BRUINS AND AGGIES CLASH FRIDAY NIGHT

FIRST GAME IN BASKETBALL
SINCE 1918

Contest Will Be Starting Lap in Race for Championship Honors.

The Grizzlies will meet the Aggies next Friday night in the first of a four-game series to decide the state championship. Wesleyan and the Montana School of Mines have been practically eliminated from the running. This will be the first time the two teams have met since 1918. The teams are about evenly matched according to comparative scores.

The Aggie games are the most important contest on the Montana schedule, because they have always decided the championship of the state. The two teams have about an even break in the honors, with the Aggies having a possible edge on the Grizzlies. In 1918 Montana won three out of the four games, by that right they are the present title holders. In 1919 there were no games, as athletics were temporarily suspended, due to the war.

The State School of Mines is the only team that both the State College and the University have met. The Aggies defeated the Mines by a score of 24-20 on the Butte floor. Here the advantage lay with the Mines. Montana beat the mby a 25-18 score on the University floor. Here the advantage was with the Grizzlies. Although Montana won by a greater margin the conditions under which the two games were played offset the difference in the score.

Wesleyan can not be considered as a contender for the state honors. The Mines are not entirely out of the race because they have another game to play with each of the teams. Should they win one of these they will be back in the running. This is not expected.

The second game of the Aggie-Bruin series will be played Saturday evening on the University floor. The third and fourth games to take place in Bozeman, February 26 and 27.

The games Friday and Saturday evening will be called at 8:15 p. m.

LAMB APPOINTED HEAD OF STUDENT COMMITTEE

Convocation Will Be Held to Put Plans of Committee Before Student Body.

Henry Lamb, a major in the commercial department of the University, has been appointed head of the student committee whose purpose it will be to encourage prospective students to come to the University of Montana. Lambert DeMers held the same office last year.

A convocation will be called sometime within the next few weeks to put the plans of the student committee before the student body. Students will be appointed from different counties to look after prospective students in their respective counties.

ELLIOTT ANNOUNCES PLAN FOR FINANCING MONTANA U

Two Measures Vital to Future of Higher Education in Treasure State to Be Submitted to the Voters at the Election Next November.

Two financial measures of vital importance to the future of higher education in Montana will be submitted to the voters of the state at the November elections, according to an announcement made from Butte Saturday, after an all-day conference of Chancellor E. C. Elliott with heads of the four institutions of the University of Montana.

The first of these measures would provide for an annual state tax of one and one-half mills to be levied during the next ten years for the support of the institutions of the University of Montana, which includes the State University, the State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, the State Normal School and the State School of Mines.

The second measure provides for a state bond issue of $5,000,000 for the construction and equipment of more buildings for the various educational institutions under the control of the state board of education; $3,750,000 would be used for the University institutions and the other $1,250,000 would be devoted to the Orphans' Home at Twin Bridges, the industrial school at Miles City, the girls' vocational school, recently established at Helena, and the school for the deaf, blind and feeble minded at Boulder.

It has been a recognized fact for 25 years that the work and progress of the state institutions has been seriously handicapped by the lack of adequate buildings and sufficient equipment. The growth of the educational institutions has not been permitted to keep pace with the advancement and development of the state because of the limited state appropriations.

As a result the students of Montana institutions have never had the variety and extent of education usually found in a large, modern state university. The present crowded condition of the state institutions was emphasized by the state efficiency commission in its report submitted last November. The commission, after a critical examination of the four institutions of the University, reached the following conclusion:

STRAUGHN SCHEUCH MEETS SUDDEN DEATH

Son of Acting President a Probable Victim of Acute Indigestion.

Straughn Scheuch, son of Acting President F. C. Scheuch, died last night in St. Patrick's hospital, the probable victim of an attack of acute indigestion. Professor Scheuch was with his son until the time of his death. His death came quietly and without pain. It was unexpected, for up until the last minute, he carried on a conversation with his father, was cheerful and at no time showed signs that death was about to take him away.

