BENNETT AND HERRICK SPEAK AT CONFERENCE

Vocational Specialists Give Advice on Choosing an Occupation.

The first annual vocational conference for University women, given under the auspices of W. S. G. A., opened yesterday morning with a convocation at 9 o'clock. Miss Helen Bennett, manager for the Collegiate Bureau of Occupations at Chicago, and Mrs. Anna Herrick, dean of women at Montana State college, gave addresses.

After a short speech of welcome from Mrs. Harriet Sedman, Mrs. Herrick talked on "Why a Vocation?" She brought greetings from the women at Bozeman to the students here. In her talk Mrs. Herrick brought out the fact that though woman's work in the large group has changed quite materially in recent years, individual success is still measured by her vision.

"The creative instinct within one must be made a holy thing and given to the world. Then woman has truly arrived at an occupation," said Mrs. Herrick.

She added that we might well rejoice over the new freedom given women in occupations, but warned against allowing this freedom to wreck their professional work. Their work should not be placed on a mere commercial basis and only those women be employed who must work for self support. Instead, a woman's vocation should be an expression of her inner self, her vision, and the giving of real service.

The subject of Miss Bennett's first talk was "Choosing an Occupation". She began by asking two questions: first, is the job open to women and, second, how about the woman herself. Answering this last question was the purpose of Miss Bennett's talk.

To know themselves as women is a very important consideration, according to Miss Bennett. That means a little study of personal desires and abilities. In the choice of an occupation, then, these three things must be considered. The work chosen must be the thing she wants to do more than anything else in the world. But it must be coupled with the thing she can do which is made up of abilities and training. And last of all it must be practical.

"Don't," said Miss Bennett, "be like the young girl in the Colorado mining camp who wanted to be an interior decorator, who knew she could do it because she had had the training in a large city, but who was asking just how to go about it in the small mining camp."

Six questions which Miss Bennett said were splendid for a woman choosing an occupation to ask herself were these:

1. Am I a leader or a follower?
2. Am I original or imitative?
3. Am I active or static?
4. Am I a roamer or a stay-at-home?
5. Am I a talker or a silent person?
6. Am I interested in people, ideas, or things?

She then illustrated how the leader should choose an occupation in which she might carry out her ability as such, the follower to choose a good leader and go ahead. Concerning the women with original ideas, Miss Bennett urged them to hang on to them, getting into occupations requiring them. She cited

ROBERT LINE ADDRESSES ALPHA KAPPA PSI BANQUET

Member of State Board of Education Talks on Finance.

"A Merchant's Financial Statement as a Basis of Credit with His Banker" is the title of Mr. Robert Line's address at the Alpha Kappa Psi banquet given in his honor at the Florence hotel tonight.

Mr. Line is owner of the Line Stores, a member of the state board of education, and a graduate of Montana. He taught economics at Minnesota, but returned to take over the Line Stores, covering eastern Montana.

MASQUERS PRODUCTION TAKING STATE TOUR

"The Dover Road" Will Return to Missoula for May 22 Performance.

The Montana Masquers left last Friday on the state tour with their production of "The Dover Road" by A. A. Milne. The company will return to Missoula for the performance in Missoula Tuesday, May 22.

The Masquers left last Friday for Deer Lodge, where they gave their first performance. The second was given in Dillon the following night. Butte was the stop made last night. From there the Masquers will go to Livingston, Big Timber, Lewistown and Great Falls, returning to the University Sunday, May 20.

Roger Williams, director, selected the cast, for the most part, on the basis of the work which has been done in other productions of the organization. He himself has taken one of the important roles.

The work done in Galsworthy's "Loyalties" by Wilfred Paul as the Jew, and by Ruth Winans as Mabel Daney, was considered unusually good by all who saw the play. Robert Harper took a character part in that production. Ted Ramsey has not taken an active part in the work of the Masquers this year, but he played in the productions of previous years, one being "Her Husband's Wife". Mr. Williams has done professional work.

