HIGH SCHOOLS TO ENTER MEET MAY 13-14-15

APPLICATION BLANKS
SENT TO 140 SCHOOLS

Expenses of Two Men From Each School to Be Paid by University; Railroads Reduce Rates.

Entry blanks were sent out this week to approximately 140 accredited Montana high schools for the 22nd Interscholastic track meet which is held each year under the auspices of the University.

The blanks must be returned by May 6 in order to permit the athletes entered to compete in the meet, which will be held on Dornblaser field May 12-16, with the field and track events coming on May 14 and 15.

The University is paying the expenses of two athletes from each school, except in the case where donors are entered, when additional expenses will be defrayed by the University. It is understood that there will be several new entries and also one or two schools which have not been represented at the last two meets will return this year.

The railroads have granted reduced rates of a fare and a half for the Interscholastic from all points in Montana to Missoula. The system inaugurated last year, the certificates being sent to the schools so that they might be used by the travelers in buying tickets at the point of destination, is again to be followed out by the committee in charge.

Last year 79 schools entered 367 contestants in the field and track events, which was won by Butte, the Mining city nosing out Hamilton in the last event of the contest.

The Chamber of Commerce has already endorsed the Interscholastic and the matter of disposing of the usual number of tickets to guarantee the major share of expenses for the event will be taken up soon.

Dean T. C. Spaulding, who is in charge of the handling of the contestants upon their arrival, says that a complete canvass of the Missoula hotels has been made and everything is in readiness for the housing of the contestants. A large number of men will be placed in South hall this year. Craig hall cafeteria will be open during the Interscholastic.

Bear Paws and Tanans Open Greenough Park Tomorrow

Scoping the street car conductors and the Ancient Order of Red Men on the opening dance at Greenough park pavilion, the Bear Paws and Tanans will hold their annual revel tomorrow night, giving University students a chance to taste of the romantic Greenough air with the sanction of Dean Sedman.

The Greenough pavilion has been readied for the initial dance. The floor, proclaimed by Kessler to be the best in town, has been scraped and polished, and the weakest co-ed ankles will be able to trip lightly to church the next morning after beating time to the novel five-piece orchestra that has been engaged for the occasion.

Students may secure their tickets on the campus on Monday preceding the concert. The prize for the one who sells the most tickets is a three months pass to the Wilma; a pass good for one month will be given to the next girl on the list; and for third place a two weeks pass to the Wilma.

LOAFERS LABOR; COEDS COLLECT; TEACHERS TALK

SPIRIT OF DADDY ABER

Campus Victim of War on Dirt; Kaimin Comes to Prexie's Aid; Rain Pours
as Students Rush for Gym.

Clouds threatened—but the optimistic manager of the old clapper appeared to call the tired, lazy and willing. "Wee," Dr. Underwood, and Dean Stone were on deck before the labor chimes quieted and just before, at, and just after the toll of eight, toilers by the score sought a like number of bosses and the day was on.

The Grizzly band, new drum major and everything, was the first gang to strip for action. Then they blew about it the rest of the day. Wouldn't even stop for lunch. The director, doped up like a new church, was on deck for chow.

Black and Meagher (both from Butte) made arrests for loafing before Brown could produce the campus rakes and Irish spoons to the anxious crews—and in due time the law got the goat of the reluctant and backward and the leaves began to fly.

Even the elements felt the spirit of the occasion. As the morning hours passed the entry old track took its Interscholastic black ribbon appearance. While Buck and his crew dusted boulders from the diamond and sprinkled sand in the grooves. The faculty worked hard to keep away from work but under the able leadership of Prexy managed to make their day's allotment presentable. Painters, rakers, drivers, cops, scribes, artists, shovellers, cooks, bosses, loafers, fusers, cleaners, cleaners and W. J. Mc. occupied space, watched the clock, and insured the success of the day.

Noon came at 11:30. The drum, saxophone, and clarinet followed tradition and attempted chow call. Grumbling, blistered hundreds fought for points of vantage in the bread line as beans and coffee were dished out a la doughboy.