Contrary to reports that he was overcome by poisonous powder fumes, while engaged in rifle practice at the R. O. T. C. headquarters yesterday morning, it is now believed that his death was not the result of breathing the powder gases, but rather acute indigestion. He has been subject to occasional attacks of this disease for some time. Last week, while in the gymnasium, he experienced a severe attack. Captain A. C. Cron, commandant, does not believe that the inhalation of powder fumes was responsible.

MAY QUEEN TO BE NAMED AT CO-ED MASS MEETING

Plans for May Fete are progressing rapidly. Tryouts for the dances will be held Wednesday, February 4, at 7 p. m. in the gymnasium. There will be an election of the May queen and prince Tuesday, February 10, at a mass meeting of the women to be held at 4 o'clock.

The creative writing class, under the direction of Professor H. G. Merriam, are at work on a plot for May Fete. It is the plan of the committee to have a more connected story presented in the fete than has been the custom formerly. The story will be woven around the May queen whose name will be kept a secret until the day of the May fete.

"The ambitious youth of Montana has a right to demand that the state provide the opportunities and the facilities for obtaining higher education. Under present conditions the state is failing to perform, effectively, the duty which it owes to our young manhood and womanhood. Many of our most promising boys and girls belong to families of most limited financial resources. The state will not be fair to the youth of Montana if it fails to place the opportunities for higher education within their reach."

The state legislature has always shown a favorable attitude toward the institutions of higher learning and has been disposed to make rather liberal appropriations, especially during the last four years, during which time the institutions have been consolidated under the University of Montana and placed under the executive supervision of the chancellor.

But notwithstanding, as has been the case in most new states, the state government has expanded and the numerous state activities have been developed in response to the needs of the people much more rapidly than the state revenues have increased. Repeatedly during the last ten years the state legislature has made appropriations for new buildings. The state board of examiners, because of the condition of the general fund of the state, was obliged to withhold the expenditures from these appropriations. For the first time in over 10 years, the money appropriated by the fifteenth assembly in 1917 became available for use in the construction of new buildings at the institutions of the University. Many competent to make the statement have said that as a result of this general policy Montana University institutions are more poorly provided with buildings and equipment than any other institutions of like standing in the west. The report of Chancellor Elliott for the fiscal year ending February 28, 1919, shows Montana to be fortieth in rank in the support of her institutions of higher learning, in proportion to wealth.

Conditions that have developed during the past year have brought on a real crisis in the affairs of Montana education. Last fall found everyone of the University institutions with a much greater enrollment than ever before. The natural result was a congested condition on each campus that brought sharp criticism from all parts of the commonwealth. The nation-wide movement for the increase in salaries of instructors could no longer be avoided if Montana was to have an instructional staff befitting the university of a great state. In addition to this, the extraordinary rise in the cost of supplies and apparatus caused the appropriations to be wholly unequal to the pressing needs of the University.

The state board of education and the executive officers of the University could no longer hedge the fact that there were no state funds available, and that Montana institutions would continue in the lower ranks until ways and means could be devised for greatly increasing the revenues of the state to be devoted to education.

Face to face with this situation, made all the more acute by the inability of the next legislature to provide for any increase in the appropriations, the state board of education had two courses of action open: either to limit the number of students, and otherwise limit the scope of the work of the University so as to keep their expenditures within the limit of the existing appropriations, or to present the whole matter of increased funds directly before the force of public opinion of the state for decision.

The state board of education met December 12, and reviewed the entire financial situation exhaustively. The decision of the committee was that any plan to limit the number of students who might enter the University institutions as unworkable and unworthy of a great and democratic commonwealth. The members of the board believed that the people of the state, when fully informed of existing conditions, would see to it that adequate funds were provided for the proper growth and upkeep of the institutions. The board therefore approved a project for submitting to the vote of the people a measure establishing a mill tax and authorizing the issuance of state bonds.

