MORTAR BOARD WILL INSTALL PENETRALIA, LOCAL HONORARY

Women's National Fraternity Grants Charter; To be Installed April 11

Penetratia, honorary organization for women of junior and senior standing, has been granted Mortar Board, national honorary fraternity for women. Installation ceremonies will be held April 11. Miss E. Luella Galbliver, secretary to the dean of women at the University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyoming, will be here to conduct the installation.

Penetratia is the oldest honorary organization for women on the State University of Montana campus. It was founded in April, 1904, by Miss Eloise Knowles, now dead, and Miss Ruth Kellogg, now of the clerk and recorder's office in Missoula.

It is the custom of Penetratia to "tap" about twelve members each year; membership is based on activities, scholarship, personality, loyalty and service to the University. National Founded in 1918

Mortar Board was founded in February, 1918, in Syracuse, New York, by representatives from existing senior honorary societies from Cornell university, the University of Michigan, Ohio State university and Swarthmore college. Members are chosen from the junior classes on a basis of service, scholarship and leadership. There are now about 50 chapters of Mortar Board.

Heloise Vinal, Missoula, is president of Penetratia; Stella Skulason, Missoula, is secretary; Annabelle Desmond, Dillon, is treasurer; Annabelle Desmond, Dillon; Helen Chaffin, Stevensville; Edith Daves, Hamilton; Elsie Eminger, Butte; Margaret Sterling, Roman, and Dorothy Morrow, Cascade.

Miss Leona Baumgartner, instructor in biology on the University faculty, is a member of Mortar Board.

MONTANA-AGGIE DEBATE TO CONCLUDE SEASON

One more debate, held between Montana state college and the State University at Butte, sometime in the latter part of April, will conclude the debate season for this year. University debaters will be Edward Pool and Edward Booth. The question will be, Resolved, That the Volstead Act Should Be Amended to Allow the Selling of Light Wines and Beer. This will take the place of the state tour which was formerly planned.

CAMPUS TO HAVE MORE TREES IN NEAR FUTURE

Twelve varieties of trees have been ordered by the maintenance department to be planted near the library and around North and South halls. The campus development committee plans to plant many trees around buildings of the University. The saplings will probably arrive in ten days. Species ordered are flowering dogwood, chestnut oak, tulip tree, sycamore, Kentucky coffee tree, linden, honey locust, flowering crab, chestnut, white ash and catalpa.

TANANS REFUSE OFFER FOR NATIONAL CHARTER

Tanans have recently amended their constitution, making it impossible to join a national group. They have received another communication from Sigma, women's national honorary organization, requesting them to consider a charter.

Campus Groups Plan Mother's Day Meet as Annual Tradition

Plans for a Mothers' day program which, if carried out, will develop into an annual tradition, were launched at the weekly AWS meeting Monday afternoon. Instead of having a vocational congress for girls in the spring, this feasting of the mothers of all University girls has been suggested.

The idea is being discussed at present by various campus groups who will report their decision to Helen Chaffin, AWS president. To make it a success at least 100 mothers from throughout the state would have to attend. AWS will attempt to cover part of the expenses of the occasion if the plan carry. Railroad rates will probably be secured so the party can be arranged as inexpensively as possible. It is thought the idea will be received enthusiastically by the different organizations and if so, it will become an annual affair. It has been used with considerable success on a number of campuses throughout the country.

HOWD WILL REVIEW BOOK AT MEETING

Colloquium will meet tomorrow afternoon in the Home Economics library in the Natural Science building at 4:30. Professor Howd, of the Economics department, will review the book, "The New Leadership in Industry," by Leevisohn. There will be a social half hour and refreshments. The public is cordially invited.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB WILL GIVE PROGRAM

"Reception of Foreign Ministers" will be staged by the International club in native costumes of France, Germany, Russia, Italy, Bohemia, Philippine Islands, Japan and the United States, April 12, at the Little Theater.

The International club orchestra, composed of musicians under the direction of Alexander Stepanoff, will play compositions by Suppe, Wagner, Boieldieu, Grifulla, Linke, Clement, and Keler-Bela, internationally known composers.

Richard Romersa, who for several years previous to entrance in the University, did professional work in California, will play a xylophone solo. Students, faculty members and townspeople are invited to attend the program.

TWO MAKEUP CLASSES FOR WOMEN, SAYS MISS LAUX

"There will be only one or two makeup classes at the end of the quarter, therefore it is necessary that those girls having cuts make up their absences as soon as possible," says Miss Laux.

Makeup classes will be held in conjunction with the open hour for track and baseball, swimming and tennis. These hours are:

Track and baseball—M., W., F., 5 to 6.
Swimming—T., Th., 4:30 to 5:30.
Tennis—T., Th., 5 to 6.

In deciding upon these hours for makeup Miss Laux hopes to facilitate practice for those girls who have cuts and also wish to try out for the various class teams or swimming honors.

