CUBS DEPART FOR PULLMAN TO MIX WITH COUGAR FROSH

Adams Takes Nineteen Men to Battle With Strong W. S. C. Yearling Team

The Grizzly Cubs left last night on No. 3 of the Northern Pacific for Pullman, Wash., where they will tangle with the powerful Washington State College yearling eleven Saturday. Coach Adams will take a squad of 19 men, including all the regulars and several of the second string men, who were in the game against the Aggies last week. The Cubs will face one of the strongest freshman teams in the west Saturday. The Cougar line averages 185 pounds, outweighing the Cub line 20 pounds.

Coach Adams will take the following men: Crimmins, Kain, Cogswell, Fletcher, Howard Varney, Levin, McNiven, Schell, DeVeber, Burrell, Coyle, Thompson, Kelly, Sweet, Place, Ritter, Cochran, Wagstaff, and one other late selection. Adams is pleased with the showing made by the Cubs in the recent game with the Aggies, saying that the improvement in general all-around play since the opening game with Hamilton has been surprising. Last night in a short scrimmage with the Varsity the Cubs completed numerous forward passes in sensational style. Brilliant passing and spectacular open field running have been the chief features of the Cub attack.

The Cougar frosh will have the following men in the fray tomorrow: Kramer and Hansen, both 190-pounders, at tackle; Reed, Nichols, Jackey, a giant from Walla Walla; Dixon, Koenig and Bucklin in the backfield; Shanger, Wiggins and Reed for guards. The ends will be Iowe, Cady and Chapman, while either Brown of North Central or Smith of Walla Walla will be at center. This will be the first game of the season for the Cougars, while the Cubs have a slight advantage of having played two important contests. Last year the Cougars trounced the frosh soundly on Dornblaser field, 40 to 0, but the Cub team of last year does not compare with the Cub eleven this fall.

The Cubs have two more important games after Saturday's battle. On November 2, the Idaho freshmen come to Missoula to scrap with the Cubs, while a regular game between the Cubs and the Varsity is scheduled November 24. Coach Adams says that he is considering a game with the Hub team, a professional eleven of Butte. If present plans materialize this game will be played in Butte, the week following the Idaho game.

INTER-FRAT BASKETBALL WILL BEGIN IN DECEMBER

Elimination System to Be Used This Year; All Games Will Be Played Before Christmas

The first game of the inter-fraternity basketball series will be played about December 3, stated Nat McKown, president of the Inter-fraternity council.

It is the desire of the fraternities and of the athletic department of the University that all the games be played off before Christmas this year. There will be seven games played altogether during the tournament, a process of straight elimination being used.

The final schedule of games is as follows:

First game—Alpha Delta Alpha vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Second game—Sigma Alpha vs. Sigma Chi.

Third game—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Alpha Tau Omega.

Fourth game—Sigma Nu vs. Phi Delta Theta.

The winner of game one plays the winner of game two; winner of game three plays winner of game four. The winner of the first set plays the winner of the second set for the championship.

In order to hold the cup permanently a fraternity must win three championships. Last year Sigma Chi won from Phi Delta, making their second leg on the cup. There are two other fraternities which have two wins to their credit. They are Phi Delta Theta and Phi Sigma Kappa.

ELROD, FREEMAN SPEAK AT WELL ATTENDED S.O.S.

English Professor Tells of Experiences in England and on the Continent

About 400 students attended the second S. O. S. of the year last night in preparation for the football game Saturday between the Grizzlies and Gonzaga.

Dr. Elrod, of the biology department, was the first speaker on the program. He urged Montana students to appreciate the opportunities and advantages offered here and to make the most of them.

Then reverting to the custom of former years, with the exception of last year, 19 men were tapped for Bear Paw, sophomore honorary society organized for the purpose of enforcing Montana's traditions.

The last speaker was Professor Freeman of the English department, who has just returned from a year's leave of absence. Having traveled in Europe and England, he told "how they do it in other institutions."

First Varsity Day Huge Success; Freshmen Win in Class Fights

Yes, the first Varsity day was a huge success. Even the sophos, who suffered a 20 to 5 defeat in the class fights, admit that. The bleachers were packed while the field events were going on; also the gym, during the dances.

It was predicted that very few students would see fit to attend the Wednesday morning dance, because of the early hour, but such was not the case. By 9 o'clock the gym was filled and those coming late had to retire to the running track to find standing room. The morning dance, which continued till 10:30, was followed by the class fights.

