THE MONTANA KAIMIN

STATE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA, MISSOULA, MONTANA

FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1928

VOLUME XXVII. NUMBER 42

HOOVER LEADS IN PRESIDENTIAL STRAW BALLOT

Kaimin Now Appears With Eight Columns

ORGANIZED IN 1898; PIXLEY FIRST EDITOR

Kaimin Has Grown from Two Page Magazine to Four Page Semi-Weekly

With this issue another mile post has been reached in the growth of the Montana Kaimin. For the first time in its history it appears today as an eight column sheet. Each column is an inch longer, making a total of about five and a half inches more space than formerly. This change in the size of the Kaimin comes as a result of the acquisition of the new Duplex press at the plant of The New Northwest. The installation of this huge press required two weeks of work. The work has just been completed.

Kaimin in 30th Year
For 30 years the Kaimin has been published on the campus of the University of Montana. Back in 1898 when the University was its infancy, being then three years old, the idea of a school publication had its inception. At that time a committee consisting of M. Elrod, W. M. Aber, and Eunice Hubbell, which had been appointed to look into the question of establishing a student publication, submitted a report recommending the creation of a paper under the management and control of a staff of six editors. These were an editor-in-chief chosen annually at the close of the college year by the faculty; two literary editors; a local editor, and an exchange editor chosen for the quality of their work.

A business manager was chosen the editor-in-chief and the four associate editors. The staff was to sum all financial responsibility, any deficit or share any profits at might be incurred.

Origin of Title

Following the general plan, suggested by the faculty committee, the first issue of the school publication appeared three weeks before the close of the school year ending June 1898, bearing the name Kaimin, a Flathead Indian word meaning something written.

The 30 years of the Kaimin's existence have witnessed its gradual evolution from a literary magazine published eight times a year, to a local college newspaper published as a semi-weekly.

Montana Debater

Pauline Astle, '29, who with Lorraine Jones, '30, will meet the College of the Pacific team.

CO-ED TEAMS DEBATE HERE

College of the Pacific Opposes University Team Sunday

Women's debate team composed of Lorraine Jones and Pauline Astle will meet a women's squad from the College of the Pacific, Stockton, Cal., Sunday evening in the University church. The question for debate will be: "Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect by armed force capital in foreign nations."

The College of the Pacific will be represented by Lucille Threlfall and Elizabeth Evans, who will uphold the negative of the question. Miss Threlfall and Miss Evans are both members of Phi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity, and are en route to the national convention of that organization. On their way they are meeting teams from several of the outstanding schools of the country in forensic activity. Among the schools on their itinerary are Willamette college, Linfield college, University of Montana, North Dakota State Normal of Valley City, N. D., Marquette University, Wittenburg college, University of Arizona, and Pomona college.

Miss Jones has debated two years for the University, and Miss Astle is now entering upon her third year as a varsity squad member. The meeting here will be a no-decision affair and the open forum will be employed. Last year a men's team representing the University defeated a College of the Pacific squad at Stockton.

STUDENT ART EXHIBIT ON DISPLAY SUNDAY

What is described by Prof. C. H. Riedel as the best exhibit of student work yet to be shown in the Fine Arts department is now being put in place in Room 302, Main hall, and will be open to the public Sunday, March 25. The exhibit consists of 500 pieces selected from the 5,000 that were done by winter quarter students in the various classes in art.

A study in color theory consisting of several thousand experiments by the elementary design class is an interesting feature of the exhibit. Stage settings, murals, and cover designs made by the advanced design students are also to be included in the display. Self portraits in oils and portraits from the model by the advanced class will be shown, as well as work by the elementary drawing and history of art and advertising classes.

This exhibit will be open all week and will be followed by several other interesting exhibitions, among which is one by Missoula's artist, the late, E. S. Paxson, according to Professor Riedel.

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT OFFERS PROTOZOLOGY

Protozoology is again being taught by the Biology department, after being discontinued for a period of two years. Miss Leona Baumgartner is the instructor.

Most of the course will be devoted to the study of protozoan life in local streams and ponds. Permanent charts and plates will be prepared and records kept of the forms found.

College of the Pacific Debaters

Lucille Threlfall, '29, and Elizabeth Evans, '28, will meet Montana's co-ed debate team Sunday evening at the University church.

