MISUNDERSTANDING RULES OUT 5 STARS

BRINGS CRISIS BUT GAME WILL BE PLAYED

Schreiber Appeals to Every Student to Support Team at Tomorrow's Game.

"In this crisis, Montana students must show that they are not quitters. It is your opportunity to show the kind of stuff that is in you," said Professor W. E. "Doc" Schreiber, head of the department of physical education, at the "pep" rally, Thursday morning. This was the spirit of the meeting. The crisis referred to was the disqualification of five of the varsity team, and the way in which students were to "carry on," was by backing up the team, and placing every available man in a football uniform.

The meeting was called by Yell King Bill Kane. Besides Professor Schreiber, other speakers were Coach "Bernie" Bierman, Captain "Gussie" Scherck, of the team, William Johnston, president of the Sophomore classes and Wallace Lynch of the Freshman class.

Professor Schreiber explained the circumstances surrounding the disqualification, saying that the whole matter arose through a misinterpretation on his part, that the office was in no way to blame and that if there was any fault to be placed, he was perfectly willing to carry it. The misinterpretation arose through a report given Professor Schreiber last summer on the eligibility of the men who would be probable candidates for the team. In two cases, it was explained, that the disqualification arose through incomplete high school credits, and it was hoped that these men might still be returned to the game.

Professor Schreiber spoke on the work of Coach Bierman, in building up the team, saying that he was easily one of the best coaches with whom he had ever worked.

Coach "Bernie" Bierman said that the team were the true heroes. He told of the heavier teams they had had to face and would continue to face through the rest of the season. To do this, he said, they would need the loyal support of every member of the student body.

"Gussie" Scherck, captain of the varsity eleven, spoke of the part the bleachers played in the game, and said that it was disappointing to the team to see 200 students on the stands when there should be 800. He asked every student to attend the games.

William Johnston, president of the Sophomore class, promised the support of the Sophomores in Saturday's game. Wallace Lynch, president of the Freshman class, told of the plans for the Frosh for that event.

A feature of the meeting was the singing of the old Montana song, "I'm a Son of a Gamboller," which was new to all Freshmen and some of the older students. Many of the old yells were also given. The meeting closed with the singing of "Old College Chums."

The questions regarding Homecoming Day and a special train to Bozeman for the Aggie game, which were to have been discussed, were not brought before the meeting because of lack of time.

Miss Emeline S. Whitcomb, professor of home economics, and Miss Ruby Jacobsen, assistant instructor in modern languages, are attending the advanced foreign educational conference of the Y. W. C. A. in Spokane this week.

WHAT HO! ME LADDIES PROF. TO DON CIVVIES

Not all the vanity in the University can be laid on the women. No, not by a long shot!

Yesterday morning, Professor Miller came blithely down the main hall steps. Under the sleeve of his ensign coat he carried a box. It was three feet long and two feet wide and one foot thick. It was wrapped in heavy brown paper and was tied with heavy brown cord. He wore a smile upon his face which even the heaviness of the package could not diminish, and he hugged that mysterious box to himself as though it contained chocolate drops or fruit cake or something awfully precious; but it contained no such thing.

"It's clothes," said Professor Miller beaming happily. I'm going to don civilian clothes for a while and I certainly am glad to get them."

FAMOUS BAND TO PLAY

School of Music Brings Sousa and Company Here For Two Performances.

Sousa's band will give two concerts in Missoula on November 5, under the auspices of Dean DeLoss Smith of the school of music. One concert will be given in the afternoon, and a second in the evening. The concerts will be given in the Liberty theater.

John Phillip Sousa is considered one of the world's most famous of band leaders, and the band with which he is now touring is easily the best in the United States. During the war Sousa served as a lieutenant, senior grade, in the navy. He had charge of the Great Lakes naval band of 500 pieces.

There are 65 pieces in Sousa's band, and in addition a soprano and many instrumental soloists of note. The ticket sale will begin on Monday.