The sophos won the initial event, the tub rush, handsly. The frosh were dispatched with all due ceremony. "Fat" Libby was a mean boy for the sophos to handle but finally he was rolled into the plunge. The frosh won the obstacle race by an eyelash and also handed the sophos a trimming in the sack rush. This event had all the earmarks of concluding in a different manner than had been planned. It is a mystery that Ed Buck is still in one piece. "Ed," a loyal sophomore, seeing that his team was in for a thumping, conceived the bright idea of depositing sacks that rightfully belonged to the frosh, over the sophomore line. This action met with the stern disapproval of the frosh, who started pouring out of the stands with malicious intent. After a short argument the mob was finally dispersed and Buck saved.

The farce football game, following the afternoon dance, fulfilled all expectations. The kicking of "Fat" Libby and the officiating of Prexy Clapp were the main features. The final score was: Cake-eaters, 6; Sheiks, 6.

The frosh-soph relay to the "M" was a thriller. Machgan, running for the sophomores, put his team-mates ahead, but half way to the "M" the frosh took the lead and held it till the finish.

The jousts, which were the final events of the class fights, were also won by the freshmen. Final score: Frosh, 20; sophos, 5.

Dancing began in the evening at 7:30 and continued till 10. Sheridan's three-piece orchestra furnished the music.

KNUTE ROCKNE'S ELEVEN MAY PLAY ON COAST CHRISTMAS

Winner of California-Stanford Game May Mix With Easterners

University of California, Berkeley, Oct. 23.—If the plans of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce are completed, Notre Dame, without doubt one of the wonder teams of the year, will journey to the coast to play the winner of the Stanford-California game either Christmas or New Year's day, at the California or Stanford stadium as the case may be.

Eustace Cullinan, well-known San Francisco attorney and Notre Dame alumnus, who together with President Colbert Coldwell of the Chamber of Commerce has launched the movement to bring Knute Rockne's eleven to the coast. Should such a contest be promulgated it would be a real intersectional struggle in every sense of the word.

THETA SIGMA PHI SELLS 1,000 DOUGHNUTS TO CROWD

One thousand doughnuts were sold to campus consumers on Varsity day for five cents each by members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism fraternity.

The money made from the sale will go to the Women's National Journalism Register, located in Chicago, Ill., which finds positions for women in journalism all over the United States.

Benefit Dance for Band Will Come Off Tonight

The Grizzly band will give a dance tonight at the Winter Garden for the benefit of the uniform fund. Sheridan's six-piece orchestra will furnish the dance, which will be strictly a University affair.

"We want especially to get as many alumni out as possible," said Bill Cogswell, chairman of the dance committee.

Three organizations have postponed social functions for tonight so that everyone can attend. The sale of tags netted half enough money for the uniforms, and the remainder is to be made from the dance. Tickets will be $1.

WASHINGTON STUDENT FIRES AT MARAUDER WHO ESCAPES

Four Shots Fired at Would-be Looter of Fraternity Houses

University of Washington, Oct. 24.—A burglar, supposed to be the one who had looted nine fraternity houses in the past three weeks, was nearly trapped at the Delta Chi house at 3 o'clock the morning of the 22nd. The Delta Chi house had maintained an armed guard for a number of nights, leaving the doors open in the hope of trapping the man. The guard fired four shots, but the burglar was able to jump through a window and escape.

LeClaire, school nurse, yesterday. "They must report to my office, and they will be given the examination there."

Reports on the doctors' fees who conducted medical examinations for new students have been turned in. The fees of the doctors who participated amount to $424. All Missoula doctors aided in the examinations.

Mrs. LeClaire's office is located in Simpkins hall. The waiting room is to the left of the entrance, and the office is the first door on the right. The office is open from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m.

GONZAGA BULLDOGS TO MEET GRIZZLIES HERE TOMORROW

TWELVE VOCATIONAL MEN GIVEN FOREST POSITIONS

Majority of Ex-Service Men Are Majoring in Forestry Department

Twelve men have been rehabilitated and left the vocational department of the University in the past three months, according to M. L. Swift, head of the Montana University vocational school.