The cast to take "The Dover Road" on tour is the following:

The House.
 Dominic Robert Harper
 The Staff
 Eva Langworthy, Frances Carson
 Mr. Latimer Roger Williams
The Guests.
 Leonard Wilfred Paul
 Anne Edna Morris
 Eustasia Ruth Winans
 Nicholas Ted Ramsey

Mr. Williams is director of the play. Ted Ramsey is acting as business manager during the tour, and Frances Carson is stage manager. The chaperon for the trip is Mrs. Eva Langworthy.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA INITIATES.

Steve Sullivan, coach of Butte Central High school; George Scherck, former coach of Butte High school; Robert Fredericks of Missoula; James Dingwall of Drummond; Charles McAuliffe, coach of Miles City High school; Thomas J. Davis of Butte and Jesse Lewellan of Powell, Wyo., were initiated into Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity during track meet.

CONVOCATION THURSDAY MORNING.

The student convocation, at which time candidates for A. S. U. M. offices will state their platforms will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, according to Solvay Andresen, vice-president of the A. S. U. M.

The meeting was called for 4 p. m. yesterday afternoon, but on account of it not being extensively advertised during track meet, only a handful of students put in an appearance.

"We want every student out Thursday morning, as the meeting concerns all of us," said Miss Andresen this morning. "A vote will be taken, providing there is a quorum present to determine whether or not the Sneak day amendment, and the amendment proposing to raise the initial A. S. U. M. fee will be placed upon the ballot."

Lantern Parade.

A lantern parade was held on the oval last night at 8 o'clock in honor of the new officers. Each girl carried a small lighted lantern.

The parade was led by the Senior girls dressed in their caps and gowns. The lines formed in fours in front of Main hall and divided into lines of twos, each line going half way around the oval and then circling back. The band played for the marching.

The senior girls formed a block M on the oval and the other girls formed lines between the M and Main hall. Then followed the singing of several college songs, ending with "College Chums."

MONTANA TRACK AND FIELD ARTISTS MAKE GOOD SHOWING AGAINST IDAHO

Diplomas Are Given by the Case Now

Seniors graduating this June have until Wednesday, May 16, to order their diploma covers, according to Registrar J. B. Speer. The new diplomas, adopted during the winter quarter, are usually kept in genuine morocco covers upon which are the University colors and the graduate's name in gold.

It is planned to deliver the covers at the time of graduation. All those who have not yet ordered, may do so at the business office.

REGISTRATION STATISTICS SHOW GROWTH OF SCHOOL

Annual Total of Resident Registration Given as 1167.

Statistics with regard to registration at the University to May 1, 1923, which have just been compiled, show a healthy growth of the institution. For the year 1920-21 the total resident registration was 1167; for 1921-22, 1364, and increase of 16.9 per cent over the preceding year; for 1922-23 to May 1, 1519 residents registered, an increase of 11.4 per cent over 1921-22. To the total of 1519 residents registered for 1922-23 there should be added 515 summer school students and 426 correspondence study students, totaling 2450 gross; from this 350 duplicate registrations must be deducted, leaving the net registration, including summer school and correspondence study students, 2110.

Of the 1519 resident students, 829, or 54.5 per cent, are men; 690, or 45.5 per cent, are women. Nine hundred fifteen students, 60 per cent of the total residents, are registered in the College of Arts and Sciences, the remaining 40 per cent being distributed among the schools of Business Administration, Forestry, Journalism, Law, Music, and Pharmacy. Two years ago it was estimated that the registration for the year 1922-23 would be 1450. It has already exceeded that figure by 69.

MAY FETE MAY NOT BE PRODUCED SAYS M'KINNON

Lack of Interest in Dances by Co-eds Has Made Affair Doubtful.

"Unless the women of the University show more interest in the May Fete, we are going to have to call the event off," Frances McKinnon, who is in charge of the affair, said yesterday.