Students Approve Increase In Fees

VOTE FAVORS INCORPORATION

Will Submit Plans to State Board of Education for Approval

Five hundred twenty students of the University expressed their approval of the plan to incorporate the student body, and 432 students voted to increase the student activity fee to $7.50 per quarter, at the election held during examination week. Two hundred thirty-four votes were recorded against the raise in fee and 169 against incorporation.

Plans Being Compiled
Detailed plans of the project are now being compiled by officials of the ASUM, and these plans will be submitted to the state board of education next month for approval. The state board will make a thorough investigation of the plans and either reject or approve them.

If the plan is approved, the increase in the fees will go into effect next fall, and arrangements will be made to budget the money thus obtained according to the needs of the various student activities. Among the organizations which would benefit by an increase in fees are the athletic department, the Sentinel, Glee clubs, band, and other student organizations. The provision of a fund for lectures, etc., would also be made possible.

Purpose of Incorporation
Incorporation of the student body, as explained in the ballot, would be for the purpose of: (a) obtaining perpetuity and stability; (b) avoiding personal liability; (c) putting the student body in a better position to accept gifts, hold property, etc. The stamp of approval of the student body upon the plan is the culmination of a spirited campaign carried on by Mike Thomas, ASUM president; Jimmy Morrow, ASUM business manager, and other students, among them Fred Ironside.

Two special convocations were called prior to the balloting, and feeling was roused to a high pitch. Students gave their opinions freely for and against the plan, and the library steps were the site of a public discussion at which President Thomas held forth against opponents of the project.

Thomas vs. Ironside "Fight"
Thomas and Ironside, feeling that interest should be stirred even more, staged what has been characterized as the "Umpthigh Battle of the Century," in the Women's gymnasium.

DEBATERS WIN UNANIMOUSLY

Beck and Williams Defeat Marquette Team at Loyola

James Beck and Robert Williams, varsity debaters, revenged themselves upon a Marquette team last night at the Loyola auditorium, when they debated the negative of the question "Resolved, that the United States should cease to protect by armed force, capital invested in foreign lands, except after a formal declaration of war." The decision of the judges, unanimous for Montana, was based on the fact that the Marquette men evaded the question in their argument.

Williams and Beck were defeated by the Marquette duo while they were making their Eastern tour, from which they recently returned.

Marquette Team

The Marquette team was composed of Herman F. Geske, a member of the Liberal Arts college, and Major Younce. Mr. Geske is a member of Phi Chi Psi, social fraternity. Theta Rho, all-university honorary debate society, and the Oxford Union. He debated against Cambridge university in 1927, and on the Marquette varsity debate team since 1926. He was president of the local debate club at Marquette in 1926, and was captain of the varsity fencing squad. Mr. Younce is also a prominent student at Marquette.

Annual Northwest Tour

The appearance of the Marquette team here was part of their annual Northwest tour, and is the climax of three years of intensive intercollegiate forensic activity. The first ambitious interscholastic schedule was not started at Marquette until 1925, when a great many colleges and universities, including Cambridge, were met. The first extended tour, through the West and Southwest, was also held in that year, and a total of 16 debates with other institutions was participated in. Last year the University of Australia was among the schools met. Two teams were also sent to invade the Eastern states and Canada. This year another debate is scheduled with Cambridge, while other teams of this country are being debated. The Northwest tour started March 14.

Other Schools Met

Schools other than Montana which are being met include Creighton, Colorado college, University of Denver, University of Wyoming, Montana State college, Gonzaga University of Idaho, Washington State college, Oregon State college, Reed college, University of North Dakota.

The decision in last night's debate was rendered by three judges, M. R. Marshall, State legislator; Charles Haynes, principal of the Central school here, and Frank Kelly, debate coach at the Missoula high school. Mr. Kelly acted as foreman of the judges and read the reasons of the judges for the decision rendered. President C. H. Clapp presided.

Montana Meets St. Charles

A Montana team composed of Edward Pool and Robert Young was also in action last night, meeting the Mount St. Charles team at Helena. The question was the same as that debated against Marquette, and Montana had the negative. It was the first time in three years that the two schools have competed against each other in the forensic field.

Montana Meets Weber College

Williams and Beck will debate again this afternoon against Frank Rool and J. Frank Robinson, of Weber college, Ogden, Utah. The question will be the same as that debated last night, and the Montana team will again have the negative.

