MASQUERS PRESENT COMEDY
PLAY AT LIBERTY TONIGHTTooth Paste King and Music
Teacher in Thrilling
Romance

The pick of the Montana Masquers will present "Expressing Willie", a three-act comedy by Rachel Crothers, and "The Proposal", a one-act play by Telekoff, at the Liberty theater tonight and tomorrow night.

"Expressing Willie" is a delightful comedy of metropolitan life. The play is replete with high comedy, romance and suspense. Though it could not be called a musical comedy, it does contain one musical number, "Express Yourself My Child".

The plot of the play revolves around Willie, the toothpaste king, and Minnie Whitcomb, a small town music teacher. A group of near-intellectuals do their bit towards making the entanglement more involved. Incidentally, it casts a bit of satire at the modern "self expression" movement, as the title would indicate.

Nelson Fritz, who directed "The Pot Boiled", plays the part of Willie and Helen Ramsey, a familiar figure to Missoula playgoers, plays the part of Minnie. All the members of the cast have had considerable dramatic experience. Stark, Roach and Desmond all had parts in "Fashion". Doris Levins played lead in "The Boor", a one-act play produced by the Masquers last quarter.

Professional Show in Boston

"Expressing Willie" has just completed a ten months' run in New York, where it was presented by the Equity Players. It recently went on the road and is now playing to packed houses in Boston. The Montana Masquers have the distinction of holding the only amateur release on the production. This release was at first refused the Masquers and they had planned to present "Neighbors", but through the efforts of Director Cronyn permission to use "Expressing Willie" was granted by the Equity Players.

Curtain Raiser Is Farce

"The Proposal" will be used as a curtain raiser for "Expressing Willie". It is a farce. Howard Doggett of "Fashion" fame is playing the lead. The plot deals with the trials and tribulations of a lover, in which his sweetheart, her father and a dog figure prominently. It proves the old adage, "The path of true love never runs smooth."

Special Cars After Game

Due to the co-operation between the athletic and dramatic departments it will be possible to see both the Montana-Gonzaga basketball games and "Expressing Willie". The basketball game will start promptly at 7:30 and end an hour later. Special street cars will be waiting to take the crowd to the Liberty in time for the curtain on "Expressing Willie".

The casts for the two plays are as follows:

"Expressing Willie"

Talifree ..... Albert Stark
Willie Smith ..... Nelson Fritz
Mrs. Smith ..... Katherine Roach
Minnie Whitcomb ..... Helen Ramsey
Dolly Cadwalader ..... Doris Levins
George Cadwalader ..... Aaron Shull
Mrs. Sylvester ..... Maureen Desmond
Butlers ..... Dan Harrington, Phil Ring
Stage manager, William Garver, succeeding Claude Meredith; advertising manager, Harold Hepler, succeeding Harold Reedy; properties, Lois Allen.

"The Proposal"

Chubukov ..... Jay McCarthy
Lomov ..... Howard Doggett
Nathala ..... Margaret Sparr
Director ..... Mrs. Hugenin

CHANCELLOR MEASURE IS DEFEATED IN HOUSE

House Bill 15, designed to abolish the office of State Chancellor, practically was killed Wednesday when the legislature adopted an adverse committee report. The bill was ordered printed, regardless of the fact that the majority report was accepted.

The measure, which was introduced several weeks ago in the senate by Garber (Democrat) of Sanders county, provided that the duties of the chancellor should be turned over to the state superintendent of schools and the presidents of the four institutions comprising the Greater University of Montana.

SPECIAL!

The students failed to rally on the oval this morning at 8 o'clock to witness the ending of the world. As no interest was shown a few of the learned ones have put their heads together and decided to postpone the affair for a short time until it can be more fully advertised.

Women Are Making
Final Dance Plans

The committees in charge of the annual Co-ed Formal, to be held Friday, February 13, are working steadily to complete the final details of the affair, according to the manager, Gretchen Coates. There will be 12 dances and four extras.

Tickets are being sold in the sorority houses and dormitories at present, and will be on sale in Main hall only one day, Wednesday, February 11. The price of the tickets is $1.50, and only 200 tickets will be on sale.

SCHOOL PLANS
BIG PROGRAM
CHARTER DAYTO HOLD CONVOCATION
AT 2 O'CLOCKMasquers to Present Two Plays; Glee Club Will Sing; Frosh and High
Basketball Game.

"Programs are being arranged for the afternoon and evening of February 17, in observance of Charter day," said Helen Newman, secretary to the president, yesterday.

The afternoon program will consist of a convocation starting at 2 o'clock. Faculty members and students will give talks on the history of the University.

Two one-act plays, "Columbine" and "A Good Woman", will be given by the Masquers. Nan Walsh is directing "Columbine", and the cast is composed of Evelyn Siderfren, Mary Cooney, and Gordon Roghien. "A Good Woman" is being directed by Helen Owen, and Ruth Gonzer, Furrness Van Iderstine, and Edward Orr are taking part in it. From 4 to 6 o'clock, tea will be served in the Home Economics department. The Glee club under the direction of DeLoss Smith is on the program for a few numbers, with Miss Bernice Berry at the piano.