"Every person outside of the University, whom we have asked to give us aid, has responded readily. We have townspeople working with an orchestra to furnish music for the dances, all lighting equipment for the dances has been donated,—the only trouble we are having is to get the University women interested."

Captain Egan Breaks Own Record in 440-Yard Dash.

Montana's track team, led by the record-smashing Captain Egan, defeated the Idaho team handily with a score of 78½ to 38½. Captain Egan furnished the thrill of the day when he defeated Casebolt of the Vandals in the quarter mile, and established another record in that race, making the distance in 50 seconds flat. The University relay team also hung up a new field record in the mile relay, making the mile in 3 minutes 30 seconds.

Montana took nine firsts and nine seconds, a tie for second and the relay race. A clean sweep was made in the 100 and 220 yards, the shot put, discus throw, broad jump and javelin throw.

John Shaffer won individual honors of the day with 12½ points, placing in the pole vault, high jump, shot put and discus. John gave a pretty exhibition of vaulting and tried to break the state record, but failed at 11 feet 7 inches. He will try to better this in the meet next week with W. S. C.

STUDENT CONVOCATION.

The student convocation, at which the candidates for the A. S. U. M. offices will state their platforms, will be held Thursday morning.

The meeting was called for yesterday afternoon, but lack of either advertising or interest necessitated the postponement of the meeting.

Besides the statements of the candidates, action will be taken regarding the Sneak Day and initial fee amendments, since adoption by a student quorum of the amendments is necessary before they can be placed on the ballot for the general election.

It is the duty of everyone concerned to be there. Recently there has been much discussion over the proposed new Sneak Day amendment, and the meeting Thursday affords opportunity for discussion on either side.

GOOD WORK.

Officials of the track meet committee inform us that the student support given this year for the successful carrying on of the interscholastic meet was better this year than ever before. They tell us that the incoming crowds were handled quickly and efficiently and that they wish to express their thanks to the student as a whole.

The students certainly "came through." The recent meet was the largest ever held in the west, and each one of us should be proud to have had a part in it.

We do not want to forget, however, those who were the organizers of the various committees for the carrying out of the student side of it. Weeks ago small groups laid plans in order that real efficient entertainment could be given. We refer to those students who were in charge of the student central committee.

Our thanks to them.

ABOUT THE MAY FETE.

According to those in charge of the annual May Fete production, the event will have to be postponed unless the women of the institution show more interest in the affair and turn out for the dances. Word has also been given that townspeople of Missoula have been very liberal in their response to requests for donations of properties necessary for carrying out the lighting effects.

The May Fete is one of the University's prettiest traditions. Its production has never failed to bring out a large crowd of townspeople as well as students. It has been placed on a par with the spring pageants and festivals put on by larger institutions.

The fact that outside people have responded more liberally than the women of the University for the production, does not speak well for the institution.

Are the women of the institution going to cause a Montana tradition to be shattered, merely because of a lack of interest?

There were 50 names on the last honor roll of the Park County H. S. The freshmen led by a god margin, and the grades some of them got—a 98, two or three 97s, several around 96, and almost all above 92 or 93!—The Geyser.

pole around the first curve, then Casebolt tried to pass him, but the Grizzly chieftain held the lead, and increased it as he rounded the second curve. He came in ahead of Casebolt 10 yards. Egan has never been defeated on the home track, and will compete with the cream of the Northwest in the meet at Pullman June 2. Last year at the conference meet Egan chased Pratt of Washington across the tape in 50 seconds flat, and won second place.

Matthews ran Penwell of Idaho a pretty race in the mile, but came in twenty yards behind. Blackburn furnished a thrill in the two-mile grind when he passed the Idaho man in the last lap, but was again passed by Penwell on the back stretch. Williams, Idaho's best two-miler, ran the race with a sore leg, and finished third. Blackburn's heroic sprint brought the crowd to its feet, and he was given an ovation at the finish.

