Mr. Setser received his B. A. at Montana in history in 1925, and his M. A. from Illinois in '26. His problem for his doctor's degree will be on the history of the Near East and modern Europe. Mr. Setser became a member of the Montana faculty in the fall of 1927.

East Lansing, Mich.—I.P.—Because he charged in an unofficial campus publication that the college was a "playground for politics," Roscoe M. Bloss, sophomore in the liberal arts department of Michigan State College, was suspended from school by Acting Dean Robert S. Shaw.

Bloss, the managing editor of a paper published on the campus but unrecognized by college officials, stated editorially that the college was "not a college at all, but a political playground where the college presidency is a bait for party elections, a state institution for governors to practice economy on to cover up grafts elsewhere in the machine."

He queried further in his charges by asking "what can one expect from such a condition where corruption and graft reign—" and that "one could not expect to find many students of an intellectual nature, since they had all been scared away by the political bugaboo and the intellectual atmosphere."

In commenting upon the suspension, Dean Shaw stated that libel and slander would not be tolerated in any college publication.

For the third time since 1920 and for the second year in succession, a short story has won the first prize in the Annie Lewis Joyce Memorial literary contest, it was announced yesterday by Prof. H. G. Merriam, chairman of the English department.

Alice Passano Hancock, a senior in the English department, has been awarded the prize for this year. Haines, also an English major, was given second place with his sketch, "Mike," which appeared in the Frontier for May. Miss Hancock will receive as her prize the interest of a $200 fund.

Twelve judges picked the winners of the contest, and of these Miss Hancock received seven first places. Three second places, a third and a fourth place, giving her the award for first by a wide margin.

Contestants were allowed to submit a sketch, an essay, a short story, a drama, or a poem. The prize was awarded to Miss Hancock because her manuscript was the best in conception, thought, imagination and presentation.

BUSINESS DEMANDS VIGOROUS HEALTH

Minneapolis.—(IP)—More vigorous health is required of the college graduate of today to obtain positions with industrial or business organizations, declared Russell A. Stevenson, dean of the School of Business Administration, University of Minnesota, in an interview with the Minnesota Daily.

Dean Stevenson's opinion is corroborated by Harold S. Diehl, director of student's health service at the University. He asserted that the senior examinations were instituted last year in the students health service for the purpose of acquainting the students with the necessity of improving the state of their health.

Personnel staffs are becoming an increasingly important part of the big business organizations. This part of the organization, which has charge of the employment and working end of the business, is on an equal basis with the other functions of the concern, such as the sales department and production department.

The three divisions of the personnel department are welfare, health and education. The physical examination of prospective employees by a business or industrial concern is a recent development in business efficiency.

Freddie Martin and John Cooney of Butte were week end guests at the Phi Sigma Kappa house.

CHARLESTON KNEE FOUND

New York.—(IP)—The New York Times this week reported that a Paris physician writing in the Comedienne of the City of Light, a periodical devoted to the elevation of the song and dance, condemns the Charleston and Black Bottom from a new point of view. Although exception has been taken to these dances, according to the Times on aesthetic, moral and physical grounds, the doctor goes into detail in condemning them for the last mentioned reason.

He declares that after examining several cases it has been proved that the violent strains these dances impose upon certain ligaments might almost cause them to be tabulated as "dangerous sports." The knee, he says, is especially liable to injury in these dances, principally because they demand of it movements for which it is not fitted from the mechanical viewpoint.

The writer claims that the dances have originated what is coming to be known as "the Charleston knee."

PHARMACY FRESHMAN UNIFORM GRADERS

"This year's freshman class has been more uniform in grades than any group of Pharmacy majors I have had," Dean Mollett said when interviewed by a reporter this morning. They have not predominated in either extreme of the grade curve.

The frosh have also been outstanding in that the secretary, treasurer, and vice-president of the Pharmacy club were filled by members of that class.

The pharmacy school has upheld its end on the honor roll in proportion to the other schools of the campus in that 10 per cent of the total number of students in Pharmacy were on the honor roll.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS SELECT TEACHERS

School superintendents and high school principals were busy selecting from among graduating students, while here last week with their interscholastic meet teams, students who plan on teaching. Some 50 or 60 interviews were conducted. The names of those students who were selected will be presented to the various school boards by these superintendents and principals for acceptance.

Stephen Leacock
Prefers Old Elm
Tree to Cathedral

Monteal, Can.—By N.S.S.—Stephen Leacock, better known as a humorist than as professor of economics at McGill university, was hardly joking when he told University of Pittsburgh students that their Cathedral of Learning, or "high-up" building, as he calls it, is all wrong.

"I should prefer the dream life and elm trees of the old college campus to anything the Cathedral of Learning might offer," he said. "Your campus will be rubber trees on the fiftieth floor and the shaded lanes will be elevator pits."

"I have realized that the world has changed since my youth. When I first heard of the proposed design for the Cathedral of Learning I could hardly believe that so extraordinary a building would be put into actual effect. Now I begin to think that my ideals and those of the older generation will go the same path as prejudices and hates."

"But even up there on the fiftieth floor," Mr. Leacock admitted, "you will be doing characteristic work. We can, like the White Knight in 'Alice in Wonderland,' learn to think upside down if we only know how."

Montana Museum Is Place of Interest

Montana State University has a museum of natural history housed in the Natural Science hall, which is essential to students on Biology and related sciences, furnishing opportunities for better study.

Fish from a small minnow to a sea bass weighing more than 500 pounds, deep-sea fish, reptiles, birds of huge variety, big game heads, myriads of butterflies and insects, sea shells, woods, curios, and many other specimens of animal, reptilian, bird and fish life can be found here.

To secure for the museum a complete collection of western wild animal life is one of the goals of the University, according to Dr. M. J. Elrod, chairman of the Biology department.

SIZE OF AIRPLANES UNLIMITED SAYS PROF

Ithaca, N. Y.—(IP)—"We can make an airplane certainly as large as any practical requirements may indicate," stated Professor W. F. Durand, in a lecture on aeronautics given at Cornell University recently.

"There really is no answer to the question, 'How large can we make an airplane?'" he went on to say.

Durand explained that as the size of a plane is increased, the lifting surface is squared while the weight is cubed. Because of this, there is a limit to the size, but there are various ways of getting around this proportion so as to make a plane that will answer all practical purposes, Durand said.