Starting at 8 o'clock, the evening program will consist of a basketball game between Missoula high school and the Grizzly Cubs. Following the game, the Symphony orchestra under the direction of Professor E. H. Weisberg will give a concert.

Regular classes will be held during the morning of Charter day, with special lectures and assignments given to make the classes interesting to visitors.

Programs and invitations to the exercises will be sent out to townspeople next week urging them to join the University students in observance of the day. Speakers will be announced next week.

CO-EDS PRACTICE FOR
INTERCLASS TOURNEY

Each class now has a team practicing for the women's basketball tournament, which will be held during the first of March.

The freshmen and sophomore women have classes in basketball three times a week during this quarter. Some excellent material has been found among the students registered in these classes. Two weeks' practice will be allowed before the opening game, which will be played March 9. A trophy will be awarded the winners of the inter-class games.

"M" CLUB TOURNAMENT
TO BE HELD MARCH 10Committees in Charge Appointed at Meeting Tuesday

The "M" Club tournament will be held March 11, according to the meeting of the "M" club last Tuesday. Committees were appointed to take charge of all necessary arrangements. Those appointed were George Axel, Walter Griffin and Oscar Dahlberg on the finance committee; Grant Silvernale, Pat Suggs and Clinton Rute, program committee, and Wee Maundin, Bus Tarbox and Cammy Meagher on the equipment committee.

Admission will be $1.50 for ring-side seats. Other seats will be $1 for townspeople and 50 cents for students.

Lack of Votes Kills Amendments

Lack of the necessary two-thirds of the total votes of the active members of the ASUM to amend the constitution, made the last election, held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, void. The proposed amendments dealt with the Athletic Board of Control and a graduate manager system. As there are 1,140 students in the ASUM, 760 votes comprise a majority. Many of the ballots had to be discarded, as they were either improperly marked, or were not placed in the ballot-box.

On Article V, section 2, proposing a change in the Athletic Board of Control, 486 votes were cast in favor of, and 73 votes were cast against the amendment.

On the proposed by-laws of the Athletic Board pertaining to a graduate manager system, 198 votes were cast for, and 434 votes were cast against the adoption of the system.

Myrtle Shaw and Ed Buck, who were in charge of the ballots, extended the voting period an extra day, in the presumption that a majority of students would cast their votes.

WALLIS TO TALK
AT CONVOCATIONClasses to Be Excused for Address of Educator
Monday Morning

Louis Wallis, of Fels Foundation of Chicago, will arrive in Missoula Monday morning from Bozeman, where he has been one of the principal speakers at the Boys' Vocational Congress held at the Montana State college during the past week.

Mr. Wallis will speak before the students in Main hall at 10 o'clock Monday morning, during which hour classes will be dismissed. Monday evening, he will address the Missoula Chamber of Commerce at a dinner. He will also speak at a union service to be held at the Methodist church Wednesday night at 7:30. Mr. Wallis will meet in conference with the Ministerial association of Missoula Thursday noon.

During his stay in Missoula, Mr. Wallis will spend much of the time, not taken up by talks, holding open forums for the University students. He also will meet some of Dr. Underwood's classes in sociology. For a number of years Mr. Wallis was professor of sociology at the University of Ohio, and he is the author of "Cry for Justice", a sociological study of the Bible.

In speaking of Mr. Wallis' engagements in Missoula, Reverend W. L. Young said: "Mr. Wallis is a scholar in every sense of the word, and I am sure his talks will be enjoyed by the students and townspeople."

INTRAMURAL QUINTS
START TOMORROWJournalists and Business Ads Are
First to Clash for Inter-
School Title

Intramural basketball begins tomorrow afternoon when the Journalist five clashes with the Business Ad quint at 2:30. This contest will be the first of a series of 15 contests between the six schools of the University to decide the inter-school championship. The winning team will receive a trophy of some kind, which will probably be either a cup or blanket. All men registered in the University are eligible for the school teams except Varsity lettermen.

The alert manager of the press boys has assembled a wicked array of hoopers to represent the scribes in the coming tournament. The Journalist team has available several of the members of this year's Cub team, including the Hodges twins, who will be up at forwards, Jake Miller and Brittenham, at guards, and Ed Smith at center. For reserves the scribes have Guthrie, Coulter, Burrell, and Martinson.

The crew from the "Jewish Engineering" school appears really imposing. Art Neill and Marion Smith will probably be at the forward positions, with George Elliott at center, and Jiggs Crowley and Gil Baker at guards, with Carl Woods and Byrd in reserve. A torrid tussle is promised.

The schedule in full follows:

Saturday, Feb. 2—Business Ad vs. Journalism; 2:30 p. m.

Monday, Feb. 9—Forestry vs. Business Ad; Arts and Science vs. Journalism; 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday, Feb. 10—Forestry vs. Business Ad; Arts vs. Journalism; 7:30 p. m.

Thursday, Feb. 12—Law vs. Pharmacy; Forestry vs. Arts; 7:30.