SENTINEL PURCHASERS MUST BUY THIS QUARTER

Canvass to Begin Immediately for Prospective Buyers of Year Book.

Receipt blanks will be circulated at all class meetings and convocations for this year's Sentinel. The receipt books were handed to the class representatives at a meeting of the staff yesterday afternoon. All those who want a Sentinel should sign a receipt as soon as possible, payable any time up to the end of the first quarter.

Two new sections will be added to this year's Sentinel, a summer school section and an alumni section, which will add greatly to the popularity of the book outside of the University. Athletics will be played up to a greater extent and every phase of University sports will be given a place. The Art department is working on cover designs and will have them ready in a week.

MISS WHITCOMB LEAVES FOR Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE

Miss Emeline S. Whitcomb, head of the department of home economics, left Wednesday noon for Spokane to attend the Y. W. C. A. conference.

Miss Whitcomb expected to meet Miss Zeda French, Y. W. C. A. secretary of the four institutions comprising the greater University of Montana, on the train. Miss French intended to attend the conference also.

Craig hall had its first fire drill Wednesday evening. The gong rang at 10:30. After the drill the girls ate apples and danced.

MAY SECURE CREDITS FOR ARMY SERVICE

Students Asked to File Report With Faculty Committee of University.

"Students who have served in the army, navy or marine corps may secure military credits by application to the committee on admission and registration, and providing the equivalent of six quarters of military credits is granted, the student will be exempt from taking R. O. T. C. training at the University." This announcement was made Wednesday morning by Professor Merrill at special convocation of Sophomores and Freshmen. The equivalent of six quarters of military credits is six credits. Applications should be sent in to the R. O. T. C. headquarters at once. However, not more than 12 military credits will be allowed any student, and a minimum of six military credits is required for exemption from the military course.

Lieutenant Colonel Cron, commandant of the R. O. T. C. corps of the University told of the advantages of military training, and urged all students to elect the course. He said that he is going to make the military training as interesting as possible, and that during the cold weather most of the work would be indoors. "We aim to make more than 'buck privates' of the students," he said. "We will discuss the campaigns in France, and study the more interesting and instructive phases of the war. Six weeks of training is enough to get University students ready for the federal inspection," he said.

Varsity Paper Reaches Many Former Students

Graduates and former students of the University are still interested in the news of the institution even though their college days are over or at least temporarily postponed. The following former students have subscribed for the Kaimin:

Former faculty men who are Kaimin subscribers are Ralph D. Casey, now an instructor in journalism at the University of Washington, and Professor J. E. Kirkwood, head of the botany department and on leave for a year to do research work at the University of California.

HAND OF UNKNOWN PUT KICK IN CIDER

The cider cooler in the A. S. U. M. store has been moved from the counter to a new and safer position. Twice since its installment, a yeast cake has been dropped in by an unknown hand. The first intimation the proprietor had was the bubbles arising in the half-empty cooler. It is said that several gallons have been thrown away because of the hardening effect of the yeast cakes.

TO START ORCHESTRA

An orchestra of beginners will be started by Professor Weisberg, teacher of violin. The first meeting will be held next Wednesday.

GRIZZLIES MEET WHITMAN IN FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

Missionaries Have Fast Light Team and Stiff Opposition Is Expected by Montana; Bruins Severely Handicapped.

Montana's Grizzlies battle the Whitman College Missionaries in their first northwest conference game on Montana field tomorrow. The Whitman squad is expected to furnish a stiff opposition to the handicapped Bruins. The team is light and fast and used a short

FROSH TO LIGHT "M"

Yearlings Will Take Part in Homecoming Celebration Thanksgiving Day.

The "M" on Mount Sentinel will again blaze forth in fiery colors on Thanksgiving night. This decision was made by the class of '23 at their last meeting, held Tuesday night in Assembly hall.

There was an excellent turn-out and quite a bit of "pep" was introduced in the discussion of the various questions. It was decided to form two quartettes, one of girls and the other of the men to render appropriate selections at the meetings. Instead of a formal adjournment, the singing of "College Chums" will close the class meetings hereafter.

