DEBATE TEAMS RETURN FROM EAST AND WEST

PLANS ARE MADE FOR TOUR OF STATE

Smith and Wohl Engage in No-Decision Contest With University of Washington, But Lose to Willamette.

Russell Smith and Clarence Wohl returned from Seattle yesterday, where they met the University of Washington in a no-decision debate. Smith and Wohl also met Willamette university at Salem, Ore., losing the decision. The judge, Dr. Thomsen of Pacific university, stated that the Montana team was superior in strategy and rebuttal, but weak in main argument.

James Beck and Robert Williams also returned from their Eastern tour. This team lost to Morningside college and Marquette university. The other meetings were no-decision affairs with the exception of that with the Chicago-Kent School of Law. The decision in this debate is being left to radio listeners.

N. B. Beck, coach, announced yesterday that a state tour has been arranged for the latter part of March. Mount St. Charles will be at March 22, Eastern Montana normal, Billings, March 23, and Billings Polytechnic, March 24. Montana will have the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect by armed force its investments in foreign nations." The team has not yet been selected.

ORESTERS WILL TAKE CIVIL SERVICE EXAM

Civil service examinations for advancing seniors of the Forestry school will be given Wednesday in the Federal building in Missoula. About five men are expected to try for government positions while the remainder of the graduating seniors have made plans to work for private duties.

DR. MERRILL GIVES TALK ON COLDS TO BIOLOGY CLUB

Ruth Merrill, a Biology major, spoke before the Biology club, Wednesday afternoon at a meeting in the Science hall, on "Colds in humans." She stated that colds are thought to be due to slight acidification of the throat and blood.

John Page 31, has been confined to the South hall infirmary for the last two weeks.

Dean Stone Speaks to Sigma Delta Chi Professional Tong

Dean A. L. Stone of the Journalism School was the principal speaker at the professional meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, which took place at the Journalism Shack last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. His talk was on the "Value of a Professional Organization." Following the meeting a business meeting was held. Bill Garver, who represented Montana at the national convention Sigma Delta Chi held at Lawrence, Kansas, last November 14, 15, and 16, gave a report of his trip.

FUTURE CAMPUS EVENTS TO GET STATE PUBLICITY

News releases of the interesting attractions that will take place at the University campus this spring will be sent to all accredited high schools of the state by Beta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary journalism fraternity. The first release follows.

Many events are to be held on the University campus this spring which will attract thousands of participants and visitors. The Pacific Coast conference track will be held June 2. At this time there will be a meeting of

LILLIAN BELL TO BE MAY FETE MANAGER

Lillian Bell was elected manager of the 1928 May Fete at a meeting of AWS held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Main hall. Manuscripts for May Fete are due at the first AWS meeting next quarter. A prize of $10 is being given by AWS for the best manuscript turned in and judges will be selected from the English, Journalism and Women's Physical Education departments.

Press Club to See European Pictures

Guy Hazelton, former owner of the Rialto theater, will show three reels of moving pictures and will explain and describe the scenes at the Press club meeting, Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Journalism shack. Hazelton took these pictures while on a tour of Europe last year. They are views of the things which most interested him.

This will be the last meeting of the club during the winter quarter and Curtis Brittenham, president of the organization, urges all members to attend.

Brittenham Returns
Curtis Brittenham has been released from St. Patrick's hospital, where he has been confined for the past week with a severe cold.

KAPPA TAU TO HOLD INITIATION THURSDAY

Kappa Tau, local honorary scholastic fraternity, mailed bids to 24 people last Thursday, and initiation will be held next Thursday in Main hall at 5 o'clock. After the initiation there will be a banquet at Corbin hall.

The following people were bid: Lillian Bell, James Barker, Mary Brennan, Leonard Brewer, Clara Isabel Brown, Mae Campbell, Mrs. Catherine Crumbaker, Mary Dobrovolsky, Frances Elge, Anne Ferring, James Garlington, Alice Hancock, Marguerite Haugen, Zelma Hay, Josephine Hendrickson, Fred Ironside, Robert Jelly, Alice Johnson, Roger Johnston, Helen Leib, Carl McFarland, Ione Metcalf, Mildred Tash and Neva Thompson.

American Foresters' Society Meets

Society of American Foresters held their regular meeting last night in the Forestry school library. Following the meeting refreshments were served.

