in the coming election of A. S. U. M. officers. This announcement came after a stormy session behind closed doors, the soldiers and sailors being represented by Grace Niles and Virginia McAuliffe. These able advocates of equal rights for men arrived on the scene in the nick of time. No doughboy or gob votes would have been permitted to filter into the poll box had they not descended upon the wily general and with smiles and a box of bonbons persuaded that austere official to come to their terms. The soldiers and sailors have extended them a vote of thanks for their untiring efforts in their behalf.

President—Brice Toole, Joe Townsend.
Vice president—Elva Burt, Florence Dixon, Mary Farrell.
Secretary—Clara Johnson, Helen Little, Eunice Whiteside.
Manager—Joe Arneson, R. A. Ireland, Eck Mosby, Charles Spiller.
Editor—Seymour Gorsline.
Yell leader—Bill Kane, Osgood Mussey.
Delegate at large—Lambert de Mers, Harry Griffin, Pat Keely, Gus Scherck, John Sanders, Glazier Torrance, Herbert Vitt.

Brice Toole made himself solid with the right hand side of the assembly when he said, "I appreciate the attempts of the co-eds to improve their station in life. In all cases of emergency they will find that they have my unreserved support and co-operation." (Applause.)

Joe Townsend spoke at length upon his visit to France and ending with a burst of eloquence, committed three paragraphs of expletives straight from gay "Paree." ("If it will only keep him quiet, we should elect him," was the general consensus of opinion.)

Reticence or underhand work of some sort kept the candidates for the vice presidency from being present. We had never expected these office seekers of being silver tongued orators, but we did think they would welcome this opportunity to talk. The ways of women are strange.

R. A. Ireland announced his candidacy upon the platform—patient service and consideration to detail, especially in the matter of dollars and cents. He called attention to his record as a self-made man of no attachments. The other candidates for chief purloiner of the exchequer also made touching speeches of their relative ability. Bill Jameson involuntarily put his hand to his hip pocket and sighed with relief.

Frolic for Faculty by Bonner Bridge

The following information has been received from Dean Charles Mollett in regard to the faculty picnic Saturday afternoon:

Members of the faculty will hold a picnic at the first little red bridge beyond Bonner next Saturday, tomorrow afternoon. All those attending will congregate at the west gate of the University at 2 o'clock p. m. Automobiles will be in waiting for the holiday crowd. Those who must wait until later before leaving the campus may take a street car to Bonner where autos will meet them.

P. S.—Under further consideration, all guests are asked to meet in front of Dr. Edward O. Sisson's residence instead of at the west gate. The frolic will be over some time before dark.

OUR OVERCOAT JAMES!

We wish to apologize to the New York Evening Journal for putting out such a far better news sheet than published by them. Of course we have not the gossip and scandal at the University that there is in New York, so we cannot fill the front page of this issue up to the Journal's standard in that respect. However, we believe we have succeeded fairly well. We hope you all get an eye full. If your name hasn't been mentioned it was due to a laxity on the part of our poor reporting staff. Besides, you either have to be awfully good or awfully bad to get into print.

Some co-eds are so conceited that they tilt their chins 45 degrees higher at their own reflections in the plate glass windows.

Since irrigation is the only way to cultivate some men, reclamation projects will come high after July first.

Quantity and not quality is the way most women measure love.

What has become of the old fashioned co-ed who used to take more pleasure in sitting on the bleachers cheering the athletes at work to fussing with the fellows who haven't enough backbone to get into any varsity activities except pink teas.

Everything comes to the man who waits—except the woman he is waiting for.

“Make mine the same” and “Never again!” will be marked obsolete in the next edition of Webster.

What has become of the old fashioned varsity student who used to know all his college songs and yells?

When a girl tells you she can't dance she wants you to tell her that she is the most marvelous dancer on the floor.

A woman's sincerity lies in the fact that she believes everything she says. But she never says the same thing twice.

Wine, women and song are the ruination of man. The first has been eliminated. We wonder if the other two are to be dealt with in the same manner.

Previous to election day, we notice several former service men out in their campaign hats.

And the sailors no doubt expect gobs of votes.

Prof. H. M. Jones says, “Whoever saw a fish on the horizontal bars?” Ever been to the gym faculty night, Prof?

Daily health hint—Some Profs. give a course of 1234567890 lectures, each succeeding one more deadly than the last.

