COT OFFERS VARIETY OF SUMMER COURSES

MISSOULA—

The University of Montana College of Technology offers hands-on and online courses this summer that cover subjects from alternative energy to cooking Mediterranean cuisine to preparing for college placement tests and more.

“Energy Systems,” taught fully online, is a comprehensive and technical look at the history of energy production and consumption. The course covers emerging new inventions and improvements of devices and machines that convert raw energy.

“Energy Systems” runs from May 22 through July 28. To find out more about this course, call COT’s Outreach Program at (406) 243-7812.

COT’s Culinary Arts Program is offering a course on Fridays from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. from May 26 to July 14 that will have you cooking Mediterranean cuisine. The hands-on class, taught by a professional chef, includes 40 hours of instruction and is open to students and the public.

Cost of the Mediterranean cuisine cooking class is $375 for those who do not wish to take it for college credit. For students who want college credit, the cost is $510.

Students can prepare for the SAT/ACT, GRE and LSAT this summer through Ed2Go