Barnum truly was right. It would have done his old heart good to see the sensation-loving public drop its

Maurice Parmelee Will Speak at Convocation Next Tuesday Morning

Maurice Parmelee, sociologist, psychologist, and author, who is on a transcontinental tour under the management of the Leigh lecture bureau of New York, will speak on "The Economic Collapse of Europe" at an 11 o'clock student convocation Monday.

Mr. Parmelee is a graduate of Yale and Columbia Universities and has been professor of sociology, economics and anthropology at the Universities of Minnesota, Missouri, and Kansas, and the College of the City of New York. He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the Institute International de Sociologie.

During the war, he was a representative of the United States War Trade Board in London, and taking part in the administration of the blockade, was the only American who was chairman of an Allied committee, the Allied Rationing committee.

The following are some of the books Mr. Parmelee has written: "The Science of Human Behavior," "Criminology," "Poverty and Social Progress," and "Personality and Conduct." Havelock Ellis, philosopher and author, says of Mr. Parmelee: "He possesses a temperamentally cool, judicial, deliberate mind, with a seemingly instinctive impulse to balance and weigh all the considerations that are brought before him." Other notables place him as one of the most distinguished of the younger thinkers in the field of social and psychological science.

John Ryan, sophomore of Appleton, Wisconsin, won the Aber Oratorical contest held on the steps of Main hall at noon Aber Day, speaking on "The Boy Scout Movement." Announcement of the winner was made on the oval at 4 o'clock by Dean A. L. Stone, who presented the winner with the prize, $25 gold. There were only two entrants in the contest. Fridolf Kling, a sophomore of Missoula, spoke on "The Three Objectives of College Men."

The Aber Oratorical fund was created by Professor William Aber with the provision that the interest be divided into prizes each year for the best orations on topics of current interest. The interest which accrues each year is usually divided into two prizes, but as there were only two contestants this year only one prize of $25 was given. The judges were William Young, student pastor; Professor E. L. Freeman of the English department and Dean C. W. Leapheart of the Law school.

This is the fifth annual contest to be held at the University. Mr. J. H. T. Ryan of Missoula is in charge of the fund.

Last year, George Boldt won first prize and Olive McKay and Grover Johnson tied for second honors.

Well Earned Congratulations

BOTH student body and faculty of the University of Montana are to be congratulated upon the enthusiasm and dispatch with which they undertook the job of cleaning up the campus. With few exceptions worthy of comment the entire program was a credit to the best meaning that the tradition implies. The work was done well beyond any serious criticism and that becomes doubly significant when it is remembered that each year, since there is an established standard of judgment, the accomplishments become a little more closely tabulated and the spirit a little more severely judged. Indeed, it would be a serious indictment if we were not conscientiously able to command the efforts of the student body upon an occasion which has always, since its first observance, been the most highly cherished tradition that we have.

Clubs for Paddles

WE WOULD like to be able to forget about Aber Day with no further comment than the one of congratulation that we have already made. It is never very pleasant to assume the joy-killing role, and it becomes much less so when the criticism concerns itself with a handful of individuals. It is quite evident to us, however, both by our own observation and the comments that we have heard from numerous sources, that the spirit of one Aber Day tradition was seriously violated. To our best knowledge the high court proceedings, which by the way are always one of the most enjoyable features of the tradition, have been dedicated to the purpose of affording amusement by means of clean repartee and wit. While the idea of punishment is necessarily a contributing factor, since no appropriate sentence could be passed and executed during the few minutes that the court is in session, it is decidedly a secondary one. However, either because the police were anxious to establish a reputation for their physical endowments, or because they honestly felt that the resounding smack of the paddle furnished appropriate music for the occasion, the proceedings were turned into a clubbing match of first rate proportions. Besides violating the dignity of the court and seriously impairing the physical comfort of a number of convicts, some of whom, of course, were not guilty of any crime at all, the debauch was unfortunately cloaked under the dignity of "M" sweaters.

Not Enough Glee

NEXT Tuesday night the University Glee club will make its second appearance in Missoula. In view of the fact that the members are not rewarded, as athletes are, with any form of recognition for their hours of hard work, the least the student body can do is to show its appreciation by turning out en masse. It is a disgraceful fact that the audience was comparatively smaller the last time the Glee club appeared in Missoula than it was in almost any other city visited during the tour.

