AGGIES HERE FOR TWO-GAME SERIES

Visitors Handicapped by Loss of Three Regular Players.

The first big basketball game of the season comes tonight, when the Varsity tangles with the Aggies on the gymnasium floor.

Much has been said of the strength of the Aggies' team, much stress being made upon the fact that they have a team composed entirely of veterans. However this may be, the scores of the Grizzly-Mt. St. Charles and Aggie-Mt. St. Charles games would seem to indicate that the Grizzlies have a little the better of the comparison. The score in the latter game was 25 to 14, while the Grizzlies walloped the Saints by a 30-10 score. The Aggies were handicapped by the absence from their lineup of Jorgensen, the big star who is the main cog in their defensive and offensive machine. Whitney, the center on last year's team, has been troubled this season with palpitation of the heart, and may not appear in the games tonight and tomorrow night. McCarren was suffering from a twisted ankle at the time of the Aggie-Mt. St. Charles game.

As for the Varsity, it is certain that the team will be much stronger than in the game last Saturday with Mt. St. Charles. In fact, according to the dopesters, the Grizzlies have a fair chance of copping the series, though both games will probably be close and hotly contested.

Barring the necessity of any replacements on the Aggie team, the probable lineup will be as follows:

Aggies	Position	Grizzlies
Jorgensen		McDonnell
	L. F.
McCarren		Badgley
	R. F.
Whitney		Ahern
	C.
Hollister		Sullivan
	L. G.
Richards		Baird
	R. G.

"M" CLUB TO ENTERTAIN TOURNAMENT QUINTETS

The basketball teams that will come to Missoula next month to play in the district tournament, will be entertained by the University "M" club, according to action taken by that body at their meeting Wednesday night. In what form the reception will be is not known at the present time.

The recent action taken by the Bear Paws to prevent students from further marring the campus by cutting new paths, received the hearty support of the club. They passed a resolution to co-operate with the Bear Paws in putting a stop to that needless practice.

A notice was also read at the meeting asking all members of the club to report at 12 o'clock Tuesday to have their pictures taken for the Sentinel.

NOTICE, SPECIAL STUDENTS.

All special students desiring a copy of the Sentinel must leave an order for same with Harry Rooney, Room 211, Journalism building, before next Wednesday, February 1.

SPHINX CLUB NAMES PARSONS PRESIDENT

The Sphinx, the newly organized philosophical club, met last evening in the psychology room and the constitution and election of officers of the organization were completed. Homer Parsons was elected president, and the other office of chairman is filled each meeting by the president.

Harry E. Watson gave a talk on Freud's "Totem and Taboo," which was followed by a general discussion. Professor Walter Ames is a member of the organization and he will present a paper to the club from time to time. The purpose of the organization is to have each member investigate any subject of human interest and prepare a paper for discussion on the same.

VARSITY DEBATE SQUAD WILL TOUR STATE SOON

Plans Completed for Triangular Meet With Reed College and University of British Columbia March 10.

Negotiations have been completed for the state tour of the University debate squad, opening in Helena on February 17, according to an announcement yesterday by Professor E. L. Freeman, coach of the debate men. The varsity squad will take the affirmative and the Montana State College the opposing side in the contests which will be held in approximately half dozen Montana cities. The trip will take one week.

The schedule as now completed, will find the debate team in Helena on February 17; Billings, 18; Big Timber, 20; Butte, 21; Anaconda, 22, and Deer Lodge, 23. One or two other cities may possibly be taken in on the trip. The squad from which the team will be chosen to make the state tour, is composed of William Jameson, Ray Nagle, Matt Pearce, George Borgen and J. Allan Lind. The question to be debated will be, "Resolved, That the Allied Governments in the Great War Should Cancel All War Loans." "The question to be debated," Mr. Freeman said, "is a new one before the public. In fact, the public is very little acquainted with the arguments involved which necessarily will mean an extra burden on the abilities of the teams."

The chambers of commerce in the cities to be visited by the debate teams are handling the plans for the contests, and have made the necessary financial guarantee to cover expenses. In most of the places, the debate will be on a no-decision basis. However, there may be a few exceptions as some of the chambers of commerce regard decisions in a debate as one of the attractive features of such an event, and therefore decisions may be allowed.

Negotiations have also been completed for a triangular debate between the University squad and Reed College and the University of British Columbia on the same question, March 10. The negative side will be upheld against the former college and the affirmative side against the latter.

FRANCES CARSON ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF MAY FETE

Frances Carson, a member of the junior class, has been elected by the executive board of the Women's Self Government association, as chairman of the 1922 May Fete. Miss Carson had charge of all costuming for the Masquer play productions, which have been put on this year.

DIXON SPEAKS TO SUPERINTENDENTS

Discusses Present School Situation in Montana.

Governor Joseph Dixon addressed the members of the county superintendents' convention Thursday afternoon, discussing the present school situation in Montana. He spoke at the special request of the county superintendents who discovered that he was in Missoula on that day.

"There is a tendency," Governor Dixon said, "to make the schools—the children—pay the penalty for the present situation. We must cut every extravagance but the people must realize that the future children, the future of the citizenship of Montana must not be 2000 children without schools. This is the awful indictment against Montana people today."

Governor Dixon said that there was a great variation in the ability of school districts to support schools. Poor districts are levying as high as 63 mills special levy. Probably 400 to 500 districts must suspend school under financial pressure in spite of these high levies. He expressed the opinion that the more tax organizations there were the better it would be, especially commending inheritance and income taxes.

Dr. Dunn gave lectures on the standards for elevating classroom work, discussing scales for writing and spelling. Miss Amalie Knoble, rural school supervisor, gave the two greatest reasons for so many country pupils failing, as poor teaching and the promoting of children in short term schools before they are ready.

Miss Eleanor Trexell, kindergarten and primary supervisor of the Normal school, spoke on arithmetic from the

STRINGENT MEASURES FOR CAMPUS CUTTERS

"M" Club and Bear Paws Will Make Students Stay on Sidewalks.

