UNDEFEATED GRIZZLY CUBS TO MEET HEAVY IDAHO FROSH

Montana Frosh Aching for Revenge Because of Last Year's 46-0 Score

The undefeated Grizzly Cubs are due for a tough battle this afternoon when they line up against the Idaho yearlings. According to the dope the Vandals have a fast, heavy team, with a smashing offensive and plenty of fight. Thus far they have played but one game, beating Gonzaga's second team 37-0.

The Cubs have recovered from the injuries received in the W. S. C. game and are in the best of condition. A short scrimmage with the Varsity was held Wednesday afternoon, the only one of the week.

Kelly, Sweet, Ritter and Place are all in top-notch shape and will give Idaho plenty to worry about. All are fast, shifty, experienced men and form one of the most powerful backfields seen on Dornblaser field in many a day.

The manner in which the light Cub line held back the heavier W. S. C. aggregation was a big surprise. The Cub line-men are small, but—The work of Captain Crimmins at tackle, DeVeber at end, and Cogswell at guard against W. S. C. was little short of sensational.

Last year the Vandal frosh walked over the Cubs to a tune of 46 to 0. Today the Cubs are aching for revenge. Their victory over the powerful W. S. C. freshmen eleven has given them confidence and from all indications the Vandals should be the victims of a sad surprise.

GIRL RECEIVES INJURIES WHEN TEST TUBE EXPLODES

Maureen Desmond of Dillon, a member of the freshman class, was burned yesterday morning while performing an experiment in Professor Howard's chemistry laboratory.

Miss Desmond was heating a glass tube of water when it exploded and threw boiling water in her face. She was taken to the nurse by members of her class and her injuries were treated. The burns, though painful, are not serious. It is thought that Miss Desmond will again attend classes Monday.

FATHER OF MISS BURKE IS DEAD IN SPOKANE

Word was received yesterday of the death of Tom Burke, father of Monica F. Burke, former assistant registrar at the University. Mr. Burke died suddenly in a Spokane hospital. He will be buried Saturday in Missoula.

Miss Burke is taking a post-graduate course in institutional management at Columbia university. She arrived in Missoula last night.

MONEY CHANGERS INITIATE

J. D. Loveless of Winnett and Louis M. Solberg of Big Timber were initiated into Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity, Tuesday evening after a banquet at the Florence hotel.

FRONTIER WILL APPEAR ON CAMPUS NEXT WEEK

Literary Magazine Will Contain Variety of Prose, Verse, Plays and Reviews

The Frontier will be on the campus the first of next week. It contains contributions from a variety of departments and is confined to no particular field, according to the editors. The price has been changed this year and the magazine will cost students less for a year's subscription than formerly.

Two graduates have submitted work which is being published, and Mr. Brown has written a London letter; otherwise contributions come entirely from those active on the campus this year. The prose is varied but the verse is practically all of one type. Book reviews cover verse, fiction, plays and exposition.

Katherine Roach, who has charge of the subscriptions, has placed students in every hall and fraternity house to take student subscriptions.

Big Crowd at S. O. S. Prepares for Whitman

S.O.S. Thursday night was well attended and much enthusiasm was shown in the songs and yells. Bill Cogswell, first speaker of the program, congratulated the freshman team upon its victory over W.S.C., and urged the support of the student body in the coming games with Whitman and the Idaho freshmen. He also mentioned the importance of student support in the coming Aggie game and desired that everyone take the special train to Bozeman.

Captain Crimmins of the Cub eleven told of the appreciation felt by the freshman team for the support given them and asked that the same spirit be manifested during the Idaho game.

Captain R. E. Cummings, last speaker, talked of the coming game with Whitman. "Whitman demonstrated its strength against Washington and Oregon. Both these teams are exceptionally strong and Whitman held them to low scores," said the captain. "However, the Montana team has developed wonderfully in the past few weeks and we hope to defeat Whitman."

After singing "College Chums" the crowd dispersed.

CAST IS CHOSEN FOR "GOING UP"

Roger Williams Selects People for Parts in First Musical Comedy

The Masquers will present "Going Up," a musical comedy, Thanksgiving evening, November 29 and Friday evening, November 30. Director Roger Williams has selected the cast and they have begun rehearsing.

The leading parts of the play are all understudied. Fifty-six people are in the cast. The play is a musical comedy concerning the troubles of an author who wrote about aviation and then was challenged to put his theories into practice. According to New York reviews the play is both exciting and humorous.