BOOKLETS OUT SOON FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Varied Excursions Are Planned for the Coming Summer Session

Twenty-five thousand copies of a preliminary announcement of the State University summer school session are now on the press, according to Carl McFarland, who is in charge of the summer school publicity. The announcement will be in illustrated booklet form. The booklet, which will contain 32 pages, contains descriptions of the University, a schedule of summer school excursions, a list of faculty members, and a description of the curriculum of the session.

These pamphlets are to be distributed thoroughly over the country by mail. They will be given to every other high school teacher in the states of Idaho, Washington, North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Iowa. Every tenth teacher in California, Oregon, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois and Michigan will receive one, and the same will be true of Indiana and Kansas.

The Northern Pacific road has promised to distribute 500 of the booklets, and the Milwaukee road has done likewise. The Great Northern will dispense 250.

ASUM Song Contest Results Out Friday

Results of the ASUM song and yell contest will not be ready for announcement until the latter part of the week, according to Mike Thomas, chairman. The judges have been reading and appraising the contributions, but DeLoss Smith, one of the judging committee, had to be in Livingston for several days last week to attend the state high school music meet. This hindered the work of the committee, which will try to make the awards in time to have them printed in Friday's edition of the Kaimin.

ALVA B. MILAM OF OREGON WILL SPEAK TO CLASSES AND HOLD CONFERENCES

Alva B. Milam, dean of the school of home economics at Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, arrived in Missoula last night and will visit here for a few days. Miss Milam spent two years in China doing home economics work there and started several departments in this field. She is retiring president of the home economics section of the Inland Empire.

Miss Milam will speak before the Student Volunteers and have conferences with girls interested in foreign missions. She will speak before some of William Young's classes as well as hold conferences with Methodist women on this campus. Miss Milam is student secretary of Methodist women's foreign missionary board and is making a tour to the northwest, giving lectures to college women interested in foreign missions.

'GOOSE HANGS HIGH' TO PLAY HAMILTON

Several New Faces to Appear in Masquers' Spring Production April 21, 22 and 23

"The Goose Hangs High," Louis Beach's three-act comedy, for which rehearsals are now well under way by members of the Montana Masquers, will be presented in Hamilton April 19, under the auspices of the Women's club of that city. The cast will probably make the trip up the Bitter Root by automobile.

According to report, the play is one which is especially adapted to the needs of the Little Theater and the college playhouse, and has had admirable success as a vehicle of such groups since it was first produced in New York in 1924.

While a number of the cast are well known to University audiences, several new faces will be seen when the play appears here April 21, 22 and 23. Among the newcomers are Henry Miller, Jr., Helen Gorton, Irene Murphy, Rowe Morrell, Thomas Miller, Jr., Howard Varney, Billie Kester, and Deane Jones. Alice Leash, Merlie Conney, Sarah Mereson, Ronald Miller, Charles H. Dill, Jr., and Harry Hooser are some of those who have appeared in previous Masquer productions.

Professor Bradley Writes for The Forum

"Hobgoblins of the Flesh," an article by J. H. Bradley, Jr., associate professor in geology at the State University, has recently been accepted for publication by The Forum, one of the well known literary magazines in the United States. The article, which deals with the history of disease and with racial extinction, is scientific in thought but literary in treatment. It was selected by the editor of the publication from a deluge of scientific articles, according to a letter received by Bradley recently.

Professor Bradley's name is also featured on the front cover of the April edition of Forest and Stream, popular sporting magazine, which contains his article, "Rainbows and Rapids." This article deals with experiences while fishing for trout on the turbulent waters of the upper McKenzie river in western Oregon. The material for the story was secured on a trip in which the fishermen, including Mr. Bradley, shot the rapids on the river well above the place where they are considered safe, a feat that is not often attempted.

CLASSES MAY ADOPT NEW ELECTION FORM

Meetings of All Class Groups to Be Held This Week for Discussion of Plan

Class elections, and a new plan to govern them, have been receiving much favorable discussion of late and as a result the four classes of the State University have issued notices for special meetings to be held within the next few days at which time the new plan will be presented and discussed.

The system that is being presented is having the class officers elected under the same form as that used by the ASUM. The classes will nominate, at a regular meeting, the candidates for the various offices, and in case two or more are nominated, a primary will be held to determine the two candidates for the final ballot. The elections will take place at the same time that the ASUM annual vote is taken and two plans have been considered for the type of ballot system that can be successfully used. One plan is to have a separate table for each class and the individual is presented with the ASUM ballot and his class ballot. The other is to have a single ballot that will contain the ASUM candidates and the four class nominees. The individual then votes his ASUM ticket and the class in which he is a member.

Class Meetings Called

The class meetings have all been called for this week and Myles Thomas, business manager of the ASUM, will address the members, explaining the plan in full and what this form of election can mean to the individual classes.