The meeting will be held in the high school auditorium, and a committee of high school faculty members will act as judges. This will be the first time Montana has met a Weber college team. A return debate will be held at Ogden during the early part of April. The Weber college team is now engaged in a Northwest tour, and will meet 25 schools, according to advices received by N. B. Beck, debate coach.

CHINESE PLAY TO BE GIVEN

"The Color Line," by Irene Taylor MacMair, will be presented by the Student Fellowship group at the Little Theater, April 13 and 14. The play deals with the problems of a Chinese student at a typical American university. According to W. L. Young, head of the School of Religion, this play has proved a great success wherever it has been presented.

Marjorie Billings, president of the Student Fellowship, who saw the play presented before 3,500 students assembled at the Student Volunteer Movement convention at Detroit in January with the author, Irene Taylor MacMair in the leading role, said the presentation was very favorably received.

The Following members of the group are cast:

Robert Mario—Chun, Chinese student.
Harold Gunn—Stanley Preston, ROTC officer.
Jennie Donaldson—Wanda.
Emma Neffner—Barbara MacLean, Missionary's daughter.
Marjorie Billings—Miss King, stenographer.
Earl Carleton—Lawson, president of the University.
Besides the presentation of this play a musical program is to be given.

SOPHOMORES TO BE GUESTS AT FRESHMAN HOP TONIGHT

Hatchet Will Be Buried at Annual Affair This Evening

Freshmen and sophomores will bury the hatchet when they get together at the annual Frosh-Soph dance to be held at the Elite hall tonight.

That is to all appearances they will bury the hatchet; but reports say that it will be a royal struggle never the less and many's the fair-cow who knows it.

Upper classmen are invited provided they have the necessary dollar or a ticket, which may be secured at Main hall.

MAJORITY OF UNIVERSITIES VOTE SIMILAR

Hodges and Graham Also Have a Booster Apiece

Though there is some possibility that the ballots to be cast today and tomorrow will change the returns of the students' vote for presidential possibilities to some extent, it is apparent that Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith are the leading contenders from the college standpoint.

Up to last night the total returns of the student vote were as follows:

Herbert Hoover (R)	133
Alfred E. Smith (D)	72
Thomas J. Walsh (D)	71
Charles Dawes (R)	56
Frank O. Lowden (R)	20
Charles Curtis (R)	1
James Reed (D)	1
A. C. Ritchie (D)	1
R. B. Willis (R)	1
Calvin Coolidge (R)	1
William MacAdoo (D)	1

Hoover Favored

Judging from the returns of leading Eastern universities and colleges, the students at this University agree wholeheartedly that the secret of commerce is the logical choice of the Republican party at its forthcoming convention in Kansas City, Middlebury, Yale and Cincinnati are among the schools that have expressed their approval of Herbert Hoover as the next president of the United States. Brown university, however, through the editorial columns of the Brown Daily Herald has come out very emphatically for Charles Evans Hughes, which is to be expected, considering that he is one of their noted alumni.

Oregon and Stanford for Hoover

In the West, Oregon has added to Hoover's ever-growing strength in the college straw vote. Stanford university, which has high hopes of becoming the alma mater of a president, will dedicate its 1928 year book to its most prominent alumnus, Herbert Hoover.

Two students, probably under impression that both parties need new material that will lead them to greater glories, cast their ballots for Bus Graham and Teddy Hodges. There is a possibility that the gentlemen so honored will not choose to run, but if the voters of this great commonwealth make their appearance enough the result probably will be surprising.

MASQUERS TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR SPRING QUARTER PLAYS

The Inspector General Chosen as Major Production

Try-outs for spring quarter productions of the Masquers will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, 7:15 is evening, and Saturday morning beginning at 9 o'clock.

Be Presented May 23, 25 and 26
Nicolay Gogol's "The Inspector General" has been chosen by William Angus, director of dramatics, for the spring quarter. This will be presented at the Little Theater May 23 and 26. In speaking of the play, Mr. Angus said, "I am going that a large number will be out as 'The Inspector General' calls for 25 characters besides extras. We are in special need of men. The spring productions will contain a large number of small parts which will give a number of untried players an opportunity to reveal their ability for the future."

As part of the program of the Rotary club's Annual Ladies night, to be held at the Florence hotel, the Masquers will present Edward Staadt's "Cabbages," regarded by critics as one of the best one-act comedies.

One Act to Be Given

A bill of one-act plays will be given at the Little Theater, April 25. These plays have not been chosen as yet. According to Mr. Angus it is very probable that either this bill of one-act plays or the major production will be taken on tour up the Bitter Root and Flathead valleys.