The majority of these finished in forestry and have been given good positions in the United States Forestry service. Swift gave out the following facts regarding the number of men taking vocational training and in what departments they are working. There are 90 men registered in the department. Thirty-four are taking forestry; 29, business administration; two, chemistry; three, pharmacy; one, economics and sociology; four, education; ten, law, and seven are in the school of journalism.

"The training is undoubtedly a success as the results show, but in the future we expect even bigger things from these rehabilitated men," said Swift when asked as to the value of the work.

PREXY CLAPP FAVORS SOPHOMORE PLEDGING

System Will Go Into Effect as Soon as University Can House All Freshmen

Sophomore pledging by fraternities and sororities will go into effect at the University as soon as there are enough dormitories to house all freshman students, President C. H. Clapp announced yesterday.

"The present system has too many disadvantages," President Clapp said, "and if the dormitory capacity was now large enough, I would not hesitate to put it into effect tomorrow. Just when we will be in a position to introduce the new plan, I do not know, but when the time comes, I intend to give fraternities ample notice so they may be prepared for it."

President Clapp condemned the rushing season, which, he declared, "seriously upsets the studies of both the rushee and the fraternity man, and hurts the standing of the man not rushed." Under the new system the University hopes, he said, to employ trained directors and give what he said would be "better social training than the freshman could get in the fraternity house the first year."

"The sophomore system will enable the freshman to have a better insight into fraternity life and will allow him more time to look the fraternities over. Then, too, it gives fraternities a better chance to choose their men, and would also keep from their ranks prospective members who would remain only a few quarters in school."

The present system, if maintained with all freshmen pledges living in dormitories would still be unsatisfactory, the president said, for dissension might arise among the various fraternity factions. This condition has not existed this year, however, President Clapp said.

The system is in use at many eastern universities, and would be maintained at western colleges if they had the proper dormitory facilities, he said.

DORMS EXCHANGE GUESTS.

Fifty dinner guests were exchanged by the two women's dormitories last evening. Miss Inez Bosworth, accompanied by 50 North hall girls, had dinner at Craig hall, while Miss Carrie MacLay and 50 Craig hall girls had dinner at North hall.

MISS GWINN TO HELENA.

Miss Maude Gwinn, secretary of the YWCA, left last evening for Helena, where she will visit at the Montana Wesleyan college. Miss Gwinn will also go to Dillon to visit the State Normal college.

Dopsters Favor Spokane Team in Annual Game—Grizzly Players Injured

The Montana Grizzlies and the Gonzaga University Bulldogs are ready for the impending struggle on Dornblaser field Saturday afternoon. Both teams have spent the last week priming themselves for the encounter, which will be the first time that a Gonzaga eleven has ever met a Montana gridiron team in Missoula. It will be the most momentous struggle that the Grizzlies face this season. Head Coach Stewart has bent every effort to strengthen the Varsity defense and to find the most eligible men to fill the positions left vacant by the men who are out of the game because of injuries. Big John Shaffer, the most seriously injured of all, is a bulwark of defense and the most accurate passer from the center position.

The Spokane team will enter the contest Saturday a heavy favorite. They have had a long training period with a team composed of veterans, and have triumphed over the Washington State college team, recognized as one of the strongest teams in the northwest. Gonzaga has a strong, fast line and it is linked into a triple threat backfield, a backfield that can run, pass and punt.

The Montana defense will find Stockton, Garrity, Bross and Sweeney one of the fastest and hardest backfields that it will meet this season. Stockton, star Bulldog backfield man, is playing with two broken ribs as a result of a smashup in the W. S. C. game two weeks ago. The visitors will have a decided weight advantage over the Varsity. It is estimated that it will be about 10 pounds to the man.

The contest Saturday is expected to be featured by a bewildering aerial attack. Gonzaga is a recognized exponent of the overhead style. Coach Dorais uses a triple threat formation and in the open attack the passer is always screened behind two or more men. Last week in the Gonzaga-Multnomah game the Bulldogs attempted 30 passes and completed a large number of them, one going for over 40 yards.

Many Grizzlies Injured.

Many of the members of the Varsity squad are suffering from injuries sustained in the School of Mines and Idaho games. Shaffer, big center on the team, is suffering from rheumatism in one of his knees, injured shoulder and a fracture of the arm.

FALL BASEBALL MEN PRACTICING DAILY

Frosh and Upperclassmen Showing Good Form in Pre-Season Workouts

The fall baseball squad will continue its workouts on the old diamond as long as the good weather continues. The work is confined chiefly to hitting practice as the diamond is too rough to permit infield workouts.