The cast of principals is as follows: Gladys Price, Nan Walsh, Azlyn Mascotte, Louise Jaughin, Lillian Bell, Ellen Ford, Margaret Garber, Mary Kimball, Dorothy Rector, Alice Lease, Hazel Day, Mabel Smith, Richard Crandell, Ralph Edgington, Chester Watson, Martin Hudtloff, William Edgington, Stanley Libby, Ralph Stowe, Darrell Ramsey, Eugene Myers, Phillip Ring, Wendell Niles, Fenton Stone, Tom Long, Emery Gibson, Ronald McDonald, and Joe Sweeney.

There will be 32 people in the choruses.

CO-ED PLANS COMPLETED; TOMORROW IS BIG NIGHT

Prizes to Be Given for Best Costumes

Plans are entirely complete for the Co-ed prom in the gym tomorrow night, according to Helen McGee, chairman of committees. Music and eats have been procured, and judges have been selected for the stunts. Those who will act as judges are Mrs. C. H. Clapp, Mrs. Harriet Sedman, Mrs. Burley Miller and Miss Helen Gleason.

Stunts by the group houses on the campus will be presented first, and the latter part of the evening will be devoted to dancing. Al LeClaire and his orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing. At this time the prizes will be awarded for the funniest costume, and for the prettiest and most original costume.

EIGHT EUROPEAN PROFESSORS ON U. OF C. SUMMER FACULTY

Univ. of Cal., Berkeley, Oct. 29.—Eight professors from Europe will be members of the 1924 summer session faculty, it was announced by Guy Montgomery, assistant dean of the summer session of the University of California. Montgomery said it will be the largest group of foreign professors ever brought to the university. A broader outlook will be the result he hopes.

NORTH HALL FORMAL NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

Invitations for the North hall formal, November 9, were sent out yesterday afternoon. The dance will be given at the hall and will be formal for women only.

The dance is being planned by Miss Gulda Miller, chairman of the social arrangements committee, and Miss Anna Beckwith, president of North hall. Miss Mountcastle, social director of the hall, is supervising the work.

Shades of autumn will be carried through the entire decorating scheme. Sheridan's orchestra has been obtained for the occasion.

World's Best Artists Will Appear Before Missoula People This Year

Amelita Galli-Curci, Renato Zanelli, Arthur Rubenstein, and Paul Kochanski will appear under the Artists' Course for the season 1923-24 in Missoula, according to Dean De Loss Smith, director of the course. Definite dates are not obtainable as yet, but these artists will appear during the winter. Season tickets will be six dollars.

"Never before have the people of Missoula and university students been offered so rare an assembly of artists," said Dean Smith.

Miss Galli-Curci, the soprano, will be assisted by Manuel Beranger, flutist, and Homer Samuels, pianist. Of Miss Galli-Curci's performance it is said that "no success of the century has been more spectacular."

Renato Zanelli, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera company, assisted by a pianist, will give one number of the course. The late Enrico Caruso was responsible for Mr. Zanelli's engagement at the Metropolitan. After scoring successes in South America, the young baritone secured an audience with Caruso, who advised him to try out with the Metropolitan. The result was a four-year contract with that organization.

Arthur Rubenstein, pianist, will appear in joint recital with Paul Kochanski, violinist. On the occasion of Mr. Rubenstein's debut in New York, the late James Humeke, then writing in the New York Times, said that Rubenstein possessed undeniable qualities and traits enough to equip half a dozen pianists. J. W. Henderson spoke of his prodigious technique and H. E. Krehbiel complimented his lightning speed and marvelous elasticity.

Paul Kochanski was born at Warsaw thirty-three years ago. Mr. Kochanski's American debut was made at the concert of the New York Symphony orchestra, Walter Damrosch conducting, in Carnegie hall, in February, 1921. He then put to his credit five successful appearances in New York in five weeks. Mr. Kochanski was professor in the Conservatory of Music of Petrograd, which position he held from 1915-1918. When the Bolsheviks came into power, he was ordered to appear in many public recitals and concerts in Petrograd, receiving in payment the food cards of the revolution. After one year of this servitude an attempt was made to leave Russia. He was arrested at Kieff and commanded to serve as professor in the Kieff conservatory. In December, 1919, he succeeded in reaching Warsaw and then London, where he gave several recitals and played with the London Symphony orchestra.

PHARMACY STUDENTS ATTEND KAPPA PSI SOCIAL MEETING

All pharmacy students were invited to attend the social meeting of Kappa Psi, national pharmacy fraternity, last night at 8 o'clock in the old Science hall.