STUDENTS MAY JOIN GARDEN CITY CLUB

First and Second Year Students
Taking Golf Will Be Given Credit

University students are to be given a chance to join the Garden City Golf club this spring, according to Professor E. A. Atkinson, president of the organization. All those wishing to join must buy a season ticket which allows them the privilege of playing on the Garden City course.
The rate made to University students for season tickets is $5.
Physical Education Credits Freshmen and sophomores taking advantage of this offer will be given Physical Education credit. The class for women is limited to 12 and has already been filled. Other women, however, may play, but they will not receive credit for it. The class for men is unlimited. Students who desire tickets may get them from Mary Laux, Harry Adams, Kirk
Badgley, or Professor Atkinson, Ames, and Ramskill.

Several university golf tournaments have been planned including a university open, a novice, and a handicap tourney. All these meets will be held on the Garden City course. An interscholastic tournament is planned in connection with the Interscholastic Track meet. This tourney will be played on Thursday and Friday mornings between 8:30 and 12:00. Livingston, Helena, and Deer Lodge have already entered one player each and Missoula high school has entered two. If there is enough interest, there will be an inter-college tournament.
In the open and novice tournaments, the intra-mural sports department is giving a medal for first place. There will also be a medal for second place in the open tournament. Morris McCollum is offering prizes such as golf bags and clubs for the handicap tourney.

Work has been started to put the course in shape for the coming season. It is planned to make this one of the best municipal courses in the state, according to those in charge.
Judson Boon, professional golfer of the Missoula Country club, will spend three days a week on the municipal course and university students may arrange to take lessons from him. Arrangements are also being made to have clubs at the course to rent so that those without equipment may be able to play.

Science building.

She told of her studies for the National Research council, to de-carried on with the aid of 300 full-blooded Indians, and 250 whites.

WINNERS IN PEN CONTEST ANNOUNCED

The Parker Pen company has announced the winners of its recent contest in advertising writing, which it conducted on a national basis among college students. No Montana students participated in the contest.

One of the interesting features of the contest is the fact that three Northwestern university students placed among the first 10. The three students from Northwestern who placed are J. Mercedes Ismond, Evanston, Ill., first prize, $100; William G. Lowman, Evanston, Ill., second, $75, and L. F. Martin, who was awarded a Parker pen as one of seven equal winners. Other schools represented by winners were University of Nebraska, University of Kentucky, Boston university, University of Chicago, and University of Ohio.

Francis Buttlemann from Forsyth has withdrawn from school for this

STAGE SET FOR "M" CLUB TOURNAMENT

RESERVATIONS FOR CO-EDS

Final Bill Offers Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Matches

With all of the elimination contests of the way except two in the fistic section, the "M" Club wrestling, boxing and fencing tournament, which will be staged in the Men's gymnasium at 8:30 sharp March 30, bids to be the best ever staged on the campus, according to witnesses of the elimination contests and judges for the final card.

The final bill will offer 18 rounds of boxing, four major wrestling matches and one fencing match. The contestants in each case are matching brawn against brawn to determine the 1928 campus champions in all the various weights of competition.

The final boxing card will offer in the junior lightweight class a fast and furious mitt-slinging contest between "Scoop" Luke, who has already established his right to compete, and either John McCann or Donald Blakelee, who will be forced to fight a draw match awarded during the preliminary contests in order to decide Luke's opponent. During the preliminary matches in this division, Blakelee, who fought in last year's tournament, battled his way up until the final preliminary bout where he was temporarily stopped by McCann who put up a great fight that won for him a draw. In the lightweight division, Frank Curtis, University champion, will be forced to use all of his talent and speed to successfully defend his title against Pete Cerutte. Cerutte won the right to appear in the finals against Curtis by successfully downing against Curtis by opponent in the preliminary bouts, by using both speed and punch to great advantage. Possibly one of the most hotly contested divisions in the entire boxing card is found in the welterweight division. The final bout will be between Archie Grover and Steve Hanson, two men whose entrance into the ring means blood to the fight fans. Hanson won the right to appear in the finals after one of the toughest battles staged during the preliminary bouts. His opponent was George Larson who proved a surprise to many opponents. In Grover, followers of the fistic are on the campus see a worthwhile artist of the rosin floor. Clever and with plenty of speed and punch this lad will be sure to force the fight and make Hanson extend himself to win or draw. The middleweight division is the one other class that still remains up in the air. Kenneth Davis, last year's crowned champion, will defend his title on the given night and his opponent will be either Marvin Amick or Joseph Lynch. Both Amick and Lynch are worthwhile opponents for Davis and it is unfortunate that the two cannot be placed on the final card, against each other with some other opponent for the champ. In the preliminary bouts Amick proved his ability to hand out a sleep producer by flooring Moore for the count of nine and then putting him away or keeps with a right hook to the jaw. In Lynch there is a worthy opponent for Amick. He is fast, lever on his feet and also has a touch of no mean ability. From all indications it appears that whoever Davis draws for his slugging mate in the final match will be an opponent of no mean ability.