The majority of the men reporting for practice are freshmen, although a few older men are coming out. O'Connor and Rover, pitchers, have been out regularly, and Clarence Anderson, a second-sacker, who has played with the Forsyth town team, is going through the daily grind. He is a neat fielder and raps the pellet soundly. Anderson did not attend the University last year, but showed up well his freshman year.

Of the frosh, Spitzer, an infielder; Woods, a catcher from Great Falls, and Casey, an outfielder, have been out from the first and are exhibiting some real class. Boynton Page, a backstop from Twin Bridges, meets the pill hard and frequently. He has played on the town and high school teams in his home town. One of the hardest hitting of the new men is Boone of Anaconda. He is a big fellow and grasps the willow near the handle and sends the ball to the far corners of the lot.

Coach Buck Stowe is working with the younger men teaching them the proper methods of holding the club and meeting the ball. Ray (Hap) Kibble, Varsity third sacker two years ago, was out swinging his cudgel with the squad yesterday.

Varsity Day

THE University's first Varsity day was a success both from point of attendance and in the class of entertainment put on for the crowd. Manager McDonnell is to be congratulated on the way in which the events went off.

Handicapped by the precedent set by the last few sneak days, Varsity day drew a crowd that surprised older students who have witnessed the poor support given to its antecedent. The day's program met with the hearty approval of the student body and the management can be thanked for making Varsity day an annual University affair.

Credit must also be given to the members of the two freak football teams who placed themselves in somewhat ridiculous positions that the day might be made a success. And in passing out the praise we will not leave out the freshmen that ran on the sophomore relay team so that the race might go on, while the sophomore men sat on their bleachers.

A Communication

(By PROFESSOR E. L. FREEMAN)

EDITOR KAIMIN: You reprove twelve freshmen who played basketball and many others who for some reason did not boost a good team in the Cub-Bob Kitten game last Saturday. Over the last four years I recall many Kaimin editorials deploring the small attendance at athletic games. I take it all to mean that we demand that a good member of the University will always, or as often as possible, put aside his own pleasure, or even his work, to support the team.

Does this logic hold, Mr. Editor, for all University teams? Are we to expect that when our debate team meets the State College team this winter, you will write a reproving editorial if you hear of twelve football men who attend a dance instead of coming to the debate? I speak only of debate because I know best of the attendance-support debaters have given to athletics and that athletes have given to debate.

It would be embarrassing to write so parsimoniously, if I did not think this is all a wrong philosophy of loyalty. I have never condemned students or faculty who did not come to debates. I try to accept the small audiences as criticism of debating—of the system, not the coaching. In my better moments, at least, I do not want those not interested in the debate to come—and, I emphasize, they do not come. It is a pathetic thing to see an adult who has no intelligent interest in a discussion, supporting one debate team against another—just as it is a stupid thing to see an adult who doesn't know a foul from a fumble sit shivering and shouting for one team against another.

It is not for me or for anyone to say that any person, or worse, every person, should be interested in a debate or in a game, as a spectator. I do feel that every student ought to be interested in both sport and serious discussion, as a participator. More "participating" interest would probably increase the attendance at public contests. But I do not believe that our highly organized intercollegiate athletics will produce this interest. We ought not to overlook the constant evidence on this point, that is in our continually having to humor, beg, and cajole students into going to the game and yelling (even after their admission is paid.) And I cannot believe that Montana students are lacking either in robust physical enthusiasm, or in loyalty to what deserves loyalty.

I think we must achieve an idea and a spirit that will get more students into the game; then play it for the fun of playing, and let who will come to watch the struggle. Debating needs exactly the same re-philosophizing. Intercollegiate debates are now entirely too specialized. A few men work especially hard, a lukewarm student body is urged to support the team, and "a miserable time is had by all." We need more students to take part in a more spontaneous and less perfected discussion, the discussion to be held for its own sake and not for decisions, and the audience to come from those who will come. Incidentally these are tasks for more than coaches.

I hope this is disinterested criticism. I have paid in broken bones and in dollars of admission for my interest in athletics, and will continue to keep it. But I cannot think a friend lacking in the right spirit if he does not pretend to have an interest in the same activity. If a football player sees half-filled bleachers on a good day, I think he ought to conclude that half the University does not care for his game, and then ask if the game is not worth playing for its own sake. I repeat, that is what the football player and others forced the debater to do for consolation, long ago.

