MONTANA KAIMIN

STATE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA, TUESDAY, MAY 26, 1925

VOLUME XXIV. NUMBER 60.

JUNIOR CLASS NAMES GARVIN QUEEN OF PROM

FAVORS AND PROGRAMS FEATURES OF DANCE

Gym Beautifully Decorated; One of the Most Artistic Junior Proms in History of University.

A grand march led by Marcia Patterson, first woman president of a junior class, and Ed Taylor, ushered in one of the most artistic junior proms in the history of the University. The annual affair took place Saturday evening in the men's gymnasium. Bill Gallagher, president of the senior class, and Valentine Robinson followed Miss Patterson. After the grand march, copper, silver and gold programs were given out. Rainbow streamers of lavender, yellow, blue, pink and green were skillfully used in the decorations, and special lighting effects added to the color scheme of the hall. Arches were constructed along the sides of the gym where davenportes were placed. Mary Kirkwood was in charge of the decorations.

Ellen Garvin was crowned Queen of the Prom by six little girls, who walked with her to the throne and placed the crown on her head. The Queen received a bouquet of roses, the gift of the senior class, after which one of the little attendants, Frances Lanin, did a special dance in her honor. Miss Garvin was elected Queen by the junior class from a group of three girls, Marian Fitzpatrick, Marian Prescott and Ellen Garvin, who were chosen by the Quadrons.

The favors, small novelty compacts, were given to the girls at the special favor dance. Punch was served during the evening by Tom Rowe and Bob Rice.

All the members of the senior class were guests of honor, the prom being an annual tribute to the graduating students.

Patrons and patronesses of the prom were Chancellor and Mrs. Melvin A. Brannon, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Clapp, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Jesse, Dean Harriet Rankin Sedman, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Schreiber, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller.

CALLAGHAN HEADS MONTANA VETERANS

Eugene J. Callaghan, a junior in the school of Business Administration, was elected state commander of the DAV at the closing session of the fourth annual state convention, Saturday.

The election of Callaghan as commander will move the state DAV headquarters from Great Falls to Missoula. Callaghan has always been a very active member of the local DAV chapter, being commander one year, and a delegate to the national convention two years. Before his election Callaghan was treasurer of the state organization.

Legislation which it is hoped will correct some of the evils now existing in rehabilitation laws was discussed and a national legislative program for the Montana delegates to the national convention at Omaha June 22-27, was adopted.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh and Governor J. E. Erickson were guests of honor at a banquet held in the Placer hotel Saturday night and both spoke very highly of the legislation that has come before the national executive body and expressed hope for the successful passage of more useful legislation at the next session of Congress.

Butte was chosen as the next convention city with the date of the meet to be set later by the state executive officers.

UNIVERSITY LOSES ON IDAHO MEET

Figures from the student auditor's office show that the athletic department lost $327 as a result of last Saturday's track meet with Idaho.

A guarantee of $500 was made to Idaho and $10 was paid out for referee. Receipts totaled $183.

STEVENS TO ISSUE SENTINEL ON TIME

The 1925 Sentinel, the University year book, will be distributed on Class Day, June 15, according to Louis Stevens, editor of the publication. Part of the book has been printed and all except the feature part has been set up.

"If all those who expect to leave school before Class Day," said Stevens, "will call at the Sentinel office an attempt will be made to deliver these Sentinels before the distribution date. This is not, however, guaranteed."

Extra Charge to Be Made

Students who have missed one quarter of school, excepting this quarter, will be charged 90 cents for the Sentinel. Those who have two quarters will be obliged to pay $1.80 to secure their Sentinel. Those students who are not in school this quarter will be charged 95 cents.

Herbert Dunn, business manager of the Sentinel, is sending cards to all the students who are not in school this quarter informing them of the price of the publication. The full price of the Sentinel will be $2.75.

CLUBS HOLD PICNIC NEAR MILLER CREEK

The Alchemist and Mathematics clubs held a joint picnic on Miller creek, 18 miles west of Missoula and a mile north of Frenchtown, Sunday, May 24. Professors G. D. Shallenberger, E. F. A. Carey, N. J. Lennes and A. S. Merrill acted as chaperones. The 20 members from each club which attended the picnic left Missoula about 10 o'clock and reached the picnic grounds at noon.

The day was spent playing ball, and eating and hiking. "The picnic was a big success," said Clarence Beaman, "except that Professor Carey had the misfortune to burn out a connecting rod in his car."

Druids Hold Banquet For Idaho Foresters; Last Affair of Year

The Druids, local forestry fraternity, held their last formal meeting of the year with a banquet at the Florence hotel Saturday evening. Four members of the Idaho track team, Sowers, Nichols, McLaughlin and Mahatra, who are members of the Forestry school at Moscow, were the guests of honor.

Ralph Fields, past president of the organization, acted as toastmaster for the occasion. Talks were made by Professor J. E. Kirkwood, who gave a history of the Montana Forestry school; Dean T. C. Spaulding spoke of the desire of union between forestry schools. Sowers of Idaho responded, saying that this is one of the best Forestry school buildings he has ever seen. John Thompson, president of the Druids, made a brief talk telling the history of the organization and its purpose in developing Montana forestry. Raymond Bowers made a short talk telling the purpose of the Forestry club.