The class went on record as being 100 per cent for the varsity, class issues taking second place. The men of the class have agreed to clean off the bleachers and clear the rocks off of the field for Saturday's game.

No regular meeting night was decided upon, as it was thought best to have the president call the meetings as they become necessary.

UTAH U IS UNCERTAIN ABOUT TRIANGLE DEBATE

Mormon School Is Willing for Contest in Spring, According to Letter.

A letter from the Utah University to Manager Gault of the debating team stated that at the present time, they could not say definitely whether or not they will be able to enter the triangular debating contest this winter. They stated that in the spring they will expect to debate a team from Montana, but are now hampered by the lack of funds. The so-called triangle was to have been Idaho, Utah and Montana.

Gault is in communication with Bozeman and Gonzaga and is also trying to arrange a debate with Oregon. The definite schedule will be announced later.

BAND OUTLOOK BRIGHT SAYS LEADER PHILLIPS

Varsity Musicians Need Tuba to Complete Instrumentation of Organization.

"The outlook for the band is good," says George "Swede" Phillips, leader, "but we ought to have a full turnout every afternoon for practice from 4:30 to 6:00. At least every boy not out for football should attend. The band has 26 members, and the orchestration is complete except for a bass horn. On Saturday the band will be out for the game with Whitman and its first appearance will be a good one, too. We are planning to give a dance for the benefit of the band soon, and we want the school to turn out and help us."

pass just over the line to considerable advantage this season. It is the only play by which the Missionaries were able to make gains against the powerful University of Washington eleven last Saturday. They were crushed under the much heavier and more experienced Washington aggregation by the tremendous score of 120 to 0.

With Sullivan, Howard, Clinch and Johnston barred from the back field and Donahue from the line Montana's hopes went glimmering. These men will probably be ineligible to play for the rest of the season. This leaves the Grizzly squad with scarcely eleven men who are in condition for tomorrow's game.

Since the casualty list of the scholarship committee was announced last Monday there has been a noticeable gloom over the campus. Gridiron fans figured that all the Bruins have left is a prayer and fight. Hopes have taken a boost, however, with the addition of seven new men reporting for practice this week. Brown, Busha, Davey, Lockwood, Mooney, Warner and Folkestad. This will necessitate the moulding of an almost entirely new backfield and several changes in the line. Coach Bierman has been hammering his men through hard practice every night and each night sees the squad working with swifter and the old machine-like smoothness.

Whitman met the Grizzlies last on Montana field in the fall of 1916, losing by a score of 17 to 0. The Missionaries defeated the Bruins at Walla Walla in 1917 by a score of 14 to 3. The teams did not meet last year. Coach Vincent Borleske and his men are expected to arrive in Missoula this evening or in the morning.

The officials for the game will be Jardine of Idaho referee, and Schroeder of Butte, umpire.

Grizzlies	Whitman
Fitzgerald, Watson	Somerindyke
Left End
Dahlberg	Smith
Left Tackle
Dorsey	Jones
Left Guard
Walterskirchen	Cordiner
Center
Harris, McKoin	Lucht
Right Guard
DeMers	Harper
Right Tackle
Daylis	Genzel
Right End
Keeley	Matthews
Quarterback
Adams	Wiley (Capt.)
Left Halfback
Brown, Harris	Corkrum
Right Halfback
Scherck	Garver
Fullback

SPEAKS AT CRAIG HALL

Miss Hill, a Y. W. C. A. worker, spoke to the girls of Craig hall Tuesday evening. Miss Hill is in service in India. The two things India must accomplish before she has a right to her independence Miss Hill gave were the lifting of woman from the low place she now occupies, and the breaking down of the casts.

THE REGISTRAR IS WRONG

The registrar's office told us that there were eight hundred students enrolled in the State University. And until last Saturday's game we believed him.

But as we looked at the grand stand at the Mines game and saw the entire student body assembled there, every loyal student attends varsity games, of course, we know that of the eight hundred enrolled, at last six hundred must be taking the work by correspondence.

