UNIVERSITY TO GIVE DEGREES TO STUDENTS IN DECEMBER

Twenty-One Men and Women Will Complete Work at End of Quarter

Of the seniors graduating at the end of the autumn quarter, 21 will be given bachelor degrees, 17 will be awarded the University certificate of qualification to teach, and one will get the degree of graduate in pharmacy. Of those who will take the bachelor degree next month, the greatest number from a single department will be from the School of Business Administration, which graduates six students. The English department is next, with five seniors. Then comes Education, with three; Economics, with two; and History, Mathematics, Music, Psychology and the School of Forestry each graduate one.

The School of Business Administration and the English department each will award the certificate of qualification to teach to five students. The department of Education will give three certificates, while the School of Music and the departments of Mathematics, Economics and Foreign Languages will each award one certificate.

The committee on admission and registration recommends that degrees and certificates be awarded to these students provided that they complete the requirements for their degrees and certificates in accordance with faculty rules.

FITZGERALD GIVES TALK TO PRESS CLUB MEMBERS AT REGULAR MEETING

Brassil Fitzgerald, instructor in the English department, spoke to members of the Press club Wednesday night upon "English as a Background for Journalism." He stressed the necessity of constant writing, free use of the imagination and the employment of simple, forceful language in order to obtain success. "It is only by creating," he said, "that the muscles of the mind can be strengthened and made vigorous. In journalism, as in English, clear, concise, simple expression of ideas is preferred."

Mr. Fitzgerald also said that success is gained only by constant trying, regardless of failures, and he tried to impress the importance of effort upon his audience. At the conclusion of the address the president, Jake Miller, announced that the future life of the Press club depends upon a bigger turnout of members and urged that the students take a more active interest.

QUADRONS HOLD MEETING

Quadrans held their monthly meeting at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house yesterday at 5 o'clock. Mrs. J. P. Ritchey gave a short talk on the personality, life and work of William O'Leary, a surgeon of American and English fame, who died in 1919. Mary Shope played a violin solo, accompanied on the piano by Gladys Price.

A short business meeting was held after the program. It was announced that the next meeting of the senior women would be held at the Kappa Delta house, December 9.

Group Elects Officers

Members of the Student Fellowship group elected officers at their meeting last Wednesday night. Marjorie Billings is the new president, succeeding Rex Speedman; Catherine Miller, vice-president; Chester Lawson, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ida McDonald on Tuesday, December 7, with Catherine Reynolds in charge of the program.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TEACH FOR PRACTICE

University students who are working for their teachers' certificates and doing practice work in teaching are few in number in comparison to the enrollment in past quarters, according to Professor Macdook.

Of the 20 who are doing the work this term, seven are teaching in the upper grades of the public schools, five in the high schools, three in Sacred Heart academy, and five in the University Physical Training department.

Last year 106 students, approximately 60 per cent of the graduates, received teachers' certificates.

FRESHMAN DEBATE TEAM TO BE PICKED AT MEETING OF MONTANA DEBATE UNION

Two fresh debate teams will meet Bozeman teams during the third week in January. There will be two men on each team and these will be picked next Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Montana Debate Union. One of the teams will go to Bozeman and the other will debate here. The subject for the tryouts will be: Resolved, that the Volstead act should be amended to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

Tryouts for women's debate team of any class will be held soon. All those interested should see Mr. Beck for particulars. There will be a joint debate held the fourth week in January between the State University and the Normal school of Dillon. One team of two girls will debate here and another will go to Dillon.

LACROIX WILL SELECT RIFLE TEAM NEXT WEEK

Selection of the members of the men's rifle team cannot be made until next week some time, according to Lieutenant H. J. LaCroix, assistant professor of military science. It is impossible for some of the men trying out for the team to complete their firing this week, and until this has been finished, the winners cannot be announced.

No challenges have been sent out as yet, but as soon as the team has been selected challenges will be issued to several nearby schools.

Pharmacy Graduate Visits Here

Mrs. Steve Percin of Anaconda was a recent visitor in Missoula. Mrs. Percin was, before her marriage, Miss Amelia Donich, who received her Ph. G. degree in pharmacy in 1922.

