APRIL 16 IS CHOSEN FOR ABER DAY

BASEBALL SQUADS CLASH IN FIRST LONG PRACTICE GAME

Schreiber Gives Entire Pitching Staff Workouts Saturday in Initial Tryout

The Varsity baseball squad was divided into two teams Saturday morning for the first long practice game of the season, the "first team" winning 5 to 4 in a six-inning struggle. Shorter practice games were played last week between two-picked teams. Doc used four hurlers in Saturday's contest in order to give all the Varsity shab aspirants a good workout.

O'Conner started for the "first team" and Centerwall for the "subs." Center was relieved by Gus Moe in the fourth, and Red Rover took O'Conner's job in the same inning, all four hurlers showing up well in the early season workout, although Moe was a trifle wild. Dunstan, a tall right-hander, is the latest addition to the pitching staff. He reported last week but did not get a chance to work in Saturday's game.

Hitting Good
The Varsity should prove to be a heavy-hitting crew this year if Doc's charges can maintain anything like their pre-season hitting clip during the regular season. Anderson, Berg, Guthrie, Long, Illman, and Hanson have been laying the timber on the ball heavily throughout the practice games. Doc has some fast men on the squad. Anderson, Stowe, Driscoll, and Berg are showing some real speed on the base paths, and should pilfer their share of sacks this spring.

Schreiber used the following lineups Saturday: Regulars—Driscoll, ss; Stowe, cf; Tarbox, 2b; Anderson, lf; Illman, rf; Burtess, 3b; Meagher, 1b; Guthrie, c; O'Conner and Rover, p. Second team: Zamansky, 3b; Dohrman, cf; Berg, rf; Hanson, ss; Briscoe, 2b; Fleming, 1b; Lentz, lf; Long, c; Centerwall and Moe, p. Long and Guthrie have been alternating behind the plate for the first team in the practice games. Anderson was used at third for a short time in last night's workout. He looks almost as good at the hot corner as he does in the outfield. He may be given a regular berth at third.

HOLT ADVOCATES ENTRY IN LEAGUE

Noted Publicist Says Men Like Roosevelt, Wilson and Taft Needed in Present Crisis

"What we need at the present hour is someone in control of the foreign affairs of the United States with the courage of Roosevelt, the humanity of Taft and the vision of Wilson," stated Hamilton Holt at the First Methodist church Friday night. Mr. Holt is vice-chairman of the executive committee of the League of Nations Non-Partisan association. Throughout his lecture, Mr. Holt pleaded that the United States enter the existing League of Nations and the permanent court of international justice. His definition of the league was: "This league is a scheme whereby sovereign nations can act together unanimously better than they otherwise could."

"The danger in Europe today is not so much revolution as dissolution," he continued. "Civilization is rapidly evaporating and Europe is returning to another 'Dark Age'."

In concluding, Mr. Holt again urged action on the part of the United States. "Let us forget our partisanship and play our part in peace as nobly as we did in war. We are the nation that has done the most, but we are literally doing the least."

Aber Oratorical Contestants Talk at Convocation Tuesday, April 15

The Aber Oratorical contest will be held at convocation at 10 o'clock Tuesday, April 15. The manuscripts have been judged and the following were chosen to speak: George Boldt, Grover Johnston, Olive McKay, Louis Aranowsky and Einar Stromnes.

This will be the fourth annual Aber contest to be held at the University. The fund was created by Professor William Aber, with the provision that the interest be divided into prizes each year for the best orations on current topics. The contest last year was won by Grover Johnston, who spoke on the subject of "Applied Christianity."

The judges of the manuscripts were Miss Gertrude Buckhouse, librarian; Professor E. L. Freeman, of the English department, and Mr. Henry B. Stiss, an attorney. Fifty per cent of the contestants' final grade will count on the grade received on the manuscript, and 50 per cent on the grade given by the judges on the delivery. A different set of judges will judge the orations than those who judged the manuscripts.

The names of the judges and the subjects on which the contestants will speak will be announced Friday.