HARVARD TO MAKE STUDY OF CHINESE CULTURE WITH YENCHING UNIVERSITY HELP

Cambridge, Mass.—(IP)—The most complete study and interpretation of Chinese culture ever undertaken in the Occident, according to the Harvard Crimson, will be entered into by Harvard university in conjunction with Yenching university, Peking, China, as the result of a $2,000,000 endowment for this purpose made in the estate of the late Charles M. Hall, of Niagara Falls, inventor of the new process of taking aluminum from the crude ore. The study is hailed as of great significance in promoting friendly relations between the United States and China.

FLATHEAD HIGH WINS DISTRICT DEBATE TITLE

N. B. Beck returned recently from Whitefish, where he acted as judge in the district finals of the High School Debate League. Flathead County high school won the championship of district No. 1, competing against Whitefish and Libby high schools.

Other returns from the high school league which have been received by Mr. Beck are the following: District No. 5, Terry and Glendive survive. Wibaux and Mildred have been eliminated. District 4, Antelope and Richey survive. Bainville and Sidney have been eliminated. District No. 10, Billings and Rapelle are still in the running. The other districts in the state have not yet notified Mr. Beck of the results of contests.

W. L. YOUNG ADDRESSES CHURCH-SCHOOL GROUP

"Prophetic Spirit in Religion" was the subject of W. L. Young's address before the Church-School organization of the Methodist-Episcopal church Thursday night. Sunday evening, Mr. Young addressed the Pilgrim club at the University Congregational church on "Current Religious Thinking."

Senorita Espinel Will Not Visit Here

Senorita Luisa Espinel, reciter of Spanish folk-songs, will not be able to come to the State University March 23, as she had intended. Senorita Espinel has been obliged to cancel the whole of her northwestern tour because of southern engagements. She hopes to come to Missoula January of next year.

Eddie Astle Returns Home

Eddie Astle, ex '30, who has been a campus visitor for the past week, has returned to his home in Hardin. While in Missoula he was a visitor at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO PHYSICAL ED. PROGRAM

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock, in the Women's gymnasium, the Women's Physical Education department will present a novel program. Majors in the department will conduct the classes which will appear on the program. There will be a demonstration of clogging, floor-work, fencing, folk dancing, and a basketball game between the Juniors and Sophomores. Admission of twenty-five cents will be charged and the public is invited.

SENIORS DEFEAT FRESHMEN IN WOMEN'S TOURNAMENT

Defeating the Freshman team in a fast game last night at the Women's gymnasium, the Senior women's team won third place in the interclass tournament. At the close of the game the score was 16 to 10. There was good team-work throughout. The Freshman team was handicapped by the loss of Ethelyn Fowler, who sprained her ankle in last week's game. The finals in the interclass tournament will be played tonight when the Juniors and Sophomores clash for the championship.

DEAN AND MRS. SMITH ENTERTAIN STUDENTS

Music students and members of Sigma Alpha Iota are invited to a program of organ and vocal music which Mr. and Mrs. DeLoss Smith will present at the Music house next Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Members of the faculty are invited to hear the program next Sunday afternoon in the Music house at 4 o'clock.

Students Have Until Friday to Register

Students now in attendance at the University have until Friday at 3:30 o'clock to complete spring quarter registration. Registration began March 1 and students have been registering rapidly, according to the registrar's office. They are urged to continue to do so in order to avoid closed sections. Payment of fees will take place March 20 to 24, inclusive. Students who do not register in advance are subject to a fee of $2 for the first day and $1 extra for each day thereafter. New students will register Tuesday, March 20. Classes begin on Wednesday.

In what might go down in the annals of Montana's traditions, Kappa Alpha Theta sorority initiated the first co-ed serenade on Montana's campus Saturday night, following the sorority's annual pledge dance. It was truly a Leap Year serenade and one that has merited considerable favorable comment on and about the campus. Leap Year holds a bag of secrets, but the stronger sex was entirely hounded Saturday night when soft voices floated into the open windows of the many Siberias near the campus, and caused the sleepy-eyed males to rush out to discover the mystery.

FLOYD DELL TO LECTURE HERE MONDAY

NOTED AUTHOR STARTED CLIMB AS REPORTER

To Speak at High School Auditorium on "Looking at Life Through Freudian Spectacles."