WORK ON NEW ATHLETIC FIELD TO START SOON

FOOTBALL GRIDIRON TO BE CONSTRUCTED FIRST

Bleachers Will Accommodate 7,000 People; Baseball Diamond Located East of Girls' Gym.

"While construction on Montana's new athletic field will not be started until this year's schedule of baseball games has been completed, a layout of the grounds is being made and the actual construction will begin by the end of the week," said Tom Swearingen, maintenance engineer in charge of the work.

"The first part of the new field on which construction will be started will be the football gridiron, allowing ample time for it to be seeded and in shape for the opening of the season next fall," Mr. Swearingen continued. The gridiron, as planned, will extend northward from the men's gymnasium and will be skirted by a new quarter-mile cinder track.

Bleachers to Seat 7,000

New bleachers with a seating capacity of 7,000 will be built a few feet inward from the track with the first seat extending five feet above the ground. This plan will allow plenty of height for those seated on the lower rows to see all the activities on the track and field. The bleachers will extend from near the west end of the men's gymnasium northward along the new 220-yard straightaway, which will be in almost the same position as the present 220-yard track.

A baseball diamond will be constructed just north of the new football grounds with bleachers facing eastward and northward. They will be capable of seating 2,000 people.

Plan Girls' Athletic Field

Present plans call for the construction of a girls' athletic field on the grounds between the baseball field and the heating plant. This field will include indoor baseball, hockey fields and three concrete tennis courts which will be built for the women near the girls' gymnasium.

Surrounding the new field will be a high wire fence topped by barbed wire and, later, as demands make it necessary, cement tennis and handball courts will be constructed on the east and west sides of the swimming pool.

Several teams will be at work breaking up the grounds by the end of the week. Mr. Henry Kain of Helena will be foreman of the construction work on the field.

SUBSCRIPTIONS GROW FOR ATHLETIC FUND

The subscription list for the alumni athletic fund is growing rapidly, according to George Boldt, in charge of collections from the senior class. "I have interviewed 20 seniors," said Boldt, "and have asked for small donations. I think it a better policy for the subscribers to give what they feel they can afford. By this system I hope to get nearly a 100 per cent subscription. The rest of the seniors will be interviewed in the next few days."

Yell Duke Announces Pep Rally for Saturday

A pep rally will be the University's farewell demonstration to the Montana track team at the Milwaukee depot Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, when the team leaves for Seattle to take part in the annual Coast conference meet Saturday. The rally will start promptly at 11 p. m. and Dean Harriet Sedman has given all University girls 11:30 permission.

"This will be the last meet of the season for the University tracksters, and we must make the rally the biggest, the peepiest of the year," said Walter Sanford, yell king, yesterday. "This conference meet is one of the biggest held. Stanford, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, the Oregon Agricultural College, Washington State College, the University of California, the University of Idaho and the University of Southern California are all members of the Pacific Coast conference, and we must show the Montana men that every student at the University is behind the greatest track team that we have ever had. Remember—11 o'clock Wednesday night at the Milwaukee depot."

ANNUAL SPRING FESTIVAL TO BE THURSDAY NIGHT

PARADE WILL START AT 7 O'CLOCK

Each Fraternity to Enter Float; Two Prizes Will Be Given to Two Best Decorated Floats.

"The Coming of Spring," written by Agnes Getty, of Missoula, will be presented at the May Fete Thursday, May 28, at 7:15 on the University oval. The affair will be started promptly at 7 o'clock by a huge parade which will form under the arch. It will go around the oval, down University avenue to Higgins, from there to the Northern Pacific depot and back again to the University campus.

Each fraternity and sorority has been asked to enter a float of some sort, nothing elaborate but as original as possible. Two prizes, not yet decided upon, will be given by the Central Board.

Profits to Athletic Field

A general admission of 35 cents will be charged and all over actual expenses will be turned over to the Alumni Athletic Challenge Field fund.

Music for the dances in the Fete will be furnished by a piano and virola and will be broadcast by radio to all parts of the oval.

Nine Dances on Program

There will be nine dances, directed by the following girls: Winter Wind—Dora Dykins and Catherine McRae. Snow Flakes—Dorothy Rector. Rain Drops—Alice Lease. Sunbeams—Ellen Garvin. Butterflies—Winifred Baptist. Woodticks—Dorothy White. Toads—Marian Fitzpatrick. Spring Flowers—Nan Walsh. Gentle Breezes—Florence Melchior.

FORESTRY STUDENTS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC; BARBECUE FEATURED

Students of the Forestry school returned Sunday evening from their annual picnic and barbecue, which was held at Orr's park, several miles up the Rattlesnake. Over 40 members of the school left in cars early Sunday afternoon for their yearly hike in the woods. The affair this year was more successful than ever, according to Tom Van Meter, who was in charge of the barbecue.