"HAPPY" KIBBLE TO COACH FROSH BASEBALL TEAM

WAS THIRD BASEMAN ON 1920-21 CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

Freshmen Have No Regular Schedule; Plan Practice Games With Fort and Varsity

Ray (Hap) Kibble, three-letter man in baseball, will coach freshman baseball this spring. Hap played third base on the two conference championship teams of '20 and '21. Kibble will have more than 20 candidates for the frosh team to work with.

Although the freshmen have no regular schedule, they will play practice games with the Varsity and Fort Missoula when the Fort team is organized. Last year's freshman team turned out some men that are now promising material for the Varsity.

There is some promising frosh material out working hard, among whom are Lowe, who played with the Fremberg, Oregon, city league last year; Kelly, who held down a berth at third base with the Rochester in the city league here last summer, and Woods, a catcher from Great Falls.

Other candidates are Boone, Ulvested, Baker, Fletcher, Spitzer, Felhaber, Smith and B. Page.

Frontier Will Come Out During Interscholastic

The next issue of the Frontier will come out during the Interscholastic, according to Professor H. G. Merriam, and all material must be turned in to Professor Merriam or some member of the board by April 21. Contributors are urged to turn in stories, verse or any other kind of material that they have written.

There has been a change in the editorial staff of the magazine this quarter. The editors are Edith Benbrooks, Darcy Dahlberg and John Shaffer. Three listeners are registered in the course, Grace Baldwin, Violet Crane and Elizabeth Flint.

Warren Maudlin has been appointed chief of police, and Rita Jahress will act as his assistant. Ronnie McDonald has been named as assistant manager, and Miles O'Conner is to be judge of the high court. Bill Aho, ASUM manager, is planning a dance to be held in the evening.

The faculty and women students will rake the campus and the men will take care of the heavy work. Plans are being made to remodel the baseball diamond and get it in shape for immediate service. The trucks and steam rollers have been arranged for, and all is in readiness for work.

The court will be held in the afternoon after the work has been completed. Theta Sigma Phi will publish the usual "explosion of unpigreed bunk" known as "Campus Ravings." Extensive plans have been made for the lunch that will be served on the Craig hall grounds during the noon hour.

"With the customary co-operation given by the students, this Aber day should prove to be the best in the history of the University," said Manager Plummer.

FROSH WEAR CAPS UNTIL TUG-OF-WAR

Those Wearing Evening Dress Will Be Sent Home in Barrel

The Frosh will wear their green caps until the tug-of-war at least, the traditions committee decided yesterday. The tug-of-war will be held at the Van Buren slough May 3, at 1:30 p. m., unless the weather does not permit. If the Frosh win the pull they will not be required to wear the green head pieces for the rest of the year except during the Interscholastic track meet week.

John Shaffer will have charge of the contest and the "M" men will supervise the struggle. The "M" men, Bear Paws and all upperclassmen will enforce the green cap tradition for the rest of the year.

The Traditions committee has arranged a public burning of the green caps should the Frosh succeed in dragging the Sophs through the slough. The Frosh have been assigned to the south side of the slough while the Sophs will pull from the north side.

In the past it has been customary for all Freshmen to wear informal dress to University formal. The traditions committee has noticed that this custom has not been adhered to and has passed a resolution that all Frosh who come to University dances in formal dress have a barrel apiece checked to wear home. The committee has decided to take drastic action in this matter.

Anne Ross of Kalispell arrived in Missoula Sunday afternoon and registered yesterday. Miss Ross attended the University of Washington last quarter. She is a sister of Francis Ross, who attended the University last year. She will make her home at North hall.

The Green Caps

THE suggestion has been made that any necessary enforcement of the Freshman Cap tradition be done by the sophomore class rather than by the Bear Paws. We have another suggestion—let the freshmen enforce the rule. We are not arguing as to the merit of the tradition or any tradition, for that matter, but if the custom is to be continued an honor system might do away with much friction. A promise or a duty is much less easily sidestepped than are threats of violence. An appeal to one's sportsmanship, loyalty, or any other form of vanity puts one in a bad hole—much more than does the waving of clubs. Such an appeal made to a freshman class would leave its members to judge whether or not such a tradition, which under the present system it would be their duty the following year to enforce, is worth continuing.