Paddles and black paint will appear as a means of punishing the offenders of the campus cutting rule.

"This campaign will start immediately and all offenders will be punished. There will be no distinction made between freshmen and seniors," said the Chief Grizzly. A woman caught breaking this tradition will have her nose painted black so that the campus may see she is an offender.

The Chief Grizzly asked for the co-operation of all the organizations on the campus in this campaign, but especially the Silent Sentinel and the "M" club. It was decided that the path from the old Science hall to the campus store would be the only authorized path aside from the board walks.

Five men were voted on to fill vacancies in the organization. They will be passed on by Silent Sentinel at its first meeting before they are officially tapped.

All the material for the petition to the Inter-collegiate Knights is in shape now for an early presentation.

The Bear Paw pins will be sent for today and all members are requested to turn in a one dollar deposit no later than noon.

CELEBRATED PIANIST WILL AID ORCHESTRA

Walter Pfitzer, a celebrated eastern pianist, was selected as soloist for the University Symphony orchestra's next concert to be held sometime this quarter, according to Professor Weisberg of the school of music. Professor Weisberg has known the great pianist personally for several years and says that he is a splendid artist.

The University Symphony orchestra held its first rehearsal last Wednesday night in the music department, where 48 of its members were present. The program for the next concert was made, but it has not been given out yet.

BIDS ON BUILDINGS EXCEED APPROPRIATION

Cost of Five Buildings Will Be $217,000 Greater Than Expected.

Actual cost of the five new buildings, foundations for which have already been laid, is $217,000 over the appropriation. The library contracts call for $260,000, an increase over the estimate of $15,000. Construction of the two residence halls entails an expenditure greater by $135,000 than the appropriation. Contracts for the forestry building and the gymnasium call for $27,000 and $40,000 respectively over the appropriation.

There is no doubt but that the board of education will approve the action of the board of examiners in letting the contracts for such figures, according to President Clapp. However, nothing can be definitely known until April when the board of education meets.

In explaining the difference between the actual cost of the buildings and the appropriations President Clapp said that it was doubtful whether the estimates were meant to include expense of furnishing and equipment. Deduction of these items from the actual cost of the buildings would, President Clapp said, make cost more nearly approximate appropriation.

Bids for the construction and equipment of the heating plant will be advertised the first of February. Contracts will be let toward the last of the month.

Official plans include much additional construction. Prospective buildings, named in order of their importance, and their cost are: Hall for classrooms, $120,000; auditorium, to be built in connection with Main hall, $150,000, chemical laboratory, $250,000, and two additional residence halls, $100,000 each.

Should unexpected expense curtail the building program the least important of these buildings will not be constructed. This action is regarded as preferable to a general revision of plans and consequent lowering in the cost of all buildings.

BILL HUGHES ELECTED AS NEW YELL LEADER

Only 219 votes were cast yesterday in the special election which resulted in the choice of Bill Hughes as Yell King for the remainder of the year. The count was 208 to 11, the 11 names being written in on the ballot. The election was held to fill the vacancy left by Blenkner's withdrawal from school. Hughes had held the position temporarily since the beginning of the winter quarter through an appointment by the central board.

VODVIL TRYOUTS TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 2

"Number of Organizations Trying Out Insures Good Show," Hughes.

There will be a sufficient number of organizations trying out for Varsity Vodvil this year to make the show a huge success, if numbers mean anything, according to Manager Bill Hughes.

All the fraternities and sororities combined with several departmental organizations including about 15 participants will be present at the tryouts.

The tryouts will be held Thursday, February 2, and not on February 1, as was formerly announced. Mrs. Harriet R. Sedman, John X. Neuman and Alexander Dean will judge the merits of the acts presented at the tryouts.

They will pick out eight of the best acts to include full stage and front stage acts, which will be selected with the view of making a well balanced program.

Thus far very little is known of the nature of the acts. It is assured, however, that there will be the usual minstrel show, juggler, comedy talkers, dancers and magician. It is also rumored that a real hypnotist will perform.

Two cups, donated by the associated students, are arousing keen interest in the show this year, according to the manager, and insure some good acts. Last year there was only one prize cup, which was won by Sigma Chi, presenting a musical comedy.

The following staff is in charge of the production:

General Manager	Bill Hughes
Business Manager	Bill Wallace
Electrician	Raymond Garver
Assistant Stage Manager	Harry Houle

CONTROVERSY OVER GAME WITH MINES

The athletic board went on record at a meeting Tuesday night as opposing the agreement recently submitted to the University by the School of Mines for a football game with that school in Butte next season.

The agreement as sent by the School of Mines provided that the Grizzly team, when they played Butte, would be guaranteed $1000 or half of the gate receipts, leaving the choice to the State University. The School of Mines ask the same privileges for a game to be played in Missoula the following season, in 1923.

"Because it was apparent that the University would be the losers under the proposed plan, the board was against it," said Clyde Murphy, chairman of the board.

Although the board went on record as being opposed to the proposed agreement, the final decision rests in the hands of Dr. W. E. Schreiber.

NOTICE.

Candidates for manager of the baseball team should send their names in now to Mary X. McCarthy, secretary of the Athletic Board.

GRIZZLY VS. BOBCAT.

Tonight the ancient feud with the agricultural college is renewed. True they are friendly enemies but the feud is the only adequate word which will express the keen rivalry between the two institutions.

According to reports the Bobcats will be handicapped by the loss of McCarren and Jorgenson, their two best and most consistent performers. We can depend, however, on those who do get into action, to make up, in some measure, for the loss of their teammates by additional fight.

The Aggies have always more than held their own in basketball and the years have been few and far between when the state championship rested at the State University. Last year was one exception and we trust this year will be another.

To those students who will be fortunate enough to find standing room in the gym this evening one thing might be said. Don't yell like you have at the two previous games with state schools. If you don't mean what you are saying when you are giving the yells, at least act it out and make those Aggie think you do. Those five Grizzlies will need your support tonight and it behooves each student to give until the vocal organs fail to function.