It is customary for the junior members of the Forestry club to entertain the seniors before graduation with an outdoor picnic of this kind. Games occupied most of the time before the barbecue was served, and horseshoes, baseball and shooting matches were feature attractions.

D. Jarnette of Orchard Homes was in charge of the "feed," which consisted of roast pork, roast beef, baked potatoes, chicken, and other delicacies.

BALL CLUB TO PLAY THREE MORE GAMES

W.S.C. and Whitman Coming This Week With Second Division Clubs

Three more baseball games remain on Montana's schedule. Thursday and Friday of this week the Grizzlies clash with the W.S.C. Cougars, and Saturday the Whitman Missionaries invade Montana.

Last year as well as this season the Cougars have edged Montana out of victories by 2-1 scores, and both times it took them 10 innings to do it. On the recent road trip Hanson gave W.S.C. seven hits, while his team-mates collected an equal number of clouts off Clinger.

O'Connor will most likely be Cap Cummings' choice for the first tilt, and Hanson will work the second day. Coach Applequist has Weingarten, Becker and Clinger to choose from.

W.S.C. snatched the conference flag last year, but she hasn't been going so strong this year. Right now it looks as if the University of Washington will take the pennant this season. O.A.C. also has a good chance to win the race.

Oregon Held to Four Hits

Friday Weingarten, Cougar captain and mound ace, held Oregon to four scattered cracks and struck out eight men, while his team-mates were winning 4-0. Mitchell, a receiver, and Marker, left fielder, are two of the heavy bludgeon wielders in the W.S.C. lineup.

Washington, in its first conference game this season, defeated Whitman 7-4 in a loosely played contest. Montana pounded out a 9-4 victory over the Missionaries on the road trip with O'Connor twirling. Miller threw for Whitman in that fracas.

The probable lineup for the opening game is:

Montana	Washington State
Stowe, c	Berg, c
Anderson, ss	Mitchell, c
Kelly, c	Koenig, ss
Illman, lf	Marker, lf
Hanson, 2b	Allen, 2b
Tarbox, 3b	Shelby, 3b

LANGUAGE SURVEY HEADED BY THOMAS

"By next fall the nationwide survey of Modern Foreign Language will be moving as a great machine in every accredited high school in the United States," said Professor B. E. Thomas of the Foreign Language department, and chairman of the survey within the state. "Its sole object," continued Mr. Thomas, "is to find out through a system of experiments with students under competent teachers why Americans should study foreign languages, the best methods of teaching, kinds of students best suited to study foreign languages, the actual and ultimate good coming from its study, and in what ways the language trained student compares with those who have not included it in their education."

"The survey," states Professor E. O. Eckelman of the University of Washington, and director of the Northwest district, "steadily increases the desire for, and interest in, foreign language and fully determines its power and place in American education." Two questionnaires containing the basis for statistics were sent out, one to the high school principals and one to the language teachers. These have already been filled and returned to Washington.

GEOLOGISTS RETURN FROM FOUR-DAY TRIP

The advanced class in Geology, specializing in field methods under the direction of J. H. Bradley, associate professor, returned last night from a four-day trip.

The party left Friday afternoon and went direct to Drummond and from there worked back to Missoula. The object of the trip was to do reconnaissance work in synclines. A side trip was also made to Garnet where the old mines were inspected. Those making the trip were: Royle Rowe, Miles Dardin, Cullen Waldo, Henry Hendrickson, Everett Brewster, and Carl Pittenger.

MONTANA STARS SMASH FOUR OLD TRACK RECORDS

BEAT VISITING VANDALS IN EASY FASHION

Two-Twenty, Broad Jump and Javelin Records Are Smashed by Grizzly Squad; Sweet Takes Individuals.

By breaking four records and tying three previous marks, Montana's undefeated track team romped away with their last home meet Saturday, defeating the Idaho Vandals 79 to 52.

A hard fought relay race in which runners fought neck and neck for the first three laps, with Ritter pulling away on the final stretch for a decisive victory, proved to be the outstanding feature of the afternoon. The Grizzly quartet came through with the fastest time ever turned in by any team on the Pacific coast and lowered the state record formerly held by Egan, Closs, Rottler and Anderson, by 6 seconds. They hung up the time of 3 minutes and 24 seconds for the distance. This is an average of 51 seconds to the man.

Sweet and Pearce Break Records

Russell Sweet was again the individual point winner of the meet, collecting 19 counters and breaking the record in the 220-yard dash, the broad jump, and tying his previous mark in the century. Calvin Pearce, miniature Grizzly recruit, got a pretty leave on the javelin and broke the state record by 2 feet 10 inches.

For Idaho, Henry Powers ran the high hurdles in 23.9, just 1-10 of a second under the Montana state record, held by Jack Sterling, while Archibald turned in a 1 minute and 59.9 second half mile and Lewis Williams stepped the two mile in 10 minutes and 4 seconds.