Play Your Own Game

YOU'VE seen him, hundreds like him. He has a gift for conversational nothings, he dances well, he's in demand at teas. He has a way with women. He says bright things, off-hand, just like that. He wears his clothes just as they do in the ads. You hate him.

You hate him. Bitterly you refer to him as a lounge lizard. You inform yourself and the world that you wouldn't be like that for anything. You say you prefer your own dull, matter-of-fact style of dancing to his futuristic syncopations; you classify the grapes of his position in the little social world around you as sour. No, you wouldn't be like that for anything.

Then you start imitating him. You repudiate your own nature. You exchange your birthright for a cheap tin horn. And you wonder why your labored witticisms fall so flat; why, if your company is sought at all, it is only in a perfunctory manner; why you can't play the parlor python game and get away with it. You've developed a fine case of what the psychologists call an inferiority complex.

You forget that you've sat in the other fellow's game and got properly trimmed. You forget that you have ability of your own that will carry you to heights that the social lion will never climb if you give it free play. You forget that you've submerged your own individuality and that which the world sees is only a shabby imitation.

Be yourself. Don't sit in the other fellow's game. Play your own game and play it to win.—Daily Californian.

Does Some Figuring

Honolulu.

Dear Maw: I just came off the beach. At Waikiki. It is a peach. With nice long strips of sand; they reach for over a mile. I dressed in my purple suit. Dove in real hard and scraped my snoot. Upon a great big banyan root. That was stickin' in the water.

I can't swim very well you see 'Cause when I went to 'Varsity I tried to learn. Doc Schreiber, he Taught me everything but staying afloat. So I don't go in very deep, Because the coral's pretty steep. I just get wet enough to keep My suit tight to my figure.

And really, Maw, there's none that beat Me for figure, 'cept my feet, Because I surely do look neat. When I get wet. You ought to see the natives stare When I walk out to get some air. I wiggle a little if I dare. Just like I did on the Glee club.

Well, take this note and please don't tell Paw too much. Yours, ANNABELLE.

This cap stays put!

Other caps get lost but the new Williams Hinge-Cap stays where you want it. Truly, that's an improvement.

Like the cap, the shaving cream in the Williams tube is a big improvement, too. For Williams lather is heavier and faster-working. It holds the water in, so that your beard is softened sooner. And the lather lubricates. The razor fairly glides over your skin! Because of a soothing ingredient in Williams you can shave daily yet always have a smooth and well-cared-for face. Williams is pure, natural-white cream. Absolutely without coloring matter. Buy it, try it—with the new Hinge-Cap!

"Yes, I must confess that some of my friends thought it was a new play costume, but I've joined the army!" said Russell Niles, when interviewed yesterday concerning his startling appearance in one of Sergeant Truman's form-fits. "After vigorously talking for the world court, this is the last straw. I tried to talk them out of it, but their rebuttal was 'no drill, no diploma,' and it is awfully confusing. I've talked so much on which was right and which was wrong that now I can't get used to which is right and which is left. But thank God (this was said in Mr. Niles' most dramatic voice) they've given me up and put me in the machine-gun squad. That's fun. I've just got the part as one of the principal mules in it. COLLEGE WOMEN LIVE LONGER THAN OTHERS

Statistics Show There is More Than One Benefit Derived From Going to College

College women, as a rule, live longer than their less highly educated sisters. A study covering the mortality experience of 15,561 women graduates from colleges, showed that at the ages of 20 to 64 years the death rate was only 3.24 per 1,000. Between 25 and 34 years, where nearly one-half of the total observations were centered, the death rate was 2.77 per 1,000. Among women in the general population of the United States registration area the death rate at this age period was more than twice as high, namely 6.10 per 1,000.

In commenting on the above figures, Dr. L. I. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, says:

"These favorable figures seem to be due to several important causes. First, there is the selective effect of the secondary and collegiate process. Those physically unfit to pursue studies usually drop from the rolls. College women also come from a superior home environment; the presumption is that for nearly all of them economic and domestic circumstances have been such as to conduce to better health than the average. These women, during their lives in a college environment, also benefit from periodical medical examination and from prescribed physical exercise much more than women in the general population. After graduation many of them enter professional pursuits where the risk of death is at a minimum. Not less important is the favorable effect of the whole of college education on the right conduct of life."