MINERS DEFEATED BY BRUIN QUINTET

COACH BIERMAN UNABLE TO BE WITH TEAM

Captain Larkin Star of Contest,
Scoring 17 Points for the Grizzlies; Olson Is Sick

With Coach Bierman in quarantine for influenza and Captain Larkin and right forward Olsen still weak from the colds contracted on the northwest invasion, the Grizzlies won a slow game from the Miners Friday night, 25 to 18. The University by its defeat of the School of Mines quintet proved conclusively that they are in the running for the state basketball championship and will give the Aggies a hard battle Friday and Saturday night.

The game opened up slow. The effect of the early season invasion of the Bruins was clearly seen. The play was listless and lacked the pep shown by the Grizzlies in its first encounter with Wesleyan. The first half ended with the Varsity on the long end of a 10 to 5 score.

The second half was faster and the Grizzlies forged to the lead. The Miners never were close or dangerous. In this half Ahern was substituted for Olson and played a fast game, throwing one field goal.

Larkin, the sturdy little Grizzly forward, still shaky from the effects of a seige of sickness, proved the brilliant performer for the University team, scoring 17 of his team's points. He was wonderfully accurate in handling the foul throws, caging seven out of the 13 tries. McKain, the Bruin center, played a stellar floor game, continually outjumping Mueller, the lanky Butte center, and starting

WILL ORGANIZE SENIOR HONORARY SOCIETY SOON

Faculty Members May Have Hand Hand in Choosing Nucleus of New Society.

Work toward the organization of a senior honorary society has been progressing and the committee on student affairs will present plans for it at the next meeting of the Student Council, to be held February 11. At this meeting the society will probably be definitely planned.

Several general plans have been suggested. The committee recommends that it be a society for men. If the women want a similar organization, the committee thinks that it would be much better if they organize one separate from the one organized by the men.

It is recommended that the organization be composed of from 9 to 14 men. A nucleus of the organization will be formed by four seniors to be selected by the members of the faculty who were members of senior honorary societies when they were in college. It is proposed that members pledged during the last past of their junior year or any time during their senior year.

The committee has written to western universities who have senior honorary organizations and asked about the customs followed there. The committee on student affairs is composed of the junior president, the representatives from the Woman's Self Government association and the faculty representative. Guy Mooney, Virginia McAuliffe, and Dr. M. J. Elrod are the members of the committee according to this plan.

HI JINX

Hi Jinx put in its appearance last Friday night, but to date it has not entirely disappeared. We understand the production has met with disapproval because of a few objectionable features. If it has met with disapproval, the best thing for all concerned is to let the matter drop. A review and general airing of the performance does not help matters. Naturally, it only muddles and makes things worse than they really are. Hi Jinx is strictly a campus event, and if there is anything objectionable connected with it, why publish the fact in a downtown paper, especially in the form of a communication. We understand the faculty has raised the principal objections, yet it was a faculty member who felt high minded enough to give Missoula citizens his opinion, to be sure that everyone in Missoula would have something to talk about. If it was vulgar, the worst thing possible is to advertise its vulgarity. We have a student publication which can take care of such communications. The faculty member who wrote the communication thought only of his personal interests and not the interests of the University.

A WAY TO HELP

We are glad to learn that steps are to be taken to assure better financial support and assistance to the educational institutions of the state. Every unit which composes Montana's system of higher education, has been struggling along under a severe handicap, the lack of adequate finances to successfully carry on the work of educating the young people of the state. They have been unable to keep pace with modern educational methods or with the new conditions. The heads of the state institutions have been compelled to use makeshift buildings to alleviate the crowded conditions found in the permanent buildings. Instructional staffs have been weakened by the inability to retain recognized authorities.