Plummer ran Colbey a dead heat in the high sticks, but was disqualified by knocking down three hurdles. The relay race promised another battle between Egan and Casebolt. Closs took a pretty lead, finishing in 51 seconds, and was followed by Anderson, who ran a heady race and increased the gap. Roettler, third man, ran a pretty race, and gave Egan a fair start. Egan loafed on the back stretch, but began to throw cinders when he heard Casebolt puffing behind, and finished with a 20-yard lead.

BENNETT AND HERRICK SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

such occupations for the active persons as newspaper work and playgrounds, while the static woman should be more interested in some sort of library work, research, or perhaps accounting.

"If you talk a great deal, let's to be a good talker," was Miss Bennett's advice. "Don't fritter it all away and don't be a bore."

She closed her talk by saying that women divided their interest between people, ideas and things, and the direction toward which this interest lent itself best should determine the vocations they would choose.

Miss Helen Bennett addressed the University women and town visitors after the lantern parade last night on the subject of "The Successful College Graduate". She cited some examples of typical and representative college graduates who have become recognized as successes in many fields of service. Among them were the manager of the woman's department in a Chicago bank, the head of the visiting nurse's field, a comparison shopper, and a prominent short story writer. These, she said, were only a few of the many college women in this country whom she knew had attained a high goal.

Miss Bennet emphasized the point that an employer does not expect the college graduate he employs to know everything, but he employs her because he knows she has a trained mind.

Some of the requisites for a woman's success are the ability to grow, the ability to use her mind, to possess intellectual curiosity, to be able to concentrate and to get along well with people. With these must go the spirit of service—doing for people what needs to be done and doing the things that cost something.

In addition to her formal addresses, Miss Bennett is holding individual conferences with many of the University women and leading round table discussions on vocations for women.

A banquet will be given tonight at the Tavern cafe in honor of the visitors. Tickets have been sold to University women and town women. Miss Bennett and Mrs. Herrick will both give talks of interest. This will be the closing event of the vocational conference. From here Miss Bennett goes to Moscow, Idaho, to lead a similar conference.

GRIZZLIES DEFEATED IN WESTERN GAMES

Cougar Batsmen Wallop
Montana Pitchers at Will.

The Montana Grizzlies will play the Idaho Vandals two games at Moscow today, according to an Associated Press wire to the Missoulian last night. The game yesterday was postponed on account of rain, said the dispatch.

The Grizzly ball team lost its fourth straight game on the western trip by dropping both games of the series with the Washington State college Cougars by scores of 13 to 0 and 13 to 2 last Friday and Saturday.

Bill Johnson was hammered for 16 hits and 13 runs in Friday's game. Cook of the Cougars smashed out two circuit clouts, while Hanley secured one. The Grizzlies could do nothing with the slants of Friel and Naeda, Cougar slabmen, who allowed only three hits and permitted only two men to reach second base. Biscuits Driscoll's double was the only Montana extra-base hit of the game.

In Saturday's game the Cougars pounded Bill Centerwall for 16 hits and 13 runs, while Ruley of Washington State held them to three bingles and two runs. Geapel and Sandburg of the Cougars secured a homer apiece. Both teams fielded well, only making one error apiece. The game was called at the end of the seventh on account of rain.

INTERSCHOLASTIC WAS GREATEST IN HISTORY

Track Meet Committee Reviews Success of 20th Interscholastic.

The twentieth interscholastic meet, held last week, was the most successful in the history of the institution, according to information given out last night by officials of the track meet committee. Handicapped the first day by inclement weather, which hindered to some extent the gate receipts as well as the program sales, the second day found the largest crowd on Dornblaser field since the meet originated.

"The work done by the campus organizations, and individual students deserves the highest commendation," said Dr. J. P. Rowe, chairman of the interscholastic committee. "The students were better organized this year, and the work that was put before them to do, was carried out more efficiently than ever before."