CRACK SQUAD MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE

"Considering the short time it has had for practice, I think the 'crack squad' gave a capable performance last Saturday," Captain R. M. Caulkins, assistant professor of military science, said yesterday concerning the first public appearance which the new ROTC unit has made. Two squads made an appearance before the crowd gathered to witness the Montana-Whitman football game, the "crack squad," which gave a well-executed exhibition of drills, and another, which might be termed a "cracked squad," demonstrated the approximate manner in which freshmen drilled when first taken into the field.

The men in the crack squad were William Orton, commander; Bob Ailing, 4; Frank Ailing, 3; Edwin Booth, 2; Maynard Thorndike, 6; Tommy Herling, 8; Harold Rhude, 1; Ralph Benjamin, 5; and Palmer Johnson, 7, numbered according to their position in the squad. These men executed squads right, squads left, to the rear march, left step, right step, right by two, flank movements, squads right about and squads left about, all in continuous march, which makes the execution of the drills difficult. In addition, the squad fired three volleys of blank cartridges, and wound up with a salute to the grand stand.

The other squad (names of members withheld because of threatened libel suits) gave drills much the same as those which the "crack squad" performed, but their execution was different in the details. The members of this squad apparently had distinct ideas as to how the different movements should be executed, for frequently the squad leader had to resort to whistling to collect his troops for the next movement. The final procedure gone through with by this squad was a roll call of members, performed in front of the gathered students.

Forestry Students Will Work on Map of New Land Tract

Work has been started by the surveying class of the Forestry school on a contour map of the forest reserve recently given to the school by the government.

The first draft will have a scale of 4 inches to the mile and 50 feet contour lines. An enlargement will later be made of a size allowing 8 inches to the mile and 20 feet contour lines. Professor L. W. Cook is in charge of the topographic work.

Next spring an extensive program of improvement has been outlined by Professor Fay Clark, in charge of the land tract. This will include posting the boundaries, cutting trails and building a cabin. Plans at present are to make the building large enough for an assembling place and initiation site for the Druids. Two altars will be placed near the cabin for the initiation ceremonies. Later an amphitheater with log seats will be constructed about the altars. The program, as outlined, will cost about $2,000. The cabin will house an assembling room with a rustic fireplace large enough to take a four-foot log. Connected with this room will be a kitchen, storeroom, laboratory and sleeping bunks. Over the windows and doors will be placed plank shutters to prevent molestation of the equipment.

RIALTO TO GIVE REPORT ON FIRST SOUTHERN GAME

Play-by-play returns on the Grizzly-California Aggie football game will begin at the Rialto theater at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A charge of 25 cents will be made to cover the expense of the wire service.

Returns will start late enough to enable everyone to listen in on the game. A miniature football field will be used to illustrate each play. The ASUM officers who secured the service urge that everyone be there. It will be the next best thing to actually seeing the game in Sacramento. It's bound to be a good game.

BUSINESS MEN TO CO-OPERATE WITH SCHOOL

REPRESENTATIVES MEET WITH PRESIDENT CLAPP

Retail Merchants' Association Members Plan to Furnish Installment Buying Data to Commercial School.

Representatives of the Retail Merchants' association of Montana and the School of Business Administration met in President Clapp's office last Wednesday. The purpose of the meeting was to promote cooperation between the Retail Merchants' association and the business administration school.

Those who were at the meeting were O. J. Armstrong of Kalispell, secretary of the Retail Merchants; H. J. Faust of Drummond, L. R. MacKenzie of Missoula, Robert L. Lane of Columbus, President C. H. Clapp of the University, and Dean Shirley J. Coon of the School of Business Administration.

It was decided at this meeting that the Retail Merchants' association should cooperate with the Business Administration school by furnishing data on installment buying. The School of Business Administration hopes to be able to present conclusions and recommendations from this data at the next annual meeting of the retail merchants, which will be held in Missoula under the joint auspices of the Retail Merchants' association and the School of Business Administration, on March 1, 2 and 3.