Saturday, Feb. 14—Pharmacy vs. Journalism; 2:30.

Monday, Feb. 16—Arts vs. Business Ad; 7:30.

Wednesday, Feb. 18—Forestry vs. Pharmacy; Arts vs. Law.

Thursday, Feb. 19—Business Ad vs. Law; Journalism vs. Forestry; 7:30.

Saturday, Feb. 21—Business Ad vs. Pharmacy; 2:30.

NOTICE

All men in the University wanting to enter the wrestling and boxing tournament report at once to Midge Griffiths or Pat Suggs. The tournament is open to all.

GRIZZLY TRACKMEN
HIT GRIND MONDAY

Grizzly track and field candidates are ordered to report to Coach Stewart in the gymnasium Monday, February 9, to begin the first indoor workouts of the 1925 track season. Light running and general conditioning will be the order until the outdoor work begins. Credit for track work will be given in the physical education department.

Men are needed for events. Experience is not a requirement and everyone with track ability is urged to turn out. All men, with the exception of veterans, will furnish their own track equipment for the indoor workouts, as material cannot be afforded at this stage for everyone. Promising Varsity timber will be furnished with equipment later in the season. Outdoor running will commence later every day that the weather permits. Candidates are ordered to bring a suit of heavy underwear to use with their sweat shirts.

SMITH INTRODUCES REFUND FARE BILLLetter From Him Reveals Error in Story That He Would Repeal Old Law

Word has been received from Representative Smith, of Beaverhead county, and Mr. C. Franklin Parker, former University student, that the former has introduced a bill legalizing the action of the State Board of Education in raising the refund fare limit from $10 to $15.

According to Mr. Smith it was not his intention to introduce a bill for the repeal of the students' fare refund law. He said that he did not wish to have the refund law repealed, but he wanted to legalize the order made by the State Board of Education.

Here is the Associated Press statement carried in the Missoulian of January 28: "Among the notices received by the house this morning were two matters mentioned by Governor Erickson in his message. Smith of Beaverhead gave notice of a bill to repeal the law permitting the state to refund a part of the railroad fare of college students."

Upon the above statement action, in the form of petitions, was taken against the announced repeal measure by students.

STATION WILL SEND
PATHE NEWS SERVICEFilm of the Campus Radio Will Be Made and Shown in State
Theaters

Pathe news service will be broadcast regularly from the new radio sending station according to negotiations made by G. D. Shallenberger of the Physics department, who is in charge of the station.

A representative of the Pathe company of Seattle will take a film of pictures of the broadcasting station, operating room, and studio, and it will be shown in the theaters over the state.

The news service will include reviews of recent disasters such as the Japanese earthquake, telling of the experiences of the rescue parties and conditions of the country. This service will be sent out on the evening programs.

Local items on the campus will also be sent out to the Montana alumni. Dean DeLoss Smith of the Music department is preparing musical programs and Sunday afternoon broadcasting will be attempted. There also will be lectures by professors and business men of the city with interesting research that will keep the station open at least three nights a week and Sunday afternoons.

NOTICE!

The class in observation and teaching will meet at the usual place and time Monday, February 9.

DEAN VAN COTT
VISITS CAMPUSUtah Educator Says Montana
Has Envious Educational
Position in United States

Lucy M. Van Cott, dean of women at the University of Utah, left last night for Salt Lake City after visiting in Missoula for two days. Miss Van Cott came from Bozeman, where she spoke at the boys' vocational congress.

Miss Van Cott, who was very impressed with our campus, said: "Your scenery is beautiful, your air as perfect as any I have ever breathed, your water as pure as that at Mount Hood, Oregon. I am particularly impressed with the Montana campus and its beautiful trees. The dormitories are the best I have ever visited. Montana, indeed, has an enviable educational position in the United States."

During her visit here Miss Van Cott was the guest of Mrs. Louise Arnoldson, and she was entertained extensively. Wednesday she was the dinner guest of Dean Harriet Sedman at North hall. After dinner she gave an informal talk to the girls and made an inspection of the building. Yesterday noon she was entertained at luncheon by Miss Anne Platt at the Chimney Corner, and last night Mrs. Arnoldson gave a dinner in her honor at the Blue Parrot.

INSPECTORS TO VISIT
UNIVERSITY LIBRARYBoard of Educators to Inspect Library to Enlarge Scope and Better Courses

Five persons comprising the board of education for librarianship of the American Library association will visit the University of Montana and will inspect the library and the library courses. They will arrive in Missoula March 8 and will remain two days.

This board is visiting and inspecting the libraries of the colleges of the west for the purpose of enlarging the scope of the libraries and increasing and bettering the library courses taught in these schools. The board is composed of Adam Stroh of the Detroit public library; Sarah C. N. Bogle, secretary of the board and Harriet E. Howe, assistant, both of Chicago; Harrison W. Craver, of the Engineering Society's library of New York; Andrew Keogh of the Yale University library; Elizabeth Smith of the Albany Free library, and Malcolm G. Wyer of the Denver public library. Mr. Wyer was appointed librarian at the University of Nebraska recently.