Crowd Only Fair

A fair sized crowd attended the meet, the last one which will be held on the old athletic field. After Montana broke the tape a winner in the relay the entire audience joined the students in singing "College Chums" in memory of Dornblaser field. The old battle ground, where so many of Montana's best have both given and taken defeat, will soon be replaced by the Challenge field.

An About Face

IN THE last issue of the Kaimin we printed an editorial advocating a baseball series with Bozeman. It was our contention that if the game was promised at the time athletic relations were resumed, as the state papers covering the meeting in Butte reported that it was, we should make every effort to meet the obligation, either here, in Bozeman, or on a neutral ground.

We have since found that the newspaper accounts were wrong and that no game was ever scheduled with M.S.C., verbally or otherwise. Under the circumstances the athletic board, which has been handling the affair, is entirely justified in dismissing the proposal made by the State College athletic officials for a series in Bozeman.

Purely as a matter of settling accounts with an erroneous public opinion, which evidently has been influenced by biased information, we would like to give the Bobcats a decisive trimming. If our athletic budget, however, will not permit the expenditure of funds necessary to bring them here, the entire matter obviously will have to be dropped for this year.

Do Your Stuff!

MAY Fete, the University's annual spring festival, will be presented on the University oval Thursday evening, May 27, at 7:15. A parade, which is scheduled to form under the arch promptly at 7 o'clock, will start the affair.

The fete this year is doubly worthy of student support. Besides being an annual tradition which requires as much time and work as any dramatic presentation, all funds over actual expenses will be turned over to the officials in charge of the Alumni Challenge field. The 35-cent admission charge should be within the means of every student and the overhead funds from the benefit will add a much needed "bit" to the construction of the new field.

Food for the Pessimist

WE ARE beginning to see signs of a revival of interest in collegiate baseball. The turnouts at both the Washington and Gonzago games were reminiscent of the days when Grizzly baseball teams were the big drawing cards on the University's sport calendar. Since 1920, when Montana annexed her last conference title, interest in the "grand old game" has steadily been flagging. At the W.S.C. game last year not more than a handful of rooters were admitted to the stands.

The baseball barometer at Montana, however, is only reflective of a situation which exists quite generally throughout the larger universities and colleges of the country. At Washington, as well as at other Pacific and Northwest conference schools, the suggestion repeatedly has been made to reduce the sand lot pastime to the status of a minor sport, on a par with swimming, boxing and tennis.

It is difficult to understand why a game so universally popular as baseball should be shelved in intercollegiate competition. Professionally it is unrivaled as an athletic drawing card. A single big league baseball game brings receipts that run well into the three-figure column and almost every city in the country is represented in some sort of professional league. It can hardly be urged, in view of the consistent following which professional baseball has, that the lassitude of spring days is responsible for the half-hearted student interest. Thousands of fans pack the Polo grounds in New York on the hottest days to watch their idols perform.

The explanation more likely lies in the fact that college baseball unfortunately must compete with football, basketball and track, three major sports which undeniably offer better opportunities for sensational exhibitions. A freak play in football, a long dribble in basketball or a record-breaking hundred yard dash have no parallels in the most phenomenal aspects of the American game.

The charge that the present generation is desperately in search of excitement is better exemplified, we think, in college athletics than it is in most of the carefully prepared treatises which frequently are offered in illustration.

Think It Over!

WE ARE anxious to see the honor system given a try at Montana. To our way of thinking there is no reason why a plan which has worked out so satisfactorily in other schools should not have a similar success here. In the Law school we have a practical and valuable nucleus to work from, as well as an encouraging assurance of the possibilities of the system. Is there any reason why students at the University of Montana should be less capable of living up to the requirements of an honor system than the students of any other institution of higher learning?

Think it over.

Hurrah for John!

JOHN COOLIDGE, son of the President, is all right. Last quarter, at Amherst, he flunked a course in French, and, because he did not wish to let his studies interfere with his college education, he cut a few too many classes. As a result, John was very nearly kicked out of school.

He flunked French so decisively that it brought forth a crisp telegram from his "dad" at the White House. The message, although short, did not lack in forcefulness. "There will be no more dances, no more parties, until scholastic deficiencies have been worked off." Poor John!

His seeming lack of appreciation of the primary benefits offered by Amherst, however, is excusable. He received an intense rush for the first few days, and was the biggest "scoop" of the season. The Greeks gave him no rest, but it failed to turn his head. What was good enough for the President of the United States was good enough for him—he "went" his father's house. And women! If John could have lived in the good old days, Mark Antony wouldn't have had a look-in with Cleo.

He is quiet, retiring, unobtrusive—the Coolidge characteristics. It is said, however, that he is not as conscientious a follower of economy programs as is his father. He will never be much of an athlete, but will, in all probability, make a name for himself on publications, or in politics.

His difference with the French prof was fixed up, and Amherst decided to "keep Coolidge." He can now "parley voux" with the best of them. To date he has shown no flashes of genius or unusual activity along scholastic lines. He is just "one of the fellas."

Hurrah for John! We're all for him.