Among the general topics that will be discussed will be "Chain Store Competition" and "Installment Buying." The speakers at this next convention will be members of the University staff, members of the Retail Merchants' association, and other speakers. The plan is to combine business with pleasure and the meeting will be held at the time of Varsity Volley. Other entertainment will also be furnished.

It is also planned that at this next meeting other problems of the retail merchant will be discussed. The figures that the merchants will furnish will be excellent laboratory material for the School of Business Administration, and will also be of value to the merchants themselves.

TANANS GET SWEATERS; BANQUET AT FLORENCE

Tanans held their weekly meeting last Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the west parlor of North hall. Miss Harriet Johnston, president of the organization, presided. The next meeting of the Tanans will take place next Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting place.

Howard Craig Visits in Missoula

Howard B. Craig, Ph. C. '20, is visiting friends in Missoula and at the University for a few days before going to Drummond to take charge of the Drummond pharmacy, which will hereafter be known as the Craig pharmacy.

Craig is the son of E. B. Craig of Helena, a Montana pioneer, and while attending school here he was, besides a vocational student, student assistant in the School of Pharmacy for two years.

University Students Have Narrow Escape in Automobile Crash

Ruby Sanders, '29, 241 Keith avenue, and Geraldine Westwood, '29, 302 Beckwith avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury last night at about 7:15, when the Ford coupe in which they were riding was struck by another at the corner of Higgins and Keith avenues.

Miss Sanders was driving, and had just turned the corner when the car crashed. The other car, bearing the number 38-764, is thought to belong to Herb Haynes, who was knocked unconscious, and taken to the Thornton hospital. Haynes' car, a Ford coupe also, containing five passengers, was rolled onto its right side, with the radiator and the front wheels badly smashed. Miss Sanders' car was not seriously damaged, although one front axle was broken and a fender badly bent.

According to the stories of both Miss Sanders and Miss Westwood, they were traveling at a moderate pace toward the home of Miss Sanders when they were struck by the other car. Neither of the girls could say just who was to blame for the accident.

Haynes' injury was slight. After being restored to consciousness he left the hospital after having been there only about a half-hour.

MANY STUDENTS VISIT HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Men made 54 more visits to the office of the school nurse than women during the months of September and October, according to figures compiled in the office of Mrs. A. E. LeClaire during the last week. Men also had more colds and minor ills to the number of 65, than the women of the University. Five men were given the antitoxin for scarlet fever, and only one girl, while six men were sent to hospitals as compared with two women. However, 16 women were sent to the infirmary while only six men were found to be sufficiently ill to require segregation. Men also received more surgical dressings than women, requiring 45 bandages, while the women only required 30.

Complete figures of the report follow:

FORESTRY CLUB ELECTS BOARD REPRESENTATIVES

Student members of the executive committee of the Forestry club were elected for this year at the regular meeting Wednesday night.

Fred Mass is the freshman representative; Hugh Ebert, from the sophomore class; Lou Vierhus, a junior, and Lloyd Campbell, representing the seniors. The standing committees gave their reports after which plans were discussed for a dance some time before the holidays. It will be given off of the campus. A committee consisting of Rip Van Winkle, chairman, Bick Merrill, and W. Rose was appointed to arrange the affair. Another matter discussed was that of outside students making the Forestry school library their lounging room. It was decided to discourage this practice. The committee working on the Forestry Kaimin reported that the publication would probably be ready the latter part of the winter quarter.

LITTLE THEATER WILL OPEN WITH "BAD MAN", WEDNESDAY

MEMORIAL TO UNDERWOOD WILL FEATURE FRONTIER; OUT AFTER THANKSGIVING

"The Frontier will be out after Thanksgiving," said H. G. Merriam, chairman of the English department, when interviewed yesterday.

In addition to the regular features of short stories, poems, verse, sketches and the like, the Frontier will carry some of the sayings of the late Dr. J. H. Underwood, an "In Memoriam" poem by Mr. Merriam, and a short appreciation of Mr. Underwood received from Mr. Cox, head of the English department last year.