After Thomas presents the proposed plan the members of the class will then discuss the matter and the feasibility of adopting it.

If such a plan is used, then the new officers will have all summer to think over the plans for the coming year and when school re-opens in the fall they will be ready to begin work.

Fresh Would Organize

This year's fresh class will be organized on the first day of school and will be able to take charge of the incoming class of yearlings. In the past there has been no such form of organization in the sophomore class at the beginning of the school year.

The biggest thing to be said in favor of the plan is that it will create much more interest in the ASUM elections and will be a direct cause that will bring many more students to the polls annually than has been the case in the past.

The various class presidents are desirous of having an exceptionally large turnout of the members for the discussion of this matter so that if the plan is to be put in vogue this year it may be arranged and the class nominations made in time for the coming ASUM election.

Student Art Exhibit on Display for Week

The student art exhibition which is now in the Studio is to remain in place until the beginning of next week and the Art department will be open Sunday in order that all those who have not previously seen this work may do so.

This exhibit is work done by students taking art during the winter quarter under Clifford Riedel, professor of fine arts. It consists of 492 different sketches and portraits in water colors and oils as well as work in elementary design, costume design, street scenes, color problems, tone drawings of heads and human and muscular figures and problems in advertising.

GREEK MEN DISCUSS TRACK MEET PLANS

Interfraternity Council met at the Sigma Chi house last Wednesday at 6 o'clock. Advance notice concerning decorating houses for the annual track meet was made and each fraternity was urged to consider decorating. The Interscholastic committee promised prizes for the best decorated houses.

After attending to routine business the meeting was adjourned. Because Aber day falls on April 13 the next meeting will be postponed a week. This meeting will be held at the Templar house.

MONTANA'S DEBATE TEAM RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP

Battalion Marksmen Begin Rifle Practice Preparing for Shoot

Yesterday marked the opening practice for the ROTC battalion rifle shoot between teams representing the three companies of the cadet corps.

The plan is to have practice for two weeks, each man shooting 10 times during this period to determine the personnel of each team according to ability and high scores. In this way competition between the men will be fostered. It is planned to hold the final shoot after the practice, five man teams with each man shooting prone, five sitting, five kneeling, and five standing.

All men out for this practice are scheduled for 10 practice periods but it has been learned that some did not turn out. Those who cannot come at the times stipulated are privileged to come at any time during the day from 8 to 5 o'clock for the next two weeks. There will be an instructor there at all times to assist in the practice.

PREXY WILL ATTEND EDUCATIONAL MEET

President C. H. Clapp left last night for Spokane where he will attend the meeting of the Inland Empire Education association tomorrow. On Wednesday, he is scheduled to address the student body at the University of Idaho at Moscow on the Geology of Montana. Wednesday noon he has been asked to speak before the Moscow Rotary club regarding ore deposits.

Wednesday afternoon he will appear before the Idaho chapter of Sigma Xi, an honorary scientific fraternity. Before leaving for Missoula, President Clapp will visit the Idaho School of Mines and will deliver an address there, also. He expects to return to the campus Friday morning.

A resume of the trip is as follows: Debates won—University of Redlands, Southwestern University, College of the Pacific, and the University of Nevada. Debates lost—University of California at Los Angeles; St. Ignace college at Los Angeles; and Loyola college at Los Angeles. No-decision debates—University of Southern California; at Los Angeles; Utah Agricultural college, at Logan, and University of Utah, at Salt Lake City.

Former Student Writes

Writing from Los Angeles, Chester Watson, who graduated from here last year, says the following of the team:

My dear Mr. Beck:
I have seen your debaters in action at U.S.C., Southwestern, and at Loyola and think they are good representatives of our school in that field.

The debate with Loyola was a joke as far as debating was concerned. The Loyola debaters gave three memorized speeches with the exception that the second speaker forgot his lines and read them from a paper. It was unfair as they used a system which did not give our boys a rebuttal talk and also did not explain the system before the debate. Our boys were much better as thinkers, speakers and debaters and should have won the debate if the judge had been fair or had known how to judge a debate. . . .

Our victory over Southwestern was clear and decisive and a much better criterion of the true worth of our debaters.

Wishing you continued success in your field of endeavor, I remain, Respectfully yours, CHESTER WATSON.

Pacific Coast Schools Visited —Team Wins Four Debates, Loses Three

Montana's debate team returned Sunday morning from the longest trip ever undertaken by speakers representing the University. Of the 10 debates, they won four, lost three, and three were non-decision. Approximately four thousand people heard the two men who completed the whole trip. Herbert Haugland was forced to leave the team while they were in Los Angeles. Arthur Acher and Louis Aronowsky made up the team which met 10 teams in the 14 days of their travels in three states, California, Nevada and Utah.

