ALASKA FOOTBALL HERO APPEARING IN SATELLITE GAME

MISSOULA, Mont. —

Sophomore running back Yohance Humphery of Eagle River, Alaska, has become an impact player at The University of Montana in Missoula. He can be seen Saturday, Nov. 20, when the 8-2 Grizzlies take on their arch-rivals, the Montana State University Bobcats of Bozeman, at 12:05 p.m. Mountain Standard Time.

Area fans may watch the game at 1999 Montana Power Classic Griz/Cat Satellite Parties, to be held at Anchorage's The Peanut Farm, 5227 Old Seward Highway, and Fairbanks' Gold Rush Saloon, 3399 Peger Road.

After 10 games, Humphery has scored 14 rushing touchdowns, tying him for the UM record. He's rushed for 1,132 yards this season and has six games of more than 100 yards. He is the first UM player since 1982 to break the 1,000-yard barrier. He needs 121 yards to become the University's all-time leading rusher.

The Nov. 20 football game will be the 99th meeting of the Grizzlies and the Bobcats. A win would give the Grizzlies the Big Sky Conference title and an automatic playoff berth.