Ever notice how many communists grace the faculty? Always ready to divide a passing grade among a class of ten.

Speaking of romance, Frank Patterson has appeared in Palm Beach trousers. He didn't tear his good hat climbing the barbwire fence—or no doubt he'd favor us with a straw one.

After seeing the Aggies in action we wonder why a dairyman needs an education.

Reports just taken from the ticker showed a big advance in sport shirts and duck trousers. Panamas preferred and straws common have also taken a leap skyward. Old timers on the street say that these articles always rise with the thermometer. Semester shirts are steady and there is a probability that they can be depended upon throughout the year. I. O. U.'s are growing stronger as the month nears its close. They can probably be redeemed at par if taken up early according to Dun's Review.

Some of the Scenic Beauties to Be Found on Flathead Lake

One of the beauties who is at present visiting in Missoula, a guest of the Bijou theater.

Spend your vacation at the biological station on Flathead lake, says Dr. Morton J. Elrod of the University faculty. There amidst the natural scenic grandeur of the towering mountains and the smiling valleys let us pass away the summer months in pleasure and in profitable experience to us all. We cannot all enjoy the beauties of Atlantic City or the attractions of the Golden Gate. Many of us may not wander far from our own fireside. Yet here in our very front yard is the wonderful Flathead region with its wealth of bugs and fossils. The University is making a special offer to the students who wish to spend the summer in profitable study and healthful outdoor recreation, chasing specimens by day and examining them by night. Who could think of a more pleasant occupation?

AGGIES LOSE GAME TO BRUIN PILL TOSSERS

Many Bingles Are Feature of Second Ball Game With Aggie Crowd.

The varsity defeated the Aggies in the second ball game Tuesday afternoon, 7 to 6. At times it looked as if the contest would be a real game, but both sides would loosen up again with a number of flukes. There were considerably too many errors and too much fumbling of the pill by both varsity and Aggies. One of the features of the game was a three-base hit by "Cort" Howard at the opportune time, pushing in needed runs. Vitt pitched the entire game for the Varsity, while the Aggies found it necessary to change in the third inning. The loose playing exhibited by the Grizzlies put a lot of confidence in the Aggie bunch and they are swearing revenge when the Bruins appear on the College grounds June 6th and 7th. However, the track meet of the past week prevented any practice by the varsity players and they predict a real wallop for the Aggies at their own home.

A LITTLE PEP CUT SHORT

Swede Philip's jazz orchestra furnished the syncopation for the pep dance held after the Aggie games last Tuesday. The festivities began at 9:30 o'clock and lasted one hour by the orchestra fee. The students are indebted to Dr. Edward O. Sisson and Mrs. Lucy Wilson for granting an extra hour of liberty to the dancing partners of the men.

"Spirit" of Montana Brought Forth by "Peg" Lansing

"Peg" Lansing deserves all the credit for the varsity track team this year, is the statement given by Coach Schreiber. Peg is the best personification of real Montana spirit that has happened around the campus for years. He has given his time and a good lot of energy in making the track squad what it is. There has been no remuneration for him except the gratifying results obtained. One of the best things about the present team is the old Montana fight that Peg has put into the men. The athletes couldn't help but get the old pep because it just breaks out all over from Peg. The team has gone to Pullman for another meet and with it the spirit that the assistant coach has imbued into it.

little speech covering some ten minutes. Each point was duly diagrammed and contained slashing evidence of the man's ability. It is rumored that he cut a class to write it. The candidates for yell leader furnished the sauce in their rendition of the popular college yells. Both men had fine stage presence but Mussey's robin's egg blue sport shirt had a tinge the better of Kane's delectable forest green. Six candidates took the floor in their own behalf for the office of delegate at large. This act was especially good. Keely and Griffin who were lately injured dancing the shimmie at Greenough park were unable to be present. No one expressed regret. Protesting violently that she had never run before, Helen Little came before the assembled multitude to press her case. She had forgotten that East Side car she ran for last Tuesday night. Eunice Whitesides looks good on paper, but there are many who believe Clara Johnson will be the (V)ictor. Excited little groups dotted the campus and vicinity today, discussing in whispers the chances of the various office seekers. Now and then a Ford dashed by carrying a madly gesticulating candidate, each with a horrible smile of mixed resolve and friendship on his face. Lurid sounds have been heard coming from many of the fraternity houses and general mass meetings, resembling mobs, are held at irregular intervals. Self-respecting citizens are in constant fear of their lives as the candidates outnumber them almost two to one. Great anxiety is felt as the primaries do not take place until next Friday. Kappas Grab Victory From Dorm-Co-Eds

The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority baseball team took a hotly contested game from the dormitory Wednesday evening by the score of 23-19. Sterling and Donohue worked well as the Kappa battery while Clara Johnson did good work in the box for the dorm. All the girls batted a thousand as usual. This was the second of the co-ed tournament being held this spring.