We thought of the students in far away Kalispell, Darby and Livingston, who were anxiously awaiting the news of the game. And we realized the privilege the resident student has, that he may see his varsity in action.

CONCERNING REGRETS

The Kaimin is very much pleased with the report of the freshman meeting. It shows that the solid majority of that class will wipe out the reflection cast on its loyalty by some of its members last Monday by their misdirected enthusiasm.

For us the incident was closed, but since we have not received the expected communication from the class regarding the incident, we feel that this recognition of the attitude of the freshman class is fair.

But we object to the statement of the president of the class in convocation yesterday, that the editorial on the subject was regrettable. The incident was very regrettable. The rebuke was necessary. It was effective.

Our position in this matter remains the same. If we hear of any instance in which a group of students mistake the aims of the State University, whether they are members of the freshman, sophomore, junior or senior class, or whether their class comprises 50 per cent or 10 per cent of the student body, we shall not fail to bring it to the attention of their class and their University.

MISS GITTINGS WILL SAIL FOR HOME IN DECEMBER

Ina Gittings, former instructor in physical education here, will start home from Tarsus, Turkey, where she has been in reconstruction work, some time in December.

She says in a letter to one of the students: 'About Christmas time the appropriation for Tarsus ceases and I will start home by the most round about route I can afford. The Holy Lands, Egypt, Greece, Italy, Switzerland, France and England must be seen and then the good old U. S. A. for the remainder of my life.

"I am still conducting my rug factory, collecting orphans, and issuing clothing made by another set of my factory workers to the exiled women and children who continue to drift into this city. Truly, this country seethes with destitute people."

DEAN OF WOMEN SPEAKS

Dean K. W. Jameson spoke to the students of the high school at Lewistown on behalf of the Greater University of Montana this week. She also delivered an address on "Some Forward Steps in Education" Wednesday afternoon before the district convention of the federation of women's clubs in Livingston.

FACULTY WOMEN MEET

The Faculty Women's club will meet with Mrs. E. O. Sisson Monday afternoon at 2:30. New members are especially urged to attend.

TALKS ON FRENCH PRESS

Streit of Missoulian Staff Relates Newspaper Game Abroad.

"The French read newspapers more than the Americans. I think that the newspaper reading public in France is more intelligent than in this country," Clarence Streit, a member of the Missoulian staff, told the Press club in an address on French newspapers Wednesday evening. Mr. Streit was in France over two years. He left here with the 20th engineers, but after about three months was transferred to the army intelligence bureau. He was detailed to the peace conference.

"Most of the French newspapers are published in Paris. I could easily name 40; there are probably 50 or 60. The reason for this is that the country is small and the Paris newspapers are sent to all the provinces. The other large cities in France print a few provincial papers; Bourdeau publishes four.

"The Paris newspapers have large circulations. Le Petit Parisien claims to have the greatest circulation in the world—about 2,000,000 a day. The papers are for the most part not circulated by subscriptions but by sales on the streets. They do not have newsboys but old women or old men cry out the names of the papers. They do not cry the news. The only time I ever heard any news cried out in Paris was when the armistice was signed and they didn't care whether they sold the papers or not then.

"Before 1917 the papers sold for one penny each, but after that date government regulation compelled them to raise to two cents. The most expensive newspaper in France is three cents a copy. During the war the papers published at least twice a week a one-sheet edition. None of the papers ever had more than 8 or 10 pages and no large Sunday editions. The evening papers come out on Sunday, too. The most serious and conservative papers in France are evening papers.

"French newspapers may be divided into two classes: the Journals of Information and the Journals of Opinion. The latter are owned by politicians who wish to express their views to the public. The newspapers represent the conservative and the reactionary elements; there is no idea of the liberal. Their papers are much more personal than ours. The editorials are signed and there are many signed news stories.

"The papers run press reviews which are something like our Literary Digest except that they are run every day. They have several news agencies, resembling the United Press rather than the Associated Press in our country, from which they buy their telegraph news. The Parisian papers run quite a good deal of local stuff, especially about the Chamber of Deputies and the political trials, and of course they have a sport page.

