TRACK ARTISTS SHOW CLASS IN EARLY SEASON WORKOUTS

Men Working Hard to Get in Shape for the Seattle Relay Carnival

Montana's cinder artists are showing that they are no second class club in their workouts this week. The team, although strong in the runs, is as yet weak in the jumps and javelin. The jumps and javelin events are of a nature that requires little training and the coach will welcome anyone wishing to try out for these.

The big development of the week was that of Hanson in the two-mile. "Hans" stepped the two-mile in nice shape and hopes to cut his time down before the season is over.

"Russ" Sweet has been stepping the 100 and 220 in good pre-season time. "Russ" runs consistently and should make a good showing this season. He will be the man around which the sprint relay team will be built. The other good prospects for the sprint relay are Ritter, Cople, and Stark.

Ritter galloped around the quarter-mile in fine style and looks better than he did last season. Stark is the other quarter-miler and is following Ritter closely in his workouts.

Gillette, Lowmy and Davis look like the best bets in the half-mile. All three of these men are sophomores and go into the first meet at W.S.C. without college experience. If a few more half-milers are developed a two-mile relay team will be entered at the relay carnival.

Coyle and Thompson in the low hurdles have been clipping the string in good shape, while Thompson, Varney and Spaulding are taking the big sticks nicely.

Captain George Axtell and Al Blumenthal are showing well with the weights. It is hard to tell which is the better at this stage in their training. "Wee" Maudlin was called home last week, but will be with the squad as soon as he returns.

A dispatch from Bozeman says, "Bobcat prospects in track are none too bright." In fact, in certain events they have little, but the Bruins can be assured that the Bobcats will do their best when they meet on May 16. Montana State misses men of past years like Cogswell, Bunney, Bachman, and Cates. These places are hard to fill, at least in one year.

Baney, pole-vaulter of last year, is beginning to hit his mark in the vault and by the time of the first meet he should be clearing the bar in winning style. Coulter and Coyle are pole-vaulting as a sideline to their other events.

The season is yet young and it is not too late to come out for track. Montana needs more men out. There are still events in which as yet no showing has been made and there will be room for second and third place men on the team. You do not know what you can do until you really train and give yourself a chance.

Coach Stewart says: "The outstanding men in American track and field athletics is more men who will try out for distance events, especially the mile and two-mile runs. Too

RELIGION COURSE AROUSES INTEREST

The School of Religion now has 28 students enrolled in its spring course, and is therefore closed to further registration. William L. Young, the inter-church pastor, announced yesterday. He said that there would be more students taking the course if there were room for them, and that the interest on the part of the students may result in the division of the course given in the fall quarter into two sections.

The fall quarter course, "Essentials of Religion for Today," is a study of Christian teaching, especially concerning God, Christ, man and the Kingdom of God. "Beginnings of Christianity," the course given this quarter, includes a survey of the life of Christ and the early Christian movement. It also sketches the political, economic, cultural and religious conditions among the Jews and the Gentiles from the Maccabean revolt (167 B. C.) to about 180 A. D.

CO-EDS ATTEND STATE MEETING

Catherine Reynolds, Edith Dawes, and Eleanor Stephenson represented the University YWCA at the State Cabinet Training council of YWCA held in Bozeman, April 3-4-5. Representatives from the Normal college at Dillon, Intermountain college at Helena and the State college at Bozeman were also present.

Miss Elsie B. Heller, national student secretary of the YWCA, was the speaker of the conference, and led discussions on various problems.

MATH FRATERNITY TO BE INSTALLED

Charter Received Two Weeks Ago; But Installation Postponed Because of Exams

Montana chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics fraternity, will be formally installed Thursday, April 16. The charter was received about two weeks ago, but installation was postponed on account of examinations and the vacation between quarters.

The following are named as charter members: Professor N. J. Lennes, Professor A. S. Merrill, Professor E. F. A. Carey, Professor G. D. Shallenberger, Raymond Garver, Winifred Joyce, Sanford Jacobson, Edie Enninger, Mabel Jacobson, Norinne Killoy, Esther Mohrerr, L. Custer Keim, Walter F. Simpson, Edward P. Taylor, Raleigh Baldwin and Eloise Crangle. Professor Carey is the director of the fraternity; Esther Mohrerr, secretary, and Professor Shallenberger, treasurer. The scholarship committee is composed of Professor Merrill, chairman, Professor Lennes, Raleigh Baldwin and Esther Mohrerr.

Pi Mu Epsilon was founded at Syracuse University in 1913. It began as a mathematics club in 1903 but reorganized at the later date. The purpose of the fraternity, as stated in the Bucknell University "Bucknellian," is "scholarship for the individual members in all subjects and particularly in mathematics; secondarily, the advancement of the science of mathematics, and lastly, the mutual and personal advancement of its members." There are now nine chapters of the fraternity: Syracuse University, Ohio State University, University of Pennsylvania, University of Missouri, University of Alabama, Iowa State College, University of Illinois, Bucknell University and the University of Montana.