A LAST RESORT.

As a last resort, in an attempt to eliminate the campus-cutting evil, the members of the M club, and Silent Sentinel have requested the Bear Paw organization to station individual members on the campus to punish physically any violator of this campus tradition. This action was taken following a meeting held yesterday for the purpose of discussing the matter.

Under the present status, only two short cuts are allowed not defined by walks. One of these is the one leading from the campus store west to the old science hall. The other is the one leading from the oval walk to the gymnasium, intersecting the walk running past the new science hall.

It is a sad state of affairs when such action has to be taken to uphold a Montana tradition. The campus, beautified as it is today, is the result of hard labor on the part of former students and faculty members, who voluntarily gave their services, because the institution in its infancy could not afford to do so itself. For this reason alone, should the present students do all in their power to keep and make the campus as they planned.

We do not wish to say that this violation is done deliberately. We attribute it to that apparent indifference toward campus traditions that seems so prevalent. It is a condition that must be remedied, regardless of the method. The prosperity of a college or university is dependent upon the upholding of its traditions to a certain extent, as students who do uphold them will never make strong alumni if their precedent as good campus citizens is not closely followed.

EXCHANGE

The senior peace committee of the University of California has warned the sophomores against undue hazing of freshmen and against all hazing of students not classified as freshmen, though they may be entering the university for the first time.

The women's glee clubs of the University of Idaho, Washington State College and Whitman College may each give concerts in all three schools this spring, if plans now under discussion are adopted.

About 1,000 ex-service men are registered in the University of Wisconsin under Wisconsin's soldiers' educational bonus act. Approximately 30 per cent of these are new students.

The Y. W. C. A. of Whitman College will entertain with an informal, dateless dance next month.

The Rifle clubs of the University of California and Oregon State Agricultural College will hold a contest, each club on its home range, today and tomorrow. Results obtained by each team will be telegraphed to the other as soon as they can be compiled.

Representatives of all fraternities and various other organizations at Ohio State University have agreed to ban the sending of flowers for formal dances as an unnecessary expense.

The possibility of a small printing plant to publish the daily newspaper, magazines and other periodicals edited by students at the University of Wisconsin is one of the plans for the proposed $1,000,000 memorial union building now being discussed. The printing plant would cost about $12,000 additional.

Iowa State College has 4,000 students enrolled this quarter, which breaks the record set last fall.

Smith College students observed the tercentenary of the birth of Moliere, the French comedian, last Friday, with the presentation of "Le Malade Imaginaire," in French, and "The Cheats of Scapin," Otway's adaptation of "Les Fourberies de Scapin."

Mrs. Calista S. Mayhew of South Orange, New Jersey, who died in December, left $11,000 to Bowdoin College. Of this amount $6,000 will be used to establish a scholarship and the remaining $5,000 will be devoted to the preservation of bird life.

The radio station at Billings Polytechnic Institute is the only one equipped to relay messages between Ellendale, North Dakota, and Boise, Idaho, and makes possible the sending of messages through Montana instead of the southern states. Signals from the institute station have been heard in nearly every state, including some on the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf coasts and messages have been handled direct with many stations as distant.

President Harry Pratt Judson of the University of Chicago, has banned smoking in the women's dormitories. His decision followed protests on the part of university officials against what was considered excessive smoking by women students.

Charles R. Cross of Brookline, Massachusetts, left $100,000 to Harvard University by the terms of his will. He was professor emeritus of physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology are supplied each morning with free hot cocoa or milk and nutritious crackers.

The annual Shakespearean play presented by the Browning Dramatic society of Ohio State University, will next spring be "Much Ado About Nothing."

DELTA PSI KAPPA HOLDS CEREMONY FOR PLEDGES

Mu chapter of Delta Psi Kappa, women's national physical education fraternity, pledged seven new members Wednesday evening. They are Miss Rhoda Baxter, director of women's athletics, Mrs. W. E. Schreiber, Doris Gailey, Helen Fitzgibbon, Eleanor Ferguson, Rita Jahreiss and Audrey Burt.

Active members and pledges enjoyed a swim at the Crystal pool, from where they went to the home of Miss Lillian Christiansen for the pledging ceremony and light refreshments. The chapter now has 17 members on the campus.

GHOST LURKS IN SACRED CONFINES OF GIRLS' DORM

It was 6 o'clock in Craig hall. All was silence save for the stentorian breathing of the dormant dormitory damsels, and an occasional unconscious groan from one of the weary sisters. A mouse, seeking crumbs from the last open house, scurried hither and yon, while the cat pounded its ear behind the kitchen range.

Suddenly an alarm clock alarmed. It was in the fourth room to the left on the right hand side of the second story. Our heroine batted her lovely eyes, and gracefully draped herself over the edge of the bed to grasp the alarm clock. Her eyes became transfixed with horror. She opened them wider, then closed them in fear. Hoping that she had been suffering from an optical illusion she opened them for the second time. Her worst fears were realized. Good Gawd! There were already two great black hands on the clock and a round blinking face stared dully up at her.

She claims that it was no self-respecting, honorable ghost for two reasons. First, it would not have come prowling around at 6 o'clock in the morning instead of at midnight, and second, it would not have invaded the sanctum sanctorum of females catching them without their noses powdered or their hair combed.

As nearly as can be discovered, no one ever died, or was murdered or killed in Craig hall, but this may be a stray ghost who is hunting a happy home.

supervisor's viewpoint, and C. A. Jensen, state high school supervisor, on high school accrediting.

"Hard times usually result in an epidemic of dishonesty," said President Alfred Atkinson of the State College in his address Wednesday. He asked the teachers if the educational system of the United States was to blame for this, and showed how the practice of getting the best of someone in school was quite common.

The other speakers on Wednesday's program were Dr. Fannie W. Dunn, who spoke on the Standards of Evaluating Classroom Work; Miss Eleanor Troxell, who continued her lecture on reading and language, and Miss May Trumper, who spoke on teacher's training departments in high school.