"The favorable death rates of graduates of women's colleges clearly indicate that the prevailing mortality among women in the general population is far in excess of what it should be."

TWENTY-FIVE FROSH ARE OUT FOR YEARLING TEAM

Practically All the Men on the Squad Have Garnered Points at Interscholastic Meets

Twenty-five men are turning out daily for the freshman track squad. Although wether conditions have not permitted the squad to get outside before last week, the team is rapidly rounding into shape, according to Freshman Coach Harry Adams.

The squad is unique this year in that there are more men on the squad who have won places in the Interscholastic track meets than any other frosh squad in the history of the University. Sweet won individual honors last year by winning the three dashes. Gillette cut several seconds from the previous record for the mile run, placed second in the half in 1923, second in the mile and fifth in the half-mile the year before. Tysel garnered 13 points for second individual honors by winning the quarter and half and placing third in the mile. The year before he finished second in the half mile.

Lowry placed second in the 880 and tied for fifth in the pole vault last spring. In 1922 he won the half-mile, was second in the pole vault and third in the quarter. Wagstaff won the 880 and finished third in the quarter in 1921, and placed third in the quarter in 1922. He was not in the meet last year. Coyle, Hop Prescott's protegee, won the low hurdles and tied with Lowry for second in the pole vault in 1922. He placed second in the low hurdles in 1921, but was not eligible for the meet last year.

Thompson won the low hurdles and tied for third in the pole vault last year. Howard Varney placed second in the low hurdles in 1922 and fifth in the high hurdles in 1923. Spaulding won the high hurdles last year.

Although the team is strong in the running events, Coach Adams is greatly in need of men for the field events, especially the shot and discus.

Girls Will Receive Medals For Season's Rifle Work

Maebelle Mohrher, Frances Crabb, Eleanor Stephenson, Edyth Benbrooks and Audrey Deighton will receive medals as a result of the competition between members of the girls' rifle team who shot in matches during the season just completed.

The medals are gold flintlock rifles an inch and a quarter long, with a silver M fastened on top of the rifle. The winner of first place receives the above rifle with a gold date bar attached to the bottom of the rifle; second place gets a silver date bar; third, fourth and fifth places receive a bronze bar fastened to the gold rifle. The medals will be awarded as soon as received.

Belle Caswell made the high score of 97 during matches, but failed to place in Monday's shoot for the medals.

This firing culminates riflery for the girls' team this year, according to Major George L. Smith, who coached the team.

Social Half Hour Sessions Will Be Emphasized in the Future Says Professor Smith

Rev. William Young, University pastor, will report on "The New Decalogue of Science" by Professor Wiggam, at the next Colloquium meeting Monday afternoon.

"No changes will be made in the regular Colloquium meetings except that we will try to stress the social half-hour more than we have in the past," stated Prof. F. O. Smith, chairman, when questioned as to Colloquium plans. The organization meets regularly every two weeks on Monday afternoons at 4 o'clock. A social half-hour, during which tea is served in the home economics tea room, opens the meeting. At 4:30 the meeting adjourns to the lecture room in new Science hall.

ANNOUNCEMENTS HELD UP UNTIL SENIORS PAY BILL

Senior announcements have arrived, according to Red Neill, senior class president, but they cannot be taken from the express office until the bill of $275 is paid. These bills may be paid at the table in Main hall today. If any seniors have forgotten the amount which they owe, they can find out at this table. Bills for the announcements and cards must be paid by Wednesday night.

Seniors are also asked to leave mensurements for their caps and gowns at the same table. These will be rented for a month instead of the week, as at first planned. As soon as all the measurements are in the caps and gowns will be ordered so they can be used during track week.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE FOR TRACK WORKOUTS

Grizzlies Face Tough Season; Leo Dwyer, High Jumper, Not Eligible

The Grizzly track squad went through its workout yesterday under favorable weather conditions. A little more warm weather will enable Coach Stewart to get a line on what his track candidates can do. The Grizzlies face a tough season—four meets on the schedule and all on foreign fields. The loss of distance runners, and Egan and Andrus, leave gaps that cannot be filled. To add to the track team woes, Leo Dwyer, crack high jumper and pole vaulter, has been declared ineligible.

