MEMO: President Bowers
RE: Athletic Financial Aid

A major charge of the Financial Aids Committee this year has been to formulate and codify policy on the selection, granting, and administration of all forms of financial aid for students. To accomplish this task, policy statements covering all aspects of financial aid over which the Committee has some control have been developed, discussed, refined, and issued pursuant to your approval on behalf of the University of Montana. Recognizing that we have no control over the type or the amount of financial aid nor any control over the recipients of financial aid designed for athletic programs, the Committee would like to make the following recommendations:

(1) That athletic "scholarships" be renamed to athletic "work-study" or some such name to differentiate athletic financial aid from financial aid awarded on the basis of need or scholarship.

(2) That athletic "work-study" be considered payment for services rendered and not as financial aid based on need or on scholarship.

(3) That responsibility for the administration and control of athletic "work-study" be vested in a separate committee, such as the intercollegiate athletic committee, who can adequately oversee all aspects of the financing of individual intercollegiate athletes.

This Committee is not, by these actions and recommendations, taking a position on the continuation or elimination of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Montana. The Committee is taking the position that the Committee should not be held responsible for athletic financial aid nor should the Committee encourage the misconception that athletic financial aid is the same as the other types of financial aid under our control because (1) athletic financial aid does not conform to financial aid programs for needy students or scholarly students and (2) the Committee does not have any control over the policy, selection, or administration of athletic financial aid.
The guidelines of Title IX, which we will have to conform to, pose additional problems to the Committee if athletic financial aid (primarily for males) is to be considered along with financial aid to needy or scholarly students.

For these reasons, the Committee would like to divest itself of any association with athletic financial aid and we request that our charge be amended to exclude same.
