UTTE CHAMBER TO SELL TICKETS

Three Thousand Seats Are Reserved; Sales Still Going Strong

Reserved seats for the University College football game, which will take place at Clark park in Butte, November 19, were put on sale in the Butte Chamber of Commerce. Up to this time more than 3,000 seats have been reserved.

The University is sending a box of material which will decorate the Montana Power company's silver windows in Butte. The display consists of a Clark III silver football trophy, a Montana last year; the University of Washington four-mile relay trophy, won by Montana last spring; a University of Washington 400-yard relay trophy; the Pacific Coast conference cross-country championship plaque, also won by Montana last year; and the footballs used in the Montana-Bobcat games in 1925 and 1926.

Aerial bombs, one containing the upper, silver and gold flag of the University, one containing the Blue and Gold banner of the State college and one containing the American flag, will be fired into the air just before opening of the game in Butte, according to Nelson Fritz, University of Washington.

A Grizzly mascot, a black bear, has been secured and will be paraded, but the field between halves of the game. The bobcat has grown old and is difficult to handle, and there has been a superstition in Butte that every game the bobcat mascot will be with the State college rooters.

FORESTERS PLANT 700,000 TREE SEED

Nursery Capacity Will Be Million Seeds in Few Years, Skeels Says.

About 700,000 seeds have been planted in the Forestry school nursery gardens during the past week, according to Professor Dorr Skeels of the Forestry school. This concludes the planting activity for this year because of cold weather. Another 700,000 tree seeds will be planted in the spring.

In a few years the capacity of the nursery will reach approximately one million seeds, Professor Skeels says. When the trees are from one to two years old, they will be sent to dry-land farmers in the eastern part of Montana to be used for wind breaks. The species of the seeds are such that they can withstand the cold climate. Most of the species come from Russia and Asia.

The work of the nursery is carried on in co-operation with the Federal co-operative nursery. The foresters are going to produce a small amount of ornamental stock for planting on state ground only. The school does not furnish any stock for ornamental plants to the public. All those who desire ornamental stock have to secure the stock from local nurseries.

Judges Will Select Varsity Debate Team at Tryouts Tonight

N. B. Beck, debate coach, has received an offer for the Montana team to hold a debate with Harvard at Cambridge, Mass., sometime in April. Seven or eight who will form the varsity debate squad will be chosen from among the eighteen men who have planned to compete in the debate tryouts in Main hall auditorium tonight at 7:15 and tomorrow at 3:30 p. m.

Judges for the tryouts will be Professor Braxill Fitzgerald and R. A. Coleman of the English department.

Lawyers May Be Barred.

Seattle, Wash.—(IP)—Because law studies take up so much of the students' time, law students at the University of Washington may be barred from taking office in student government organizations.

MRS. CLAPP SPEAKS TO GIRLS AT CORBIN

"Gathering Rosebuds" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. C. H. Clapp yesterday evening at Corbin hall. "Two points of view on this topic have been illustrated by two English poets," she said, "one in Herrick's 'Gather ye rosebuds while ye may' and the other in Milton's 'Lycidas'." Two "rosebuds" which she cited are serenity and thoroughness, and she expressed the hope that the girls would pick all the rosebuds possible while they were in school.

THETA SIGMA PHI TO SELL DIRECTORIES

Sales of this year's student directories will be handled by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national professional journalism fraternity, under the direction of Dutch Corbly. The directories will be sold during the last week of this month.

TORRENCE PAYS VISIT TO MISSOULA FRIENDS

Maynard Torrence was in Missoula last week on his way to Akron, Ohio, where he has taken a position with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company. Torrence is a member of the class of '27 and received his degree in chemistry. Shortly after leaving Missoula last spring he went to work in McGill, Nevada, in a large mining reduction plant. Dr. R. H. Jesse, chairman of the chemistry department, said yesterday.

Dr. W. N. Jones, who was associated with the University of Montana School of Chemistry in 1917, is now in charge of the Goodyear laboratories and has employed a number of Montana men.

New Rate Allows Ten Days in Butte; 100 Must Sign

Another special rate has been offered by officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway for those students and townspeople who wish to leave Friday evening for Butte. The new rate, $4.32 for the round trip, is good for 10 days. However, this offer is good only provided 100 people signify their intention to leave Friday evening. The representative of the Milwaukee railroad now has a desk in the lobby of Main hall, and all those desiring the new rate must sign up immediately.