Floyd Dell, who has been described as one of the foremost of the younger American literary generation, will come here next Monday as the second of the lecturers who are appearing under the auspices of the English department. Mr. Dell's topic will be "Looking at Life Through Freudian Spectacles."

Began Career as a Poet

Mr. Dell began his literary career as a poet, and his economic career as a factory hand, leaving to go to work at the age of 16. "It was made inevitable that I should become a writer," Mr. Dell confesses, "by my gradual expulsion at an early age from most other ways of making a living." A journalistic career was the opening, and after several years as a reporter on small town papers, he went to Chicago, where at the age of 23, he became literary editor of the Chicago Evening Post, building the book section of that paper into one of the liveliest and most stimulating in the country.

Mr. Dell numbers among his published novels, "Moon-Call," "The Briary Bush," "Janet March," and "Runaway." Mr. Dell is a frequent contributor to the higher grade periodicals, and has edited The Masses and The Liberator in New York. He is also a playwright of distinction, with a number of one-act productions to his credit.

JOYCE PRIZE CONTEST OPEN

H. G. Merriam, head of the English department, has announced the provisions of the annual Annie Lewis Joyce Memorial prize.

This prize is to be awarded on recommendation of the English department and consists of the proceeds from the Joyce endowment of $200. The award is to be bestowed in the form of a medal, or otherwise at the option of the winner.

For 1927-28 there will be an open contest, and contestants may submit a sketch, an essay, a short story, a drama or a poem. Any contestant may submit as many as three sketches.

There is no suggestion made as to the length of whatever is submitted and the award will be made for quality in conception, thought, imagination, and presentation of material. Three typewritten copies of the manuscript must be left with the chairman of the English department on or before Monday, April 16. The manuscript must bear an assumed name, the writer's real name to be enclosed in an envelope bearing the assumed name.

The judges of this contest will be the Journalism faculty, English faculty, Prof. W. G. Bateman, Mrs. C. H. Clapp and French Ferguson. Last year the award was won by Dorothy Marie Johnson Peterkin with her story, "One Came Back."

Co-ed Serenaders Perform for Men

The president declared that this is nothing about which to become alarmed, for the students are showing their sincerity in the manner in which they attack their problems of life.

MONTANA MASQUERS TAKE NEW MEMBERS

Seven new members were initiated into the Montana Masquers at the Little theater, Sunday morning. The new members are Mildred Gullidge, Dorothy Wirth, Alice Johnson, Harold Sylten, Delos Thorson and Billie Kester.

As part of the initiation ceremonies the new members were given ten minutes in which to prepare and produce a one-act skit. A pantomime version of "Riders to the Sea," was the result.

Thursday evening Rhea Traver and Lillian Bell will broadcast over KUOM George Middleton's one-act play "The Groove."

GERTRUDE WHITE ELECTED TREASURER OF THETA SIGS

Members of Theta Sigma Phi women's national honorary journalism fraternity elected Gertrude White of Hamilton, treasurer of the group to fill the vacancy which will be left by Althea Castle, who graduates this quarter. The Theta Sigs met Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Journalism Shack and discussed plans for Campus Rappings, a razz sheet which is published on Aber Day.

Students May Have Names on Sentinel

All those wishing to have their names engraved on their copy of the 1928 Sentinel are urged to make arrangements at the Sentinel office in the Journalism shack at once.

The Sentinel office is open any afternoon after 3 o'clock for this purpose. This is a very unusual opportunity for the students to receive such an additional feature for extra charge of only fifty cents, Douglas Thomas, editor, says.

This opportunity is open for a limited time only, as the work on the covers is almost ready for the engravers.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY EDUCATIONAL CLUB

Members of the Education club held a meeting last night in Room 202 of Main hall, at 8 o'clock. A business session was followed by a social session and entertainment.

New officers were elected, following the resignation of others who have accepted teaching positions for the spring quarter. New officers are W. J. Abbott, chairman; R. E. Olson, vice-chairman, and Mrs. E. J. Scheid, secretary-treasurer.