Bob Davis, who is fighting out of his weight, will be forced to exchange punches with John Kamps to decide the champion of the light-heavyweight division. Skilled in the art of infighting, Davis will be a tough little customer for Kamps to deal with. When the two enter the ring it will appear as if a wasp and a slimp, familiar to any followers, have been matched in battle. Whatever the outcome of this division may be it is hard to hope, but one thing is sure, the fight will be fast and furious as both men love to mix things up.

No dispute occurred in the heavy-weight division. Here two powerful boys, both weighing over 200 pounds, were forced to fight it out on account of their size. Peterson is a fighter who carries a powerful wallop, with a massive shoulder to carry it up. His opponent, Carl Walker, is likewise endowed with the ability to out-stuff jolts. If these two boys mix it up, as expected, this bout will itself be worth twice the amount of admission itself.

Victor Stepanoff, wrestling instructor and heavyweight wrestling champion, will not enter the tournament this year because of the advantage gained by coaching the various wrestlers. In commenting on the wrestling events to be staged in conjunction with the card, he had the following to say of this year's rappers: "The wrestlers will this year put on some of the best bouts ever staged, with due credit to previous 'M' club tournaments."

Allen Burke, who wrestled Stepanoff in the finals last year, will find a worthy opponent in Ludwig Polich for the championship in the heavyweight division. Both men are built for wrestling, having plenty of strength and speed. In science they are about on a par, both knowing the major holds, with a smattering of tricks that add materially in living up to a good wrestling bout.

In the 158-pound class, Billie Burke has been matched against Joseph Baty. Both men are fast, know many tricks, and will put on a good show for the fans assembled. Walter Donaldson will find Ryland Walford a mighty mean opponent in the 148-pound class. Although Walford is a lighter man and wrestling out of his class, he is not to be considered lightly, for in the preliminary bouts he showed up exceptionally well in obtaining falls in short time with convincing locks. Donaldson can be depended upon to show class in this division, as he successfully worked his way up in this division by throwing all opponents in good time and with considerable technique. In the 138-pound class Walford, wrestling in his own weight, will find a worthy opponent in Cecil Dunn. Both boys are light, scrappy, and have plenty of pep and go.

In the special fencing bout, Clifford Pettus will match his skill with the foils against Newton Shute, who possesses considerable talent in the sword dance himself. Harry Adams, intra-mural athletic director, will give a medal to the winner of this event. Adams, in speaking of the contestants, said: "The fencers are two of the best ever turned out by the fencing class and should put on a real exhibition of skill."

Gordon Roglien, president of the "M" club, in making his committee appointments for the tournament, chose a special committee to put up and keep reserved a special section for all University women who wish to attend this year's tournament. When asked why he thought this necessary, he said: "There has been considerable talk of having a special section for the co-eds who wish to attend the tourney and it seems to be growing in volume this year. It has always been the aim of the 'M' club to have the co-eds as well as the eds enjoy this event, and we are going to make a special effort this year to obtain a good representation by the women on the campus."

FROTH TRACK STARS TO GET PRIZE AWARDS

CLASS NUMERALS, CUP FOR BEST MARKS

Will Be Given to Those Men Who Fill Requirements; Outstanding High School Tracksters in School.

Class numerals and a silver cup given by Coach Stewart for the most outstanding marks on track or field will be the awards offered by the University of Montana to its froth athletes during the coming track season.

