University of Montana

ScholarWorks at University of Montana

Mike Mansfield Speeches, Statements and Interviews

Mike Mansfield Papers

5-4-1966

Award of Mexican Order of the Aztec Eagle

Mike Mansfield 1903-2001

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/mansfield_speeches Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Mansfield, Mike 1903-2001, "Award of Mexican Order of the Aztec Eagle" (1966). Mike Mansfield Speeches, Statements and Interviews. 622. https://scholarworks.umt.edu/mansfield_speeches/622

This Speech is brought to you for free and open access by the Mike Mansfield Papers at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in Mike Mansfield Speeches, Statements and Interviews by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.

STATEMENT OF ACCEPTANCE BY SENATOR MIKE MANSFIELD (D., MONTANA) OF THE AWARD OF THE MEXICAN ORDER OF THE "AZTEC EAGLE"

The Mexican Embassy, Washington, D. C.

Wednesday, May 4, 1966

Mr. Ambassador and Mrs. de Margain, distinguished guests, and friends from Mexico and the United States.

Words are inadequate to express my deep appreciation. The bestowal of this beautiful medal is an honor which means more to me + t the whith State for the second

It is an honor which is especially welcomed, because it comes other than my own, from the Republic of Mexico. There is no nation, which I hold in higher esteem. There is no people for whom I feel a greater affection than the people of Mexico. Congressional duties, particularly in recent years, have made it possible for both Mrs. Mansfield and myself to meet frequently with Mexicans. Indeed, Mrs. Mansfield has been so much a part of these meetings that I feel that I am receiving this medal on her behalf.

These periodic associations have led to deep personal understandings and to enduring personal friendships. We have been exhilarated by the warmth of Mexican hospitality and, even more, by the generosity, of the Mexican spirit. It has been my privilege to know not only the leaders of your country (and may I say that my esteem for ex-President Adolfo Lopez Mateos and President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz is of the highest), but also numerous Mexican parliamentarians who, like those of us in the Senate and the House of Representatives, come from all walks of life. Through this great experience of the U.S.-Mexican Parliamentary meetings, we parliamentarians of both countries have come to appreciate each other's ways, each other's needs, each other's expectancies to the dome t

Mr. Ambassador, while this award is deeply appreciated on a personal basis, I look upon it, too, as something more. I see it as an expression of that mutuality of national respect, sympathy, and forebearance which has formed between the United States and Mexico. It has not always been so but in these years of our times, it has become so. In this respect, the two nations owe much to Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson and to Presidents Lopez Mateos and Diaz Ordaz ar well as to their spint.

The task now is to strive to maintain what has been achieved. It will require a continuing and expanding effort on the part of both nations, not only on the part of Presidents or Parliamentarians but, even more, on the part of all who live on both sides of the border.

As I look to the future, Mr. Ambassador, I have every confidence that the Republic of Mexico and the Republic of the United States will shape a resplendent relationship out of their two diverse heritages and their shared heritage of the New World. It will be a relationship which is have on not only of peace but also of an ever-deepening understanding. It is this implication of this award which touches my heart most deeply. It is with this vision of the tomorrow of our two countries that I accept this award, gladly and hereitage. In making this freentation, In Anharedor, gladly and hereitage. In making this freentation, In Anharedor, your great country + great people have besterved honor your great country + great people have besterved honor upon all g no who serve in the longues. In their behalf f wish To oppose my deepest thanks, through you, to the ow neighton below the kie Brave

- 2 -

- 3 -