"Dr. Underwood," said Professor Merriam, "was always a strong friend of the Frontier; he believed in the work it was doing for the campus and the state, and constantly encouraged its editors to go on."

The subscription campaign will begin next week. Cyril Van Duser, circulation manager, assisted by Billy Kester and Aileen Barrows, is in charge. Students are urged to get their subscriptions in before the magazine appears.

BEAR PAWS TO POLICE AT HIGH SCHOOL GAME

According to Art Burns, Chief Grizzly, members of Bear Paws, sophomore men's honorary organization, will officiate at the Missoula-Butte football game, which will take place Saturday afternoon. Business men of Missoula asked for the assistance of the organization and the Bear Paws have consented.

BAKER AND BLUE TO BE BASKETBALL MANAGERS

Jack Baker and Wallace Blue were appointed assistant basketball managers at the meeting of Central board last Tuesday.

In accordance with the new plan inaugurated this year, one of them will be from freshman and the other assistant varsity manager, but both will have equal chances to be appointed varsity manager for next year. The appointment will be based on merit and service.

ADAMS WILL COACH QUINT THIS MONTH

Coach Adams has taken charge of the Varsity floor squad until Coach Stewart returns. The squad has done considerable practicing, and about December 1 eight men on the football squad will be ready to join. Other schools of the conference are rounding their teams into shape. The Cougar hoopers are working on the rudiments of the game from every angle. Coach Schladehman is demanding accuracy on dead shots and intends to use a five-man defense and offense. Those who are showing up well at present are: Averill, Clay, Henry and Gilleland. Joe Koenig, a veteran guard, and Ted Rohrer, forward, are still on the football squad. The Washington Huskies have been doing a great deal of practicing and will be ready to start their season before the holidays.

The Beavers, Oregon Aggies, played their first game of basketball last week against a Portland team, winning 30 to 15. Savory and Graepe were the only men of last year's squad to get into the fray.

Two practice games for the Grizzlies will be played against Mount St. Charles, January 7 and 8.

JOURNALISTS WIN CUP AT NATIONAL CONVENTION

The Montana chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's international professional journalism fraternity, won the efficiency cup given at the national convention in Madison, Wisconsin, this week. The news was received yesterday from Eddie Reeder, Kaimin editor and Montana's representative to the convention.

The cup is presented each year as an award to the chapter which has been the most active in journalistic work and which presents the best record of these activities.

Students who will appear in the play are:

Adolph Still, The Bad Man, bandit a la mode; Jack Ryan, Morgan Pell, a financier; Eleanor McBarron, Pell's wife; Lucia Tom McCarthy, Gilbert Jones, a rancher; Dean Gillespie, Gilbert's uncle, Henry Harold Reely, Hardy, a business man; Lydia Maury, Hardy's daughter Angela Nelson Fritz, Red Giddings, partner to Jones; David Andrews, Pedro, assistant to Lopez; Bob Allen, Venustiano, assistant to Pedro; Dorothy Jordan, The Cook; Arthur Simerson, A Texas Ranger.

Students have been given the opportunity of getting seats to the production at a reduced rate. At this time most of the first night reservations have been taken and it is probable that the play will run at least three nights to accommodate the theatergoers.

Two Down and One Month to Go

EXAMINATIONS and the end of school are one short month away. For the student who has conscientiously worked during the quarter the examinations hold no fear. Entrenched behind the bulwark of his notebooks and texts he is certain enough to withstand the exam-week onslaught. The student who has let the work lag a trifle for the lure of extra-curricular activities is in a more precarious condition. It means that from this time on he must overwork to catch up with the balance of the class.

The last stretch is here, and outside interests must go into the closet of second importance. When everything is considered, students at the University are here for study and not for amusement.

Co-operation

THE recent meeting between representatives of the Retail Merchants association of Montana and members of the faculty of the business administration school represents an important step in cooperation between the State University and the people of Montana.

