In view of the decision to postpone the opening of the University until after January 1st, Mr. Phillips, chairman of the Committee on Interim Studies read a letter which had been prepared for circulation among the students. The letter contained the following essential points, all of which were informally agreed upon by the Faculty: (1) Regular registration of students for the winter quarter as soon as the University re-opens, (2) Winter quarter courses to be re-constituted so that as far as possible beginning courses will be offered to all who need them, (3) Continuance of home study work urged, credit for which to be given in proportion to the work done; the total number of credits earned in this manner not to exceed the total credits registered for in the autumn quarter.

The faculty voted that the regular office hours of instructors during the period of interim studies, for consultation with students, should be from 1:30 to 2:30 P.M.

The following communication from the President, dated November 29th, 1918, was read:

"On the basis of a recent conference with the Chancellor and at his request, I desire this faculty to consider certain matters of policy with a view to making recommendations which might affect all the institutions of the University:

1: The possibility of enriching the life and instruction of the various institutions by exchange lectures and possibly exchange professorships.

2: The question of University credit for war training. In view of the fact that this faculty took preliminary action in this matter some months ago, the Chancellor suggests that we investigate further and make recommendations."

The President stated that the Chancellor specifically requests the faculty to complete the codification of University rules and faculty regulations which has been in process of preparation for some time.

The President brought to the attention of the faculty the responsibility of faculty members with regard to the tenure of appointment plan, recently adopted by the State Board of Education, especially the matter of resignation during the term of contract. The President instructed the secretary to record in the minutes that the discussion of this matter should be a special order for the next meeting of the faculty, or such meeting in the near future at which there might be time to consider the subject.

Moved by Elrod and unanimously carried that the matter of exchange lectures and exchange professorships should be referred to a special committee representing the various departments and activities of the University.

The question of university credit for war training was referred to the Curriculum Committee.

The President stated that the winter quarter would begin, in accordance with the University calendar, on January 4th, and that a new schedule of classes will be prepared for the winter quarter.

Mr. Carey, chairman of the Schedule Committee requested that instructors should submit on or before December 16th their lists of courses for the winter quarter.

Moved by Elrod and unanimously carried that the Committee on Roll of Honor be asked to submit plans for a suitable memorial for the University Alumni and former students who had engaged in war activities, especially for those who had lost their lives in war service.