In winning from the Southwestern University at Los Angeles, they had the honor of defeating the holders of the debating championship of Southern California and taking from them the only debate out of the 16 they have had this season.

At the University of Nevada they won the first debate that school has ever lost while debating at home.

Large Crowd Attends

One thousand six hundred people were in the audience at St. Ignace college. The auditorium was full and there were many people standing in the aisles and in the back of the room. The next best crowd was at Loyola college, where there were 500 listeners. At the Utah Agricultural college, at Logan, there were 300 in the audience. When that school debated here there were 150 people present. The rest of the crowds varied from 75 to 300.

A resume of the trip is as follows: Debates won—University of Redlands, Southwestern University, College of the Pacific, and the University of Nevada. Debates lost—University of California at Los Angeles; St. Ignace college at Los Angeles; and Loyola college at Los Angeles. No-decision debates—University of Southern California; at Los Angeles; Utah Agricultural college, at Logan, and University of Utah, at Salt Lake City.

Class Elections

CENTRAL Board of the ASUM has undertaken a new plan of Class elections. The new plan which was presented to the various classes at their meetings the past week, would bring into effect the election of class officers and delegates at the same time the general ASUM election and primaries are held.

The idea of the plan is to stimulate a little more interest in class elections, as well as ASUM elections. The classes would nominate their candidates in the same way the aspirants to ASUM offices are, then if there were more than two students running for any one office, a primary would be held with the ASUM primary. The final election day for the classes would be on the same date of the final ASUM election day, between May 1 and 5.

This plan would not only create more interest in the classes and ASUM in general, but should be of great help to the classes themselves since the class officers will have all summer in which to make their plans for the coming school year. The plan will go into effect immediately, class nominations are due not later than Tuesday, April 12, and if more than two students file for any one job a primary will be held along with the ASUM primary on Aber Day. It is the hope of the Central board that many students file for these class offices, and for once really take some interest in the affairs of the various classes.

Look 'Em Over---Then Vote!

FROM present indications the coming ASUM election is going to be a good one. At least two candidates have signified their intentions of filing for office of the ASUM, and from what can be gathered from students, more applications will be in before the closing date Tuesday, April 12. If more than two file for an office a primary will be held on Aber Day, April 13.

It is thought by student leaders that by holding the primary on Aber Day a better representative vote will be cast. There is little reason for students not voting. Every student should feel it a privilege to cast a ballot. Recent elections on the Montana campus have proven more or less of a failure because of the lack of students manifesting their right as citizens and students by voting.

There will be many good candidates in the field for offices this spring and no student registered in the University should neglect looking that candidate over—and then be sure and VOTE.

Wasted Hours

A RESUME of the day that often comes when we're about to bust off to bed at night, too often discloses too many wasted hours—wasted hours which make us clearly conscious that a span of our life has quickly passed—just a day with a wasted hour or two, but a day which brings us nearer to the ultimate end of days. Sighing a little that end looms formidable.

We offer no excuse to ourselves for wasted hours.

That hour spent lolling on the lawn in the snug warmth of an afternoon wasn't an idle hour. The new life in the winds, the sky, and trees, buoyed a sunken spirit.

That hour spent in play with the dog wasn't valueless. We both exercised, and we can appreciate the company of a new friend.

That evening hour spent with a fairer companion wasn't in vain. A spark of her forceful ambition flew our way.

But that hour we listened to common experiences, wordishly recited, and that hour that we tried so vainly to outline a poorly prepared and inarticulate lecture—debating was also heard for the first time when the Australian debaters came here last fall.

We knead the feathers and race on to another day.

The Montana Debate Union has been very active during the year and has done much to further forensics at Montana. Small gold "M's" will be awarded to each man who took part in an intercollegiate debate during this year. They will probably be awarded at the banquet which the debaters are planning for the close of the season.

WATERS SENDS THESIS TO MICHIGAN FOR DEGREE

Charles W. Waters, assistant professor of botany, has recently sent his thesis for his Ph.D. degree to the University of Michigan. The thesis is entitled "The Control of Uredinospore and Teliospore Formation by Experimental Methods."

Mr. Waters completed his work at the University of Michigan last summer. He will receive his Ph. D. degree in June. Professor Waters expects to spend the summer session teaching at the Michigan university.

Entomology students, under Dr. Elrod, took their first field trip in search of insects Wednesday. They went across the flat near the heating plant and thence as far as Spring Gulch. Communication

Dear Mr. Editor:

One must admire Mr. Booth's faith in the virtue of honest discussion to clarify thought. But when he says that having read the papers lately he notices there is considerable trouble in China (and in Haiti, Nicaragua, the Philippines, and Mexico) and he wonders if Mr. Douglas is worried that we, because of the ROTC, will enter into a war there and then when he adds, "Surely we who have had military training are not worried much as yet," I can't resist being reminded of the pious old lady who read the Rubaiyat but confessed, "I never knew that Omar was a drinking man."