Without a doubt the state of Montana could exist without the State University, but a reversal of that statement would be, necessarily, impossible. Even without considering this dependence it is evident that any cooperation between the two, with the resulting better understanding of the problems of each, will result in a better educational institution and, indirectly at least, a better state.

If it would be possible to gain throughout the state, even a fraction of the support that is evident in Missoula itself, the University would prosper beyond belief. This institution is not, as some would have it, the University of Missoula, but it is the University of Montana and as such devoted to the interests of no single section, but rather to the entire state.

The Stay-at-Homes

WHILE Wild Bill and his cohorts are rampaging around in the sunny land of California, the major portion of the University is shuffling about in galoshes and overcoats, wishing that it were the team and not the stay-at-home. Instead of picking oranges, the average Montana student is actively engaged in removing icicles from his ear lobes.

For some mysterious reason, fate has decided that there shall be only eleven men on the football team and not 1500. The injustice of this becomes apparent when the lucky eleven and the subs go away on what is generally considered to be a joy-ride.

The fallacy of such a concept is obvious. The team must get out and take the knocks and bumps of a long fall grid season in order to be eligible for the trip. While the team is getting its modicum of enjoyment out of an extended California journey it is merely being repaid in part for the physical beating it had to take on the extra hard sod of Dornblaser field.

The team has done well for Montana this fall and any trifle of appreciation which the University can give should be freely offered. With any luck at all the Grizzlies should return to the state with even more honor for Montana.

Don't grouse about the lucky fellows down in California. If you are a real Montana student you should be glad that your team is being repaid in part for its splendid work this fall.

Bedtime Bunk

BY WALT

Once upon a time, Hughie the huntsman, bagger of beast and bird, felt the urge that comes to all good readers of "Field and Stream"—the urge to trail the game and gun 'em.

"Course, uno, men, my aim is unerring," hurled Hughie at his brothers chaffing, as he cleaned his trusty piece with Bon Ami. "So prepare the feast of choice venison. And as a real huntsman, I'll bag the best; nothing lean or puny."

Deep into the fastnesses of the wild walked Hughie, hunter of high note. But it was not until the third day that he sniffed the beast in the breeze. "Oh! Deer!" exclaimed Hughie, dropping his book. "How to Hunt," by Professor Fay Clark, and gambling down the gully he busted onto the beast behind a bush. Climbing the closest tree, the huntsman banged away till the animal moved not. But neither did Hughie.

At the house the boys were studying the Butcher's Manual, when a wire came. "In jail—bail—killed farmer's cow—Hughie." So the boys all pitched in and sent a corsage of flowers and two car slugs.

Which would you prefer—woolen fabrics made from old cloth, or fabrics made from pure woolen strands fresh from the sheeps' backs? Both articles look very much alike, but there's a world of difference in their appearance and quality after a few weeks of wear. Reclaimed woolens cannot compete with fabrics made of fresh new wool, because new wool has life, strength and beauty that only the original can give. Asthmatic Athletes Actuate
Absurd Antics

With a supercilious smile upon his countenance Stan of Stanford served the second golf ball with his cant-hook, thereby scoring a touchdown. The score now being two to one the roaring crowd rose to its feet as it watched the discus arching gracefully towards the basket. In an instant he had breasted the tape three hurdles ahead of his opponent. But a still more difficult shot awaited our hero.

Drawing back his cue, he dropped his handkerchief. "You're it," shouted his opponent playfully, laying down four aces. Not to be outdone by such foul tactics Stan of Stanford vulcanized a leak in his oars and digging deeper into the burning sands he drew another length ahead of his opponent, whose horse had stumbled. However, his opponent was not so easily vanquished. With a lingering flourish of his sole remaining bicuspid he stepped into a wide curve and drawing back his fist and closing one eye crashed the gate. But our hero still had one cartridge left. And, as he fell, he drew back the Johnson bar but the machine failed to pay.

Still fighting he buckled on his skis and somersaulted into sixteen feet and five-eighths inches of disinfected water. His opponent parried this master stroke of paralysis by picking up his oars and pulling on a strong cigar he blew three ringers and a leaner. "Measure it," shouted President Green of Stanford. "Three fingers flat," replied President Black of U.S.C. While the two presidents were thus engaged in the heat of debate, oratory, declamation and setting up exercise, a first class scout scouped up and tied the score in a bowline knot.