MASQUES WILL PRESENT "REVIZOR" MAY 23, 24, 26

Paul Kenefick, Harry Hooser, Mary Brennan Cast in Principal Roles

Both the production staff and the cast of "Revizor," the Masques' spring production to be presented at the Little Theater, May 23, 24 and 26, are busy this week getting the sets in shape and putting the final touches on the play.

Beginning yesterday rehearsals are under way for all five acts; working on the play as a whole, and polishing and fitting the five acts together. Each succeeding act becomes more and more amusing working up to a hilarious climax in the final act. The lines and situations are continuously amusing, and the action of the whole play moves forward with a sweep to the final climax. The cast has found the play very amusing and interesting; even the small parts are large contributions and by next Wednesday evening should offer a very creditable spring quarter production.

The production staff began work yesterday in order that the cast may have the sets for the last few rehearsals.

Paul Kenefick will carry the title role, Ivan Aleksandrovich Khlestakov, the supposed official from St. Petersburg. He is somewhat of a bluffer, who thinks that he can carry off a situation with grace, because of an apt tongue. He is a rather clever ne'er-do-well.

Anton Antonovich Skvoznik-Dmukhanovsky, the governor, will be played by Harry Hooser. He is a man grown old in the service and by no means a fool in his own way. He is a rather typical example of the official, who has worked his way up from the lowest rank in the very hardest branch of the government service. "Coarse in his inclinations, he passes rapidly from fear to joy, from servility to arrogance. As for his uniform he makes the most of it, with its resplendent frogs and Hessian boots with spurs."

Mary Brennan is cast in the role of Anna Andreyevna, the governor's wife. Anna Andreyevna is a provincial coquette, approaching middle age, educated on novels and albums and on fussing with household affairs and servants. "Sometimes she gets the upper hand over her husband and he gives in, simply because at the moment he cannot find the right thing to say."

Bradley Addresses
Missoula Kiwanis

Dr. J. H. Bradley, associate professor of geology, spoke last night to the members of the Missoula Kiwanis at a dinner dance held at the Orchard Homes Country club. His subject was "Through the Northwest in Low." This was an illustrated lecture on the features of landscape usually missed by tourists. The pictures included views from the Arctic circle to the California line.

Well Frosh

WITH NEARLY five hundred students registered in the Freshman class, it seems inexcusable that none was on hand to ring the bell following the Grizzly-Bobcat meet Saturday. The ringing of the tower bell is one of Montana's time-honored customs. For years it has served as a means of conveying the news of victory to townspeople and students who had been unable to attend the event. That members of this year's freshman class should have been the first to allow the custom to lapse, is an unfortunate mark on the thus-far excellent record of the class of '31.

Appreciation

TO ROBERT MacKENZIE, retiring editor of the Montana Kaimin, should go the vote of thanks from the student body, for his efforts to carry out the wishes and principles of the school and students. He has worked faithfully and the results are evident as to his ability in his retiring capacity.

The new staff hopes to carry on—working for the best interests of the students, the campus and the university, to an untiring end.

From information received and the number of pamphlets sent out, for the University summer school it looks like a record attendance for the session, June 17 to August 18.

CORBIN HALL IS NEWEST BUILDING ON THE CAMPUS

Adeline Platt Is President; Residences Give Formal Parties

Corbin hall is the newest building on the campus. When Craig hall, the first women's dormitory, became inadequate to hold the increased enrollment, plans were made for the construction of Corbin hall. Active construction work began in the summer of 1926 and the hall was inhabited in January, 1927.

manners and etiquette in general are given during the fall quarter by Anne Platt, assistant professor in Home Economics.

On the first floor are the parlors, director's rooms, infirmary and several girls' rooms. The infirmary is under the supervision of Mrs. Turner and Mrs. A. F. LeClaire, University nurse.

In addition to the girls' rooms on the second floor, a modern laundry is located, giving the girls an opportunity to do their own washing and ironing. The students' individual rooms are furnished with bureaus, clothes closets, rugs, curtains, desks, chairs, beds, mattresses, linen, and running hot and cold water.

Officers and Mrs. Turner Direct Social Life

At the present time there are 83 girls living in the dormitory. Mrs. F. K. Turner is social director and Helen Groff, a graduate of the State University, is assistant director. Officers of the hall, elected by the residents, are: Adeline Platt, of Helena, president; Gertrude Jaqueth, of Kalspell, vice-president; Bessie Wallace, of Butte, secretary; Doris Symons, of Butte, treasurer.

Each spring the residents of Corbin hall elect five girls to act as leaders for the following year. The duties of the leaders are to help the new girls adjust themselves to college life and to aid them wherever possible. The leaders for the present year are: First floor, Rosemond Pedersen, of Savage; second floor, north wing, Annabelle McKenzie, of Havre; south wing, Mary Brennan, of Savage; third floor, north wing, Bessie Wallace, of Butte; south wing, Dale Arnot, of Conrad.

Officers and Mrs. Turner Direct Social Life

Social life at Corbin hall is directed by the officers of the dormitory, working with Mrs. Turner. One formal dance and a formal birthday party are given each quarter. During the winter quarter the other two residence halls on the campus, North and South, cooperate with Corbin hall in giving a series of teas designed to bring the students together in order that they may become better acquainted. The students are assisted by faculty members in giving these teas. This year all the social organizations on the campus were invited to teas. An annual Christmas party is held at Corbin hall. The tree is provided by the University and inexpensive presents are distributed among the girls.

SCIENTISTS TO STUDY FAUNA

Oberlin, Ohio.—(IP)—According to an article in the Daily Mail of Bangkok, two American scientists, Rodolphe Meyer de Schauensee and Tyson Smith, arrived in Siam's capital the middle of March for the purpose of collecting fauna on a commission from the Philadelphia Academy of Sciences. In the article, devoted to their advent, the paper says:

"The fauna of Siam is almost an untouched field so far as the American scientist is concerned," Mr. de Schauensee declared, "yet it is certainly a bird of paradise equal to few others on the face of the globe. But then, we in America are ignorant of so many other things related to Siam. I admit frankly that at home we do not know Siam, but I shall certainly take back a highly favorable impression."