Two financial measures of great importance are to be submitted to Montana voters at the next regular election. The adoption of these two measures will be a wonderful boom to higher education in the state. Montana, instead of holding her unenviable reputation, as ranking fortieth in the country in support of higher education, in proportion to her wealth, will take its destined place as a progressive educational state. But in order that the people of the state must realize the handicap under which Montana schools have been working, and to overcome their natural scruples against additional taxation, the students of the University must lend a hand in the campaign. The petitions which support these initiatory measures, must be in the hands of the Secretary of State by April. These petitions must bear the signatures of at least 16,000 and probably 20,000 citizens from the twenty-four counties in the state. It is in this advance work where students can give invaluable assistance to a good cause. One of the most logical ways of putting a proposition of this nature before the public, is by the ones who know, the students. Write letters to your people, to your friends and impress them with the facts as you see them. Tell them of the lack of room, the inability to meet the demands of growing student body and of the inadequate teaching staff. These are very apparent deficiencies which can be seen on every Montana campus. We can win the public support if the students will back the campaign with their personal assistance.

Student Forum

Editor of The Kaimin:

Dear Sir: In view of two articles which we have read recently in the columns of the Missoulian concerning the now famous Hi Jinx, we feel that it is time that some one call the attention of students of the University and "A Faculty Member" as well, to the duty which we owe to our alma mater.

We are not writing to discuss the merits of the entertainment given last Friday evening. It had its good points, and some weaknesses and those who saw it can judge which predominated. Whatever the merits or demerits of the Hi Jinx as just given we are certain of this that whenever trouble or dissatisfaction occurs in our big family of nearly 1,000 students and faculty members that it should be confined to the limits of the campus and means started on the campus to rectify errors which have been made, instead of proclaiming wildly from the house tops and through the medium of the public press that all is not well at the University.

In the Missoulian of Saturday morning there was a more or less unsavory account of the Hi Jinx in which the performance was designated as an "atrocitiy" and of such a nature that the faculty members left the performance. The latter is either a misstatement or at least an exaggeration. We saw no one, faculty members or anyone else, leave the entertainment and upon considerable inquiry we have been unable to discover anyone else who did. We ask what good did such an article do? It certainly was not a movement toward making a better Hi Jinx next year. It merely started the people in town who were not at the entertainment to thinking that something of a very unusual and vulgar nature had been produced for the entertainment of the young men and women attending the State University. Now if the reporter, whom we understand was a University student, wrote the article, was dissatisfied with the entertainment and had the conviction that it was not the proper standard for an institution of this kind, why did he not start a movement ON THE CAMPUS for cleaner entertainments in the future? His report accomplished nothing, whereas harm was done and the good name of the University injured.

An article in the form of a letter of a far more serious nature appeared in the Missoulian of Monday morning, over the signature "A Faculty Member," which to the casual observer was a personal and unwarranted attack on the dean of men. Now, if said faculty member sees an evil in our big family, would not it have been a far wiser policy to start the reform movement at home ON THE CAMPUS. An article of this sort written by a faculty member is bound to receive publicity all over the state. The author of this article, according to its own contents, did not see the performance, but is writing purely from hearsay evidence. Perhaps, if the author had seen the show he might agree with some of those who did see it, and say it was good.

But good or bad, we defy the author or any one else to show where one item of good will be derived from the publishing of that letter in a daily paper. On the other hand, it will do no end of harm. As the story and its attendant evils goes from one womans' club to another, will assume such proportions that we doubt if "A Faculty Member" would recognize it as his story. If the Hi Jinx was bad, the place to criticize it is on the campus and through the columns of our school paper. Whatever harm the entertainment may have done it will be multiplied ten fold by the publicity of such a nature.

We have attended this University for several years. We are proud of it as our alma mater. It is our firm conviction that each and every one of us should BOOST and not KNOCK. In closing we propose this as a policy for all members of the institution. That when immeasurable harm and no good can be accomplished by publicity in the daily papers that such publicity be discountenanced by all true and loyal supporters of the school, and that the family troubles of the institution be settled at home, ON THE CAMPUS, and that all attempts to remove our troubles by publication in the daily press be forever discredited as the methods of the knocker.

Yours very truly, A. C. B.

FLU SITUATION IMPROVED SAYS W. E. SCHREIBER

Cottage Girls and Three Sorority Members Are Only Ill Ones on the Campus.