A report of the proceedings of the fifteenth annual conference of the Pacific Northwest Library association has this to say of the board that will visit here:

"The duties of this permanent board are to evaluate and co-ordinate the various library training agencies. It is provided with ample funds. Closely related to this are generous donations for a series of library textbooks and for a full course library school in Paris. It is quite likely that donations for individual American schools will follow."

"We are on the way to something better in the training of library workers, with a better geographical distribution of schools, with the various agencies co-ordinated in their work and teaching and with future possibilities for special schools where training will be given for special kinds of library work and for advanced study in administrative and bibliographical problems. This will result in better library service and a greater recognition of library workers."

The University of Montana is a member of the American Library association and is one of the five universities in the United States that has library courses in its curriculum.

GRIZZLIES AND BULLDOGS
WILL MEET IN TWO GAMESTwo Students Named
On Welfare Council

Two students, Grover Johnson and Mattie Sharp, have been appointed by Gid Boldt, president of the student body, to represent the University on the Public Welfare Council, which is being organized in Missoula. The Council, according to Mr. J. M. Underwood, who is in charge of the movement, is for the promotion of better law enforcement and increased opportunities for education. Two representatives from each of various civic organizations, such as the Kiwanis club, the Rotary club and the Women's Christian Temperance Union are to be chosen.

Gus Dorias Brings Snappy
Team to Garden City for Series

Two rare dishes are on the basketball menu for the week-end. The Grizzly five makes its first appearance on the home floor since the western trip, with Gus Dorias' Gonzaga Bulldogs as opponents, tonight and tomorrow night. The games are slated to start at 7:30, in order to give everyone a chance to see the Masquers' productions, "The Proposal" and "Expressing Willie", to be presented at the Liberty theater.

Gonzaga Has Scappy Team

Although the Gonzagas have won but one game in seven starts and are in seventh place in the Northwest conference, Dorias has a fast, scappy five and a spirited conflict is assured, as rivalry between Montana and the Spokane school is always keen. The Grizzlies will be in good shape for the game, the injury to Jimmy Graham's mouth sustained in the Multnomah game having healed. The rest of the squad is in condition.

Football Stars to Play

Gonzaga has one of the fastest forwards in the Northwest conference in Mel Ingram, Bulldog fullback last fall. Besides being shifty and speedy, Ingram is a "basket shark." Little Fitzgerald, whom Montana fans will remember as a fast, aggressive player, is holding down the other forward position. Red Flaherty, who played tackle with the football team and held down first base for the ball club, occupies one of the guard positions on Dorias' five. Either Walterskirchen or Albers will be at the other guard. Dussault, another football player, will probably start at center.

For reserve material Dorias has Ryan, Reecoon and Jovick as forwards. Gibson is available for the pivot position, with Eilers ready to jump into the combat to relieve one or the other of the two guards when needed.

Stewart probably will start the same five that has been starting the games here and on the western trip. However, the Grizzly mentor has been making frequent substitutions, and Carney, Jimmy Graham, Coyle and Kelly may be called upon to get in the fracas at any minute. If Chief Ilman can keep up the sensational work he showed on the western journey, when his sharp-shooting and flashy floorwork earned him the praise of all the western sport critics, and the two Dahlsbergs can go as they did in the game against Idaho, Dorias might as well bring a good supply of crepe along, for he'll need it after the game.

The probable lineups:

Montana	Gonzaga
Baney or Kelly	Ingram
Left forward.
G. Dahlberg	Fitzgerald
Right forward.
Ilman	Dussault
Center.
O. Dahlberg	Flaherty
Guard.
Sweet	Walterskirchen or Albers
Right guard.

TWO CUPS ORDERED FOR VOYVIL ACTS

Two cups, of equal value, will be given by the ASUM to student organizations offering the best acts at Varsity Voyvil, which is scheduled to take place the early part of March. This provision was in the form of a motion passed at a meeting of the Central Board, February 3.

Another motion was passed which provided that the ASUM shall pay the expenses up to $15 for each act that makes the finals in the Varsity Voyvil this year, providing a statement of expenses is submitted.

NOTICE!

Fraternity pictures will be mailed to the engravers Wednesday. Those who have not returned their proofs to the Paschal studio by Saturday night at 6 o'clock will be out of luck. The book has been held up a week because of failure to return proofs.

Correction

EVIDENTLY the news from California was a hoax and the Kaimin fell for it. We apologize to anyone who sold their worldly goods, but hope they remember Kaimin advertisers when purchasing new ones. To those people who failed to show up for classes this morning we extend our sincerest regrets. The day is not over, though, and we hope that the California dopestier will be exonerated.

Could This Be You?

OVER 500 members of the ASUM were too tired or disinterested to make two marks on the amendment ballots during a three-day voting period. Possibly they felt that they didn't have the knowledge to vote on the amendments. But judging from the "moronesque" faces of some of the people who voted the total slackers couldn't have gone wrong. The ASUM is the student body. How true!