The train, No. 18, leaves the Milwaukee station at 5:38 o'clock p. m. Friday.

Team Leaves Friday

The football team will make the trip to Butte on that train, making about 37 men whose names will be entered on the list for the new rate. Others have signified their intention of leaving on Friday, so it is thought that there will be no trouble in getting 100 people to make the trip. Their names must, however, be given to the Milwaukee representative as soon as possible.

Sophs Win Interclass Soccer Tournament

Interclass soccer honors have been won by the sophomore class team, which defeated the freshmen Friday afternoon by a score of 2 to 1. "It was a good game, although a slow one because the field was so muddy," said Harriet Graham, who was the referee. The freshmen lost one game and tied one; the junior-seniors tied two games, and the sophomores tied a game and won one, which entitles them to interclass honors.

Those playing were: Freshmen—Baldwin, Bachman, Nelson, Fairbrother, Fitzwater, Brown, Rooney, Kennedy, Matthews, Jackson, Morris. Subs: Heiskel, Cline.

Scorekeeper—Leslie Vinal. Timekeeper—Mary Laux.

Offer of Positions Made to Graduates in Metal Mining

Dr. J. P. Rowe, head of the Geology department, has recently received offers from many of the leading mining companies of the Northwest to place young men who have specialized in metal mining. Dr. Rowe stated that there are unlimited possibilities in this branch of geology and that his department is in a good position to place any graduate who can successfully master the subject.

Dr. Rowe has recently heard from a group of former graduates who have been working in this field. "In every case they have been successful and have every opportunity for advancement," Dr. Rowe said. Some of the graduates from whom word has been received are: Miles Dardin, who is working in the Geology department of the A. C. M. company at Butte; George J. Graham, with the A. C. M. in Butte; Arthur Yentzen, who recently transferred from Butte to Texas; Cullen Waldo, with the Sinclair Exploration company in Angola, South America; Ralph Minges, with the Midwest Exploration company of Kansas and Carl Pittenger, who starts this month with the Hecla Mining company of Wallace, Idaho.

NATIONAL ART DISPLAY HERE

Colleges from All Over the Country Join in Exhibit in Forestry Building

Everything from posters to oil paintings is contained in the Delta Phi Delta art exhibit being shown this week in the library room of the Forestry building. Contributions from all the chapters of this national honorary art fraternity for both men and women are on display.

"The exhibition is considered a fair representation of the work being done by art students in the colleges over the country," according to Lydia Maury, secretary of the local chapter. Some of the work shown is for commercial uses. This includes the posters and book plates. Other pieces include water colors, oils, pen and ink sketches, pencil drawings and in brush and ink work. One unusual piece of work is on exhibit. It is a plaque showing a number of fanciful creatures among intricately formed foliage and was turned in by Kenneth F. Aldrich of Mu chapter.

Members of the local chapter whose work is shown are: Arnold Gillette, Harold Shanks, Louise Nickey, Lydia Maury, John Allen and Edward Wright.

The chapters represented in this exhibit are: Alpha, at the University of Kansas; Beta, at the University of Montana; Gamma, at the University of Minnesota; Epsilon, at Washington college in Topeka, Kansas; Zeta, at the Chicago Art institute; Eta, at the University of Wisconsin; Iota, at the University of Ohio; Kappa, at the University of North Dakota; Lambda, at Drake university in Des Moines, Iowa, and Mu, at the University of Missouri.

Students of the Forestry school are planning to cop the banners for intramural basketball and baseball this year according to Fay Clark, associate professor of forestry.

The foresters are overflowing with confidence because they have some excellent freshman material this year from Montana and outside state high schools.

Last year the Forestry school won the banner for intra-mural basketball.

N. B. Beck Sets Date For Competition in Oratorical Contests

Tryouts to determine the selection of a speaker to represent the University in the State Oratorical contest will be held Dec. 12, according to N. B. Beck, debate coach. He wants all who intend to compete to see him this week.

Prior to this year the tryouts have always taken place as a part of the Aber Oratorical contest. The Montana representative will be chosen earlier this year in order that he may revise and improve his speech before entering the State meet, which will be held about May 10.

Montana has placed second for the last three years, while for the last six years Mount St. Charles has placed first in the State contest. Ralph Edgington was the Montana representative last year.