Numerals will be awarded to froth fulfilling any one of the following requirements:

- 100-yard dash, 10 2-5 seconds.
- 220-yard dash, 22 4-5 seconds.
- High hurdles, 16 4-5 seconds.
- Low hurdles, 26 3-5 seconds.
- 440-yard dash, 53 seconds.
- 880-yard dash, 2 minutes 5 seconds.
- 1 mile run, 4 minutes, 45 seconds.
- Two-mile run, 10 minutes 25 seconds.
- High jump, 5 feet 8 inches.
- Broad jump, 20 feet 6 inches.
- Pole vault, 11 feet.
- 16-pound shot put, 39 feet.
- Discus, 155 feet.
- Javelin, 165 feet.

Conjectures as to who will accomplish the above-mentioned feats are vague, as the froth track turnout will not be until Monday. A few of the outstanding interscholastic stars enrolled as freshmen are:

Tom Moore, Phillipsburg, who equalled the state record time in the 220 of 22.8 seconds. Moore also placed second in the 100. John Page, also of Phillipsburg, won the shot-put and discus throw. Jacobson, of Missoula, took both the high and low hurdles in good time, breaking a long-standing record in the latter, and should show up well this year. Bob Davis, of Butte, should do well in the 440, having won that event two years ago.

Coach Milburn Issues Call for Diamond Warriors; Veterans Work Out

Bill Rafferty and Milt Brown Form Nucleus Around Which a Winning Hurling Staff Must Be Constructed

Twelve Varsity battery men drew uniforms and reported to Captain Bill Rafferty for the first outdoor practice Wednesday afternoon. These men have been working out in the gymnasium for some time so as to be in condition when the infielders and outfielders get in action Monday.

Brown and Rafferty
Major Milburn will have two regular mound men from last year's team in Rafferty and Milt Brown. Both of these men are right-handers and carried the bulk of the pitching during the 1927 season. Elmer Dragstedt, "Doc" Brewer and "Swede" Wohl are other veterans.

Among the newcomers is Clarence Coyle who is coming out for the first time in an effort to win a letter in the fourth sport, as he has already won his awards in football, basketball and track. Coyle is a pitcher of considerable experience in city league baseball but has been busy with track the past three seasons.

Yearling Material
Waldo Ekegren, catcher and Dick Robinson, Lefty Powell and George

Tippett, portside hurlers, all played with the froth last year. Bill Kelly, a holdover from the 1928 yearling team, and Sullivan are other moundsmen of ability. Norman Drew, regular catcher during the past two seasons, will be unable to do any receiving next week because of a recent operation for the removal of his tonsils.

Four Home Games
A number of practice tilts will be held with local teams before the Pacific Coast Conference season opens. Idaho will open here with two games May 4 and 5. Following these two games each will be played with Washington State College, May 11 and 12, University of Idaho May 14 and 15, and Gonzaga University May 16 and 17, all away from home. The Grizzlies will wind up the season with Washington State coming here May 21 and 22. Montana State College will not be a baseball team in the field this season.

All eligible men, with baseball experience, are asked to report as soon as possible; battery men immediately and fielders next Monday.

FIFTY ANSWER SPRING CALL FOR FOOTBALL

MONTANA FACES TOUGH 10 GAME SCHEDULE

Men to Receive Four Weeks Training in Fundamentals; Coach Milburn Loses Five 1927 Regulars.

In an effort to get the jump on the weather handicap which has always confronted athletics at the State University, Coach Milburn, gridiron mentor, issued a call for spring football practice Wednesday afternoon. Approximately 50 men answered the call, including former varsity players and promising material from last fall's froth squad.

After four weeks of training on the fundamentals of football, the Grizzly squad will have received enough of the rudiments to carry them over to next fall, when intensive training will commence. Montana will go up against one of the toughest schedules next year that it has had since entering the Pacific Coast conference. Ten games will be played during the season, including five to be played at home.

Five Positions to Be Filled
Coach Milburn will concentrate on filling five positions that will be left vacant by graduation. Whitcomb and Vierhus, two giant tackles on the Grizzly squad for the last three years, will graduate this spring.

leaving the largest hole to fill. Sam Kain, flashy halfback of last year, will leave a noticeable gap, while the loss of Brittenham and Coyle, both regular ends, will be felt. Don Foss and Jim Clark, sophomores and both lettermen of last fall, have dropped out of school this quarter, but both will be back next fall to fight for regular positions.