Last spring many of the people who failed to vote on the amendments flew around hastily trying to get votes for various friends who were running for office. That's great sport. But it is a different matter when it comes to concentrating all of one-half minute in giving some attention to the amendments worked on for the judgment of the students and donating another half-minute to voting on them. The amendments failed. But they didn't fail because of opposition or because of support. They failed because the ASUM is a cadaverous thing when it comes to anything besides crabbing faculty members or rising in righteous wrath at attempts to "take our rights away from us."

One purpose of the amendments was to give the students more voice in the management of student affairs. How asinine! We'd clap anyone on the back who proposed an amendment to shelve the ASUM and put everything in the hands of faculty members who would take an interest in what is being done. But the amendment would fail for lack of votes.

Give the ASUM Glo-Co, tea, and a good shot of strychnine!

Heads Up, Montana Legislators!

AMERICAN youth applied at the doors of colleges and universities in increased numbers during the last year. Like Ford cars and a certain brand of cigarettes, higher education is to have its millions of satisfied users. Eighty of the most important colleges and universities alone offered their educational wares to almost half a million customers during the year 1924. The steady increase in registration is paralleled by increases in gifts and appropriations for the upkeep and expansion of our educational institutions.

Eighty-three of the leading colleges and universities in the United States now have 245,248 students. This is 15,299 more than they had a year ago. This list contains only those students who have no present occupation besides going to college. It does not include those enrolled in evening courses, extension classes or summer schools. The list is a representative one including small denominational colleges, state universities, small coeducational colleges and colleges for women exclusively.

In these colleges the increase in attendance for the last year has been 6½ per cent. Although the increase is not as large as in that period immediately following the war, it is much larger than the increase in population.

In 1910 there were just two colleges listed with more than 5,000 full time students apiece. Three others had more than 4,000 and four others had more than 3,000. The ten largest combined had a total enrollment of less than 43,000. Today there are registered in these ten institutions more than 101,000 students.

Comparing this 101,000 with the 144,000 in the other colleges shows an increasing concentration in the larger universities. At the University of Illinois, for instance, an enrollment of 25,000 may be realized in the near future. The University of California, the largest educational institution in the world, is attempting to cope with this over-centralization by establishing branches. Of its 15,337 students in full time attendance 5,932 attend the southern branch.

In addition to these students California has 10,428 in the summer session, 10,759 in extension classes, 1,431 being taught practical agriculture and 2,971 taking correspondence courses. This makes a staggering total of nearly 40,000 students receiving instruction in some way or other from the university.

At the eighty-three foremost colleges and universities, the total enrollment at summer school is 160,000 and at extension school 125,000. Add this number to the 245,000 full time students and we find these eighty-three institutions dealing out instruction to almost half a million persons during the last year.

With the ever-increasing army of education seeking youngsters on their hands the main preoccupation everywhere is how to raise more money to build more buildings and equip more classrooms. Forty of the eighty-three colleges have large sized building programs either under way or recently completed. Among them are: Harvard, with a $5,000,000 business school; University of Iowa, a $4,500,000 medical center; Western Reserve, a $2,500,000 school of medicine.

Many of the building programs have been made possible as the result of large gifts by millionaires, James B. Duke, George Eastman, George F. Baker, and others. The University of Chicago has inaugurated a campaign to double its present resources of $50,000,000. Many state legislatures will be asked for large appropriations for state universities. Ohio State is to ask for approximately $16,000,000 during the next biennium. The Universities of Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Carolina are also expecting funds from similar sources.—The New Student.

Communications

There are some statements in Mr. Freeman's letter which, I think, call for a reply. In the first place he says "the advertising was false. The real subject matter was morality and perhaps Mr. Smith thought we could not be lured by 'morality'." If Mr. Freeman had had the facts he would not have made such a statement. Mr. Smith was taken by surprise when he came on the campus at 10:45 and saw that he was to speak on the subject "Is America a Great Nation?" He was not responsible for his publicity. The State University of Iowa sent a clipping from the student paper carrying news of Mr. Smith's address on that subject before the students there. In his address here at convocation Mr. Smith said he would speak on "Is America a Great Nation?" in the afternoon session. The idea that Mr. Smith deceived the students by "false" advertising to "lure" them to a consideration of morals is an injustice to him.

I agree with Mr. Freeman when he objects to a moral philosophy which says, "Be good because it pays." Jesus didn't represent such a viewpoint. Roger Babson's idea of religion is revolting to me. However, it is a misrepresentation of Mr. Smith's viewpoint to claim that he said "high positions were the reward of morality". If morality alone assures one of success why did Mr. Smith urge the students in such dramatic fashion to "stay by the University"? No, he didn't say that morality assured success, but he did say that immoral conduct lessened the chances for success in life.

Mr. Freeman's reaction to Mr. Smith's appeal for the League of Nations and at the same time giving support to Mr. Borah is hardly fair to either Mr. Smith or Mr. Borah. In the first place, Mr. Smith is not interested in the League of Nations as such. He is tremendously concerned about international co-operation and good will. If the League or some other means will accomplish the same end, all good and well. In the second place, the inference to be drawn from Mr. Freeman's letter is that Mr. Borah is an isolationist. This is not true. Mr. Borah is opposed to the League because he thinks it will not accomplish its purpose. But there is no other one thing which Mr. Borah is so concerned about as international co-operation. Anyone who knows Mr. Borah's attitude towards war and who heard Mr. Smith plead for a warless world at the noon meeting will readily see how these two men share in this conviction.