MAJORS DIRECT WORK IN AQUATIC SPORTS

The women's swimming classes are unusually large, according to Catherine McRae, acting head of the Women's Physical Education department. Dora Dykins and Agnes Getty have charge of the advanced classes. These classes are perfecting their strokes and dives. Senior majors in the Physical Education department, under the supervision of Dr. Schreiber, are in charge of all freshman and beginners' classes.

There will be a swimming meet sometime in the latter part of May or the early part of June, at which time the beginners and advanced students will be entered in various contests.

University Freshman Gets DAR Scholarship

Miss Janice Johnson, of Kalispell, a freshman at the University, has advised the Chief Ignace chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Kalispell, that she will accept the scholarship offered her by them. The scholarship will pay the expenses of Miss Johnson through her remaining three years of school.

The scholarship comes from a fund established by the state chapters of the DAR, a different chapter choosing a scholarship girl each year. The requirements are that the girl selected must have a high scholastic record and that she shall possess talent for leadership.

Miss Johnson was valedictorian of the class of 1924 of the Flathead County high school, and qualifies for the scholarship.

CUP WILL BE GIVEN BEST SCHOOL PAPER

Meetings Will Be Held at Time of Annual Track Meet; Interest Is Keen

"Competition between papers will be much keener this year than last, because there are more papers, they have improved, and interest runs higher," said Professor A. A. Applegate in regard to the contest between the high school papers that will be held at the University during interscholastic week next month.

Meetings of the Montana Interscholastic Editorial association will be held in Marcus Cook hall, and are open to all members of the association and others who are interested in high school papers.

The contest is open to all high school papers in the state which have paid their dues. Two divisions have been made in the contest, as was the case last year. One division will be for high schools with more than 500 enrollment; the other for high schools with an enrollment of less than 500.

Papers submitted for the contest must be in Professor Applegate's office not later than April 30. Entries will not be accepted after that date. Three copies each of five issues must be submitted, as it is wished to send the papers to judges outside the state. The papers must be accompanied by a statement by the high school principal of the number enrolled in the school.

"This will be the second year such a contest has been held in Montana. The idea is not a new one, as it has been in practice in some other states for some time, and interest in the work is fast spreading all over the country," said Mr. Applegate.

Mr. Applegate has received requests for criticism and suggestions from practically all high school papers in Montana and many from outside states concerning the contest that is being fostered by the University.

There will be about 30 high school papers submitted for judgment during this contest.

OFFICERS RECEIVE PROMOTION IN ROTC

Competitors for Hearst Trophy Will Fire at Last Targets This Coming Week

The citizens' military training camp at Camp Lewis, Washington, will open June 12. University men who have signed up to attend camp will not be able to report until June 19. Special permission has been granted the local ROTC officers for this delay.

Notice of promotions have just been posted on the ROTC bulletin board. Captain Jay Lovelless has been promoted to major of the University unit; Lieutenant William Koch to captain; Second Lieutenant Harold Karst to first lieutenant and J. W. Winniford has been raised to a second lieutenant. All non-commissioned officers have been named and they can get their chevrons at any time from Sergeant Kirkwood.

All commissioned cadet officers and non-commissioned cadet officers will be furnished with a schedule of the week's work and he must report, get his schedule and sign for same, as a check is being kept of each man.

Each Monday will be drill with rifles, and the proper uniform for the day will be announced in advance.

Shooting for the Hearst trophy, which has been carried through the last quarter, will be finished this week and will wind up all gallery shooting for this year.

The girls of North hall will be hostesses at a formal dance to be given at the hall May 23.

BASEBALL TEAM AND FORT MEET IN FIRST GAME

O'CONNOR IS EXPECTED TO OCCUPY HILL

Gonzaga Bulldogs to Open Conference Season Here May 1 and 2; Grizzlies Rounding Into Form.

Cap Cummings' charges swing into action for the first time this season with an outside club when they tangle with the soldier team from Fort Missoula Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Varsity diamond. This contest will give the coach a better line on the all-around strength of the club, which is showing better form at this early stage of the season than at the same time last year.

Marked improvement was shown the past week by the club's hitters who had their eyes on the pill and began smashing it hard and regularly. As soon as the diamond is worked into good shape a big improvement in the club's fielding can be expected.

The game with the Fort Saturday will give the squad a good workout in preparation for the opening games of the season with Clipper Smith's Gonzaga Bulldogs, who are slated to perform on the Grizzly diamond May 1 and 2. Smith has 12 of last year's lettermen on his squad, and from every indication his team will be a hard one to push past this season.