At the session Tuesday Miss May Trumper, state superintendent of schools, made a plea for county unit for every county saying that the counties using this system would be the only ones having nine months school. Miss Trumper's topic was "Responsibility of County Superintendence in Preventing Extravagance." Dr. Fannie Dunn and Miss Eleanor Troxell gave lectures also. Dr. Dunn speaking on School Supervision and Miss Troxell continuing her lecture on "Reading from a Supervisor's Viewpoint."

Today will finish the two weeks' session of county superintendents held at the University. The morning will be given over to a lecture by Dr. Fannie Dunn on the "Agencies of Supervision" and a round table discussion led by Miss Eleanor Troxell. In the afternoon Dr. Freeman Daughters of the education department will talk on "Plans for a Uniform Certification of the Northwest" and Dr. Dunn will continue her lecture on "Standard Tests." The remainder of the afternoon will be given over to conferences of the state department.

Phi Kappa, national fraternity for Catholic men, has recently granted a charter to students at the University of Wisconsin.

DELTA PHI DELTA ACTS AS HOST AT LUNCHEON

Professor Schwalm Outlines Plan for the Art History of Montana.

The county superintendents were guests at an informal musicale and luncheon given by Delta Phi Delta, honorary art fraternity. Professor Schwalm of the art department, gave the introductory talk, outlining plans whereby the teachers as well as the superintendents could help in compiling data for the art history of Montana. He explained how this history would be useful to the teachers in the future.

Miss Grace Baldwin, president of the art fraternity, explained what the organization has accomplished and what work has been completed. She asked the co-operation of all those present in sending in material and data so that this history could be completed as soon as possible. It was suggested by the president that an essay contest written by the students in all high schools in the state, offering a picture to the school for the prize, would bring in valuable information and at the same time create a love of beauty in high schools.

Preceding a skit by members of the University Masquers club, Miss Cora Quast sang several numbers for the superintendents. Harold Reynolds and Misses Mary Blaisdell and Helen Ramsey staged a small skit taken from Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen." This was one of the features of the Artists' ball held January the 10th.

Following the skit, DeLoss Smith outlined a course of music to be given at the next summer school. This course will be but a one hour course, open to all teachers who are interested in music in the public schools. The next number on the program was the singing of the Girls' Glee club.

Luncheon was served in the studio in real Bohemian fashion, tea being served in tin cups, amid the fumes of burning incense. Professor Schwalm explained the technique of many pictures, while Miss Helen Faick sketched from the posing of Miss Hazel Watters.

SUPERINTENDENTS WELL ENTERTAINED

Various affairs have been given during the week in honor of the county superintendents during their stay in Missoula while attending the Fifth Annual Short Course.

Wednesday evening, the Business and Professional Woman's club entertained them at a banquet at the Tavern.

Thursday afternoon the home economics department were hostesses at a tea given in the New Science hall. A short musical program was presented.

The functions came to an end last night when Dr. Fannie Dunn and Miss May Trumper were the guests of honor at a banquet at the Florence hotel with the county superintendents hostesses.

WILL PHOTO JUNIOR CLASS THIS WEEK

Work of taking pictures of the junior class for the Sentinel began this week. The hours are from nine to eleven, and according to Knowles Blair, photographer, about twenty students can be accommodated in one morning.

Organizations will report in the evenings, but juniors who will have their pictures with an organization have been requested to report in the mornings, when it will be easier to accommodate them.

Bear Paws, who have not reported for their pictures yet, should have them taken some time during the week.

MANY PSYCHOLOGY READERS SEEK FOR SPECTACULAR ONLY

According to Professor Ames, 75 per cent of all the books and periodicals taken from the psychology departmental library, deal with the subconscious or abnormal, while only 27 per cent are books which are based on scientific experimentation or sound psychological theory. This more or less morbid interest in the abnormal or spectacular was illustrated by a recent lecture at Cornell university.

Chas. M. Stotz, a senior in the College of Architecture, and scarcely known outside of his classroom, posed as a Freudian satellite, to illustrate the present day tendency to close the eyes, open the mouth, and swallow whole, anything which is prefixed by the letters psycho, neuro, Freud, or anything else of which little is known and less understood. The incident was related as follows: "It was locally advertised that Dr. Herman Vosberg of Vienna, a pupil—in fact, an intimate friend—of the famed Freud, would deliver a message on the teachings of his master.

"At the appointed hour the visitor from Vienna appeared. He was introduced by a member of the university psychology department, and then, in broken, but understandable English, tainted, of course, with a Viennese accent, launched into his subject. He immediately proceeded to an analysis of dreams, after the style of his teacher, and profoundly declared, 'the dreamer does know what he dreams, but he does not know what he knows, and therefore believes that he does not know.'

"At the close of his address the audience cheered and almost wept for more.

"Such remarks as, 'Now, that's the truly scientific method' and 'I didn't understand it at all, but I know he's simply wonderful,' were heard on all sides."

It was only after the pictures of Dr. Vosberg, alias Stotz, began to appear for sale in the campus stores that the full truth of the situation would be admitted by those who had so fervently clung to every jumbled word of the speech.

PRESIDENT CLAPP RETURNS FROM VISIT TO HELENA

President Clapp returned to Missoula Monday evening after spending Saturday and Sunday in Helena where the bids for the contracts to complete the new buildings were opened, and Monday in Butte in conference with Melner in regard to the study of underground water resources of eastern Montana.

Roger Fleming of Red Lodge withdrew from school the beginning of this week and returned to his home because of ill health. He will return to the University the spring quarter.

WILL CANCEL ALL DEPARTMENT GAMES

Inter-department basketball games scheduled for the remainder of the season will probably be cancelled, according to those in charge, on account of the indefinite postponement of many of the games.

So far the large majority of the games have either been postponed or have failed to materialize, leaving gaps in the regular events staged at the gym. These gaps have been filled by inter-fraternity games and practices.

Owing to the change made at the first of the year there was much confusion in the schedule, leaving dates uncertain for a long period which gave rise to the postponement of the games.

