About the Oval

HOOT mon! Scotty, the panoramic dog who burst into the limelight in that recent publication, "Campus Ravings," has not been seen about the oval since his debut in print. It is whispered authoritatively that he is no longer speaking to his little canine playmates, the publicity having quite turned his head and destroyed that sweet democratic spirit.

But then—Scotty isn't running for an office, he can afford to be high-brow.

AND speaking of politics—There, this is a clean column and we hadn't meant to profane it by mentioning even so nefarious a thing as "Campus Ravings," so we'll change the subject immediately—

WE'VE been saving a nice remark about the weather for just such an embarrassing occasion. It is this. Whatever may be said to the discredit of rainy days, it must be scored in their favor that they call forth a veritable flower garden of colored slickers.

THE time will soon be at hand when several hundred high school students will be journeying from all corners of the state to get their first view of college life. That it will not be the kind of impression that college humor magazines present is certain. But it can be no better than the least thoughtful and least considerate of the student body chooses to make it.

Masquers Will Present "White-Headed" Boy At Little Theatre May 3-4

Reservations for Spring Production May Be Made Starting Tomorrow; Play Will Be Given in Anaconda May 23.

The Masquers will present "The White-Headed Boy," by the Irish playwright, Lennox Robinson, as their spring production next Friday and Saturday at the Little Theatre. Reservations may be made starting tomorrow.

Those having season tickets for Thursday night must exchange them for Friday or Saturday night tickets, since the play is only being given two nights due to the lateness of the season.

Besides its production on the campus the play will be given in Anaconda May 23 under the joint auspices of Anaconda High School and the Anaconda State University club.

Irish Comedy.

"The White-Headed Boy" is a delightful modern Irish comedy full of delicious Irish humor and amusing from start to finish," said William Angus, director of dramatics. The scene of the play is laid in a small Irish town called Ballyoolman—the sort of town where the chairman of the Council owns most of the village.

The action centers mainly around the doings of the Geohagan family. Mrs. Geohagan has six children—George, about 40 years old, the head of the family; Peter, a little younger; Kate, an old maid; Jane, who is engaged to one of the natives; Baby, a big lump of a girl only 31 years old; and finally Denis, 22, the favored, pampered child of the family, the White-headed Boy.

Action of Play.

The play opens with the Geohagan family bustling around preparing for the return of the White-headed Boy from college, where he is studying to be a doctor. Everything must be put aside for Denis. Everyone has great plans for the future. Ellen is going to start a store, with Peter to manage it, and Jane is going to get her fiancé a job so they can get married.

Biologists To Health Bureau

Montana Has Only Tick Lab in Existence.

Members of Phi Sigma, honorary biological fraternity, and others of the Biology department who were especially interested, numbering about 25 students in all, made a trip to the United States Public Health station at Hamilton last week-end.

The station at Hamilton is the only one of its nature in existence, and is unique in that it is co-operatively operated by the federal and Montana state governments. The purpose of the station is for the study of parasites and bacteria, mainly the tick.

Dr. Parker and Dr. Spencer, who are stationed at the bureau, are spending their entire time on the search for an effective serum against spotted fever, which results from the poisonous tick bite. They have partially succeeded in that they have produced a vaccine which will check the disease if caught in time.

The work of this bureau is being watched by scientists all over the world, and several internationally known scientists have made visits to the station.

Pack Trains Carry Missoula's First Mail

Mrs. Genevieve A. Murray and Albert Partoll Write Articles in History Research Work.

That mail service to and from Missoula has experienced great growth is revealed through research work carried out by Mrs. Genevieve A. Murray, graduate in journalism.

Mrs. Murray and Albert J. Partoll have been doing special research work in early northwest history under Professor Paul C. Phillips. Partoll's latest paper is on "Early Historical Events Within the Federal Forestry Boundaries."

According to Mrs. Murray's article, Missoula's mail in 1850-1855 came from The Dalles or Fort Hall, Idaho. It was carried by pack train over the Coeur d'Alene mountains, up the Clark's Fork or through the Deer Lodge valley. Mail service was very irregular and mail arrived on the average of twice a year. Eastern newspapers never reached here and Oregon papers were often six months old when they finally arrived.

While Governor Stevens was here during the late summer of 1855, Pearson carried the first express messages into this valley. It was while Millan was building his military road that Spokane Garry carried the first monthly mail to Missoula. The following year the first star route was established, the western terminal being Walla Walla. The service gradually improved until mail was received here three times a week. W. A. Clark, later senator from Montana, had this contract. The charges were high, letters usually bore a fee of 25 cents and newspapers were carried for a dollar each.

In 1865 there was only one postoffice in Montana and $329.22 worth of stamps were sold. By 1872 there were 96 postoffices in the state, $18,781.70 worth of stamps were sold and money orders amounting to $157,553.48 were sent from the state. Judge Woody was Missoula's first postmaster.

A. S. U. M. Vote Tomorrow

Keefe filed the only petition for secretary and Elmer Hugo is the only one running for treasurer.

Billy Rohlfis and George "Bud" Grover seek to become the Central Board delegate from the class of '31. John Woodcock is unopposed for the office of president. Louise Tendam and Robert Parmenter are also unopposed candidates for the offices of vice-president and treasurer respectively.

Next year's sophomore class will be led by either Arve Gilboe or Jack Thompson, presidential aspirants. Georgia Stripp and Betty Ann Dineen are running for the vice-presidential post. The Central Board job will be filled by George Huser or Phillip Patterson. Hazel Border filed for treasurer and Geraldine Parker for secretary.

Masquer Play Given Twice

Things are rather upset when a telegram arrives from Denis indicating that he has either been betting on the horses or has flunked his studies. It proves to be the latter.