A Slight Mistake

IN THE dual meet with Idaho Saturday seven state records were shattered. Four of these, credited to Grizzly performers, will stand as new state marks. Sweet lowered his own time in the 220-yard dash to 21 2-5 seconds and hopped to a new distance of 21 feet 11 1/2 inches in the broad jump. Cal Pearce, in his first year of Varsity competition, threw the javelin 161 feet 6 inches for a new record and the mile relay team, running the last event of the day, clipped 6 2-5 seconds off the standing state mark. For sheer spectacular exhibition the meet was the greatest in the history of the University.

The Grizzly track team has gone through a strenuous season undefeated. Sport critics up and down the coast are heralding it as the greatest aggregation of athletes in the northwest. It is certain that no Montana squad, including the record-breaking relay team of 1920, has ever made a more spectacular impression on conference athletic circles.

In spite of the fact that the Grizzly track team would be a big attraction in any contest in the country, not more than 500 students turned out Saturday to see the Idaho meet. Receipts for the day totaled $183 and the athletic department announces a net loss of $327. Our contention, that a winning team is a sure stimulus to school spirit, apparently has no psychological foundation. Certainly in practice it has proven itself a flivver.

Let's meet them at the train.

Dornblaser field.

It was a glorious day for the Copper, Silver and Gold. Bursts of speed, long moments of endurance and flashes of skill had shattered record after record. The flying "T" and the golden "M" had fought bitterly for every inch, for every second and for every point.

Montana rooters rose in the stands and roared encouragement as a maroon jersey broke the tape in the mile relay. Montana had won.

Then a stealthy, heart-clutching silence crept across the field—and out of it—broke the opening strains of "College Chums."

History was being made. For the last time the trackster's spikes had dug into the cinders of Dornblaser field.

Tomorrow it would be the Alumni Challenge field.

In the fall of 1920 Montana field was changed to Dornblaser field in commemoration of one of the greatest Grizzly stars of all time.

Dorn.

Dorn—that fighting Grizzly left tackle and captain who had played so often on this field.

Dorn—that loyal stone wall who had helped to turn the Aggie flank six times in his four years on the team.

Dorn—that plunging battering-ram who never missed a game while he was in college.

Dorn—that cheerful big heart of which so many stories of good fellowship and fun might be told.

Dorn—that volunteer in the Marines who was sent overseas with the first division.

Dorn—that charging Yankee who met the German lead at Champagne October 8, 1918.

Dorn—that valiant American who died two days later in the base hospital and who lies buried in Flanders fields.

Dorn—that Montana hero who was not there to accept blushing the War Cross when it came—as he had accepted four Grizzly letters on the University campus.

Dorn—Paul Logan Dornblaser, '14.

Time passes. It will soon be seven years since Dorn last charged into the opponent's line. Five years have passed since Montana christened Dornblaser field.

And now—Dornblaser field—good-bye.

Virgil Wilson, a senior in the Law school, is a much sought after man, judging from the advertisements found in several well known papers and magazines. The following clipping from the "lost" column of "Adventure" magazine was given to him by a former student of the University.

"Wilson, V. E.—He is a member of the Gamma Rho chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity in Missouri. He tramped from Bordeaux to Marseilles, France, in 1923 but was last heard of in Missoula, Montana. He is a newspaper man. Please write your old friend who was planning to go with you to Buenos Aires, South America. Oleana D. Russell, New York 'Evening Post' sports department, Vesey street, New York City."

In the winter of 1920 Virgil Wilson was advertised for by the same party in the Newport News.

Anybody breaks into print now and then, but not everyone has the distinction of appearing in the "wanted" columns of a popular magazine.

LAW SCHOOL HOLDS EXAMS WEEK EARLY

Final examinations in the law school covering the entire year's work will be given one week early, beginning June 6 and ending June 13, according to Dean C. W. Leapheart. This custom has been followed in the past by the law school as it is required that seniors, as well as other students, take examinations in the department.

"It is necessary that senior grades be turned in to the business office in time to compile averages for graduating," said Dean Leapheart. "This explains the reason for holding examinations a week early."

The law school continued school during interscholastic track meet in order not to lose the required periods set by the University.

Kathryn Moore drove to Helena with friends, Friday.

MISS LAUX TO TEACH IN SUMMER SESSION

"Our department will carry practically its regular amount of work during the summer session," said Dr. W. E. Schreiber of the Physical Education department in a recent interview. Courses will be given in Athletic Training, Principles of Athletic Coaching, First Aid, Surgery, for men and women, Playground Management, Folk Dancing, Gymnastics, and regular courses in floor-work and swimming. Dr. Schreiber and Miss Mary Laux will teach these classes.

Miss Laux graduated from the Physical Education department of the University in 1921. After teaching for two years in Forsyth and Kalispell she became director of athletics in the women's department of the University. When Miss Rhoda Baxter recently resigned, Miss Laux was again elected to directorship and will begin her duties with the summer session.

Dr. Schreiber is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has headed the department of physical education in Pratt Institute of Brooklyn, New York, the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater, Oklahoma, and the State Normal school of Wisconsin. He came to Montana seven years ago and has since been director of Physical Education.