Hello, Folks:

This is just to let you know that I'm back in the show business again for three days only—Today, Wednesday and Thursday. And boy, what a show! William Haines in THE SMART SET. Remember him in SPRING FEVER? Well, he's funnier yet in THE SMART SET, a comedy of youth, love and a polo game. And what's more—the same old crew is back again for the occasion, with Sammie Graham selling tickets at regular prices for this dandy Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture. Better come on down and see the show because it will only be here these three days—
And then we'll be gone, too.

DEATH THROES

By chance, after much scuffling, the hero accidentally got his throat caught between the villain's hands. Like a vise the huge brute slowly choked her hero until his eyes bulged from their sockets. His tongue protruded in a melodramatic manner. Beads of glycerine broke forth on his brow. Suddenly the excited frosh had an idea as he gazed at the horrible scene. "By gosh! That reminds me," he said to himself, "I've got to wear my ROTC suit tomorrow."—Washington Daily.

SPECIAL DELIVERY GREAT TIME SAVER

Ann Arbor.—(IP)—What the present speed mad college generation would do without special delivery is a perplexing problem. Figures recently compiled for the Minnesota Daily at the Ann Arbor post office show that $16,221.90 worth of situations were saved here from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1927.

Probably the most serious of these saved situations had reference to the ever present dirty shirt problem that often becomes acute toward the end of the week. Statistics show that 16,068 pieces of special delivery matter in the 15 cents class (weighing from two to ten pounds) were distributed here last year. Laundry cases fall into this division and comprise practically the whole of it. It is difficult to estimate the number of gaps the special delivery trucks have filled in between the BVD and the date—especially among those who maintain a six or eight shirt circulation between the home washerwoman and the local bureau drawer.

field of local usefulness for the special delivery lies in the 10 cent class, in other words, letters, where 121,617 were distributed here last year. It is a well-known fact, recognized in the better books on etiquette that many correspondence complications can be smoothed over by a ten cent stamp. The special delivery adhesive has come to deliver a special message, open to a number of subtle interpretations, that will help dispel an awkward delay in writing, or prove especially effective on birthday days, anniversaries, etc.

Of the larger parcels weighing more than 10 pounds, for which the government charges 20 cents to handle the delivery, 3,750 were handled here last year.

DEAN STONE RETURNS SOON

Dean of Journalism School
Gave Speech at Missouri
Gathering May 8

Arthur L. Stone, dean of the school of Journalism, will return to Missoula from Missouri tomorrow. Dean Stone represented the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism at the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the foundation of the Missouri school of Journalism. The dean is president of the organization.

Dean Stone left Missoula May 7 for Columbia, Mo. In his address "Trail Blazing," Dean Stone sketched briefly the journalistic history of Montana. In addition to his talk before the Missouri gathering, Dean Stone also principal speaker at a grid-banquet held there May 10. The anniversary celebration at the University of Missouri was attended by many prominent in newspaper circles. Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press; Roy Howard, president of the United Press; and Max Koenigsberg, former president of the International News Service, were among those present.

METROPOLITAN STYLE FAVORED BY STUDENTS

An increase in the importance of that is known as metropolitan style is one of the outstanding developments of the year in this field. The man who was interviewed, the dean of a Fifth Avenue firm which has visited the colleges near New York for many years, said that before in his experience had university students so closely assimilated in their dress the smart city men. Daily campus wear, of course, still is informal, but on "dress-up" occasions or when away on vacation, the students are a great deal of pains with their attire, this observer said.

Peak Lapel Jackets
A peak lapel jacket, according to the authority, fitting well at the waist, had been sold in quantity to students at the institutions he visited. This jacket has two buttons, and is in marked contrast to the loose, rounded-lapel, three-button jacket worn so much previously by these sorts of students. Young men at the universities also achieve attractiveness by the use of English style last season's having narrow lapels and generally trimmer lines in the broad-toed and freak styles sometimes affected by students.

Pastel Colors Favored
Another surprising development in university style is the approval of many eastern students of the half-starched bosom and horizontal stripes. With this it is furnished a separate collar, edged, and matching in color and tone. Pale green, light blue and so, a shade resembling lavender in new this season, have been popular in this type of shirt. Many students wear plain white shirts with starched collars attached, especially when going away from the institution they attend. Recently at the Easter parade of a university taking trains for their spring vacation, was observed. The derby, starched collars, neat shoes and dark, dressy overcoats, all items of smart city man's attire, were in the majority.

WHY NOT

Scientific Fossil Shows Imprint of Peoples Fear

Science hall at the University of Washington would seem to be so, for a plaster cast taken of an ancient fossil shows a perimprint of a Goodrich Silver Cord automobile firms will never get this choice bit of valuable adding, however, because the mark made by a gigantic worm ages Professor Weavers of the geod department explained that the fossil, which must have been about 10 inches in diameter had left its mark in soft mud, then it had been covered with rocks and water until fossilized.

The fossil was discovered in the mud, ocean several years ago, the university received a plaster cast of it. Its scientific title is "Helicospira wilsoni."

TRENCH COATS STYLE MODEL

Officers' trench coats worn during the war are the inspiration for the latest style idea in university circles. Princeton is the scene of the new style's first appearance, but there is a possibility that many other university towns may shortly see a similar development. The fashion in question is the wearing of a whipcord raincoat, with full skirt, fairly short, and very well-fitted around the chest and shoulders. The military collar has an extra piece which buttons across under the neck in bad weather, and a belt is also worn rather high, and snugly drawn up. These coats are of a light tan, olive green or slate gray color.

Design of Coats
The design of these coats is very similar to that of the heavy whipcord garment furnished officers in the army for wear in the trenches and for fatigue duty in bad weather. This garment was known as the trench coat and was copied to a certain service men, pleased with the military snap and practicality of the trench coat, had kept issued garments and used them from time to time as need arose from the exigencies of civilian life.

During the past winter some New York shops offered coats of similar design and many young men found them practical and smart for rainy day wear. It remained for a Fifth Avenue firm to introduce this new popular garment to university circles. On a recent visit to Princeton, representatives of this firm disposed of five hundred of the "trench coats," complete with military collar and belt.

Yellow Slickers Popular
Other rainwear popular at Princeton and the other eastern universities includes the old reliable yellow slicker and its duplicate in black. On the slicker used by eastern university men no decoration now appears beside the owner's initials or monogram.

Raincoats of oiled silk are also used by a few fashion leaders at the eastern schools, but these are in the minority. Another minority practice seen at these universities on rainy days is the use of a slicker which has been cut off short just a little below the bottom of the jacket of the wearer's suit.