"The Bear Paws did great work," said Professor Tom Spaulding, another member of the committee. "It kept them going all the time meeting trains and getting the contestants and visitors to their rooms, but their work was done well. They certainly helped to make the affair a success."

The student central committee, with Kendall Dexter as chairman, was responsible for the campus and fraternity house decorations, the officials said, and this along with the other work, such as entertainment and work at information tables was efficiently carried out.

The R. O. T. C., under the command of Major Smith, was commended for its services, not only for its work in the review, but in its efforts toward policing the grounds and athletic field. The Grizzly band deserves the most credit for putting the entertainment features across, as well as keeping the events pepped up on the field, say the officials. Thanks are given to all the bandsmen, Leader Ernest Atkinson and Drum Major Williamson for their work in "putting the meet over".

CADETS ALLOWED ONE CUT FOR WORK IN REVIEW

Men who participated in the R. O. T. C. review Thursday will be excused from an R. O. T. C. class or the drill hour will count as the makeup work for one cut, announced Major Smith last week. This action was taken after it was decided to meet the men half way and give them a holiday after Presidents Clapp's general assembly orders.

DANCERS TO ELECT PROM QUEEN

BIG JUNIOR BALL WILL SET PRECEDENT IN UNIVERSITY HISTORY; MANY FEATURES

Tickets Will Be on Sale Today; Each Entitles the Bearer to a Vote.

Plans are nearing completion for the Junior Prom, according to Red Neill, junior class president. It is planned to have a prom queen, who is to be selected from the senior class. Each sorority has been requested to name a senior girl for candidate. The committee also asked that one girl be nominated who is not affiliated with the sorority. Ticket sale starts today at all fraternity houses, Simkins hall and on the campus.

The dance Friday night is to be strictly formal. The committee has announced that the men are invited on condition that they appear in formal dress. The dance on Saturday will be informal.

Presentation of tickets for the prom on May 17 at Main hall will entitle the bearer to vote for the prom queen. The nominees are as follows:

On account of the vocational congress, difficulty of securing music and conflicting social events during the week of prom, it has been decided to call off the Round Robin fraternity and sorority dances which were scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday of prom week.

All junior men are requested to wear their corduroy trousers during prom week.

CLASS OF 1924 HAS BEEN ACTIVE KEEPING COLLEGE TRADITIONS

Junior Social Activities to Be Concluded Friday and Saturday.

Since September, 1921, the class of 1924 has been foremost in school activities and active in the emulation of Montana's traditions as they confronted them. The activities of the class for this year will culminate in one of the foremost social events of the year, the Junior Prom.

Under the direction of Roger Deeney the class rejuvenated the "M" on Mount Sentinel by clearing the weeds away and whitewashing the letters that had been smeared with Aggie blue the year before. Many of the students at that time prominent in the class have now left the University.

The class has always been prominent in athletics. Its first triumph was when the Frosh team defeated Butte Central by a score of 42 to 0, in which game McAuliffe, Nelson and Dahlberg showed their ability in gridiron action. Despite their superior display of football ability, the Farmer frosh beat them 6 to 0.

The Cubs' basketball team that year was an all-star aggregation, including McDonnell, Tanner, Badgley, McAuliffe, and Eckberg. They defeated the Aggie frosh decisively as well as prominent high school teams of the state.

The social calendar for the year included the regular frosh dance. O. Ashford, Ann Cliffe, Nat McKown, Burt Teats, and M. Falker were on the committee in charge.

Eugene McKinnon was elected permanent president of the class replacing Roger Deeney, who had been temporary president. Mildred McQuarrie was vice president, Ann McAuliffe, secre-

TWO NIGHTS OF ENTERTAINMENT WILL FEATURE THIS YEAR'S PROM

Hindu Magic

Junior Prom to Take Place in Temple of India.

"We hate to say the junior prom is going to be the best dance of the year," said Helen Faick and Helena Badger, "cause every class has said that about its dance.

"But it's true this time."