Prospects Good
Along with the regulars of the past two years and the 30 freshmen of last fall, Coach Milburn will be able to pick one of the best teams that the State University has ever put on the field. Among the freshman prospects are Davis, Thrallkill, Prather, Carpenter, Lyons, Peterson, Stevenson, Yale, Smith, Jones, Monaco, Moore, Page, Amick, Reynolds, Hillman, Watters, Murphy, Mulich, Mayo, McMaken, Centerwall, Keeton, Camps, Dobbeler, Johnson, Williams, Lovell, Carey, Gill, Petherly, Shultz, Parmenter, Murray, Krogh, Manning, Tressell, Peters, Simmons, Goodspeed and Rathert.

1928 Football Schedule
Sept. 28—Centerville Independent club, Butte Hub Independent club, at Missoula.
Oct. 6—Washington State college at Missoula.
Oct. 13—University of Washington at Seattle.
Oct. 20—Montana School of Mines at Missoula.
Oct. 27—Montana State college at Butte.
Nov. 3—Oregon State college at Corvallis.
Nov. 10—To be kept open to allow team to get in good condition for remainder of season.
Nov. 17—University of Idaho at Missoula.
Nov. 24—University of Oregon at Eugene.
Nov. 29—Gonzaga at Spokane.
Elizabeth Hall is teaching school at Novary, Montana.

SLIMNESS IS THE KEYNOTE OF THESE SPRING ENSEMBLES

It is predicted that the ensemble will accomplish success in the world of fashion and from first arrivals—the prophecy certainly holds good. These new models with plain and silken printed frocks and coats of pastel tweeds are invariably becoming to all feminine types.

New Spring Coats

Fashion has decreed that new Spring Coats shall measure their fashion by their slimmness. Rose Taupe, Grey, Tan and Beige are the favored colors.

TRACKMEN REPORT TO COACH STEWART

48 ASPIRANTS TURNING OUT

Ineligibilities May Again Haunt Montana Squad

Varsity track with more than 48 men reporting had the largest turnout for any of the major sports on the campus this spring.

As yet a forecast of the coming season is impossible as training will not start in earnest until Coach Stewart returns Monday from the meeting of the Pacific coast conference officials at Portland.

Wednesday First Day On Track
Wednesday marked the first workout on the cinder track. Previous workouts have been confined to inside work of gymnastics, hardening up muscles and getting in shape. This week, up until Monday, will be spent in limbering up and getting used to outside work. Ineligibilities, always a pre-season boogy, has already presented itself. Hill, a sprinter of great promise, and Reiner, another good man, have been declared out.

Coyle, one of Montana's greatest all around athletes, has put in his last season of track and will be sorely missed.

It is highly improbable that Nelson, a good potential high jumper, will return to school this quarter. If not Montana will need men in that event. But every dark cloud has a silver lining and out of the material on hand Coach Stewart should be able to pick a fairly good team.

Many Veterans Report
High up among the bright spots on the field are Captain Adams, a fine middle distance runner, and Tom Davis, who has been going good in the sprints. Adams, with Tysel as competent running mate, should show his heels to quite a few of the boys this year. Davis, who has been doing 10 seconds consistently, should be able to cut down on his time this year and join the ranks of Montana's truly great sprinters.

Whitcomb, with a little effort in the shot put, should get away big; and with Bessey and Mario on the javelin Montana should have a few points to the good. Miller will take care of the pole vault and K. Davis will look after the mile, and Hanson the two mile.

Lynn Thompson and Tom McCarthy show great promise for a big year. Other men out for track include: Grogh, Graham, Harmon, James, M. Haines, Shultz, J. Wendt, Mowatt, T. Wendt, Garlington, J. Rankin, Huber, Anderson, E. Haines, Martin, Stevingson, Woodworth, K. Ekegren, Keyes, Curtis, Priest, Perey, Burke, Spencer, Ross, Tiernan, Ekegren, S. Larson, Gallagher, S. Wertz, L. Polich, W. Scott, H. B. Miller, Allen, and Ralph Peterson.

TENNIS COURSE AND SWIMMING POPULAR

Tennis is proving one of the most popular courses in women's Physical Education this quarter according to Miss Mary Laux, head of the department. One golf class of twelve students is being conducted this quarter, as well as three in baseball, track and tennis, and six in swimming.

Later in the quarter tournaments will be held in tennis, baseball and track. Students who are not in regular classes and desire to go out for these teams must practice two hours a week. Open hours for practice in baseball are Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 4 o'clock. The tennis courts are available any time when there are no classes. The open hour in swimming is at Tuesdays and Thursdays.