Mr. Freeman sees another inconsistency when Mr. Smith in one breath praises Wells' Outline of History and in the next one condemns socialism. I love portions of Vedic literature. Am I inconsistent in being a Christian? Does one have to be a socialist to admire Wells' Outline of History?

Mr. Freeman's concluding sentence that Mr. Smith had "only added several bad drugs to be administered for mental health" is both unfortunate and unfair. How one can believe that a plea for truth, honor, clean living, thrift, study, social justice, a warless world, and international good will, only administers bad drugs for mental health I don't know.

To the Editor of the Montana Kaimin, Sir:

I have never written you before and probably shall not again as I feel to a certain extent that I don't belong.

However, your editorial on the "Singing Fireman" in your January 30 issue brings to my mind a similar experience and, I think, for the same reasons. It was about 1884 or 1885 just after the first Boer war of South Africa that, in the rainy season (when the bottom drops out of the sky) I was attending hospital with a bad case of jaundice. In the night, volunteers were called for, to form an escort for an ox wagon loaded with rifle ammunition going to a supposedly hard pressed detachment many miles up country.

Volunteers did not seem very numerous, and at first my application was refused as I was on the sick list. However, they let me go. It was the worst night I ever saw. Lightning seemed to run along the ground continuously; also if the Boers were fools enough to get out on such a night they might ambush us at any time.

Someone called for limericks—I had the reputation of knowing 400 at that time, and they got them all and then some. The night went much more quickly than one could imagine, and being busy we were not scared. Towards morning we outspanned and tied the oxen to the wagon tongue and holding our horses by the bridles crawled under the wagon. The din made by a couple of lions, a horde of jackals and a hyena or two trying to get an ox or a horse (probably being very hungry) kept us awake.

The next day, however, the sun came out and, with only occasional showers, we had a glorious trip seeing, I expect, every wild animal "Teddy" ever saw and then some. We delivered the ammunition safely and I never had any more jaundice. In singing we outraged the conventions more than your fireman; for our voices might have brought the Boers on us. As our sergeants said, however, "If the enemy were fools enough to be out why let 'em come, it can't be any worse than it is right now and may be better."

Yours sincerely,
H. C. B. COLVILL.

STRYCHNINE KILLS OHIO STATE MEN

Ohio State University, Feb. 4.—Definite traces of strychnine, found today in the stomach of David I. Pusken, Canton, Ohio State University student, who died suddenly Sunday, has led the University officials to believe that the sudden death of Pusken and another student in the last four days and the violent illness of other students, was due to poison.

STETSON

MOST young men today know the importance of looking fit. Good appearance counts much in the game of life. The young man who dresses with taste has a decided advantage.

But—it is surprising how little thought the average man gives to his hat. It is his crown, yet he seems to stop dressing at the neck.

Be careful in your selection of your headwear. When you buy a hat, select a Stetson. Its style is right, its quality means long wear.

DOHNANYI

Composer-Pianist Appears March 2

Dohnanyi, "the famous," as he is called, will appear in Missoula at the Liberty theater, March 2, under the auspices of the Missoula Music Teachers' association.

Dohnanyi, a composer-pianist, compared to Brahms and Beethoven by the critics of Budapest, Paris, London and New York, was born in 1857 in the town of Pozany, Hungary, where his father was a professor of mathematics and physics in the local high school. The elder Dohnanyi was a great lover of music, being an accomplished cellist. When Dohnanyi showed an aptitude for the piano while very young, his father learned to play that instrument that he might teach his son. When the boy outgrew the training of his father, Forstner, the organist of the Pozany cathedral, undertook his musical education.

DOHANNYI

At Budapest he won the famous Franz Liszt scholarship, and in 1887, after graduating from the academy, he went to Berlin, and there gave his first major recital. Here he became acquainted with the great conductor, Johann Richter, who took him to Vienna and later to London.

Since that time Dohnanyi has published over two score opus, and has already played in more than a thousand concerts, besides writing an opera. At present he is at work on a comic opera, "The Tenor."

"This is the fourth of the Artists' Series appearing in Missoula," said Professor Weisberg yesterday, "and, in my opinion, it is the greatest of them all."

NOTICE

Where to Sit at Varsity Games

A section of the bleachers in the gymnasium is reserved for the M men at all Varsity basketball games. M men are asked to occupy this section—and other students are asked not to.

Students are asked to occupy the bleachers and balcony on the north side of the gymnasium at all games. There has been too much scattering heretofore.

And above all, DON'T start leaving the gym before the game is over (no matter which team is winning) NOR before the Grizzly band finishes playing "Up With Montana." Stay and sing it to the last word.