Four Dinner Parties Given at Craig Hall

Four dinner parties were given at Craig hall Wednesday evening, the different hostesses and their respective guests were: Miss Inez Bozarth, director of Craig and Simpkins halls, entertained the following people, Dr. Fannie Dunn of Columbia University, Miss May Trumper, state superintendent of schools, Miss Adelaide Ayer, state rural supervisor, Mrs. Harriet R. Sedman, dean of women, Miss Frances Corbin, professor of English, and Miss Amalie Knobel of the state department of public instruction; Francis McKinnon had as her guests at her table, Miss Halvoid, county superintendent from Jefferson county, Miss Hutton, Madison county and Miss O'Bar of the faculty of the Missoula high school; Dorothy Behner entertained Miss Thayer, county superintendent of Daniels county and Miss Patton, superintendent from Valley county. After dinner the guests were taken to the parlor, where they danced for a few hours.

TICKETS FOR CO-ED FORMAL OUT TODAY

The tickets for the co-ed formal, which are being sold for $1.00 this year, have made their appearance on the campus today. The following girls have been put in charge of disposing of this year's tickets: Edna Morris, Mary Fleming, Solvay Andresen, Margaret Vogel, Ruth Houck, Edith Jones, Margaret Tobin and Marie Hennigen.

The co-ed formal is to be held February 10, in the Elite hall. Marie Dion is chairman of this year's formal and Collette Doherty has been appointed chairman of the decoration committee.

All girls who have been appointed on the ticket selling committee should obtain their tickets from Marie Dion today. It is urged that all co-eds desiring to attend the dance, purchase their tickets as soon as possible as there are only a limited supply of tickets for this year's formal.

WILL HAVE GUESTS EVENING AT HALLS

Miss Inez Bozarth, director of Craig and Simpkins halls announced yesterday her intention of giving weekly guest night every Wednesday. "The idea of this plan is so that the girls can be hostesses to the faculty instead of letting that responsibility fall on me," Miss Bozarth explained.

In the past it has been the custom for the matron to entertain the various members of the faculty. Through this new plan the girls will be able to invite any member of the faculty to dinner Wednesday evening. They will have the privilege of arranging the table to their own taste and selecting whoever they wish to dine at the table.

UNIVERSITY CLUB SMOKER A SUCCESS

Speeches and Boxing Bouts Feature in Big Reception Given for Bankers.

The University club reception and smoker held last Tuesday night at the Florence hotel for the benefit of the bankers in the city for the short course, was a big success according to all those who attended.

Starting in with a number of seriously humorous talks, the smoker continued to a lively climax—two fast boxing bouts between students for the championship lightweight and heavy-weight titles.

Professor H. M. Colvin, president of the club, presided over the meeting and after a short address of welcome to the visiting bankers, President C. H. Clapp welcomed the men in behalf of the university.

Following this Shirley J. Coon, dean of the school of business administration, gave a talk in which he told of the purpose of the short course and its hope to establish some sort of a link between the theoretical and practical side of business.

Next on the program came Attorney William Wayne who welcomed the guests to Missoula in a brief address, delivered in a mock serious manner which kept the crowd in laughter. G. H. Greenwood responded to this talk and cited how a banker was called upon not only to run most of the businesses in his city but was a great aid in giving advice. Further, if the advice turned out good the recipient prided himself on his judgment, but if it turned out bad he blamed the banker.

Short talks followed on the aims and purposes of the short course by Robert C. Line, Curtis L. Mosher, who is assistant director of the Ninth Federal Reserve district, and Fred R. Angevine, formerly county attorney here and now assistant solicitor in the department of internal revenue.

Following these talks the guests and club adjourned to the barroom where, if the labels were correct, they drank considerable "booze" and partook freely of the free lunch served, meanwhile enjoying the comedy and music furnished for the occasion.

Last on the program came the boxing bouts between Roger Deeney and Bill O'Neil and Sam Finch of Powder River and Cyclone Madsen of Gopher Prairie. Both battles were declared a draw as it had been agreed beforehand that were both contestants on their feet when the final gong sounded, there would be no decision rendered.

LECTURE SERIES FOR FORESTERS THIS WEEK

Jean Ewen, forest improvement engineer for district No. 1 of the United States forest service, lectured this week to the students registered in the Rangers' Short course. The theme of his talk was the construction of forest improvements. This is the first of a series of lectures that will be given to the short course forestry students and the forestry freshmen.

On January 31, and February 7, Thayer Stoddard, county surveyor, will talk to the two groups on the problems arising from government land surveys. Mr. Stoddard is a graduate of the State University.

O. N. Arnett, vice dean of the college of agriculture at the Montana State College, will give a series of lectures to the students in the grazing classes on the management of ranch stock on forest grazing lands. Mr. Arnett will lecture every day from February 13 to 18.

Interest in Journalism Changing Type of High School Publications

The magazine type of publication has been replaced in nearly every high school in Montana by that of the newspaper. This has been due, according to A. L. Stone, dean of the school of journalism, to the interest in newspaper journalism aroused by the meetings of the Interscholastic Editorial association each year at Missoula during track meet.

The first meeting of the Interscholastic Editorial association was held in 1915, for the purpose of teaching the editors of high school publications of the state the more important fundamentals of journalism and otherwise help them in their work. Much has also been done to improve the quality of our high school newspapers by the establishment of courses in "journalism" or "newspaper English" in many of the high schools of the state. Among these schools are Butte, Billings, Miles City, Bozeman and Great Falls.

"The Mountaineer," newspaper of Butte high school, is published bi-weekly and consists of four six-column pages. It is one of the best examples of good high school journalism in the state. The heads and leads are well written and, although the paper is devoid of that over abundance of "stolen thunder" jokes common to most high school publications, it is not without its features and other material which makes for a real newspaper.

"The High Life," published weekly by the news writing class of the Great Falls high school, proclaims to its readers in boldfaced head lines that the several columns of funny stuff on the back page are "JOKES." However, the news is generally well written, above the average of high school publications.