The sharpshooters are making excellent targets of the errors in Mr. Douglas' letter. We are not, like the Aggies, a land-grant institution, and the football coach is not going to use platoon formation on the gridiron. But I suppose Mr. Douglas thought he was reminding us plainly of another point: We are responsible for a ten to twenty thousand dollar annual military program; where is our strenuous intellectual endeavor for peace? But there are answers for that: The pacifists' fears are groundless, or, we will avert the next war by the same methods as all wars were averted in the past; by preparing for it. This last is a hazardous conjecture and therefore made with much confidence.

Thoughtfully yours,
ISAAC BIGGERSTAFF, JR.

CO-ED AQUATIC MEET TO BE HELD TUESDAY

The women's triangular swimming meet which was to have been held Thursday evening at the men's gym, has been postponed until Tuesday evening. At that time the program planned for tonight will take place, beginning at 7:30 sharp. Women spectators will be admitted; admission will be 10 cents. It is expected that in postponing the meet, the girls will have a larger audience backing them Tuesday night as a greater number of people will know of it.

DEBATE SEASON CLOSES

BY BOB STRUCKMAN

Montana University is nearing the end of the greatest debate season in the history of the school. There have been 25 debates so far this year, and there is to be one more to wind up the season. Two of these were women's debates; one with the University of Utah here and another, which was a dual debate with the State college at Bozeman and here. Freshman men held a dual debate with the State college.

The first debate of the season was last fall, when three Montana men met the University of Sydney, Australia. This was the first debate heard here in the English style, which has proved so popular. Humor and the merits of thinking are the big things in this type of talking, and the audience is the first concern in the minds of the speakers. There was no decision on this argument, held on the question, Resolved, that the Cinema is a great threat to national welfare. The thoughts of the Australian men on this subject were very interesting to the audience which packed the high school auditorium to hear the speeches. The Montana men in this debate were Archie Blair, Harry Sager and Carl McFarland.

Beck Is Coach

Much of the credit for the successful season goes to N. B. Beck, professor of English and debate coach. ASUM gave a special fund to the debate trips, which made it possible to continue the season as planned in the face of the small crowds which usually attend debates. It is approximated that 6,500 people heard the Montana debaters during the whole season. This, however, includes those who attended the debates during the Southern trip, where the audiences were especially large. The largest crowd recorded was at St. Ignatius college, where there were 1,600 in the audience.

There were five debate trips taken during the year, with one more to come. These were to Bozeman, Dillon, the southern trip, which covered the schools of three states; Seattle and Portland; and to Pullman, Washington, and Gonzaga, at Spokane. Altogether, the teams debated in seven states, including Montana.

Freshman debate was important this year, William Negerbon of Butte, Charles Grandey of Terry, Russell Smith of Billings, and Claude Johnson of Harlowton being those who were in the dual debate with the state college freshmen.

Pauline Astle and Elsie Blair made up the women's team which went to Dillon to debate against the girls of the State Normal school. Helen Gorton and Vera Phelps debated the Dillon team which came here.

Debate Broadcast

During the trip to Washington and Oregon, Sidney McCarthy and James Beck of the Montana team were invited to give their debate with the University of Oregon before the Portland Chamber of Commerce. That evening station KOIN of Portland broadcasted the debate.

John Bonner and Myles Thomas were the men who made the trip to Pullman and Spokane. They won from the Washington school and lost to Gonzaga.

Herbert Haugland, Louis Aronowsky, and Arthur Acher made the southern trip, on which they met ten teams. This trip took them through the states of California, Nevada, and Utah. They won four of their debates, lost three, and three were no decision. This was the first time Montana has undertaken such a pretentious trip for any team of speakers, and should serve well to advertise the school.

There were eight debates held here in Missoula during the season, one being a freshman debate and two women's debates. Season tickets to these were sold by the Montana Debate Union, an organization of the men in debate. ASUM books admitted students. In addition to those men who were on trips, the following were heard in Missoula: Ernest Lake, Harold Reely, Clarence Wolf, Marshall Murray and Steiner Larsen.

In the last debate of the year, to be held in Butte, with the state college, Edwin Booth and Edward Pool will represent Montana.

Oregon Style Used

Something new in debating has been heard and enjoyed at the State University this year. The Oregon style of debating has found a place in the hearts of the audiences who weary of four main speeches and four rebuttals. This style was invented at the University of Oregon and has been used successfully by them for several years. It allows cross questioning of the opposition as part of the debate and thus brings more spontaneous thought to bear on the subject. The English style of humorous

The chairmen of the several committees met with the Prom manager at this meeting but no plans were made for the annual affair. Another general meeting is to be held Tuesday night in Main hall at 7:30 o'clock and the general plans will be formulated. Chairman Edwin Booth requests that all committee members be present.