A presentation of an old-fashioned schoolroom by members of the club furnished entertainment. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

ELIZABETH FLOOD TO TALK BEFORE PHI MU EPSILON

Elizabeth Flood, a graduate in mathematics, will speak before Phi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics fraternity, at a meeting to be held Wednesday evening in Craig hall, "Oglenby's Method of the Solution of the Quadratic, Cubic, Biquadratic Equations" will be her subject.

STATE MAY AID BEST STUDENTS IN FUTURE

Princeton, N. J.—(IP)—Only one hundred out of one thousand college undergraduates today can be said to be religiously minded, according to President Ernest Hatch Wilkins, of Oberlin college, who gave the opening address at the gathering of college presidents here recently to discuss the problem of undergraduate religion.

According to Wilkins, ten per cent of the student body feels itself definitely opposed to religion, eight per cent cares little one way or the other, and ten per cent are "religiously minded."

The president declared that this is nothing about which to become alarmed, for the students are showing their sincerity in the manner in which they attack their problems of life.

SCHOOLS DISAGREE

Amherst, Mass.—(IP)—A dispute is taking place between Amherst and Wesleyan university on the question of allowing Wesleyan equal rights to late season games on the Amherst schedule with Williams, Amherst's traditional rival. Amherst, Wesleyan and Williams are commonly called the Little Big Three of New England, and a championship in football is played off by them each year.

STUDENTS TO VOTE ON INCORPORATION

QUESTION BOX

Editor's Note: From now until election time the Kaimin will run a Question Box to which students desiring information on the proposed increase in fees may send their questions. The Kaimin welcomes communications, both pro and con. Questions and communications may be left at the telephone booth, in care of the Kaimin, or at the Kaimin office.

QUESTION: What will take care of the upkeep of the Student Union building?

ANSWER: The state will furnish heat, lights and janitor service. There will be practically no other expense for upkeep for the first five or ten years. After that the principal will be reduced enough to allow a certain per cent of the revenue to go to provide for upkeep.

QUESTION: Over what period of time will the bonds extend?

ANSWER: The bonds will be retired as quickly as possible. They will probably extend over a period of 20 years.

KUOM BROADCASTS RADIO CODE LESSONS

"The Groove," a one-act play by Middleton, will be broadcast over KUOM, Thursday night. The cast of this play is Lillian Bell and Rhea Traver. An added feature of the program will be instruction in Radiotelegraph code. These lessons will be given over a period of several weeks. Another series of educational talks will be started this week under the topic "Psychology for Parents." Prof. Clifford H. Reidel of the Fine Arts department has prepared a monthly review of art magazines which will also be contained in the Thursday night program.

STUDENTS TRY PROF WHO DISOBEYS RULE

Columbus, Ohio.—(IP)—Prof. Harold R. Walley, of the Department of English at Ohio State university, has the distinction of being the first regular faculty member to be haled into the Ohio State undergraduate traffic court.

He was summoned into court on a parking charge. His explanation was that he never could find a place to park when coming to his class, and that he inadvertently parked at a spot which was supposed to be left clear for the junk man's cart.

The student court mildly reprimanded the professor, and let him off without a fine.

MICHIGAN STUDENTS MUST DO PREP WORK

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(IP)—Students graduating from high school no longer will be allowed to enter any of the professional schools at the University of Michigan until they have had at least two years of preparatory college work, according to action which is to be taken by the faculty and regents of the university.

The new ruling will create a university college, in which aspiring liberal arts, medical, law, or engineering students must take at least two years before entering the regular colleges. The ruling changes the college of literature, science and arts to the status of a professional school so that it will fall under the proper category.

The ruling does not change the entrance requirements of the medical and law schools, however, for at present an A. B. degree is required for entrance to them.

JOBS NOT SO GOOD

Columbus, Ohio.—(IP)—President Rightmire, of Ohio State university, has issued a warning to students to consider from all angles any summer agency jobs offered them this spring. Many of the jobs offered are worse than no job at all, he says.

WILL BALLOT DURING EXAMS

Popular Vote Will Decide Question of Raising Activity Fees

Students of the University will have an opportunity to express their written opinions upon the questions of incorporation of the student body and raising the student activity fees, Wednesday and Thursday of examination week, according to a statement made by Mike Thomas, president of the ASUM, last night.