AMHERST STUDENTS LIKE BLAZER COATS

Students in all parts of the country are turning to the striped or solid color flannel blazer jacket as a campus and sports wear garment. At Amherst College, which was recently visited by a Daily News Record reporter, a striking example of the gain of this style was observed. Here, where last season the colored flannel jackets were not seen in a single instance, large numbers of fraternity men had adapted the blazer.

Striking Colors
Purple, light and dark blue with gold or red trimmings, emerald green and black were among the colors shown by the solid blazer jackets worn at a baseball game which was coincident with a week end social function at this old New England College which dates its founding to Colonial days. A few of these springy sons of Lord Jeffery Amherst wore striped flannel blazers in dark and light blue shades, combined, but the solid colors were in the majority. With these jackets and with the odd tweed and worsted jackets, suede windbreakers and sweaters worn by informally dressed students on the afternoon of the baseball game, flannel trousers and tweed or flannel knickerbockers were used.

Pullover Sweaters
The black shaker knit pullover sweater, with crew neck, was worn by many of the Amherst men observed. With this garment gray flannel trousers and black and white sport shoes were frequently seen. Plain white, blue and green pullover sweaters also were popular with these students, who favored solid colored golf stockings over the Argyle patterns. Amherst men who were in more sedate dress, for the fraternity dances, selected in many cases suits of dark blue worsted, cut in the prevailing university style, the jackets having three buttons. Trousers worn by these men inclined toward nineteen inch bottoms and wider rather than toward the narrower bottoms now popular with the Princeton and Yale students.

EATING EVIL

Eating is the college student's worst vice so far as his health is concerned, according to the university at Ohio Wesleyan.

Richard Callaway of Butte was a guest of his brother, Bob, at the Kappa Sig house during track meet.

Mrs. W. M. Moravetz is a guest of her daughter, Beatrice, at North Hall.

Eleanor Farrell and Dorothy Cowan spent the week end in Butte.

Catharine Barney spent the week end in Helena.

Other Campuses

Providence, R. I.—(IP)—According to the Brown Daily Herald, revenue derived from sales at the Brown university Union is greater from smoking materials than for any other luxury or commodity which the undergraduates purchase from the organization.

According to the Daily about $250 a week is spent by students for tobacco, while a slightly less amount is spent for candy.

Cigarettes lead the list of amudges sold, while pipe tobacco and cigars follow in order. Not enough chewing tobacco is disposed of among the undergraduates to make it worth mentioning, the Herald says.

The standard brands of chocolate are by far the most popular sweets sales.

The average amount spent by each student at Brown for both candy and tobacco amounts to approximately 35 cents.

Chicago—(IP)—"Meet me at the Filling Station" may become a popular campus slogan. The "Fountain Pen Filling Station" invented by Tracy E. Thompson, appears very practical, judging from the fact that seven of the Big Ten colleges have already acquired them.

Ohio State, Indiana, and Illinois are the only three of that group still without them. They are also found at Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Nebraska and many other colleges.

J. C. Dinsmore, purchasing agent of the University of Chicago, was the first to realize its value. He made the first purchase, and now one will find a station at almost every library on the Chicago university campus.

This "filling station" adds ink to our already long list of commodities purchased by way of slot machines. Designed for the convenience of fountain pen users, it holds sufficient ink to fill 600 pens and eliminates the waste and untidiness of the open ink well.

It consists of a chamber and filling cups inclosed in a case composed of metal and hard rubber which stands upon a writing desk or table. As a penny is inserted and a knob turned sufficient ink to fill one pen drops into one of the cups. The pen is loaded from this, a dropper being provided for those pens not equipped with self-fillers.

A wiper attached to a spring reel is pulled out from a slit near the knob for cleaning the pen, and extra ink is poured into a refuse cup from which it runs into a waste chamber.

Syracuse, N. Y.—(IP)—The arguments of the Carnegie Tartan recently, in defense of cramping before examinations, were somewhat refuted recently by Dr. Ross A. Baker, head of the Chemistry department at Syracuse university.

"Cramping," he said, "is unethical. No athlete would begin to train for football half an hour before the game, and mental training is on the same order."

"It is just as crooked for a student to cram his head with innumerable details at the last minute as it is actually to carry written information into the examination room. What is honestly collected is usually of an unimportant nature and will crowd out the fundamental ideas gathered during the whole semester."

"A person of ordinary intelligence," he said, "can not gain by studying madly an hour before the examination." It is all wrong, he thinks, to fill one's mind with various new facts hopelessly jumbled. Acting on this belief, Dr. Baker said, according to the Syracuse Daily Sun, the Chemistry department proceeded to make out examinations for which cramming would be impossible.

University of California students earned $1,000,000 in 1927 by holding all jobs from professor's assistants to janitors. Stanford, California, and St. Mary's combined amounted to $2,000,000 last year.

Washington, D. C.—(IP)—The Smithsonian Institute has received a report from Dr. Andrew Thompson of the Apia Observatory in Western Samoa, of the reappearance of the Island of Falcon, in the Goro sea. The island has been submerged for over a quarter of a century.

Preceding the reappearance of the island, Dr. Thompson reported there was a violent earthquake and volcanic eruption in the vicinity.

Women of the University of Minnesota are sponsoring an etiquette course which is to come under the heading of "What to do." Talks will be given by professors on such subjects as "General Social Usages and Standards," "The Art of Conversation," "The Art of Dress," and "Street and Traveling Etiquette."

The commencement number of the California Pelican at the University of California has an article on "How to Be Debonair, Even in a Pullman." This and several other clever stories are undoubtedly responsible for the record breaking sales of this issue.

Dartmouth will have a new $1,000,000 arena, especially adapted for the playing of ice hockey.

Students at the University of Pennsylvania will not hear expounded the beliefs of the American Foundation for the Advancement of Atheism because they believe that the organization has "nothing constructive to offer to students." The refusal of attendance is not surprising because the decision was made by the Christian association of the university.

On its cruise around the world, starting October 26, 1928, the "University Afloat" will carry a complete symphony orchestra made up of regularly enrolled accepted students.

The freshman English teachers at Indiana University recently adopted the plan of substituting magazines for textbooks.

The University of Michigan awards a prize of $50 for the student who writes the best examination in Greek and Latin.

