BULLDOGS VICTORIOUS IN HARD-FOUGHT FRAY

Grizzlies Lose Final Game of Season by One Point, 14 to 13.

Gonzaga evened the series when they defeated Montana 14 to 13 in one of the best exhibitions of basketball seen on the new floor this season. Ability of Heutter, the heavy Bulldog center, to connect from the gift line cost the Grizzlies the second contest when he registered 6 free throws. The first game went easily to Montana by a 31-to-24 count.

"Tick Baird," Grizzly guard and captain, playing his last university game, was the star of the contest, breaking up play after play.

The scoring began when Badgley slipped behind the guards for two points. Huettner converted a free throw and Mallory followed with a field goal. "Jiggs" Dahlberg put the Grizzlies in the lead with a shot from near the center circle. Gonzaga began a bombardment of long tosses and the score saw-sawed between Grizzly and Bulldog, neither team getting more than a one-point lead. Score at half, 8 to 7 for Gonzaga.

Badgley evend the count with a shot from the gift line and Huettner came back with two counts from the same place and repeated his performance a few moments later. Needles, Gonzaga guard, sneaked down the sidelines for a long shot and the Bulldogs lead 14 to 8. With two minutes to go, Captain Baird called his team together and from then on the Bulldogs never made a point. McDonnell hit one from center, Badgley registered a gift shot, Dahlberg slipped one in from under the nets, making the score 13 to 14. Montana was on the offensive all of the time the last two minutes and as Porter heaved the last shot of the contest, the timer's gun sounded and the ball rolled slowly around the hoop and dropped out.

WOODCHOPPERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL TRIANGULAR MEET

The annual triangular meet between the regular students of the forestry school, the vocational students studying forestry, and the members of the ranger school will be held tonight in the old gymnasium as a part of the program of the Forestry Clubs convention. Last year the regular students and rangers tied for first honors.

The athletic contests will be as follows: high jump, rope climbing, sawing contest, standing broad jump, packing contest, weight lifting, three-legged race, tug-of-war and a basketball game. A cracker eating contest will also be staged. The forestry quartet and the string quartet will give several selections.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION IS GOING SLOW, SAYS OFFICE

Students who have not registered for the spring quarter will have until 4 o'clock this evening. Those in the section registering this week will have to pay a late registration fee after today.

At 5 o'clock yesterday evening only 475 students had taken out applications for registration. That is far less than half of the total student body.

ATHLETIC TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD BY "M" CLUB

Plans for the big "M" club athletic tournament, March 14, are now complete, with a good time guaranteed, men and women alike. This show will not be a smoker, as was formerly announced, but a tournament to decide the school championships in the various classes of both boxing and wrestling.

The object of this tournament is to stimulate interest among the students in these two branches of sports, so that it may be possible to enter boxing and wrestling teams into contests with the other schools of the north-west next year. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, the proceeds to help along this line.

"This will be no bloody or low-brow affair, but a clean exhibition of these manly sports," said Gil Porter, president of the "M" club yesterday afternoon. "Men and women alike will be welcome," he continued.

Several lively preliminary contests have already taken place, displaying speed and skill that assures six bouts and six matches that would credit any tournament of the sort. Both band and quartet music will be on tap. The show will start at 7:45 sharp and end in time to permit all girls to reach home before 10:30. The lineup of contestants will be announced in the next Kaimin.

SKEYHILL TO TALK AT SPECIAL CONVOCATION

The 11 o'clock Thursday classes will be held on Tuesday at 11 in place of convocation. A special convocation is to be held on Thursday, March 15, at which Tom Skeyhill, a noted young Australian poet, will speak.

Mr. Skeyhill has spent many years in traveling in many lands and he is especially well versed on the Russian situation. This will be the subject of his talk here. Colonel Roosevelt said of Mr. Skeyhill: "I would rather be on the platform with Tom Skeyhill than any man I know." The Literary Digest gives him this compliment: "Tom Skeyhill is the sort of a man worth reading about."

IDAHO MAN TO BE R. O. T. C. COMMANDER AT CAMP LEWIS

CHAFFIN HIRED AT HOLLYWOOD

Glenn Chaffin, a former journalism student, is now employed by a Hollywood film company as publicity man. Mr. Chaffin attended the University for three years. He was a member of the Kaimin staff and the glee club. After leaving school he entered the profession of journalism, working on several large papers.

GONZAGA WILL MEET MONTANA IN DEBATE

Smith and Schaff Are Washington Speakers; Aronowsky and O'Connor For University.

Louis Aronowsky and Miles O'Connor, speaking in the order named, will represent the University in debate with Gonzaga here tonight in Main hall auditorium at 8 o'clock. This debate will finish a series which have taken place during this quarter on the subject, "Resolved: That the several states should establish courts to adjudicate labor disputes in the essential industries, with powers to enforce its decisions." Montana will uphold the negative side.