The family rebels, and when Denis appears he is told that he is to be shipped to Canada to make his fortune as a laborer. He writes to the girl-friend, Della Duffy, and tells her that he is going to Canada to take a grand position and can't marry her. This is an idea of Aunt Ellen's to save the face of the family who had been indulging in some great boasting as to what a fine Denis they had.

Act Two.

In the second act the family has John Duffy, Della's father, to reckon with. He refuses to stand by and see his only daughter trampled on like dirt. If Denis going to take a big position he is going to marry Della or else have a breach of promise suit for one thousand pounds lodged against him.

Complications and humor pile up from this point and finally everyone is disappointed but Denis and Duffy—they are the only ones who get what they want. However, the family bears up under the blow with the inspiration of a grand idea of Aunt Ellen, who is sure everything will come out right after she is married.

Beautiful but dumb

We are reliably informed that the above familiar phrase is applied mainly to certain poor dears in whom all the pituitary runs to pulchritude. A gargoyle is "in'trestin'", at least. Better pick 'em freckled and friendly than lovely but lacking. And getting our minds back on business... innocuous, unmitigated mildness rather palls in a cigarette, too.

Chesterfields are mild, certainly—but "aren't they all"? The point is that Chesterfields are also "in'trestin'". They satisfy—and right there is why they gather in the gang.

Taste—the taste and richness of quality tobacco—that's what matters. And the blend can't be copied; you know you are smoking a Chesterfield, nothing else, at every puff.

Seniors Down Juniors In Championship Tilt

Win Deciding Baseball Game by 18-15 Score; Chinske Stars for Victors While LeRoux Hits Well for Losers.

A six run rally which broke a 12 to 12 deadlock in the sixth inning between the juniors and seniors gave the top classmen sufficient runs to win the deciding contest of the inter-class tournament by an 18-15 score. The game was played Saturday morning before a small-sized crowd of enthusiastic fans.

Each team had defeated the soph and frosh in previous engagements. The seniors came through the tournament without a set-back, winning over the soph and frosh teams by 7-2 and 14-4 scores. The juniors annexed the runner-up position, losing only in the final tilt to the seniors while trouncing the yearlings and sophomores 12-4 and 13-10. By triumphing over the green-capped baseball tossers last Thursday afternoon by a 6 to 1 count the sophs were able to place third in the tournament.

Hit Often

The juniors hammered Wohl for eight runs in the first two innings of the game Saturday and kept the lead until the fourth when the top class men went on a hitting spree to tie the count at a dozen apiece. Mellinger relieved Powell in the box for the juniors in the fifth frame but found it hard going the next stanza when the fourth-year men scored six markers to clinch the game.

In an effort to overcome the big lead in the final frame the juniors hit often but could tally only two runs.

Chinske Scores

Chinske had a perfect day at the bat, collecting three hits in as many times up. Higham and Arndt each picked up three and two smacks.

Five juniors scored 10 hits between themselves. Rohlfis, Crawford, Beckett and Alton each got three while Le Roux smashed out a triple, two doubles and a single.

Inter-company baseball games will start today when Companies A and B tangle.

STATE AMATEUR BOXING TOURNEY BEGINS TONIGHT

Elimination Bouts This Evening; Final Held Tomorrow.

Plans for the state amateur tourney which begins tonight are all laid and the stage is set for one of the most extensive series of boxing contests ever held in this part of the state, according to William Dugal, promoter. All of the fighters have been working out nightly in the Loyola Gymnasium in order to be in top shape for the big affair.

Calls from out of town for reservation of seats have been coming in, according to Dugal, and the general seat sale has been very satisfactory.

Bouts in all weights, with the exception of heavyweights have been planned and some of the best talent in this part of Montana will be seen tonight and tomorrow night, according to those in charge. Some of the best fighters from the ranks of the University pugilists will take part in the tourney. Grizzly boxers who are entered are: Cunningham, Veeder, Grover, Curtiss, Lemon, Jones, Byrd, Mario and McKay.

The bouts tonight will be the elimination contests and the finals for the state titles will be fought tomorrow night.

All of the participants were examined and weighed by Dr. J. J. Flynn this morning and the pairing off of the fighters was made shortly afterward.

All of the bouts will be judged by Prof. Fay Clark, William Wedgewood, and James Plouquet.

Aside from donations for prizes made by a local merchant each of the victorious pugilists will receive a gold medal.

Approximately 50 students are on the fencing squad of Southern California this year. The sport has assumed the proportions of a major activity.

Juniors Win Interclass Track Meet

Seniors in Second Place; Samples Individual Point-Winner.

Junior class track team won the annual inter-class track meet with a total of 53 points after a two-days racing program. Seniors were second with 57 points while members of all classes displayed considerable talent in many events. Claude Samples, a junior, was high individual scorer of the meet with 13 points, having won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and taking third in the 440 yard.

The 100 yard dash was the closest race of the meet, being featured by a finish in which the judges had a hard time in determining the winner and second and third places. After a parley the judges called Samples the winner and Captain Davis and Parmenter third. The time in this event was 10 seconds.

Captain Tom Davis ran his usually brilliant race in the 440 yard dash, taking the lead from the start and holding it to the finish. He was closely pressed by Samples but using his driving finish was able to win by several yards at the finish.

Bob Nelson's high-jumping was the most spectacular in the field events. Nelson cleared the bar at 5 feet 11 1/4 inches and barely missed at 6 feet 3/4 inch which is above the state record. This is only the third time this year that Nelson has jumped for height and if he continues as well as he has in the past he is probably good for 6 feet 2 or 3 inches.

To Form Teams

Tuesday and Wednesday will be days in which Coach Stewart will endeavor to find out just what times can be made in the relays. He will form two teams and pit them against one another in regular competitive form.