Results of a questionnaire conducted on the Stanford campus last week, indicated among other things that a large percentage of students believe in a single standard of morality, thinks they are getting their money's worth from college, would come to college if they were doing it over again, would prefer a Phi Beta Kappa key to a block "S," and believe in the modification of prohibition.

The 1928 annual of the students of Stanford University is to be dedicated to Herbert Hoover, after permission was granted by him. Hoover is a Stanford graduate.

The participation of winners of Rhodes scholarship in athletics is restricted by a ruling at Oxford University.

Use of Tobacco Will Expell Students
Use of tobacco in any form or attendance at theatrical performances hereafter will automatically expell students from the Washington Missionary college, Washington, D. C.

Seniors Prefer Phi Beta Kappa Key
Seniors in Yale college, according to preferences indicated in the annual class vote, prefer a Phi Beta Kappa key to the "Y" earned in major sports.

Minnesota Has Nutrition Clinic
Dieting has become such a fad at the University of Minnesota and so much harm resulted, that the University Health Service is now operating a nutrition clinic to help those students who are overweight or underweight.

Honoring high school girls who were attending the interscholastic meet, Kappa Alpha Theta entertained at a breakfast Thursday morning at the old country club south of town.

Covers were laid for 70 guests at small tables lighted by orange tapers. An unusual feature of the breakfast was a clever musical skit as a part of the entertainment.

Kappa Delta entertained 50 high school girls at breakfast Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Florence hotel. The table decorations consisted of bouquets of sweet peas.

Delta Gamma honored 50 high school girls at a breakfast given Friday at 9 o'clock at the chapter home on University avenue. Spring flowers and brightly colored butterflies furnished the scheme of decoration.

Covers for 80 were laid at small tables.

Tri Delta entertained Friday evening at a track fan dinner at the chapter home on University avenue. About 40 were present at the affair. The decorations carried out the interscholastic suggestion in the form of place cards, and table arrangements.

A musical program including vocal solos and piano numbers furnished a part of the program.

Montana As Seen By a New Student

"Montana," the treasure state, land of the Indian, wild life and rugged mountains—these and many other similar descriptive adjectives seemed to be ever peering me as the clickety-click of the fast-moving train wheels kept incessantly pounding into my ears the fact that I was rapidly being propelled into what a Californian might term the land of the wide open spaces. What adventures awaited me and what friends would I make, these questions were continually running through my mind, yet the only answer was the clickety-click of the train.

When the train finally pulled in the station I was attracted by someone running toward me waving a telegram in the air. It is useless for me to try to put into words my happiness upon learning that a Montana student whom I had chanced to meet the day before in Seattle had wired his friends to meet me. This was my first experience with the renowned spirit of friendship which is the predominant characteristic of this campus. My first impressions of the campus were anything but favorable, when I compared it to Washington and California. Most of all I missed the lakes and ocean. No freshman had a harder time getting registered than I, in fact it took me a week. Many times I was tempted to take the train back to Seattle, but everyone seemed to have such a wonderful spirit that I thought there must be something more to this school than appeared on the surface.

Even though we have early hours at the dorm and such disturbing things to one who is used to start studying at eleven, I'm not at all sorry I came and more than anxious to get back to Montana next fall.

Gentlemen:

I've done a lot of pipe smoking. There's hardly a brand or a blend that I haven't tried out at some time or other.

But speaking of smoking tobacco that brings real enjoyment, and never changes, I want to say that there is just one tobacco that gives me real enjoyment in my pipe—Edgeworth. I have used Edgeworth Ready Rubbed and Plug Slice for over five years, in all climates and under all conditions, and I find it always the same. It is always mellow and moist and its genuine flavor lasts. There is no bite or parch in Edgeworth, and the quality, whether you buy it in small or large quantities, is always perfect. Thanks to the manufacturers for their wonderful product, and I hope that Edgeworth can always be obtainable by the undersigned.

GRIZZLY TRACKSTERS DEFEAT AGGIES IN ANNUAL DUAL MEET

State College Set Two New Records in Javelin and Broad Jump

Displaying a decided superiority in all track events, Coach Stewart's cinder artists piled up enough points to double the score made by the Aggies and make up for the Grizzlies' weakness in field events in the annual dual meet with the Montana State College on Dornblaser field, Sunday afternoon. The final score was 89 to 42 in favor of the Grizzlies.

Weather Poor
Weather conditions were not favorable for breaking records in the sprints or distance runs, as a strong wind whistled across the field from the south, during the whole of the afternoon and the sun was dimmed by black, menacing clouds, which chilled the spectators and the athletes. However, two new state records were set by Aggie men in the javelin and broad jump. Frank Heikkila tossed the javelin 178 feet and Sam Georgevitch threw himself in the broad jump 22 feet 7 inches.

Frank Heikkila furnished the other record breaking achievement, when he tossed the javelin for 178 feet to surpass his one time Missoula high school classmate, namely, Cal Pearce, who held the record at 175 feet 8 3/4 inches. Bessey had plenty of tough luck when he fouled three times, to lose his chance at the state record and an Aggie victory. Bessey has plenty of stuff and may have the big mark up in the University record books later in the season.

Priest Wins
Foy Priest opened up to beat out Thompson by a foot and win his letter. This was a big upset as Gardner was supposed to be in this race but the judges caught him as third.

The quarter looked tough for Tom Davis, when Renn flashed passed him on the back stretch but that was only the incentive Davis needed. The Butte boy has plenty of speed and he showed it as he pounded around the home curve, for an easy win as the Hamilton boy crumpled. Garlington passed Renn a few yards from the tape to take second, with Renn staggering over for third. The way Davis traveled it was too bad that the wind prevented time as he sure looked like a record.

Semington had everything his own way in the shot put with a 41 feet 7 inch heave. His team mate Ward was but three feet behind, while Perry saved the Grizzly face by taking third to keep it from being a shut out.

University 880
The half mile event was all University. Barnes Adams showed that he was in a class by himself, when he came home 20 yards ahead of Tom McCarthy who battled it out with Tysel for second place. The Aggies entered a man in this event. Stevingson did a few Charleston steps in front of the last hurdle, and by the time he realized that the Charleston was out Gardner had done a Varsity Drag to take first. Stev looked pretty as he came down the runway and it looks like a record of long standing is due for a flop some time this year.