"Their newspapers do not have as many illustrations as ours do. They publish special magazines devoted to illustrations. Most of the papers run one cartoon a day. I have never seen a cartoon tagged or labeled except in the cheapest papers printed for the most uneducated class. They merely have a caption underneath or above them and expect you to get the point from that. The newspapers expect the reading public to be right up on its toes as to what is going on in the world, and I think it is."

Mr. Streit discussed the make-up of the French newspapers and the way they handled stories illustrating his discussion with French newspapers. Mr. Streit will continue his series of lectures on the French newspapers at the next meeting of the Press club.

Miss Hill of the Y. W. C. A. board, Miss Ella Brown of the high school and Miss Cheek of the Presbyterian board were dinner guests at Craig hall this week.

The Clock

The old clock watched the crowds as they gathered before Main hall and disappeared inside. It was an unusually quiet and an unusually large crowd for that time and place. He could hear the ice cracking on the sidewalk as they hurried along.

He wished he could move out of his tower more than he had ever wished before. He wanted to hear what they were going to say about Daddy Aber. But then, he almost knew or at least he could guess.

He could hear them talking of the frail bent figure so filled with true love for Montana. He could hear them tell of his work on the campus among the flowers and trees. He knew they would recall his kindness and firmness.

But he wondered if they knew the Daddy Aber he did—he wondered—and he sighed softly for the great man that was gone.

They had worked a long time together, he and Daddy Aber. And he for one did not remember him as the "frail old man." He looked back and saw him when his step was firm and his figure straight. He remembered Daddy Aber when he carried those pine trees down from the canyon and planted them himself. And he remembered how once Professor Aber was the head of a real department before the days of vocational training had laid his idols upon the shelf.

He missed Daddy Aber. He wondered if the rest did. He knew there were many down there who did not even know him. And he wondered if there were any who really did.

The crowd was pouring out again. They were gathering around that flag-draped stone in the pine grove. The clock was glad that he could not see that stone well. It was cold and hard he knew and it did not remind him of Daddy Aber. He liked better those things which the pine grove brought to his mind as they stood there in the softly falling snowflakes, silent and straight and growing like the spirit of Montana's grand old man.

STUDENT COUNCIL PLANS CONTROL BY COMMITTEES

A committee to formulate a system of comprehensive student control was appointed by the Student Council at its regular semi-monthly meeting last Wednesday evening at 7:30. The committees to be appointed by the general committee will have charge of, and will be directly responsible for, certain definite duties, such as the maintenance of varsity spirit, as A. S. U. M. night and the May fete carnival, and matters under the general head of student deportment. Seymour Gorsline, Joe Townsend, Florence Dixon and Bill Kane are the members of the general committee.

Chairman Gault appointed Joe Townsend, Virginia McAuliffe and Bill Kane as a committee to request President E. O. Sisson to grant November 11, Armistice Day, as a holiday, and to arrange for a special Armistice Day convocation in memory of the University men who gave their lives in the war.

THETAS AT HOME

Kapa Alpha Theta fraternity will be at home after the football game Saturday afternoon November 1 at their chapter house at 333 University avenue to the Varsity team, the visiting eleven and the faculty and students of the University.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN TO END WITH SMOKER

Will Have Stag Roundup at Simpkins Hall; Making Plans for Coming Year.

The membership campaign conducted by the University Y. M. C. A. will end with a stag roundup at Simpkins hall. The date for this roundup is uncertain at present, since it is to be held on the same night as the Co-ed prom, which was postponed because of the A. S. U. M. dance Saturday night. The executive board of the Y. M. C. A. is making extensive plans for the coming year. About $3,000 has been subscribed by the citizens of Missoula and by the University to carry out these plans.