Call 'em In

HOW many students of Montana received their first impression of the University while attending an Inter-scholastic Meet and what were those impressions? Among us there are many whose collegiate ambitions were first fired as our scholastic group found a soft spot on the oval and witnessed our first S.O.S., debate, track and field events. Social activities and the spirit of University cooperation, each had their appeal.

Athletic contests have a distinctive appeal to the high school student. Statistics compiled by members of the Big Ten conference place athletic contests as their greatest advertising medium. The appeal may be false from an educational viewpoint. However, the freshman theory of University life undergoes many changes during the four years attendance. Whatever the agent that attracts his attendance, it has served its purpose.

STAFF WILL EDIT SPECIAL EDITIONS

"The Kaimin staff will edit and co-operate with any department or school wishing to put out a special edition of the Kaimin," said Vivian Corbly, Kaimin editor, speaking of the method by which the Inter-church Kaimin is to be edited, "but the idea of having special editions edited and published by a staff of students from the school or department putting out the special edition should be abolished."

"So many requests for special editions have come into the staff that we feel that a halt must be called," said Corbly. "In the past, special editions have been edited entirely by a staff representing the school or department publishing the edition and the only part that the regular staff takes is one of an advisory capacity. The result usually is that the copy is late in being submitted, there is a shortage of material, the printers are irritated and there is a delay in getting the paper on the campus. Many times a great deal of general campus news is overlooked and the staff becomes demoralized. Under the method which will be attempted for the first time with the special School of Religion Kaimin, the staff will cooperate with the representatives of various religious organizations in securing the feature news and at the same time run regular campus news. The staff, under this system, can assist the department putting out the special edition and also give the student body general campus news. It is hoped that the campus organizations and departments will cooperate with the staff and that we may be of signal service to the various departments or schools in editing such editions, as well as to the entire student body."

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, took the initiative in abolishing the special editions, according to Corbly.

Journalists Abandon Press Club Carnival

The Press club carnival, which was to have been held in the women's gymnasium April 24, will not be held this year according to a decision reached by the organization this week. "The social calendar is crowded," said Mattie Grace Sharpe, chairman of the carnival committee, yesterday, "and conditions in general are unfavorable at this time for a carnival. The committee had almost completed their plans when the decision was reached to cancel the affair for this year."

Members of the Art League met for the first time this quarter in the Fine Arts studio Tuesday evening. After a short business meeting, a social hour was opened by Bee Hudson, Anaconda, who rendered several selections on a ukelele and a kazoo. Mr. Hudson was followed by Evelyn Siderfin, Butte, who sang two popular song hits. Dorothy Doughts of Missoula accompanied Miss Siderfin on the piano. A reading by Martha Dunlap, Thompson Falls, completed the program. Refreshments were served, and the evening closed with dancing. The music was furnished by Dorothy Rector, Great Falls; Lewis Nichols, Bonita, and Bee Hudson.

The members of the Art League try to bring the Art department before the people of the campus and to assist the Montana Masquers in designing and executing stage settings. Membership in the organization is open to any student who takes a course in the Fine Arts department. The Art League in the spring quarter recommends the student to receive the Rider art prize.

SKETCHES

Aber Day Pictures Drawn by Campus Artists

More than seventy sketches were made Aber day by the sketching crew from the Fine Arts department. Most of these were hastily made drawings of professors. The members of the crew were Evan Reynolds, Missoula, chairman; Gretchen Coates, Harlem; Mary Kirkwood, Missoula; Harold Shanklin, Anaconda; Arnold Gillette, Lewistown, and Bruce Crippen, Billings. The drawings were displayed at the Aber Day dance.

Some of the professors sketched were Burley Miller, Dean Stone, DeLass Smith, F. C. Schenck, G. D. Shallenberger and Click Clark. Then, of course, there were the usual sketches of Prexy Clapp and Dean Jesse. Other sketches were those of Jimmy Graham, Spike Doggett, Strawberry Stark, Chief of Police Meagher, the Big Boss, Wee Mandlin, Joe Cochran, Al Seelye, co-ed police, typical frosh and campus buildings.

