MAY AWARD SWEATERS

Vote to Resume Giving of Letter to University Athletes.

The following amendments to the A. S. U. M. constitution have been suggested and will be voted on by the students Thursday, June 12, at a special election. The subject matter is of vital interest to every student, as it is proposed to put the editing of the Sentinel in the hands of the A. S. U. M. executive committee instead of the junior class and to resume the awarding of sweaters to Varsity athletes, a custom which was discontinued in the spring of 1918, due to war conditions.

Amendment to Article 11, Section 8.

All requisitions shall be signed by both the student manager and faculty representative. No bills shall be paid unless a requisition has been issued and properly signed. All bills shall be approved by the person receiving the goods.

The student manager must keep a book setting forth all expenditures and receipts. He shall make monthly reports to the executive committee of all funds received and expended, and of all debts and balances. The secretary shall secure a monthly report from the business office of the University, and this report, together with the report of the student manager, shall be presented to the executive committee at the first meeting of each month.

The student manager shall be the custodian of all properties of the A. S. U. M., subject to the direction of the executive board of the A. S. U. M. and the faculty representative.

Amendment to Article 4, Section 4.

The Kaimin business manager shall be appointed by the executive committee of the A. S. U. M. and may be removed by the executive committee for failure to perform the duties prescribed for this office.

Amendment to Article 10, Section 5.

The books of the business manager shall be kept and audited monthly in a manner prescribed by the executive committee. The executive committee shall secure recommendations from the head of the department of business administration as to the proper method of keeping and auditing the books.

Amendment to Article X, Section 7.

Section 7. The college annual, known as the Sentinel, shall be published by the A. S. U. M. once a year and be ready for distribution by the 15th of May. The size and cost of the Sentinel shall be determined by the editor and business manager, subject to the approval of the executive committee of the A. S. U. M. All expenditures and receipts shall be handled in the same manner as that of the Kaimin, and the business manager shall be appointed by the executive committee and the books kept and audited in the same manner as prescribed for the business manager of the Kaimin.

EVELYN McLEOD WINS JOYCE PRIZE

"Family," by Journalism Senior Takes First Place in Short Story Contest.

Evelyn McLeod, a senior in the school of journalism, was awarded first place in the Annie Lewis Joyce Memorial prize contest for the best short story written by a student of the University. Five stories were submitted in the contest. Miss McLeod's story, entitled "Family," was characterized by Miss Helen Sard Hughes, Mrs. Leila Kennedy Hutchens, and Dr. W. G. Batenman, who judged the contest, in the following manner:

"This story the committee feel to be superior to all the others in plot structure, and though somewhat stilted and conventional at several points to be in general effective in its realistic treatment of college life and character."

"Goat Ranch," by Bessie M. Rutledge was awarded second place and "The Middle Chapter" by Grace Baldwin was given third place.

The following communication was submitted to Professor H. M. Jones, who was in charge of the contest, by the committee of judges:

"My dear Professor Jones:

"The committee who has served as judge of the short stories submitted in competition for the Annie Lewis Joyce Memorial prize agree in awarding first place to the story entitled 'Family,' written under the pen name 'Jane O'Neill.'"

"This story the committee feel to be superior to all the others in plot structure, and though somewhat stilted and conventional at several points to be in general effective in its realistic treatment of college life and character."

"The committee regarded with favor on account of its atmosphere and characterization the story entitled 'Goat Ranch' by 'Maggie,' but eliminated it for lack of originality, since the main situation and certain details show essential indebtedness to Bret Harte's 'The Luck of Roaring Camp.'"

"A third story, 'The Middle Chapter,' by 'Bruce Dunne,' the committee considered promising on account of its atmospheric handling of scene and individual incidents, but so weak in con-

After several unsuccessful attempts to enlist, Ector finally succeeded in getting into the hospital corps. While in France he was a member of the squad who rescued the alleged lost battalion.

Ector was a student in the school of forestry at the University. He was business manager of the Sentinel for 1917. He is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

UNIVERSITY ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY IN IDAHO DEBATE

McKain and Jameson Out-argue Moscow Representatives on Railroad Question.

UPHOLD AFFIRMATIVE

School Spirit of Montana Is Superior to Idaho Says Jameson.

Montana won her second victory in debate for 1919 when she defeated Idaho at Moscow Thursday night. William Jameson and Neil McKain represented the University while Eugene Taylor and J. K. Solgard debated for Idaho. Professor Bruce McAnnely, head of the English department at Washington State College, was the judge. The question was the same one about which Montana and Utah debated. Resolved, That the government should continue to operate the railroads and ultimately purchase them. The University upheld the affirmative.

This is the third consecutive year that Montana and Idaho have debated and the second year that Montana has won. Eugene Taylor, the senior member of the team, has debated for four years and this is his first defeat. William Jameson has represented Montana in the three Idaho debates. Concerning the spirit of the two schools, Jameson said, "There can be no comparison in the spirit of Montana and Idaho, Montana is so far superior. Twenty-four hours after the intercollegiate track meet the majority of the students at Moscow did not know that Idaho had won. No interest was shown in the school elections. On the whole the school seemed dead."