George Axtell is averaging around 40 feet in the shot-put at this early stage of the season. Shaffer and Maudlin are showing some real form in the discus throw. The former is averaging around 35 feet. Erickson, Mitchell and Roettler are training hard for the 440- and 880-yard runs, but Coach Stewart lacks men for the mile and 2-mile events. For the pole vault Stewart has Baney and Coulter. Kibble, who has been trying out for the sprints along with Ritter, Stark, and Brennan, is also going out for the pole vault. Ritter and Stark are showing up in fair shape in the dashes. Ted Plummer is out for the javelin throw. Coulter and Marvin Porter are rounding into shape for the hurdles.

The dates set for the four big track events in which the Grizzlies participate are: The Seattle relay carnival, May 3; dual meet with Washington State college, May 16; meet with University of Idaho at Moscow, May 19, and the Northwest conference meet at Eugene, Oregon, May 31.

A craze for football has swept over Germany. Many buildings which prior to 1914 were used for making implements of war, ammunition or army supplies, are now manufacturing sporting articles for games. Formerly football was unpopular in Germany.

SINGING SOCIETY TO GIVE PROGRAM

Special Numbers to Be Given Sunday by Missoula Choralists in Main Hall

The Missoula Choral society will give a concert in the University auditorium Sunday afternoon, April 13, at 3:30. There will be no admission charged, although a silver offering will be taken up to defray the necessary expenses.

There will be several numbers by the chorus. The soloists include Mrs. Pearce, soprano; Mrs. T. E. Fitzgerald, mezzo, and Mr. A. H. Weisberg, violin.

The chorus is now closing its fourth consecutive season. It has been giving two concerts a year, one of them being the annual production of "The Messiah," which is given at Christmas time.

Ruth Smith, '23, a graduate of the School of Art, spent the week end at her home in Missoula. Miss Smith is teaching in the high school at Hamilton this year.

"Grape-Nuts" and Psychology

An interesting letter from a student at the University of Pennsylvania

POSTUM CEREAL COMPANY, INC. Battle Creek, Michigan

Gentlemen:

Today in psychology class we had an experiment known as the mental imagery experiment in which we were given the Galton Breakfast Table Bill to fill out.

The procedure of this interesting experiment was first to recall in the "mind's eye" the breakfast table as we sat down to it that morning and to call up its general appearance: the table, the food, dishes, and those present.

This is what happened to me:

I tried to recall the appearance of the table, the dishes, those who sat at the table with me—the only thing that I could recall was my breakfast food—"Grape-Nuts." I could see plainly in my mental imagery the crisp and wonderfully delicious dish of my breakfast food and the well-known box of Grape-Nuts.

University of Pennsylvania January 12, 1924

The cause for this mental imagery of "Grape-Nuts" was that we are "conscious of environment through sensations"—that we will recall in mental imagery those things that have made a favorable impression upon our minds.

I have eaten "Grape-Nuts" since the time I started to grade school and your famous slogan "There's a Reason" explains it all.

Yours for a well-balanced food,

(Signed) S. H. LEbensBURGER

SECTION OF SENTINEL READY FOR PRINTING

Everything Ready Except Senior Activity
Lists According to Blair, Editor of the Book

The first half of the Sentinel, with the exception of the senior activities, is ready to go to press, according to Knowles Blair, editor. This section will contain 165 pages and will include all school activities. Blair urges that the seniors hand in a list of their activities immediately.

Gid Boldt, business manager of the Sentinel, has nearly completed the advertising budget and will send in the copy sometime this week.

As yet no proofs have been made of the scenic section, which will be done in green rotogravure. This section will be in the second half of the book. The feature section will contain 22 solid pages. Half page features will appear in the advertising section. The feature section of last year's book contained but 10 pages.

OFFER FELLOWSHIP TO PH.D. STUDENTS

The National Research Council is offering fellowships to any student in the University who has a Ph. D. degree or its equivalent.

The purpose of these fellowships is to promote research in the biological sciences, through the development of a larger number of thoroughly trained investigators.

The National Research Council was organized in 1916, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The money given each year is $1,800 to the unmarried men and $2,300 to the married. Fellowships are granted for one year, but may be renewed. The student may choose his own university although it is subject to the approval of the Fellowship board.