A. F. Peterson, president of the state board of pharmacy, and Luke Garvin, a druggist from Butte, were the speakers of the evening.

Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served.

WILLAMETTE FROSH DONATE CEMENT WALK FOR CAMPUS

Willamette University, Oct. 30.—The freshman class has chosen, as its first gift to the university, to donate a cement walk leading to the new gymnasium. Work has already been begun that it may be ready for Homecoming and the dedication of the gymnasium on November 10.

The journalism conference which Dean A. L. Stone was to attend in Chicago, has been postponed indefinitely, according to a telegram received by the dean yesterday.

THREE APPOINTED TO RUN RAZZ-FEST

Bill Hughes, Verne Needham and Howard Dogget were appointed on the High-Jinx committee by the Central Board at a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Student building.

These men will have charge of all general arrangements. It was planned to make High-Jinx in the future a demonstration of talent and accomplishments rather than the slap-stick comedy that has been displayed in the past.

High-Jinx will be held the night following the close of the fall quarter examinations.

HOME EC GIRLS OPEN TEA ROOM

"The Chocolate Shop," a tea room conducted by the Home Economics club, will be opened Friday, November 9, in the home economics department.

The shop will be open twice during each month from 3 until 5 o'clock, according to Frances McKinnon, president of the club. Hot chocolate, sandwiches and cake will be served. According to Miss Helen Gleason, chairman of the home economics department, some special kind of cake or sandwiches will be featured each time the shop is open.

By conducting this shop, the majors in the department will put into practice some of the theories they learn in the department. Money secured over expenses will be used for establishing a loan fund for some home economics major who needs financial aid. Miss McKinnon will appoint committees each time the shop is opened.

GALLAGHER ANNOUNCES BEAR PAW COMMITTEES

"Bill" Gallagher, stunt duke of the Bear Paws, has named the following committees to serve that organization for the fall quarter:

Car committee—Bob Harper, chairman; Heeman Stark, Claude Peterson.

Pep Rally committee—Cullen Waldo, chairman; Clifton Sullivan.

Visiting Team committee—Ed Buck, chairman; Marvin Porter, Ben Brisco.

Social committee—Louis Stevens, chairman; Frank Chichester, Kenneth Davies.

Feature committee—Evan Reynolds, chairman; Reynold terKuile, Obbie Berg.

Service committee—Stanley Allen, chairman; John Geraghty.

CALIFORNIA PROM BIDS ON SALE AT FIVE DOLLARS

Univ. of Cal., Berkeley, Oct. 29.—Bids for the Junior Prom, to be given at the University of California, will go on sale at 8 o'clock on the morning of November 7. The price of the bids to the class formal has been set at $5. The admissions to all Junior day events will also be sold at that time, at additional cost. Hitherto students have waited in line all night for their bids to the prom, as there was a limited number of them. This year there are plenty of bids, and everyone will be taken care of who wishes to attend the prom.

FROSH ELECT PERMANENTLY.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon the freshman class permanently elected the class officers who were chosen a few weeks ago to serve as temporary officers. They are: President, Jack Diamond of Havre; vice-president, Catherine Jones of Butte; secretary, Helen Smith of Billings, and representative to the central board, Robert Worden of Great Falls.

NOTICE ROTC

The Whitman game being the last game of the season on the home grounds, it is the desire of the commandant to have the ROTC attend this game in a body.

All students who appear in uniform on the ROTC parade ground at 1:30 p. m. and march to the game will be given credit for one unexcused absence if they have any such absences; if not, they will be allowed to be absent from any one class during the remainder of the quarter except General Assemblies.

The Commandant wishes to stress the showing of school spirit at these games and it is believed that an uniformed cheering section will promote this spirit.

By order of Major Smith:
JACK W. HOWARD, Adjutant.

GRIZZLIES TO MEET WHITMAN IN LAST HOME GAME TOMORROW

ROTC Classes Excused For Two Football Games

"Boost for Montana" is the keyword of the ROTC.

This afternoon, all students who wish to attend the Cub-Idaho frosh game without receiving cuts must appear at ROTC headquarters at 3 o'clock, buy their tickets and march to the game in a body.

At the Whitman game Saturday afternoon any student who wishes to have an unexcused cut excused or wishes to take a cut at some future time must appear at the ROTC building at 1:30 o'clock, in uniform. Bill Gallagher will have a reserved section for the ROTC.

BASEBALL FIELD ENLARGED; DIRT USED TO MAKE LAWNS

Excavation on Sentinel Serves Double Purpose

Lawns about the new buildings are being made from the dirt taken from the foot of Mount Sentinel according to Tom Swearingen, maintenance engineer.