THETAS ENTERTAIN BROTHERS

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained at a dinner dance in honor of the brothers of members of the fraternity, at the chapter house Thursday evening. The guests were: Theodore Plummer, Ben Plummer, Herbert White, Dick Breitenstein, Horatio Kilroy, Archie Blair, George Blair, Bill Dunn, Thomas Street, Craig Wilcox, Paul Judge, Harold Walker, William Vesch, and Russell Stabern.

PRESIDENT AND DEANS RETURN TO MISSOULA

Dr. Clapp and Deans Spaulding and Stone Arrive from Bozeman Wednesday

Dr. C. H. Clapp and Deans A. L. Stone and T. C. Spaulding returned Wednesday night from the sixth annual boys' vocational conference at Bozeman, where they addressed the record-breaking attendance of 1,150 high school students. Their respective talks were "Mining Engineering," "Journalism as a Profession" and "Forestry."

The University furnished all but one of the speakers for Wednesday morning's session. Members of this year's conference had the opportunity of hearing three college presidents, President Alfred Atkinson of Montana

State college, President F. S. Harris of Brigham Young university, and President C. H. Clapp.

On the Campus

LOAN BOARD GIVES HELP TO STUDENTS

Thirty-Five Students Receive Money From University Loan Fund Last Year

A yearly report of the Student Loan board of which J. B. Speer is chairman, shows that during the college year 1923-24, loans have been made to 35 students (not including 10 renewals) of which eight were women. Fourteen of these students were seniors, fourteen juniors, three sophomores, two freshmen, and two graduates. The loans were made from the following funds: 28 loans were made from the Montana Banker's funds totaling $2,450; four from the Nebraska alumni funds totaling $245; one from the AWS funds totaling $100; and two from the Anonymous student loan funds totaling $100.

Additions to loan funds during the college year total $114 of which $14.50 was added to the Anonymous Student Loan fund and $100 to the AWS funds.

There have been six requests for loans made recently for which there are no available funds at the present time.

MONTANA SHARPSHOOTERS START RIFLE CONTESTS

Five Medals to Be Awarded to the Highest Scorers

Montana's rifle team began its series of contests Wednesday with other ROTC units throughout the Ninth corps area including Idaho, Washington State college, Oregon Agricultural college, and the University of Washington. Competitive firing within the area will continue for three weeks before scores will be compared with any of the eastern schools.

The following members of the ROTC unit were designated to fire in the corps area 1925 competition: R. Davis, O. McLean, B. Lund, R. E. Alton, J. W. Winninghoff, W. Tyler, R. Silkenon, E. Koch, H. H. Peck, R. McGuire, A. K. Rottler, L. Burbank, V. C. Hollingsworth, D. LaRue and R. L. Benjamin. J. W. Schroeder, C. Alton, and C. O. Werner were named as substitutes. To the five highest members of the team medals will be awarded as follows: First, gilt; second, silver; third, fourth and fifth, bronze. Major George L. Smith is in charge of the team and will conduct the matches at this branch of the area.

Other Campuses

University of California, Feb. 5.—A large chess board has been placed in the men's club rooms by the Chess club of the university. The board will be used in a correspondence tournament match with Stanford. The various plays will be sent from the two teams by postcards mailed each day.

University of Iowa, Feb. 5.—Of interest to students in journalism is the newspaper library nearing completion at the University of Iowa School of Journalism. The library will contain an edition of every daily paper in the United States. Some twenty-five dailies will be represented as well as most of the six hundred Iowa weeklies. It is possibly the only library of its kind, its purpose being to acquaint students with a wide variety of newspaper makeups.

University of Colorado, Feb. 5.—Seven freshman women were summoned before Queen's Bench recently for violating the rules of the co-ed police. Punishment sentences called for dates to be cancelled, floors to be scrubbed, and examinations on rules and regulations of WSGA to be taken.

Cornell University, Feb. 5.—Architectural students and professional architects are invited by the summer school of the Bureau of University Travel, Newton, Massachusetts, to participate in a European tour to be made under its auspices next summer. Complete information may be secured from Professor A. C. Phelps of the College of Architecture, Cornell University.

University of California, Feb. 5.—California songs and yells were given as a part of the program broadcasted Saturday night from Schenectady, New York. The program was called "An International Intercollegiate Night On the Air." More than five hundred alumni of schools throughout the world took part in the program.

University of Pennsylvania, Feb. 6. Plans are being made to increase the size of the stadium to seat 83,000 people. The present stadium with a seating capacity of 56,000 is far too small.

Chicago University, Feb. 5.—Because of a recent ruling at Chicago University, providing penalties for the fraternities making a poor showing in scholastic work, Alpha Tau Omega has been refused the right to initiate during the winter quarter, and Sigma Chi fraternity has received the penalty of no social privileges for the winter quarter.

Both fraternities permitted their averages to fall to a "C" level for the autumn term. This policy of fraternity probation aims to bring up the scholastic standing of fraternities on the Chicago campus. The University of Minnesota and several other institutions have made such rulings this fall.—New Student.