"The flu situation on the campus is encouraging," said Physical Director W. E. Schreiber Monday, when questioned as to the seriousness of the contagion. "With the exception of the Cottage girls and three sorority members there is practically no influenza on the campus."

The Alpha Phis, Delta Gammas and Kappas have been quarantined as one girl has the flu in each house. However, none of them are seriously ill, according to Mr. Schreiber.

He stated that the University had taken every precaution to guard against an epidemic and that the hospital, south of the journalism building, was ready for use. There are already two patients in the hospital.

DOES RIFLE PRACTICE

The regular classes of the R. O. T. C. are meeting in the indoor gallery room in Marcus Cook hall, where instruction in shooting is being given. The students are first instructed as to the use of the gun sights, and those showing unusual ability to use them are promoted to the "firing squad."

UNIVERSITY CUB QUINT MAY MEET AGGIE FROSH

Yearlings at State College Would Pay for Games by Various Financial Undertakings.

According to the Weekly Exponent the freshman class of the State College is making preparations for two basketball games to be played between the frosh of that institution and the Grizzly Cubs. The College freshmen plan to defray the expenses of the games by selling ribbons, personal donations from members of the class and the proceeds from dances to be given after the games.

The Exponent portrays the freshmen there as having a fast team. The University freshmen have been showing up good in practice games against the Missoula high school quint. The games should be good, if staged, although there are no comparative scores to indicate the relative strength of the two teams.

University freshmen, who have been working out consistently are: Porter, Westby, and Murphy, forwards; MacGowan, center; Baird, Elliot and Kershner, guards.

Physical Director W. E. Schreiber, who is acting as mentor of the Cubs, is negotiating for the games, which will probably be played on the State College floor.

DISCUSSION ON MUSIC SLATED FOR NEXT CON

The first of a series of convocations on the appreciation of music will be held Thursday at 11 o'clock under the direction of Professor Weisburg, instructor in violin of the State University School of Music.

Professor Weisburg will give a 10 to 15 minute talk on the appreciation of music. This will be introductory to other talks to be given at future convocations. It will deal with the nature of musical art.

Selections on a special loud-tone Victrola will occupy the rest of the hour. The Victrola was obtained by Professor Weisburg for this kind of work and can be heard plainly in a large hall. The records will be of the finest musical artists.

If the students wish other convocations of this nature Professor Weisburg will give them. Organizations wishing convocations of this nature may make arrangements.

DR. RILEY LECTURES TO STUDENTS OF FORESTRY

Dr. E. H. Riley of the Montana State College at Bozeman finished his series of lectures to the forestry classes of the University Saturday morning. Dr. Riley has been lecturing for the past three years to forestry students on livestock and their care and treatment. His lectures here dealt chiefly with stock diseases, handling of livestock, and how to judge stock to determine soundness or unsoundness. A feature of his lectures was a lantern slide exhibit, showing the prize winning animals at the national stock show at Chicago.

L. J. Hurtt, district examiner of the United States forest service, is lecturing to the forestry students this week on forest regulations and grazing lands. He began his series of lectures yesterday morning and will continue for the rest of the week.

MISPLACED

A small pamphlet with debates on the question of "Compulsory Arbitration," has been misplaced in the Library building. Debate people will be very glad to have the finder return it. DEBATE MANAGER.

Montana defeated the School of Mines by a score of 25-18. At times the game was fast and snappy, but as a whole it was slow basketball. Close guarding on both sides was partly the cause for it.

The Aggies defeated the Mines by a 24-20 score.

Comparative scores is not a reliable source to base the relative strength of teams upon but just as a matter of suggestion.

The Aggies have a strong team this year, but they haven't got the habit when it comes to a Grizzly squad.

The University of Washington have scheduled a game with Dartmouth. They also have Montana on their list. These are two new teams for Washington.

Dartmouth is no slouch when it comes to playing football. Well, they will beat some of the best teams in the east. Then they will come out here and for the sake of things the Sundodgers will cast a shadow on Dartmouth. The Grizzlies will go over and scratch up Washington something awful. Can't you see where Montana stands, man, can't you see it?