Dean Stone's Night To Be Held in Park

Dean Stone's night, the annual Press club picnic in honor of Dean A. L. Stone of the School of Journalism, will be held in Greenough park, Wednesday, June 3. A picnic dinner will be served at 6 o'clock, which will be followed by games and the usual campfire and talks by faculty members. A fee of 50 cents will be charged to defray expenses.

Dean Stone's night originated in 1920, when Professor J. E. (Barley) Miller suggested that the annual Press club picnic be held in honor of Dean A. L. Stone. Before this time the picnic was merely a last "get-together" for the journalism students. Elaine Bates and Guy Mooney, students in the Journalism school, secured the co-operation of the Press club members, and Dean Stone's night was installed as a traditional institution.

Aww--Chew!

She Loves Me—She Loves Me Not

The fast-sinking sun threw a roseate glow over the country where they had spent so many happy hours. A few moments would mark the end of a perfect day and what promised to be the beginning of a perfect evening.

He could not help mentally comparing the deep blue of the skies to the blue of her eyes, the gold of the sunset to that of her hair. In the distance a brook could be heard murmuring merrily along its way; tired birds were singing their good-night lullabies; on a far-off hill a lone coyote wailed mournfully.

He could remain silent no longer. He longed to hold her in his arms, to whisper sweet nothings, to tell her of his love, to pledge his eternal fidelity.

"Isn't it wonderful?" he whispered, by way of breaking the silence. "Beautiful! I shall never forget it."

"Darling," he faltered, "D-d-darling—"

"Yes?" encouragingly.

"I—I love you. I want you more than anything in the world—I will try to make you happy."

"I love you, too, dear." She pressed his hand reassuringly.

The joy of that moment! She loved him! His heart was going like a trip-hammer; his temples throbbed; the world was a wonderful golden cloud, on which they drifted, unconscious of anyone but themselves. He took her in his arms, her upturned face pleading for the kiss that was so near.

Suddenly she jerked away from him, her head went back proudly, her lip curled, her countenance was the picture of disgust. What could be the trouble? He thought of a thousand things. Did he have halitosis? "Aww—Chewww!" she suddenly exclaimed. "Damn that cold!"

The way to get the finest shave

The Hinge-Cap is a sure way of identifying Williams Shaving Cream. And Williams, besides giving you the convenient Hinge-Cap, will improve your shave in three ways:

First, the lather is heavier and holds the moisture in against the beard. Quicker and more thorough softening of the beard results. Second, the razor glides more easily through the Williams-softened beard because Williams lather lubricates the skin. Lastly, an ingredient in Williams keeps the skin in good condition no matter how heavy your beard nor how frequently you shave. In addition, you'll enjoy Williams because it is a pure, natural white cream without coloring matter of any kind. Ask for it.

THE FLAME THAT FIRES

COLLEGE athletic teams illustrate forcibly one truth—men achieve by inspiration. The bleachers' cry of "Hold 'em! Hold 'em!" has kept many a goal line uncrossed. "Touchdown! Touchdown!" has scored countless victories.

In an engineering organization like Westinghouse, this inspiration comes from engineering executives—men who correlate, organize, administer, and inspire. They are engineers first, but engineers with the power to enlist the best of other men.

Many derived their own first inspiration from the Founder, George Westinghouse himself. He took a contract for electrifying the New Haven Railroad, for example, before the apparatus had even been designed.

"Now I've dropped you into the middle of the pond," he told his engineers. "It's up to you to swim out."

There was plenty of swimming—but Westinghouse knew his swimmers.

As has been true since organization began, the demand for men who can develop into leaders is far, far short of the supply. Westinghouse welcomes them. All industry welcomes them. Organizations lead because men, in turn, lead them.

This advertisement is seventh in a vocational series, outlining the fields for engineering achievement in the Westinghouse organization. A copy of the entire series will be sent to anyone requesting it.

COACH STEWART TO PICK TEAM

Hopes to Take Full Squad of Ten Men to the Conference Meet

Coach Jim Stewart and a squad of probably 10 men will leave for the Pacific Coast conference track meet Wednesday night on the 12:30 Milwaukee westbound train. The squad has not been announced as yet but the coach hopes to be able to take all those who have a possibility of taking a point.

In comparing the time made by schools with which Montana has not competed this year, Stanford seems to have the edge on the rest of them. Montana is generally conceded third place by the coaches and sportsmen of the Pacific coast, but to take third place is really a victory because of the keen competition encountered. Stanford has Hartman, a man who was one of the stars of the 1924 Olympic team, and can put the shot around 50 feet and throw the discus 150 feet. Aside from this he can run the 100 in 10 flat. Stanford has a quarter-mile who has been credited with 48.3, a hurdler who has turned in 14.9 and a broad jumper who has leaped 23 feet 6 inches.