It is likely that Lanky Jimmy O'Connor will start the contest for the Grizzlies against the Fort Saturday. He was the mainstay of the staff last season, and is exhibiting the best form of any of the chukkers this season. Others who may be called on are: Bill Centerwall, John Carney, and John Geraghty. Danta Hanson, who is expected to hold down a berth at third regularly, may be called upon to take his turn on the rubber this year. Fell and Guthrie are also aspirants for mound jobs.

From all the dope available from the practice games between the first and second string squads for the past two weeks indications are that Cummings will use the following lineup against the soldiers: Stowe, center field; Anderson, shortstop; Hanson, third base; Kelly, catcher; Ilman, left field; Shoebottom, right field; Tarbox, second base; Meagher, first base, and O'Connor, pitcher.

However, there are lots of the lads on the squad who will push these men hard for places on the squad. King Tut Burtness, letterman of two years ago, has a good chance to land an infield job, second base in particular, which Fehllhaber and Freddie Lowe are showing up well. Carl Woods may get a chance to break into the outfield as he is hitting the ball consistently, while Obbie Berg has a mighty good opportunity to supplant one of the regulars.

Woods has had some experience behind the plate and may be used as a relief backstop for Billy Kelly, who is showing up well behind the plate and with the stick. There is a possibility that Chick Guthrie may also be used as second string catcher. Guthrie performed capably as a receiver the past two years.

Cummings is teaching the squad to lay the ball down as well as sock it out of the lot, and several of the squad members are showing marked ability in this department of the game. Scorp Anderson, Cammie Meagher, Captain Stowe, and Danta Hanson look especially adept at the art of laying the pill down.

BARBECUE TO HONOR FORESTRY SENIORS

The Forestry club held its first meeting of the quarter last Wednesday night in the library of Pinchot hall. Plans for the forestry barbecue which will be held the first Sunday after the interscholastic track meet were discussed.

It is the custom of the junior class in forestry to honor the seniors before graduation time. This year the barbecue is in charge of Tom Van Meter. The plan is to hold the gathering several miles up the Blackfoot.

R. E. Crowell, '23, made a short talk to the members of the club telling them of the policy of the government in relation to forestry. Mr. Crowell is junior forester for the Lolo national forest.

Following the business meeting refreshments, consisting of hot dogs, doughnuts and coffee, were served.

Grand opening of Greenough park April 18.

Bear Paw-Tanan Hop Will Be Park Opener

Final preparations are now being made for the Bear Paw-Tanan dance which will take place in Greenough park Saturday, April 18.

Each year the Bear Paws give a dance during the spring quarter. This year, however, the Bear Paws will unite their efforts with the Tanans and give the first dance to be held in Greenough park this year.

The dance will be informal, with no taxis. Street cars can be taken to within a block of the park. The ticket sale started today. Tickets may be purchased for $1 from the Bear Paws and Tanans.

Patron and patronesses for the affair will include Dean Harriet Sedman, and Professor and Mrs. J. Earl Miller.

ASUM BOARD NAMES STUDENT COMMITTEE

Dean Spaulding Asks Cooperation of Students at Meeting in Forestry Building

Dean T. C. Spaulding of the faculty Interscholastic track meet committee outlined in a brief talk to the presidents of the various fraternities and representatives from the dormitories the policy and purpose of the Interscholastic at a meeting held in the lecture room of Pinchot hall last night.

Mr. Spaulding told of how the track meet was financed and what the purpose of the gathering of these high school contestants really meant to the University. There were over 400 contestants in last year's meet. Plans are being laid to handle about 500 visitors for this year's affair.

At the last meeting of the ASUM board Ralph Fields, chairman, Fred Martin, Elizabeth Kilroy and Robert Harper were appointed as student members of the Interscholastic committee. The committee will have charge of the decoration of the campus, as well as the meeting and lodging of the contestants.

The representatives of the various groups pledged themselves to co-operate with the general committee in writing to friends and urge them to attend the track meet. The fraternities will have a continuance open house while the track meet is being held, the purpose of this being to make the entertainment cover more territory than it has in past years. The final plans for the entertainment of the visitors was not discussed, but will be made known at a later date.

This year it is the plan of the committee to have all of the fraternities decorate their respective house. A general plan for decoration will be suggested, but it will not be necessary to follow this plan. A prize award is being offered for the best decorated house.

CAMPUS DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE MEETS

Plans Discussed for Planting and Moving Shrubby to Beautify Campus

The campus development committee, consisting of Dean T. C. Spaulding, chairman, Tom Swearingen, J. E. Kirkwood and J. H. Ryman, held a meeting last week to discuss plans for the planting of trees and shrubbery around North and South halls as well as the gymnasium and library.

Every effort is being made, according to Dean Spaulding, to save a lot of the large maple trees which are now located around the oval. Damage by lawn mowers has started many of the trees to rot about the base. "These trees are over twenty years old and could not be easily replaced," says Mr. Spaulding.