Yale University, Feb. 5.—Some Yale freshmen started a snowball fight to divert their minds from the mid-year examinations. The fight started on the evening of January 26. The next morning it broke out again and the snowball barrage was not lifted until all the windows in all the freshman dormitories were broken.

University authorities could not view the incident in any other light than as "the most unwarranted bit of vandalism that has ever been effected by members of the student body."—New Student.

Brown University, Feb. 5.—Brown university students voted 400 to 290 against compulsory chapel which has been in force there since 1754. A vote was also taken concerning the inauguration of afternoon classes on the schedule this present semester. By a vote of 600 to 154 they indicated their desire to return to the old schedule. Their objection was that men working their way through college have found late classes a hardship and that the football coaches last year complained that Brown would soon be without an adequately trained team unless the members of the squad found it possible to report before 5 o'clock.—New Student.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—"Chief Illman and four other men from Montana came within an ace of humbling the University of Washington's basketball team Monday night. Only after a sensational spurt in the last minutes of the game did the Washingtonians annex the winning end of a 39-27 score.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—The highest peak in intelligence test scores was reached this quarter when Elizabeth McCall, an 18-year-old sophomore, made a grade of a possible 175.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—Announcement has been made by the Student House Managers' Cooperative association that the first carload of potatoes for the organized houses will arrive about February 5.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—Washington ball-tossers will play on a new diamond on the tract adjoining the Stadium during the 1925 baseball season. Announcement of plans for a new ball field were made Friday by Darwin Meisner. A sod infield and bleachers to accommodate 4,000 spectators will be features of the new playing field. Lander hall quarters will be used as a clubhouse by the players.

University of Nevada, Feb. 5.—About $300 is received by the library every year from fines on overdue books. The money is spent for books and library supplies.

University of Nevada, Feb. 5.—Freshmen on the university campus are no longer hazed. For violation of traditions they are brought before upper classmen to be reprimanded.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—A gift of $25 was made to the Frederick A. Churchill Jr. Memorial library of the University of Washington school of journalism by Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Churchill January 27, the birthday anniversary of their son, Frederick A. Churchill Jr., in whose memory they established the Memorial library in 1918. Frederick Churchill was a journalism student before the department was changed to a school of journalism. He died of infantile paralysis in New York city in 1916, while engaged in newspaper work there.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—In order to promote research work and scholarship in the University of Washington, the faculty has been divided into five new groups, each headed by a dean. The groups are divided according to interests, and are as follows: Faculty of science, faculty of letters, faculty of technology and faculty of fine arts.

University of Washington, Feb. 5.—Three professors of the university were decorated Tuesday by the king of Italy through his consul here, Alberto Afani.

Ohio State University, Feb. 2.—A large chest fastened with heavy padlocks is used to store the horse shoes used by the inter-mural contestants in "barn-yard golf." Many adepts of the game have their own particular shoes and they are stored in this chest to prevent their being stolen by rivals.

Dartmouth College, Feb. 2.—A course called Social Engineering has been added to the curriculum at Dartmouth College. A study of the causes of happiness will be made and some plan for securing them be suggested.

University of Wisconsin, Feb. 2.—Almost half the income of the University of Wisconsin, although appropriated by the legislature, comes from student fees, federal appropriations, income from dormitories, cafeterias, farm products, and even football games.

CO-ED RIFLE TEAM HOLDS FIRST SHOOTING MATCH

The women's rifle team began firing Wednesday for its first match of the season with the University of Michigan. Scores must be in the hands of the officials not later than Saturday and the results will not be learned until some time next week. The team is composed of 12 members and the five members making the highest percentage during the entire season will be awarded medals as follows: First, gilt; second, silver; third, fourth and fifth, bronze.

Other matches will be held during the season: February 14, Northwestern university, University of Nevada and the University of Nebraska; February 21, University of Wisconsin, University of North Dakota, Washington State college, Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Washington; March 14, University of Vermont.

GEOLOGY DEPARTMENT CATALOGING FOSSILS

Cataloging of a large shipment of fossils which has been received recently by the geology department to be used in the study of Paleontology, is being done.

"This is not a display collection but rather a teaching collection, and it is an exceptionally good one," said Dr. Bradley in commenting on the shipment.

Kaltchas to Speak Before Press Club

Nicholas Kaltchas, instructor in history, will address the Press club next Wednesday evening on a phase of the Turkey situation. Mr. Kaltchas is widely informed on foreign topics, and is expected to reveal some unusually interesting facts. He recently addressed the Business and Professional Women's club at the YWCA on "International Relations."

Because of financial conditions the committee in charge of refreshments has not decided whether or not eats will be served at this meeting. A definite announcement will be made in Tuesday's Kaimin.

Winifred Wilson again wishes to call attention to the fact that only one-half of the members of the club have paid their dues. "If all the members will either pay Reid Lanway or me we can have lots of food at these meetings," declared Miss Wilson.

Director Atkinson that the division will allow each section to progress more rapidly, prompted the change.

That the band bears some repute in the northwest is attested by the fact that Mr. Atkinson recently received a letter from the University of Washington saying they know of our good band and asking if there is any member of the Montana organization they could employ to take charge of a similar activity over there.