The excavations are also serving another purpose. Montana's baseball field is being made larger and there will be less excavating to do when the proposed Alumni-Challenge field is assured.

SNAPPY PEP RALLY TO END IN PARADE

Students Will Assemble on the Campus at 8:30—To Terminate in Big Snake Dance

The most important rally of the year as far as the University football season is concerned, will be held tonight as pep preliminary to the Grizzlies' last and most important home Conference game—against the husky Whitman team.

Everyone is expected to assemble promptly at 8:30 on the campus. After a few yells and songs are disposed of the march to town will begin. Everyone will form in line, hand in hand, and march down University avenue to Higgins and then head for the bridge and the business section of town. Here will begin the real snake dance, winding through the streets, around the corners, back and forth for several minutes. After the crowd assembles, short speeches by various members of the team and Coach Stewart will be in order.

According to William Cogswell, ASUM president, it is doubly important that every student in the institution turn out for this rally. The fate of the Grizzlies depends upon the support shown them tonight by the members of the student body, he says. The band will lead the procession with the old Montana songs.

NORTH AND SOUTH HALLS AGAIN EXCHANGE GUESTS

North and South halls exchanged dinner guests Wednesday evening. This is the second function of this kind this quarter.

Fifty women from North hall visited South hall and in return the men's dorm sent fifty members to the girls' hall. The meal was followed by dancing until eight o'clock.

NOTICE, D. A. V.

Garden City chapter No. 5 will hold regular meeting in the Masonic Temple after the University rally. This will be one of the most important meetings of the year. Be there.

GROVER JOHNSON, Commander.

ONE O'CLOCK PERMISSION.

The women living at Manbaita hall, University of Nevada, have been granted the closing hour of 1:00 o'clock on open nights in place of 12:00, which has been the rule until now.

NOTICE.

No purchases can be made for the ASUM without the authorization of a purchase order from Catherine Jones or Bill Aho.

Both Teams Light—Last Montana Victory Over Missionaries in 1916

The Grizzlies will tackle Coach "Nig" Borleske's fast Whitman team Saturday on Dornblaser field. It should be one of the nearest battles that the Montana gridiron followers have witnessed this season, replete with flame and action. The Missionaries have had the Indian sign on the Grizzlies for a number of seasons and have been defeated only once by the Varsity, the defeat coming in 1916.

Light But Strong

The Whitman aggregation has a light, strong line, with plenty of punch and speed in the backfield. They held the strong Oregon team to a 21 to 0 score and at times threatened to score on the heavy Webfooters. The Missionaries also held the powerful University of Washington club to a 19 to 0 score, the Huskies being able to score on them only in the last few minutes of play. The Walla Walla team plays a strong defensive game. They have a deadly tackling club. Though they are extremely light, weighing about as much as the average high school team, they are full of pep and will fight to the last ditch. Coach Borleske is issuing no optimistic predictions. In Cokerun, Bartholomew, Blakeney and Hall the visitors have a backfield that is always dangerous, hard hitting, and shifty.

Montana Going Strong

The Grizzlies have hit a pace that will be hard for any team in the Northwest to check. The line is charging low and hard, while the backfield men are much faster than they have been for some time and are picking holes like veterans. Last Wednesday they scored three touchdowns (one on the powerful frosh team) and pushed the second team all over the field, scoring almost at will on them. Montana is fighting and has the spirit that will make them hard to whip.

The Grizzlies came through the Gonzaga game with few injuries and the team is in excellent shape. Many of the men out of the game for the past week are back again and aching for a chance to play. Big John Shaffer will probably start in the game. Wilcox's knee is healed and the big fellow is rarin' to go.

Probable lineup of the two teams and their weights are:

Montana	Whitman
O. Dahlberg (175) .....	Dean (142)
Meagher (175) .....	Conley (181)
Hyde (188) .....	Hatton (162)
Shaffer (175) .....	Walther (161)
Moe (176) .....	Ratchford (183)
Maudlin (175) .....	Actor (172)
G. Dahlberg (153) .....	York (156)
Silvernale (145) .....	Cokerun (130)
T. Plummer (165) ..	Bartholomew (155)
Johnson (148) .....	Blakeney (154)
Illman (178) .....	Hall (172)

CONFERENCE OF DEANS WANTS SOCIAL POLICY

Goes on Record as Favoring Firesides as Form of Entertainment

The social policy of sororities and fraternities was discussed at the deans' conference held Wednesday afternoon, October 31. Letters have been sent to Pan-Hellenic and the inter-fraternity council asking them to submit to the deans' conference a social policy that they feel meets the needs of the students on this campus. The conference feels that a definite policy regulating the number and cost of social functions should be adopted.