"A MENTAL COCKTAIL"

By Bill Jameson.

A frown furrowed our hero's brow. It was not an expression of anger, but rather of perplexity, of half amused indecision. He paused and glanced about uncertainly. Plainly he was in a quandary. Next a look of mild vexation creased his visage, such a look as Cleopatra might have bestowed upon an unfortunate suitor or perhaps similar to that which enhances that of an Irishman when his wife is out of work. Yes, plainly there was something, indefinably wrong, some hidden gnawing secret which time alone could eradicate was harrowing the young stranger. He glanced about him with a sort of fearful anxiety, but the street was deserted. A look of relief came to his face. Then the plot thickened. A slight young fellow in a dark summer suit walked slowly down the opposite side of the avenue. The first one gave a look of intense satisfaction, leaned forward and whistled. Thus accosted, the newcomer whirled suddenly and threw up his hand and something gleamed like steel in the moonlight. (To be continued.)

GRIZZLIES ARE OFF TO PULLMAN FOR MEET

Schreiber Takes Eight Track Men to Northwest Conference.

The track team left last night for Pullman to take part in the big Northwest conference meet which will be held Saturday. A small crowd, as usual, of University students bid the members of the team a fond adieu. The varsity squad will try for honors against Idaho University, Washington State college, and Oregon Agricultural college. Coach Schreiber will take eight men on the trip, all of whom helped put the crimp in the Aggie bunch at the meet here last Saturday. These are Jack Sterling, Cort Howard, Connie Orr, Bill Mussey, Frank Baker, Dwight Carver, Jim Dorsey and Lyle Hodson. The athletes will have to travel some if they expect to top any of the northwest records. No Montana man at present holds a conference record, but Coach Schreiber stated that "You can't tell a thing beforehand about a track meet." The same delegation of students will meet the train when the team returns next Monday morning at 7:20.

BARRACKS LOCAL PETITIONS FOR NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Great anxiety is felt on the campus as to the result of the petition of the local hashers' union at Simpkins hall to the National Buzzard association. No word had been heard from headquarters late tonight and the members of the local are of the conclusion that the delay is caused only as a result of serious deliberation on the part of the men higher up. The local union was organized only a short time ago when the University began serving meals in the men's barracks. The chapter was then organized with an active membership of ten good men and true. At first the intention was to remain aloof from all outside organizations but after sizing up the situation, the brothers decided upon the Buzzards. The petitioning local is well situated upon the University campus in the rear of the journalism building. A picture of the beautiful chapter house appears above. The Buzzards is a national organization composed to date of only one chapter, the one located at Craig hall. Being very exclusive no other campus has ever been granted a chapter by Montana Alpha. Should the barracks men be taken in, they will be indeed fortunate, believe prominent members of the student body.

William Jameson shook his head slowly when he heard of the petition. "I believe that the local has only a fair chance of success," he said. Joe Townsend, acting president of the Buzzards, gave out the following statement last night. "In taking in new members we must exercise the utmost discretion in order to keep up our present high standard. It is not our purpose to enlarge at the expense of our ideals." Harry Griffin, Mel Woods, Jack Layton, Joe Townsend and Al Weihner are among the charter members. Speaking of their hopes for a national, President K. McKoin of the local union said, "Should we be so fortunate as to become a member of this great national, we can only attempt to uphold its good name. If we are not at first successful we shall attempt to overcome our deficiencies so that we may in time become real Buzzards." Many members of the two organizations gathered together last night at the Greenough park pavilion to celebrate in dancing the victory of the Bruins over the Farmers last Tuesday. So far Governor Stuart has expressed no opinion on the subject of admitting another chapter of Buzzards to the campus.