Although the Aber Oratorical contest will no longer be the means of selecting a speaker to participate in the State meet, it will be held as usual this year. Russell Smith was the winner last year.

"The ROTC battalion is to be complimented on last Friday's parade," said Captain Caulkins. "Everything was carried out in much better order than was expected."

The battalion formed at 3 o'clock. With the Grizzly band at the head of the column, it marched down University avenue to Gerald, north on Gerald to Fourth street and west to Higgins avenue where it fell in behind the regular troops from Fort Missoula. Both units then marched to the court house where they witnessed the unveiling of the statue "The Doughboy," which was presented by the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

This is the first year that company drill has been carried on in the autumn quarter. "We have many men who have had no previous experience in military training and they do exceedingly well considering the short period of training," Captain Caulkins remarked.

The program will be made as diversified as possible and will include music, interesting talks, and yells and songs, according to Mike Thomas, ASUM president. A similar convocation was held on an afternoon before the Grizzly-Bobcat game last year and was such a success that President Clapp has given permission for this year's meeting to be held in the morning. The committee in charge has asked everyone to turn out, since they promise something different for pep-rallying.

The program will consist of songs and yells; several selections by a quartette, which DeLoess Smith will furnish; short pep talks on past battles with the Aggies by Professor E. A. Atkinson, Dr. Pat McCarthy, H. L. Bickenbach, Coach Stewart, Coach Milburn, Harvey Elliott, Gilbert Porter, Harry Adams and Lou Vierhus; then—more yells and songs.

Sheridan's ten-piece orchestra will furnish additional pep for the occasion and several other features are being planned. Mike Thomas will speak briefly to the students about the Butte trip and the game.

With this full interesting program the success of the convocation is assured, the committee states.

The "Thobber"

THE word "thobber" was heard over KUOM the other evening. It was used in connection with certain people "who think without purpose, hold opinions because they like them, and believe certain things because they are handy," if we may be permitted to quote. There are thobbers everywhere, we suppose, and so it is fair to assume that there are students who "thob."

Students who spend day after day in class rooms, without ever assuming the slightest expression of interest. The professors try so very hard to create an atmosphere of enjoyment and interest and succeed with the greater percentage of their students, but the "thobber" assumes an air of supercilious boredom and lounging down in his or her chair, gazes with infinite longing at the far, far horizon.

Then, there is the student who refuses to find any glimmer of enjoyment in the instructor's jokes. It is only fair to assume that there are students sadly lacking and deficient in a sense of humor and such mortals are to be pitied rather than condemned, but the chronic "thobber" is in a class all by himself. He meets jokes or witticisms of the classroom variety with the pained expression of a man being pushed to the limit of his endurance. What if the witticisms are not particularly sparkling gems of humor? Laugh anyway, and maybe the next one will be better.

—H. S.

From time immemorial heroes of the gridiron, diamond, field and track have almost monopolized college honors. Much as it may be deplored by professors—some professors, at least—the fact is that the plaudits of the student world are reserved for outstanding athletic prowess.

Comes now from Birmingham-Southern college a plan, conceived by someone to whom it occurred that perhaps other activities may be worthy of recognition, to bestow insignia of gold and silver upon leaders in literary societies, dramatics, student government and the like.

This plan is not entirely new. It is being carried out, to some extent, at the University of Montana and other schools. Its extension, as proposed by the southern students, has much to commend it. We do not expect to live to see the winners of a debate carried about Dornblaser field to the cheers of admiring thousands; we do not expect to hear the initiation ceremonies of the scholarship fraternities broadcast by KUOM. We are glad to note, however, that some recognition is to be accorded to the heroes of the bulging brow as well as those of the bulging biceps.—The New Northwest.

REVIEWS

THE EXILE.

By Mary Johnston.

Little, Brown and Co. $2.50.

Mary Johnston is master of readers' moods, but still "The Exile" misses the point of being a book about which to be enthusiastic. History, carried into the future, and interesting hints about past existences form the theme. Description of weather on a small rocky island in the Pacific furnishes the mood. Unruly Seattle weather must be the rule on that island.

Of course, discussion of a state of better international understanding is approached all through the book. Like so many "happy future" books, this one will not stand close questioning. It simply ignores the small petunias of human nature that make Eden improbable.