With a mighty hop, skip and a jump Stan of Stanford, who had seen this dastardly deed, heeled and toed a large schooner of beer across the bay.

And, after rehearsing for several passing moments on a deformed pretzel he hastily untied the score and threw his bad shoe over his left shoulder, murmuring as he did so: "Tis not whether you win or lose, 'Tis how you play the game! (Cheers) Oh, 'tis not, oh, 'tis not, Oh, riz tis and gin fizz."

(Inaudible laughter.) Thus encouraged he raced his engine and threw himself into a perfect toe hold. Hardly able to bear the pain he turned his eyes to the bleachers and shouted, "Camera!"

His opponent, realizing he did no longer figure in the contest, had gone home leaving Stan of Stanford struggling manfully alone. The roaring crowd again rose to its feet and shouted, "Throw him." With renewed determination Stan of Stanford broke his toe and was released from the deadly hold. But, in an instant of Postum he caught himself in the deadly strangle hold. (Perceptible tension in the roaring crowd.)

Ten minutes later the last agonized gasp had issued from his tortured oesophagus. The roaring crowd for the third (3) time rose to its feet, this time with the realization that Stan of Stanford had won, lost and played the game. (Oh, riz tis and gin fizz. Laughter even more inaudible.)

And, as the silver strains of the brass band floated gracefully into the golden sky, flecked with little copper cloudlets, someone slipped a lead nickel in the slot machine.

NUMBER?

Boy, Please Page Nabisco

"Number, please?" asked central. A male voice gave the phone number of a certain sorority.

"Delta Gamma house," came a sweet young voice.

"Is So-and-So there?"

"No, she isn't here right now. Can I take a message?" asked the obliging young thing.

"Can you tell me where I can get ahold of her?" he asked.

"I'm sorry, but I can't hear a thing you're saying—the phonograph is making so much noise."

"I said, 'Can you tell me where I can get ahold of her?'" said the male in a little louder tone.

"I'm terribly sorry, but I failed to hear you that time also."

Then came in a slow, but loud and firm voice, "CAN YOU TELL ME WHERE I CAN GET A HOLD OF HER?"

A short pause—then, "Oh"—then another pause, followed by, "That depends upon your ability."

"My ability?"

"Yes, as a wrestler."

Turn on the sunshine

WHEN Greek or calculus gets you into a tight corner, tie a tin to trouble—a tidy red tin of Prince Albert! Tamp a load of this really friendly tobacco into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Watch the sun crash through the clouds with every puff!

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat, no matter how fast you feed it, because the Prince Albert process gave Bite and Parch the air at the start. Cool as a Laplander's lap. Sweet as apple cider. Fragrant as spring blossoms. That's Prince Albert!

One pipe-load invites another. And . . . you can hit P. A. from morning till midnight and it won't hit back. Don't put off to tomorrow what you can smoke today. Get a tidy red tin of P. A. and turn on the sunshine . . . now!

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and round crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

GRIZZLIES TO BATTLE IN CALIFORNIA TODAY

Western Team Reported to Have Strong Aggregation Under Coach Driver

Fresh from their decisive victory over Whitman college, the Montana Grizzlies meet the California Aggies at Sacramento this afternoon in their first game of the California invasion. This is the first time that a Montana team has met the California Aggregations in combat. The California team is coached by William L. Driver, formerly of the University of Missouri, Texas Agricultural college, and Texas Christian university. He is a wonderful football coach and has been successful with his Aggie teams.

The California team has a veteran backfield which will cause any opponent plenty of worry. Tout, who carries part of the kicking burden, and Norris, quarterback, are both playing their third year. Moss is the regular fullback. This is his second season as a regular. Lederer is the only first year man in the backfield who was able to make the first string. He averages 50 yards on his punts. Perkins, Brian, Hussey and Follendorf are reserve backfield material.