According to the plan of the executive board the Y. M. C. A. will be whatever the students wish to make it. "If dues are charged for the use of pool tables or for other purposes it will be because the student members desire to charge dues and not because the state Y. M. C. A. thinks it necessary," said George Shepard, a member of the executive board. He added that it would be the aim of the Y. M. C. A. to assist students in every way possible. With that end in view the organization has arranged to take care of mail for students who live at Simpkins hall. A reading table and another pool table will be installed in the men's dormitory and $25 worth of magazines will be placed at the disposal of University students.

The executive board, which is composed of three students: Shepard, Townsend and Jameson; three faculty members: Schreiber, Jesse and one unnamed; and three citizens of Missoula: Mayor Wilkinson, Ira B. Fee and J. N. McLean, has chosen Rev. W. T. Lockwood to take charge of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Lockwood is student Y. M. C. A. secretary for the state, but will spend most of his time at this institution.

BIOLOGY ORDERS APPARATUS

Eighteen microscopes have been ordered for the biology department. Dr. M. J. Elrod, head of the department, is uncertain about when they will arrive inasmuch as the company has notified him that there are 3,000 orders ahead of his.

Edwin Dunlavey, general secretary of Sigma Nu fraternity, visited at the local chapter.

WITTER HAS HARD TIME IN GETTING DISCHARGE

Many discharged service men are attending the University, but none of them have had such a hard time getting their discharge as George G. Witter, a member of the law school.

Witter, a first lieutenant in the 15th Field Artillery, 2nd Division, was discharged at Camp Upton, Long Island, on August 1, 1919. Two weeks later his discharge was revoked on the ground that he as a member of the regular army could not be legitimately discharged from Camp Upton. Witter immediately forwarded his resignation to the adjutant general of the army. It was two months before he received his final discharge, and to get it he was obliged to return to Camp Upton once more.

GYM PLANT COMPLETED

The heating system at the gym has at last been repaired and the co-eds have begun their basketball and physical training.

Dorothea Beach was taken to Butte, Sunday, by her mother for an operation on her nose. Word has been received from Mrs. Beach that she is getting along well and will soon be able to return to school.

Finals Dec. 13

Inter-fraternity basketball will usher in the indoor sport this season. Alpha Delta Alpha will tangle with Sigma Chi on December 2 in the first game of the year. Iota Nu and Sigma Nu are matched for the following night, with the S. P. E.—Delta Rho game ending the preliminaries December 4. The semi-finals will be held December 8 and the finals December 12.

Delta Rho, which won the cup last year, will have the same strong team in the field with Howard, Vitt, McKoin, Lockwood and McCollum back in the University. Carver, who played forward with Howard last year, has not returned this year and his playing will be missed.

Iota Nu, twice winner of the inter-fraternity cup, will be represented by a fast team this year, although ending well down in the cellar in the last tournament. Sullivan will be back at guard for the Buffalos, and with Adams, Barry, Elliott, Joy, Schaffer should put up a good fight, although the team will be depending on Frosh to a great extent.

Walterskirchen and Kerschner should help the Sigma Nu quint this year. With Wilson, Mooney and Gallagher back to build the team around, last year's runnersup should make a strong bid for the championship during the present season.

Sigma Chi was a poor third last year, but promises a comeback with the addition of several new players—Whistler, Ahern and Larkin should form the nucleus for a tough combination with Lambert, Olson, Porter, Hopper, O'Hare and Straw to pick among.

Alpha Delta Alpha, last year leader of the second division, will have Ruppel and McKain in harness with the addition of Warner, L. Westby, Kain, Shepard, Griffin and Toulouse.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, undisputed champion of the cellar last season, has not been materially strengthened this year. Spiller and Adams are their best bets with Keely and Lautz also showing good guard work.

The guy with the cauliflower ear is not always the bird that gets pickled.

The Whitman Missionaries, who come to Montana field tomorrow to meet the Grizzlies, met defeat in Seattle last Saturday at the hands of the husky University of Washington squad. Whitman was clearly outclassed, the final score being 126-0.