Hill Wins 100
Tom Davis and Howard Hill threw lots of cinders in Renn's face as they came down the track in the 220. Davis looked good in this race and Hill didn't seem to be staying in one place very long either. The hundred was taken by Hill with Davis second. Stevingson shut out the Aggies completely by taking third.

Curtis and Hanson battled it out around the track during the long grind, never varying more than a few yards apart. Curtis set the pace the whole distance but Hanson the veteran outsmarted Curtis and sneaked up for a letter and a victory. Martin covered Deveries and took third. After loafing around the track for eight laps, he almost fell all over himself trying to keep ahead of the farmer boy and still not worry Curtis and Hanson.

Martin Cops Mile
Martin won the mile however and showed lots of class doing it. He'll dish out the treats in the two mile later. After stepping around the track for two laps he suddenly opened up and did a fast half mile to come out way ahead of the field. Lester Graham tossed the Greek platter 123 feet 1 inch to take off the honors in this event and win a letter. Harmon and Semington tied for second.

Final Results
100-yard dash—Hill, University; T. Davis, University; Stevingson, University. Time, 10.2 seconds.

Mile run—Martin, University; Tysel, University; Heikkila, College. Time, 4.26.

220-yard dash—T. Davis, University; Hill, University; Renn, College. Time, 2.6 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—Priest, University; Thompson, University; Gardner, College. Time, 16.8 seconds.

440-yard dash—T. Davis, University; Garlington, University; Ward,

College. Time, 50.8 seconds.
Half-mile run—Adams, University; McCarthy, University; Tysel, University. Time, 2:01.4.
220-yard high hurdles—Gardner, College; Stevingson, University; Thompson, University. Time, 26.8 seconds.

Two-mile run—Hanson, University; Curtiss, University; Martin, University. Time, 10:26.4.

High jump—Ward, College, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches; tie for second between Graham, University, and Neal, College, 5 feet 5 inches.

Pole vault—Tie for first between Miller, University, Burke, University, and Hurd, College, at 11 feet 1-2 inch.

Broad jump—Georgevitch, College, 22 feet 2 3/4 inches; Huber, University, 21 feet 11 inches; Woodward, University, 20 feet 1 3/4 inches.

Discus throw—Graham, University, 123 feet 1 inch; tie for second between Harmon, University, and Semington, College, 111 feet 10 1-2 inches.

Shot put—Semington, College, 41 feet 7 inches; Ward, College, 38 feet 7 inches; Perry, University, 36 feet 5 3/4 inches.

Javelin throw—Heikkila, College, 178 feet; Gill, College, 175 feet 8 inches; Mario, University, 154 feet 7 inches.

The Relay Race
Julius Wendt tore by the Aggie leadoff man with an energetic spurt around the last turn and gave the next Grizzly a five-yard lead. Don Stevingson extended the advantage to 25 yards, running away from Brunner. Carl Tysel ran the next lap against Sterling and gave Barnes Adams a 40-yard advantage for the last dash against Frank Ward.

ONE MAN TRACK TEAM MAKES SCORING RECORD

State College, Pa.—(IP)—A one man track team, made up of Paul Heydrick, from Potomac State school, Keyser, West Va., set a record for individual point scoring here recently at a 14-school meet, when he piled up 33 points for himself and his alma mater.

Heydrick took first places in the high jump, broad jump, pole vault, hammer throw, discus and javelin events, and finished second in the shot put.

HARVARD BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS MICHIGAN, 8 TO 5

Cambridge, Mass.—(IP)—Sweet vengeance is Harvard's today. Michigan may be a cyclone when it hits Harvard on the football field, but now the Harvard baseball team has evened the score by breaking an eight-game Michigan winning streak and defeating the Wolverines 8 to 5. 1. n. Operates UKIG

OBERLIN STUDENTS VIEW CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS

Oberlin, Ohio.—(IP)—Oberlin college students counted themselves lucky last week. Just as classes were letting out for the week Saturday noon, the first of C. C. Pyle's cross-country runners plodded down the state highway which runs through the college campus. Crowds of students and professors took advantage of the spectacle which lasted far into the night.

TEAM DROPS TWO GAMES

Montana Has Opportunity Yet for High Final Standing

Montana's Grizzly baseball team dropped the first two games of its road trip last Friday and Saturday to Washington State College, 10-1 and 4-3. This double defeat puts the team back to a standing of 250 but still leaves an opportunity for a good final standing, as there are still four conference games to be counted.

The first game was close until the eighth inning, when seven Cougars hits coupled with three errors resulted in eight runs for Washington. Previous to this Washington State had scored a run in the third and another in the sixth, to take the lead after Montana had tied them in the fifth. The Grizzly run came when Eddie Reeder singled to score Frank Golob, who had got on base by the error route.

Eddie McDowell, the Couger's right-handed pitching ace, allowed Montana but three hits, Reeder's run-producing poke and a hit each by Norm Drew and Jimmy Morrow. He was not in danger at any time during the game. Score:

R. H. E.
Montana..... 1 3 6
Washington State..... 10 13 2
Batteries: Rafferty and Drew; McDowell and Mullen.

The Grizzlies dropped the second game through their inability to hit Warden, of the Cougers, when hits meant runs. Warden tightened up in the ninth to fan a Montana pinch hitter and make the third man fly out after a runner had found his way to third base.

Doc Brewer pitched steady for Montana and allowed but seven hits but his support cracked at critical times. Although the Cougers had four errors, their defense was strong with men on bases.

Montana..... 3 5 3
Washington State..... 4 7 4
Batteries: Brewer and Drew; Warden and Mullen.

INTER-COLLEGE BALL STARTS

Inter-college baseball will be resumed today, when the Foresters replace the School of Pharmacy. The game is scheduled to start at 4:30 o'clock.

The college of Arts and Sciences won the first game of the series, Saturday morning when the School of Business Administration was defeated 7 to 3. Tomorrow at 4:30, the School of Law will engage the Journalists on the diamond. The semi-finals will be played Thursday, between the Arts and Science team and the winner of today's game. The winner of this game will meet the winner of the Law-Journalist game for the championship Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Company B won the ROTC inter-company baseball championship for 1928 by taking all of its games.

Arts and Science—Smoot, Becket, LaRoux, Trekleir, Williams, Foster, Schoonover, Busey.