It was suggested that this policy embody no limitation of firesides, as a fireside is considered a cheaper form of entertainment.

Scholars and Morons

IT HAS been said of our universities and colleges that the numerous extra-curricular activities, of which there are so many, crowd from the student's life scholarship, the primary motive of our institutions.

The Stanford Spectator, published by the English club and the Press club at Leland Standord university, makes the charge that the modern university is no place for scholars, and implies that the average college does no more than "release an annual horde of venerated morons." There seems to be a large morsel of truth in what the Spectator has to say.

"We need universities where a general education may be forced upon the non-scholars, in which athletics and activities have a proper place. We need efficient professional schools. But we also need schools where scholarship may be pursued for its own sake. Ripe scholarship, the fairest flower of our civilization, does not thrive in an atmosphere of advertising, drives, activities, efficiency programs, stadiums, and the like. It is not at home in the efficient American college. We might as well hope to produce a Mozart or a Chopin in the vegetable market of San Francisco, as a Maitland or an Arnold in such an atmosphere. . . . The American college has fallen into the hands of those who know not the intellectual fervor of the scholar class."

Obviously the State University is not a school for scholars, but the student might well look with alarm upon the infringements which the numerous outside activities make upon the time which should be spent in study.

We hope the trousers of the new band uniforms have reinforced seats so the band members can sit down instead of standing along the sidelines at the football games.

NOTICE, STUDENTS!

No students will be allowed on the sidelines at either the Freshman or Varsity game this week. Stay in the stands. GID BOLDT.

NOTICE.

There will be a special University Vesper service at the Presbyterian church Sunday at 5 o'clock. Special music. A light supper will be served afterward in the assembly hall.

Communication

Editor Kaimin: If you will allow me another word, apropos of your courteous comment on my letter, I will keep silence for a while.

I agree with you that our teams are not made up of individuals who are playing for the love of the game. We have made it a duty for strong men to play and for the weaker men and all the women to cheer. So we play and cheer from a sense of duty. I still think it unnecessary and unnatural to have it so.

I agree that the University is a society. You say "The purpose of the University society is to promote the welfare of the school." But,—to get the dog's tail out of his mouth—the welfare of the school is the welfare of the students. What student's welfare is promoted by insisting that other students should play from a sense of duty, and to the point of sacrifice?

No player's sport is less because all his teammates are playing only for the love of the game. And no follower of the team is less happy because the duty-driven spectator does not help him shout.

You may suggest that we would have a poorer team if "duty" were removed. I doubt it. But granted it would be so, and even further, that other teams would remain stronger by keeping play a matter of duty, why isn't it as commendable for Montana University, in the society of institutions, to make a sacrifice for a rational principle as it is for her to ask her athletes to make a sacrifice?

It is no longer reasonable to use the advertising arguments about athletics. Every sensible person knows that Gonzaga is no better institution for having defeated us last week, and college education is now so fashionable that the problem here and everywhere is to select and not to draw students.

You say that our system of athletics add (because of its duty basis?) a certain thrill to university life which is not found in the individualistic institutions abroad. I am sorry you make the question one of comparison, for I do not know foreign universities well enough to compare them with American institutions. But this fact is well known: At Oxford where there is little duty in debate or athletics, there are probably two hundred good debaters and a thousand enthusiastic, if not good, athletes.

There is less vocal demonstration at an English game than at an American game, but that seems to me to be due more to national temperament than to an inferior sense of duty.

Ball games on corner lots and not foreign university contests are the inspiration of my strange ideas about play for the sake of play. There seems to be hard effort, cooperation, and even thrill in them, with no sense of duty or demand for sideline support. I am glad on Saturdays to watch games with much more highly organized team work in them. But I think the college athlete should have added this factor only because he wanted it for his own satisfaction as a player. He has messed life up badly if he has rearranged sport so that it is now work for him and pleasure for somebody else, and has put a duty on everyone, whether he likes games or not, to come out to watch him play.

You believe that if the majority of students did not favor the present system, it would soon pass out. Perhaps. Man's patience with preventable evils to which he is accustomed is so great, anyway, that I would not even guess when it would pass out. But my argument properly was only that we should not coerce the minority, who obviously do not favor the present system. On the subject of sophomore pledging Manager

Aho says frankly, "The fraternities . . . cause the student to be interested in athletics which he otherwise would probably ignore."