Grubbs, who is playing his second year, and Silliman a first year man, are at the wing positions. C. Bieler, who is the only four year man, and Robinson, who is now on the squad, are at tackle positions. The guards are both second-year men. Captain Weeth and E. Beller will get the first call at this position. Coach Driver has some very capable substitute lineup material.

Last year the Mustangs won all of their five games in the far western conference, only to be downed by St. Mary's college. This year the California team has had a fairly successful season, although they have seemed to slip since their loss to St. Mary's college. On Armistice day they were defeated 23-7 by the Fresno teachers, members of the Far Western conference.

The Grizzlies should win by an easy margin today if the team shows the same form that they did last Saturday. The Mustangs' line is heavy so the Grizzlies may find it tough sledding through the line and may have to rely on forward passes and end runs. Coach Milburn will probably remove his first string after they make a safe lead as he will want to save them as much as possible for the Thanksgiving day struggle.

Intra-Mural Sports Aim to Arouse Pep

Intra-Mural sports program, which has been outlined to cover all the minor sports of the school, is working towards an aim to arouse more student interest.

The aim is to secure interest among the students to bring forth more volume in the minor sports. Those who do not turnout for Frosh or Varsity athletics can do so here and make intra-mural a success. Part of this year's program has started with the horse shoe tournament. Before the holidays or the first part of December, the Church league branch will hold their tourney. No schedule of games has been arranged as yet. Inter-class will also be held this quarter and arrangements will be made so that the class teams will have time to organize.

Later on, other parts of the sports program will be issued, dealing mostly with the winter quarter contests.

INTRA-MURAL TEAMS TO ARRANGE GAMES

There will be a meeting of the managers of the Church league with Harry Adams at 5 o'clock Monday, to arrange a schedule for the league's tourney.

The outcome of this meeting will determine whether the games will be held before or after the holidays. The teams have been practicing to some extent and no doubt will be ready when the dates are announced. Intra-class teams will be organized and will have their tournament probably in the first week of December. Varsity men are eligible for the contests.

Mary Larkin and Miss Gertrude Gustafson of North hall have been committed to the infirmary with severe colds.

THIRTY-THREE FROSH REPORT FOR PRACTICE

Yearling Squad Begins Season With Small Turnout

Last Wednesday afternoon 33 men reported for frosh basketball. This is considerable smaller turnout than was expected and even smaller than last year. Force Baney is to have charge of the coaching for the present, as Harry Adams will be busy with the Varsity until Coach Stewart returns from the football trip.

Scholarship Necessary
At the meeting, scholarship and the necessity of having good grades were stressed by Coach Adams. According to Adams, a team cannot be made out of yellow slips. So all men who have received slips must get their grades up in order to play basketball.

Practice will start on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, beginning Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock. After the holidays practice will be Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights, and afternoons of Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. There will be no games scheduled until after Christmas, and equipment will be issued to men who survive the cut in the squad.

The following men reported:

Name	High School
Eckegren, J.	Harlem
Johnston, J.	Tennessee
Ryan, J.	Deer Lodge
Eckegren, W.	Harlem
Rankin, C.	Hardin
Powell, R.	Willow Creek

Stilling	Great Falls
Golob	Great Falls
Dougherty	Butte
Grandy	Terry
Voorhis	Glendive
Robinson	Livingston
Ricker	Helena
Rainer	Great Falls
Rule	Deer Lodge

Of this number there are three all-state men, Rankin, Miller and Linville. Seventeen have attended the tournaments at Bozeman one or more times.

Grizzly Scrappers to Fight in Butte at Tournament

Missoula scrappers who are going to enter the state amateur boxing and wrestling championship to be held in Butte November 22, 23 and 24, should sign up an entry blank and send it in at once, so that their names will be on the list. Otherwise the men will not be allowed to enter the tourney.

A number of the men have been working out daily at the University gym in preparation for their fights. The men who have been chosen to make the trip to Butte are: Ivan Morran, Nelson Collins, Guido Rossi, Leland Spencer, Deane O'Leary, Joe Cochran and Billy Dugal. Others who wish to enter the tourney should send their names in at once, but will have to pay their own expenses to Butte. The above named men's expenses will be paid by the National Amateur Union.