"Mr. Fischl started in his pharmacy work when the school was still located at Bozeman," said Mr. Mollett, "but came here to finish when the department was moved. She will be assisted by Alice Lease, who is to interpret a spring day in terms of a dance, wearing a costume which will harmonize with the theme of the dance and the theme of the music.

Gertrude Maloney will also assist Miss Rhyme. She is to model two costumes in which she will bring out an analogy between violin music and costume.

The music for these two interpretations of costumes, given by Alice Lease and Gertrude Maloney, will be played by Mary Shope, on the violin, accompanied by Gladys Price, on the piano.

WEATHER DELAYS MONTANA EARLY BASEBALL PRACTICE

Polar Bears Face Veteran Teams; Milburn's Nine Plays Fort Two Games

When Idaho opens the diamond season at Montana April 29, it will begin play against a well frozen Grizzly. Arctic zephyrs having sprung out of Hellgate canyon daily and the only use the playing field can be put to is a new field of discovery for polar explorers. The blizzard that plays a regular run between here and Butte arrives in Missoula about 4 p. m. and from then on the men look like Eskimos on a particularly disagreeable day.

Coach Milburn plans to send the Grizzlies against the Fort Missoula nine next Friday and Saturday, if drifts are not too deep. The soldiers have had little practice and weather has been as unfavorable to them as it has to the University squad so fans may expect to witness no hair-raising performances or thrilling deeds. It is reported that the team from the fort is lacking in pitching. Aside from Cole, last year's hurling mainstay, there are no athletes capable of throwing the round object in a perplexing or peculiar manner.

Lack of opposition will hamper the Grizzlies as they prepare for the conference race. Most of the other schools have one or two college teams nearby whom they may engage in pre-season conflict. The Montana polar bears have no such opponent so they must be content with scrimmage games between the first string and the all-Americans.

Idaho brings "Lefty" Erickson to battle Montana hitters. The elongated Norsk is a pellet projector par excellence and Grizzly swatsmen will have a busy afternoon solving the delivery of this Danish diamond desperado. Nor does Idaho place all its eggs in the Erickson basket. The Vandal crew possesses a corps of ambitious sluggers who maintained a portly batting average throughout last season and may be depended upon to repeat this year.

The real test of Montana pitchers will come when W.S.C. invades the Grizzly playing field. The Cougars have a murderous row at the plate and are fairly well fortified in the hurling department. They depend mainly, however, on the ability of the men to clout the sphere. The tobacco-eating Meeker heads this list of fence wreckers and he is followed closely by a string of lads swinging vicious bats who are all capable of scaring the ordinary pitcher to death.

The Bobcats also boast a strong team. Valery Gynn is generally regarded as one of the outstanding hurlers of western colleges and he will do all in his power to make it an irksome afternoon for the Grizzly past-timers. His chief support is Babcock, who is another batsman baffle. Reinforced by a fairly strong team in the field, the Bobcats will be dangerous.

Debate Union Plans Celebration Banquet

At a meeting of the Montana Debate Union, held last Friday, Harry Sager and John Banner were appointed to arrange for a debate banquet to celebrate the completion of the greatest season in the debate history of the University. It is now planned to hold this meeting Friday, April 15, at the Florence hotel.

It was announced that the Union would consider applications for next year's debate manager. These should be turned in to Mr. Beck before April 15, when they will be passed on and sent to Central Board with recommendations.

Students Enrolled in Correspondence Show Big Increase

Statistics taken by the Correspondence Study department for April, 1926, to April, 1927, show a 16 per cent increase over the previous year in the number of students registered for correspondence work.

This year's report shows 593 students were registered for correspondence course. Of these, 316 were women and 187 were men. In the 1926 report, 265 women and 168 men were registered, a total of 433 students. The total number in 1925 was 415.

Missoula headed the list, with 131 students completing courses from 1926 to 1927. Butte was second with 75 students. Forty-seven students registered from outside Montana. States represented were Nebraska, Wisconsin, Kansas, Missouri, California, Wyoming, North Dakota, Idaho, Washington, Georgia, New York, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

ADAMS BRINGS END TO SPRING FOOTBALL

Milburn Disappointed in Turnout; Many Men Report for Other Sports

Wednesday afternoon marked the end of spring football drill. When the squad began spring drill six weeks ago, about 40 men reported, but several have reported for baseball and track, until now the squad varies from 20 to 22.

Harry Adams has been coaching the team in fundamentals, such as blocking, tackling, running interference, for Coach Major Milburn believes these are weak points in Montana's football team. Spring football practice has been recognized by all large schools as a necessary part of the athletic program.

When asked if he thought spring football a success at Montana, Major Milburn said, "It has been a success to those who were able to follow the season through, but on the whole it was not a success, because so many had to answer calls in track and baseball."