The present plan is to replant several of the large maple and elm trees which are now located around Natural Science hall and the Law school. There will be about 30 large trees that will be moved to locations around the various new buildings. Work will begin next week.

Many trees and shrubs have been ordered from nurseries and as soon as they arrive will be placed around the dormitories, gymnasium and library.

NOTICE

All "M" men will meet on the steps of the Law school building Tuesday noon to have pictures taken. Wear your "M" sweaters.

Committees and Straw Bosses Appointed; Lists to Be Published Tuesday

Warren Wee Maudlin, senior letter man, was appointed manager of the Aber day program, at a meeting of the Central Board Tuesday afternoon. The clean-up day has been set for next Wednesday, April 15, the weather permitting, and all classes will be excused for the occasion.

Students who do not report for work will be given cuts for the day's classes, and the slackers' names will be published in the columns of the Aber Day Kaimin, to be printed Wednesday.

Jiggs Dahlberg and George Axtell were appointed by the manager to assist him in carrying out the day's schedule.

Tuesday morning, work bulletins listing all students, and designating the jobs which they are to have for the day, will be available at the ASUM store. Straw bosses' names will be published together with their respective crews.

Aber day will start at 8 o'clock, to the music of the ROTC band, which will furnish music for the remainder of the day. At noon a big luncheon will be served cafeteria style, and a session of the traditional High Court will be held at 4 o'clock, under the jurisdiction of Judge Stark. President C. H. Clapp and Dean A. L. Stone will deliver addresses to the students. At the court session students and faculty members will be praised for the work that they have done, while other students and faculty members will be punished for the work that they have not done.

Roy Lockwood and Sam Goza are the associate justices who will assist the Judge in meting out justice.

The Aber day program will close with a free dance given by the University. The place and music have not yet been decided upon. The dance will be a no-date affair. More information in regard to the evening's frolic will be published in the Aber day issue of the Kaimin.

Daddy William Aber was professor of Latin and Greek at Montana. He was very fond of the beauties of nature and took pride in the appearance of the lawns, foliage and buildings of the campus. He was ever picking up pieces of paper and rubbish and reprimanding students for cutting the campus. In memory of Daddy Aber's regard for the cleanliness and beauty of the campus, the annual clean-up day became a Montana tradition and was observed for the first time in 1915, the day being fittingly called Aber day. Wednesday will mark the tenth annual observance of the tradition.

Manager Maudlin appointed the following committees: Chief of police, Angus Meagher. Chief of the Flying Squadron, Oscar Dahlberg.

Women's chief of police, Lurena Black. Chairman of the dance committee, Jack Norvell.

Aber Day

ABER day is Montana's one big Service day, a day on which students and faculty members alike cast aside pens and text books and in memory of one who placed Service to Montana above all, Daddy Aber, will do their bit to make our campus more attractive.

Wednesday 1,400 people will participate in our annual spring cleanup. The work list for the fest will be published Tuesday. Each student will be assigned to a particular work for the day.

Will we this year, as always, find among us that minority group that are best described by the war term, slacker; those who fail to answer the call of Service; those who seek a white collar occupation in an overall environment; those who take shovel or pick and pass the time in waiting for the whistle? Yes, Wednesday will not be a departure from precedent but the great majority of our campus population will be on deck when the band tunes in and will enter into the spirit of the occasion and labor until the call of High Court and after.

Which Is the Goose?

NOT long ago a movie, quite modestly called "The Goose Hangs High," was shown at one of Missoula's picture houses. It was a splendid production, both for its realistic and artistic values (though as we remember it was not lavishly advertised) and carried a moral that made it of particular interest to college students. It is seldom that the present generation—the modern exponents of jazz, joy rides and spiked punch, along with several other more commendable but less advertised innovations, has been depicted forcibly without the customary resort to rank exaggeration. While it dealt with vital phases of college life as it is reflected in the home, with everything characteristic of the new specie from rolled stockings to balloon pants, it was minus the usual quantity of head wagging philosophy. Now, it just happens to occur to us, in view of the fact that the particular picture mentioned managed to reach its objective without saying "I told you so," that the social sages who predict our ruin could be of real assistance in averting the catastrophe, if they would only recognize the psychological wisdom of diluting their gloom with a few ounces of optimism.

Communications

Editor of the Kaimin:

After reading Carstens' communication, I am wondering what the reactions of other "intellectuals" of Carstens' calibre are or were on this display of assumed intelligence on certain subject matter. I am going to use only one paragraph of knock-down and take-out unblooming English to get at what I want to say on this subject matter, instead of a column of suave flowering nothings. You will also find my name in full at the bottom of this communication. Carstens attempted to present assumed facts and a certain line of philosophy that was purely destructive in character, using the ROTC and AWS rules as specific examples. I am not assuming that I am an authority on the personal benefits to be derived from ROTC work, but I do

Dead Beats

WE HAVE been informed recently through the medium of our advertising staff that students at the University of Montana are developing codes of ethics peculiarly adapted to empty purses. In other words we have suddenly discovered a thriving over-abundance of amateur "debt dodgers" in our midst.