The University of Washington is heralded to be good for second place though this is only sport gossip. Washington has Charteris, who is expected to take first place in the half mile, Fogt to place in the weights, Applegate in the high hurdles, and Clark, last year's winner of the conference 100-yard dash. Washington has the advantage of the meet in that it is to be held on their home field. Dual meets with W.S.C. and Idaho have revealed what they have, and we stack up better than either of these teams.

O.A.C. has a crack bunch of millers that will make a strong bid for places in that race. Aside from this O.A.C. has a first class hurdler, a 10-minute two-miler, and a javelin thrower who won the javelin in the pentathlon at the Seattle relay carnival with a heave of 170 feet.

Oregon is looked to take but one first place, that is to be the broad jump. They have a man who has done 24 feet and is supposed to be able to do the leap consistently.

Montana may do better than the rating the advance dope gives them and they may not do as well but at any rate they will do their best and with an even break of luck may do something sensational.

The team will return Sunday evening, May 31, on the 6:15 Milwaukee.

of his mile, decided to set the pace faster and stepped out. Snowden tried desperately to get into the lead again but was unable to head the Fergus county lad. The time was within two seconds of the state record held by Maloney.

Sweet Cops Century
Sweet won the 100 two yards ahead of his team-mate, Coyle, who finished a foot ahead of Davidson of Idaho. The time was the same as he made in the W.S.C. and Montana State meets.

Clarence Spaulding again came through with an enormous burst of speed on the last three hurdles and beat Thompson and Powers to the string. Spaulding tied the high

Montana Doped for Third By Coast Sports Writers

Following is a "basic comparison" of how the track teams should score in the annual conference meet at Seattle Saturday. It was taken from the Seattle Times, and represents their version of the "dope sheet." Montana is expected to take third place. Our dope harrangue the unexpected, will give the Grizzlies second place.

Next Friday and Saturday the finest athletes of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference will gather in the University of Washington stadium in their annual track and field championships.

Stanford "dopes" to win first place, according to a table of results prepared by the Times sports staff from a careful compilation of the way the different entrants have performed so far this year.

This isn't a prediction, it is merely a basic comparison of how they should score, made up from the accompanying table of "best performances" so far this year.

Cut this table out and compare it with the various results next Saturday and you'll have the "upsets" at first hand.

The "should scores" by events follow:

hurdle record held by Jack Sterling, former Grizzly hurdler.

Lewis Williams, last year's winner of the Pacific Coast conference two-mile race, ground out a 10 minute and 4 second race, to finish 20 yards ahead of Hanson of Montana. Williams of Montana ran an easy third.

Gillette and Lowary Tangle
In the half mile run a rather unfortunate accident marred the race, in which Archibald won in easy style.

Gillette in an effort to get the pole, cut in on Blumenthal, who had second place on the inside, and caught his spike in Blumenthal's shoe. Gillette fell and Lowary, who was on the pole behind the field, played leap-frog over Gillette. Gillette, springing to his feet, tried to overtake the field but was unable to do better than third place.

Pulling away from the field at the 100-yard mark, Sweet galloped to the tape for an easy win over J. Thompson of Idaho in the 220, and established a new Montana mark of 21.4. Stark, Sweet's speedy team-mate, took third.

Hurdles Go to Vandals
Coyle, after wrenching his back as a result of a broken pole in the pole vault event, was not in condition to run the low hurdles in his usual manner and the first two places were awarded to the Vandals.

Sweet, on his third try in the broad jump, leaped out 21 feet 11 1/2 inches, for his third state record. Nelson of Idaho was a foot behind him and Wagner as many inches behind Nelson. Oswley of Montana was the former holder of the broad jump record.

Al Blumenthal, after taking the lead in the shot, tried for a state record but fell short 3 inches. Axtell was second with a heave six feet ahead of the giant Hutchinson of Idaho.

Hutchinson came back in the discus and proved his metal by beating Axtell with 8 inches to spare. His distance was 127 feet 8 inches. Al Blumenthal was third in this event.

New Javelin Mark Set
Calvin Pearce, 128-pound Grizzly javelin thrower, tossed the spear out 153 feet 11 inches to win the event, then on a try for a state record sailed the spear 161 feet 6 inches to beat Ted Plummer's old mark by 2 feet 9 inches.

Sweet started the mile relay for Montana and found a tough foe in McDowell, who stayed within two yards of him throughout the lap. Davis held up the good work, giving the stick to Stark a yard ahead of Powers, who finished about the same distance as he had been handicapped at the start. Ritter found no trouble in getting away from his man on the final stretch and finished 20 yards ahead, establishing another record of 3 minutes and 24 seconds.

Summary:

SPORTY-VENTS

This isn't such a bad old place to go to school at after all. It seems especially good when you stop to consider the history that our track team is making. The Grizzlies have broken nine state records this year. This state has only one record that doesn't belong to a University man, and that is the high jump, which is held by Cates of M.S.C. at 6 feet 1-10 inch.

Montana is almost assured of firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the mile run and possibly the mile relay, at the annual conference meet to be held at Seattle Saturday. Coyle should place in the pole vault. Al Blumenthal in the shot put, Gillette in the half-mile and Hanson in the two-mile run. Axtell placed in the discus throw two years ago in the annual conference meet, which was held at Eugene, Oregon.