Captain Lou Vierhus was out for the spring drill until he left for Europe. Others who were out until called into other sports are: Tom Davis, fullback; Clark Whitcomb, guard; Clarence Coyle, end; Robert Tiernan, end; Edward Chinise, Lloyd Callison, halfbacks; Bill Rafferty, center; Sid Stewart, guard; Reid Harmon, tackle; Jimmy Morrow, Carl Ross, halfbacks; Gordon Rogniell, end; and Gene Flynn, Bill and Ted Hodges, Dossia Shults, halfbacks.

Coach Milburn also hopes to have the following men report in suits next fall:

Line—Brittenham, Murray, Ostrum, Barfell, Jolley, McVey, Fogarty, Stepantoff, Keyes, Tule, Smith, Knapp, Ryan, Clark, Schotte, J. and E. Hughes, Blackford, Golob, Currie, Gillan, Parks, Percy, Johnson.

Backfield—Parmalee, Kain, Sweetman, Webster, Rumer, Ekegren, Linville.

Battalion Companies to Hold Track Meet

Near the end of the quarter the Grizzly battalion will hold a track meet between companies. The meet will be the culmination of a general military field day, the details to be announced later.

Monday afternoon when the battalion meets for its third drill period of the quarter, parades and reviews will be stressed. As has been announced, the department plans to have the different patriotic and civic organizations, the faculty, and campus service groups review the battalion at each formation. A week from Monday the first review of this kind will be held.

Francis Keith, Kalispell, was a visitor at the Phi Sigma Kappa house this week-end.

FROSH PLAN BIG DAY FOR PAINTING OF M

Publicity Will be Given to Names of Slackers; Work Divided Into Sections

Members of the freshman class at a meeting held in the Natural Science building Thursday evening, voted to paint the "M" on Thursday, April 14, and to use the slacker system for those who do not appear to help with the task.

It is planned to have a dance or some kind of a "feed" after the painting is completed, but no definite plans were formed because the financial status of the class was not known at the time. President Russell Smith said that if the treasury warranted such an expense a "real party would be arranged."

Work Sheet Out Monday
A work sheet is being prepared and will be distributed Monday. The same system that is used in connection with Aber Day will be employed and the members will be divided into sections with a "boss" to check up on attendance and to keep the work going.

Those who do not appear to help in the painting will have their names printed as "slackers" and President Smith urged that the class show some real spirit and all turn out.

Smith is going to speak to the girls of North and Corbin halls about assisting the men and said, "If the girls don't care to help with the painting they can stand at the bottom and cheer for the boys."

Miss Corbin Is Much Improved in Health

Miss Frances Corbin, professor of English, and veteran University teacher after whom the new women's dormitory has been named, is much improved in health, according to word received here recently by Lucia B. McRieles, of the English department.

Miss Corbin left about March 24 for California where she is visiting sisters in Los Angeles and at the same time recovering from the serious illness which caused her to discontinue teaching at the University this quarter. Miss Corbin writes that she enjoys the emerald hills and warm sunshine and feels much better. She says that she wishes she could send some of the California sunshine to Montana.

WEATHER AND INELIGIBILITIES CHECK TRACKSTERS' EFFORTS

Several Men are Hurt Since Season Opened But Strong Squad Remains

With the present cold weather, Coach Stewart is having some difficulty in rounding his men into shape. The lack of the usual spring weather is a serious handicap to track activities, besides various other losses in the way of experienced veterans. The need of the shining countenance of "Old Sol" to bring out the talent of the new aggregation is the biggest want at present.

Injuries Deplete Squad
The loss of several men who are in school at present has injured the squad some. They are Thomas McCarthy, expected to win points in the middle distance runs, who is out because of a diseased leg bone. Williams, a two-miler, has been ordered by the doctors to keep away from track, due to ill health during the winter quarter. Lester Graham, Sam Kain and Raymond James are ineligible for competition. Graham is a weight tosser, Kain showed promise of a good sprinter, while James excelled in the hurdles and pole vault.

Sprinters Out
The list of men available is: 100 and 220-yard dashes—Coyle, Davis and Miller. Samples sustained an injured leg during the middle of the week but will soon be able to return to the track. He is undoubtedly a point winner. Coyle is the only veteran while Davis is another point getter.

440-yard dash—R. Davis, Staunton, M. Haines, Snow, Tierney and Garlington. Davis is a veteran while Staunton was the Cub's star. The rest are new men.

Half-mile run—Adams, Tyse, Robinson. Adams has shown great speed but is just recovering from an attack of pneumonia. Tyse and Robinson are doing the course in fine shape.

Mile run—K. Davis, Gaughan, Gillette. These three men are veterans and are hard to get ahead of in competition.

Distance Men
Two-mile run—Gillette, Hanson, Ross. Gillette is the national intercollegiate champion while Hanson is a former Varsity man of two years ago. Ross is a new man in the field.