If you wish a glow from description, read this book. It is as comforting as a hot water bottle and as cheerful in spots as cherry-red coals. The people act on impulse only. That is pleasant to contemplate, but is it the rule?

Mary Johnston could probably write delightful intimate essays.

On the Campus

Elsie Hunt of Havre has returned to her home because of the illness of her grandmother.

A. J. Broderick of Havre visited his daughter, Georgia, during the week end.

A. H. Gray was the guest of his daughter, Geraldine, last week-end.

Frances Furry visited friends in Spokane last week end.

Eileen Barrows is confined to St. Patrick's hospital with appendicitis.

A. L. Stone, dean of the School of Journalism, gave a talk to the pledges of Phi Sigma Kappa last night on the subject, "On Being a Man."

Mrs. Harry Parsons and daughter, Ethelyn, were dinner guests at the Phi Sigma Kappa house Sunday.

Lois Miller, ex '27, is attending Spokane university this year.

Evelyn Linley, ex '25, of Kalispell, is doing advertising for a wholesale silk manufacturing concern in Sidney, Australia. Miss Linley attended the University of Montana during 1921 and 1922, and then entered the University of Nebraska where she graduated.

While there she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholarship fraternity, and Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalistic fraternity.

sen sang "Memories". Miss Eleanor Edmundson was a guest at the dance. The chaperones for the evening were Mrs. Muriel McKay, Mrs. Alberta Raynor and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brennan.

The alumni of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained the activities and pledges at a party Monday evening. An informal meeting was held after which refreshments were served.

Phi Sigma Kappa announces the pledging of Elmer Jost and Lee Redding.

Students Should Know About Their Annual

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of articles which are to be published in the Kaimin giving facts that all students should know about their annual.

All students in the University want to see an exceptionally good year-book. They want the Sentinel to be the best annual that can possibly be published and that is exactly the aim of the Sentinel staff, but to do this finances are necessary. In past years the Sentinel has been handicapped because of insufficient financial help.

This year, upon recommendation of the publications committee, Central Board increased the cost of a page in the Sentinel for the various campus organizations from $15 to $25 a page. Before this action was taken letters were sent to four of the largest schools on the Pacific coast and to Montana State college asking for figures concerning their various year books and it was found that a page in the Sentinel was far cheaper than one in any of these other schools' annuals.

The Sentinel has in the past always carried a "free list" and investigation showed that no other large school in the West carried such a list. These organizations will be charged the same as any others this year.

It is the desire of the 1928 Sentinel staff to put before the students these figures so that they may know exactly what is being done on this campus in comparison with other schools.

The following table shows the results of the investigation:

Activity Fee Allotment—Sentinel, $2.75; Idaho, $4.50; M.S.C., $4.00; U. of W., $4.50; U. of Ore., $5.00, and O.A.C., $5.00.

Organizations—Sentinel, $15.00; Idaho, $9.00 and cuts; M.S.C., $25.00; U. of W., $28.00; U. of Ore., $30.00, and O.A.C., $10.00 to $20.00.

Fraternities and Sororities—Sentinel, $25.00; Idaho, $33.00; M.S.C., $25.00; U. of W., $40.00; U. of Ore., $30.00, and O.A.C., $35.00.

A BUM

Homer Williams Makes a Homer; Fools Campus

Members of the Sigma Nu fraternity were hosts to a young man who called himself Homer Williams Thursday night. He said he hailed from the University of Minnesota. He claimed that he was elected by the student body of his university to represent them in a supposedly annual hike, or, rather, a "bum" trip held between the Universities of Washington and Minnesota. He said that a delegate from each school started out from his respective college at the same time and that the one who covered the distance between the two universities first would receive a prize free tuition in a chemistry school for a year and a half.
 But it is thought by people who befriended the youth that if he is caught he will receive free board and room at some other place, for the entire story told by "Williams" has been proven a hoax. People who befriended the professional "bum" in Livingston became so interested in the youth that they telegraphed the dean of men at Minnesota university. They received a most surprising reply. The dean's telegram read: "Minnesota university is not sponsoring Homer Williams or any other person in any race."
 The youth did not ask for money and nothing has been discovered missing from the homes of his benefactors. But if his purpose was to reach the Pacific coast without paying railroad fare he may be successful in his undertaking.