"We had a hard time making the sketches," Evan Reynolds said yesterday. "People seemed particularly desirous of working or moving about when we tried to draw them."

"One professor told me the reason I couldn't get a good sketch of Mr. Shallenberger was that he was working up so much dust," said Gretchen Coates.

"They all said this posing was the hardest work they had done all day," added Mary Kirkwood.

NOTICE

The regular meeting of the University chapter, D.A.V., will be held tonight in the ROTC building. Convention and dance plans will be discussed.

"Because of the hearty cooperation Mr. M. D. Faust of 302 South Fourth street received from his landlady," declared Oscar Dahlberg, chief of the Aber Day flying squadron, "we were unable to bring him before the High Court to receive slacker justice that he so justly deserved. It is my belief," continued the chief, "that the culprit intimidated gun play should have been too persistent in our efforts to bring him to justice."

Mr. Faust was reported missing from Aber Day duty early Wednesday morning by Bill Gallagher, his boss, and the campus police, who were immediately notified, made a special trip to his home. The prisoner at first refused to accompany the police to his post of duty, declaring that his reasons were personal ones. He was brought to the campus in the police car and when a swat by each member of the squad was administered as punishment to the prisoner, he declared his intention of "taking a crack at the bunch."

He was reported missing soon afterwards and again the police made a trip to his residence but learned from the landlady that he had left for town. As a means of making sure a member of the squad impersonated the Western Union over the telephone, informing his landlady, "we have a telegram for Mr. Faust," and Faust answered the phone. A second trip was made to his residence but they failed to gain admittance.

HARMONY

Uncle Tom's Colors to Dye

Gone are the days! (Maybe.)

O great and mighty man (and woman), why have you seen fit while listening to the honk of tin can alley, to concentrate your embryonic fancies on a horde of color schemes? No longer will the Grizzly bear lead or the yellow fern follow the glittering combinations of circus maneuvers and anti-harmony howls, from 65 pieces of sub-human nerve scuffling band-beers, clad in—well, clad in that which would suffice to bring spurts of tears from the eyes of the most hard-hearted zebra, from sheer envy and jealousy. In truth a verdict with intent to murder might fall from most any corn-fed jury upon the glassy oculators of his cousin the Jack, for such a defeat. Exactly one small thing will be necessary in the future—that those mighty heroes who don a fabled hope in their pajama party, learn for the conciliation of others. Where O where has my little doggone . . . It is certain that 60 days of sobbing and wailing, and gnashing of teeth observed in true ostrich fashion would hardly be sufficient to atone for the shame of this but for to explain the all of it: For one short year this noble institution has noised an utterance (music of color) that even brother Aggies have hearkened to. Most virtuously said, the days of our hand-organ band suits are balancing on the sky line. Said band members recently voted to have the uniforms dyed to a dark blue with gray trousers. But for justice's sake E. A. Atkinson, director of the basket carriers, has decreed that it shall not come to pass without the official sanction of the student body.

Dash no higher breaking waves—or nothing shall stay thy mighty wailop . . .

FREDELL COMMENTS SENTINEL ART WORK

Year Book May Be Entered in Arts and Crafts Guild Contest

"I'd like to compliment the staff on the excellent style of art work that has been produced for the book—it certainly is good," says a letter from F. D. Fredell of the Buckbee-Mears company, which is doing the engraving for the 1925 Sentinel, to Louis Stevens, editor.

Another paragraph of the letter reads: "When the book is completed I'd like very much if you would send me an extra copy so that we can enter it in the Arts and Crafts Guild contest. I am sure you would get very favorable mention and no doubt some kind of a prize in this contest for the work. I say this in all sincerity, basing my opinion on the consistency of the theme and the style of the art work. It is true that to those living in the western states characters representing much of the advertising and publishing and such as used in your book are common. This is not true, however, with the people of the east, and they will truly appreciate the theme you have used. It will, therefore, be a credit to the book in competition with others."

CHAIRMAN APPOINTED FOR GIRLS' ATHLETICS

In the absence of Doris Kennedy, who is attending the national AWS convention at Eugene, Oregon, Helen Rothwell, treasurer, presided at the Central Board meeting of AWS, held Tuesday, April 14.