With many others, I believe that most of us get "a certain thrill" from organized athletics, and also that intercollegiate athletics will live on that spontaneous and disinterested spirit without dragging in duty and moral indignation.

Finally, Mr. Editor, your philosophy of duty to teams, if you hold to it, will plunge you into a sea of indignation at the sense of duty of the University society, when their debate teams start to harangue.

Annabelle

Pulls Some Good Ones

Dear Maw: Just a line or two, Before I go to bed; I'll do My stuff in this here note to you And tell you 'bout the fun we had. Wednesday night was Hallowe'en And say Maw, you'd a bust your spleen And laughed to death, if you had seen Us girls a-playin' pranks.

We started out when we were through Our studies; and went straight down to The frats on Gerald avenue And put soap on the windows. We then went to the Sigma Nus Their orchestra was playin' blues And say Maw, I shook in my shoes, Cause they come out and ketched us.

But say Maw, they were awful good, They brought out paddles made of wood, Put us in line and there we stood Expectin' a good beatin'. But they were nice, they let us go, Providin' 'course we wouldn't show Our faces there again, and so We went.

Then one girl gets a bright idea, And sez: "Oh girls, just listen here, Let's tip that house upon its ear, That lodges Kappa Kappa Gamma!" But Maw us girls decided nix, On playing such unfriendly tricks, So we went on and then cut six Of Alpha Delta Alpha's clotheslines.

We put rocks near the Spe's front door, And then went back to get some more, But we were scared they'd get too sore, So we went and soaped the Phi Delt's windows.

We didn't harm the Sigma Chis Because we felt that we were wise, In passing up their house with sighs, And besides I think one of 'em is goin' to ask me for a date.

We let the A.T.O.'s alone, Also the Phi Sigs' nice new home, We made the Sig Alphas use their 'phone On a bogus phone-call, And then we came right home to bed, Tired out with fun, and almost dead, And each one of us women said, We never had a better time.

Now that's all Maw, please don't tell That I played pranks, yours, ANNABELLE.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB DISCUSSES CUSTOMS

Willamette University, Oct. 30.—An active group on the campus is the Cosmopolitan club, composed solely of foreign students. At the regular weekly meetings, which are held on Wednesdays during the dinner hour, American customs and international problems are studied and discussed.

HAVE NEW HEATING PLANT. Willamette University, Oct. 30.—Among the new acquisitions of the

EMPRESS

Nov. 1, 1923.

Dear Myrtle:

I ain't never said much to you about the Empress Theatre, although we do sometimes have some dam' good pictures. But there is a picture coming to the Empress, beginning Saturday for six days, that is as good if not better than anything you have ever seen in Missoula.

Eight years ago a picture was made that caused as much talk and more people saw it than even saw the "BIRTH OF A NATION" when it came along, and now another film company has made an entirely new picture from the same book, namely, Rex Beach's "THE SPOILERS." And when I urge you and your friends to come to see it at the Empress, I feel sure you will like it as well as any picture you have ever seen.

We are showing it at the Empress 'cause the people that sold us this picture insisted that we charge fifty cents admission before they would let us buy it, and as we never raise our prices at the Wilma, we are showing it at the Empress.

I ain't never lied to Doc and I ain't never going to lie to you, Myrtle, so don't miss this picture. Remember it starts Saturday for six days.

HEINIE.

P. S.—Have you heard about Kenneth's interchangeable car, Myrtle? It's a coupe in the day time and a sedan at night.

HEINIE.

TWO CHANCES OPEN FOR FREE RIDE TO BOZEMAN

Disabled Vets Offer Round-Trip Tickets to Two Girls Selling Most Forget-Me-Not Tags

Two girls may get tickets to the Bobcat game at Bozeman if the present plans of the committee in charge of the Forget-Me-Not day drive are successful. "These two tickets will be given to the team of University girls which collects the most money for the Garden City chapter of the D.A.V.," declared Grover Johnson, commander of the Chapter, last night.

The contest for tickets is open to all University girls, and will be held during the Forget-Me-Not day drive on November 10. At least 10 teams of two girls each must enter the contest in order that the prize may be offered. Any girl wishing to enter may give her name either to Helen Newman, president of WSGA, or Grover Johnson, commander of the local chapter.