Might as well start with the slogan now, "Beat Washington."

Wasn't Hi Jinx something scandalous? We will have to wear black in mourning for the sense of morals that has died. But all is not lost. The boys "promise to redeem themselves and come again into the light of favor by getting season tickets for the local dance halls.

Hey! Gabriel, gold dust those big chairs, tune up the harps and bring out the extra wings.

Helena defeated Butte, Billings beat Bozeman and Missoula won from Anaconda. Billings is probably the strongest team in the state. Helena deserves mention by defeating Butte, considered a front rank team, and Missoula, although beaten by Helena, put it over on a team that had suffered but one defeat this season.

A basketball game, a Hi Jinx and a dance. Not so bad for one night.

Especially one that ceases to be a night at 12 bells.

She was registering deep emotion. Tears were wearing canyons through the "makeup." The rising and falling of the shoulders told that she knew the latest dances. Her "sisters" were trying to console her. She kept saying over and over, "I want my clothes back."

The latest enterprise of the "trust" is a scheme wherein Omar and Khayyam White can gip the photographer

The Alpha Phi versus Cottage game, which was staged for the same day, was postponed because of the quarantining of the cottage. The game between Delta Gamma and Town, was was to have been played Monday, was postponed because of the quarantining of the Delta Gamma.

Augusta Gudmunsen was responsible for most of the Delta Sigma Chi points, while Virginia McAuliffe made most of the Theta's baskets. The first half ended with Theta only five baskets ahead and Delta Sigma Chi playing a fast game. In the second half Theta began to play real basketball and piled up basket after basket in spite of close guarding.

The game between Kappa Kappa Gamma and Craig Hall, which will be played Wednesday, will have a direct bearing on winning the tournament, since both Kappa and Craig Hall are picked as among the four possible winners. Both have been defeated once, each losing to Theta.

The schedule for the week is as follows:

Wednesday, February 4—Alpha Phi vs. Out of Town. Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Craig Hall.

Friday, February 6—Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Out of Town. Delta Gamma vs. Delta Sigma Chi.

There will positively be no further extension as it is necessary to get the pictures in immediately in order to get the book out on time. Monday, February 9th, will be the last day that the pictures can be taken.

BIG LUMBERJACK'S HOP SCHEDULED FOR FEB. 16

The annual forester's ball will be staged in the University gymnasium on Monday, February 16, according to Russell Ireland, who is in charge of the affair. The dance comes off the night before Charter day.

The decorations will be the principal feature of the woodsmen's hop, which is considered by University students to be one of the biggest dances of the year. Sheridan's six-piece orchestra will furnish the music. A regular jack's dinner will be served at Simpkins hall during the dance.

Ireland announces that no shooting will be allowed in the gymnasium. A policeman will be at the door to collect all shooting irons as the men come in.

PAT KEELY MANAGER OF A. S. U. M. NIGHT

Production Will Be Staged March 20; Elimination Try-outs to Be March 1.

Plans for the annual University vaudeville show are already under way, according to Pat Keely, who has been placed in charge of the production by the A. S. U. M. executive committee. The entertainment, called A. S. U. M. night, will be staged in some downtown theater, on March 20.

The program followed in past productions, has usually been a collection of stunts and acts put on by each campus organization. Keely announces that the program this year will be confined to eight or ten acts. A preliminary tryout, scheduled for March 1, will be held to determine the best acts. Keely expects every campus organization, both clubs and fraternities, to submit a stunt.

According to present plans there will be twenty-five acts entered in the preliminary tryouts. With all the organizations on the campus competing, Keely expects to put on a show that will be worth the price of admission. He says that unless the acts are up to the standard and worthy to be staged before the public, there will be no varsity vaudeville this year.

STRAUGHN SCHEUCH DIES; DEATH COMES SUDDENLY

for his death, as he has never known such a thing to happen during his military career.