Girls' athletics were discussed and the following chairmen of track, swimming and baseball were appointed: Helen Rothwell, Dorothy White and Dorothy Rector, respectively. As yet there is no information as to whether or not there will be inter-society baseball games, but the interclass baseball series will be played as soon as possible in order to afford the girls more time to practice for May Fete.

Dates for the track and swimming meet have not been set but it is expected they will be held the latter part of May.

Kappa Deltas Give Installation Dance

Patrons and patronesses for the affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Newton H. Schweiker, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Busey, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Dixon, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Randal and Dean Harriet R. Sedman.

Extra-Early Class Meets for Foresters

Fay Clark, assistant professor of forestry, is conducting a class in forest administration on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 7 o'clock in the morning.

This is the second class at the University to convene at such an early hour. W. P. Clark, instructor in Latin and Greek, held a 7 o'clock class in 1922.

"The reason for having the class at such an early hour is because of conflicts in the regular schedule for Forestry students," says Mr. Clark.

Cub reporters at the University of Texas have the "nose for news" instinct. Every member of a class was sent to cover the inauguration of Governor "Ma" Ferguson. Before the doors were opened every member of the class was on the inside.

An interesting program has been planned. Luncheons and banquets will be given each day. Kappa Phi, men's pharmacy fraternity, will give a dance Friday night in honor of the members of Kappa Epsilon.

Hazel Vaughan of Seattle and Elizabeth Minor of Helena, former students, have already notified the committee that they will be here, and according to Ruth McFarlane other alumni members are expected to attend.

The members of Kappa Phi and Kappa Epsilon will hold a joint meeting in the old Science hall to discuss further plans for the convention, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

VALUABLE RESEARCH BOOKS ARE RECEIVED

Geology Department Will Have Series of Exchanges in Fossil Collections

Plans are being made for the enlargement of the fossil collection in the Geology department by a series of exchanges with universities both in Europe and America.

The program of exchange is under the supervision of Associate Professor J. H. Bradley. Up to this time 94 volumes of valuable research books have been received from the University of Chicago, with whom most of the trading will be done. The books, which are valued at over $1,000, will be paid for this summer when a group of Montana fossils are to be collected and presented to the Chicago school.

The primary object of the exchanges is to develop the department of Geology and facilitate research work that is to be carried on in the future. Mr. Bradley has been assured hearty cooperation from many prominent geological institutions, among them the Smithsonian institution.

Making Shopping a Real Pleasure

The selling method in one store may be different from that in another. Both stores may aim high and with good intent. Naturally the method that better conserves and sustains the interests of the public is the one that will endure.

To serve the people well is, we believe, to serve them alike every business day in the year.

In this store, you find the same unusual money-saving opportunities today as were here in the yesterdays.

This, with new goods arriving almost continuously, makes shopping here a real pleasure.

WHO'S WHO

Do You Know Your Faculty?

Professor Harold G. Merriam of the English department at the State University was born in Colorado and completed his elementary education in that state. After two years at the University of Wyoming he was awarded the Rhodes scholarship and went to Oxford. He attended the English institution three years and received a B.A. honor degree. In 1912 he earned an M.A. degree from the same place. In the meantime Mr. Merriam had received a B.A. degree from the University of Wyoming, having completed the requirements in two actual years with some outside work.

After returning to this country Professor Merriam went to California, where he lived for a year, then teaching in turn at Whitman, Washington, Beloit college in Wisconsin, and Reed college at Portland, Oregon, all in the English department.

When war was declared Professor Merriam enlisted in the Y.M.C.A. and spent the remainder of the time overseas in the English, French and American camps doing for the most part educational work among the soldiers. Mr. Merriam came to the University of Montana in 1919.

Although Professor Merriam has always taught English courses, his college degrees were granted in science. While in England he thought seriously of studying medicine.

Outside of a school in Switzerland this University is the only one that has a mountain on its campus. The State University owns Mt. Sentinel.