ART LEAGUE BECOMES NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Neva J. Gible, Grand President, Installs Delta Phi Delta in University.

The Art league became a national art fraternity when Neva J. Gible, national president of the fraternity, installed the Beta chapter of Delta Phi Delta. The installation took place at the Florence hotel last Saturday evening, and was followed by a banquet.

Josephine Sanders, president of Delta Phi Delta, says that the members feel a keen sense of gratitude and appreciation toward Professor F. D. Schwalm for his help and direction in all matters pertaining to art.

The Art league, the first organization of its kind on the campus, was started in the fall of 1916. The league is composed of art students and its purpose is to promote originality and self confidence in work, while its social affairs create a spirit of good fellowship among the students.

W. S. C. SAYS THAT MONTANA CANCELED GAMES ON SCHEDULE

Claim Montana Requested Cancelling of Games Because of Lack of Funds.

A CONFERENCE TITLE

Were Afraid to Lose Title Through Games to Be Played Against "U."

The sport page of the W. S. C. publication, under the caption of Montana Games Cancelled, carries the following story:

The two baseball games that were to be played with Montana at Missoula the last of this month were cancelled by their coach when he was here with the track team. The reason for cancelling the game was financial conditions.

The cancelling of these games gives Washington State the Northwest conference title as the Crimson and Gray nine has lost only one game in the Northwest conference, and that was with Montana.

After what has gone before the story explains itself. The games were cancelled by W. S. C. because the faculty declared the men on the team could not afford to miss the number of classes which the trip here would occasion. At least that was the excuse made. And that it was an excuse seems to be quite apparent now.

"The cancelling of these games gives Washington State the Northwest conference title." Nothing is more true. And the playing of these games would undoubtedly have given Montana that title, so the Washington team took refuge in the skirts of the faculty.

Coach Schreiber when he learned of the story immediately wrote the Washington State coach demanding that the editor of their publication rectify the statement. Washington State wrote here asking that the games be cancelled before the track team went to Pullman, and Coach Schreiber did his best while there to keep the games on the schedule. In his letter he stated that Montana never had cancelled the games and was still willing and would be very glad to play the games.

All of the men on the Varsity team expressed keen disappointment when they first learned that the games were to be cancelled, and all were of the opinion that the Washington college had cancelled them for other reasons than stated.

TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1919.

GIVE THEM A BOCHE CROSS.

Some of the very poorest sportsmanship, we think, that has been shown for some time, was the canceling of the games by Washington State in order to claim the Northwest conference title, and to then publicly state that Montana had cancelled them.

In the first place it shows that they were almost certain of losing the games, which means that Montana has the best ball team in the conference this spring. They were actually afraid to play here. The flimsy excuse of the faculty about the men missing too many classes is laughable. What athletic team does not figure on losing at least two days of classes on every trip it takes, and on some trips a good many more?

No, we are inclined to think it was not the classes that Washington State was afraid of losing. The claim of the Northwest conference title seems to play a far more important part than mere classes.

But Washington State did not take everything into consideration. They may have gained the conference title, but they have lost something far more important. They have lost the respect of this University and every university which learns of the affair.

FORESTRY NOTES.

Montana forestry students are beginning to leave for summer field work. William Strong and Martin Carlson left for work in the Flathead forest reserve on fire protection and maintenance survey duty. The next two weeks will see a great number of the men who have accepted jobs for the summer, packing their blanket rolls and shoving off to the various forestry districts to begin work.

Forestry school students are making a detailed topographical survey of the Missoula Boy Scouts' summer camp. The camp is located between Bonner and Potomac in Johnson gulch.

Some one told us that some fraternity men should be D. G.s so they could anchor their pins down.

Ignorant Essays

The Freshman Life of Clarice.
Chapter XXI.

Clarice was still very sick but decided to bathe and slipper up and see what the brothers were doing. It was the night of the Junior Formal and the boys sure were busy. They were all showing a white front that was glistening in the Mazda light. One of the clan to whom a dress suit was something only seen in the movies had decided to swallowtail to the dance. Six brothers were helping him to get away. The trousers were tight, he had borrowed them from a small man, and the vest was a clinging thing. But the shirt was the cause of the most worry. The shirt studs were hard to handle and easy to lose. The collar cut his neck and the tie was an impossibility. Four brothers had tried to tie it and left the marks of their efforts on the silk band. But at last it was anchored and another Greek was ready to knock them dead. Then it was a phone for a taxi and the flower bill and the brother of the mystic letters was ready to be one of the chosen fifty. A harder thing than yellow slips is to slip into a waiter's friend and knock them dead at a formal hop, mused Clarice as he quietly slipped into bed.

"The committee is unanimously of the opinion that all of the manuscripts are so faulty in spelling, grammar, diction, and other mechanical details that the announcement of next year's contest should contain specific warning that such technical errors will count heavily against any manuscript submitted.