The Forget-Me-Not drive assumes the aspect of a University affair because of the number of members in the order who are in attendance at the University. There are 110 vocational men enrolled in the University most of whom are members of the D.A.V. The committee in charge of the drive are all university men as are the officers of the local chapter. The committee in charge is composed of the following men: State Commander Vivian A. Corby, of the School of Journalism; Commander Grover Johnson, Garden City Chapter, No. 5, School of Journalism; Clarence S. Logue, School of Journalism; and A. E. Griffiths, Chemistry department.

The money raised from the sale of the forget-me-nots is used for the benefit of the men disabled in the world war by the national, state, and local departments of the D.A.V.

A meeting of the local chapter of the organization will be held tonight after the University rally to discuss business connected with the Forget-Me-Not drive and Armistice day. An adjutant will be appointed at this time to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Max Meltzer, who was transferred to Minneapolis. All vocational men in attendance at the University are invited to attend this meeting regardless of whether they are members or not.

More Seniors

Wanted at Studio

A list of 25 seniors who are to have their pictures taken today or tomorrow at the Paschal studio has been issued by the Sentinel staff. The list follows:

Killoy, Norine R.; Smith, Christina M.; Hubber, Gertrude L.; Barrett, Adeline M.; Benbrooks, Edythe; Schaver, F. R.; Thompson, Bernice V.; Crabb, Rachel; Meagher, Eleanor; Wehman, Laura; Peat, Lucille M.; Brown, L. W.; Harvey, John B.; Skelton, Mary L.; Whitcomb, F. W.; Daugherty, Ruth M.; Stark, R. F.; McKittrick, Mary A.; MacKeen, Bernice F.; Burtness, A. C.; McKown, N. A.; Colville, L. L.; Yensen, A. E.; Taylor, E. P.; Johnson, Esther; Mascotte, Azlyn.

D'MOLAY TO ENTERTAIN WITH DANCE TONIGHT

All DeMolays of the University, Masons and their friends are invited to attend the DeMolay dance at the Winter Garden this evening at 9 o'clock, according to Jack Coulter, chairman of the dance committee. Sheridan's orchestra will furnish the music.

The dance is given by Sentinel chapter, Order of DeMolay, and is the first one attempted by the chapter to get Masonic men and their friends together.

WASHINGTON JUNIORS WEAR DISTINCTIVE GARB, RED VESTS

At a recent meeting of the junior class of the University of Washington it was unanimously decided that the junior garb be a red flannel vest with small numeral "25 on the left point. Men and women of the class will wear the vests.

Success

And She Died With a Smile on Her Face

The old maids are singing "Tra la tra la, we have a date at last; we have a date at last." And across the campus you can hear the College Widows cooing. "If men could only come, If men could only come, tra la, tra la, how happy we would be; How much they could see, How much they could see."

Dean Sedman is wreathed in smiles. No girl can use her wiles upon the men. "How come?" Sage Sparks is caused to ask. "Oh h—," the fullback and the scholar disgustfully reply, "Taint nothin' but the Co-ed Prom."

Listen and you shall hear of the famous dance of the year—where prizes are given for girls dressed as men and crude stunts are done in the light of the moon on the strength of good apple cider; how the girls dear leave off the under— and come for a night free from men and right, just to revel as harem and wild harem-scarems to the tune of a primitive band.

Doughnuts and buns and other things nice, the emblems of ruin and vice, will be wantonly sold by bartenders bold and the house pays the furniture damage. On the whole it's a riot, they cannot deny it. Don't you wish, you collar-ad men, that the sign on the gym at eight tonight, said "Welcome"? You bet we don't.

U. OF C. DRAMATICS.

Univ. of Cal., Berkeley, Oct. 29.—When the public sees "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" and "Autumn Fires" this week in the Wheeler auditorium at the University of California, they will find a very diversified program provided for them. R. H. Ehlers '24, director of the Little Theater, asserted when speaking of the plays. "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" is a costume comedy, full of humor and sparkling with French wit, while "Autumn Fires," although a comedy, has an understrain of tragedy which is characteristically Scandinavian.

NOTED ARTISTS TO APPEAR AT WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

John McCormick, Vocalist, and Joseph Lhevinne, Pianist, in Concert

John McCormick, noted singer, and Joseph Lhevinne, pianist, will appear in concert at the University of Washington during this school year. Other artists who will appear in the series are the Duncan dancers and Jeanne Gordon.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS TO BE VARSITY SYMBOL

The chrysanthemum sale held last Saturday resulted in the permanence of that symbolization by making the endeavor one of concern to the entire student body rather than one of personal incentive. The ASUM store will have charge of the sale of these flowers in the future and will hold its initial campaign before the Whitman game Saturday.