"The Gallatin," published bi-weekly by the journalism class of Gallatin high school, and "The Coyote," fortnightly publication of the senior class of Billings high school, are both six-column newspapers. Each contains an abundance of news and is carefully edited.

"The Konah," weekly publication of Missoula County high school, is one of the oldest high school papers in the state.

"Copper Glow," of the Anaconda high school, is a well written three-column publication of eight pages. It is issued every two weeks. Among the other high school papers of the state are: "The Beaverhead High School News," of Dillon; "The Nugget," of Helena high school; "The Geyser," of Park County high school; "The Teakettle," of Talbott high school; "The Fergus," of Fergus high school; "White Lite," of Whitehall high school; "The Coyote," of Shelby high school, and "The Hamiltonian," of Hamilton high school.

Many of the high school publications begin all their news stories with "Friday," "Saturday," or some other day of the week, and are good examples of how not to write news.

Kappa Kappa Gamma to Have Student Aid Fund

A Student Aid Fund maintained by national Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity, is open to any freshman or sophomore woman in a university who has proved herself worthy of help from such a fund. Money is loaned without interest for a specified length of time.

Any girl who desires to make application for a loan should apply to the Registrar of the University, who will then take the matter up with the fraternity.

Students of Billings Polytechnic Institute have made a rule prohibiting the playing of jazz in any institute building and limiting student dance programs to the Virginia reel, waltz, one-step and two-step.

ECONOMICS CLUB HERE ENTERTAINS BANKERS

The Economics club of Missoula held an informal dinner last night in a downtown hotel. The club is composed of Missoula business men and men of the University, organized for the purpose of discussing the economic and social conditions of the state and its communities.

Taxation and all of its phases were discussed at the meeting as well as the present financial situation of Montana.

A number of the visiting bankers, who are attending the session at the university, were guests at the dinner. Among them were W. A. Barto, president of the First National Bank of Thompson Falls; E. L. Johnson, president of the First National Bank of Plains, and J. J. Inglehardt, cashier of the First National Bank of Intake.

The university men present were President C. H. Clapp, Professors Coon, Simes, Phillips and Underwood, and William Jameson, secretary of the club.

BUTTE ENGRAVER IS OWNER OF VALUABLE ETCHING APPARATUS

One of the three electrolytic engraving machines in the United States is in Butte. It is owned by Frank Ward, an engraver in the mining city. The Buckley-Mears Company in St. Paul, Minnesota, owns the only other machine of the kind west of the Mississippi.

The machine is used in making copper etchings. It is far superior to acid, which eats into the copper plate. The electrolytic process produces a finer, smoother surface, permits the use of a finer screen, and is more rapid than the acid process.

Mr. Ward is working on a machine of the electrolytic type to be used on zinc, which is used to make cuts for newspapers. If successful in his efforts, he will have produced a process of making newspaper cuts that will be much smoother and more rapidly made, and having a finer screen, than those now being used. The machine, when completed, will be the only one of its kind in the United States, possibly in the world.

Mr. Ward, who is in Missoula on a short business trip, stopped at the journalism headquarters where he visited for a few moments with Professor A. A. Applegate, whom he knew when the latter was engaged in newspaper work in Butte.

C. Owen "Snapshot" Smithers is employed by Mr. Ward as a photographer. "Snapshot's" boss says that the former university student is learning fast.

ART STUDENTS HOLD BI-WEEKLY MEETING

The regular bi-weekly "studio night" was held in the art department last Tuesday evening. Leo Dwyer posed for the class in sketching, his costume being a basketball suit.

A short lecture on the art in the movies was given by Knowles Blair, who has spent considerable time in California with the film companies. Mr. Blair told of how the art students work in large studios, and the nature of their work. The lecture was accompanied by lantern slides which were used to demonstrate the lecture.

Following the program a luncheon was served.

SIGMA CHI VICTORS IN FINAL GAME OF SERIES

Defeats Sigma Nu in Last Inter-fraternity Contest for Cup.

Sigma Chi defeated Sigma Nu last night by a score of 18 to 8, netting them a 1000 per cent average in the inter-fraternity tournament, which will allow them to house the tournament loving cup for one year. Johnson, star forward of the freshman squad, playing with the victors, was the bright light of the contest.

Although Sigma Nu was outclassed by their opponents in both offensive and defensive, they held the winners scoreless at the beginning of the game. Sigma Nu started the scoring, but it was followed by a series of goals that practically put the game on ice for Sigma Chi, the first half ending 12 to 4.

The second half was snappy, but there was a lack of determination displayed by the teams in the first period. Sigma Chi tightened up on the defense, and the losing team was forced to make most of their attempts at the basket from distant points.

Lineup:
Sigma Chi. Sigma Nu

The A. D. A. basketball quintet moved into a tie for second place with S. P. E. Saturday night when they defeated the Phi Delt in a rough game played on the gymnasium floor.

During the first half it became evident that the A. D. A. team was the stronger of the two, and in the last half the victors piled up a big lead.

McKain, playing center for the winners, starred, making five field goals. Badgley, playing forward for A. D. A., made three field goals, while Holkesvig lead in scoring for the Phi Delt with a field goal and two free throws.

The summary and lineups:

RIFLE TEAM MAKING VERY POOR PROGRESS

The R. O. T. C. rifle team which will compete soon with other teams in the northwest, is making very poor progress, according to word which has been given out by the military department.

The poor progress is not due to the quality of the material that is turning out for practice, but for the lack of material, according to Sergeant Brown, who is training the men.

"We have two fine heavy .22 calibre rifles which we are using for the practice at present," said the sergeant. "On the road there are eight more such rifles, which we intend to use in the meet. We have plenty of ammunition and wish that anyone who can make the least pretext of hitting the proverbial barn, would turn out for practice and help us organize a team to enter the shoot."

CRAIG HALL WINS HOOP TOURNAMENT

Capture Silver Loving Cup Second Season: Defeat Kappa Team 18-15.