"Yours very truly,

"HELEN SARD HUGHES, chairman.
"(Mrs.) LEILA KENNEDY HUTCHENS,
"W. G. BATEMAN;"

The following rules for the contest for next year were announced by Professor Jones yesterday:

1. For 1919-20 the subject of the annual contest for the Joyce Memorial prize is an original informal essay.

2. No manuscript submitted in this contest shall contain less than 2,000 or more than 5,000 words. The number of words in each manuscript shall be plainly indicated on the title page. Manuscripts which in the opinion of the judges are seriously deficient in the mechanics of writing will not be considered for the prize.

3. Any contestant may submit more than one essay.
4. The term "informal essay" is held to mean literary exposition of an informal character. It is opposed to the formal essay, treatise, thesis or monograph, i. e., it includes the Essays of Elia and excludes the historical essays of Macaulay; it includes the work of Agnes Repplier and excludes a treatise on taxation.
5. Narrative may be introduced into the essay, but the short story is excluded.
6. In subject contestants are required to restrict themselves to some aspect of human life. Such titles as "On Growing Up;" "Breakfast Time;" "On a Lantern," etc., indicate the nature of the subjects. Essays on abstract themes, on nature and aspects of nature, literary criticism and essays on books, historical interpretations and pure philosophical essays are excluded.
7. Illustrative material: A good notion of the kind of essays desired in this contest may be found by reading the work of Stevenson (Virginibus Puerisque); Charles Lamb; Agnes Repplier; Samuel McChord Crothers; A. C. Benson; William Hazlitt (not the literary essays).

Leader by 3 to 1.

Joe Townsend was elected president of the A. S. U. M. for the coming year, in the annual elections, last Thursday morning, defeating by 33 votes, Bryce Toole. Other officers elected were, for vice-president, Florence Dixon defeated Mary Farrell; for manager, Russell Ireland was elected over Eck Mosby; for delegates at large, Lambert deMers and Harry Griffin defeated Pat Keeley and George Scherck; for secretary, Clara Johnson defeated Helen Little; Seymour Gorsline was elected editor of the Kaimin almost without opposition, one vote being cast for Earl Fries; William Kane defeated William O. Mussey for cheer leader. Approximately 270 students voted in the election.

Joe Townsend, the new president of the Associated Students, is a junior in the school of journalism. He first entered the University in 1914. In his sophomore year he withdrew to take a position on the Bozeman Chronicle, a position he left to join the army immediately after war was declared. He received a commission as second lieutenant at the second officers' training camp at the Presidio, California. He went overseas with the second division, arriving in France shortly before the signing of the armistice. He returned to the University at the beginning of this quarter. DELEGATES MAY GO TO Y. M. CONVENTION

Discuss Plans to Raise $3,- 000 for Permanent University Secretary.

Tentative plans for the raising of $3000 for the support of a permanent Y. M. C. A. secretary on the campus were considered at a meeting held Saturday under the direction of Rev. W. T. Lockwood, the head of the University Y. M. C. A. The plans under discussion at the meeting have not been outlined definitely. An effort will be made to obtain the sanction and co-operation of the state Y. M. C. A. board in the raising of the budget and assisting in other plans. The raising of the money will not be confined to the campus but a general canvass about the city will be made. It is not known at the present time whether the Y. M. C. A. hut on the campus will be used as headquarters next year. It is possible that the Y. M. C. A. may have other quarters.

The possibility of sending delegates to the Y. M. C. A. conferences to be held in Seabeck, Oregon, and Estes Park, Colorado, was also considered at the meeting. Both conferences convene about the 15th of this month and an effort will be made to select delegates to represent the University. Several student meetings will be features at both conferences. At Seabeck will be held a conference of the Associated Student presidents and it is quite likely that Joe Townsend, president-elect, will attend this meeting. Guy Mooney, A. S. U. M. manager, and William Jameson, president of the student body, have signified their intention to attend the conference in Estes Park. Jameson has been selected as one of the committee composed of presidents of campus Y. M. C. A. organizations and he will, in all probability, act as chairman of the committee. Several of the R. O. T. C. men will stop for a few days at the Seabeck conference while en route to the Presidio, San Francisco.

BRUIN BALL SQUAD LEAVES THIS WEEK TO WIND UP SEASON

Will Invade Aggie Camp to Play Games Friday and Saturday.

TEAM IN FINE SHAPE

All Are Confident That Aggies Will Take Small End of the Score.

The Bruin ball experts will leave at either 7:20 Friday morning or 12:30 p. m. Thursday for Bozeman to play the windup games of the season. The team has been putting on some practice the past week, and the infield is in condition so they can pick the horsehide out of the dust, or any other place, without doing the hesitation.

The outfield is as confident as ever, and nothing the Aggies can put over will go through their mitts. Gussie Scherck has been put in right field, and Shepard has taken over the shortstop's post.

Herb Vitt and McKain are in the best of form to put the wizard stuff on the ball that will keep the farmers trying to guess "Why is a bat?"

Special car No. 2957863 N. P. has been scheduled to accommodate about thirty leather-lunged rooters to Bozeman. Most of these will leave during the dark hours between Thursday and Friday.