Helen Faick assumed an inspired look and resumed:

"It's going to be a Hindu temple. Just simply wonderful. It really is going to be different than anything else this year. Everybody is coming. Hindu temples don't develop for every dance. All the mystery, all the superstition of the Far East incorporated into a splendid dance."

"And Doc Shreiber has been just lovely," interrupted Helena. "He's doing everything. The gym will be fine Friday evening."

As we tore down the hall echoes of "a wonderful dance" floated after us.

A Hindu temple for a Junior Prom and Everybody will be there.

tary, and Harold Reynolds, treasurer.

Despite the heavy tug-of-war team they had that year, the sophs pulled them through the slough. The frosh team was composed of James Farrell, Lewis Deeney, Russell Stark, John Carney, Frank Paul and Will Fraser.

Last year, the class was successful in dragging the frosh through the slough. The officers of last year's sophomore class were: President, Roger Deeney, Ann Cliffe, vice president; Elizabeth Eggleston, secretary; Evan Reeley, treasurer; and Ralph Neill represented the class on the central board.

Last year's Bear Paws, composed entirely of sophs elected to it with their previous service in view, secured a chapter in Intercollegiate Knights. Roger Deeney was the chief Bear Paw.

Nat McKown is editing the Sentinel for the junior class this year. Last year Burt Teats wrote the accepted manuscript for the May Fete, entitled "The Land of Shining Mountains."

The present officers of the junior class are Ralph Neill, president; Florence Roethke, vice president; Helena Badger, secretary; Richard Crandall, treasurer.

SENIORS HAVE BEEN ACTIVE ON CAMPUS

Class of 1923 Has Fine Record for Four Years.

The present senior class of the University has been an enforcer of rules and a maker of traditions. It has furnished more than its share of athletes and has been instrumental in the formation of various campus societies.

Many men of the class of '23 have borne Montana colors. Tom MacGowan, Jim Murphy, Harvey Elliott, Lloyd Madsen, Gil Porter, Bill Johnson, Perk Spencer, Ted Ramsey, Joe Kerschner, Harold Baird, Ray Kibble,—all have represented Montana in football, basketball, baseball, or track.

The senior class has been represented on the debating team by such men as Matt Pearce, Delbert Cawley, Kenneth Murphy, Raymond Nagle, and Clyde Murphy.

Girls of the class of 1923 who have been important and active in campus affairs are: Irma Stark, Irma Wagner, Solvey Andresen, Doris Gaily, Mary X. McCarthy, Margaret Rutherford and Wynema Woolverton.

In the fall of 1920 the Bear Paw organization was formed — largely through the work of the class of 1923. Rules were drawn to govern the organization and Jim Murphy was elected its first chief.

The tradition of corduroy trousers for the men of the junior class was started last year by the present senior class. At the same time the class elected Bill Cogswell first junior editor of the Sentinel after it had been voted at a campus election to leave the publication of the year book in the hands of each succeeding junior class.

Each year has seen the class of '23 strike out in new directions—has seen it move boldly into new fields—has seen it widen the horizon and the work of the University of Montana. Its men have welcomed sacrifice for the University; its women have been faithful in the performance of duty. The senior class leaves a heritage—the heritage of progress through self-sacrifice for a cause, through work for an ideal.

The Officers.

The class has been for the past year under the guidance of Harold Baird, president; Wynema Woolverton, vice-president; Irma Stark, secretary; Del-

Learn to Get Into Your Own Dress Suit.

The book of instructions issued this year by the members of W. S. G. A. to be sent anonymously to male friends is entitled "How to Get Into a Dress Suit and What Not To Do in One."

An excerpt from page 1 reads thus:

"After acquiring a suit see that it is wrinkled around the collar and baggy at the knees,—this is, always the proper identification of a borrowed suit.

"Get a large shirt, one not too large, however, as one's head is apt to slip through or become pinioned on a collar point. Never mind collar buttons—remember them in time to yell loudly for the articles some twenty minutes before 9. Such a call always brings response from everybody but the man who borrowed yours.