Formal Balloting in Gymnasium

Formal balloting will take place in the Men's gymnasium, where a ballot box will be installed. The ballots will be in two parts, to enable the voters to express separate opinions on the two projects in question. Students may vote "yes" to both questions, or "yes" to one and "no" to the other. The vote is being taken because of the favorable expression of opinion given by students who attended the convocation last week, President Thomas declared.

If the students vote to increase the student fees $2.50 a quarter, the matter will be referred to the State Board of Education, which meets in April. The board will investigate the desirability of the proposed increase and either sanction or disapprove it.

Dual Plan Outlined

The dual plan, as explained at the convocation, provides for incorporation of the student body, an increase of $2.50 in the student activity fee, and construction of a Student Union building with lounge rooms, auditorium, offices, ballroom, and other features for the accommodation of the students. The benefits of incorporation, President Thomas explained at the convocation, would be numerous. In the first place, stability of the student body would be insured, and the Student Union building loan could be floated more easily. Incorporation would also facilitate the acceptance of endowments from prominent alumni or other interested persons.

Aid Athletic Department

Coach Jim Stewart explained that increase in the student fees would help the athletic department very materially, and permit the arrangement of more home games. In the present situation, Coach Stewart declared, it is necessary to schedule many games away from home to make expenses.

James Morrow, ASUM business manager, stated that the increase in fees is necessary to finance the construction of the Student Union building. He outlined a plan by which the present ASUM reserve funds, together with the earnings of the student store and increased fees, could be used to construct the building and pay off the principal, which is estimated at $150,000.

Better Lecture Series Possible

Other benefits which would result from the increase in fees were outlined by Doug Thomas, editor of the Sentinel, and Prof. E. L. Freeman, of the English department. Thomas pointed out that with the Sentinel's share of the fees, a better year-book could be produced for the students, and Professor Freeman said that important lecture courses, concerts, and other entertainments of a like nature would be made available to the student body either free or for a very small charge.

PROMINENT STUDENT SUSPENDED AT OBERLIN

Oberlin, Ohio.—(IP)—A prominent student, whose name was not revealed by college authorities, but who was understood to have gone almost entirely through four years of college in three years, and who had been the recipient of high scholastic honors here and elsewhere, was suspended indefinitely from the college this week when it was learned that he had been drinking at a dance at Western Reserve university in Cleveland. The Oberlin college rule against drinking, officials declared, holds, no matter where the student drinks.

Labor

COLLEGE students in spite of their opportunities are often quite immune to any liberal ideas or any change in their point of view. Provincialism survives an education in all too many cases.

The average college student has little comprehension of the social problems of his day and what is even more discouraging is the fact that he all too often lacks any indication of a desire to understand the world in which he is living. Yet there are signs which give promise of a change, of at least a wholesome infusion of understanding and sympathy in with the prevailing materialism and a desire for success, as it is popularly known.

The increasing numbers with which college students are entering industry during their vacation period with the avowed purpose of learning first hand the things with which the laboring man has to contend is a movement that is not without promise for the future. Such a method of study is certainly a scientific approach and its further adoption would go a long way toward supplementing a text book approach.

This is only one of the many opportunities which are open to the student to widen his point of view. In fact the opportunities are so numerous that the lack of a wide point of view and a variety of interests on the part of a college student is almost inexcusable.

Plato when he said that he thanked God that he was born Greek and not Barbarian, freeman and not slave, man and not woman, and above all that he was born in the age of Socrates was only setting an example that every modern might follow of being thankful for the high privilege that is his for living in his day.

—Willamette Collegian.

Maybe 'Tis ??? May be Taint!

Women have a sense of humor, provided that they are not the object of the joke.

We heard that a wooden shoe was dexterously hurled at the Theta serenaders, while they were vocalizing before one of the fraternity houses, Saturday night. That's a case of shooting the chickens away.

The proposed union building has raised more storms of comment than any campus project this quarter. The Kaimin has welcomed communications pro and con the subject. After all, the communication box is a good exhaust valve and common meeting ground for all students. The proposition needs careful deliberation and thoughtful decision.

BLONDS PREFERRED

If the ASUM incorporates, does that make the students common or preferred stock?

Ex-Co-ed hasn't written for Wootze Bird and the other campus birds for—well—quite some while. We understand that she has one of the biggest and most responsible jobs of Montana State, but we do love her verse.