The practice of stalling off the monthly allowances by resorting to the convenience of an open account is a reprehensible one under any circumstances for college men or women, but it becomes positively pernicious when the debts are not met promptly and satisfactorily at the end of every month. That happens to be the case at present and the Kaimin advertising space, as well as several individuals who apparently have good intentions, are suffering as a result. It would be a waste of time and space to make any sort of an appeal, even for such a worthy cause as an embarrassed treasury. We will content ourselves with the remark that we are surprised to find a college campus such fertile ground for the cultivation of dead beats.

Sleep This Off!

We are tired!

We are tired of this everlasting blah blah about a winning football team.

We are tired of having a football coach who trains forty men and receives as large a salary as four instructors who teach one particular subject to six hundred students.

We are tired of having Rotary clubs donate scholarships for the alleviation of the financial sufferings of 'deserving athletes.'

We are tired of having more of these deserving athletes draw good pay for performing some trivial job at the gym.

We are tired of having these silly speakers get up and exhort the boys to 'back that team.'

We are tired of having alumni come back and say what a fine halfback there is in Podunk High School and can't we find a job for him.

We are tired of having our intercollegiate teams sent all over the Middle West on expensive trips while the physical training of the ordinary students is neglected.

We are tired of this stadium bunk whereby 50,000 spectators watch 22 men—or rather employees—battle for supremacy.

We are tired of having tutors furnished for failing athletes.

We are tired of these athletic cavalcades to induce more athletes to come to Northwestern.

We are tired of all the efforts to make this the last resting place for the dumb but brawny boys.

We are tired of being told that Northwestern needs more men.

We are tired.

If this be treason, make the most of it.—Northwestern Daily.

Roll 'em Down

THE Kaimin, hereafter, will not publish communications of more than 250 words because of a lack of space. Your personal reactions and opinions are welcome but we cannot print anonymous communications. The editor must know the name of the contributor.

the ROTC and always will be. I am an ex, hard-boiled sergeant of an overseas fighting division. That does not mean an SOS division, either. I had occasion to see some of the costly mistakes that were made by some of these so-called technical officers—intellectuals that had mastered the art of bellowing "squads right," "squads left," etc., but that is all that some of them did learn in their three months' training course. I call them intellectuals because Uncle Sam had the right to expect intelligence and leadership from the men who had taken advantage of his higher educational institutions, previous to the war with Germany. Uncle Sam is still right in thinking this way. Uncle Sam today is trying to develop a better officer personnel from such a recruiting source that will take care of any national crisis in a more effective way than the last one was handled. Thus the growth by leaps and bounds of the ROTC in all the universities of this country since our late war, I say, that if any man takes advantage of the higher educational institutions in this good old U. S. A. and enters such an institution with the feeling that he doesn't owe a moral obligation to put himself in shape to protect his country and thus perpetuate all the comforts and advantages for progress that are ours at the present time, I say that I am not for that man at all.

Mr. Carstens, I think that if you will look about you a bit that you will find quite a few of "us students," outside of yourself, showing an interest in intellectual problems. It all depends upon one's point of view of what constitutes intellectual problems. I will not criticize in detail your stand upon AWS restrictions, because I am not capable of giving that subject any intelligent thought, any more than to say that any sister of mine, just fresh out of high school, would never get the chance to come to this University on her own—away from home influences—if there were no AWS rules. There are too many Carstens as it is now in Missoula who are all too familiar with the "goings on" of a number of unrestrained co-eds after the zero hour of 10:30 p. m. Any young man who raves about morals would certainly take his hat, or should take it at that time, and depart.

I take Carstens to be of the "he-male" species. I offer my apologies if he proves to be of the opposite sex. RAYMOND J. BOWERS.

Editor of the Kaimin:

Persons with a sense of color values deplore the lack of artistic appreciation as it is applied on the campus of the University of Montana. It seems to me that the University is failing in its duty when it allows students to be graduated without a certain fundamental knowledge of the harmony of colors.

Because of the lack of knowledge and appreciation of the value of color, it is the duty of the curriculum committee of the University to install an omnibus course for co-eds, teaching color evaluation in its application.

I have seen girls come on the campus with danger signals smeared clear across their faces, colors that would put the barber pole to shame. I have seen blondes appear with violet colored powder and yellow dresses. Such things would not be in the Art department were called upon to give a course in the value and meaning of colors.

May we not hope that the authorities will have consideration for us who attend classes, and compel all co-eds to absorb this much needed information?

DRY RATS

White Rat and Newman Prove Disastrous

Tom Swearingen has had at least one official experience at Sir Walter Raleigh's favorite sport of "Opportunity Knocks but Once."