Business Administration—Currie, Robinson, Burke, Schotte, DeZell, Stepanoff, Vennekolt, Priest, Lehn-kind.

North Hall

Higher Education Among the Fair Co-eds

"Mar---ee, telephone! It's a man." Anyone unfamiliar with North Hall would wonder if a voice-strengthening contest were in progress but it is merely a part of broadening experience of "dormitory life" which every freshman girl is required to undergo. Mary appears laggardly or on the run according to whom she imagines is calling and perhaps it is well that North hall is not equipped with tele-vision phones. A long conversation ensues, interrupted now and then by a suppressed giggle outside the door.

In spite of admonitions, laughter, talking and shouting from one wing to another is very characteristic of North Hall. Records are played on numerous portables until they are worn thin. Typewriters rattle throughout the day. Every one dances for about half an hour after dinner and then those fortunate enough to have no lessons, spend the evening talking to one of the inmates, enjoying a forbidden date or taking a walk back of the dormitory or down to the Van Buren bridge.

Lights are supposed to be out by eleven but occasionally when boxes arrive from home midnight parties are held amidst striped pajamas, shaded lights, suppressed laughter, and dives for the closet door when steps are heard outside.

SPORT SPURTS

Kenneth Davis and Barnes Adams, two of Montana's best cinder artists, are training extensively in the mountains this week. They should be able to do some good dodging on the track when they return after spending a week dodging Montana's fine white pine trees. It is a question whether they will be in shape for the Idaho meet.

Lee Barnes, University of Southern California's world champion pole vaulter, uses a pole that is 2 3/4 inches shorter than the world's record height of 14 feet 1 3/4 inches he has attained with it. The Trojan track captain cracked his favorite pole, a 14 foot 1 inch bamboo stick, shortly before he broke Sabin Carr's 141 record, but instead of taking a longer pole to go after the mark, Barnes resorted to a 13 foot 11 inch stick that he has packed along all season in case of emergencies. Barnes holds his pole about two feet below the height he expects to clear, so that his short implements do not keep him from soaring to extraordinary heights.

He believes that 15 foot poles mean just so much extra weight to carry in running up to the bar. Part of the secret of Barnes' success lies in the speed with which he approaches the standards and cross bar, and Dean Cromwell, his coach, says that his speed is considerably aided by his use of a comparatively short light pole.

Off on one of the longest trips ever planned by a college team, the University of Southern California baseball squad today is steaming across the Pacific on the "Tenyo Maru" for a series of games in Japan, with contest also planned in Manchuria and Hawaii. The Trojans, who had left their homes in Southern California a week ago, sailed from San Francisco last Wednesday noon.

James Payne, University of Southern California track star, who can closely approach the world's records in both the high and low hurdles, will learn a new event in order to try out for the United States Olympic team this year. There will be no low hurdle race in the Olympics and Payne has decided to give up the high in favor of the 400 metre hurdle race. He has never run this event, but Coach Dean Cromwell is confident that he can learn it quickly and become one of the best at it in a short time.

Following are Oregon's high school records made last year at their first intercollegiate track and field meet, held at Corvallis, Oregon: It is interesting to compare them with Montana's records:

100-yard dash, 10.2; mile, 4.33 3-5; 120 high hurdles, 16 4-5; 220-yard dash, 23 1-5; quarter mile, 52 4-5; 220 low hurdles, 27 2-5; half mile, 2:05; shot put, 44 feet 11 1-2 inches; pole vault, 11 feet 8 inches; high jump, 5 feet 9 3-4 inches; discus, 114 feet 9 inches; broad jump, 20 feet 8 1-2 inches; javelin, 164 feet 11 inches; relay, 1:35 3-5.

Morley Drury, all-American Quarterback last fall on Coach Howard Jones' University of Southern California eleven, has a new title to add to his athletic honors. Drury is now all-ping pong champion on the steamer that is taking the team to Japan for its summer playing tour. Deck sports and batting the ball and playing catch inside of a net erected on deck are keeping the Trojans busy on the jaunt across the Pacific. They will reach Honolulu today.

HARRY ADAMS ASKS FOR GOLF ENTRIES

Entries for the open and novice golf tournaments must be given to Harry Adams, director of intramural athletics, before Thursday noon, May 17. The qualifying rounds will be played Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19.

Medals will be awarded the winners in both tournaments. All men taking golf for physical education credit must enter either the novice tournament or the open event for the school championship. All experienced players must enter the open tournament. A handicap tournament will be played later.

The finals of the inter-church tennis tournament will be played as soon as the players can get together. Those who have the tryouts are Lewis and Rohlfis of the Congregationals and V. Stepanoff and R. Mario of the International club. If the singles and inter-church tennis matches are played soon enough there will be a mixed doubles tournament.

BUNION MARATHON THRIVE ON CAKES

Elyria, Ohio.—(IP)—In an interview with the Intercollegiate Press here, C. C. Pyle, author of the first transcontinental marathon, better known as "Pyle's Bunion Derby," declared that aside from being a sporting and money-making event, his cross-country run is proving to be an excellent scientific experiment.

"My boys have broken every training rule which ever existed," Pyle said as he arrived here to arrange for having his runners stop in this city. "They eat pie, cake, candy, steaks and anything else they want. Some of them smoke like troopers. And still half of them weigh more than when they started from Los Angeles on March 4."

Pyle said that the runners, among them champions of 11 countries, eat like farm hands, and have come to consider their daily run just a day's work.

"The boys run two or three Boston Marathons every day," Pyle explained. "The annual Boston, affair covers 26 miles. My boys have run as far as 67 miles in one day."

With the marathon runners is a corps of physicians, some of them sent to Pyle by large hospitals for special research work.

With the runners is Red Grange, former Illinois football star, who acts as referee and master of ceremonies when the runners finish up each night.

Pyle expects to end the race at the Yankee Stadium in New York about May 25 or 26, he said here. The participants in the race will run ten miles in the Yankee Stadium as a finish, before what Pyle expects to be huge crowds.

In the marathon are men of every type. One boy, the son of a western millionaire who travels with the boy in a luxurious automobile, has walked every step of the way, is 26th in line, and has broken every world's walking record which ever existed, Pyle says.

Pyle is a former Buckeye, having been a student at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, back in the late 90's.