SPECIAL EVENTS TO FEATURE WASHINGTON RELAY CARNIVAL

Montana Will Probably Enter Seven Contestants; High Schools in Conference Area May Be Admitted Into Games

Pentathlon, special shot put, special 100-yard dash, half-mile relay, mile relay, two-mile relay, four-mile relay and medley relay are the events on the program of the sixth annual relay carnival, to be held in Seattle May 2, in the class A section.

If present plans materialize, Coach Stewart will enter a sprint relay team and a medley relay team, while in the special events he will enter Sweet in the 100 and one mile, either Axtell or Blumenthal, in the shot-put.

Montana's entries are all in class A. There will also be a class B and C division on the program. Class B will be open to schools like Gonzaga, Willamette, Pacific and Puget Sound college, all of the smaller college class of the northern division of the Pacific conference. Class C will be composed of teams for the various high schools of the state of Washington and the freshmen of the University of Washington. This year is the first year that a high school outside of the state of Washington has asked permission to enter the carnival, this request coming from Corvallis high school, Corvallis, Oregon. The request may be granted and, if it is, it will revolutionize the class C division, making any high school eligible that is in the conference limits.

The class B events consist of 100-yard dash, medley relay and the mile relay.

The prizes that will be given are a banner to each winning team, and a cup to each winner in the special events. The last time Montana brought home the bacon was in '20, when Miles Romney, Steve Sullivan, Jack Sterling and Harry Adams won the 400-yard relay and set a new mark. (The 400-yard relay is not being used in the carnival any more.)

The class A entries are all the schools in the northern division of the Pacific conference.

Last year Charley Paddock ran a special 100-yard dash at the carnival and won it easily. This year efforts are being expended to have some of the distance celebrities present for a special race. It is probable that Jole

Ray and either Nurni or Ritola will run in the exhibition race.

The relay carnival is not a meet where the team that wins the most points wins; in fact, they do not give points. The success of a team lies not in how many seconds and thirds it can score, but in whether or not it can win a first place. No team wins the meet, it merely wins events.

The Grizzly squad that will go to the carnival will carry about seven or eight men, including Coach Stewart.

SPORTY-VENTS

Gonzaga lost her first baseball tilt of the season to Cheney Normal 10-9 after she had the game rucked away in the last bag, 9-5, in the eighth. The Bulldogs, however, worked off the grudge this defeat caused when they smothered the small Whitworth college team 27-2.

In these games Ingram, the flashy forward, Hutton and Hattrup smacked the pill with great regularity. Hattrup, Dwyer, Hillier, Cyre and Benoit were used as pitchers. O'Hara is doing the receiving.

For the first time Montana will enter the medley relay race at the Seattle relay carnival May 2. The first man in the medley runs 220, the second 440, the third 880 and the fourth 1,320 yards. Coach Stewart hasn't picked the men for this relay as yet.

The pentathlon is one of the features of the Seattle relays. One man is entered in the contest and he doesn't have to compete with any man not out for the pentathlon. The men entered in the feature must run 200 meters and 1,500 meters, broad jump, throw the discus and the javelin. The Grizzlies, however, will not be represented in this event.

Coach Succetti of Flathead county high reports that his track boys are doing very well, and time trials have proven that the boys are good in all events. The competition is keen, especially in the races.

In the days when fighters did not wear gloves, they used to pick the hands in a preparation consisting of two pounds of grated horseradish and two quarts of white wine vinegar. We might also add that in those days the women kept themselves in a pickle of innocence, but nowadays they—well, it isn't being done.

Bob Fitzke, former University of Idaho pitcher and football star, has been farmed out by the Cleveland Indians to Decatur, Three-Eye league.

Coach Stewart says that the track team is all right as far as the winning of some firsts are concerned, but not so good in seconds and thirds. In the Seattle carnival there will not be any second and third places given. Banners or cups will be given to first place winners. All that listens good to us.

The Grizzly ball club looked its best this season in its eight-inning practice game last night. Slick diamond, nice hops and better hitting all contributed to the classier form displayed.

Our mitt slingers will play five and take with the Fort's listic artists when they meet in a boxing tournament at the Fort Wednesday night, April 20.

SPORTWORD PUZZLE

What Grizzly ball player's name in five letters suggests a famous National leaguer?