The expressman had just delivered two live white rats of a special breed, to be used by the Home Economics department for experimental work in nutrition. For some mysterious reason Helen Newman, advocate of the humane society, yet contributing the main plank to the platform of the anti-bravery club, decided the rats should have a drink, and really went so far as to get the water.

Now the story goes that as she was about to put it in the cage that inherent feeling about such creatures crept over her and—no, she guessed she hadn't better do it. Then along came Tom, big, good hearted, sympathetic Tom, and attempted the maneuver for her, but alas, a sudden scurry and two sharp pairs of teeth clamped through poor Tom's finger. Now Helen is going around with "I didn't know they would be so wild," and "Poor Tom, I'm so sorry."

To be frank Tom is going around too!

SPORTY-VENTS

Captain Stowe's ball tossers will meet their first outside competition Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the Fort Missoula team invades the University campus. The Fort players started practicing only a week ago, but they will push the Grizzlies to their utmost for victory.

Dewayne Johnson, a big fullback and halfback from Idaho, has entered school again, and is out for spring football practice. He will be eligible for the Varsity team next fall.

Woe Maudlin has not been out for track the last week because of illness of his brother. We is a hard plunger and will soon make up for the lost time.

Montana's Paddocks and Nurmis line up something like this: Sweet, Stark, Ritter, Coyle and Gillette. These boys have been going great guns in the sprints and distance runs during the last week.

Track and baseball men were mugged Tuesday for the Sentinel. The sprint relay team picture shows

Sweet, Ritter, Coyle and Stark. The two mile relay team picture is composed of E. Blumenthal, Gillette, Lowry, Dick Davis, Simpson and Hanson.

Stephen Hanson, of Grass Range, pulled a nice endurance surprise the other day in the two-mile run. Although he is the only one out for that event, he looks mighty good.

The Grizzlies should have little difficulty with the Aggies in track this year, because most of Coach Ott Romney's point getters graduated last year. He reports the Bobcat track prospects as none too bright. However, Frosty Peters of Billings has been throwing the javelin farther than the Rocky Mountain conference record. Peters' in his first trials, bettered the record which is just short of 170 feet.

Hatfield, guard of Montana State, made the first all-Rocky Mountain conference basketball team. Hartwig, star forward, was placed on the second team, while Glynn, the giant center, received honorable mention.

John Lewis, the fast Billings forward who made the second all-state team at the Bozenan tournament this year, was placed on the all-Rocky Mountain interscholastic team which was chosen from the teams playing at the Greeley tournament.

Dillon high school has not been represented at the track meet for several years, but track enthusiasm has been renewed at Beaverhead high, and she is going to enter a well-balanced team.

Coach Steve Sullivan of Butte Central high has about 50 athletes out for track and grid training.

Intermountain Union track men are working hard in preparation for their stiff schedule this year. Coach Bailor hasn't any new men, but most of the veterans are back. He will send five or six men to the relay carnival at Seattle.

Pop Warner's call for spring gridsters at Stanford was warmly received. Eighty-five men have donned the moleskins.

Willamette University has no track team this spring because of lack of funds to finance either baseball or track activities.

The University of Washington is blessed with plenty of spring grid candidates. One hundred men have turned out. But considering the sizes of the schools Montana has as good a turnout with 32 men on the squad.

Gus Scherck, who graduated from the School of Journalism in 1920, has been made sports editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. He succeeds Royal Brougham. Gus was sports editor of the Kaimin while here.

The Pacific Coast conference track meet may be held at the University of Washington stadium this year, according to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Originally the annual track championships were to be run at Corvallis, but the Oregon Aggies were forced to cancel the date.

Butte high school has a large squad out for the track team. Coach Dahlberg hopes to develop a powerful team out of the 45 youngsters who have reported. He is handicapped, however, by the fact that most of the boys who brought home the bacon last year were graduated.

John Shaffer, one of Montana's track stars last year, and now a sports writer on the San Francisco Chronicle, failed to place in two recent track meets of the Olympic Athletic club.

A jockey's life may be tough on the neck-at-times, but how would you like to be the boy that made $79 per second for riding to victory at the Tia Juana track last Sunday?

PRESS CLUB HEARS MRS. CLAPP SPEAK

Members of the Press club were addressed by Mrs. C. H. Clapp, who gave an interesting talk on journalism as she knew it, at a meeting in Marcus Cook hall Wednesday night. The subject of Mrs. Clapp's address was "From the Outside Looking In."

In her speech, Mrs. Clapp touched on the literary, ethical, and practical sides of the profession. She recommended the reading of the old masters for the acquiring of style, and for the finding of faults and weaknesses in their style which could be avoided by the young writer. Mrs. Clapp emphasized the ethical point of view and quoted numerous newspaper stories and experiences where ethics had been involved. Concerning the practical side, Mrs. Clapp said:

"It is up to you in the schools of journalism to raise the standards of the newspapers, so that only those fitted for the work will survive."