D. C. Smith and F. J. Schaff will speak for Gonzaga. Fifteen minutes will be allowed each speaker for the main talks and six minutes each for rebuttal.

The judges who have been chosen are Judge James M. Self of Hamilton; G. A. Ketcham, principal of the high school; and Rev. Jesse B. Lacklen.

DOC TANNER ELECTED BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

Gordon Tanner was unanimously elected captain of the 1924 basketball team yesterday evening after the game with Gonzaga, stepping into the shoes of Captain Tick Baird. Tanner, by his brilliant guarding, his ability to connect with the hoop and his popularity with his teammates, deserved the honor that is passed down from year to year to the chosen Grizzly.

"Doc" hails from Miles City, and is a junior in the University. He has just completed his third year of basketball for Montana, playing with the 1921 Cubs and substituting last year on the Varsity. Under Coach Stewart's handling, his style of play has developed to the extent that he became one of the most dangerous offensive guards in the state this year.

In addition to basketball, Doc has played two years in the backfield on the Montana football team.

FACULTY RECOMMENDS CHANGES IN HONOR ROLL

At the last faculty meeting, held February 27, the following recommendations were adopted:

Each student shall receive the number of grade points as given out by the former system, except that 2 points shall be deducted from any total for each credit deducted as a penalty for absence.

In order for any student to be eligible to register for his fourth quarter or any succeeding quarter as a special student, the sum of a student's grade points (both positive and negative) must be at least equal to the number of credits for which he has received a grade.

Requirements for the honor roll are: A student must have no grade of "E" or "F" and no credit deduction for absence and he must have at least 33 grade points for the quarter. It was recommended that these requirements for making the honor roll be put into effect upon the adoption of the recommendation by the faculty.

Only 25 per cent of any applicant's total amount of grades of "D" grade, will be counted towards graduation, and he must have a number of grade points at least equal to the number of credits. When credits are accepted from another institution the grade points shall be evaluated at the time of transfer.

FORESTRY CONVENTION OPENS AT UNIVERSITY

President Colvill Opens 7th Annual Session; Men From Many States.

The 7th annual convention of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Forestry Clubs opened Thursday morning in the new forestry building with an address of welcome by Leslie Colvill, president of the organization. Mr. Colvill told the members of the convention that much work had to be accomplished this session and the biggest factor was to strengthen and enlarge the organization.

President C. H. Clapp was introduced as the next speaker. He told the members of the convention that the University of Montana appreciated the honor of being selected the place for holding the convention and anything that Montana could do to further the interests of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Forestry Clubs it would be only too ready to do so.

Dean Dorr Skeels spoke in behalf of the Montana forestry school. He said, "Mark Twain remarked, 'Everybody talked about the weather but no one did anything about it.' This describes the forestry situation at the present time. The big questions that are facing the forestry profession may be classed under the following heads: taxation of forest lands, the extension of the boundaries of the national forests, consolidation of the entire national forest system, state forestry laws, the education of the public to forestry needs, silviculture problems, research work, and diseases and insect control. All of these problems come under the big re-forestation head." Mr. Skeels spoke at length on the constructive side of forestry and concluded, "In 40 years, if the present rate of consumption continues, the timber supply of this country will be gone. To live properly the world must have wood. Re-forestation will solve the problem. There are now about 1000 students in the United States studying forestry. Ten per cent of these men graduate each year. This number is not sufficient to supply the needs of re-forestation."

George Weisel Talks.

George F. Weisel, a western lumberman, then addressed the convention. Mr. Weisel has the distinction of being the first man of technical training to enter the forestry service in the northwest. He told how the lumber industry needs technical trained men more at this time than at any other in the history of the industry. Logging investigation has started just recently and the research work that it now offers is widespread and to be able to make that investigation technically trained men are necessary.

Yesterday afternoon the convention convened at two o'clock for the first business meeting. The following delegates answered roll calls: William H. Gibbs, student of the University of (Continued on Page Four)

WHAT A SCHOOL IS FOR.

Speakers at the convention of forestry clubs which opened yesterday stressed the necessity for an awakening on the part of the public to a realization of the future danger which lies in the present wholesale and unintelligent consumption of wood. Figures were quoted to show the inevitable oncoming of a wood-less state and pictures were drawn of the conditions attendant upon its arrival.

It is difficult for a people in the mass to consider seriously the future happiness and comfort of an unknown and comparatively distant posterity. We do not exactly wonder at it, especially in view of the fact that few individuals are able to plan and judge very wisely opportunities for their own future welfare. Examples of their failure or inability in this regard are many. This, too, in spite of the quite incorrect contention that man seeks his own ends before those of his brother. How much harder, then, it is for a mass movement toward a wise consideration of mass happiness to receive impulse. For, we surmise, such movement must arise among enlightened individuals who possess clear vision and the power to instill their fellows with an enthusiasm similar to their own.