"This will be the biggest game of the season and we need the support of the entire school in putting across this symbol of our colors," said Morris McCullum, manager of the student store.

The flowers will be available at the store Saturday morning and everyone is urged to contribute a little support in the form of 35 cents.

PRESIDENT DENEY DECLARES "AT HOME" TO ALL FLUNKIES

Willamette University, Oct. 30.—The monthly flunk list has been posted, serving as a gentle reminder to all students whose work has not been up to standard. Each "flunkie" must interview the president within a week. Ninety-four students have been invited to President Denev's "At Home."

WOMEN WILL PRACTICE BASKETBALL WEDNESDAY

Regular basketball practice for women will begin next Wednesday, according to Miss Mary Laux, physical education instructor. Helen Newman, Rita Jahreis, Dorothy Rector and Ruth Spencer of the coaching class will supervise the divisions.

Other Campuses

Toronto.

According to the "Varsity," the publication of the University of Toronto, the undergraduates of that institution greatly appreciated the broadcasted results of the Toronto-McGill game here. On the afternoon of the game a crowd of some 300 gathered at the varsity stadium to hear the story of the game. The broadcasting was very clear, each word being audible in every corner of the grounds. At the end of the game the radio led the assembled students in a Toronto yell, a yell that was born in the leather-lined throats of varsity supporters 300 miles away.

Hazing at U. of N. Y.

Pedestrians passing the Public Library at 42nd street yesterday morning were startled by what appeared to be a maniac giving a speech from the steps, for, his face was blackened, his hair running wild, pants rolled up to his knees and his legs blackened, clothes on backward. He was a Commerce Fresh being hazed by the sophomores.

He first entertained the crowd with some songs. But, that was only the introduction. The best number was a speech on "Which came first, the egg or the chicken?" He chose as another subject a question of interest to the scientific mind, "Why the ocean is so close to the shore."

The next stop was at Broadway and 42nd street. Here he made an eloquent speech on "Our Courageous Cops." This lecture was also well attended.

After a banquet consisting of ice cream and soda, the party returned to school via the subway. The speaker made further use of his voice by calling out the stations, rendering invaluable assistance to the subway guard.

Hazing Banished of U. of Southern Cal.

Attempts to reorganize the method of enforcing traditions through a process of education rather than physical force is the big aim of the University of Southern California this year, according to Harry Silke, student body president.

Stating that the university has no other choice in the methods of enforcement since the abolition of hazing by Dr. R. B. von Kleinsmid, president of the university, Mr. Silke went on to give his views on the subject.

In the opinion of Mr. Silke the aim of the newly organized Trojan Knights will be to develop loyalty among the upper classmen and to get them to co-operate in this new system in order that they may set an example to the lower classmen and educate them up to the standards of U. S. C. rather than using the "rough stuff" of former years.

The new stadium at the University of Wisconsin will have a seating capacity of 35,000.

A faculty women's clubhouse has been opened on the University of California campus.

Kansas

The Kansas Council of Social Workers met at the University of Kansas October 10-12. Representatives of 12 state social agencies presented outlines of the services they stand ready to give their respective states.

The Young Fellow Who Wastes No Worries Upon Waist Line

YOU'VE seen such men—probably you're one of them yourself—slender, upright, wiry young chaps who aren't obliged to go in for the great American sport of "reducing."

Ten years from now, they may have joined the ranks of the Calorie Counters—then they'll have to consider clothes from a different angle.

But today, they look best in snug-fitting, trim, slender developments—ideas that suit young figures—styles that our tailors at Fashion Park develop splendidly.

The Kay-Bac is such an idea—it's exactly the model a slender man looks well in—we'd like to show it to you.

The man who buys a Par-Kerry Overcoat gets everything an overcoat can offer—distinctive and serviceable fabrics—expert tailoring—pronounced value.

The New EDISON Chippendale Period Design Console $295

CHIPPENDALE furniture has been welcomed into beautiful homes since its introduction in England in the early part of the seventeenth century. Obviously its continuous popularity over so great a span of time is due to its artistic design and beautiful finish.

The New Edison Chippendale design cabinet follows with unusual fidelity the characteristics of the period it represents, even to the soft brown mahogany finish. This artistic cabinet encases Mr. Edison's latest and greatest achievement, the perfection of a phonograph which actually Re-Creates.

It offers you a phonograph that gives the artist in all but physical presence. The New Edison is the only phonograph that dares the test of direct comparison with the living artists.