By defeating the Kappa six in the most hotly contested game of the season, Craig hall succeeded in capturing once again the silver loving cup given to the winner of the co-ed basketball tournament. The game played on Wednesday afternoon ended with a score of 18-15. Craig hall did what has not been done for several years, ran away with the honors without one defeat to mar her record for the season. The cup, a five-year one, was held by the Dorm team last year.

From the start the spectators realized neither side would give up without a good fight, and every minute was one of real contest for every player. Craig hall scored the first two points with two neat foul baskets. Kappa followed closely with a field basket. From then on the game was at no time a cinch for either team, though the end of the first half showed the score to be 6-4 for Craig Hhall.

In the second half, Helen Newman, seemed to come into her regular good form and played stellar ball for Kappa. Florence Sanden and Ann Wilson also showed the fighting spirit and played a good game.

It would be difficult to pick out a star among the Craig hall players, for it was good teamwork, cool, decisive and measured throws, and a confidence in each others ability that won the game for them. Rita Jahreiss and Pearl Degenhart perhaps deserve special mention. Miss Baxter refereed the game.

A second game was played in which Kappa Alpha Theta won from Alpha Phi, 12-4. The game was slow and marked by excessive fouling. Fate seemed against Alpha Phi at the basket, for the ball often beautifully circled the hoop, but dropped through only twice. Rosalind Reynolds starred for Theta in her position of running center. She was ably assisted by Helen Streit and Irmgarde Afflerbach. Solvey Andresen, Ruth James and Nina Moore played most consistently for Alpha Phi.

Though Craig hall has won the tournament, a few games remain to be played off. These will be finished next week.

NOTICE.

All students who have rebates coming from the Student Health service for last quarter, call at my office immediately.

GRIZZLY CUBS LOSE TO MISSOULA HIGH

Scholastics Humble Freshman Team by Rally in Final Minutes of Play.

The Grizzly Cubs suffered defeat at the hands of the Missoula high school team by a score of 24 to 28. Poor passing worse basket shooting, and too many attempts at long shots, together with a total absence of teamwork, of which the scholastics showed better form, were the causes of the reversal.

The Cubs held the long end of the 14-9 score at the end of the first half.

The second half started well for the Cubs, Cahoon making a pretty basket within the first few minutes. Then something began to happen. The high school kids commenced a display of teamwork that far outshone anything the Cubs had been able to put up against them. Illman, the scholastic center, stood on post near the high school goal and heaved shot after shot over the head of Stegner. When Missoula jumped ahead for the first time the Cubs retaliated with an added bit of fight, but the scholastic machine was not to be stopped. Illman and Kelly made nine field goals during the latter part of the second half.

Cahoon led in the scoring with three field goals and four free throws out of as many attempts.

The lineups and summary:
Cubs. Missoula High
Cahoon Sterling
Left Forward
Burks DeVeber
Right Forward
Johnson Illman
Center.
Stegner McSpadden
Left Guard
Dahlberg. Kelly
Right Guard.

Field goals—Kelly, 6; Illman, 6; Cahoon, 3; Burks, 3; Johnson, 2; Guthrie, Dahlberg.

Free throws—Cahoon, four out of four; Illman, four out of six.

Fouls—Burks, 4; Illman, 2; Johnson, Stegner, DeVeber, McSpadden.

Referee—Lansing.
Timekeeper—Adams.
Scorer—Rocene.

CUBS TO TANGLE WITH ALBERTON TOMORROW

Coach Adams' Cubs will be given ample opportunity to stage a comeback from last Tuesday's game tomorrow night, when they will be arrayed against the Alberton high school quintet, and again Monday night, when they will meet the fast Fort Missoula huskies, on the gymnasium floor.

The weak points in the lineup of the Cubs are being rapidly ironed out by Harry Adams and a slight change in battle array is expected for tomorrow night's game with Alberton.

Stiff and heavy has been the practice this week to eliminate the possibility of another defeat and the introduction of a change in the offensive coupled with the experience gained in last Tuesday's game should give both the Alberton quintet and Fort Missoula stiff opposition.

Arrangements are being made to schedule other games for the Cubs the first part of February. With the coming of the annual combat with the Bob-kittens at Bozeman, the freshmen will steady down to hard work and will be given close surveillance for possible weak points.

BANKERS HEAR MANY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

University Graduate Speaks on Necessity of Modern Advertising.

"Advertising is a necessity in the banking business," said George H. Greenwood of Spokane, in his address yesterday to the bankers of the state, who are attending the Bankers' Short course, which is being held at the University. W. L. Pope, professor of law, at the University, opened the fourth day meeting of the course. He spoke on "Legal Problems That Arise Where Chattel Mortgages Are Given to Secure Farm Loans." Fred R. Angevine concluded the talk he started yesterday concerning the deductions and exemptions from the income tax. H. M. Colvin, who was scheduled to speak at the meeting today was forced to cancel his talk because of illness.

"Advertising for the banker consists of three kinds," said Mr. Greenwood. "They are, the newspaper, the gifts we give away each year and all other forms of feature and specialty advertising."

"Well written newspaper advertisements are one of the very best means that the bank has at the present time to place before its patrons and the other citizens where the bank is located, the real reason why a bank is the one business institution that is doing more public service than any other."

"Every year it is the custom for the banks of the country to give to their customers some sort of a memento. Whether it be a calendar or some other thing, whatever it is, may be made a very good medium of advertising."

"Personal letters sent out by the bank's officers have an appeal that no other form of advertising has. The banker should learn to know his customers better. And the letters will add this acquaintanceship more than any other thing a banker can do."

"We should always bear in mind that the bankers are competing with the entire industrial world when they begin to advertise. The other business men have something to sell, they appeal to the 'buying instinct' of their customers. The banker must appeal to the people to save. True, we have loans for sale, but the sale of a loan never completes the transaction as does the sale of merchandise."

"Bank advertising is no longer a thing of probability. It is now a necessity. We must advertise."