"Always buy three collars, the last one will fit. Tie your tie, comb your hair, and try and put on the trousers. It is always good form to try and put the suspenders under shirt. At least ten minutes should be allotted to this. After putting on coat and waistcoat, remember to look down; better men than you have forgotten shirt studs.

"After rushing wildly, calling a cab, waiting ten minutes for it and rushing to her door with Lochinvar apologies upon your lips listen to her sorority sister ask you to come in and wait. One hour later try dancing; this often discloses discrepancies in shingle nails, buttons, holes and garters.

"Moral: Dances may come and dances may go, but some dress suits go on forever."

bert Cawley, treasurer, and Clyde Murphy, central board representative.

Tick Baird has served his class well. He was a member of the frosh basketball team and has played on the varsity for three years, acting as captain for the 1923 season. Tick has always been active in school affairs. He was also president of the class last year.

Wynema Woolverton has devoted herself to the serving of the University. She took an active part in the publication of the 1922 Sentinel. She is a member of Kappa Tau, Theta Sigma Phi and Penetralla.

Irma Stark was elected May Queen yesterday. She is also a member of Penetralla.

Delbert Cawley was a member of the Montana debating squad last year. Clyde Murphy was president and manager of the A. S. U. M. and a debater.

Prom Queen Announced at Annual Dance Next Friday Evening.

Friday night at 9 o'clock sharp the class of '24 will start the annual junior promenade in honor of the senior class. The dance has been planned so as to make it as distinctive as possible from all other proms and to set a precedent in junior proms on the campus. It will include two nights.

The new gymnasium has been secured and a new scheme of decorating will be followed. Special treatment is being given the floor so as to insure an excellent and capacious dancing space. Smoking, lounging and rest rooms are being arranged for.

An eight-piece Sheridan's orchestra will play for the prom Friday night, and six pieces Saturday night. Several new dance hits will be featured by Terpsichorean artists.

During a special dance, the "Prom Queen" will be announced and crowned as queen of the dance. A contest for the honor among the senior women will be held this week.

Freshmen will be permitted to attend the prom this year, by action of the Traditions committee. The dance will be formal, but the class has voted against the giving of flowers. The dance on Saturday night will be informal. Tickets for the prom are $1.50 and $1.00 for the second night.

The committees for the dance are as follows: Decorations, Helen Faick, Helena Badger, Elizabeth Eggleston, Ben Quinn, Ronald McDonnell and Helen Newman; music, Otis Benson, Kirk Badgley and Burt Teats; programs and chaperones, Florence Roethke, Mercedes O'Malley, Benlah Trotter and Mildred McQuarrie; advertising, Chester Watson, Burt Walker, Avon Fraser and Richard Crandell. Charles Gleason is in charge of the ticket sales.

HOODLUMS ENTER HOUSE AND STEAL SISTERS' CANDY

Hysterics Feature Candy Pull of the Alpha Phis.

A gang of hoodlums broke into the Alpha Phi house last night, switched off the lights, snatched some candy that the women were making, and made a speedy get-away, tipping over the house furniture as they went. Several of the girls went into hysterics.

According to members of the chapter, the rowdies are the same ones who have been engaging in such practices recently, making the various sorority houses the scene of their visits. The men have been seen on different occasions, and are not University students, say the University women.

NOTICE.

Decorating, according to Helena Badger, chairman of decoration committee, will start Wednesday night. All junior men and women are requested to report at the new gym at 7:30. A large amount of work is necessary to put the gym in good shape, and it is imperative that the junior class turn out in a body. Work on floor will commence as soon as decorating is finished.

NOTICE.

The Areme club will have a joint meeting with the Trowel club and University DeMolays tonight at 8 o'clock at the University church. All Areme members should show up at this meeting.

HELEN MCGREGOR,
Vice-President.