Yesterday morning, while acting as cadet instructor in rifle practice, he was overcome, apparently by powder fumes. He was taken immediately to the University hospital and a physician was summoned into use, and after a few draughts of oxygen, he won back his strength. He was removed to St. Patrick's hospital later in the afternoon and until 9:45 last night his apparent recovery was certain. At that time, his strength failed and he died shortly afterward.

Straughn Scheuch was an active member of the 1923 class. He received most of his grade and high school education in Missoula, the last year of his work preparatory to entrance in the University, being spent in the Kentucky Military Institute. He was 19 years old and an excellent type of young American manhood. Upon his entrance to the University, he was taken as a pledge to Sigma Chi fraternity, of which his father is a member.

Aside from his father and mother, he leaves a sister, younger than he, who is living at the family home, 319 South Fifth street west. His mother, who is in Wichita Falls, Texas, for her health, has been summoned, and funeral arrangements will not be completed until her arrival.

The reception which members of Sigma Chi fraternity were to hold on the occasion of the opening of their new fraternity home on University avenue, has been postponed indefinitely. The faculty meeting, which was to have met this afternoon at 4:10, was postponed. Members of the freshman class are meeting to draw up resolutions of regret.

Shy Male Returns Feminine Article to Bulletin Board

Tall, awkward, embarrassed, he shuffled up to the bulletin board in the Main hall. Twice he shoved his hand into his pocket as though in search of something. Twice his hand came up empty and he fumbled nervously with his tie.

The cause of his embarrassment seemed to be the eight girls congregated around the bulletin board. Watching them out of the corner of his eye every now and then. He waited until they had finished their inspection then glancing around with a sheepish self-conscious grin, he gingerly drew something from his pocket and still more gingerly pinned it on the main hall bulletin board. Then he shuffled sheepishly away.

What he had pinned to the bulletin board was a large, pink powder puff.

GRIZZLY QUINT DEFEATS SCHOOL OF MINES TEAM

the team in whirlwind of plays which Mueller caged on a beautiful throw from the middle of the floor. Sullivan, the fighting Grizzly guard, moved into more than one of the School of Mines plays, with deadly effect.

The School of Mines went into the game last night with practically a first string line-up, with the exception of Captain Hale, the husky running guard, who is still out of the game with a wrenched knee. McAuliffe, the fast heady Butte forward, played a star game for the visitors, registering four field baskets and two foul throws. Wilson, the diminutive forward of the Butte quint, made several pretty tosses from mid-floor, but succeeded in making only two of them count for points.

W. E. Schreiber, head of the department of physical education, acted in the capacity of coach.

The line-up was as follows:

CHANCELLOR ANNOUNCES NEW FINANCIAL PLANS

Under present plans the several institutions and activities of the University receive from the general funds of the state for maintenance the equivalent of one mill of state tax. This includes the funds for the four University institutions, the agricultural experiment state, the grain laboratory and the agricultural extension service. The proposed new tax would increase the supporting funds of the institutions from 30 to 40 per cent.

The plan of the state tax for the support of the University is now followed by 13 states, being Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, Wyoming, Nevada and Kentucky.

After the all-day conference with the presidents of the different institutions of the University Saturday, Chancellor Elliott made the following statement:

"A vigorous campaign of education will be carried on throughout the state. The friends of the University in different sections of the state have already offered to contribute the necessary funds for this purpose. An educational campaign committee will be organized in every county and city of the state. The alumni and former students of the institutions, which now number more than 6,000, are already organized. A number of chambers of commerce, farm bureaus, and rotary clubs have indicated their support of the measures.

"This is the most important undertaking yet attempted for the educational system of Montana. Those responsible for the welfare of the institutions have come to feel that they would not be assuming their proper responsibility until an attempt had been made to inform the people of the state of the necessities in order that Montana may be prepared to perform her educational tasks.

"While we recognize that the proposed measures were originally devised to promote the interests of the higher educational institutions, we consider that the needs of the other state schools are equally important and merit the increased support of the people of the state. For their improvement as well as the advancement of the University we intend to work."