W. L. Pope's talk was one given over entirely to the legal aspect of the making of loans and the taking of chattel mortgages. He urged the bankers not to make any loans that were not covered by chattel mortgages.

Mr. Angevine told of many of the new clauses concerning the exemption and deduction from the Federal Income Tax.

Today's meeting will end the course. The visiting bankers have expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the course. The program for today:

- 9:30 a. m.—Guarantors and Securities, Dean Leaphart.
- 11:00 a. m.—Bankers and the Oil Development of Montana, Dr. Clapp.
- 1:30 p. m.—Payments of Tax at Source, Fred Angevine.
- 3:00 p. m.—Bankers and Their Community, Mr. Greenwood.

Students at Whitman College must now pass in at least 60 per cent of their credits instead of 50 per cent as in the past. The change in the rule is necessitated by increased enrollment and limited accommodations.

Billings Polytechnic Institute plans to establish its own lyceum bureau to send student musicians and readers to cities near Polytechnic. The Glee club of the school will tour the state soon.

Newlyweds

"How Dry I Am," Evokes Keg of Cider for Band.

The bliss and peace that accompanies the first few months of the life of newlyweds was suddenly broken into last evening when Mr. H. Harrison Hoyt and his wife were serenaded by the University band. Mr. Hoyt and his wife, formerly Miss Ruth Miller, were students of the University last quarter and were married during the holidays.

The band played a few of the popular songs and finished with "How Dry I Am." Mr. Hoyt came to the door and invited them in and treated them to a few rounds of cider. Mrs. Hoyt was presented a casserole by Homer Parsons in behalf of the band.

Schumann-Heink Has Good Voice After 43 Years

"How does she do it?" is the question either repeatedly thought or put in whispers to neighbors recently when they have heard Madame Schumann-Heink sing, displaying a voice that shows no change after the years she has been continuing to please and charm with her glorious voice and personality.

The question was answered to a party of newspaper women and men who had the pleasure of meeting her after a concert, and it came about when one of the party suggested that he had been longing to hear her sing something from the Wagnerian operas.

Has Been Singing 43 Years.

"Oh, no," she said vehemently, with the delightful accent that accords so well with her inexhaustible fund of humor which crops out throughout even in very dignified and serious musical programs. "I am not ruining my voice with those difficult, lengthy arias from the operas. Many contraltos have done so and persisted in doing so and I ask you, 'Where are they now?' I love to sing, but I know that I am an 'old woman' (this with a knowing wink that challenged argument, which no one dared, however) and I have to save my voice for the future. I have been singing for 43 years and I am working to sing a good many more years. That is how I do it. That is how I expect to do it for a good long time to come."

Then she went on in her jolly, friendly way answering questions, telling about herself and her grandsons. Asked about her sons, she said that her youngest had gone back in the U. S. navy for his second enlistment. "He loves the sea and is off again."

When it was gently argued that she should not call herself "old woman," she retorted that ten grandchildren made her realize just where she had arrived in life.

A "Good Fellow."

But in spite of her argument on age she was still unconvincing for she was Madame Schumann-Heink of twenty years ago—merry, eyes roguish with fun, striking comical attitudes, speaking with the utmost frankness of her affairs, revealing her ambitions, but most of all evincing the greatest interest in her myriad of admirers and friends, desiring to know what they thought of her concert and the like. She did not deny herself to a single caller, nor hurry any way. The fact was that she gave more of her time and attention than one would have expected from such a busy woman. But then this is just typical of the great contralto, Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who will sing at the high school auditorium on February 6, 1922.

Craig hall entertained the members of the Kappa basketball team at dinner on Wednesday, January 25, after the game in which Craig hall defeated Kappa by a close score of 18-15.

DR. JOHN X. NEUMAN

TALKS ON EUGENICS

Inheritance of Physical, Mental and Moral Characteristics Is Lecture Topic.

The theory of eugenics concerning the inheritance of physical, mental and moral characteristics, and its seriousness, was presented to a fair audience by John X. Neuman, in a lecture on the "Problems of Eugenics," at the high school Tuesday night.

After a brief explanation of the theory of eugenics, Mr. Neuman cited how the eugenist, contrary to some critics, who have said that he wishes to produce only a genius, tries to stop decadence, to stop mating of the unfit, and encourage mating of the fit.

Taking the college graduate as an example of the higher state of mental and physical fitness, Dr. Neuman used data obtained from Vassar, Harvard and Yale to prove figures that show that this class is scarcely reproducing itself.

One of the most serious dangers in the problem of the mentally deficient, lies in immigration. To prove this statement, Dr. Neuman quoted an Italian official, who once said that the criminals in Italy were rapidly decreasing, because they were going to America. The last immigration bill, however, will remedy this to some extent.

The next free community lecture will be given at the high school Tuesday night. The program includes a musical recital by Dr. W. G. Bateman and the reading of Galsworthy's "The Skin Game," by Mrs. Alice Mills.

NEW WRESTLING CLASS ALREADY OVERCROWDED

The class in wrestling, under direction of Athletic Director Schreiber, which started last week, has swelled to nearly 50 members and is rapidly overcrowding the limited space provided for mat work at one end of the inside track that encircles the gymnasium.

First lessons in attack and grips were given this week by James Harris, who is assisting in the instruction of the class. Exercises to develop the muscles needed in wrestling are being given.

The large majority of those who aspire to the padded square are freshmen, whose weight ranges close to 160 and much excellent material for the work has shown up.

The latest holds and tactics will be taught during the course and feature matches will be staged between the most likely material. The introduction of tactics of some of the most famous wrestlers of the present day are expected to be done later in the course.

REPRESENTATIVES FAIL TO REPORT RESULTS OF DRIVE

None of the students who were placed in charge of the student fund campaign reported to Clyde Murphy, A. S. U. M. president, last Wednesday.

According to the original plan the representative of each house was to report the amount of money he or she expected to collect. All the money was to be in February 1. Mr. Murphy said that as the students had not reported Wednesday, no checking would be done before next Wednesday, when all donations must be in.