What dean on the campus has a nine-letter name that is the same as that of an authority on athletic rules?

What North hall girl's name in seven letters reminds you of a major league pitcher who is an unusually clean sport?

Answers will appear in next issue. Last issue's answers are: Ring is the name of the student active in Masquer productions that puts you in mind of a big league pitcher.

Norfolk is the name of a fighter and a style of men's suits.

Judge is the name of the first baseman that suggests learned men that our law school turns out.

Kennedy to Return Tuesday Morning

Doris Kennedy, president of AWS, is expected to reach Missoula Tuesday morning, April 21, from Eugene, Oregon, where she is attending the national convention of AWS.

Plans and future policies of AWS and its place on the campus are the things being discussed at this meeting. Talks are being given on the honor system, athletics, activities, vocational guidance and scholarship.

School of Pharmacy Is Among the Best

The Montana School of Pharmacy ranks among the 20 best in the United States, according to Dean C. E. Mollett. There are 100 pharmacy schools in the country and only 20 of this number offer a bachelor's degree.

"Ten students have received a B.S. degree in pharmacy from this school since 1916. This record is surpassed only by the Universities of Michigan, Minnesota and Washington," said Dean Mollett.

GRIZZLY AND FORT SQUADS TO BATTLE AGAIN SATURDAY

Both Nines Show Improvement; Game to Be Played at Post

Fort Missoula and the Grizzly ball teams will play another practice game Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Fort diamond. A big truck from the Fort will take Captain Cummings' men out from the gym at 1 o'clock.

The soldier boys had not had much practice when they played here last Saturday, but with more workouts promise to put up some stiff competition in the coming tilt.

The eight-inning practice game between the first and second teams yesterday was the best thus far this season. The boys smacked the ball freely, and fielded better than usual. The improved fielding was probably due to the nice hops the ball took on the rejuvenated field. The infield was covered with an inch of dirt and packed Aber day, and the backstop which was full of holes has been mended. The improvement injected pep into the club.

Here's what Cap Cummings has to say about his crew: "The boys are getting better right along. Their hitting tonight showed a marked improvement."

Jimmy O'Connor pitched for the second team in the practice game, while Bill Centerwall threw for the regulars. Both twirlers were hit frequently, but they displayed better control than in earlier workouts.

Coach Cummings has been using Guthrie to sub for Kelly behind the bat. Guthrie appears to be the likely second string catcher for the season. Wood, who started working in the backstop position, is playing in the outfield considerably of late. Berg is getting a try at second, Butnass at third and Pellhaber worked at short yesterday, while Crockett, Wood, McKenzie and Geraghty were used in the outfield.

Cole, the lanky lefty who twirled against the Grizzlies in last Saturday's game, and Jones will probably do the heaving tomorrow for the Fort, while Coach Cummings will use O'Connor and Centerwall.

Probable batting orders for tomorrow's clash:

Montana: Stowe, cf; Anderson, ss; Kelly, c; Hanson, 3b; Ilman, lf; Shoebotham, rf; Tarbox, 2b; Meagher, 1b; O'Connor, p.

Fort Missoula: McKenzie, cf; Sloan, lf; Tally, rf; Bartnick, ss; Hinton, 1b; Stevin, 2b; Preston, 3b; Daniels, c; Cole or Jones, p.

TRACK CONTESTANTS TO STAY AT DORM

South hall will take care of 70 contestants during the coming interscholastic track meet. Twenty of the visitors will be housed in the recreation room, 40 in the four study rooms, and the remainder in several vacant rooms. South hall will not furnish meals to these young men but they can be obtained at the Craig hall cafeteria at a very nominal charge.

FREEMAN ADDRESSES FIRST COLLOQUIUM

"Sense of Beauty," a book by George Santayana, was the subject of discussion led by Professor Edmund L. Freeman of the English department at the first Colloquium of the spring quarter last night in the auditorium of the Natural Science building.