A short business meeting was presided over by Winifred Wilson, secretary of the club. Discussion was held concerning the Press club carnival which is to be staged soon. Mattie Grace Sharpe, chairman of all committees, asked that all committees report their progress.

MOLLETT ANNOUNCES EXAMS TO BE HELD

Dean Mollett, of the School of Pharmacy, announces to alumni members of the pharmacy school, that a civil service examination to fill the vacancy of "pharmaceutical chemist" in the bureau of chemistry at Washington, D. C., will be held in the near future. There will also be vacancies in positions requiring similar qualifications.

The dean is very anxious to have every alumni member make application for this position before May 12, closing date. Any applicant having a Ph.D., Ph.C., or B.S. degree in pharmacy is eligible for the vacancy. The entrance salary is $3,800 a year and advancement in pay may be made without change in assignment up to $5,000 a year. Promotions to higher grades may be made in accordance with the civil service rules.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C., or the secretary of the board of U. S. Civil Service examiners at the postoffice or custom house in any city.

Senior Examinations To Be Held in June

In the last issue of the Kaimin it was stated that senior examinations in all major departments would be required before graduation in June. Examinations are required in the English and foreign language departments according to the registrar and other departments may require examinations. These senior examinations will not be the regular quarterly examinations from which seniors are usually excused. The test will cover the work in the major department and such additional subjects as the major department or school may determine.

The examinations will be in charge of the major department or school concerned and may be arranged in each department or school at the convenience of the persons concerned. If a student fails to pass this special examination he shall be given another opportunity within six months without the necessity of taking additional courses.

Students who intend to become candidates for honors must at the beginning of this spring quarter have had an average of two grade points for every credit for which a grade has been received, instead of one grade point as was previously published. The examinations will be given in the major department. If the examination is passed with a grade of "A" or "B" the student shall be awarded honors upon graduation.

ALUMNI ORGAN IS OFF PRESS

17, is given, and the history of the station up to date is also written up. Also a schedule of the dates on which fraternities and sororities will give programs over the air is listed.

"Radiograms" heads a page on which are given a few of the many letters received by the station from different parts of the country.

Under "Just News," stories of alumni at home and abroad, and campus news of general interest are listed. "Facts About the Faculty" and activities about the campus are told under "Campus Activities." This section includes stories on the Press Club banquet, Varsity Vovell War Memorial, Associated Women Students, the "Montanans," Charter day, and other University events and student convocations.

Under "Athletics," J. D. Lewellen, '26, gives a resume of the football and basketball season, with a list of games played and the scores. Pre-season stories cover the possibilities and hopes of Montana on the track and field and on the diamond.

Something that has never before been attempted by the Alumnus is the section entitled "The Classes." There the names of all the Montana graduates are listed and their present addresses as they appear on the alumni register. "It is hoped," said Miss Newman, "that those alumni who find their names or address listed wrongly will write in and let us know about the mistake, or change of address. In that way we will be able to bring our register more nearly up to date."

Other features of the publication are marriages and deaths among the alumni, bachelors, and a financial report by the secretary-treasurer.

The next issue of "The Alumnus" will appear in June. It is published four times each year.

SECRETARY REPORTS ODD JOBS PLENTIFUL

"Odd jobs are becoming quite plentiful," said Helen Newman, employment secretary, yesterday, "and all students wishing employment during the spring quarter should see me at once and fill out time schedule blanks, so that these students may be reached as soon as possible when there is a demand for student labor."

Track Candidates Show Improvement

many college men would rather be third-class short distance men than to try their hand at long distance work. "Distance running offers one of the finest forms of all-around physical development of any of the athletic sports. If indulged in in the proper sort of training it builds up the heart and lungs and adds to general physical strength. If done properly, distance running does not involve the intense physical strain that goes with the high-speed short races. Distance running offers more chance for the average man to develop himself to the point where he might get into intercollegiate competition. For this type of running a man does not have to be born with a great natural burst of speed like Paddock. Average ability plus steady training and determination will often bring surprising results."

"The track squad at Montana is not limited to only the choice athletes. We want everyone to come out and run, and to keep on running even if you are not a star. We will supply every man with equipment as long as our stock lasts. An ordinary gym suit is sufficient for general training, so don't refuse to come out because you haven't a first class outfit."

"Come out and run, and stick to it. The Seattle relay carnival is still three weeks away and there is still time to come out and limber up the old legs and get into shape. Three relay teams will be sent to the carnival if there is adequate material."

Students Dropped Because of Grades

Twenty-eight students of the University were dropped at the end of the winter quarter because of scholarship, according to Dr. R. H. Jesse, dean of men. Of this number, 20 were men and eight were women. This is five more than were dropped at the end of the fall quarter.

The increase in the number of student requested to withdraw was attributed by Dr. Jesse to the increased enrollment at the University during the winter quarter. Students who would ordinarily have been dropped at the end of the fall quarter were given a longer time to adjust themselves to the University requirements.