OUR ESTEEMED CONTEMPORARIES

We forgot to tell you last time, but the following headline in the Daily Sentinel is too good to pass by: "Tongue War Breaks Out in Mexicali." One of those dialectic affairs, we presume.

One Joe Kollitch thought he had spring fever, but alas! 'twas only barbers' itch.

VOCATIONAL ADVICE

"Teaching school is a much better job for a girl just out of college than, for instance, working in a newspaper office."—from an editorial in the Sentinel.

The theory is that after a girl's taught school for a few years, she'll be ready for anything, as, for instance, working in a newspaper office.

Another instance of parasitism is the columnist who waits for a headline writer to make a mistake. (Thanks to D. C.)

The true parasite (biology department to the contrary notwithstanding) is the man who goes through the revolving doors at the Florence without doing his share of pushing.

AMBITION

"Behold us" said the weary tramp, "We're literary fellows; And we'd give anything to lamp A few of the best cellars."

REVIEWS

Cat Tales from the Pockets of the Happy Giant.

By Ethel and Frank Owen. Abington Press. $1.00.

"Cat Tales from the Pockets of the Happy Giant," is an attempt to give the small child a book which is not palpably impossible, as were those lovely old fairy tales of Hans Christian Andersen, and yet which flavors its moralizing with a touch of fancy. As a result it lacks the delicate make-believe of some other modern story books for children, as Kenneth Graham's "The Wind in the Willows," and the charming reality of A. A. Milne's books.

In spirit the Happy Giant bears resemblance to the ever-popular Pollyanna. Each of his cat tales is a beautifully sugar-coated moral lesson for the growing child. Although the dedication is addressed to four children still the authors have failed to realize that their story is suited only to the intellect of the very small child, and that in such a case many of their words are not understandable.

The two tales of little Chinese boys are rather delightful, however, and an attractive picture of China and some of its customs is given to the reader.

There are three full-page colored illustrations by George T. Tobin, which are most attractive and appealing.

"Jalna."

By Mazo de la Roche. Little & Brown. $2.50.

There is a genuine talent for especially creating the characters of old persons, not unlike that of Hugh Walpole, which fascinates the reader and repels him by the very realism of the individuals.

Essentially, this is a story of a place, not of persons, although about this Canadian estate are entwined the destinies of several different people.

The same grotesqueness of the zoomorphism of Algernon Blackwood looms before the reader as soon as the full realization of the part Canadian estate plays in the collective lives of the persons upon it. This is not the author's first novel, but it is her best—thus far.

Palo Alto, Cal.—(IP)—Frank Sauliere, junior at Stanford university, has refused appointments to both the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, and to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Such action, it is believed, is unique, and it is rare that a student ever refuses an appointment to either one of the national military institutions.

Sauliere, who saw active service in the World war, says that he prefers to continue his studies in law, a career which he anticipates.

AN ADDITION TO CAMEL SMOKE-LORE

WE SUBMIT the sad case of the freshman in zoology, who, when asked to describe a camel, said, "A camel is what you wish you were smoking while you try to think of the right answers." He flunked zoology—but he knew his cigarettes. For in time of trial or time of joy, there's no friend like Camels.

The subtle influences of choice tobaccos upon the smoke-spots of mankind have been carefully studied, identified, and blended smoothly into Camels—the finest of cigarettes. And we'll bet an alkafitch on this: Camels have just the taste and aroma to pack your smoke-spot with the "fill-fullment" every experienced smoker seeks. Got an alkafitch you want to lose?

The Great Northern Electrification

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

SKYWARD from Skykomish climbs the Great Northern in Western Washington—up twenty miles of 2.2 per cent grade, around sharp 10-degree curves, scaling the Cascade Mountains, at an elevation of 3000 feet. The new 7¾ mile electrified Cascade Tunnel, now building, will be the longest railroad tunnel in America. Besides shortening the present route 7¼ miles, it will bring the maximum elevation below the level of excessive snowfall. Preliminary to its construction, and as an earlier step in the ultimate electrification of all trans-Cascade trackage, the section between Skykomish and the entrance to the present tunnel was electrified in 1925.

The big jobs go to big organizations. Westinghouse attracts young men of enterprise and genius because it daily provides facilities and opportunities which smaller companies can seldom offer.