I believe, too, in loyalty to our institution. Loyalty would be involved, I think, when a considered, and not an hereditary, athletic or debate policy had been adopted, by the University community, and those who thought it logical, were called to stand hard by it, and those who, as honestly, did not believe in it, to stand hard against it. Loyalty, even to an institution, is more a matter of individual decision than of mass action.

Truly yours,
E. L. FREEMAN.

Enjoys Varsity Day

Dear Maw: I don't know what to say Much more than we had Varsity day Last Wednesday; 'fore I hit the hay I'll tell you some about it. We started dancin' in the gym, And every girl from fat to slim Was dancin' round with agile limb Havin' more darn fun.

Then we went out round the tub, The Sophs they tried to put each dubb Of the Frosh class in and make him blub Cold water, an' they done it. But that's the only thing they won, 'Cause after that they made things hum, For when the program had been done The Frosh were named the winners.

Say Maw, they had a football game And that one surely wasn't tame, 'Cause each man in it sure was game—Not like the Aggie Frosh. One guy wore some three-yard boots, When he was tackled, out he shoots A foot and sends 'em on their snoots—Gosh, I laff.

Then the female campus crumbs Dresses up and out they comes A sellin' doughnuts. The big bums Soaked us a nickle for 'em. The darn cakes were mostly holes, The rims were tough as father's soles, And yet the nicksles came in rolls—I guess, in sympathy.

An' Prexy Clapp he referees The football game and tries to please Both sides, an' done it. Say, Maw, he's A sport if ever was one. Then right away, Maw, after tea, We washed up fast, so we could be On hand to shake a wicked knee At the evenin' dance.

When ten o'clock struck by the bell, My feller met me, slicked up swell, And took me home. Yours, ANNABELLE.

Tickets may also be procured at the Campus store.

The train will leave Missoula at 6 a. m. November 17, arriving in Bozeman at 12 o'clock, and leave Bozeman about 2 o'clock the following morning, allowing time for the evening entertainment.

It has been estimated that the entire trip will cost the student less than $15, and Aho suggests that everyone lay aside that much about the first of the month and begin preparations for the trip.

CLUB DELEGATES ARE DORMITORIES' GUESTS

Mrs. Margaret Souders of Red Lodge, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Pace of Whitehall, vice-president; Mrs. Wigginton of Billings, a member of the executive board, and Miss Wichen of the Red Cross were entertained at dinner at North and Craig halls last night. They are delegates to the six-district meeting of Women's clubs.

Last evening 75 Missoula women called to meet the delegates between the hours of 8 and 10 at the home of Dean Harriet Sedman.

Soothing Serenade Not Well Received By Sleeping Maids

Ten thirty, and all the little Craig hall co-eds are signed in, although some of them are all in, others not in as yet—comes wafted up through the cool night air the twilight sonata from Onecowski. Each little sister sits up very straight in bed, or in anything else she may have on, and to each comes the thought, "Can he be serenading me?"

The last sad note is plucked from a piano, and silence disturbs the night. Only the rustle of quietly raised shades, of soulful sighs break the space where Haley's comet and some other fast boys desport.

Then, as if sprung from a well of pre-Volstead or some other forgotten civilization, the swan song of a coo-coo calling good-bye to his loved ones, comes in, halting, faltering, then passionate eruptions. Ah! this time the co-eds no longer doubt. It is not he. It is only him. Prof. Alder is composing the "Welcome Song" from Fireside. He does it nearly every night except Sunday morning, and the room rent on the South side of Craig hall is to be lowered.

Engineering and industrial subjects are studied by one-fourth the persons who take correspondence-study courses under the Wisconsin University extension division.

LENNES' MATH TEXT IS PRAISED BY EDUCATORS

"The Teaching of Arithmetic," by Professor N. J. Lennes of the mathematics department of the University, has been highly commended by some of the most prominent educational men of the state. Professor Lennes' book was published last April and came out in May. Since that time its popularity as a reliable textbook for the public schools has grown rapidly. According to the many letters of congratulation from various prominent school men in the state which Professor Lennes has received since the publication of the book, its popularity will continue to grow.