William Bradley is in charge of the tourney, taking supervision of it for the National Amateur Athletic Union. He hopes to have a big turnout for the amateur tournament and to create a new interest in boxing throughout the state.

PROFESSOR W. R. AMES SETS HUNTING RECORD

Professor W. R. Ames, of the Department of Psychology, has established a game getting record which will be hard to equal, in the opinion of various campus hunters. Mr. Ames left the city at 5 o'clock Saturday morning in search of a deer. His hunt led him to Fish creek, up the Bitter Root valley. Within half an hour after he had left camp, Mr. Ames had brought down a doe. He returned to Missoula on Saturday noon with his prize.

Numerous other members of the University faculty have not been as lucky in their annual hunting expeditions. At least three have gone out for two days at a time without even getting in range of game.

Catherine Jones Hawkins of Dillon, a former student, is the house guest of Dorothy Dodge. Miss Hawkins is on her way to Seattle where she is going to visit relatives.

Marie Bell of Craig hall was released from the infirmary yesterday, where she has been confined with a cold.

SPORT GLIMPSES

Week-end games:
Montana University versus California Aggies, Friday, November 19, at Sacramento.
Missoula high school versus Butte high school, Saturday, November 20, on Dornblaser field; state semi-final contest.

Glimpses believes that the University student body is waking up to the fact that through student support we can have winning athletic teams. The small crowd at the Milwaukee depot Tuesday seemed to instill a great deal of pep and vigor into the Grizzly squad.

The men seemed to appreciate the individual yells. Some one suggested giving nine for Bickenbaugh. The band was there with lots of Montana fight. The send-off rivals the Queen Marie reception.

Important week-end coast struggles:
Stanford versus University of California, Saturday.
Oregon Aggies versus Oregon University, Saturday.
University of Southern California versus Idaho, Saturday.
Montana University versus California Aggies, Friday.

The Montana aggregation will get a chance to get a line on the strong University of Southern California team. Coach Milburn is moving the squad to Los Angeles immediately after the game at Sacramento so that they will get to the southern city in time to see the Vandal-Trojan struggle. Idaho should give the southern team a hard enough game so that they will have to open up with all of their trick plays.

Montana football scores so far this season:
0	O.A.C.	49
12	Idaho	27
6	W.S.C.	14
27	M.S.C.	14
6	Gonzaga	10
57	Whitman	0

Not a bad scoring record for a team that had 69 points scored against them before they made a score.

Coach Ott Romney of Montana state college is attempting to schedule a post-season game with the winner of the Rocky Mountain conference. He feels that his team should be given a chance to show how good they are against real teams. He suggests that Butte or Salt Lake would be a good place for the game. We might mention that the Bobcats have beaten two teams who had tied the Utah Aggies. We're all for you, Ott.

Play-by-play reports at the Rialto today at 3:30. Don't fail to be there to watch the Grizzlies in their first California game.

The sport department of the Portland Oregonian has picked William Kelly, Montana University; Morton Kaer, University of Southern California; Dick Hyland, Stanford; and Butch Meeker, Washington state college, as real prospects for an all-star grid team.

Arrangements have been made to have play-by-play reports of the Trojan-Grizzly game. As next Thursday is a holiday, the reports will be received in the gymnasium.

Pat Sugrue is playing with the Anodes in the Butte Independent football league. He is one of the mainstays of the Anaconda team. Charley Coleman and Ray Murphy, former Grizzlies, are also playing with the Anodes.

The Bobcats remain undefeated in the Rocky Mountain conference. They trimmed the Wyoming team Saturday, 10-0. This gives them four conference victories. They are not eligible for the conference title as a team in that conference must play five conference games.

New York World report says: The Harvard-Princeton wrangle, we may be permitted to hope, is the first sign of a debacle whereby football will fall of its own weight. It now looks as though we have neither colleges nor universities, but simply rival football clubs. We're glad the west isn't as bad as the east."