JACOBY, SMURRO, WIN RADIO CONTEST MEDALS

Marie Jacoby of Roundup, and Nick Smurro of Helena, were the winners of the Atwater-Kent radio audition contest held over KUOM, October 14. Medals are being forwarded to them and a trip to San Francisco, where the sectional division of the national audition contest is to be held, is now being arranged.

KIRKWOOD WILL REVIEW "WHITHER DEMOCRACY?"

Dr. J. E. Kirkwood will review N. J. Lennes' "Whither Democracy?" at the Colloquium club meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Natural Science hall. "Whither Democracy?" was written by Dr. Lennes, professor in the Mathematics department of the University. All students are cordially invited to attend.
 Ann Nilsson, '26, is a guest at the Tri Delta house. She is on her way to Great Falls from Spokane where she has been doing advertising work.

Looking Back

One Year Ago

Delta Delta Delta installed a chapter on the University campus this week. The original group was Phi Beta. Many social functions have taken place during the installation. Work on Corbin hall is at a standstill because of the strike of the local contractors and hod carriers.
 The student directory is now on sale at the fraternity and sorority houses and at the dorms. The price is 25 cents.

Six Years Ago

The Grizzly team defeated the Bobcats 14-7, on Gatten field yesterday. William Cogswell was elected editor of the 1922 Sentinel at a meeting held by the junior class.
 The student directory is on sale at the ASUM store and will cost 20 cents this year instead of 15 cents, as it has formerly.
 The Grizzly chapter of the DAY will have a smoker Tuesday evening at the American Legion hall.
 Hoboes from the University tried to get themselves and a cow into the Aggie game free Saturday. The Fungs made an attempt to keep them out but finally all fought their way in—all except the cow.

Eleven Years Ago

The chancellor and the executive committee of the University have voted that there will be student convocations every week. The convocations have been done away with before due to a lack of student spirit and now the meeting plans are in charge of a committee which plans to make them more interesting in the future.

 A meeting was called yesterday by President Stuart McHaffie for all men to discuss Hi Jinx plans.
 Although the SOS was called off Thursday night the women of the State University had a rally. They sang the University songs and gave college yells until Mrs. Wilson, house-mother at Craig hall, brought out a box of apples and passed them around.

The World's Largest Hotel

Great achievements in engineering are brought about by the harmonious work of many. The individual's largest opportunity comes through the exercise of his own creative talents in the field for which he is preeminently prepared.

THE larger a hotel, the larger loom the difficulties of ventilating it; of handling the crowds that ride its elevators. The larger, too, looms the interest of engineers in designing electrical equipment to meet such unprecedented demands, of salesmen in selling it, of service engineers in installing it and keeping it in top-notch operating condition.

To Westinghouse came the Hotel Stevens for ventilating motors, for its elevator system, for the electrical equipment of its laundry. To Westinghouse come many undertakings of such kind and size—a steady stream of imagination-stirring opportunities to do the never-before-accomplished. All of tremendous interest to college men who have ambition, resourcefulness, capacity; disciplined sales and engineering minds.

The Hotel Stevens contains 3,000 rooms and baths. The Variable Voltage Control System used in the elevators was designed by Westinghouse. Whether you rise ten floors or only one, there are no jerks or jars. Speed is the same whether the car is empty or whether it's packed. Cars automatically stop level with the floor—no "jockeying"—no "step up," or "step down, please."

GRIZZLY PRIMED FOR FIERCE ATTACK ON BOBCAT ELEVEN

Milburn Holds Regulars from Gonzaga Game; Saves Them for Butte

By Lynn Stewart.

Next Saturday will bring together many of the great teams of the country in struggles likely to be famous, but Montana grid followers have interest only for that classic of northwest football, the Grizzly-Bobcat fray at Butte. From Bozeman, the Aggie felix will come primed for a supreme effort while the Grizzly will march from his western lair, determined that the Montana State collegians will fall before the same fierce attack that has forestalled them for many past seasons.

Grizzlies Save Strength.

The Grizzlies saved its strength in last Saturday's Gonzaga contest. Casualties, the penalty of the California game, were numerous and Major Milburn held many of his regulars on the bench, fearing injuries which would hamper his squad in their annual state championship battle. Barring misfortune in this week's practice scrimmage, it will be a well-conditioned Bruin that faces the Bobcat next Saturday.