Women's Athletics Program Completed

Activities in women's athletics have been considerably speeded up during the past week. Plans have been completed for tournaments in the various sports. Friday the Frosh-Soph baseball game will be played. The first round of the tennis tournament is in progress and according to Mrs. Wood, instructor, the second round must be played off by May 19.

Friday, May 18; Monday, May 21, and Wednesday, May 23, preliminaries in track will be held. The finals will be held Friday, May 25. Field day will also be held on this day.

Crew Assured of Trip

The University of Washington crew is assured of its trip to the Poughkeepsie regatta when the necessary $1,500 was subscribed by the campus Friday night.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD IN SPRINT

Seima, Cal.—(IP)—The world's 100 yard dash record of 9 3-5 seconds was broken here recently by a high school boy, Frank Lombardi, Los Angeles high school sprinter. He won the event in the California Interscholastic Federation championship track and field meet held here.

TRACK TEAM MEETS IDAHO

Result of Aggie Contest Augur of Victory at Moscow Thursday

About 20 of Montana's cinder artists and field men will journey to Moscow, Thursday night at 11 o'clock to meet the University of Idaho in the annual dual meet, according to Coach Stewart. Nothing definite has been announced as to who will make the trip but the men who saw up well in the trials the next two days will be sure of securing a berth.

Two of Coach Stewart's best men have been away all week, on a Forestry field trip and it is a question as to what shape they will be in when they return. It is probable that they will not be in condition for the Idaho meet.

The meet with the Aggies last week, with the showing made by the Grizzlies was especially pleasing to Coach Stewart. The following men are making an admirable showing for placing in the conference meet, here June 1 and 2. Hill in the sprints, Stevingson in the low hurdles, Thompson and Priest in the high hurdles, Davis quarter mile, Adams, half mile, Tysel and Kenneth Davis in the mile, Martin two mile, Miller pole vault, Shorty Huber broad jump and Bus Graham, discus.

ETIQUETTE FOR GOLFERS

Learn the ground rules and play by them. The better golfers all play by these rules and since these rules cover all tournaments everyone should observe them.

Don't stand directly on a line with the hole when some one is putting. It detracts the attention of the one who is putting. It is better to stand in back of the player or well to the side.

Wait until the party in advance of you is two shots ahead. This will prevent driving into them. This about driving too soon is especially important. Many accidents have occurred this way. Besides watching ahead to see that the fairway is clear, the one about to drive should also call "Fore" to make sure that no one will get in the way of his shot.

WORLD'S RECORD IN SPRINT

Seima, Cal.—(IP)—The world's 100 yard dash record of 9 3-5 seconds was broken here recently by a high school boy, Frank Lombardi, Los Angeles high school sprinter. He won the event in the California Interscholastic Federation championship track and field meet held here.

THE SPORT WORLD

It Looks Like a Nice Summer for the Crowned Heads of Ringdom—Rookie Can Hit

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THIS probably will go down as one of those summers that didn't prove such a tough one for the champions in the various divisions of the fight racket.

Although most wearers of the different fight crowns will expose their titles to the socking challenge of a challenger, none of these challengers is expected to have a crown on his dome when the summer fights are recorded in the history books.

In looking over the list of championship fights arranged by Tex Rickard for the entertainment of the patrons in New York, we find that only Sammy Mandell is likely to do his stuff with the pre-fight dope having him the loser.

That, however, is because of the manner Jimmy McLarin, challenger of the lightweight crown of Mandell, has taken New York. The big city boys like slugging and McLarin has shown them he can sock Mandell whose activities since he won the title several months ago has been carried on in other spots than New York.

However, don't allow the fancy of the New York ballyhoo artists to warp your judgment. Mandell should win. Not easily, but convincingly enough.

Gene Tunney will fight Tom Healey. This won't be one of those fights to keep the fans standing on their chairs all the time, but it may prove better than it sounds now. Of course, it will be Tunney all the way.

No matter whom is chosen for Tommy Loughran to fight, the light heavyweight champion should have no trouble keeping the crown where it is—on his head.

Joe Dundee, the welter king, has the respect of all the fighters in his division and just whom he'll fight when he defends his title this summer is sort of a puzzle. Sammy Baker and Ace Hudkins are likely opponents. He can beat either of them.

That leaves Tod Morgan, champion of the junior lightweights, and Bud Taylor, the bantam title-wearer, and Izzy Schwartz, of the flyweights, and you can't name anybody in the racket these days who may upset these young men.

Altogether, it looks like a nice summer for the champions.

Ever since we've been old enough to read the public prints, we've had great admiration for the hitting quality of Detroit outfielders. To our way of thinking, all an outfielder had to do to become a swat king was become a member of the Tigers' outfield.

If you just think back a bit, you'll remember that among others to get their stuff for Detroit are Sam Crawford, Bobby Veach, Harry Hellmann, Ty Cobb, Helme Matush, Fats Pothergill. All of these babies could hit.

Now the Tigers have a rookie who not so long ago was serving in Uncle Sam's army and who last year was in the Three-Eye League. Whether Easterling can do anything else, he seems to be able to hit the apple fairly hard. He has been poling extra base hits ever since he got in after opening day and seems to be intent on keeping up the reputation of a Detroit outfielder by his ability to slug.

While on this subject of baseball, there's an old, old saying worth remembering in view of the upset about. That is this—class will tell.

We're all for these nice showing the clubs picked to finish in the second division are making the days, but we're just wise enough to remember that the clubs picked to finish high will probably be the ones when October rolls around and the clubs picked to finish in the second division will be down there. But, as safeguard, we're willing to admit that the dogs going wrong quite often these days.

Blindfolded... in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Morgan Belmont selects OLD GOLD.

"In my travels here and abroad I have often wished that I might find a cigarette of pleasing flavor which would not rasp my throat or bite my tongue.

"The blindfold test has proved to me that I need seek no further... For one of the four cigarettes given me to smoke had just the qualities I've always desired.

"The pleasant, smooth cigarette I named as my choice turned out to be an OLD GOLD... No wonder so many of my friends prefer this brand. I too find OLD GOLD the most delightful cigarette of all."

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

"Because they're made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant"

In case after case, where the leading cigarettes have been compared by blindfolded smokers, OLD GOLD has been selected as the most appealing cigarette. Because they're made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant... Nature's finest tobacco. That's the reason for OLD GOLD's honey-like smoothness. That's why you can pick them, even in the dark.