Following is an extract from "The Journal of Education":

"Professor Lennes has produced a really great book on the art of teaching numbers. He has evidently mastered all the worth-while recent writings on the subject, and has weighed them with great care, forming clear opinions as to their service to superintendents, principals, and their class teachers."

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA GLEE CLUB WILL MAKE TOUR

University of California, Berkeley, Oct. 22.—Eighteen members of the Varsity Glee club of the University of California will leave Berkeley on November 8 for the annual trip to Los Angeles before the game with the University of Southern California.

Three shows will be given by the club during its stay in the south, one at the Jefferson High school in Los Angeles and one at the Hollywood High school. At the southern branch of the University of California the third performance will be presented.

UNIVERSITY SENDS OUT CATALOGUE OF SLIDES

University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 25.—Three thousand catalogues containing a list of free educational lantern slides have just come off the press, and are being mailed to the high schools and places of public education throughout the state. There are 232 sets comprising 8781 separate slides listed in the catalogue, according to Alfred Powers, assistant director of the extension division, in charge of visual education.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL MEN COACHED BY MAIL

Football coaches, members of high school football teams, and others interested in the sport may receive expert instruction in the technique of the game this fall through the correspondence-study course in football, now offered by the University of Wisconsin Extension division.

This course, which was prepared last fall by Professor Guy S. Lowman, director of the University of Wisconsin gymnasium, is especially popular at this time of year, as those who take it can immediately apply the principles learned while in training and in playing the game.

Previous to last year, such a course had never been given by any university, according to Professor W. H. Lighty, secretary of the correspondence-study department. Coaching in this subject has heretofore been available only in the summer session. Under the present plan, however, anyone interested may obtain expert coaching through correspondence and individual assistance by means of the series of assignments and reports.

"It affords an opportunity for the most up-to-date and correct type of coaching, and for the promotion of the best standards of sportsmanship," said Professor Lighty.

Professor Lowman, who prepared the course, has been a football coach since 1905, has played and coached in the east as well as in the west, has acted as coach at the University of Missouri, Kansas State Agricultural college, and has been an experienced scout for six years in the Western conference.

Two other correspondence-study courses in basketball, and track and field athletics, prepared last year, afford an opportunity for expert instruction in these sports. Dr. W. E. Maxwell, varsity basketball coach, and Professor T. E. Jones, chairman of the department of physical education, are in charge of these courses, which are especially popular during the months of the year in which basketball and track and field athletics are the seasonal sports.

Helen Peterson, '27, has withdrawn from school for the remainder of this quarter and returned to her home in Butte.

Six Wisconsin counties sent more than 100 students each to the University of Wisconsin this year.

How to select maps for school work is a subject taught to prospective teachers by the University of Wisconsin.

More than 300 students majored in the University of Wisconsin this year, the four-year course in journalism of working for the professional degree.

Sheiks, Cake-Eaters Struggle to 6-6 Tie in Varsity Day Fray

Thunderous applause greeted Captains "Spike" Doggett and "Daisy" Davies as they scuttled onto the field, followed by their husky battlers, to take part in the annual clash between the Sheiks and Cake-eaters. The band played "Nearer My God to Thee" as the two elevens went through hitting and fielding practice, and a few moments later Theta Sig doughnuts dropped to two for a nickel.

Both Cake-eaters and Sheiks looked to be in perfect shape, especially Ronnie McDonnell's feet, and handled the ball with ease. Finally Prexy Clapp found his whistle and the game was on. Allen caught McElver's kick-off on the 25-yard line and threw him out at first. Cogswell, next up, carried the ball around right end for eight yards, but was stopped by a vicious right hook from Alden. He was saved from a knockout by the bell. The Sheiks made eight grade points on the Whiskey formation, Volstead back, and Hogarty flipped one through the net from the middle of the floor, making the first touchdown of the game, while Benson, using the emergency football, scored a counter for his side. Score, 6 to 6.

The Cake-eaters then got busy and knocked Benson from the box. Murray, first up in the fifth, carefully chalked his cue and shot the three ball in the side pocket. The stands went wild. The Eight-hour Shift, Gompers back, was then tried, but Doggett got the hammer lock on Blair, who was carrying the ball, and pinned him to the mat for a two-yard loss. With the count 2 to 3, Peterson smashed a hard liner to Dutton, who caught the ball and raced around left end for the Cake-eaters' first touchdown. The score was tied. In the next round Weidam rushed from his corner and attempted a drop kick from the middle of the field. Murphy swung viciously with his racket and knocked the ball out of bounds.