Montana State followers believe that their favorites will, at last, break that long monotony of University victories and there is much to substantiate their belief. The Bobcat bowed to the furious last-half attack of Purdue but balm for this wound may be found in the fact that it was a crippled western team that played that day and that the great Boilermaker star, Welch, was in splendid form. Purdue's dynamic backfield functioned admirably after the Bobcat had spent its strength in its frenzied opening attack and there was no halting its ground-gaining advances. A better-conceived passing attack might have sent the Big Ten team down to defeat, as the Boilermakers found the interception of such tosses somewhat easy, converting many of them into scores.

Grizzly Will Win.

The Grizzly will win next Saturday on the Butte battleground. That much is certain, because no Bruin has ever gone down before a barrage of Bobcat super-publicity. The squad from the Bozeman school is powerful but the Grizzly is none the less powerful and is given the all-powerful mental supremacy of that long succession of victories which no Aggie team, however strong, will ever break.

500 Students to Go.

About six hundred people will go to Butte for the classic, among them a total of approximately five hundred University students. Montana State will send a representation not quite as large, but it is expected that each squad will have an equal number of backers. The Grizzly special will leave on the Milwaukee railroad at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, leaving Butte for the return trip at 7 o'clock the evening of the same day. ASUM tickets will admit all students at the gates of Clark park and the problem of finding Clark park must be solved by the individual. Every man is for himself; or woman either, for that matter. The same rules governing football games on Dornblaser field will prevail in the Mining city and the chronic fusser who may care little for a swat beheld by the good people of Missoula may find it extremely embarrassing to be chastised before the wise-cracking gentry of Butte. Such a thing would ruin one's social standing.

Nevertheless, children, be at the Milwaukee station at 8 o'clock Saturday. There will be a fat man there in a blue uniform. Give him that piece of paper you have in your hand and get on the choo choo. The fat man will also tell you when you get to Butte in case you wouldn't know anyway. And don't miss the train or you'll get on probation or something.

FACULTY MEMBERS HUNT.

Taking advantage of the rainy weather of last week-end, several members of the faculty went duck hunting up the Blackfoot river. Those who made the trip were: W. E. Schreiber, J. W. Severy, D. Skeels, J. H. Ramskill, F. J. Clark, I. W. Cook, E. A. Atkinson, and Captain R. M. Caulkins.

The hunters are reported to have had success at the sport.

Eleanor Ayers has returned from her home in Lewistown where she has been recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Side Swipes From The Grizzly Paw

Bulldog bites Grizzly on muddy field and gets swiped.

After playing before thousands, rain, women, and children, the Grizzlies of Montana went back over the mountain no worse and no better off.

The Bulldog entered the gate 15 minutes after the Grizzly and was after him all the day. Each team was greeted by an uproar and a down-pour.

Water stood in the low places and proved to be one of the high spots of the game.

There were many high spots but few dry spots.

The bench-warmer had a bad afternoon. All just sat and shivered fearing that any minute they would be sent into the front line.

One of the benchers was asked (just in case he would play) by the captain, what he does on play 57. He answered, "I'd sit there and cheer."

Going over, one of the centers took one of the guards out on the rear platform to show him the inside of a tunnel. The effect was coloring and the coloring was effective.

But to get back to the game and bench, or to those who were wet and those who were dry.

And now Walterskirchen got a tackle but couldn't hold him.

The boys persisted in biting, and Bob Morris, the referee, advised Montana to schedule its game on Friday.

The first chapter was like the last and the last was like the first. The score stood on the scoreboard—Gonzaga 0 and Montana the same.

The second quarter was worth four bits. Both teams persisted in running whenever they could get the ball, but someone always held.

A Montana back fumbled and a girl shouted, "Oh, I'm glad he dropped it—now they won't all jump on him."

The Spokane girls were interested. One asked one of the benchers what position he played and was told that he was one of the vice-presidents of the Locker to Bench combination.

And Walterskirchen got another tackle.

Between halves several of the benchers did a Rockne with the rosin—they sat in it.

When asked what the idea was they said they'd take no chances on sliding off that bench into that mud.

The third quarter passed to the fourth quarter—no gain, the score stood the same.

The fourth quarter passed with the whistle—and the game ended as it had started—the stadium emptied at it had been before the game.

And Walterskirchen got another tackle.

But in the last two minutes one of the ends who is closely associated with the taxi industry was sent into the game. A play was coming around this end. The fullback hollered, "It's a yellow," and the little end took the yellow clear out of the traffic.