Professor J. E. Kirkwood, chairman of the graduate committee, is in charge of the work here.

FORESTRY KAIMIN WILL BE PUBLISHED MAY 10

Herbert Swan Will Edit Edition Which Will Appear in Magazine Form

With the last material going to the printers for proof, editors of the Forestry Kaimin promise it will make its appearance on the campus May 10.

The magazine is to be an 80-page edition, containing articles of national as well as local interest, and upon its publication will be sent to every forestry supervisor and district ranger in the United States. Its circulation will also include many colleges and lumber companies situated throughout the United States and Canada.

The publication is being conducted under the auspices of the Forestry club of the University.

FORESTERS BEGIN WORK ON NEW TREE NURSERY

Work has been started on an experimental tree nursery to be conducted by the school of forestry. It is to be located at the south end of the campus and will eventually occupy about four blocks. The seeding is to start this spring.

The seeds are taken from every part of the world and will represent about 150 varieties of trees. Seeds of the German linden, the "Tree of Heaven" from Europe, the deodar from India, the golden aboretia of Asia, the pine of Austria, Germany and Switzerland, the larch of Japan and Europe and many others have been procured. It is not known how many of them will be adaptable to Montana climate, but experiments are to be made of all of them.

The purpose of the nursery is twofold. It will serve as a laboratory for the forestry students and as an experimental station for the development of shade trees and of trees suitable for commercial purposes.

"With such a nursery it will be possible to teach the students methods of planting and of care, once the trees begin to grow. On the other hand, the foresters hope to develop shade trees that will be suitable for the eastern part of the state, where there is a decided lack of shade," said Tom Spaulding, acting dean of the school of forestry. "In future years the nursery will have much the appearance of a park and will add much to the appearance of the University campus."

Sport Squibs

With the Northwestern and Pacific Coast relays but 25 days away, Coach Stewart is grooming his racers through hard, grinding workouts in spite of raw, windy weather. Just how many men Stewart is going to take to the relays is doubtful. Closs has not showed up for training, and he has but one experienced man from last year's quarter-mile squad. Rottler is going better than he did last year, and is the only sure man for the quarter.

The distance runs are still unfilled, though several green men are going through that long grind. Ritter, Stark, and Thomas have been making fair time in the century, but have not come close to the mark set by Andrus.

Jim Charteris, winner of the 1923 half-mile in the state interscholastic meet, won that event in an early season meet at Seattle. Charteris is a Great Falls man, and was urged to attend school at Montana, but decided to go to the University of Washington.

Stanford university is developing one of the greatest discus heavers of the decade. "Tiny" Hartrandt was hailed two years ago as a coming weight heaver, but dropped out last year. In a dual meet last week between Stanford and Southern California, Hartrandt hurled the platter 154 feet 4 1/2 inches, two feet shy of the world's record.

Now, while on the subject of baseball, it might be well to add a few words on the subject of stealing, and not base stealing. Regulation balls cost money. On the other hand, a well-educated fraternity man, versed in the arts of stealing knives, glasses, globes, chickens and so on down to locomotives, has no hesitation in snatching the balls provided for the Varsity. They cost money, and that is just what the University is annually out of. Last year Schreiber ordered over twenty dozen playthings for his fledglings. Most of these found their way into the sacred archives of the dear old frat. No wonder the athletic expenses are continually high.

About time we heard the raucous bawling of Doc Jesse as he officiates the tong struggles of the co-eds on the oval green. Jesse is an authority on curves, and is used to making decisive decisions. Nothing like having a firm man on hand when the women get to wrangling.

Gus Moe, a new addition to the slab-workers, is showing up better as practice progresses. If he shows enough stuff he will be a welcome addition to the team, which was badly crippled by the loss of Bennie Moe.

Powers, of the state college, is topping the bar in the pole-vault this year at 12 feet. Last year he tied for first place in the Rocky Mountain Conference meet.

Charles Paddock, world's fastest human, will perform another of his lightning speed stunts this year. He is scheduled to put on an exhibition race at the University of Washington during the relays May 3, and to race against time at the Drake relays at Des Moines.