With the ball in the center of the field and the score tied, both teams fought bitterly. The fierce punting of Doggett was counteracted by Crandell's floor work. Both sides made fizzes of the aerial game, as the radiator and propeller were both missing and the parachute drop did not mature as was premeditated by the dopsters. As the whistle blew the Cake-eaters were using the new Social Function formation (which is barred in most schools). Sedman back, firesides out, with 8:30, 9:30 or maybe 10:30.

O. A. C. TEAM MEMBERS BARELY ESCAPE DEATH

University of California, Berkeley, Oct. 21.—Members of the Oregon Aggie team who were to take part in the California-Aggie football game last Saturday narrowly escaped injury when the car in which they were riding was struck and overturned Saturday morning while they were sightseeing. There were six members of the Aggie team in the car.

GRIZZLIES TO TANGLE WITH GONZAGA TEAM

tured bone in his ankle. It will be impossible for the big fellow to get in Saturday's game. He is a valuable man and will be missed, for he is a strong point in the defense and is the key to the offensive. Ted Plummer, regular halfback, is suffering from a ruptured diaphragm and it is probable that he will not be able to start in the game. Wilcox, giant lineman, is still out of the game nursing torn ligaments in his knee. Many of the men are enduring slight injuries received in the Butte game.

The Grizzlies showed marked improvement in the game last Saturday. The line charged faster and harder and the backfield hit harder and picked holes like seasoned veterans. The visitors are picked to win, but there will be a conflict from beginning to end.

The probable line-up of the two teams is as follows:

Montana.	Gonzaga.
O. Dahlberg	Needles
Moe	Center.
Taylor	Right guard.
G. Dahlberg	Right tackle.
Silvernale	Right end.
Plummer	Quarterback.
	Fullback.
	Garrity

In practice last night the second team went over the Varsity for three touchdowns and the first team was held to one counter.

Professor Merriam Gets Letter From Bert Teats

Bert Teats, '23, winner of the Rhodes scholarship last year, has been in attendance at Oxford two weeks. In a letter to Professor H. G. Merriam, written aboard ship October 6, Teats said that he was sailing with 30 other Oxford students.

"It is an interesting crew, this of ours," he writes. "What surprises me is the versatility of the more noticeable men; here is one from Arizona and its university, a graduate of chemistry who knows Wells, Conrad, Galsworthy, Masfield and the rest of the galaxy more intimately than any other aboard; here is one from Rhode Island, a law student, who can expound the nebular hypothesis in all its variations; here is one from Maine, a history student, who can read the heavens like an astronomer."

Teats stated that the eastern and western men mixed much better than either did with the south. The southern men are large and athletic, while the western and eastern men are smaller and not inclined toward athletics.

INTERFRATERNITY TRACK AT UNIVERSITY OF CAL.

University of California, Oct. 21.—On Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock fraternity athletes of the University of California will again be seen in action. This time it will be an interfraternity track meet on the California oval.

The meet will be run off on Tuesday and Thursday.

The first five places will count so each house will have a better chance to score points. Any man is eligible for entrance but all Varsity and numeral men will not be able to compete in their own event.

OREGON ROOTERS CHANGE CALIFORNIA "C" TO AN "O"

University of California, Berkeley, Oct. 21.—Rooters from Oregon Agricultural College transformed the "C" on Charter Hill at the University of California, into an "O" sometime Friday night previous to the California vs. Aggie football game. Cloth stretched across the mouth of the "C" gave it the appearance of an "O" when viewed from a distance.

It was first noticed by students on Saturday morning. Upon notification the custodian of the "C" committee removed the cloth.

GIRL RIFLE ENTHUSIASTS WILL MEET NEXT MONDAY

Monday afternoon there will be a meeting of all girls who are interested in making the girls' rifle team. The meeting will take place in the armory at 4 o'clock.

About 65 girls are expected, and according to Major Smith all applicants will be given an equal chance.

Major Smith expects to pick out 15 girls to represent the girls' rifle team. These will not be picked until the end of the autumn quarter. The captain of the team will not be chosen until the final 15 girls have been picked. Marcia Patterson was captain of the team last year.

Paul Rundlett, vocational student, is in St. Patrick's hospital with pneumonia.