Local Unit of ROTC Given High Rating

The Montana unit and the Southern California unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps were ranked as superior to other units in the northwest, in conduct of classes, attitude of men, and discipline, according to Major G. L. Smith, who has just returned from a conference at Washington, D. C.

The inspection was made here during the fall quarter by Lieutenant Colonel Persons of the general staff, out of the chief United States infantry staff at Washington.

COLLOQUIUM POSTPONED

The Colloquium scheduled for last night was postponed until next Thursday due to a conflict with the Open Forum.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO GIVE ADDRESSES

In accordance with its usual custom, the State University offers the services of several of its faculty members for high school commencement addresses.

Terms are $25 for each address, but in order to make this low rate it is absolutely necessary that arrangements with a number of high schools in the same vicinity be made, states a letter that is now being sent out from the administrative offices of the University.

The following members of the faculty will speak: Sidney H. Cox, assistant professor of English; J. H. Underwood, professor of economics; H. G. Merriam, professor of English; W. E. Maddock, professor of education; J. O. Smith, professor of psychology; and E. S. Freeman, assistant professor of English.

AMES WILL TEACH IN SUMMER SCHOOL HERE

Professor Ames, who has taught psychology at the University for the last six years, has announced that he will teach this summer again but will not teach the following fall quarter as he has secured a year's leave of absence starting this fall. He expects to go to the University of Wisconsin to finish his doctor's degree in the School of Education there.

YWCA Elects Chief For Ensuing Year

Catherine Reynolds, new president of the YWCA cabinet, presided at the meeting of the association held Wednesday evening. Other officers chosen for the ensuing year are: Eleanor Stephenson, vice-president; Jack Crutchfield, secretary; Marguerite Hughes, treasurer, and Edith Dawes, undergraduate representative.

Plans for the activities of the association in the spring quarter were the chief consideration of the meeting. The most important issue for the spring is the raising of funds to send delegates to the summer conference of the YWCA held from June 23 to July 3 at "Seaback," Seattle, Washington. About 150 girls will be present at the conference from all the universities and colleges of the Northwest.

"We want the girls to feel free to come in to the Blue Angle tea room at any time," said Miss Reynolds. "It is always open and everyone is welcome."

Frontier to Be Ready For Interscholastic

Eugene Meyers, business manager of the Frontier, has work on the publication well under way, and states that the Spring number will be in circulation May 12, the first day of the interscholastic track meet.

The Frontier enlists the best writing talent in the University. Professor H. G. Merriam of the English department has a large collection of material on hand which will be used in the spring number.

The Frontier is published every three months, and the last issue marked the publication's fifth anniversary. A feature of the winter issue, of which D'Arcy Dahlberg was editor in charge, was the production of three linoleum cuts by Evan Reynolds, B. Bateman and Dorothy Taylor.

National Y Secretary Confers With Cabinet

Miss Elsie B. Heller, national student secretary of YWCA, is visiting the University for several days and will hold conferences with the University YWCA cabinet officers concerning their work.

Miss Heller has been in Bismarck for the past week holding conferences with representatives of the state schools.

Miss Heller's headquarters are at Seattle, Wash. She travels over the entire country visiting all the university YWCA's and giving instruction on cabinet training work.

Three Men Pledged To Druid Fraternity

Professor Irwin Cook, Tom Van Meter and Carl Beal were pledged to the Druids, local forestry fraternity, at a meeting of the organization last night in the library of Pinchot hall.

The Druids were founded last year by several members of the Forestry club. The purpose of the organization is to foster the forestry work at the University. Charles Nikolaus was the first president. Tom Rowland, a senior in the forestry school, is the president of the Druids this year.

At last night's meeting, plans for a new initiation and revision of the constitution were discussed.

Gale Johnson has returned to her home in Malta after a quarter's work at the University.

ON LEAVE

University Professor to Visit Italy

Paul C. Phillips, professor of history, now on leave of absence, tells of his travels in a letter to Miss Buckhouse, University librarian.

"We are sailing for Naples on the Conte Verde of the Lloyd Sabondo line, April 11. Then we shall get a rest for a few days, for we have set a strenuous pace since coming here. Last night we had dinner with Kate Daum, Holmes, Mary Laux, Isabell Johnson, Charlotte Boches, Eck Farmer, R. Beckwith, Dillon Jordan and a young lady from Montana, who was a stranger to me.

"Ellen Geyer will be here April 9, and we expect to see her. "Give my regards to all the staff and tell them I shall be writing post cards, if the fish do not get me."

Because they disagreed with the plan of the trustees to divide the institution into a men's and women's college the entire staff of the Occidental College of California resigned. A burlesque edition of the paper ridiculing the idea brought on a hot clash between students and faculty and the subsequent resignations. —New Student.