The discussion which was carried on principally by members of the faculty centered on individual appreciation of beauty. The utility and beauty of Greek architecture was cited as an example and it was illustrated by Mrs. Louise Arnoldson that the French, who live in the shadows of Greek architecture, have less appreciation for its beauty than do we Americans, who live in more modern and far more beautiful structures. This phase of the subject, together with the manner in which one should form his standards, monopolized the greater part of attention.

The aim of the Colloquium is to discuss subjects relative to human mankind. Members who have not as yet given a report were urged to outline a talk on some book in which they are particularly interested pertaining to the general subject.

Professor J. E. Kirkwood will give a talk on Matthews' book, "Faith of Fundamentalism," at the next session of the Colloquium set for April 30.

Dennison spoon; forget its hunger, that it might be fleeced by apprentice scandal mongers. (Such affronts, not even masked.)

John Ryan, who by the way threatens libel proceedings unless the Kaimin retracts its statement that the orator is a freshman (he has $2 credits), was the only student to accept pay for his part in the day's program. Fridolf Kling also ran.

Following the oratory a few of the toilers returned to toil while the majority broke, under the strain, for a choicer environment. By 4 o'clock the primping and darning up of the oval, roads and Dollblaser field passed into history. (My error, Captain George Axtell and Alva Rees did not hear the whistle and with their heavier than air machine continued work until dusk.)

ASUM President George Boldt called his flock to order for a social hour at this time. (Gid wore his overalls for this part of the program.) He introduced President C. H. Clapp of the University of Montana to those assembled on the oval who were not acquainted with the geologist in coveralls. Prexy orated on cleanliness. "Daddy Aber" was the subject of a talk by Dean Stone. The Dean spoke of the Aber contest and read a message from J. H. T. Ryman, trustee of the Aber endowment, and then awarded a box of gold tender to Ryman, the sophomore. An appeal from George Shepard, president of the Alumni Challenge Athletic Field corporation for greenback support was listened to but Campus Rakings had its casualty list. Both Mr. Shepard and President Boldt declared that the field would be constructed.

The black, threatening clouds stood all possible and held in check till the work of the day had passed but turned loose their spongel-up fury as the "M" men escorted Chief Justice A. P. Stark and his associates, Joseph Sweeney and Samuel Goza, onto the green. High Court became a boot-logger's paradise, wet. The procession gave ground and prepared for a retreat. Then a journalist saved the day by petitioning a change of venue. Court, culprits, cops and curious, as one, caught the suggestion and fled. Such a sight. The justices collected their dignity, and gaboon, and joined the rollicking throng as they entered the sanctum of Schreiber, M. D.

The court adapted itself to the circumstance. Ronnie McDonnell, clerk, called the victims of the moment, some guilty, others prominent, before the august tribunal. Sentences were lightly given but the corrupt, vicious, malicious, crime-hardened wardens knew their stuff.

The Varsity quartette adjourned court in the usual manner.

Free tag dances featured by a shortage of collars and ties and a sticky floor wound up the 11th annual Aber observance at 11 o'clock at night near the swimming pool.

MONTANA GRADUATE TO RUN FOR OFFICE

National Commander Irwin Endorses Mahan for Organization Chairman

Frank J. Irwin, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, in a talk before a meeting of Montana ex-service leaders in Helena last week, announced that it was his firm opinion that John W. Mahan of Helena was the logical man for the commander's chair for the coming year and that Mahan would receive his support at the national convention to be held in Omaha June 22-27.

Mahan was graduated from the University law school last summer. After graduation he opened an office in Bozeman where he practiced law until February 1, when he accepted an appointment as special counsel for the Montana Veterans' Welfare commission with headquarters in Helena. Mahan was the organizer of the Department of Montana, D.A.V., and was elected state commander of the organization in 1922. He has been a member of the national legislative committee of the order for two successive years.

The Montana department made an unsuccessful attempt to elect Mahan national commander at the Salt Lake convention last June. Commander Irwin defeated the Montana candidate by 14 votes. Mahan has been urged by various departments and organization leaders to enter the field again this year, but until the visit of the commander Mahan did not announce his candidacy.

Delegates to the national gathering will be selected at a state convention which will be held in Helena the early part of May. Last year eight members of the University chapter, D.A.V., attended the meeting, and it is expected that as many will make the trip to Omaha in June.