Stanford has a broad jumper doing 23 feet 6 inches, and two hurdlers who cover the high sticks in 14 4-5 and 15 seconds. Washington also has hurdlers, as does Idaho, who are beating our marks. Stanford has a high jumper who has gone up 6 feet 4 inches.

Who says we're not living in an age of speed? Strawberry Stark had to tie the old state record of 22.2 seconds in the 220 to get third place last Saturday.

Two Pacific Coast conference relay records have been bettered by the Grizzlies this year. The tracksters did the half-mile relay in 1:30.3, which is 1.5 seconds better than the best. They averaged 51 seconds to the quarter last Saturday, making the mile relay in 3:24. The old state record was 3:30.4, and the conference's best time was 3:26. Made at the relay carnival this year by Washington.

The ball team has a heavy schedule ahead of it with games with W.S.C. Thursday and Friday, and a tilt with Whitman Saturday. The tangle with the Missionaries will mark the close of the season. Much of the success of the year will depend upon this series of games. Dope based on the way the two invading teams have been playing gives Montana a good chance to win two of the three games. With no injuries sustained on the western trip, all members of the squad are in tip top condition.

Besides the nine state records that have been broken this year, the conference mark for the 220 and the half and the mile relays have been bettered by "Montana's best track team." These do not, however, go down as conference records because they were made in dual meets. To establish conference records a team must make them in the annual conference meet.

Sweet came within 2-10 of a second of the national collegiate record for the 220-yard dash when he clipped it in 21 2-5 seconds Saturday. The record is held by Kirksey of Stanford.

Weight doesn't count for everything. That old saying held true again in the Vandal meet. Pearce outheaved Hutchinson, the six and one-half foot Idaho tackle, in the javelin throw, and thereby established a new state record. The old mark was 158 feet; the new one is 161 feet 6 inches. Pearce, with Gillette, who holds the state record for the half-mile at 2 minutes and 2-5 seconds, are the lightest men in the state holding honors of that caliber.

Again Spaulding carried out his promise to win the high hurdle race when he captured first place from the Idaho man by an unusual burst of speed at the finish last Saturday. It will be remembered that he made the same promise before the Aggie meet, and fulfilled it.

Here's the time that Coach Stewart got on his quarter milers in their record-breaking relay race against the Vandals: Sweet, 51 1-5; Davis, 52 2-5; Stark, 50 1-5; Ritter, 50 1-5.

Blumenthal took three throws to break the state record and came within 6 inches of smashing the mark held by Kerran of the State University at 43 feet 10 inches. Kerran is coaching a high school at Bellingham, Washington.

Grant Silvernale has accepted a job as head coach of the high school in Calumet, Michigan, for next year. Grant will be a long way from his alma mater, but that will not interfere with his ability. He was captain of the football team last fall, and has made three letters in that branch of major sports.

In the accident that ruined Montana's chances to win the half-mile Saturday Gillette spiked E. Blumenthal, while trying to get from third place on the pole to first. In the attempt his spike hit Blumenthal's heel, and the fleet Fergus county lad fell. Lowary, who was just behind Gillette, rolled over him head-first to avoid a spiking. Army lost 50 to 75 feet in the mixup, but managed to take third place. This is the first race he has lost since the time he was beaten by Jimmy Charteris, one of the University of Washington, in the half-mile race at the Interscholastic meet three years ago.

Many of the men who will be out for football next fall will condition themselves this summer by doing forestry work and by working here on the new athletic field. However, no laborers have been hired as yet for work on the field.

"Wee" Maundlin will be back next fall to finish his course, and to coach the frosh football squad. He was called home this spring because of an injury to his brother, and was unable to get back.

Size and grub consumption cannot be compared. Bus Tarbox, the smallest ball player on the team, ate more food on the western trip than any other player. Still the miniature giant gets around in snappy style.

Do what Toledo did

Once Toledo had a nuisance, a tract of swamp land near the lake, a breeder of mosquitoes, foul odors and fogs.

But an automatic pumping station, equipped with motors made by the General Electric Company, turned the swamp into dry land—and abolished the menace to the city.

This is one example of what electricity can do. As you meet life's problems, think of electricity as a valid ever-ready ally.

Study what electricity is doing to make a better and happier America; remember that you will live in an electrical age, full of surprises, and full of new services to humanity. The monogram "G-E" which you see above is placed on the epoch-making products of the General Electric Company.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

RESOLUTION OFFERS PROPOSED REVISION

Central Board will meet this afternoon to pass on the resolution asking for a revision of the constitution of the ASUM. There have been several amendments to the constitution that have never been entered in it and it is quite incomplete at present.

The resolution calls for the appointment of a committee to draw up a new constitution that will be complete in every detail. Oscar Dahlberg, new president of the ASUM, is the author of the proposed resolution.

Gertrude Conway visited at her home in Butte over the week-end.