And sliding down the field with feet in front instead of under him, the Montana center waved good-bye to his confederates on the bench—they were both sitting.

Sports Critic Gathers Dope on All American

Already football critics are shouting their choices for All-American honors. Western writers are singing the praise of western athletes, while the Eastern "experts" write columns about their favorites.

Until Bruce Caldwell of Yale was ruled ineligible last week his name was included in practically every backfield selection. Without him the majority of sports writers favor Drury of U.S.C., Spears of Vanderbilt, Gilbert of Michigan and Joesting of Minnesota as the best backfield combination.

Another group of stars includes Flanagan of Notre Dame, Welch of Pittsburgh, Welsh of Purdue, Wittmer of Princeton and Marsters of Dartmouth. Marsters and Wittmer have been running through all opposition in the East, and are expected to come close to equalling the mighty Grange's feats before they are through, as they are only sophomores.

Linemen have not received the publicity that the backs have, but certain players seem almost certain to be named on some all-star selections. Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan at end is the most popular lineman, his performances this year having rivalled those of 1925, when he was on nearly every team picked.

H. M. Kirtin of Malta visited with his son, Ned, over the week end. Mr. Kirtin was a guest at the A. T. O. house.

WASHINGTON 'U' WINS CROSS-COUNTRY RUN

Montana Takes Third Place; Kiser of the Huskies Comes in First in 12:43.6

Led by Rufe Kiser, the University of Washington took first place at the Pacific Coast conference cross-country run held at Pullman Friday. Two of the five men from Montana placed among the first ten and received enough points to allow the Grizzly to take third place. Washington State college took second and Idaho, fourth.

Kiser, a sophomore this year and a star distance man, covered the muddy course in surprisingly good time. He was clocked at 12:43.6. Elsonsohn, Washington State, followed right on Kiser's heels to take second and Cram, Washington, placed third. Hall, another W. S. C. athlete was fourth, followed by Kenneth Davis and George Martin of Montana in fifth and six places respectively. Each school is allowed to enter five men in the run. The five who ran for Montana were Davis, Martin, Tom McCarthy, Frank Curtiss, and Carl Tysel. Barke Adams made the trip but did not compete.

The four schools that entered scored as follows:

|                          |    |
|--------------------------|----|
| University of Washington | 36 |
| Washington State College | 43 |
| Montana                  | 50 |
| Idaho                    | 81 |

The lower the score the better the rating is. The University of Idaho only placed one man, Chisholm, who took tenth.

KUOM GETS SHEET MUSIC.

KUOM has received several sheets of music recently, the covers of which were drawn in black and white by Alyn Burtis, who was a visiting instructor in English at the University this summer. Mr. Burtis is now the technical director of the North Shore Theater guild of Chicago.

The music was composed and published by Aurel Burtis Kuhn of Chicago. The titles of the selections are: "Raindrops," "You—Only You," "Land of Dawn," and "I'm Just a Wanderer."

STORE ISSUES BOOK LISTS.

Preparations are being made at the student store for the winter quarter rush for books. Lists of the books in stock at present, together with order blanks, have been sent to the various departments so that the chairmen may order the necessary texts for their winter classes.

Mary Fierce of Victor spent the week end at home. Lucille Bartlett accompanied Mary as her guest.

BUTTE AND BILLINGS WILL PLAY FOR TITLE

Butte and Billings high schools will meet in the state interscholastic championship game at Butte Thanksgiving day. District and inter-district championships were all settled last week, with Butte, Billings, Glendive and Great Falls district title-holders and Billings and Butte inter-district champs.

As the season draws to a close, several players stand out as excellent material for future Cub and Grizzly teams. Each team had its star, but comparatively few brilliant and spectacular performers were uncovered this year. Backfield men of prominence were Moe of Great Falls; Kennedy of Billings; Sculler, W. Inkert and Janhunen of Butte; Retz of Polson; Bickel of Loyola and Meeker and Dwyer of Missoula. The latter four are all rather small for college football, but are fast and flashy on their feet. Dwyer has another year of high school play and with another year's experience and 20 pounds more beef will be hard to stop if he enters the University.

Linemen Not Outstanding.