Jerry Nissen, former varsity coach who left Montana to enter the army, refereed Whitman-Washington game, giving general satisfaction. After the close of the war Nissen gave up his position as athletic instructor in the army and accepted a position as navigation inspector in Seattle.

Claude McQuarrie, former University star, ran 60 yards for a touchdown against the strong Boston college eleven last Saturday. Incidentally, this was the chief factor in the army's victory.

Idaho will play their turkey-day game at Walla Walla this year, it has been recently announced.

When the University frosh meet the kitten from across the hill next week, the fur is bound to fly. (Pretty catty.)

At that the frosh from the farmer institution should put up a good fight. The Exponent, the college paper, announces the Bozeman frosh team as averaging nearly 170 pounds, or practically the same as their first team.

The basketball feature of the men's intra-mural season will be the inter-department games. Law meets journalism, December 9, in what should be an easy victory for the scribes. The next contest will be between forestry and academic. This game should furnish the best contest, with the foresters apparently having a slight advantage.

The intra-mural games should give "Doc" Schreiber a line on enough material for a winning quintet this year. With Sullivan and Larkin back at the "U" and Howard, Ahern, Fox, McKain and Whisler registered again, the team should be a fast one with the help of what new men may show up.

ANNOUNCE POSTPONEMENT OF PROMENADE OF CO-EDS

The Co-Ed Prom, which was to be given Saturday night, has been postponed indefinitely, a dance by the A. S. U. M. in honor of the visiting Whitman team being given instead.

When the plans were made for the dance the girls did not know that a game with Whitman was scheduled for the same day. After the date was set for the game the girls immediately turned over the hall, arrangements and music to the A. S. U. M.

All members of the freshman and varsity teams will be admitted free.

Miss Wilson asks that each older girl be responsible for the presence at the dance of the Freshman who was assigned to her at the beginning of the quarter.

"U" FRESHMEN MEET AGGIE FROSH HERE

CONTEST BETWEEN YOUNG- STERS NOVEMBER 8

Report Former Yearlings Have Strong Aggregation.

On Montana field, November 8th, the Aggie freshmen will play the University freshmen in a game that promises to bring back some of the old rivalry that exists between the two schools. The Aggie frosh bring with them a strong team from over the divide. They have been giving the varsity a hard struggle every time that they have played and are rated by some to be as good as the varsity in many respects. One of their men is Bryant from Billings, a man who played on the varsity two years ago, but left school before the end of the year. Bryant was a good man in high school and is reputed to be a strong kicker.

This will be the first game for either aggregation and both teams are working hard for it. The University freshmen are out every night under the direction of Coach Schreiber and Manager Jimmy Gault. The men that will probably start the game are: Madsen and Morris, ends; Elliot and Captain MacGowan, tackles; Ramsay and Smithers, guards; Schafer, center; Olsen and Barry, halfbacks; Kirshner, fullback and Lambert quarterback. The A. S. U. M. is giving a guarantee of $300 for this game.

MISSIONARY FROM INDIA TELLS NEED OF ORIENT

Miss Agnes Hill, now on the Presbyterian board of missions, for 25 years in Y. W. C. A. foreign work, talked on "The Blue Triangle" at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday afternoon. She spoke of the need of the Y. W. C. A. in Asia, Japan, China, and especially in India. She illustrated her talk with photographs of India and Japan. When she returns to India she expects to work in the interior where no missionary has ever been before.

Miss Mary Ashby Cheek, representing the committee on student work of the Presbyterian board of missions gave a short talk on "Home Missions and Americanization."

To Students Interested in COMMERCIAL ART as a Profession

THE field of Commercial Art is one of the most promising open to young people of talent today. So greatly is the profession in need of men and women that one of the largest illustrating and engraving houses in the country has opened a Commercial Art School, under the home-study method, and to encourage budding artists and others who may be naturally gifted in drawing to take up the work they offer a most attractive proposition for tuition.

Further details may be had by calling on EDWARD H. BOOS, Advertising Manager, Missoula Mercantile Company.

Prompt action is necessary, as the number to be enrolled is strictly limited.