Hurdles
High and low hurdles—Spaulding, Anderson, Haines, Rankin, Shults. Spaulding is a dangerous man in both events; as for the rest they are new material. Haines and Shults are previous interscholastic winners.

Field Events

Pole vault—Miller, Coyle. Both are veterans, and are capable of doing better than 12 feet. Coyle may be used but Miller will be the mainstay.

High jump—Mowatt, Baker, Fritch, Davis, Krough. Mowatt is the best prospect while Davis may be confined just to the sprints. Broad jump—Miller, Coyle, Watson, Davis, Huber. Miller is the only veteran in this event, the rest are new entries. Shot put—Harmon, Kilroy, Whitcomb. All are new material although Whitcomb has competed on home ground several times. Discus—Harmon, Shults, Kilroy. All are new. Shults during his high school days placed twice in this event. Javelin throw—Bessey, Pearce, Marmion, L. Wendt, Shults. Bessey and Pearce are veterans while the rest are newcomers.

Fresh Material
The frosh tracksters, though not many in number, are working daily with the Varsity. Most of them are former high school dashes in either the track or field events. From all indications they will show good form during the inter-class meet April 15 and 16. Coach Stewart has charge of the yearlings until Harry Adams will be able to take them over, as soon as spring football is finished.

GRIZZLIES MAY WIN HONORS IN NORTHERN CINDER MEET

Upon application within 30 days from the beginning of the quarter he shall be entitled to take senior examinations in his major department. If he passes these examinations with a grade of "A" or "B" he will be awarded the honors.

Students who are candidates for honors this quarter should consult the heads of their major departments not later than April 23. The examinations and final reports must be over and reported to the registrar's office by May 9.

Thomas Named Editor of 1928 Year Book

Douglas Thomas, Dillon, was elected editor of the 1928 Sentinel, junior class annual, at a meeting of the sophomore class Wednesday night in Natural Science building. Opposing him were: John Bolton, Kalispell; Robert Struckman, Big Timber; Ronald Miller, Missoula; Archie Blue, Saco.

Thomas is a member of Bear Paw, honorary sophomore men's fraternity, and Sigma Chi, social fraternity.

PRESIDENT HOPKINS STILL ASKS CHANGE

Dartmouth Prexy Wants Confab of Colleges to Alter Football Tactics

Hanover, N. H.—(IP)—A three-fold plan for the reorganization of intercollegiate football has been suggested by Dr. Ernest Martin Hopkins, president of Dartmouth college, in a letter to L. G. Hodgkins, president of the Dartmouth athletic council.

Dr. Hopkins advocated (1) limiting players to sophomores and juniors; (2) holding big games on a reciprocal basis, with each college playing one eleven on the home field and another on the rival's home field; (3) restricting all coaching to undergraduates.

The purpose of the reorganization, according to the Dartmouth president, would be to create a greater participation in college football by college students, and to diminish disruption of regular college work now caused by concentration on one big game.

In his letter, Dr. Hopkins says, "I would like to see the virtues of intercollegiate football protected and its vices extirpated by friends of the game before its foes are given justification for demanding and accomplishing its death."

He also proposed a conference of colleges to discuss and to formulate the new plan.

Mrs. A. H. Gray, Great Falls, and Thelma Burnett were dinner guests at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Survey Shows Montana's Team Is Equal of Record Squad Last Year

Although Montana has competed in two Pacific Coast conference track and field meets, placing both times, still this is the first opportunity Grizzlies will have to grab a conference track title.

The northern division of the coast conference is sponsoring its own meet this year and prospects are bright for a Montana victory as the Tricolors placed next to the California schools at the conference meet last year. It will be strictly a conference meet, with California schools not competing.

A study of the material of the northern division schools rates them like this:

University of Washington. Strong in most events but having no outstanding entries.

University of Montana. A team on a par with last year's entry, stronger on the track, but weaker in the field.

Washington State college. A strong contender with veteran entries in field events.

University of Idaho. Not rated as high as Montana and the two Washington schools.

University of Oregon. A weak team with only one good sprinter.

Oregon Agricultural college. Strong entries in the distance runs.

The northern division meet will be one of four big contests on Montana's track program. Others are the quadrangular meet at Spokane, University of Washington relays, Seattle, and the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate meet, Los Angeles. Montana has three dual meets on the schedule and also expects to send a team to the National Intercollegiate meet, Chicago.

SPORT GLIMPSES

Hindered by elements, Grizzly tracksters have been unable to show their wares and Coach Stewart is still haunted by a question mark.

A few nice days would be welcomed by the coach so he would be able to ascertain what material he will have ready for the quadrangular meet April 23.

Harry Walters, coach of Stanford university baseball, may handle a club in the Idaho-Utah league.

University of Nebraska track and field squad will engage University of California at Berkeley Saturday.