Linemen have not been as outstanding as the ball-toters, and little publicity about them will be available until the all-state teams are picked. Both Breen of Butte and Cook of Billings have received favorable comment on their work at center. Missoula high has two capable ends in "Sandy" Smith and Harold Jacobson. Missoula players are not eligible for all-state honors this year, or Smith would be a strong contender for one of the wing positions.

The all-state teams will be picked by the coaches and by Walter Scott of the School of Mines, the week after the championship game is played.

SPORT SPURTS

The Grizzly of Montana, home from its tie game with the Gonzaga Bulldog, begins its final practice grind before it entrains for Butte where its ancient feud with the Bobcat of Montana State will be resumed next Saturday. The Bruin will win, but it will have the hardest time any Bruin ever did in subduing the Aggie Cat. The Bozeman school believes that its great opportunity has arrived. The Grizzly has no spectacular performance on which to base its claim to supremacy but it has the determination to win that has always characterized Montana teams and it has the additional strength of knowledge that the Bobcat can never whip the Grizzly.

The squad of University of Georgia, after the rout of many strong teams last Saturday, now boasts the only perfect record among the colleges of the country. It conquered Yale and the Bulldog has whipped the best in the East. Georgia may lay claim to the nation-wide title on a basis of games won and lost.

Each Saturday it appears that the ultimate in startling upsets has been reached. This week end, however, the startlingest, (of upstest, whichever you may prefer) upsets in the last few years occurred. A number of high-hat football teams, their noses held aloft, walked out on various gridirons and were greatly surprised when these noses were ingloriously rubbed in the dirt by some unconsidered opponent. Chief among these was the Cardinal squad of Stanford. The Palo Alto crew was soundly drubbed by little Santa Clara, whose only claim to renown is that it's in California. Coach Glenn Warner, he of football super-strategy, thought little of the game and scouted another contest. When he returned after a hard day on foreign fields, he was greeted by the disquieting news of his playmates' defeat at the hands of the bad little Santa Clara boys. After this, Mr. Warner will stay home on Saturdays.

Yale lived up to its Bulldog name in its set-to with Princeton. With but a few moments left to play, the Tiger held a seven-point lead. Then Yale came to the fore with one of the most determined assaults ever seen on eastern fields and the men of Nassau beheld their margin of victory washed away in the flood of the Eli attack. Minus Bruce Caldwell, ace of the Blue, Yale won. With Caldwell in the game, the Bulldog would have won in a manner most decisive.

If Illinois can hurdle the barrier presented by the team of Ohio State, nothing remains to dispute their claim to the Big Ten title. Minnesota, only rival of the Illini, strives to erase the blot of a tie game by a victory over Michigan next Saturday. The Gophers are the stronger team, but the ancient Michigan jinx covers the light of Minnesota hopes with a dark shadow. The Wolverines won handsily over the Navy while Minnesota had an easy time with Drake in the last games before the two meet. Their clash at Ann Arbor is expected to feature a day already crammed full of prospective gridiron thrills.

The Golden Bear of California, after resolving to believe no more stories concerning the strength of Grizzly football teams, has asked for a permanent contract with Montana. Such a contract would be advantageous. The Golden Bear cannot always triumph over his northern rival and a defeat at the hands of California carries with it more prestige than does a victory over one of the lesser schools of the West. Games such as these further interest in Montana football teams and serve to check the coy athletes who, after graduation from high school, go to Podunk Barber college or some other institution of equal fame. Something must be done to lure the vigorous gentlemen of Montana high schools to the University and an advanced course in super-psychology won't do it. It requires athletic prestige. Such an idea may not appeal to the idealist, but it is nevertheless true.

Notre Dame, that band of touring gridiron performers, ran into a heavy charge of the Army infantry last Saturday and was routed. The South Bend team, worn from the terrific hammering of the Minnesota game, was not in its usual form and the prospective lieutenants had an easy time.

Michigan sank the Navy ship with a broadside of passes. Gilbert to Oosterbaan and Oosterbaan to Gilbert and back again so confused the midshipmen that they were unable to follow the meanderings of the oval as it flitted from one Wolverine to another. The Army should not have too much trouble in downing the Navy this year.

U. S. C. held its first basketball practice last week, with about 30 men reporting. Mammel Laruneta, former captain, is in charge until the football season ends. Football players there who also shine on the court include Morley Drury, Jesse Hibbs, Lloyd Thomas and Frank Anthony.