MORE DAVENPORT CHATTER.

We have heard more or less criticism directed toward the Kaimin in regard to its attitude on the honor system. Certain students have made the statement to members of the staff that the possible adoption of the honor system is a cut and dried affair in which the Kaimin and A. S. U. M. officers have joined to "railroad it across."

The accusation has been made that the interviews with students of the University published in recent issues of the Kaimin, are "doctored" and care was taken to see that only students favorable to the system were interviewed.

Such a statement is false. The students interviewed were taken at random by the reporter. They expressed their own opinion. We published it. Of course students who at all times have the welfare of the University at heart were selected because the reporter felt that they would be posted upon the system and able to offer an intelligent discussion. However, their statements were their own. We might say now that those students who feel they are offended because they were not interviewed have access to the columns of their paper at all times for their arguments. In fact we have editorially stated that from time to time.

SHOULD WE TRY IT?

The R. O. T. C. cadets presented a fine appearance at the game last night when they marched in the door and occupied one full section in the bleachers. Their presence seemed to us to add pep to the scene.

Why cannot we organize a rooters' squad or some like organization to dress uniformly in the school colors, sit together, and lead in the yelling and singing at Varsity contests?

Surely a well-trained crowd on the bleachers for the coming track and baseball season would help matters considerably.

Perhaps the R. O. T. C. can start the ball rolling.

THE PRESIDENT HARDING BRINGS IMPORTANT FACTORS OF THE GARMENT TRADE, WHO SPEAK OF BRILLIANT EMBROIDERIES AND PLEATING. TWO PIECE SUIT AND BLOUSE ARE FAVORED FOR THIS SEASON

New York City, Feb. 26, 1923.—The President Harding docking early yesterday morning, carried as its first-class passengers, a group made up of almost entirely trade factors, who included many of the model importers and wholesale manufacturers. Far beyond any other point in the collective opinions of these arrivals in commenting on French styles, is the fact the collections are unusually interesting and chiefly among these are the embroideries which are declared to be of the greatest charm, variety and beauty, and the one big keynote of the season is the allover embroideries in coats and suits. The influence of the Egyptian "Tut-Ankh-Amen" appears to be of growing importance as all Fifth Avenue specialty shops, along with Paris, are featuring the high colored embroideries. The blouse is here to stay, as Paris is featuring two-piece suits, accompanied by the blouse inspired by the Egyptian discoveries and new monogram blouses.

We reproduce the above from New York, which is the very latest imported news of fashions from Paris, just to more than ever convince the women of this vicinity of the superiority of this store in showing the very latest that New York produces—and Paris fashions. We impress, at all times, upon our customers that we show the fastest, newest garments that the world knows and bring them right to the door of our Missoula trade.

If you have been watching our windows this Spring, you will have noticed the unusual embroidered Coats we have been showing (for illustration, take a look at our window this week) and see the last word in these beautiful embroidered Coats which you have just read about in the above latest import news of fashions from Paris and New York.

No—it is not egotism—it is a fact that we show the women of this vicinity merchandise that only the better specialty stores of the larger cities show and at much smaller prices. In fact, we know of cases where our prices are less than half for the same garments that are sold in larger cities near to Missoula. Why? Because they have the large clientele and wealth to cater to, who appreciate these unusual things and prices are secondary to them. Whereas, with us, in order to bring to our Missoula patrons the latest and best in fashions for women, and for which we get the exclusive honor for Missoula's representative of same, we price these extraordinary garments to our trade at a profit that will not cover our overhead expense. It is for your benefit—not ours—as our profits are made from our large volume of sales in the more demanded and popular priced merchandise.

ANCIENT TABLETS SENT TO PROFESSOR MERRIAM

In a modern cigar box in Professor H. G. Merriam's office lie twelve little pats of clay, the newest of them molded and printed some 2100 years before the birth of Christ.

These tablets were dug up in ancient Babylonia. The smallest has a face an inch by an inch and a half and is one-third of an inch thick. The largest is conical in shape, standing about two inches high, with a base about an inch and a half in diameter. Only two or three are broken in any way. A few of them are glazed and some evidently have been in fires.

The inscriptions cover subjects from contracts for the sale of livestock to a eulogy to Ishtar, the Goddess of Love. Most of them are temple records. These, according to the pamphlet accompanying the tablets, were printed and then stamped with the seal of the temple, making it impossible to change the record. Some of them were made 2350 years B. C.

The tablets are guaranteed to be genuine Babylonian originals.