A noteworthy feature of the Great Northern electrification is the use of motor-generator electric locomotives. These new-type locomotives draw high-voltage alternating-current power from the wire and convert it, on the locomotive, into low-voltage direct-current power for the driving motors. This system eliminates the need of sub-station power-converting equipment along the railroad right-of-way.

SCRIBES DOWN LAWYER QUINT

Foresters Win from Arts and Science Hoop Team

Winning a fast game from the Lawyers by virtue of six points accumulated in an extra period, the Journalist basketball quint hung up their first victory and thereby weakened their bid for the cellar position in the Inter-college basketball race.

In the second game played yesterday afternoon in the University gymnasium the rejuvenated Foresters triumphed over the team from the college of Arts and Science 24 to 9, and strengthened their hold on second place. The defeat suffered by the Arts and Science squad places them in a tie for last place with the Journalists, while the Lawyers, with one more game to play, are just a game ahead of the two cellar teams.

Thursday afternoon, the Forestry and Law students will tangle for the final game of the season. Both teams have something to lose and something to gain. A defeat for the Foresters will place them in a tie for second place with the Pharmacy school. A defeat for the Lawyers puts them into a triple tie for last with the Arts and Science and Journalists. A win will place the Law team in fourth place.

On the Campus

Nibs Egan, ex '29, has returned to the campus and expects to enter school next quarter.

Sunday dinner guests at the Sigma Nu house were: Lee Merrill, Rhea Traver, Jane Johnson, Pauline Astle, Opal Hughes, Roland Mulchay, Alice McClernan, and Kitty Quigley.

"Rusty" Rule, a former student, was a week end visitor at the Sigma Nu house. He left last night for Spokane where he is employed.

Leonard Brewer, '29, had his tonsils removed last Friday.

Harold Dean spent the week end at his home in Plains.

Carl Ross has returned to classes after a week's illness.

Dub Murray was absent from classes last week on account of an abscessed tooth.

Mrs. J. E. Swindlehurst will leave today for Livingston. She has been visiting her daughter, Ida Duke, for the past week.

Mrs. Wallace, who will be remembered as Ella May Danaher, is visiting at the Delta Gamma house this week.

Solvey Andreson and Milly Offstedahl were the dinner guests of Virginia Daily at North hall, Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bennett of the Episcopal church were the hosts to eight University girls at their home, 724 Gerald avenue, Sunday evening.

"The purpose of this meeting was to give an opportunity for the girls of the Episcopal faith to become better acquainted," said Mrs. Bennett. Those present were Marcia Patterson, Helen Castle, Helen Owens, Olga Hammer, Marion Hart, Alene and Ethlyn Fowler, and Elizabeth Crow.

COLLEGE HEAD TALKS ON STUDENT RELIGION

Minneapolis, Minn.—(IP)—That the university of the future will support its finest students at the expense of the state is the belief of Prof. J. M. Thomas, assistant dean of the senior college at the University of Minnesota.

The plan of awarding scholarships of material value to those high school students who had high honors in their work was instituted at the university last fall, and is declared by Dean Thomas to be a step in the direction he is heading.

COMPREHENSION TESTS GIVEN TO SENIORS IN PLACE OF FINAL EXAMS

Easton, Pa.—(IP)—Under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, seniors in practically all Pennsylvania colleges will be given comprehensive examinations covering all fields of knowledge toward the end of the year in place of their regular final examinations.

The seniors who have not a grade of "C" or better in their courses will be required to take a final. Otherwise the taking of the final will be optional with the near-graduate.

STUDENTS HANDLE SERVICES

South Hadley, Mass.—(IP)—The faculty of Mount Holyoke college has turned the regular chapel services for the remainder of the year over to the students, to handle as they see fit.

I am a veteran of the Edgeworth rmy, still in active service. I make this claim, challenging all others, to have smoked Edgeworth and nothing else but Edgeworth (who was possible to get it) for a long period than any other person with the scope of your territory.

I have smoked Edgeworth for twenty-one years and will soon star at the twenty-second.

I'll admit to having tried other brands, including so-called high-class, high-priced blends and mixtures, enough to appreciate and satisfy myself of the superiority of Edgeworth.

In all these years I have never had one can of Edgeworth that varied in flavor or otherwise.

Yours very truly,
