VICE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Moore reported that Ed Blackner was recommended by the Fine Arts Board to be the Fine Arts representative until elections are held. The minutes were approved as read.

Johnson reported that nothing definite had been decided about whether to eliminate the board or not. He still has to meet with Planning Board about the matter. Whitehead said the board would exist for at least one more year. Moore reported there were no applications for commissioner of the board and that this position overlapped the President's position. Brown questioned the installation of an overhead door in the fieldhouse which is costing $10,000 but will not be able to be used during basketball season when the bleachers are used.

PLANNING BOARD

Whitehead reported the board would meet with Administrative Relations Board and the Constitutional Committee next week. He believed the reapportionment is the big obstacle of the Constitutional Committee and that it will be an interesting campaign issue.
EGGENSBERGER reported he talked with Cogswell about revamping the "M" Book. Next week a new staff will be picked for the Book, Sentinel, and a new Sentinel advisor will be selected.

Traditions

Wheeler stated the responsibility of the "M" will now belong to Bruce Gray. If it is not finished this spring, it will be next fall. He also reported that the pom pom girls and cheerleaders will be consolidated to six girls for more coordination and less money. Raynee Schaffer has been appointed to assist Pat Holmes with Homecoming. Allen reported that a male cheerleader squad will try to be started from the "M" Club. Sandy Famenko would also like to start a "drill team" for half-time entertainment.
